

Students to Invade PLC for Congress

Tomorrow the student union, chapel-music-speech building, library, and Old Main will become the capitol buildings of Washington, D. C. These remarkable changes on the PLC campus will take place with the arrival of over 100 delegates to the annual High School Student Congress, a major forensics event of the year on high school scheduled issues.

According to Bill Rieke, director of the congress, every moment from the time registration begins until the presentation of awards will be full of activity. Sponsored by the PLC chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensics fraternity, the student congress is designed to resemble as closely as possible the Congress of the United States.

After registration and the get-acquainted coffee hour, senators and representatives will meet in joint session to hear welcomes from Dr. S. C. Eastvold, Prof. Theodore O. H. Karl, and Art Broback. The speakers of the senate and house will be introduced, and Herb Neve, congress chaplain, will give the invocation.

Mr. Charles Bryant, a special representative of Governor Langlie, will deliver the "State of the Union" message. After the announcement of the strength of the Democratic and Republican parties according to representation and assignment to committees, the speaker of the senate will make a policy statement and the session will adjourn.

Next on the agenda are separate sessions of the senate and house of representatives. Each school is entitled to two senators and two representatives, although schools with enrollments of over 500 may have an extra representative for each additional 500 students. Each senator and representative may be either a Republican or a Democrat, according to his personal views, and during the first session the parties will hold caucuses for the purpose of electing floor leaders and steering committees and determining party positions on major

Committee meetings will be held for the purpose of drafting legislation concerning finances, foreign affairs, crime, and the armed services. Pi Kappa Delta will provide well informed speech students as Secretary of Defense, State, and Treasury. These secretaries will be available in case the committees wish to call in witnesses.

After a lunch served in the college dining club the houses will again convene to hear committee reports on the various resolutions, discuss, and vote on these resolutions. There will be a five-minute recess before each house considers the bills passed by the other house.

The second joint session will wind up the business, and first, second, and third place trophies will be awarded. There will be awards of merit for others who have made outstanding contributions to the congress.

All Lutes not directly connected with the congress are urged to attend as many sessions as possible. Observers are welcome, particularly those interested in civics and American government.

APO Accepts 13 Pledges

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, received 13 pledges Thursday, October 18, according to Phil Vorvick, president.

The pledges were accepted on the basis of their desire to render service to the school and community, along with their previous experience in the Boy Scouts. They are Hafold Bakker, Richard Brandt, Jack Fonte, Richard Knutzen, Steve Kennedy, Gil Klewenge, pledge chairman Jack Seltors, Jerry Sheffels, Dwight Seymour, Duane Tollefson, Iver Torgerson, and Morris Roach.

The chapter has been active in service efforts this year. Their first contribution was the making up and distributing of the student directory, which has the names and addresses of students, faculty, and maintenance people, and has been placed in all the dorms and main campus buildings.

The pledges are now working on the project of measuring and marking the golf course. The distance will be found for each hole and markers will Pacific Lutheran drama students got the "straight scoop" on the fundamentals of acting when Miss Beverly Michaels, Columbia Pictures starlet, visited here Wednesday.

Miss Michaels, who has the lead in the Columbia production, "Pickup," discussed stage productions, techniques, and preparations in Miss McGregor's fundamentals of acting class.

She was very enthusiastic over the new RLC stage and facilities, describing them as "the finest amateur facilities that she has seen."

Sam Seagle, publicity director for Columbia, verified the actress' statement, also referring to the stage as the best he had seen.

Although she has been in motion pictures only one year, she has established herself as a first-rate actress, and will play the lead in another Columbia picture to be released soon.

Many students wondered about her platinum hair. She explained that her hair is naturally brown, but that the role she played in "Pickup" necessitated the dyeing of her tresses.

Surprise Night, Skating Party Are Slated for Tonight

Tonight will reveal the mystery of the sophomore class Halloween night, and afterwards a roller skating party, sponsored by the Viking club, will be held.

Termed as "surprise night," the party will begin at 7:30 and all attending are asked to wear old clothes. Nothing has been divulged as to what will happen at the party.

Directly afterward, buses will be waiting to take all students to the Roller Bowl for a skating party from 9:30 to 12 p.m.

Tickets which went on sale yesterday are still available and they are selling at 75 cents for both events or 30 cents for the surprise night and 50 cents for roller skating.

John Osburn, chairman for the sophomore event, urges all students to attend both events for an evening of double enjoyment. He especially stresses the mysteries and surprises which will take place from 7:30 to about 9:15.

Einar Siqeland, proxy of Viking club, wants to remind students that this will be the last skating party scheduled until March and they should not miss it.

Members of the debate squad will compete with teams from other schools today at the GPS practice tournament. The teams will leave at 12:30 p.m. and will debate four rounds, both affirmative and negative. Decisions will be announced.

Blue Dorm Named Clover Creek Hall

Following the example of their neighbor, Ivy Hall residents, the Blue Dorm members have renamed their abode, Clover Creek Hall.

The men decided last week by an almost unanimous vote in favor of the new name and promptly had it approved by faculty members.

Twenty-two students reside in the blue edifice and their adviser, Mr. Frederick Newham, PLC voice instructor.

The building was brought to the PLC campus under the government veterans' education program in the summer of 1946.

A sign will soon be erected bearing the new name, according to President Peter Luvaas.

Located within a few feet of the banks of Clover Creek, on the lower campus, the name is very appropriate.

Faculty Smorgasbord Held Last Night

Yesterday evening at 6:30 marked the annual faculty smorgasbord, given by the Board of Trustees each fall in honor of the faculty members of PLC.

It is a formal affair held in the SUB and usually consists of the smorgasbord at 6:30 and a social period following.

Pouring for the event was Mrs. Arnold F. Anderson, wife of Pastor Anderson of Ballard First Lutheran church in Seattle and the only woman member of the Board of Trustees.

Ronning Relaxes While Students Conduct Class

Mr. Harold Ronning, PLC psychology professor, has revolutionized the teaching system at PLC.

He has devised a class system that gives him a rest from the rigors of lecturing and offers valuable experience to the members of his Psychology of Adjustment class.

The class has been divided into five discussion groups. Each group takes a section of a chapter in the textbook and discusses it for the class and Ronning acts as moderator.

First of the five panels is the Psychic Sals, composed of Cordy Procter, Mildred Foege, Kathy Eide and Ramona Lofthus.

Roundheads is the name given to another group, made up of Duane Tollefson, Ken Dauge, John Unis, and Robert Christensen.

The Minifs claim Gay Ness, Bob Nistad, Vern Newhouse, and Bakke. Another group, the Brain Trusters, is composed of Joseph Farnes, Hendrickson, Delmar and Johnson.

Choir to Sing In Seattle

Pacific Lutheran's 58-voice Choir of the West will make appearances at Stanwood, Washington, and Seattle, October 28, 1951.

The choir is scheduled to sing at the morning worship service at Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Stanwood, and again at a special afternoon service. This service commemorates the Seventy-fifth Anniversary of the founding of Our Savior's Church, the oldest ELC congregation on the Pacific coast. Dr. O. G. Malmin, brother of Professor Malmin and editor of the Lutheran Herald, will be the guest speaker at the afternoon service. Dr. Malmin resides in Minneapolis, Minn.

At 8 p.m. the choir will sing in the Reformation Service to be held in the Seattle Civic Auditorium. Professor Malmin will direct a combined all-city Lutheran choir, which will have the Choir of the West as its nucleus.

Chapel Quotes

Pastor Roe:

Christ is our perfect example (I Peter 2:21). He is our "Hypogrammos"—"to write in order." We are to follow in His steps.

Did we follow Him to congregational worship? Our Lord went to the synagogue on the Sabbath according to custom? If you didn't go to church yesterday, we should call this your conscience day.

How are you writing your college hypogrammos? You are now on your own. Last year Campus Devotions had an average attendance of twenty-two students; Missionary Society had thirty; and the Lutheran Students Association had fifty. In last year's Saga, one hundred and twelve names were listed as belonging to these organizations. Not counting duplications, there were seventy-nine individuals listed.

It is possible some young person away from home is not writing his hypogrammos very well. These are the finest places for you to go. As you write your hypogrammos in college, you will write it after college. Keep these organizations crowded and warm.

Christianity is much like democracy—we must guard it. There may be subversive inactivity present.

Prexy Says . . .

This weekend the student body of five will receive its long-awaited "new look." Chartreuse and a reddish brown are the colors which were chosen by the student council.

The council has invited the CPS student council to join us in a combined meeting this coming Thursday evening in our newly-decorated office. The purpose of this meeting is to iron out plans for some exchange assemblies this year. If we do have these assemblies this year, PLC will put on one for CPS over there and CPS will do the same for us. The assemblies will consist of talent from each school.

We will also discuss problems which the two schools have in common. The two student bodies and administrations are planning to approach the Tacoma Transit Company concerning student rates for those commuting back and forth to school.

Peter Luvas has been appointed chairman of the "Crusade for Freedom" campaign, which will start Monday and will last until Friday. Students are invited to donate to the cause and also to sign the list which will be placed by each container.

Science Club To Be Member of A.C.S.

The PLC Science club is organizing into a student affiliate of the American Chemical Society. This society is the largest organization in the world devoted to a single science. Nearly 300 schools have organized affiliate chapters and these chapters bring many benefits.

Outside speakers are often guests and members report on individual research at various meetings. Field trips are arranged throughout the year.

AWS to Host Coffee Hour

The first all-school Fireside Coffee Hour sponsored by the Associated Women Students will be held on Thursday, November 1, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the SUB.

This is the first of such affairs to be held this year. Admission is 10c and there will be music, entertainment and refreshments during the full hour. "Since this is the first coffee hour this year, we hope that everyone will go and thoroughly enjoy himself," stated Thelma Staswick, AWS president.

DPK's Host to DRG Tea Last Tuesday

In order that the Day and Dorm girls could get acquainted, Delta Pi Kappa sponsored a "coffee" session for Delta Rho Gamma last Tuesday. Each dormitory girl was asked to bring a day girl to the Viking Room for refreshments that afternoon.

The girls were served coffee and cake while they talked to one another and listened to music, provided by records.

Approximately one hundred girls attended.

The function was under the direction of Helen Huswick, social chairman for Delta Pi Kappa, and the other officers of DPK.

The sponsors are Dr. Olsen and Prof. Ramstad. Lloyd Johnson, of Hooker Electrical Contractors, has agreed to act as adviser.

QUESTION of the WEEK

What should be done about line-crashing?

Art Broback—Instead of saving a place in line, if people would go to the end of the line with their friends, it would save a lot of unpleasant feelings.

Finar Siqueland—It's up to each individual to be placed on his honor to respect the rights of others.

Don Reiman—What a shame that people can't find their place in life. Kick the bum to the end of the line.

Marilynn Myklebust—If each line-crasher would put himself in the place of those behind him (who are also in a hurry) it might help. Also, a little cooperation from the kitchen in hurrying the line through!

Glean Johnson—I believe line crashing is okay if you have a buddy who has saved you a pre-arranged place in the chow line.

John Liming—If individuals would take it upon themselves to call attention to those who are crashing the line I believe the situation would be alleviated. If people are going to crash dinner lines what kind of crashing will they do when they get out into life.

Arlene Wangersteen—I believe if the names of chronic offenders were read daily in chapel the embarrassment to them less would do a lot to lessen the situation.

Audrey Engstrom—It would be a good deal if those who didn't have a fourth period would eat at 11:30, thus avoiding the congestion and confusion at 12:10.

Marcine Vohs and Marciel Fink—Line-crashing doesn't look sharp by any means. If students would think a bit about fairness, they would be less likely to crash. Everyone is hungry, so why not make it first come, first served.

LUTE LOCKER DUST

In view of the recent victory over Eastern, which clinched an upper berth in the league standings for the Gladiators, all of Luteville could well be justified in wearing rose colored glasses.

Yes, things are looking up for Harshman's boys right now and should stay that way, at least until November, when they play CPS at Lincoln Bowl.

Even if the Lutherans lose to the Loggers they will be co-champions and if they should win, as we expect them to, they will go down in history as the Evergreen champs of 1951.

With the two full weeks of practice the Lutes will have had by the time they meet Pacific University next week, they should walk all over the Oregonians. But look out! The Oregon boys may pull an upset.

If the Glads' first and second stringers keep up the brand of ball playing they have displayed in the past two games we should not only trounce Pacific U. but also chop the underpinnings of the Loggers right down to nothing.

Harshmen Gain Top Spot in League By Clobbering Savages, Score 39-0

Pacific Lutheran College 39, Eastern Washington 0.

Once more the Lutes have proven their ability, this time by swamping Eastern on the Savages' home field last Saturday.

This leaves the Lutes on top of the ladder this week with a 4-0 record. Every other conference team has lost at least once.

The first half of play was battled to a stand still with the Lutes apparently being unable to get going without the two first stringers, Al Fink and Glen Huffman, who were sitting this one out due to injuries.

When the clock started the third quarter things began to happen. The Lutes scored 23 points in the third quarter with 13 more following in the final quarter.

The only touchdown of the first half was made by Roger Madsen, who went over from the 1-yard line, climaxing a 95 yard drive.

In the third period things started popping. A blocked kick set up the first of a series of touchdowns with Quarterback Frank Karwoski passing to Jim Ball, end, for the TD.

Bob Brox then recovered an Eastern fumble on the Savages' 20. Art Swanson and Bill Stringfellow shared the honors on this one with Swanson toting the ball to the 2-yard line and Stringfellow bucking over for the six points.

According to his doctor, is out for the rest of the season. Art Swanson's injured ankle, sustained last week against Eastern, is doing well and we hope to see him in there next week. Glen Huffman sat last week's game out due to his bad knee, but should be ready to go also.

Splinters

Looking for something to do Saturday night? Why not drop down by the gym and spend a relaxing evening participating in all forms of athletic endeavors, varying from ping-pong to weight lifting.

In the final minutes of the game Swanson went 55 yards to scratch pay dirt. It was on this play that his ankle was injured.

The final score of the game came through the air when Karwoski again connected with Ball for six more points.

The Lutes are enjoying a rest this week but will meet Pacific University at Forest Grove, Ore., next week, Nov. 3.

CPS Title Hopes Dimmed by 19-0 Loss To Western in Homecoming Contest

Western Washington College of Education stormed to three touchdowns in the last half of their game with the College of Puget Sound Loggers last Saturday to tromp the hitherto unbeaten Loggers 19-0 on the CPS athletic field.

By winning, the Bellingham collegians again injected themselves into the Evergreen Conference championship battle, from which they apparently had been eliminated by the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators last week when the Lutes swamped them 19-0.

In order for CPS to share in the royal honors they must beat the Luteville warriors on Nov. 10. If they

Lutes Rest; P. U. Is Next

No game this week! But next week the Lutes will venture to Forest Grove, Oregon, where they will encounter the Pacific University's versatile grid.

This week and next will find the Glads working hard to bring themselves up to peak of performance for their two remaining games of the season.

Two weeks from today they tackle the College of Puget Sound Loggers in the annual grid classic at Lincoln Bowl.

The Oregonians are not expected to give the Lutherans much trouble. The Gladiator are expected to come out the victors by a large and very impressive margin.

In place of the football game Saturday night a fun night will be held in the school gym with all forms of athletic endeavors being offered.

Central Parkland Top Ranking Team In Intramural Loop

Last Monday saw the intramural touch football program get underway with Clover Creek Hall being defeated by Ivy Hall and Central Parkland winning over Tacoma on a forfeit.

The Ivy Hall boys snuck past Clover Creek 12-6 with both Bob Krug and Jim Jaeger receiving passes and going over for 6 points. Clover Creek scored its only touchdown on a pass from Ivar Eliason to Bob Curtis.

The Suburban squad took it on the nose, 24-0, as Clover Creek came firing, still smarting from their defeat. Ivar Eliason was again the big gun in the attack as he threw touchdown passes to Norm Schniabe, Bob Curtis, and Bob Sorocson. Reimne Miller intercepted a Suburban pass and went 20 yards for the fourth touchdown.

The second game Tuesday was won by Eastern on a forfeit.

The powerhouse team of the league seems to be the Central Parkland squad as on Wednesday they ran roughshod over Ivy Hall, 24-0. Wally Feax was in on all of Central's scoring as he passed for three touchdowns and ran 20 yards for the last one. Hal Schrupp and Rick Daniels were on the receiving end of the passes. Although it was Schrupp's and Daniel's first real experience in touch football, they did very well for themselves as every one in a while they managed to break through Ivy Hall's line and break up plays. Look for these two to improve greatly in future contests.

The schedule for next week is: Monday, Oct. 29: Eastern Parkland vs. Central Parkland, Ivy Hall Suburban.

Tuesday, Oct. 30: Eastern Parkland vs. Clover Creek Hall, Central Parkland vs. Suburban.

Thursday, Nov. 1: Ivy Hall vs. Eastern Parkland, Clover Creek vs. Suburban.

Look at Our Ads Before Shopping

To the average PLC student, the advertisements which appear each week in the Mooring Mast are for the purpose of filling space. However, they have a definite purpose.

If you scan these ads periodically, you may find some real bargains. Our advertisers are the ones who make the paper possible.

Before you go on your shopping tours consult the Mooring Mast. Patronize those that advertise in the newspaper. Also, tell them you are from PLC when you visit their establishments.

Vandals Get Early Start

Halloween vandals got an early start in Parkland when they performed a few pre-mature pranks at the expense of PLC last week.

Pranks, is probably a very inadequate word to describe the destruction incurred on the grounds.

Probably driving an old model car, the vandals drove helter-skelter across the campus late Monday night, leaving deep tire marks in the grass and knocked down two Japanese cherry trees in front of the Science hall.

Many students had their theories as to who did the damage, but Art Broback, student body president, assured them that it was probably young pranksters.

To know that what is impenetrable to us really exists, manifesting itself as the highest wisdom and the most radiant beauty which our dull faculties can comprehend only in their most primitive forms—this knowledge, this feeling, is at the center of true religiousness.—Albert Einstein.

The Reformation

October 31 has come to be regarded as the birthday of the Protestant Reformation. It was on that day, in 1517, that Martin Luther nailed his 95 sentences on the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg.

What was Martin Luther's great discovery? It was the cardinal doctrine of the Bible: "Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith, without the deeds of the law." Romans 3:28. For hundreds of years the established church had taught that man was saved by faith, plus deeds. Luther discovered that the Bible taught salvation alone by faith.

"By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, not of works, lest any man should boast." Ephesians 2:8. Also Romans 11:5.

It was the Reformation of Martin Luther that once more brought this fundamental Bible doctrine into the light of day. Protestant America will have fallen on evil days when once it surrenders one jot of this primary doctrine of the Christian faith.

Marine Corps Offers Students Commissions

College graduates of the Tacoma area have an opportunity to become Marine Corps officers under an expanded officer training program just announced.

M/Sgt. Robert W. Wilson of the Marine Corps recruiting station, 780 Commerce St., Tacoma, said graduates 20 to 27 years of age, including married men, are being sought to meet the expanding needs of the marines and to fill vacancies caused by the release of reservists. The marine corps has openings for 1,000 officer candidates immediately, according to Sgt. Wilson.

The next officer candidate course will begin November 29 with a quota of 450. Applications for this course must be received at marine corps headquarters by November 1.

College graduates accepted will be enlisted as privates and ordered to a 10-week basic training course at the marine corps schools, Quantico, Va. Married men will receive family allowances.

Upon successful completion of this training, candidates will be commissioned second lieutenants in the marine corps reserve and then given an additional five months of specialized officer training.

Attending the Young Republican Rally at the New Yorker in Tacoma last Thursday night were five representatives from PLC. The representatives selected were Joanne Schief, Jon Ericson, Art Broback, Al Fink and John Thompson. The rally for this event was dedicated to colleges.

The PLC band provided music before the program began.

Other students and faculty members also attended the rally, including Loyd Eastman, Bob Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Utzinger, Dr. Eastvold and Dr. Steen.

Don Eastvold, program chairman, introduced the five representatives from PLC and the five boys from OPS.

Governor Langie spoke to the capacity group concerning the welfare of the local, state and national governments. He stressed the importance of community interest and spiritual edification in politics today.

Following the rally, refreshments were served according to various districts and a quiz program for mem-

Sophomore Sees Princess Elizabeth During Recent Visit to Vancouver, B. C.

By Jim Coleman

Most Americans cannot understand the feeling that Canadians and other British subjects all over the world have for their king and the rest of the Royal family. We cannot understand it because we have no such equivalent in our way of life.

Being an American, I could not understand the jubilation of the Canadian people about the arrival of their royal guests, Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip. My curiosity prompted me to visit Vancouver, B. C., Saturday, Oct. 20, to observe the people and the Royal couple.

I not only saw what they were cheering about, but I got a better understanding of the importance of the Royal family in uniting the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Three hours before their Royal Highnesses' scheduled arrival, huge throngs of loyal Canadians had gathered at the Canadian Pacific Railway station.

At the same time the Royal train pulled to a halt the huge guns from H.M.C.S. Discovery boomed a 21-gun salute.

After a rousing welcome, the Royal couple was escorted to a plastic-top Cadillac and headed by red-coated Mounted Police, the procession proceeded through the flag-decorated, crowd-lined streets of Vancouver.

That afternoon the Princess and the Duke proceeded to the University of British Columbia stadium to witness the American football game between UBC and Eastern Oregon. It was on this trip that I stood within three feet of the Princess.

Their arrival at the stadium was more than an hour late and the football game had terminated with the inspired UBC team winning its first game in two years, 13-8. The crowd in the stadium was still in their seats awaiting the arrival of the Princess. As their car entered the stadium the huge Eastern Oregon crowd began to chant, "We want the Princess." Oregon's band then played "God Save the King" and the two football teams proceeded to play an extra ten minutes for the benefit of the Royal couple.

These were just a couple of the many, many events that take place as the future sovereign of the Dominion of Canada tours that nation.

By seeing lovely Princess Elizabeth I am sure that she will carry on the fine tradition of Royalty and will always deserve the respect of her subjects.

New Building Now In Use

Directors of the Speech, Music and Public Relations departments are now in the process of moving their equipment into the new Chapel-Music-Speech building. Several of these offices are being vacated in the SUB. Most of the moving will be completed by tonight and instructors will be contacted in their new rooms.

The speech department will have its main offices on the ground floor across from the radio studio. Situated in the adjoining room will be the Public Relations Department.

Offices and lesson rooms for the music department will be found in the second and third floor levels. The individual practice rooms will adjoin the music instructors' offices.

This week all of the speech classes started in the new building, occupying the ground floor class rooms and seminar room. Members of the debate squad also hold their meetings and inter-squad debates in these rooms twice a week.

If politicians worked half as hard after elected, as before, efficiency in government would be tripled.
