BISHOP LILJE,
DISTINGUISHED
CHURCHMAN, TO BE HONORED HERE

Bishop Hanns Lilje, leader of the Lutheran Church of Hannover, Germany since 1947 and former president of the Lutheran World Federation, will receive an honorary degree from Pacific Lutheran University Tuesday, Oct. 20.

The ceremony, with the degree being conferred by PLU President Eugene Wiegman, will be held in Eastvold Auditorium at 9:50 a.m.

Receptions for the distinguished churchman will be held throughout the day, with a public reception scheduled for 10:30 a.m. in the new University Center.

Pastor Lilje, the elder statesman of world Lutheranism, has often been called "the man God spared." During World War II he won world-wide admiration when he defied Hitler. In April 1945 he was in solitary confinement in a Nuremberg prison awaiting execution for his opposition to the Nazis when he was liberated by American forces.

His book, "Valley of the Shadow," describes his imprisonment and is considered a devotional classic. His writings also include "Luther Now," "World Under God" and "The Last Book of the Bible."

After Dr. Lilje was freed from prison, he played a leading role in rebuilding the church in Germany and throughout Europe. He was soon elected Bishop of Hannover, and later, presiding Bishop of the Council of the Evangelical Church in Germany. He served as president of the LWF from 1952-57 and is one of six members of the presidium of the World Council of Churches.

A world traveler because of his position as leader of one of the largest Lutheran Churches in the world, Bishop Lilje has visited America many times. In 1964 he was visiting theologian at Union Theological Seminary in New York.

On Oct. 25 he will address the Seattle Reformation Celebration on the festival theme, "A New Church for a New Day." His Seattle visit is being sponsored by the Metropolitan Seattle Lutheran Council, which represents congregations in the three major Lutheran bodies.

Department chairmen, division chairmen, directors and deans will be taking part in the Lilje convocation procession, together with others who choose to march (of whom we hope there will be many). These people should meet to robe and assemble in the lobby of the Administration Building at 9:30 a.m.

A special reception for faculty, administration, staff and spouses to meet and talk with Bishop Lilje will be held in the new University Center lobby in the afternoon of the convocation from 3:45 to 5:00 p.m. If it is impossible for you to attend this reception, you are welcome to greet the Bishop either directly after the convocation at 10:30 a.m. in the University Center (Room 204) when he will be visiting with pastors and people from the community, or at

PLU TO HOST
FORUM ON CHURCH AND SOCIETY

Forty prominent members of the Puget Sound community will participate in a Conference on "Continuing Forum on Church and Society" at PLU Monday, Oct. 19.

The participants, a third of who are members of the PLU faculty, will take part in a series of discussion groups dealing with the subject "Man's Concern for his Environment."

Among the thoughts that will be dealt with and evaluated will be assumptions which underlie western culture and its pursuit of the good life; and the Christian's particular contribution to ecology as man looks anew to his Creator and the world we are presently creating.

Chairman of the conference is Robert Menzel, CHOICE director. Prof. David Knutson is the conference recorder; Dr. Emmet Eklund (rel.) and Bruce Forman (CHOICE) are among the facilitators, and Dr. John Martilla (bus.) is one of the group recorders.

This is the only panel, one of 27 to be held throughout the country, that will meet in this area. It will be held in the University Center from 8:45 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A special treat for Scandinavians and Viking history buffs may be viewed this week in downtown Tacoma.

A 24-oar, 60-foot long authentic Viking vessel is on display at 8th and A Sts., through this weekend. The craft, which took Eric Jennens of Kelowna, B.C., almost five years to build and more than a decade to research, will ultimately be used for a Viking-style journey from Norway to Iceland, Greenland and "Vinland" (Newfoundland) next July.

His traveling display around the country (next week he will be at the Seattle Center) will help finance his voyage. Incidentally, he is still taking applications for crew members!

Joe Dean, former basketball star and special representative of the Converse Rubber Company, is scheduled to arrive in Tacoma on Tuesday, Oct. 20, at 7:30 p.m. to give a basketball clinic in Pacific Lutheran University's Olson Auditorium under the auspices of the PLU Athletic Department.

Dean's appearance in Tacoma will be open to basketball coaches, players and fans. There will be no admission charge.

Dean, an All-Southeastern Conference selection for three years while at Louisiana State, starred with the Phillips 66 Oilers for four years. He played with the U. S. Olympic team and toured Russia with the U. S. A. squad.

In his exhibition, Dean will use college players to illustrate basic fundamentals of offense and defense.

One of the highlights of his exhibition will be the showing of sound movies of the major championship contests of the past season, including the NIT and NCAA finals, NBA action, plus Globe Trotters at their funniest.
