

knightletter

VOL 5 NO 6 Pacific Lutheran University October 19, 1967

An Ode To A Fallen Knight

(page 4-5)

THE ROUNDTABLE

Stewart Govig (religion) has a review of William Hordern's "New Directions in Theology Today" in the current issue of Lutheran Quarterly....Carrol DeBower (education) introduced the main speaker last week at the American Association of University Professors in Portland....Vernon Utzinger (speech) attended a speech therapy conference last week at the University of Washington....T. O. H. Karl (speech) spoke last Saturday at the ALC Olympic District meeting in Hoquiam on drama and worship. He and LaVonne Holden (speech) will be in Portland this weekend as their debate squad holds a practice meet against Lewis & Clark College....Ted Thuesen (former PLU sociology instructor) sends his greetings from Lenoir Rhyne College in Hickory, N.C., where he is an assistant professor of sociology. His address is Box 342 in care of the college....GAME TIME CHANGED...Mark Salzman (athletic director) informs us that the time for the homecoming football game has been changed from 1:30 to 2:00 p.m. on Nov. 4. Reason for the time change is because the College of Idaho team's plane doesn't arrive at Sea-Tac until noon....Joseph Anderson (religion) is slated to speak this Thursday evening to the Lutheran Church Women of Gloria Dei in Olympia....The luggage of Kenneth Johnston (education) was stolen at the airport in Washington, D. C. on his recent trip. The bag was recovered but held for evidence to convict the thief. The trial was held Tuesday and on Wednesday the luggage was delivered by United to the Johnston residence. No word on the trial outcome though....Our sympathy to Margaret Thompson (business office) whose mother-in-law died this week. Margaret is in California this week for the funeral.

* * *

FACULTY

During this month the PLU Faculty Wives are hosting informal coffee hours at the homes of its officers so that the new faculty wives have a chance to get acquainted with the older members.

WIVES

The 8 p.m. meetings will be announced in advance, and will be held at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, Emmet Eklund, Harold Bexton, Kenneth Johnston, Branton Holmberg, Harold Leraas, Sherman Nornes, and Curtis Huber.

* * *

BOOK

An exhibition of children's books is on display in the Robert

EXHIBIT

Mortvedt Library in the southwest corner near the Gallery. It will remain on display until Saturday evening.

* * *

BIRTHDAYS

John Petersen	October 19
Miriam Beckman	October 19
Charles Nelson	October 22
Loleta Espeseth	October 23
Ronald Genda	October 23
Stephen Kvinsland	October 25
D. Dickerson	October 26
Kenneth Johnston	October 26
Theodore Sjoding	October 26

* * *

Bids Opened on New Gymnasium, But Current Federal 'Freeze' Will Delay Any Groundbreaking

Low bids totaling $1,626,769 were opened Tuesday at Pacific Lutheran University for the proposed Clifford O. Olson Physical Education Auditorium Building. Construction, however, will be delayed.

A current "freeze" on federal funds has denied PLU the $24,460 grant it was awarded last fall under the Higher Education Facilities Act.

A Dean Buchanan, vice president for business and finance, said that as long as the freeze is in effect, the building will not be started.

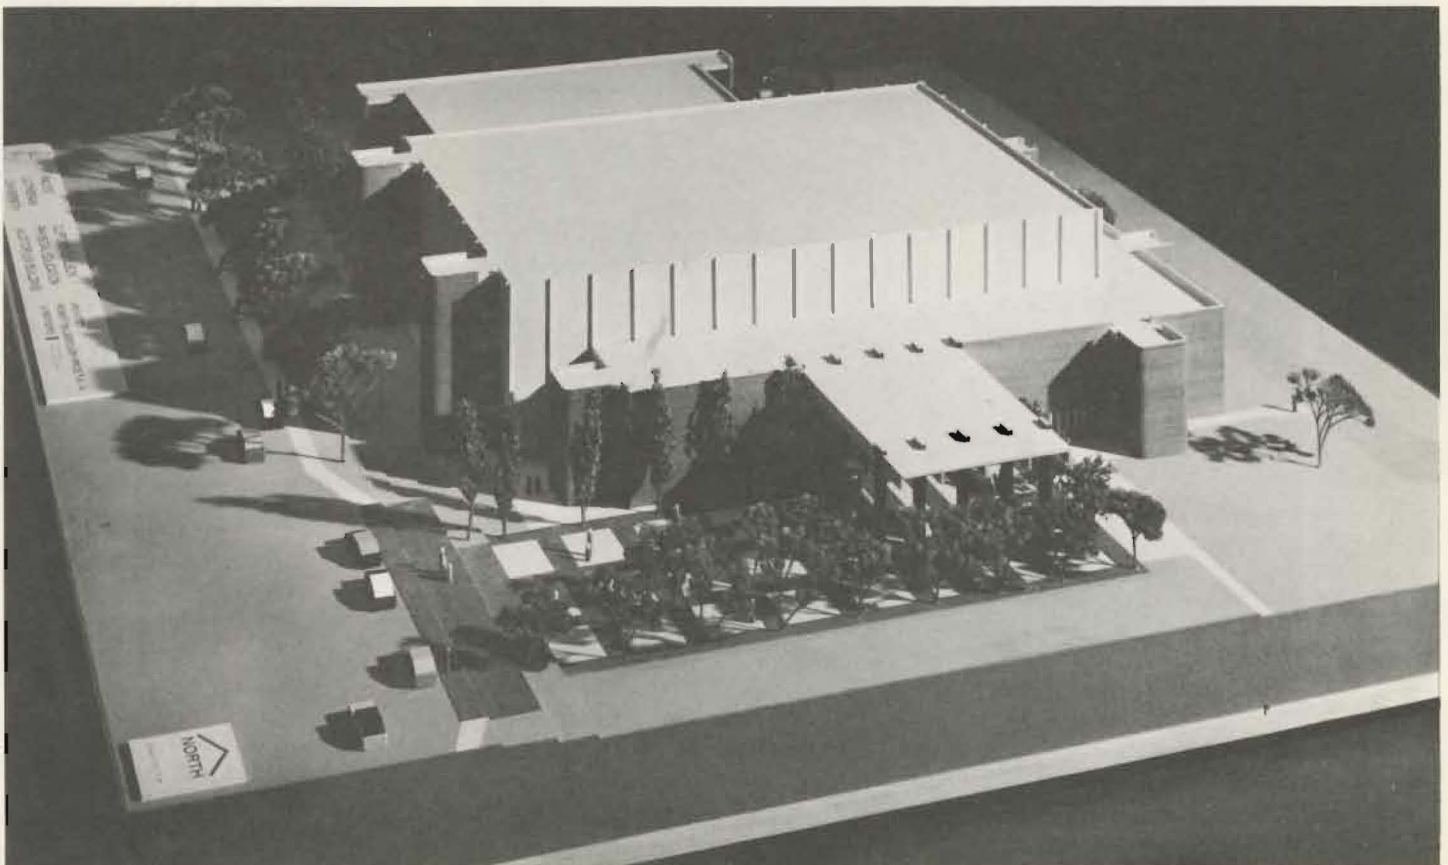

"The Office of Education told me this week that it will not concur in contract awards as long as there is a federal freeze on spending," he said.

Buchanan added, "We don't know how long this will remain in effect. It might be two weeks or six months."

Three Tacoma firms were apparent low bidders for the three main contracts. Korsmo Brothers was low for the general contract with a bid of $962,769. This firm built PLU's swimming pool.

H-K Western, Inc., had the low mechanical bid with $466,000. Totem Electrical Co., submitted the low bid of $198,000 for the electrical contract.

All 18 bids were turned over to the Board of Regents. They will study and award contracts at their Oct. 31 meeting.

They Play To Win

One man will never tackle Dave Halstead: it takes two.

Skip Miller, with Jeff Carey to assist, stop a UPS runner for no gain.

Lovell to Roller, a familiar duo.

FACULTY INFORMATION SUPPLEMENT

The Smithsonian Institution has announced its program of Visiting Research Appointments 1968-69. These are for Postdoctoral programs in science, history and the arts; predoctoral programs; and summer research assistantships. Faculty members may obtain detailed information from:

Smithsonian Institution
Office of Education and Training
Washington, D. C. 20560

Guide to Grants, Loans, and Other Types of Government Assistance

Recently we received the first "comprehensive guide" to the various types of government assistance available to college and graduate students as well as to educational institutions of higher learning. Based upon a report prepared by the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress for a House Subcommittee, it affords a very good review of all the Federal programs now operative. A copy of this pamphlet has been placed in Library 102. The exact title: Guide to Grants, Loans, and Other Types of Government Assistance Available to Students and Educational Institutions (Public Affairs Press, Washington, D.C. 1967).

Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Information

The last issue of the Knightletter "Faculty Information" referred to the fact that nominations for "Woodrow Wilson Fellowships" must be made by faculty members no later than October 31. Brochures announcing the competition for 1967 have been made available through departments. As indicated on this literature, nominations are made by faculty members directly to the Regional Chairman. In our case, he is:

Professor Donald W. Bushaw
Department of Mathematics
Washington State University
Pullman, Washington 99163

While the program is more restrictive this year, the Foundation, in a letter dated October 13, pointed out that in addition to the 100 U.S. candidates and 50 Canadian candidates who actually receive fellowships, the remainder of the 1000 "designates" will be benefited significantly in the receptivity of graduate schools and other possible funding sources.

If you have not seen the Woodrow Wilson Foundation announcement, there is a copy available in the Academic Deans' office.

Notice to Chairmen of Faculty Committees

Please turn in as soon as possible your name as Chairman, the name of your committee secretary or recorder, and the regular meeting time of your committee to Dr. D. Farmer, Chairman of the Committee on Committees.

Kent Fellowships for Graduate Study are offered by the Danforth Foundation for students preparing for teaching or administration in colleges and universities in the United States and Canada. The applicant must intend to attain the degree of Doctor of Philosophy or its equivalent in one of the arts or sciences that contribute to a liberal education. A minimum of one year of previous graduate study is required at the time of application; students in professional schools (law, medicine, theology, etc.) may not apply until the year immediately preceding the beginning of graduate study for the Ph.D. degree or its equivalent. Preference is given to persons under 30 years of age, but applications may be made by persons to age 40. There are no restrictions as to race, creed, citizenship, or marital status. The award is for one year and is normally renewable until completion of the degree or for a maximum of three years of graduate study. For further information, please contact Dean Anderson.

"The Genius" To Appear in Concert

Ray Charles, the proclaimed "Genius of the Blues," will appear in concert with his orchestra and the Raelets Thursday, Nov. 2, at Pacific Lutheran University.

The performance, to be staged at 8:15 p.m. in PLU's Memorial Gymnasium, will highlight four days of homecoming activities at the University. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Corner Office, or at area ticket outlets.

Since his first smash hit, "Georgia on My Mind," Ray Charles has become one of the world's most popular recording artists. He either writes his music or else he personally selects the songs and arranges them to come up with exactly the sound he wants.

Although he draws from jazz, popular tunes and rhythm and blues, more than 90 percent of the numbers he records and plays before live audiences are his own compositions.

Several of his more popular records include: "Hit the Road Jack," "Busted," "Makin' Whoopee," "Let's Get Stoned," "Am I Blue," and of course, "What'd I Say."

Charles was born in Albany, Georgia, and was left blind by an accident at the age of six. When he was 15 his parents died. He then left school and started playing in small bands throughout the South.

He lists as one of his greatest moments the time when he played on a Seattle television station as a member of the first Negro act to have a sponsored show in the Northwest.

Although originally influenced by Nat "King" Cole, Charles has developed a style of his own. "I try to bring my soul out so that people can understand what I am," he was quoted as saying.

The Raelets

PLU's Children's Theatre Announces First Show

The story of Flibbertygibbet, a being from another world who adopts a Scottish community, will be portrayed at Pacific Lutheran University's Children's Theatre Oct. 26 through Nov. 4.

Seats for the first four performances have been reserved by area school districts, but reservations for Saturday, Oct. 28, and Saturday, Nov. 4, can be made by calling the PLU information desk.

The play starts at 2:30 p.m. in Eastvold Auditorium. It is a 90-minute performance, with intermission.

"Flibbertygibbet" is a tale about an alien being who works himself into the confidence of a small Scottish community. He performs his magic for the welfare of the population until their greediness drives him away. However, the play ends on a happy note as the citizens realize their guilt and plead for his return.

Flibbertygibbet is played by Donn Olson. Other cast members are David Lee, John Olson, Sandra Samford, Sharon Gephart, Joni Anderson, Gary Grandel, and Helen Hardtke.

Shades of 01' Philadelphia, It's Franklin Himself

Fredd Wayne's presentation of "Benjamin Franklin, Citizen," will be staged Friday, Oct. 27, as Pacific Lutheran University's first Artist Series production of the academic year.

The one-man show begins at 8:15 p.m. in Eastvold Auditorium. Artist Series ticket holders may reserve seats today and tomorrow at Eastvold between 1 and 6 p.m.

The two-part program opens in Philadelphia where "Franklin" is on his way from a tavern to the town hall. He sets the scene of colonial America by describing some local customs, and he comments on such subjects as his wife and the joys of eating.

"Citizen Franklin" then introduces and demonstrates several of his musical and scientific inventions. He then goes into an emotional discourse on his opposition to the Stamp Act of 1765.

In part two he offers his views on the writing of the American Constitution. Next he goes into an episode of his experiences as an American diplomat in Paris.

Other features of the program include some of Franklin's comments on spying, women in general--older women in particular --and religion. The program closes with Wayne doing a poignant revelation of Franklin's stormy relationship with his son William.

Prior to becoming "Citizen Franklin," Wayne was a television and stage actor, and magazine writer. He has also starred in several movies.

Wayne's program is based on suggested material of Leonard Labaree, editor of "The Papers of Benjamin Franklin." Appearing with Wayne on stage is Sidney Dorfman who provides additional dialogue.

THE ROUND TABLE

Dr. Emmet Eklund (religion) was in Chicago Oct. 19-23 for the annual conference of the American Academy of Religion. Seventy outstanding scholars gave lectures at the event. This weekend Eklund and his wife will be in Rock Island, Ill. for homecoming at Augustana College. Son Kenneth is up for Vi-King and daughter Joan is a candidate for Vi-Queen attendant....Dr. Doris Stucke (nursing) is in Laramie, Wyoming (Oct. 25-27) representing PLU at the annual fall meeting of the Western Interstate Commission on Higher Education and Nursing. WICHEN deals with the upgrading of standards for collegiate nursing programs in schools in the 12 western states....Dr. Harry S. Adams (physics) has received a $4,500 grant from the Research Corporation in support of a research program entitled, "Electric Quadrupole Resonance of Some Related Metallic Tri-Chlorides." This research is being done in collaboration with Dr. E. N. Carlson at Michigan State University....Prof. Gordon O. Gilbertson (music) is taking the brass section of the band to Seattle Sunday to participate in the Reformation Festival in the Arena.... The Board of Regents smorgasbord for faculty and their spouses is slated for 6 p.m. Tuesday in the Chris Knutzen Fellowship Hall....NOTE THIS DATE....The annual Christmas dinner for the entire staff and spouses has been scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 10, at 5 p.m. at the Top of the Ocean....Ruth Green's (Univ. Rel. sec.) husband Dennis returned Saturday from 13 months of duty with the Marines at Okinawa. His next duty station will be El Toro, Calif. and she will be leaving us in a couple of weeks to be there with him....J. E. Danielson (admissions) returns Monday from a two-week student solicitation trip to Idaho and Montana. Mrs. Danielson has been visiting with her daughter and family in Kellogg, Idaho....Jim Van Beek (financial aids) returned Wednesday night from a student visitation trip to the eastern seaboard and Midwest....WELCOME to three new employees. Recent additions to the maintenance staff are Eugene Shingledecker (plumber) and Charles Safford (fireman). Kathie Jaeger is a new key punch operator in data processing.... Those two beautiful new homes which have been erected on the south side of the College Golf Course adjacent to the fourth hole fairway are about completed. Dr. Sherman Nornes (physics) and family moved into theirs about two weeks ago, and A. Dean Buchanan (v.p.-- bus. & fin.) and family expect to move into theirs this weekend....

(continued in next column)

BIRTHDAYS

Theodore Karl	October 27
George Arbaugh	October 31
Ruth Davey	October 31

* * *

PLEASE

Warning to all who park cars in the lot east of the Administration

NOTE

Building: on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, this lot will be reserved for the Board of Regents, who are meeting on campus. Others please use Park Avenue lots.

* * *

ROUND TABLE

Ernst Schwidder (art) offered public lectures on "Art - Reformation and Renewal" at Washington State University at Pullman and the University of Idaho at Moscow, Idaho on Oct. 22 under the joint sponsorship of the Lutheran Councils of the two institutions....George Elwell (art) recently participated in a panel discussion on the work of Mauricio Lasansky broadcast by KMO, Tacoma....Four members of the Office of Student Affairs staff attended the annual meeting of the Northwest College Personnel Association in Gearhart, Oregon, Sunday through Wednesday. Those who went were Dean William Sandler, Dean Margaret Wickstrom, Leighland Johnson, and William Lennon.... Dr. Thomas Langevin (academic v.p.) is in Las Vegas, Nev. (Oct. 26-28) at a meeting of the Western Association of Summer Session Administrators. He is participating on a panel presentation related to summer session planning. He will also attend a meeting of the Missouri Synod Study Committee on Lay Higher Education in St. Louis, Mo. on Oct. 29-30. This will be an organizational meeting of a committee recently appointed by Dr. Oliver Harms which is to report to the 1969 convention of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod when it meets in Denver, Colo....Dr. Lowell Culver (political science) moderated a panel on "The United Nations Today and Tomorrow" at the Winthrop Hotel October 24 as part of the United Nations Day celebration.

* * *

By Golly, They Really Did It Up Big

Pacific Lutheran University's head coach Roy Carlson said two weeks ago that if the Lutes get the first touchdown they won't get beat. They got that touchdown against Pacific University last Saturday and went on to win 34-12. It was the first victory of the season.

And it was a surprise to the Pacific University Badgers and their homecoming crowd. PU coach Frank Buckiewicz had said prior to the game: "We don't figure on the Lutes giving us much trouble...they are inexperienced for this league compared to the veterans we have."

He said more, including a prediction that the final score would be 40-0 in his favor. He wasn't ready for what hit him.

Senior halfback Ken Harding showed the form that made him the Lutes' leading ground gainer last season with his brilliant runs. Freshmen backs Hans Lindstrom and Dave Halstead displayed the form that is going to worry opposing coaches for three years to come.

And the Lutes' line was great. Big Jeff Carey, team captain and all-conference selection, denied the Badgers yardage around his end. He also caught a touchdown pass, and intercepted one. Ross Boice, another big defensive lineman, intercepted a pass and turned it into a touchdown.

To the spectators in the audience, there was no doubt that Carlson and his Lutes could have run the score up over the 50 mark had they left the starting 11 on the field. But Carlson is not that type of coach. Every player on the bench had a chance to see action in PLU's greatest victory since 1956.

Injuries, however, will hurt the Lutes this Saturday when they face top-ranked NAIA power Linfield College. The Saturday evening game at McMinnville will pit the undefeated Wildcats against an improved PLU squad. Prior to last weekend Linfield might have thought this to be an easy game.

Head coach Carlson and Ken Harding

Harding Sets Records, Moe Ties For Another

Pacific Lutheran University's football record book reads like a history of the 1940's when Marv Tommervik and Marv Harshman were kings of the gridiron. Between the two of them they hold 21 records, while their teammates of those golden years hold six.

Few new marks have been added over the years. But last weekend two of the records were re-written, and a third had an addition.

Ken Harding, senior halfback, wrote himself into the book for the first time. He now has the most yards gained rushing in a game with 194, and the longest rushing gain with 89. Junior Fred Moe added his name to two others with four conversions in a game.

Newnham, Knapp Set Faculty Recital

Frederick L. Newnham and Calvin Knapp, members of Pacific Lutheran University's music faculty, will present a joint recital at 4 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 5 in Jacob Samuelson Auditorium.

Newnham, who sings baritone, will be accompanied on the piano by Knapp. The recital is open to the public.

Newnham will open the afternoon concert with Bach's "Merke, Mein Herze, Beständig Nur Dies."

Knapp will play Bach's "English Suite in A Minor" before Newnham sings two pieces by G. F. Handel: "Rendi'l Sereno Al Ciglio" and "Furibondo Spira Il Vento."

Newnham will also sing Robert L. Stevenson's "The Vagabond," with arrangement by R. Vaughan Williams; "Unmindful of the Roses" by Rossetti, with arrangement by Coleridge Taylor; Hermon Ould's "The Tempter" arranged by David Carver; A. E. Housman's "Is My Team Ploughing" arranged by George Butterworth; and Granville Bantock's arrangement of Helen Taylor's piece, "Silent Strings."

Knapp will then perform his second piano solo, Liszt's "Mephisto Waltz."

Next Newnham will sing Ivimey's arrangement of Thomas Moore's "At the Midhour of Night;" Arms Fisher's arrangement of "If I Were Kind of Ireland" by Alfred P. Graves; and W. B. Yeats's "Down By the Sally Gardens" arranged by Herbert Hughes.

The recital will close with the two performing M. Kennedy Fraser's "Pulling the Sea Dulce," "Nancy's Hair" and "Kishmul's Galley."

Both musicians are highly respected in the Pacific Northwest. Knapp, who is professor of piano at PLU, is organ and choral director at the First Presbyterian Church in Tacoma. He is an adjudicator for the Washington Music Educators Association.

Newnham is an associate professor of music, and an accomplished soloist. He has performed with the British and Canadian broadcast companies, and the Seattle symphony orchestra. Last season he sang at Simon Fraser University and the University of Victoria.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mortvedt (left) chat with Auden Tovin, instructor in Norwegian and director of the language lab, and Dr. Kwong-Tin Tang, assistant professor of physics, during the President's reception last Sunday. Both teachers are new members of the PLU faculty this fall.

Allen P. Lovejoy, Business Manager, Plans Resignation

Allen P. Lovejoy, Pacific Lutheran University's business manager, has resigned his position effective Dec. 15, announced Dr. Robert Mortvedt.

An arthritic condition which is aggravated by the damp climate in the Northwest is forcing the move to a warmer climate, said Lovejoy. He and his wife Jean plan to return to northern California where he is considering several job possibilities.

Lovejoy

manager in 1963.

"I have the greatest admiration for Dr. Mortvedt and the goals that he and the University are striving for on this campus," he said.

Lovejoy added, "We have considered this move for some time, and now that our youngest daughter is away at school and the four older ones are married, this seems to be the opportune time."

Lovejoy was formerly a controller and treasurer of the Pacific School of Religion, and field treasurer for interdenominational mission boards in China. He is a graduate of Yale University and a former economics instructor at St. John's University in Shanghai.

Dr. Mortvedt expressed gratitude for Lovejoy's services to the University, and said that a search for a replacement has started.

"Flibbertygibbet"

Tickets On Sale

Tickets for Pacific Lutheran University's Children's Theatre production of "Flibbertygibbet" are available for open performances on Saturday, Oct. 28, and Saturday, Nov. 4.

Reservations may be made by calling PLU's information desk. Tickets may be purchased at the door for the 2:30 p.m. play in Eastvold Auditorium.

The first two performances are closed to area school districts.

A scene from "Flibbertygibbet."