DAHL ORGAN RECITAL SET FOR SUNDAY

A unique organ recital will be presented by Prof. David P. Dahl Sunday, Feb. 7 at 4 p.m. in Trinity Lutheran Church, Parkland.

Dahl, a member of the music faculty at PLU will perform works from the "Liver D'Orgue" of DeGrigny, the Schuebler Chorales, "Prelude and Fugue in C Minor" of J.S. Bach, and four organ chorales of J.L. Krebs. The works of Krebs, compositions on well known chorales, combine organ and oboe, organ and trumpet.

The second portion of the recital will feature the premier performance of a new composition by PLU music faculty member, David Paul Robbins. The piece, written for clarinet, percussion and organ, is entitled, "Fall Back 10 Yards, and contraPUNT." It features a number of innovative ways of producing sounds on the instruments involved.

The recital will close with the musical spoof of Charles Ives, the Variations on "America". Assisting artists in the program will include faculty members Jerry Kracht, and Robbins, and students Laurel Mosier and John Brye.

The recital is complimentary and open to the public. There will be a reception following the recital in the Fellowship Hall of Trinity Lutheran Church.

WFHE OFFERS NOTES ON LEGISLATION

Initial drafts of several pending legislative proposals have been passed along to member institutions by the Washington Friends for Higher Education. The following are worthy of note and support:

Tuition Supplement Bill (SB337) - no money amount has been listed. The amount is in the governor's budget so does not show on the bill. Also, procedures for administering the act are at a minimum, with the council on Higher Education expected to spell out the how of administering the act. Senator Sandison introduced the bill in the Senate this week. Senator Metcalf, a PLU alum, has been asked to help sponsor it.

Contracting for Nurses (HB366) - Representative Lnnch will introduce the bill in the House. Request of $550,000 is not included in governor's budget, so the dilemma is where the funds will come from. (Affects PLU and Whitworth).

Contracting for Law School (HB368) - $336,000 requested. Dilemma is same as above. (Lynch). (Affects Gonzaga).

General Contracting Authorization (HB338) - The introduction of a bill authorizing the Council to enter into a wide variety of contracts with private institutions. If passed, might be one of the most promising steps of all. (Lynch).

House Joint Resolution to Revise State Constitution - Proposed amendment does not seem pertinent to what is needed. University presedents will be conferring on this one. (Lynch)

Unemployment Compensation (HB199 and SB120) - The bill contains all the elements deemed necessary. Has been appraised and approved by Dean Buchanan (v.p. bus.) who states, "I think this is probably the best bill we could get."

For further legislative specifics, contact PLU's WFHE task force member, Milton Nesvig (u. rel.)

THE ASSOCIATION
TO PERFORM HERE

The Association

The first group to displace the Beatles as the Number One Pop Group in the Nation will appear in concert at Pacific Lutheran University Thursday, Feb. 11.

The Association, which accomplished the feat in 1967 according to the Bill Gavin Radio-Record Congress, is composed of seven musician-singers whose hits have been at or near the top of the charts for the past five years. They will perform in Olson Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. The concert is sponsored by the PLU Entertainment Series.

Formed in 1965, the Association became a fixture on the national music scene with its second single, "Cherish", which was Number One Record of the Year and received three Grammy nominations. By 1968 the group had six gold records.

Among the Association's hits are "Windy", "Never My Love", "Everything That Touches You," "Time for Living", and "Six-Man Band". Early in 1969 the group wrote and recorded the entire score for Paramount Pictures' movie, "Goodbye, Columbus."

The group has appeared on more than 20 network television shows, some several times. They have played over 700 concerts in five years, nearly 600 of them at colleges and universities.

Fifty-two of the group's 64 recordings to date are original, written by members of the group. Now, in addition to concerts, records and television appearances, the Association also has its own production company and publishing company.

Unlike many contemporary musicians who depend heavily on studio electronic devices for their success the Association has always had a reputation of excelling in live performances and yet, until early this year, they had never made a live album.

This past spring they recorded a performance at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City, now released as "The Association - Live." The double album captures much of the excitement generated between audience and performers, as well as interweaving tastes of the good humor which sparks back and forth between the individual musicians.

In their spare time, members of the group have been active in sponsorship of pollution studies and drug education programs with school children.

Tickets for the Association concert are on sale at the Bon Marche, Brass Ear and PLU Information Desk.

An accreditation team from the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business will be on campus Feb. 10-12 to evaluate the PLU School of Business.

"This visit culminates some 10 years of work," Dr. Gundar King, dean of the School of Business, said. "We have filed to become a regularly accredited member of AACSB. If we are accepted we will probably be the smallest school represented in terms of faculty and students."

PLU has previously been a member of the AACSB Assembly.

Members of the accreditation team are Richard Weeks of the University of Rhode Island, team chairman; Reed Tripp, Lehigh University; Richard Peebler, Drake University and John Foster, vice-president for personnel, Montgomery Ward & Co.

Weeks, Tripp and Peebler are deans of their respective schools of business administration.

HOSTS ACCREDITATION TEAM

A coffee hour has been scheduled for Friday, Feb. 12, at 10:30 a.m. in U.C. 220B. This is an opportunity for members of the university faculty and administration to meet and greet members of the accreditation team.

Several of PLU's Chinese students performed a New Year's Day pantomime during a Chinese New Year celebration at PLU Thursday. Some 70 Chinese students, members of the Chinese Culture class and friends were on hand for the program, which included skits, music, headings and displays. The first of its kind at PLU, the celebration was intended as an international friendship gesture and a means of cultural exchange.

CHILD PSYCHOLOGIST
GINOTT SCHEDULED FOR RETURN APPEARANCE

Dr. Haim Ginott, author of two of the most popular books on child psychology published in recent years, will lecture here Tuesday, Feb. 23.

The author of "Between Parent and Child" and "Between Parent and Teenager," both best sellers, is making his second local appearance in less than a year. His topic is "How to Cool It with Teenagers."

The lecture will be held at 8 p.m. in Olson Auditorium where 3,400 persons heard Ginott last April, under the sponsorship of PLU and Fort Steilacoom Community College.

Ginott's latest book, "Between Parent and Teenager," is the fruit of many years of experience in working with parents and teenagers in guidance and psychotherapy. Both of his books provide specific advice and demonstrate essential skills for handling the endless series of small events and sudden crises that are part of every parent-child relationship.

A graduate of Columbia University with a bachelor of science in education and a doctor of education in clinical psychology, Ginott now serves as adjunct professor at New York University's graduate department of psychology. He is also clinical professor in the Adelphi University post-doctoral program in psychotherapy.

General admission for the lecture at PLU is $1.50. Mail orders for tickets will be accepted until Feb. 15, after which tickets must be purchased in person. A limited number of tickets are expected to be available at the door.

Requests should be addressed to the Information Desks at either PLU or FSCC.

President Eugene Wiegman was elected chairman of the Northwest Association of Private Colleges and Universities Friday.

Announcement was made at the January meeting of the NAPCU board of trustees, held at PLU Jan. 28-29.

Elected vice-chairman was Dr. Robert Krupp, president of Marylhurst College in Marylhurst, Ore. Secretary is the Rev. Christian Mondor, president of Mt. Angel College in Mt. Angel, Ore.

The four-year-old consortium of 23 Northwest Colleges and Universities also approved a constitutional bylaw change calling for university presidents to be named as official representatives to the NAPCU board of trustees, rather than a presidential designee.

The trustees also created a bylaw provision allowing professional sub-groups, librarians, business managers and other administrators to attend executive committee meetings.

NAPCU was organized to improve inter-institutional communication and action on cooperative projects.

Pacific Lutheran University is sponsoring a fully accredited summer study program in Kristiansand, Norway, beginning this summer, 1971, according to Dr. Rodney Swenson, chairman of the PLU foreign language department.

WIEGMAN NAMED
NAPCU CHAIRMAN

SUMMER STUDY IN NORWAY PROGRAM SET

Academic offerings will focus on Scandinavia as a whole, not just Norway, and "offer an ideal occasion for students on reap maximum returns for their efforts while fulfilling course requirements in language, history and Scandinavian culture," he said.

The program, Swenson said, is designed for upper division and graduate students seeking "a sound academic course of study focused on Scandinavia." However, qualified sophomores are invited to apply.

Applications should be made as soon as possible and all fees, totaling $595 must be paid on or before May 15. Students applying but withdrawing prior to that date will be refunded all monies except for the application fee of $40 and the registration fee of $50.

Inquires should be directed to Summer Program, PLU.

The Admissions Office has planned two Open Houses for prospective students, and their parents and friends Feb. 7 and 14.

The purpose of the program is to better acquaint guests with PLU. Some of the prospects have already been accepted but many are still in the process of selecting a college. Hopefully, the opportunity to visit the campus and meet with us will positively influence students to further consider attending our university.

The program will begin at 2:30 p.m. in Chris Knutzen Hall (University Center) with presentations by several administrators and faculty. At approximately 3:15 p.m. they will be given the opportunity to meet with individual faculty and staff members.

Records indicate that 70 to 80 per cent of those students who attend this kind of event are eventually accepted for admission. It is an extremely important facet of the PLU recruitment plan.

The PLU Alumni Office reports that this year's annual fund drive is well ahead of last year's pace even though the goal is higher.

Shooting for $60,000, $10,000 over last year, the Association already has pledges $21,326, or 35 per cent of their goal in only two months.

Most individual commitments are up by more than 22 per cent according to fund drive chairman Mal Soine. Also,

A pesky Pacific Boxer five overdid the art of self-defense and the Lutes capitalized at the free throw line to kayo the Boxers 81-65 Friday at home.

Outgunning the visitors only 31-29 from the floor, PLU sank 19 of 24 from the charity line to ice the game. Tom Patnode hit 22 and Greg Larson and Roger Wiley added 12 each. The win was the 500th in PLU basketball history.

A hot 52.5 shooting percentage resulted in a 109-74 win over arch-rival Linfield Saturday here. Ake Palm led the scorers with 16 tallies. The lid was closed on the basket, however, Monday, as Whitworth's defense bought a hard-earned 70-63 win over the Lutes.

Patnode and Palm were PLU's most consistent scorers with 16 and 15 counters respectively. The Lutes lost a chance to reach the .500 mark in this encounter.

This weekend, broadcast time on KMO Radio for the PLU-Pacific game Friday is 9 p.m. Linfield is the opponent the following evening with air time scheduled for 7:55 p.m.

BOICE SELECTED IN PRO GRID DRAFT

Ross Boice, whose illustrious career as a lute culminated in his selection to three All-American teams, was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams as a linebacker in the 16th round of the professional football draft.

He is the first pro grid draftee in PLU history, but will become the second man in two years to be signed by a pro club. The 241-pound Custer, Wash., native played tackle, guard and defensive end for PLU.
