

Homecoming Beckons Alums

Floats and Band Will March Thru Tacoma Streets To Bowl

More than twenty colorful, prize-seeking floats will be displayed in the Mid-century Homecoming parade to be held Saturday, October 1, starting from the campus at 11:30 a.m.

Quartette, Mimic At Talent Show

Alums and students will have a chance to let their smorgasbord dinner digest at the Homecoming talent show next Saturday night in the SUB.

The Mid-Century theme will be carried out by the Mid-Century quartet composed of Hal Jensen, Jason Roe, Jim Williamson and Dick Swase, with Eleanor Helbaum, accompanist.

Also on the program, according to Stan Elbertson chairman, will be the college swing band, Vernon Lestrude, fresh crooner, will sing; and "Hoot" Gibson will give impersonations. John Rydgren will give a monologue and Shirley Anderson will give an interpretive reading.

Master of ceremonies for the talent show will be Alan Hudson. It is to be an informal affair lasting about 45 minutes. Immediately following the program there will be a mixer in the gym.

Special Pep Rally Set For Next Friday

To spark the PLC team to a homecoming victory, a lively pep rally, including a special program, bonfire and a surprise will be held about 9 p.m. next Friday in the gym.

The rally will follow the special Homecoming program which will be held in the SUB.

Vet leaders will lead students and alums in PLC yells and songs, the band will play several numbers and coaches Tommervik and Harshman will give pep talks.

The rally will close in time for all alums to attend the special coffee hour in the SUB.

Get behind the team at this special rally.

Rimbach Is Chorus President; Group Plans February Tour

Evangeline Rimbach will head the Chorus this year as president. Other officers are John Carlstrom, vice president, and Judith Larson, secretary.

These officers will be in charge of the Chorus tour which is being planned for the week of Washington's birthday in February.

Each club, class and organization on the PLC campus will have a float entered in the parade, including the Queen's float by the student body, PLC's band, displaying new uniforms, also will be in the procession.

Bob Brass heads the committee that is working on the arrangements and is assisted by Lynn Schwerin. The committee has designated the route to start at 11:30 from the school and go east on Garfield Street to Pacific Avenue and follow Pacific into Tacoma to Ninth Street, where they will proceed west to Broadway. The floats will then proceed to Lincoln Bowl via Broadway.

A section, near the Bowl, will be roped off for the arrival of the parade entrants. The three picked as the winners will be announced and driven around the football field before game time. A $5 prize will be awarded to the best float.

Judges for the occasion will be stationed in front of the Parkland Post Office and will consist of the following jury: Mrs. Harvey Hanson, Mrs. Irene Grecco, Rosko, Frederick Newland and Vernon Lestrude.

The floats will be judged on originality, craftsmanship, diligence in effort, and how well they are in keeping with the Homecoming theme.

New Sago Staff Appointed to Fill Many Vacancies

Bob Brass, editor of the Sago, and JoAnn Nodvedt, associate editor, have made the appointments to fill the editorial positions of the school annual.

The new staff will include: Paul Arlton, class editor; Shirley Sagchora, organization editor; Jens Knutsen, art editor; Bob Neilson and Carol Schuler, boys and girls sports editors, and Naomi Hochstetter, photograph editor.

George Torgeson and JoAnn Nodvedt were elected by the students last spring as the editor and associate editor, respectively. Bob Brass was selected last week by the student council to serve as editor when George undertook student teaching this semester, making him unable to handle the position.

SIX PRETTY GIRLS are contestants for the title of Homecoming queen this year. They include: (bottom to top) Delores Johnson, Doris Harvey, Elaine Simmons, Louise Stephenson, Hazel Johnson, Enid Johnson. The queen will be crowned at the coronation program next Friday in the SUB.

Saturday to Include Yearly Smorgasbord

A good appetite and a $1.25 ticket are all that are necessary for alumni and seniors to attend the annual Smorgasbord dinner Saturday evening, October 20 at 5:30-6:30 p.m. in the SUB.

All Smorgasbord lovers will find the menu very complete and consisting of pickled herring, kielbasa, cold cheese, baked ham, Swedish meat balls, baked beans, smoked salmon, assorted cheeses and linguistics.

Reservations for the dinner must be in to Hazel Johnson, chairman of the dinner, by Wednesday, October 18th. The committee has requested informal dress for those attending.

Dinner music will be provided by Marilyn Hannah who will play the piano. A program is also being planned to follow the dinner.

Working with Hazel Johnson are JoAnn Nodvedt, serving; Arlene Michelson and Lee Kramer, decorations.

Rev. S. Torvend To Give Special Worship Service

Two special Homecoming worship services will be held October 22 by a former PLC alumnus, Rev. Silas Torvend.

Rev. Torvend graduated from Luther Seminary last year and is now serving his first church in Cathlamet.

He will give an early service at 9:30 a.m. in the chapel in the parish building and have the regular 11 a.m. service at Trinity Lutheran church.

The Choir of the West will sing "Aurora All Things," "Ye Shall Have a Song," and "Tribute Victor Sant" during the service.

Benson, Rude to Head Tawasi Organization

New officers were elected to head Tawasi, men's service organization, at the business meeting last Tuesday.

Wesley Benson is the new president, Loren Rude, vice president's George Torgeson, secretary, and Bob Wilkins, I.C. representative.

Queen To Be Crowned At Program Next Friday

To initiate PLC's Mid-Century Homecoming, a festive program, highlighted by the coronation of the queen, has been planned for next Friday evening in the SUB.

Six candidates for the revere queen title were nominated. Only one senior, Doris Harvey, an education major from Tacoma, is running. The five juniors include: Enid Johnson, business administration major from Port Angeles; Delores Johnson, education major from Tacoma; Hazel Johnson, education major from Anacortes; Elaine Simmons, education major from Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; and Louise Stephenson, business administration major from LaGrange.

Also included on the program will be two one-act comedies, "Goodnight, Irene" and the "Florist Shop." The cast for "Goodnight, Irene" includes Catherine Lee as Irene, Duane Hendrickson as Henry, John Rydgren as the burglar, and Barbara Ahlberg as the maid.

Phyllis Isvic will play the part of Maude in the "Florist Shop"; Janet Peake will be Mrs. Wells, Phil Thorleifson will play Jackson, Howard Shull will portray Slovesky, and Vernon Lestrud will be Henry.

The queen will be crowned between the plays by Tacoma's mayor, John Anderson.

After the ceremonies there will be a pep rally at the gym.

Pflueger To Speak At Mission Society

Dr. J. P. Pflueger, professor of religion and philosophy, will speak on a missionary theme at the Mission Society meeting next Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Old Chapel.

A former missionary to India, Dr. Pflueger has had many experiences in the field which should be interesting to all.

The meeting will also include a song by Charles Martin, accompanied by Marilyn Hannah; several missionary hymns; a short devotional, and hotel business meeting.

MORE ALUMS
Carollee Hoff Anderson, '40, has been elected to the PLC board of directors. She is the first woman ever to be elected to this position.

New Look to Hit Campus, Stores

As the days of Homecoming draw closer, the campus will soon take on that featured "new look." Crowns, goal posts, signs, and footballs will be used on every building to personify the Mid-Century theme.

As one enters Old Main, he will be obliged to walk under a giant horseshoe, and standing on the stairs will be drawings of two seven-foot football players, one from each era, 1900 and 1950. Directly above the main entrance will be a giant crown on which the Homecoming Queen's name will be embossed. The crown will be lighted at night in honor of "Her Highness."

The lamp posts on the campus will have a symbol of encouragement and welcome for the Alumni. A giant football will be placed in front of the Science Building. The decorations will be put up by members of the student body, especially those hard-working, industrious freshmen.

Heading the decorations committee is Marianne Stacy, who is being assisted by Bob Marvonek. Freshman Judy Bergman is the chairman of the sign painting committee and Bill Finke is in charge of the lamp post decorations. Other committee members include Grant Card, Larry Johnson, Roland Tobiasson, Carol Schuler, Malcolm Soine, and Paul Nelson.

Spurs To Sell Mums At Homecoming

Order your corsages now for the Homecoming weekend. The Spurs plan to sell "mums" in honor of Homecoming.

They also will sell pom-poms and decorate the Lincoln Bowl for the game, and serve for the coffee hour next Friday evening.

We're Looking For You

Greetings to all alumni.

A program as rich and varied as any Homecoming of the past has been prepared for you on October 20, 21 and 22.

Arrangements for this Mid-Century Homecoming are progressing well. The co-directors, Marjorie Anderson and Loren Rude, and their committees are all functioning and making every effort to make the 1950 Homecoming worth attendance by every alumnus. You cannot afford to miss it.

The 1950 Homecoming will strike a new high with a crowded schedule and many innovations. The co-directors have worked out a schedule based on the recommendations of the alumni board and on ideas which you, as alumni, have frequently offered. We are confident that you are going to enjoy the days arranged for you.

You will return from the campus richer in friends and prouder of your Alma Mater. May I take this opportunity to invite you to come back for the festivities?

The faculty, students and myself are looking for you.

PHILIP E. HAUGE, Dean

So Proudly We Hail

So proudly we hail the Mid-Century Homecoming weekend and extend a hearty greeting to you the throngs of alumni who will soon be arriving on the campus to take part in the gala festivities.

Presently you, the eager alumni, will be exploring the old familiar places that hold so many sweet memories. Soon you will be caught up again in the sweeping tide of the old PLC spirit and enthusiasm that can never die, even with the passing years.

This Homecoming belongs to you, the students of the past who have built this school by your support and faith. These festivities are dedicated to you, and we are happy to swing wide the gates of the campus to welcome you back.

Isabel B. Rose once wisely stated that "Happy memories are indestructible possessions which nothing can take from us." As students of PLC we hope that you will here recapture all those wonderful memories of by gone days during this weekend of all weekends that is swiftly approaching.

Much work and preparation has gone into planning this occasion and almost every group on the campus has had some connection with the carrying out of Homecoming activities. All this has been done with the view in mind of making this Homecoming the weekend of the century!

Therefore we proudly herald its advent and hope that you the alumni will enjoy every moment of your visit. The students of PLC welcome you!

Chapel Quotes

Dr. Pfeuffer:

Even though Christ was God and knew all the things which would come as the result of His gospel, such as civic, political and economic freedoms, and all the labor-saving inventions of the arts and sciences, He never mentioned one word about them in His Word, for He knew that man would always be the slave of the sin in his own heart regardless of how many freedoms he might seem to have. Remember: "If the Son shall make you free you shall be free indeed."

Sassity Sal

Before I give out with the usual diet, I would like to quote a little advice for the "Curing of Love." "Take two grains of common sense, three ounces of experience, a large quart of time and mix well with three quarts of consideration. Sweeten with forgetfulness and thin mixture with the spoon of melancholy, cork it with a clean conscience and set in a quiet place to cool. When it has set long enough to taste stale throw it out. You are now ready for a new sweetheart."

This week is a good week for associating names and songs so I decided that I would scramble some names with songs and this just happened to come out—now to see how they fit.

- DON RIEMAN and CAROL EMERSON—"Yes Sir, That's My Baby"
- ANN KNORR—"My Foolish Heart"
- LEE AMUNDSON—"Any Thing You Can Do I Can Do Better"
- DICK BARKLAY—"Red Sails in the Sunset"
- DAVID ROE and JACK ENOCHS—"Let's Have a Glass of Milk"
- DAVE NESVIG—"Glowworm"
- SHIRLEY MOLTER—"Sandwich"
- MARJORIE ANDERSON—"In My Merry Olden Days"
- HARRIET OLSON—"Take Me Out to the Ball Game"
- NAOMI ROE—"I'll Never Be Free"
- MARIANNE STACY—"Don't What Comes Naturally"
- BOB MAYONER—"Five Feet Two, Eyes of Blue"
- RICHARD J. JOHNSON—"Let's Take the Long Way Home"
- LEN NELSON—"Let It Snow, Let It Snow"
- CHUCK FORSLAND—"I've Got Plenty of Nothing"
- JIM LUND—"Life Gets Tedious"
- MARVIN RIVENESS—"Detour"
- LA WANNA WELLSANDT—"I'm a Big Girl Now"
- DELORES JOHNSON—"Sweet and Lovely"
- ELAINE SIMPSON—"Lazy Bones"

Meet Knutson, A.S.B. President, Top Campus Man

Alums, your school is in good hands! Lowell Knutson is the president of the Associated Student Body activities.

Knutson has had experience in leadership in his previous years at PLC. When he entered as a green fresh from Seattle, his classmates elected him to be their president. Again in his Junior year he won the pucky position and last year was elected by the whole student body to the position of ASD president for the 1948-51 term.

Knutson also shines athletically. He has lettered three times in football and baseball, and in his sophomore year earned a basketball letter. At the present, he is one of Tumwater's star Letes, playing halfback position. Next spring he hopes to earn his fourth letter in baseball.

Pre-Sem has been Knutson's major at PLC and his future plans are to enter Luther Seminary at St. Paul, Minnesota, next year.

"PLC may not have the best campus in the Northwest, but the students in the PLC family make it the best student body in the Northwest," stated Knutson.

Alumni Scattered Throughout U. S.

Counting "home" to Pacific Lutheran College for the annual Homecoming Festivities October 20-22 will be many graduates and alumni of the institution. Some of them will be coming for the twenty-fifth time, while many others will be coming for the first time since their graduation from PLC last year.

Following are some items of news about many of the persons who were students at some time at PLC, and who are still a part of the PLC "family."

Graduates who received their BA degrees in education last year are scattered in schools throughout the vicinity, most of them who are teaching having positions in Washington.

New Teachers

Teaching this year in Tacoma are Millicent Anderson, who was married this summer; Robert Blockoff at Central school; Richard Colburn, Betty Jo Loucks, Charles Shute at Park Avenue school; Eleanor Nelson, married this summer; Evangeline Ordahl, who was married this summer to Cleck Billingsley; Ruth Plagenscher, Anthony Ratan, Central school; Frederick Kato, Sheridan school; Elaine Smith, Donald Williams, Robert Arjo, John Hoffaker, John Clark, Elmer Erickson, O. Elmer Peterson, Gault Junior high, LeRoy Stronge, Mason Junior high school.

Having teaching positions in Shoreline district schools near Seattle are: Phyllis Anderson, Ole Bakken, Beverly Busch, who was married during the summer to David (Howser) Wohlhuter, '50; Joyful Cheen, Milton Fair, Shirley Royning, William Sans, Delores Walcott, Clifford Allen.

Blaine McKanna, Betty Mobley, Jack Motteer, Robert Richardson, Del Schofer, Laurence Stovel and Robert Haglund are all at Franklin Pierce district schools teaching.

At Clover Park are the following: Reitha Nurg, Wes Saxton, Kenneth Stupaash, and also his wife, the former Kathy Breun, '49, who were married this summer; Carl Fynhoe and Joyce Taylor.

More Teachers

Alameda also has several '50 graduates PLC's education department, teaching. They are Jean Hush, 1949 Homecoming queen; Kenneth Hornby, Robert Klett, and Dick Weatherman. Working in Aberdeen in the wholesale grocery business is Carl Erickson.

In Olympia teaching are Edna Haglund, Della Jordan and Charlotte Mykland.

Teaching in Ellac are Edward Fisher and Norman Hawkins. At Centralia teaching is Frederick Gelger.

At Puyallup are Ernest Cementinus, Vartel Smith and Helen Vawter. Elva Ball is teaching in the Puyallup alley. Henschel Mabley is at Woodland school near Puyallup.

Langley has Mr. and Mrs. Larry Peterson teaching there. Mrs. Peterson was Beth Gottwald, and they were married this summer.

Svalin Aranson and E. Marvin Johnson are teaching at Fife. Edna Christensen is in the school system at Lacey.

Olympia teachers this year are: Kathryn Lucas and Margaret Schramm. William Bess is employed teaching in the boys' training school in that city.

At the University Place school on the edge of Tacoma are David Grunland and Kenneth Lobata.

In Oregon teaching are four graduates of '50. Camilla Lofness and Dorothy Matheson are at Albany, while at Portland are Dolores Langset and Ruth Lebeck.

In the Bethel district schools are June Davis and John Ostrandtr. At the Evergreen school near Vancouver are Ted Dagumel and John Hagsasen. Alfred Klubb and Norma Peterson are at Bremerton.

Everett has Glen and Harold Halby teaching in its school. At Forks public schools are Carl and Jacqueline Munson.

Teachers All Over

Other graduates and the schools in which they are teaching are: Harold Anderson, Trout Lake; Chauncey Christofferson, Everett school district; Harry Peterson, Carnation; Jurell Powell, Marysville; Jernel Edge, Connell; Vern Cook, Riverville; Steinar Conrad, Gray's Harbor; Ed Hanson, Port Townsend; Jack Gorty, Oak Harbor; Ray Harding, Richland.

Grads Work Hard

Other PLC grads are living and working in all parts of the country, some still going to school, and others are even scattered to other parts of the world.

Several grads of '50 are in the service in various branches of the armed forces. Gordon Birling was teaching at Lake Stevens before entering the service, and Ed Dorothy, who was teaching at Vashon, is also in the armed forces. So are Stanley Eawick and James Rsherry.

Working at a chemical plant in Tacoma is Arveta Baird. Beverly and Frances Baird are at their homes in Tacoma. Sigur Baker was married this summer and is living on Lake Chelan. Phyllis Cook is also married and at home in Olympia.

Robert Giles entered a seminary upon completion of his work at PLC. At the University of Colorado is Mill Hanson, who is studying for social work. Carl (Bud) Hatley is getting his MA in education at Columbia University.

Samuel Hewston is working in California. Bob LeRoy was ordained into the ministry this summer. Studying at the University of Texas is Ted Lund. Sylvia Narveson was married this summer to PLCite Adolph Kohler.

Barton Foreman is working at Post Lewis. Robert Hadlund is working at the Parkland post office and also taking some elementary education courses at PLC. Clifford Norrma is engaged in construction work in Parkland.

Old Timers

Rudolph Sandstrom, '26, and his wife, Teresa, own and operate Sandstrom's Flowers in Olympia.

Noemie Langlow, '28, is working as treasurer for Pope and Talbot Lumber Co., Port Gamble.

Stella Samuelson Jacobs, '28, is owner of Stella's Flowers in Parkland's new shopping center.

Dr. John Wenberg is serving his internship at the Pierce county hospital in Tacoma. His wife, Louise, is a librarian in a branch library in Tacoma.

Wesley Gabrio is serving his internship at Swedish hospital in Seattle. His wife, Dr. Beverly Gabrio, formerly of Omaha, is teaching at the University of Washington.

Ilda Hinderjer Bernsen and Esther Watne Jacobs are teaching second grade at Parkland.

Here and There

Ether Norgard is working this year for her Master's degree in Nursing Education at Northwestern's graduate school for nurses.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gunderson, nee Dorothy Eichen, are in New York where he is getting his M.A. from Columbia University.

Kathryn Johnson McQuay was a recent visitor on the PLC campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mills, nee Carolyn Severson, are the parents of a son, Jay Robert, born Sept. 21. They also have a daughter, Nancy, two years old.

Helen Marie Holtenamp Sastan is slowly recuperating from an attack of bulbar polio. She and her husband and two small sons live in Coonard, California.

Mahlon Read, '50, is teaching in the high school in Missoula, Montana.

MID-CENTURY HOMECOMING

GLAD TIDINGS

By DAVE NESVIG

MERRY MIXUP

Some very striking results in the weekend's contests have set all the Evergreen coaches to wondering and put the conference title chase in a real turmoil. Teams which appeared to be doomed for a mediocre season have added new vigor and strength. Others, who were rated real powers, were hard pressed to win their battles.

CPS, considered a strong favorite to repeat for co-title honors this year, was lucky to earn a 13-13 tie with the surprising Western Washington Vikings. PLC's Homecoming foe, another better than average outfit, Eastern Washington, almost tasted the bitter pangs of defeat, while edging a consistently improving Lute eleven 13-7.

Central appears to be one of the weaker aggregations, the Wildcats losing 14-20 to Northern Idaho. A worthy opponent for the Glads will be the Whitworth Pirates, who lost a toughie to Willamette, 6-0.

On the basis of the first three weeks of play, it appears that the present race will be wide open with no one team walking away with the title, with all squads threatening the forerunner.

Making my weekly trip out on the proverbial limb, here are my choices for the victory laurels:

PLC 20	Whitworth 7
CPS 26	Central 6
Western 13	UBC 0
Eastern 27	St. Martin's 0

SIX STRAIGHT

The fighting Lutherans will be favored to win tomorrow night for the first time this season in their clash with Whitworth at Spokane. It seems as though the odds are very definitely in their favor, about 5-0.

In the five contests between the two squads, PLC has emerged victorious all five times. They downed the Bucs 26-0 in 1931; in 1946, after a 15-year lapse, they continued their winning ways, winning 14-0. 1917, '48 and '49 found the Glads topping the Pirates 27-12, 19-13 and 27-21, respectively. Good luck, boys, and make it six straight.

LOOSE ENDS

Last Saturday's fray between the boys from Luteville and the Eastern Washington Savages was a positive example of what a difference a little hustle and fire can make in a football team. . . . Here's hoping Harry McLaughlin makes the grade with the Oakland Bitters this fall. . . . The air-minded Whitworth Pirates gained 1771 yards through the air in ten games last year and has a good start this year. Lute pass-defenders beware! . . . Mericle Michaelson, Eastern fullback, gained a paltry 200 yards against, over, around and through the Lute defense Saturday night. . . . John Waldorf, stellar Glad guard, suffered a head injury again in a recent scrimmage and it is doubtful if he will see much action for the remainder of the season. . . . A great help for the two Marvs in checking mistakes and ironing out difficulties make by the Glads are the moving pictures taken by ex-coach Cliff Olson of every PLC encounter. . . . Norm Wang was an All-City choice in Detroit, where he played Prep ball. . . . Sharing honors for the most petite feet on the grid squad are Jack Johnson and Ray Green, both proud owners of the rare number 14's.

Lute Gridders Seek 2nd Win Against Bucs

Seeking their second victory of the current Evergreen season, after losing a heartbreaker to the league-leading Eastern Washington eleven, the men from Luteville will clash with an unpredictable Whitworth aggregation at Spokane tomorrow afternoon at 1:30.

The Bucs record so far this season is nothing to shout about. The win column has not been touched yet by the Pirates, but have been improving greatly with each game and last week gave Willamette a scare, coming out on the tail end of a 6-0 score. In the series between PLC and Whitworth, the Whites have lost five times to the Parkland outfit and from all indications will be lucky to win tomorrow.

Main cog in the Spokane club's offense is the famous pass combination Ed Kretz to Sam Adams. Kretz will call signals in the Whitworth T-formation, which is changed from the previous single wing attack. He was second in total offense among the small colleges of the nation last year and earned All-Conference honors also. Adams likewise has gained his share of honors, making the All-Conference squad for the past two years.

Other Bucs who hope to make things rough for the Lutes are Truman Elliot, outstanding sophomore fullback; Nick Faber, All-Conference tackle; Dright Johnson, reserve end, and Bob Scott, end, who is also a capable pass receiver.

Drum Majorettes, Drum Majors Chosen

Carol Schuler, Lola Murk, Barbara Pittenger and Louise Tesch have been chosen as drum majorettes for the coming year, according to Harley Christopherson, band director. Wally Nelson and Bill Finkle will alternate as drum majors.

Alum Ballots Pouring In For All-Time Grid Squad

An all-time PLC football team is being chosen by the alumni in connection with the Homecoming activities.

A student committee has sent out ballots for the election of the eleven top players in the sports history of the school.

Harshman, Tommervik Lead Voting

Leading the early voting are the two Marvs, Harshman and Tommervik, both '41. Harsh is well remembered for his feat as part of the Tommervik to Harshman duo, both at PLC and with the Tacoma Indians. It looks like he will make a runaway of the balloting for the fullback slot. In his senior year Harshman was picked to the New York Sun's All-American team.

Tommervik is most widely known for his superlative punting, but he also excelled in punting and running. One of his bigger days was against Bellingham, when he personally accounted for more than 300 yards, running and punting. True-arm Marv was picked to the Little All-American team in his junior and senior seasons. Tommervik and Harshman are considered by many to be the top players to come out of PLC.

Other Leaders

The other old time Lutes leading in the poll are:

Ends—Earl Platt and Sig Sigurdson, '41, both of whom received honorable mention to the Little All-American squad. They played pro ball and Platt is coaching at Bethel High School. Behind them in the voting is Frank Willard, '34, and Harold Nielsen, '38.

Tackles—Dominating the votes for the tackles are Eldon Kylio, '48, George Anderson, '43, and Hugo Swanson, who was fatally wounded in the last war.

Guards—Elmer Peterson, '49, George Braz, '41, and Erling Holand, '47, are receiving most of the votes for the guard position.

Centers—The two most prominent centers are Don Andrea, Little All-American, '46 and John Fadness, '34. D'Andrea is now coaching at Black Diamond High School, and Fadness runs a grocery store in Tacoma.

Backfield—The real old timers are pulling for Red Carlson for a spot in the all-time backfield. The other leading backfield candidates are Jack Bratle, '44, Bob Tommervik, '42, Sterling Harshman, '41, Blair Taylor, '41, and Frankie Spear.

Many of the players being chosen were members of the championship ball club of 1940 and '41. Besides the two Marvs there were Platt, Sigurdson, Anderson, Holand, D'Andrea, Taylor, Bratle, Spear, Bob Tommervik and Stev Harshman.

The official announcement of the All-Time Eleven will come out some time during Homecoming and each player chosen will receive a gold football as a memento of the occasion.

Glads Meet Vikings In Homecoming Tilt

Western Out To Tarnish Homecoming Ceremonies

When Western Washington coach Chuck Lappenbach brings his bonecrushing Vikings to Lincoln Bowl for PLC's annual Homecoming game, you can wager your last tax token that the northerners will be out to send the Lute alumni home disappointed, and if they play the same brand of ball which they displayed in last week's 13-13 tie with the mounted men from CFS it will take a lot to stop them.

These fellows are no mere boys. The Western line need not take a back seat to anyone. At the flank, the Lutes will have to meet Hal Kloes, who starts up both the offensive and defensive brigades; Walt Ewing, a huge senior from Edmonds, and Art Swilman, who received Little All-Coast honors in 1948. WWCE is also loaded with tremendous tackle: Bill Anagnostis, weighing in at 255 pounds; followed by Artie Larson, 260; Al Garnett, Roy Peterson, and Carl Richardson at 220; while Bill Stenlund and Vern Weible are the "link fellows" who reach a mere 210 pounds apiece. As though that were not enough, the guards, too, bring weight in Mr. Lappenbach's favor, especially Al Compton, two-year letterman, and Duane Lambert, Little All-American at Everett Junior College in 1948, not to mention a flock of sturdy freshmen. Holding down the pivot spot is AD-

Conference Center Jack Frasier, who is capable of handling both linebacking and offensive center duties.

The backfield from the Bellingham college looks very awesome, indeed, being led by fullback Norm Hush, who was chosen All-Northwest college back, and Tommy Taylor, southpaw passing sensation.

The Gladiators, on the other hand, have been looking better each time out, and are picking up impetus which they hope will carry them through this game and right down the wire to a satisfactory place in the conference final standings. Western is going to have to put up all the strength they can muster to bring down Harry Malms, Al Fink and Tommy Campbell, no easy chore for any team.

At the big Western line the Marco Tommervik and Harshman will throw a very capable line of their own in Rick Daniels, offensive center and defensive guard; Gerry Kluth, who has had to face some of the toughest giants in the conference from his offensive left guard post; Dick Barclay and Bob Nielsen, who have been doing their share and more; Ray Green, PLC's Man Mountain Dean; and Glen Hrifina, who has been the real "hustler" of the squad, being in on a big percentage of the tackles.

Western may be the favorite, but you could never convince the Gladiators from PLC.

STARTING LINEUPS for the "Girdles" versus "Bustles" football game in the "Powder Puff Bowl" agreed to pose for the above picture. Their calm composure will disappear next Saturday morning when the teams (composed of the dorm girls and day girls) battle it out behind Old Main.

"Powder Puff Bowl" Features "Girdles" Versus "Bustles"

Bob Brewer

Gridiron history may be made when the "Gallop'n' Girdles" clash with the "Bruisin' Bustles" at the PLC Powder Bowl behind Old Main next Saturday morning at 10 a.m.

Because of their victory last year the "Bruisin' Bustles," alias the Fern girls, are slightly favored; but it is hard to tell what the underdog, the day girls "Gallop'n' Girdles," may be concealing. So far they have kept their offensive movements under wraps.

Coaches Glenn Werner and Phil Thorlielson (All-Americans) are drilling the "Gallop'n' Girdles" on some snappy plays and promise to have the girls in good shape by game time.

The "Bruisin' Bustles" are ably coached by Lee Amundson, Hal Schrupp and Bob Neilson (potential players in their day). The brains have worked out a double flanker, triple threat wing back and quick opening play which are very confusing to all. They are confident that their squad will successfully defend the championship.

Reserves for the great duel will be Professors Theodore Carl and A. W. Remsted.

Half-time activities will consist of a tug-of-war with the frosh class challenging all comers. This should prove especially interesting, judging from the size of many of the freshmen boys.

The probable starting lineup for the "Gallop'n' Girdles" is undecided although it will be taken from the following team members: Lenora Sur-

Lutes Scare Savages In Close Contest

In their finest game of the season, the PLC Glads fought the Eastern College Savages right down to the wire, even though the Lutes lost a close 13-7 decision to the heavily favored Savages at the Lincoln Bowl last Saturday. The team did credit both to themselves and to the school.

The locals had the game scored up until the final quarter when Meriel Michelson ran over the winning T.D. Up to that point the Lute team had held the powerful Eastern offense on even terms. Last Saturday's version of the PLC squad was a far cry from the initial edition turned out for the GPS fray. Playing inspired ball the Glads would have copped the game if a bad break in the form of a penalty hadn't occurred when the Lutes had the ball on the Eastern ten yard line. But a fifteen yard penalty put them back to the 25 yard marker and they couldn't put the ball over for what would have been the winning margin. The lone Lute score came on a quarterback sneak by Frank Karwinski from the one foot line in the second period. The touchdown climaxed a 60 yard march after recovery of a Savage fumble.

Even though they went down in defeat the team showed what they can do and what they are ready to do.

Playing one of his best games, Harry Malms led the Lute offense with consistent plays. Lee Amundson and Ron Allings stood out for their defensive work. The whole squad deserves our congratulations for a well game.

Jaeger; Keith Win Top Frosh Office

Members of the recently enrolled Freshman class elected Jim Jaeger as the President of the Class of '54.

Other candidates winning offices were: Don Keith, vice president; Tom Astrup, secretary, and Bill Nicman, treasurer. Those elected to represent the class were Richard Stuhmiller to inter club council and John Rydgen to student body.

The first frosh meeting consisted of forming a committee to work on the float to be entered in the Mid-century parade. Janet Klippner was appointed as the chairman of this committee.

Rev. Heiges To Give Chapel Talk Friday

Rev. Donald Heiges, Chicago, executive secretary of the division of student service of the national Lutheran council, will speak in chapel area Friday morning.

As executive secretary, Rev. Heiges is in charge of the whole LSA program in all of the schools in the country. He recently returned Dr. Morris Wee, who was well known to many LSAs and others in this vicinity.

Another off-campus speaker, Mr. Thoren of Tacoma, will speak Monday. He attended a Federal Security Department conference recently in Washington, D.C., and will discuss the problems of the aging and aged in this country, and what that bureau is doing in this field.

Other speakers will be Rev. Burton Smith of Bethlehem Lutheran church in Tacoma, who will talk Wednesday, and Dr. W. L. Strunk, professor of biology at PLC, who will be the speaker Thursday morning. Tuesday will be regular student body day.

MORE ALUMS

Linka DeBerry Johnson will not be present for Homecoming this year as she has gone to Mexico to be with her husband. She plans to be back to her work in the registrar's office at PLC before Christmas.

Fifty Students Journey to Idaho For Northwest Regional LSA Retreat

For the first time in a long time the LSA will NOT meet this coming Sunday evening. This is due to the regional LSA Retreat being held at Lake Coeur d'Alene, Idaho this week end.

The PLC delegation, 50 strong, left this morning at 8:30 a.m. in private cars and are anticipating an all day drive.

"Regardless of this distance it is still worth attending," reported Herb Neve, Spiritual Growth Secretary for the local LSA. The traveling LSAs are expected to return to the campus during 24 hours of Sunday night and Monday morning.

The group will participate in Bible studies, devotions, banquet, mixers, recreation and business meeting.

The next LSA Retreat in the Spring of 1951 will be sponsored by the LSA group on campus.

At next Sunday's meeting, a full report on the retreat will be given to those students who were unable to attend. Grads will also be welcomed to this meeting.

Alumni to Register In Old Main

Registration of all alumni coming to PLC for Homecoming festivities will take place at a table in Main Hall, beginning at 4 p.m. Friday, October 20.

Housing will also be provided at this time in private homes and dormitories for those alums, both men and women, who have not made previous arrangements for living quarters for the week end.

D.R.G. Room Invaded By Mischief Makers

Have you ever been perturbed? Well, some of our college coeds were when they opened the door of the day room Monday morning. The aroma of pepper and varnish met their noses as they stumbled over chairs blocking the entrance.

Yes, you guessed it; someone had broken into the day room on Saturday and destroyed properties belonging to the Delta Rho Gamma.

Dr. Hauge to Go To Eastern Meetings

To discuss finances of the educational institutions of the Lutheran church is the purpose of a special educational conference which Dr. Philip E. Hauge, dean and registrar of PLC, will attend in Minneapolis next week.

Members of the board of education of the Evangelical Lutheran church have invited administrative officials and members of boards of directors from all the Lutheran colleges to this meeting October 19 and 20. Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of PLC, who is now in the East on other business, will also attend this meeting.

Dr. Hauge will attend a Lutheran faculty conference at Augsburg college while in Minneapolis. He will leave Parkland the 18th of October, and plans to return the 23.
