

QUINTET HAS HEAVY 'SKED' FOR FEBRUARY

Plans Complete For Eastern Washington Trip; Five Games On Tap

A very heavy basketball schedule is on tap for the Pacific Lutheran Basketeers to be carried out during the month of February. Coach A. W. Ramstad and Elmer Hauke, manager, have been busy lately in working out what is reported as being one of the heaviest schedules a Pacific team has ever carried.

Tomorrow evening the Gladiators engage the strong Ellensburg Normal quint. A victory is not expected but the boys from over the mountains will have to fight for their counters. They have everything to lose and not very much to win in defeating the Gladiators.

On February 18, the squad will travel to Ellensburg where they will play the Normal quint in a return game. From there the Pacific basket makers will go to Spokane and there tangle with the Spokane College quint on the evening of the 22nd. The next night the Gladiators will meet the Whitworth College team of Spokane and the following evening, (February 24), they will test their mettle against Spokane University. On the 25th the team will travel to Cheney Normal and play there that evening, to arrive in Parkland at the end of the week (Sunday).

Nine players, Coach A. W. Ramstad, and Elmer Hauke will make up the quint. However, arrangements are being made to have the men debating team and if so, Prof. Ph. E. Hauge and four debaters will make the trip also.

It is understood that these dates mentioned are tentative but that the trip itself is an assured fact.

Meeting Held by D. O. R. Members

Entertained at Home of Irene Dahl, Wed., Jan. 11; Speech Given by Mrs. Stavig

The D. O. R. met at the home of Irene Dahl on the afternoon of January 11.

The program consisted of: Federation Song; Violin solo, Dagmar Hagensen; Reading, Pauline Larson; Vocal solo, "In the Garden of Tomorrow," Ruth Erickson; Talk, "The Cradle Roll of the W. M. F.," Mrs. Stavig of Tacoma; Vocal solo, "In the Garden," Hanna Anderson.

The Cradle Roll is the newest department of the W. M. F. and is perhaps the least known. In Teller, Alaska, there are two women instructing 39 children, the youngest only 3 years old and the oldest a blind boy of 21 years. From their own funds these women have saved enough money to build additional bedrooms and a fuel room in order that their work may expand. Not only are they bringing these children to Christ but they are also teaching them reading, writing, sewing

Martha Hjermsstad Makes U. Varsity

Word received at the College Monday stated that Miss Martha Hjermsstad, a graduate of the Class of '26, was selected as one of the seven University of Washington students chosen to represent that large institution in the forensic field for this season's debates. Miss Hjermsstad graduated from the Normal department here at Pacific.

Many students and readers of the Mooring Mast will recall that Miss Hjermsstad was very prominent in school activities during her career at Pacific Lutheran College. She was probably one of the best debaters Prof. Ph. E. Hauge has ever produced. She held her place on the forensic team here for two years. She was editor in chief of the Mooring Mast for the 1925-26 school year, and honor student, selected by school mates to attend the Lutheran Students Union convention at St. Olaf in 1926, and was very active in Dramatics here. Miss Hjermsstad's record at Pacific was one that many students strive for. A brilliant personality coupled with an energetic nature won for her many friends that she now has. These friends and many others are joining in congratulating Miss Hjermsstad on her recent success—one of the many. They are happy with her.

Unofficial reports state that the University of Washington debaters will meet the University of Oregon, University of California, Berkeley; University of British Columbia and other leading institutions on the Pacific coast in the forensic field.

GRIDIRON MEN ARE HONORED

Action pictures of the 1927 Championship football team were taken last week and are now on display in Mr. Ramstad's office. The group of sixteen players took very good pictures and the large framed picture for the school can be classed as enough of an honor for the team.

This picture contains the players with the names of their positions under each player. The players are arranged according to their places in the lineup and the corners contain the record for the season. In the upper part of the picture is printed "Pacific Northwest Championships for 1927."

The picture in frame is three feet by four feet and will be placed in some appropriate place in the building.

FAREWELL CHAPEL EXERCISES HONOR PRESIDENT ORDAL

An informal "goodbye" was given for Pres. O. J. Ordal by the P. L. C. student body on Friday, January 20. This was the last appearance of Pres. Ordal before the student body as its president. He will take up his duties as pastor of Our Savior's Lutheran Church of Bellingham, Washington on February 1.

The chapel hour was given for a short program in honor of Pres. Ordal. A vocal solo by Arthur Olsen, a piano selection by Prof. Edwards and three numbers by the P. L. C. octette made up this musical program. Arling Sannerud, representative of the spirit of the student body, gave a talk expressing the students' hearty appreciation of Pres. Ordal's untiring, consecrated work in behalf of Pacific Lutheran College during his term of office, and wished him God's blessing in his new work at Bellingham. A gift was then presented to Rev. and Mrs. Ordal from the student body by the president, Gerhard Lane.

Rev. Ordal concluded the exercises with a speech of response and "thank you" to the student body.

MISSION SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

Interesting Program Is Given by Members of Society. Student Gives Talk

The Mission Society Meeting was held on the evening of January 11, and the program consisted of: Hymn; Scripture reading, Hanna Anderson; Reading, "Wanderer Received," an article written by Rev. Moody, Margaret Jacobson; Vocal solo, Hanna Anderson; Talk, Arling Sannerud; Hymn.

In his talk, Mr. Sannerud brought up a very interesting illustration about three young men from Bend, Oregon. Through endurance and hard work they were the first to climb an enormous rock about 400 feet high and were also the first of

TEACHER RESIGNS POSITION-HERE

Mrs. Bertrand Taylor, who, for the last six months, has been teaching high school English and supervising the editorial division of the Mooring Mast, has resigned her position at Pacific Lutheran College. Mrs. Taylor will not teach next semester.

During her short stay at Pacific Mrs. Taylor has made many friends among the students and faculty. The staff of the Mooring Mast will miss her helpful guidance as will her high school students. Mrs. Taylor is a sister of Miss Starud, the normal department instructor. Mrs. J. O. Edwards will take over the position left vacant by Mrs. Taylor's absence.

GIRLS' PEP CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Pep! Buahels of it, tons of it. The Dorm Girls' Pep Club met on Wednesday evening, January 18th, with Agnes Olsen and Elleanor Loftus as hostesses. Midst frequent screeches and peals of laughter it was decided that the girls should sell hot dogs at the Centralia game. A booster ticket committee was also appointed to provide tickets to arouse enthusiasm before the games. Lunch was served by the hostesses and "a good time was had by all."

FORMER CHENEY NORMAL SCHOOL HEAD SPEAKS

Dr. Showalter Gives Talk to Large Body of Students Here; Enjoys Visit

Dr. Showalter, former president of Cheney Normal was introduced by Mr. Fisher, superintendent of schools of Pierce county to a large assembly of faculty and students of Pacific Lutheran College and Parkland Public School. The general assembly was held Tuesday afternoon Jan. 24 in Trinity Lutheran church at two-forty.

Dr. Showalter expressed his pleasure at being a guest of Pacific Lutheran College, if only for a few minutes. He stated that he was being guided by Mr. Fisher on an educational tour on the West Coast, visiting and inspecting many schools and that he was glad to have the opportunity to include P. L. C. on this trip. He said that he had heard of Pacific Lutheran College, away on the other side of the mountains where he formerly held the position as head of the Cheney Normal School. He said that he had heard of the characteristics and ideals of the men and women graduates of the institution and felt as though he was in an atmosphere of that cordiality and friendliness when he was a guest at the college.

In part Dr. Showalter stated: "We are living in an age where opportunity to make the best of our lives is given to us. In order to fully understand this, we must go back through the pages of history when there were no aeroplanes, telephones, matches or cars. We must go back to the stage of American history when people were burned at the stake due to superstition. We must go back to the period when religious freedom was not tolerated. To-day people express freely their political views and religious beliefs without fear of being punished. As an example of the lives and customs of the people in early American history let us take George Washington. He built a fire without matches for these were none, he did not send telephone messages for there were no telephones and he did not wear clothes made and sewed by the sewing machine." (Continued on Page 2)

MR. EXAMINATION HERALDED WITH JOY AND PLEASURE BY WAITING STUDENTS

Mr. Examination is here to visit us again. That phantom old gentleman seems to perambulate in calling where he isn't wanted. After hearing that Christy and Bill Fowler got up a petition to have him excluded from this vicinity and that the petition was signed by the Grambo, Sannerud and Fott brothers one would really suppose that he would stay away. Mr. Examination seems to hold away over a great number of individuals for he will determine the fate of many at the end of the semester. His visit will long be remembered and possibly (dreaded).

This visit to Parkland marks the turning of the tide for we are passing (maybe) into a new semester.

Was it Patrick Henry who said "Ring out the old, ring in the new?" Well any way the new is coming, and it is possible that a number of the students will add some New Year's resolutions to the list (now shortened) after viewing the final papers. It's up to Edison to invent some machine to look in to the brain of the individual and see how much has been absorbed during the term. (The results might prove astounding but, on the other hand would never break the machine.) The proud author of "Everything comes to him who waits" might also of courtesy add an A or B. Wishin' you all a merry New Semester and no sad effects of the examination: Farewell cruel world!

A TRIBUTE

Six long years of endeavor. Years that could not boast of being backed with roses. Enemies. All men have enemies—there never have been nor will there ever be men of strong moral character who can say they have no enemies. Mistakes. We all make mistakes. Few—very few are able to boast of a record free from error. Triumphs. How few they really are after all.

All these expressions and many more have their places in President O. J. Ordal's career as the head executive of Pacific Lutheran College. Still, in this moment of parting, we do not think of these things. They fade into insignificance as we say our fond farewells and express our good wishes. What we remember most—the idea that is predominant in our minds—the thing that makes us admire Rev. Ordal most is his character—and his record.

Efficient, painstaking and sincere, Rev. Ordal has, unconsciously, set up a noble example to the student body he governed. A man of real moral fibre and courageous thought—a man who, often entirely alone, has sincerely defended his convictions in the interests of the College. The students he has associated with, his fellow teachers, his business associates—everyone he has come in contact with has been impressed with his deep sincerity and honesty of purpose.

To such a man is Pacific Lutheran College bidding farewell. Still, we would that there were a term which could be applied here that does not embrace such a ponderous meaning. Yes, much rather we say, "fare thee well."

SACRIFICE AND COMPROMISE

Because we believe that the following editorial exactly fits the situation here at this time, we have taken the liberty to reprint it. This editorial was printed in the Vol. III, Number 10 issue of the Mooring Mast last year.

Empty and compromise go hand in hand, and success is allied to both. Fellows who turn out for basketball have a goal in view and that goal is a good incentive to carry on the athletic standing of the school. The school has been having a hard time trying to produce this team for one reason: the lack of unity. Some of the players put the blame on the coach, others on the players. I am sure that everyone will agree when I say that both are wrong and that our success depends on our uniting and playing team work in other places than on the basketball floor. There is one way to remedy our ailment, and that is: SACRIFICE AND COMPROMISE. Life is a compromise. Whatever we do, working together with fellowmen, we must compromise. We compromise often and do not realize the fact. Ponder a minute and you will perceive that this is the truth. Now, fellow-students, let's get together, give up something for the other fellow, don't expect too much in return, work together, and in the end we will have success—DUE TO COMPROMISE AND SACRIFICE. Anyone can be stubborn but it takes a real man or woman to compromise!—J. X. W.

APPRECIATION

 chine, for there were no sewing machines at that time. Yet George Washington lived in the early era of a country that was soon to become the outstanding, leading power in the world.

We can even go back farther, than our own colonial history) Let us go back to the time when Christopher Columbus set out in three tiny boats to discover an unknown land. He had no mechanical instruments and no trained sailors. His largest ship was less than one hundred feet long and did not go faster than four miles an hour. Yet Christopher Columbus conquered—conquered through perseverance and patience.

Take the example of the boy who discovered the mariner's compass. This boy lived nearly his whole life without telling any-one of his discovery and then confided his secret in his declining years. Yes, even as the little boy, we are awakening after many long periods of darkness and distress to realize the wonderful opportunities life has in store for us if we but use them, but the world has been waiting for progress to come unhindered and in the last few years progressed most rapidly. This is an era of advancement, progress and achievement and only by turning back the pages of history can we appreciate the truth of this statement.

Dr. Showalter told of his travels in Europe among the different races of people. He told of several little incidents in foreign schools where the children show their love and appreciation of the United States. He Incidents of this kind show us the respect other countries have for our country and our citizens. He stressed again the benefits and blessings of living in such a well-governed and esteemed country as the United States.

Dr. Showalter said in regard to the educational system of Europe: "I have visited many, many schools in my travels over eleven countries of Europe and I believe that the secondary education given in the United States is superior to that of these countries." He praised very highly the way schools were conducted in Europe, for the educational system over there is wonderful, but for one thing and that is—education is not for everyone as it is in this country. For this reason he believes that the secondary education in this country is better.

Dr. Showalter concluded his speech by emphasizing the steps the world has taken to progress and advancement, through education. He gave several instances of Col. Lindbergh's perseverance and courage and showed in this way what is necessary to success in life. He stressed again the wonderful opportunities we, as students are receiving by attending Pacific Lutheran College and the days, we are spending here, the memory of which will remain with us forever. He again mentioned his pleasure at being a guest of the College and stated he hoped to visit again in the future.

LET'S BEAT ELLENSBURG TOMORROW!

GLADIATORS LOSE HARD GAME TO CENTRALIA FIVE

Every team, no matter how good, is liable to defeat—P. L. C. is no exception, and last Friday night was the date set for its first defeat. Much has been said about the game: mostly, against it. But the result is the same—Centralia Junior College defeated us in the first conference game of the season with a score of 33-16.

P. L. C. has to take defeat like it does victory. We can criticize and all that, but Centralia beat us because they had a better team on the floor that evening. Our team was decidedly off, especially in the second half and the usual fighting spirit was entirely lacking. No matter what our team attempted, they were beaten at it by Centralia. In our next game with them we will have to show them that we can play a better brand of basketball than we put forth in this game Saturday night.

P. L. C. (16) Centralia (33)

 Fowler (1) F (14) Gunsten
 Carlson (2) C (2) Roundir

'ALLIGATORS' WIN THREE; LOSE ONE

During the last two weeks the midgets have played four games and emerged victorious in three of them. They defeated the American Lake Team for the second time by a count of 23 to 18. This was a preliminary to the Eaton III-P. L. C. game.

Lyle Sanderson and Arny Thostenson played very well in this game. The game belonged to the victors from the start and although the Lake Dwellers played hard throughout the game, the superior play of the little fellows entitled them to a victory.

In the second game the Midgets defeated Our Savior's Lutheran Five 33-15. Although they were smaller than the church boys their team work was far superior. The church team has had very little opportunity for practice and they displayed very good ball considering their handicap. In this game the close checking and guarding of Johnny Gardlin was outstanding. He was at the spot where the ball was at all times and was very valuable against the long passes of the Cubs. Stan Dahl was shooting from all corners of the floor and caged 19 points during the game. Very neat passes from Thostenson and Gardlin gave him openings, but he was the boy who ran up points.

Feeling good after four wins in four games the little fellows traveled on to Lincoln HI to take a 42-12 beating. The Midgets were completely lost on the big floor. The Lincoln boys outplayed them from start to finish and had no trouble winning. These little Giants could give any team a good run for their shekels. Sarpob for the high school played a marvelous game and deserves a great deal of credit for snappy playing.

To ease the pain caused by the Lincoln defeat, the Midgets played and defeated James Stewart Intermediate School the next day on a 20-13 margin. The night weights were out for a win and two of them were relieved from duty because of fouls. They played a hard game and earned every point. John Gardlin did good work in this game. Those who took part in these games were Johnny Gardlin, Arny Thostenson, Ray Hoff, Stan Dahl, Lyle Sanderson, John Fadness and Elmer Knutsen.

Quintette Quips

Well folks, what's a loss now and then. We get another chance at Centralia in a few days—and then watch the boys play.

Ellensburg is here for a contest this week. These boys are good enough and the Gladiators will need all the support of the student body. Come out and give your support!

The yelling of the games hasn't been good at all. The crowd never notices the yell leaders—and if they do by accident, they never yell for them. Let's get going in these yells and make some noise for the team on the floor. The team predicts a win against Ellensburg. These boys play C. P. S. (the night after our game) and P. L. C. would just as soon have them lose two games in a row.

Our players are in good condition now for a hard game too. The defeat last week stirred every player and they are now out for revenge.

It has been requested by the Gymnasium Committee to keep off the floor before the games. Let's cooperate with them in this for they work to have the Gym floor clean and we should appreciate the fact and help them keep it in such condition.

Wait till the football Rogues Gallery is set up in the hall. Talk about looks! Have they got it? No!

The picture will at least take up space.

GLADIATORS WIN FROM EATONVILLE

In the most exciting game played this season the P. L. C. basketballers defeated the Eatonville representatives 28-26.

Both teams played wonderful basketball and the victors were not sure of a win until the last whistle blew. The game began with some nice long shots by the Eatonville stars but the fighting students soon displayed team work and close checking which stopped the fast playing of the visitors. Fast passing of the Pacific cagers kept the ball in their possession most of the second quarter. The score at the half was 15-15.

In the third and final periods however, the victors exhibited great speed and accuracy in shooting and the Gladiators were kept on the go although forced to play a defensive game.

They tratted closely until the last four minutes and then came out with

ORTING LASSIES ARE DEFEATED BY P. L. C. 'GLADIOLAS'

Friday the thirteenth missed its mark for P. L. C. when the 'Gladiolas' defeated the Orting Lassies with the overwhelming score of 35 to 13.

The game, though decidedly in favor of P. L. C. from the outset was an example of real fighting spirit by both sides. At no time, however, could the Orting girls outplay the clear teamwork and keen shooting of the Gladiolas, and the half ended with a score of 19-8. Every member of the P. L. C. squad was given an opportunity to play, hence the beginning line-up differed slightly from the usual lineup. No substitutions or changes were made on the Orting side throughout the whole game.

The lineup:

GLADIATORS WIN FAST GAME FROM LINCOLN QUINTET

Handicapped by a nine point lead taken in the first quarter, the P. L. C. regulars forced to the utmost to win from the Lincoln Hi, and defeated them by a score of 26 to 21 in the Parkland Gymnasium Saturday, January 14. The Gladiators slowly crept up on the Abes to shorten the lead to 16-16 at the half. The High School team was able to make only one basket during the quarter. In the third quarter Pacific forged ahead and maintained the lead till the end of the game.

Howick and Sanderson played a wonderful game and held high honors for the evening. Coach Beal made 15 substitutions in the course of the game and had a strong team on the floor all the time.

A return game is scheduled to be played in the Lincoln Gym later in this season.

YES! Why Not?
 Your expenditures for trivial and vain purposes, in the course of one school year, aggregate more than an average insurance premium. Why not remember those who are backing you?

 Laurence: No, what is it?
 Marie: Putter arma where they belong.

No, Stanley, there is no truth to the rumor that 1928 Washington platea are a special P. L. C. order.

Nor is it a fact that the Midget Studio has put in a bid for the class photos of the 1928 graduation class.

OUTING PLANS COMPLETE

They will leave Saturday afternoon and return Sunday evening. Miss Styrud and either Mr. Stuen or Mr. Ramstad will act as chaperons.

 the season to climb Mt. Rainier. Their story was written in many of the coast papers and in so it was staged. "Their was the Joy of combat and the satisfaction of a hard-won success."

This statement does not only apply to sports. In the work of the Mission Society there is a combat between doing the right and doing the wrong. Those who want the Society to amount to its best should feel a joy in doing their share and after succeeding in an undertaking "their is the joy of combat and satisfaction of a hard-won success."

L. S. U. PRESIDENT ASKS COOPERATION

To the 4000 Members of the Lutheran Students' Union:

GREETINGS:
 The Executive Committee of the Lutheran Students' Union met January 7th to set the date, and to draw up plans for the coming convention. The Convention this year will be held at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, March 2-4. The theme is, "Witnesses for Christ," based on Acts 1:8. The program of the convention will be announced at a later date.

As members of this large student organization, we shall now look to you for cooperation in the following program:

1. To see that delegates are elected from your school. Each school is entitled to three delegates. These will be entertained at the convention according to the general custom. Please send names of delegates to the Student Secretary, Rev. N. M. Yivisaker, 425-4th St. South, Minneapolis, as soon as they are elected.

2. To supervise the drive for funds that are necessary for carrying out our program. The quota is one dollar per student enrolled. The money thus raised is used to support, in part, three missionaries of our Church. The Executive Committee, this year, will suggest the enlargement of our program to include one missionary on our Zulu field also.

3. The Executive Committee further suggests that either of the following plans be employed in raising your quota: That the dollar be added to the regular student privilege fee, or that the school organize according to classes, each class being responsible for a 100% showing.

With the hearty support of all

To Play Kirkland

The P. L. C. Gladiolas have scheduled a game with Kirkland High School for Friday evening, January 27. This game, the first to be played with the Kirkland girls, will be played immediately after the Midget game, and before the Gladiator—Eliensburg game.

A game is being scheduled with a Seattle team for Monday evening, January 30.

The Gladiolas have suffered a real loss in the guard section, in that Margaret Jacobson has been unable to play any games up to this time because of an injured knee. Margaret hopes to be back in the line-up before the season is over.

Rev. Sydow and daughter Esther, visited Gertrude Sydow at the college on Wednesday, January 25. Esther Sydow is a last year's graduate, just returned from Wisconsin where she taught for half a year.
