Student directory and personal info

Attention, students! To prevent release of information about you in the PLU Student Directory and in PLU or off-campus media, a form must be completed by Sept. 22.

Stop by the Student Life office, Admin. 105.

Reception for first finance and operations VP candidate today

On-campus receptions for finalists for the position of vice president for finance and operations begin today. The PLU community is welcome to attend the informal reception for Roger J. Fecher, the first finalist to visit campus, from 3 to 4 pm today in CK East. Fecher is the vice president for administration and finance at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology in Terre Haute, Ind. A reception for Charles Upshaw, vice president for administration and finance at Marietta College in Marietta, Ohio, will be 3 to 4 pm on Sept. 18 in CK East. A reception for Paul Carlson, associate vice chancellor for business and finance at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, will be 3 to 4 pm on Sept. 22, also in CK East. Erv Severtson (Student Life) and Laura Majovski (President's Office) encourage everyone to attend these events, and with the rest of the search committee, look forward to your feedback on the candidates.

Browning starts lecture series with Holocaust talk

Last year's well-attended "Perspectives in the Social Sciences" faculty lecture series returns. Each month, a Social Sciences professor will share thoughts from his or her research. Each talk just precedes the monthly faculty assembly. This week is the first talk as Chris Browning (History) presents "The Current State of Holocaust Studies" from 2:30 to 3:30 pm on Sept. 19 in Admin. 202.

Faculty can teach in developing nations with Rotary grant

If you are a current or retired faculty member who has held a college or university level position for three or more years and is interested in exploring the possibility of a Rotary Foundation grant for teaching in a developing country after July 1999 and before July 2000, please contact Charry Benston in the Center for International Programs, 7628, as quickly as possible. (Developing countries are defined as countries with a per capita GNP of US $5,999 or less).

students to meet each other and participate in weekly scripture study sessions. Guests are welcome. For more information, call Catherine Pratt at 7334.

Lute football touches down on TV

Attaway! Coach Frosty Westering and the PLU football program were featured on the Fox Sports college football show "NCAA Football: The Slant" last week. The footage for the program was filmed at the team's annual Breakaway event in Oregon. At the start of the season, Westering also needed just one more victory achieve 250 in his career, one of only 12 coaches in college football history to do so. The Lutes' first game was on the road against California Lutheran this weekend. All PLU football games are broadcast on KLAY 1180 AM.

Help is at hand for TV outlets

Is "Knight Rider" not coming in very clearly? If your cable TV/FM outlet does not work or is damaged, call Computing and Telecommunication Services, 7525, to report the problem. Give your name, residence hall, room number, phone number, description of the problem and the dates and times you will be in your room to admit the cable TV technician.

Faculty/staff fitness via aerobics

Maintain your energy and health with the faculty/staff fitness program this fall. Classes in step aerobics are offered from 12:30 to 1:30 pm, Monday through Friday, on the Olson Balcony, and at 5:10 to 5:50 pm on Mondays and Wednesdays in the Olson Dance Studio. The 40-minute-long classes begin today, Sept. 15, and run through Dec. 5. The cost for the 12-week program is $40 for a two-class-per-week schedule, and $60 for a three-class-per-week schedule. Noontime water aerobics classes are also in the works. All classes will be held provided there is adequate enrollment. For more information or to sign up, call Tony Evans, 7638, or the School of Physical Education, 7351.

Extra goods available at SurPLUs sale

New SurPLUs items are available from Environmental Services. There's lots to choose from, including desks and chairs.

in "Fire and Ice," an exhibit of Iittala glass from Finland that opens today in the Scandinavian Cultural Center. The exhibit includes pieces by Aalto, Wirkkala, Franck, Sarpaneva, Toikka and six other designers. Visitors will be able to purchase or place orders for any of the items on display. A free opening reception for the show will be 1-4 pm on Sept. 21. The SCC is open 1-4 pm on Sundays, and 11 am-3 pm on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Gallery exhibit shows creative work of ads

"Cute. Naked. Spotted. Deadly." Recognize the recent advertising campaign by the Point Defiance Zoo? Then come see the creative forces of Walt and Denise Tomsic of Tomsic Designs, whose work is displayed during September in the University Gallery in Ingram. The couple puts imagination to work in the creation of designs for marketing and promotional campaigns. The exhibit includes expression of their ideas in the form of packaging, brochures and logo development for companies such as Frank Russell Company, Tacoma Philharmonic, Tacoma Actors Guild, Franciscan Health Care Systems, and Picks Cove Marine Center. Walt also teaches in the PLU Art Department. Gallery hours are 8:30 am-4:30 pm, Mon.-Fri.

Go tell it on the mountain

Catch a glimpse from the top of the world as the University Congregation goes for a hike on Mt. Rainier on Sept. 21. All are welcome on the trip, which leaves at 1 pm from in front of Harstad and returns at 9 pm. Call Campus Ministry, 7464, by Sept. 15 to sign up. Also, anyone who's interested in joining the congregation for its planning retreat on Sept. 26 and 27 at Cascade Meadows near Leavenworth, please call by Sept. 18 to sign up.

A clarification and a correction

Two last notes: Erik DeBower (Academic Advising) clarifies that only the hallways in Ramstad Hall were recarpeted over the summer, not the entire building, as inferred in the last issue of Campus Voice. Also, Rick Anderson (University Communications) has been named a member of the Society of Broadcast Engineers (his achievement was misstated in the last issue).

Faculty and Staff

[\[Table of Contents \]](#)

Your Administrative Staff Council welcomes you to the new academic year! The ASC provides a forum for administrative and staff issues, and represent those issues where appropriate. The group is also involved in promoting morale and professional development for administrators and staff, acting on feedback and requests from ASC constituents. Look for the names and faces of your council representative in a coming issue.

There are a couple more new faces in Rieke Science Center this fall. Paula Gertsman -- who earned her Ph.D. in molecular and cellular biology at Ohio University and has ascended Mt. Rainier's summit seven times -- will teach biochemistry. Rand Worland and Dana Rush will teach in the physics department. Worland is a visiting assistant professor of physics at UPS (with a Ph.D. from University of California, Santa Cruz), and he is also a blues guitar player. Rush has a BS in physics from UPS, and taught astronomy at PLU this summer.

Rick Rouse (Church Relations) was the keynote speaker at the first annual Gene Hackler Church Leader series held on Sept. 6 in Kansas City, Mo., and sponsored by the Central States Synod of the ELCA.

Denis Arnold (Philosophy) presented a paper entitled "Religious Pluralism and Ethical Relativism" at the Society for Indian Philosophy and Religion International Conference on Relativism: Science, Religion and Philosophy, held in Calcutta, India, in August.

David Christian (University Communications) has been given lifetime certification as a certified professional broadcast engineer by the Society of Broadcast Engineers. Christian also is finding his place as a photographer: one of his works was accepted to the "Commercial Small Prints" display at the Puyallup Fair (it's labeled #148). Christian retires this month after more than 30 years of service to PLU. A farewell party will be 3:30 to 5 pm on Sept. 24 in the SCC.

Nancy Scott (Plant Services) returns to Rieke Science Center to serve as special assistant to the dean while Sheri Tonn, dean of natural sciences, serves half-time as executive director of information resources.
