FORMER STUDENTS HONOR BARDON

Mr. Peter J. Bardon, professor of social service, was honored in his home in Seattle last week with a surprise party. The party was given by members of the student body of the former Bethany College and their families.

Professor Bardon was President of Bethany College for eight years, over a quarter of a century ago, from 1904 to 1912. The party was gived by the students, now grown men and women, in order to renew contacts with Mr. Bardon. Some of them he had not seen since they had graduated from college. Mrs. Urback, wife of one of Seattle's most prominent opticians, was the originator of the party. Mr. Hevly, also from Seattle, acted as toas master. Among the speakers was Dr. Jensen of Monmouth Normal, Monmouth Oregon.

The visitors brought with them "car ads of ice cream and cake" says Mr no claims that this party one of the most delightful events of

Asbury Is Speaker

Mr. Asbury, president of Washington Educational Association, spoke to the tudent body in chapel Thursday on self government. He stated that there is no freedom without responsibility, and that all experience educates. Presdom does not result without respon-sibility, and we should all find the best way to arrive at the city of desire. He closed his speech by telling us we should live 100%, put everything we've got into living so as to get the most out of it.

The speaker, Mr. Asbury, who is a long-standing triend of the college, was presented by the Board of Control of the Associated Students as the first of the bi-weekly programs to be pre-sented as prescribed by the constitution. The address followed devotion held in the regular manner.

LEARN YOUR YELLS

It is really important for each member of the student body to learn the school yells and support the teams and yell leaders to the best of his ability. Consider the time and energy that the athlete expends for the school. True, he probably has in mind the love of the sport in which he participates, yet inasouch as he does it for the good of the school more than for personal glory, do we not owe him our loyal and unwavering support?

WELCOME, NEWCOMERS

In addition to the many welcomes which have been extended to the new students since the opening of school, the Mooring Mast Art: wishes to offer its greeting. Students may come, and students may go, but the Mooring Mast stays on.

Because it stays on, the paper is well qualified to advise the students that their life here at P. L. C, is only what they make it. The Entering into activities sponsored by the school tends not only to bton. make one more broadminded, but increases the joy and value which their education brings them. Publications, sports, clubs, and programs offer many diversions at P. L. C., and it is our sincere hope that all new students will interest themselves in at least one phase of these extra-curricular activities.

"THE VARSITY FOUR"

Well, P. L. C., here's your chance to show off your friendly spirit by attending the concert which the Varsity Four are presenting in our gymnasium next Thursday night. We expect others to turn out for our activities; so let's give them a welcome which will show off the peppy spirit prevalent here. And anyway, we want to make a good showing, since the son of one of our professors is coming.

A STEP FORWARD

Emory Asbury's speech in chapel Thursday marked the introduction of a new practice in student-government at P. L. C. Every other Thursday a program. sponsored by the Board of Control, will replace the usual business meeting. These programs show a forward step on the part of the school, and judging by the applause in chapel Thursday it is a step the students appreciate and will whole-heartedly support.

MORE COOPERATION

Let's have more cooperation among the pep band, the yell leaders and the rooting section at our football games and not enter into competition.

If you are interested in any or all of the student activities, don't be afraid to "let on." Step up and get into the spirit of things. If you have ideas for improvement, make them known to the powers that be.

Freshmen Ch se Lemming

Clarence Lemming will head the freshman class this year. This was decided at a meeting of the group Monday noon. Other officers elected were: Jean-Marie Fowler, vice president; Irene Luldahl, secretary; and Vtrginia Boen, treasurer.

The faculty adviser of the class this year will be Professor Alvar Beck

Score Heads Seniors

At the election held last week, Stanhe feet and need has week. Stan-ley Score was chosen president of this year's graduating class. Walter Young will be the vice president, and Kath-leen Porath the treasurer, according to results of the vote. Because there was a tie between Bendicta Leland and Nordis Arneson in the race for secretary, a new vote will be held.

Mr. Hauge, registrar, will be the fac uity advised this year.

Circuit Luther League Convenes in Seattle

Convention Dates Are Oct. 21-23; Immanuel Lutheran Church To Be Convention Host

gue Asked to Choose Five Delegates

The eighth annual convention of the South Puget Sound Circuit of the Young Peoples' Luther League will be held in the Immanuel Lutheran church in Seattle, October 21, 22 and 23, 1932. With a choral union concert, fellowship supper, and reception among the highlights, the convention is sure to afford a pleasant as well as an inspir-ing time to the delegates, five of whom may be elected from each Luther League, according to Miss Irene Dahl.

The convention opens Friday evening. October 21, in the church of which Rev. H. A. Stub is pastor, with a re-ception given by the host league, of which Patricia Christiansen is president. Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock the convention theme, "The Life Vic-torious," will be introduced. This theme will be elaborated on at the afternoon meeting, and in the evening the large fellowship supper will take place. A communion service for leaguers and others who wish to take part will be given at 8:30 Sunday morning in the Immanuel church Sunday afternoon immanuel church. Sunday atternoon the convention will be officially closed with the concert by the Choral Union, under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Lyman, choir master of Immanuel

The launching of the Pocket Testament League movement within circuit by Mr. L. B. Amdal, Testar ment within the League secretary, and the promoting of the junior leagues are projects to be furthered by the convention.

"We hope that every league in the circuit will elect five delegates, so that the convention will be the success that those in charge are trying to make it. stated Irene Dahl. Leagues are requested to send the names of their delegates to Miss Berdine Knutsen, Circuit secretary, at Parkland, Wash., as soon after they are chosen as pos-

U. S. S. Oklahoma to Furnish Competition in Lincoln Bowl

Bowl at Tacoma, the Pacific Lutheran College Gladiators will make their bow in the second game of the season when they meet the U. S. S. Oklahome eleven.

Coach Cliff Olson's charges will enter the contest under a severe handicap due to the injuries received in the initial game with the College of Puget Although this leaves Coach Sound. Olson in a tough spot, he has a num-ber of fleet backs that can do justice to the offensive department of the

The line will remain intact, since the jured. Though a bit toil worn, the men are apparently in good shape. It is doubtful yet whether Bob Ievinson, end, will be able to enter the Satur-day's fray, as his knee has a habit of going out of place. Nevertheless the going out of place. Nevertheless the Lutheran mentor has a new shining light in Stan Score, who has proved that he can handle the wing post in fine fashion.

Ted Cronquist and Carl Martin, giant tackles, are literally classed as the Rock of Gibralter in the line and with the assistance of Gene Reardon and Bill Whalen taking care of the guard posts, the sailors will find a forward wall that will be hard to pierce. John Fadness, experienced center, will be back to strengthen the center of the line and with the assistance of Frye, a new recruit, no trouble should be encountered in the pivot position.
All Carroll Jacobson

last encounter was a black eye. Al-though a little squat in figure he is anxious to take out his revenge on the Saliors. Little Jake never falls at the left wing post and should be in good condition for the Saturday's fray.

Since Bev. Shuster and Arthur Bish-op, fullbacks, are both out of the game because of injuries, the Lutheran to whip in a new recruit for this lob Mary Hansen seems the most logical candidate, although Harold Votaw has shown that he can handle any backfield tob very nicely.

Dutch Moe, signal barker, also suf-fered a back injury in the last game, and may not be used for the entire game. Lloyd Berry and Chuck McMil lan are ready and are men thoroughly capable of taking care of this post. Both men are fast and can run, kick and pass, but, as they have not been with the squad long, have not had a chance to show their wares. Gene Jack is a consistent back and will probably see a lot of action in coming

This week Coach Olson will attempt straighten out the weaknesses displayed in the Puget Sound contest. If this can be done he believes that he can have a smoother working machine for the next game.

OI' man football kind of frowned on the Cladiators in their annual contest with the College of Puget Sound. I'm not referring to the score. We lost to a better club and we offer no albits, but the way our men went down in that game, we have reason to believe that a bad omen was present in some form or other.

S. S.
Bev. Shuster, our flashy fullback, was taken out of the game early in the second quarter with an injured back, and from appearances will be out for weeks to come. Bob Levinson, experienced wingman, lasted only two quarters and is now walking around with a trick knee. Arthur Bishop, who replaced Shuster, lasted a little over a quarter, was taken out with an injured shoulder. . 5

It was evident that we were handicapped by our lack of reserve strength, but it was our reserves that were in that game practically the biggest part of the last canto, and what a fight they did put up. Well, judge for yourself, the score was only 25 to 0.

S. S.
It is interesting to know that we are considered more important the score was considered more important.

in the football sense of the word, each year. I overheard an in-fluential business man from the city say. "One of these days those Swedes from Parkland are going to boom on C. P. S., and I venture to say that they'll do it within the next two years."

S. S. S. We can take this for what we think it's worth. Nevertheless it's something worth considering, we may be small, but great things usually come from small things.

S. S.

Now Saturday we take our bow against the U. S. S. Oklahoma. Let's forget our first setback and give Coach Olson's charges the same support we gave them in the first fray. As individuals it's really a small donation, but as a group it's a great help.

S. S. No reports have been received in regard to the strength of this sailor eleven, but it's a cinch we won't underestimate them. With the addition of Gene Reardon, our forward wall is plenty strong and will average close to 191 pounds. If the sailors can gain an advantage by pounding on this line, they'll be doing something.

S. S.

Ted Cronquist, our sturdy tackle and captain, will be one of the big threats. He's big and tackles hard and if he doesn't get bored, usually plays a whale of a game. As a tackle, Ted is about as good as they usually come.

as good as they usually come

Just a few more days 'till the next game, let's open our epiglotis and give the boys some moral support. What say?

We all remember "Red" the diminu ative speed demon, who was literally known as the "scoring punch" for Coach Olson's fighting Gladlators. Last year Carlson. not only made football history for the school, but for himself by his shiftiness and uncanny speed. No that-ter who the opposition was, our little redheaded back was always considered a serious threat, and was watched close ly by the opposing eleven.

While Red was demonstrating his periority for the Lutherans, some of us had our doubts whether he would be capable of coping with faster com-pany. Well, no we have it, both Luther and Coe College are up in the football world, as we may put it. Coe, in the past two years has given Wisconsin University some close rubs and Luther has proved to be no set-up for an comparison apparently means little, but when they involve our little freckled faced gridiron star, wh couldn't compare and compare, etc.

and End Runs Used S fully by Loggers

Though failing to polish off the ighting Gladiators in as impressive a manner as they intended, the College ighting Gladiato of Puget Sound took the long end of the score against the Lutherans, Fri-day. September 23 by a 25 to 0 tri-umph over the Parkland gradders.

The Lutherans showed an even stronger line than Coach dilif Olson developed last year, but the offensive skill of Red Carlson, flash back on last sean's eleven seemed to take our the scoring punch that was necessary when the Lutherans were threatening the Loggers goal. Bev. Shuster, fullback, who had been displaying worlds of power in the backfield, was injured early in the second quarter, and this lso seriously handicapped the defensive strength of the Gladiators which came early in the second quarter, while the second score, which also came in the second period, resulted when Jess Brooks went around the left ide of the Gladiator line to score from the seven yard strip. The ball had been advanced prior to both touch-downs by steady line-bucking by Brooks, and end runs by Jimmy Ennis.

Ennis carried the ball over himself or the Laggers' third score which come late in the third quarter after the Lumberjacks had gained cossession of the ball when a P. L. C. pass struck an ineligible receiver and the line bucks had advanced the oval to the Seven yard line.

The fourth and final touchdown came in the last quarter when the Loggers staged a steady, relentless, drive down the field to score, alternating line bucks with end runs and offackle stabs.

The Gladlators threatened to on several occasions, pushing the ball up to within eight yards of the Logger goal on one occasion, but they were nable to muster the final punch
