

P. L. C. Students And Teachers Are Part of Program

Fourth Annual Pacific Lutheran Day Is Held At Ballard Lutheran Church In Seattle

Following a custom which has been carried out for the past four years, the first Sunday in November, the fourth, was Pacific Lutheran College Day at the First Norwegian Lutheran Church in Seattle. Rev. M. L. Nesvig's charge. A number of P. L. C. students, teachers, and alumni attended this gathering, some taking part in the program.

The meeting was opened with hymn singing conducted by Mr. Edwards, and Gerhard Lane led in Scripture reading and prayer. Dr. Hoff, the speaker of the evening, used as his topic, "Martin Luther as a Teacher and Translator." He told briefly of incidents in the life of the great reformer as a professor of theology in Wittenberg, and of the work done by him in translating the Scriptures from Greek to German.

The following musical program was given:

Three selections by the choir of the First Norwegian Lutheran Church of Tacoma.

A vocal solo by Anna Mickelson. A song by a quartette composed of Mrs. J. U. Xavier, Mrs. J. O. Edwards, Mrs. A. W. Ramstad, and Miss Deborah Olson.

A vocal solo by Gerhard Lane.

In closing, President Tingelstad addressed the congregation, telling about Pacific Lutheran College—what it is, and what its friends hope to make it. He asked for the same loyal support of the church members in the future as has been given in the past.

Rev. Nesvig's response that the members of his church are friends of Pacific Lutheran College, was proved by the large attendance at this gathering.

Mr. Xavier went to Seattle Wednesday, October 24, to see Dr. Vikner at the University concerning the continuation of Mr. Xavier's work toward his degree. He also inquired about purchasing more books for the school library.

BUGGY CREATURE TAKES THE BUMPS THAT TURN TO MUMPS FOR FAIRER SEX

Here comes a black buggy driven in state. Hurry up, Frenchy, or you will be late. My, how that creature jiggles. Amid the laughs and Rena's giggles, "Creature" is the only name that is really applicable to the creature which formed a source of amusement to some children last week. It meandered aimlessly around the campus with no hand to guide it from harm.

The main problems confronting the pedestrians seemed to be how to stand up, how to run, and how to "went." The inability to stand up was due to laughter, the running proved to be a necessity, and the "venting" is still a mystery. It is supposed, however, that a few appendages seen fore and aft were motivating the motion of the machinery-less "motorville."

Rena Strandberg, blessed with a hearty laugh and a good disposition, was the first of the stronger sex (apologies to Mr. Hauge) to attempt riding

LIBRARY ADDS ABOUT 300 BOOKS TO SHELVES

The school library has added about 300 volumes since the last publication of the Mooring Mast. The books are as follows: approximately 150 volumes of fiction; volumes of Bacteriology, Educational Subjects, Language, Literature, and Business.

The books will be placed on the shelves as soon as they can be accessioned.

NEW GOLF CLUB IS NEARLY COMPLETED; OFFICERS ELECTED

On the prairie below the college is situated one of Parkland's newest and most valuable assets, the Parkland Golf course. The grounds have been under construction since late last spring, and when completed will be one of the best near Tacoma.

The lay of the land has been of so much aid to the Club that there was practically no clearing to be done.

The course, covering 110 acres, has a water main of 7,200 feet of 3 and 4 inch pipe. From this there extend 1,520 feet of one-inch laterals for watering fairways. When completed this course will have 18 modern holes, of which the first nine are placed along the fence, and the others in the center. The length of the holes varies from 125 yards to 420. According to expert golfers, the range of distances is very good. Near the third hole there is an elevated double tee. From this a person can tee off to the fourth and tenth holes. On the sixth there is a bull pen. By that is meant a ridge around the green. From hole to hole there are green fairways, 200 yards wide and having trees on both sides. In the northeast corner a modern caddy house with an office, lunch room, and rest room will be built. On the north and east sides of the house, respectively, men's and ladies' shower baths will be built. Close to the caddy house there will be installed a putting green. As far as it is known, this course will be one of the few having this attraction.

Two weeks ago last Sunday a house-warming took place in the caddy house. During the forenoon the new officers were installed—Mr. A. R. Lehmann, president; Mr. F. L. Crews, first vice-president; Mr. George Jensen, second vice-president; and Mr. O. A. Marshall, secretary-treasurer.

In this relic of better days. The result—merely a good case of mumps that will keep Rena from taking any more joy rides for a time.

Frenchy had rather hard luck at times. Finding it difficult to keep his legs moving as fast as was necessary, he attempted several times to "hook on" but usually got left in the background. Now Wait! Isn't one of those reticent birds—he may try to fly, but the background is not his medium. When he found himself in such an embarrassing position, he resorted to strategy and stretched his legs a little more.

The poor black buggy (maybe it's "buggy") has probably seen better days. Surely there has never been a group who derived as much fun out of it as did the COLLEGE students that formed the engine for the original "horseless carriage" of Pacific Lutheran College.

Practice Teaching Now in Full Sway

Cadets Getting Slight "Taste" of Work to Come; Some Are Teaching in City Schools

"My, those kids are dumb!" "Don't I know it?" "Well, look at mine—don't even know—"

And so it goes. One group is dumber than the next and so on, ad infinitum. Don't worry too much, though, for it is only the plaintive voices of the practice teachers raised in union in the girl's day student room and in the dormitory.

Those that are second-year students now, laughed heartily last year, and those who are new now are laughing just as heartily. This is the one outstanding example of a mis-said axiom or proverb or something. "He who laughs first laughs best, because he doesn't know what he has coming to him."

It really isn't as bad as it sounds, however, for it is just the cry that has been heard for ages and will probably be heard for many more years.

Those who are struggling with "dumb kids" and their positions are: Eliot Michelson, Ethna Trulson, Marie Gardlin, Helen Wynby, Phyllis Grande, Dagmar Hageness, Mae Wahlmacher, Lyell Kreidler and Warren Bowman—Parkland; Laddie Winney and Irene Dieth—Fern Hill; Lelah Grass and Rudolph Sanderson—Spanaway; Ines Arneson and Martha Clise—Edison; Rena Strandberg—Horace Mann; Verne Gano—Jefferson.

LETTER IS RECEIVED FROM RUTH MATSON

Miss Ruth Matson, 77 editor of the Mooring Mast in 1926-27, is teaching at Omak, Washington. The following is an extract of a letter received from her by Mr. Stuen: "As you note, I'm now beyond the mountains—getting just numerous surprises from this country. Though it could never compare with the Coast, I do not find it overly ugly. It has a fascination of an entirely different type—gripping, so to speak. We are near the Reservation and see the Red man in all original equipment—moccasins, long braids, beads etc., with the high heels and sombreros of cowboys.

In our school are 900 children and 25 teachers. I have 53 pupils—41 are boys. My work is not easy but compellingly interesting, and I believe this climate especially good for me. Great all—and best wishes."

A Correction: The editorial entitled "Two Kinds of Criticism" printed in the last issue of the Mooring Mast was an exchange editorial from the Seattle Exchange News.

FORMER PRESIDENT RETURNS TO P. L. C.

On Monday, October 22, Rev. O. J. Ordal, of Bellingham, former president of Pacific Lutheran College, spent the day here visiting with the teachers and meeting his former students. To many, it was like old times to see Rev. Ordal with his usual happy smile and cheerful greetings. His son, Olaf, accompanied him and registered in the Junior College department.

Rev. Ordal is now pastor of the Lutheran Church in South Bellingham.

LEAGUE CONVENTION IS HELD IN SEATTLE FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

The Fourth Annual Luther League Convention of the South Puget Sound Circuit was held in Seattle, November second to fourth, at Ballard Lutheran Church. Rev. O. L. Haavik's charge. Some of the faculty members and many present and former P. L. C. students attended the meetings, some taking part in the program.

"The Young People's Master and the Master's Young People" was the topic chosen. "The Young People's Master" was discussed as Savior, Teacher, Lord, and Servant, while the second part of the topic was developed as "The Master's Young People: are Redeemed at a Great Price, Have a Great Mission, and Have a Great Inheritance and Reward." Doctor H. J. Hoff, of the College, spoke on the Mission of the Young People.

Sunday morning, President Tingelstad, who attended several of the meetings, preached the convention sermon. He also spoke in behalf of the Pacific Lutheran College Development Association, and of the Convention offering, one half was given to the Association.

At the Closing Session Sunday evening, Mr. Phillip E. Hauge, of the College, spoke, using as his topic, "In His Steps."

The new Circuit officers who were installed Sunday afternoon by Rev. Stubb, of Seattle, are: Mr. Conrad Gandy, president; Mr. M. R. Torvik, vice-president; Mr. Arnold Uleiland, treasurer; and Miss Nina Okness, secretary. Miss Okness graduated from P. L. C. in '28.

INSTALLATION OF DR. TINGELSTAD IS DEC. 14

That the Installation of our new president, Dr. O. A. Tingelstad, will be held December 14, is the announcement made at this time. The committee in charge of arranging this service is composed of Rev. J. A. E. Naess, Tacoma, Rev. O. L. Haavik, Seattle, and Mr. Phillip E. Hauge, registrar of the College.

Doctor Aagaard, president of the N. L. C. A., will be here to conduct the installation. The complete program will be announced in the next issue of the Mooring Mast.

"GOBLINS" WIN PRIZE WITH "FAMILY ALBUM" ACT AT BIG HALLOWE'EN PARTY

On Saturday evening, November 3, a Halloween party was held in the recreation hall of the college.

The room was appropriately decorated with posters and streamers, and the lights were covered with shades of black and orange.

The party opened with an impromptu program. This was followed by a number of contests. The main contest was one of putting on a stunt in which all the guests took part, divided in four groups, the "Cats," "Jack-o-lanterns,"

Prominent Jeweler To Offer Trophy For Scholarship

Mahncke Company of Tacoma Offer Cup; Will Engrave Three Names Each Year

A Scholastic Trophy Cup is to be presented in the near future to Pacific Lutheran College by the Mahncke Jewelry Company of Tacoma.

Every year there will be engraved upon this cup the name of one student from each of the departments of this institution—the high school, the junior college, and the normal. From these divisions will be chosen the pupils having the highest scholastic averages during the year. To be eligible a student must make at least four high school credits or thirty college or normal units during the two semesters.

It is considered that this trophy will be another means of arousing interest in scholarship, for it should be considered an outstanding honor to have one's name engraved upon such a cup.

The Mahncke Jewelry Company is an advertiser of the Mooring Mast, and has always been a loyal supporter of the school.

MR. ELVESTROM, FIELD MANAGER, COMES BACK

Mr. Victor Elvestrom, field-manager of the Development Association, returned Tuesday, October 30th, from a tour of California. While there, he attended the Pastoral Conference and the Luther League Meetings in Pasadena. Following these meetings, a careful survey as possible was made of the field, and the speaking tour for Doctor Tingelstad was arranged for January.

Mr. Elvestrom reports that the interest shown in California is very encouraging, and indications are that the people will respond extremely well.

'SAUCE FOR GOSSLINGS' TO BE GIVEN NOV. 16

The dramatic club has not yet been organized, but, in response to a request of the Parkland school, a better-speech play entitled "Sauce for the Gosslings" will be presented there for Dag's night on November 16. The following students will take part: Elna Trulsen, Marie Gardlin, Beanca Jorgensen, Stanley Berentzen, Rudolph Sanderson, and Marvin Howick.

Forty-seven persons have signified their intentions of becoming members of this club, and, according to Miss Stenrud, the cast for the all school play will be picked as soon as possible.

"Pumpkins" and "Goblins." The "Goblins" won the prize with an act entitled the "Family Album."

Everyone attending the party in costume marched around the room several times in order that their costumes might be judged. Alfild Turnska received the prize for the best costume of the girls and George Janssen for the best costume of the boys.

A grand march and refreshments consisting of ice cream and cookies were the concluding features of the evening.

THE MAHNCKE SCHOLASTIC TROPHY CUP

With the beginning of the quarter examinations in a few days, many of us perhaps all are commencing to take stock of ourselves in the light of how much studying we have done during the past nine weeks. Though there may be a few with that secure and satisfied feeling, most of us, no doubt, wish we had burned more of the midnight oil, and, as usual, there will be those who will try to put the work of an entire quarter into a few nights of feverish cramming.

Resolutions for better studying will undoubtedly be made especially appropriate at this time since the announcement of the Mahncke Scholastic Trophy Cup. To have one's name engraved upon such a cup is surely to be considered a singular honor, and those three students who accomplish this may be justly proud of their achievements. They will enjoy the satisfaction of having succeeded in doing what they set out to do, but the rest of us will have the satisfaction of having tried, at least. Of course, not all who try can win, for then contests would not be interesting, but we might remember the saying, "Pity the man who had never known defeat; he has never striven for anything worth while nor tried with all his might." To put our best into our school work and to study with all our might is certainly worth while, for such an effort will always be rewarded, but a material reward resulting from competition always makes things more interesting.—I. A. D.

SILENCE

Silence is sometimes desirable and has also been contributory to the quality of eloquence. Nevertheless, there are times when expression must be sought thru agencies contrary to silence. This sometimes becomes necessary and highly desirable. Especially is this true when a measure is brought up for a group discussion and final decision.

Anyone visiting our student body meetings, when some new project was brought up, would invariably get the impression that P. L. C. students are ardent believers in the eloquence of silence.

Almost any question is likely to arouse controversy. Why then the silence? Is indifference the cause? If so, substitute for indifference spontaneous response.—P. J. F.

SUNSET

"I saw the sun drop out of sight
And so I always look to see,
And fill the sky with colors bright,
The sunset glow for me."

Such is a verse I overheard a group of primary children singing recently. To them it was merely a pretty song—to me it was an ideal.

It is not hard to see the dark side of the daily life; in fact it is often too easy. The sunset of life—when one has reached the end of the long trail—will it be beautiful and glowing, or will it be covered by dark and lowering clouds?

I often wonder whether the life I am leading will be the best in the future whether I am allowing any opportunities to slip by that might add a bit of color to the sunset of my life. I hope not. I like to believe that the sunset of life—a Christian life—will be just as glorious as that produced by the glorious sun in our western skies.—V. G.

A LETTER

Nov. 7, 1928

Dear Ma and Pa:

Well, there is only three weeks left before Thanksgiving, and I suppose you can't wait to see me. However, it is best not to tell the neighbors around the country that you are living happy dreams until I come home. Going to school costs a lot of money, especially since the Pumpkin Shell has come to Parkland, and what money I got left wouldn't even take me to Spokane.

The is some girls which never know what a bill for a light lunch adds up to, being they got a Sophomore or something to figure it out for them. But I am not like that. I believe in higher education in Arithmetic as well as in Psychology, and pay for my own lunches, so to speak.

Anyway, you had better send me some money, as you would not want to have the neighbors know that I am sick or camped in vacation. You can send quite a bit of money.

I am glad I am broke in to College by this time. It sure does upset a person when you first get here. You can't imagine how it feels. Ma, unless you can remember how you felt when Pa drove us off the grade there by the school house. Of course it's a different feeling, but what I mean is, a fellow has about as much to do with the running of things as you and I did in the back seat that time.

You can send the money the same day as you get this letter if you want too.

The girl that rooms across the hall from me has a very ignorant idea of

Second Defeat of Season Suffered By College Team

Puget Sound Reserves Win With 29 to 6 Score; Both Teams Make Several Fumbles During the Game

The Pacific Lutheran College Gladiators suffered their second defeat of the season when they lost to the College of Puget Sound Reserves last Friday, Nov. 2, to the score of 29-6. The game was played on the C. P. S. field.

The Reserves proved themselves a much stronger team than the one that battled the Gladiators two weeks ago. The Lutherans were not playing up to their best, and the breaks seemed to be against them. Several times a long pass that promised to become a sure touchdown spiraled through the air to the waiting arms of some Lutheran player, only to slip out of his hands.

Right after the whistle started the two teams on their way. The Reserves received the ball and returned it several yards. From then on the Maroon and Gray moved like a sweeping avalanche toward the Gladiator's goal line. Their steady march gave them three first downs bringing them down to Parkland's 15-yard line. It looked like a sure touchdown, but the Gladiators pulled themselves together to stop the stampee on their own 12-yard line. It was now Pacific's ball. On the first play Parkland failed to gain. Carlson then decided to punt, kicking the oval to C. P. S.'s 43-yard line.

C. P. S. again started a drive down the field, bringing the ball to their enemy's 22-yard line. On the next two plays the Reserves failed to make any yardage. On the next trial, however, Pease, the quarterback, executed a neat play when he sent the pigskin through the crumblers for three points. In the second quarter the Reserves were able to penetrate their opponents' line for two touchdowns, making the score 15-0 at the end of the first half. The C. P. S. eleven had the margin throughout the first half in practically every department of the game.

Lutherans Rally

The second half saw a different team on the field. The Lutherans then came back a good deal stronger than in their first appearance. They showed more aggressiveness, more fight, taking the ball down the field for what appeared to be a touchdown. But C. P. S. held, and Parkland was unable to cross the goal line. This, their first big chance of scoring, they missed, as they were unable to rally the required strength to bring the oval over their chalkline. It was in this quarter that both teams opened aerial attacks, with the Maroon and Gray, having the edge on completed passes, but with Parkland gaining greater yardage. Even at that they were not able to score more than one touchdown. In the third quarter Parkland made great gains when they marched and passed their way down the field, Palo, the Gladiator's fullback, packing the ball over the line for the only touchdown. C. P. S. however, followed suit by adding another 14 marks to their total before the struggle ended.

Palo Shows Up Well
Some fine throwing was done by Palo in the second half. Many times he was rushed to throw, not getting an accurate aim, which caused several incompletes. Two passes were outstanding. One of these was received by Knutzen, who raced 26 yards for the longest gain of the day. The other, by Colton, made possible a gain of 23 yards. C. P. S. had more accurate passes, but the gains were less.

LINCOLN MIDDIES REVENGE DEFEAT BY 19 TO 0 VICTORY

The Lincoln High Intermediates obtained revenge for their previous defeat by winning the second contest on their own field last Friday afternoon, with a score of 19-0.

Due to an error in arranging games both the Varsity and the Reserves were forced to play on the same afternoon. Coach Ramstad took every man that he thought might be available for duty to the Varsity game and left the Reserves with a badly mixed lineup. In spite of this fact, the boys put up a good game and with the exception of a couple of long passes which resulted in touchdowns, they held the Lincolnites well in check.

ners, was a great ground-gainer, piercing the Lutherans' line for large gains. Smith, his team mate, contributed his share also.

Scheel, the giant guard for Pacific, was the outstanding performer on the line. Time and time again, he broke through, using his favorite neck-tie tackle, bringing the ball carrier down to earth. Scheel played with great fighting spirit during the whole game, leading in nearly every play. Knutzen loomed up big as a defensive player in the back field. Not many ball carriers were able to escape the reaching hands of Knutzen. Once set, he surely pulled them down.

Two regulars were out of the lineup, Ole Ploe and Rudy Sanderson, both being laid up with injuries. Whether they can be nursed up for the coming game remains a question. If not, the same lineup will most likely start against Stadium November 9, when the two teams mix on the Parkland grounds.

0-0 Tie Outcome Of Reserve Game

Gladiator Seconds and Stadium Intermediates Have Slew Game; Played Oct. 25

Getting off to a slow start and playing sluggish football throughout, the game, the Gladiator Reserves had to content themselves with a 0-0 tie against the Stadium High School Intermediates, Thursday, Oct. 25, on the home field.

Both teams battled on even terms throughout the game, with now one team showing a slight edge and then the other. The play was confined mostly to mid-field. When either team was in danger, punting was resorted to, with Stadium having the margin in the kicking duel. Several times during the game the Gladiators' secondary defense weakened, and Nyman, Pacific's diminutive quarterback, was forced to kick hurriedly, getting off short boots. Although the Gladiators gained more yardage on their passes, they were bested on the number of yards gained from scrimmage, in view of the fact that Parkland scored more first downs than did their opponents.

Sanderson Gains Ground
Sanderson carried the attack for the locals, being their big ground-gainer. Shortly after the start Rudy was hurt but was sent into the game again after a short rest and came thru with some nice runs. Lisherness and Scheel, in the line, proved hard to get by. "Jake" Jacobson showed up well at the pivot berth and handled the ball well. Shortly before the end of the first half he was injured and had to be taken off the field. He started the game again in the second half but had to be substituted for by Knutzen.

Starting lineup was: Colton and Goplerud, ends; Hauge and Lisherness, tackles; Scheel and Berentson, guards; Jacobson, center; Nyman, quarter; Hoff and Sanderson, halves, and Thostenson, fullback.

COACH ANNOUNCES GAME; WILL MEET STADIUM FRIDAY

Confident that his team can play better football than they did against the Reserves last Friday afternoon, Coach Ramstad has been putting his proteges through some strenuous practice in preparation for the Stadium game which is to be played on the local field Friday afternoon.

Injuries may handicap the Gladiators somewhat, as Sanderson and Ploe, two regulars, may not be able to start. Ramstad will probably use the same lineup he started in last Friday's game.

This is the last game on the home grounds this season and every one should turn out for the contest. The local team needs and deserves every bit of support they can get. Let's beat Stadium!

Dorothy Ordal, who attended here last year, is now a student at Fair Haven High School in Bellingham. She visited school Friday, October 26.

Nina Eide, '26, is teaching at Orting.

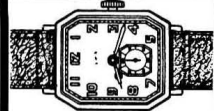

Ruth Padness, '26, visited here Friday. She is teaching Mathematics and Spanish at the Fife High School.

Olive Sandwick, '26, is at her home in Bellingham, where she is recovering from an extended illness.

Mabel Lund, a student here in '26, was married to Louis Edward Pollard on Monday, October 15. Mr. and Mrs. Pollard are making their home at Glendive, Montana.

Eleanor Loftbus parents visited here Tuesday.

Cora Vista was the week-end guest of Leah Gross at her home in Yelm, Washington.

Peggy Harvey spent the week-end at Ellensburg as the guest of Miss Palmer.

Eleanor Loftbus was the guest of honor at a birthday party given by Agnus Olson, Nedra Dublign, and Helen Tingelstad Tuesday evening, October 30.

Mr. Victor Elvestrom returned Tuesday evening from an extended trip in California on behalf of the "Development Association."

Dr. and Mrs. Hoff motored to Stanwood Sunday, October 28. Dr. Hoff delivered a talk to the Luther League of the church at Stanwood.

Carl Anderson visited the federal prison on McNeil Island Sunday the 28th of October.

Norman Hoff visited his home in Keport on the last week-end.

Mrs. M. A. Christenson, president of W. M. F., was a school visitor on Monday and Tuesday.

'MINNESOTA GOVERNOR' COMPLIMENTS 'FRENCHY'

At one of the regular student body meetings, the president, Erling Jacobson, announced that he had with him a package which he had recently received in the mail. As he unwrapped it, the group was in suspense. What could it be? Then the president held up for view a cigar wrapped in ribbon, and read the note that accompanied it. It was a message from St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., signed by Arthur Knutzen, Sverre Omdal, and "The Governor of Minnesota," congratulating Walter French upon his being elected boys' athletic manager.

Frenchy's countenance beamed with joy and pride as he was presented with the gift, and the students added to the happiness of the occasion by a hearty hand-clap.

MR. ROUNDS INSPECTS HIGH SCHOOL CLASSES

The High School Department of this institution was visited last week by the State School Inspector, Mr. Rounds. He made a survey for the purpose of determining the official status of this branch. After taking note of the various improvements and modifications that have been made, he left, apparently very well satisfied with the work being done. Mr. Hoag is the head of this department.

Mooryad Swen

All right, all you bright Latin and Norse shams, it's up to you to figure this one out.

The sophs began to get reckless in their actions in the dayroom, so the haughty freshmen have had to chastise them.

By the looks of the sophomores' coats out on the line it seems that the freshmen were on the war-path.

One of the revered members of the day room, Rena Standberg, has been a victim to a childish disease—mumps. Such a thing might be expected of a first year student—but of a sophomore? Naughty Rena.

Mae Keith, who had been absent from school for four weeks, returned last Thursday, Nov. 1. A glad "Rah-rah!" greeted her return.

Miss Mabel Johnson changed her name last Saturday evening to Mrs. James Schwerdfeld. Good luck, Mabel, and lots of it.

Do you know what it means now? Mooryad Swen is not Greek nor is it Sanskrit—it is merely the Dayroom News.

FOUR YEARS AGO AT P. L. C.

At chapel exercises, November 10, Burton Kreidler was awarded the state prize for his essay entitled "Dope Addiction," submitted in the essay contest held by the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The music instructors of Pacific Lutheran College, Miss Lillian Lund, piano, Miss Vange Loeffler, violin, and Mrs. Philip E. Haug, voice, gave a complimentary concert in the gymnasium.

Chapel Talk

"And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward."

"But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father, which is in secret; and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly."

"But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking."

"Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what ye have need of before ye ask him."

"After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in Heaven, Hallowed be thy name."

"Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven."

"Give us this day our daily bread:"

"And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors."

"And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom and the power, and the glory, forever, Amen."

"For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you."

"For if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your father forgive your trespasses."

We meet in our chapel each morning to pray, but can we hope to be forgiven if we are unwilling to forgive our neighbor? The fifth petition—"And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors."—is the only one which is not a simple petition, and only God's children can pray it. An unforgiven sin is really the source of all our troubles. It separates us from God and eternity, and if we can not pray this fifth petition we can not hope for eternal life. We are joint heirs with Christ for everlasting life, but we shall not be left in peace by the tempter.

Jesus Christ loved us, let us love our neighbors and forgive.
