Worth Noting

 [Table of Contents ]

Campus Voice has new phone number

Update your Rolodexes and computer address books: Campus Voice has a new phone number (but not a new address). Editor Katie Monsen can now be reached at 7430, the same number printed in the directory. The last summertime Campus Voice will be published on Aug. 25. Issues after that will return to a weekly schedule.

Young entrepreneurs benefit from renewed grants

The Program in Entrepreneurship and Enterprise Management in the School of Business received a $30,000 grant from the Herbert Jones Foundation and a $10,000 grant from Key Bank. The funding, continuation of gifts given last year, helps the program in several ways. The Jones grant will begin a speaker series for the Young Entrepreneurs Club, give scholarship support to winners of the Young Entrepreneur of the Year Awards, build a web page guide to Puget Sound resources and organizations involved with local entrepreneurship, and further expand PEEM. The Key Bank funds will support the Young Entrepreneur of the Year Awards, as well as the expansion of the South Sound Entrepreneurs network.

Coffee klatches, club catches at festival today

Enjoy coffee and clubs -- flying clubs, that is -- at the Starbucks Coffee Festival from 11:30 am to 1 pm today in Red Square. Sample the Northwest's most ubiquitous java while watching the Gentlemen Jugglers -- a pair of professional jugglers -- perform amazing feats. The whole event is free.

Voices that can't be missed: the Atlanta Boy Choir

Mark your calendar and make the time to hear the 1989 Grammy Award-winning Atlanta Boy Choir, making a tour stop at PLU on Aug. 9. Audiences and critics agree that this group of young performers has achieved a level of excellence and professionalism that is rarely duplicated. The 60-member group has toured internationally in North and Central America, Europe and Africa, and even had audience with the Pope. The concert is free, and begins at 7 pm in Lagerquist Concert Hall.

PLU professors train South African teachers

Education is about sharing knowledge, and that's just what Helmi Owens and Paula Leitz (both Education) will be doing at the

Celebrate Millner's long PLU service

Carrie Millner, food service manager, is retiring after 34 years of contribution to PLU Dining Services. Millner managed the Columbia Center until it closed a couple fifth biennial gathering of the International Association of Special Education in Capetown, South Africa, on Aug. 3-8. PLU is co-sponsoring and organizing the event, South Africa's largest-ever education conference, attracting 460 special educators. Owens and Leitz -- who also serve as conference co-chairs -- will deliver practical, interactive workshops for South African special education teachers who want to provide a better education for the country's children.

Veil is best student worker in state

Congratulations to Amy Veil, a senior nursing major and the winner of the 1996 Washington State Student Employee of the Year award. Veil has worked as an office assistant in PLU's Division of Social Sciences for four years, conducting research for the dean and creating a faculty directory, in addition to other office duties. She also served as acting division secretary and then trained the new secretary during a job turnover. PLU has won the state award for the past three years, the only years the school has entered the competition.

Andrew Toulouse won at both the state and regional levels last year, and Stephanie Rose won the state competition in 1995.

Be prepared, learn CPR/First Aid

A free CPR/First Aid class will be offered to all PLU employees from 8 am to 4:30 pm on Aug. 7 in Olson 105. The eight-hour course meets state requirements and includes a two-year certification card. Pediatric CPR is also available for an additional $5 fee. Class size is limited. Please call Nancy Scott, 7233, to register.

Theology institute features Killen and theological reflection

Patricia Killen (Religion), along with Allan Sager of Trinity Lutheran Seminary and Susan Nachtigal of Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary, was a keynote speaker for PLU's Summer Institute of Theology, sponsored by the Office of Church Relations. Killen spoke on "Forming Adult Faith for the 21st Century: The Practice of Theological Reflection," which was part of the overarching institute theme of the role of spirituality in church years ago, and since then has managed the staff at the University Center. A farewell reception for her will be held from 4:30 to 6:30 pm on July 31 in the Faculty House.

No grouches allowed at Comedy Night

Take time out for a hearty laugh at Comedy Night on July 30. Let Won Israel, a self-proclaimed physical comedian, draw you in with his impossible physical illusions and gunslinger and motorcycle daredevil character sketches. Giggle with Rod Long, who has opened for the likes of Ray Charles and Chuck Berry, as he turns words and images on their heads. The program starts at 8 pm in Chris Knutzen Hall. Admission is free.

Rock all night with Big Pink

Big Pink, a rock band of PLU alums formerly known as Seek, returns to campus to perform its original works on Aug. 7. Jive to the concert music -- inspired by folks like Peter Gabriel, the Beatles and Led Zeppelin -- at 10 pm in the Cave. Admission is free.

Kids galore share in the Peach Festival

Kids of all sizes are the highlight of the 11th annual Peach Festival on Aug. 13. In addition to the peaches and ice cream, there will be a presentation of "A Dr. Seuss Extravaganza" by Bonney Lake Elementary School, and a concert by the Tahoma Girls Choir. The fun is from 11:30 am to 1 pm in Red Square. Admission is free with PLU ID, $2.50 without.

On display: Scandinavian folk music collection

A treasury of recordings, music, instruments and other pieces from the Gordon Ekvall Tracie Music Library is on display now through Sept. 12 in the Scandinavian Cultural Center. Tracie, the founder of the Northwest Regional Folklife Festival, was a pioneer in promoting Scandinavian folk music and dance and creating a widespread audience for folk culture in the United States. Note: the SCC is open 1-4 pm on Sundays in July and August.

Jazz cruise around Puget Sound

KPLU hosts the Caffè' Cruise jazz series on leadership. Held on the PLU campus on July 13-17, the continuing education event was also served by institute chaplain and PLU alum Michael Foss '70, senior pastor at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Burnsville, Minn.

Dase takes call at Loyola Marymount; reception next week

MaryAnn Dase, executive director for information resources, has been named the assistant vice-president at Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles, beginning Aug. 1. A reception in her honor will be held from 2:30 to 4:30 pm on July 29 at the Faculty House. Since Dase came to PLU in 1996, she helped complete the foundation phase of the Information Technology Plan, which the university will now implement.

Tonn takes interim role of information resources director

Sheri Tonn, dean of natural sciences, will serve as the interim executive director of information resources, beginning in August. Tonn will direct the library and computer and telecommunications staff -- as well as continue in her role as dean -- until a permanent director is chosen. The selection process will begin in early August. Tonn, also a chemistry professor, has been a faculty member at PLU since 1979.

July 27 and Aug. 10. Each cruise offers Sunday brunch and live jazz from 10:30 am to 1 pm while navigating Puget Sound aboard the "Spirit of Seattle." Tickets are $32.50 per person. A portion of the ticket cost benefits KPLU. You can also catch KPLU at regional jazz and blues festivals (from Point Defiance's Zoobilee to Bumbershoot) throughout the summer. Call 7758 for information.

Janet Goehren (Development) had an extra reason to celebrate on the Fourth of July. She was sworn in as a US citizen by Gov. Gary Locke at a ceremony at Seattle Center that day, one of 615 new citizens. Goehren, originally from England, was administered her citizenship exam by immigration officer Horn Almeida '95, a PLU social work alum.

Margaret Cheyne was burned at the stake for the part she played in a failed rebellion in early 16th-century England. Elizabeth Barton was executed for her prophecies about King Henry VIII's divorce. Mabel Brigge suffered the death penalty for a "black fast" she somehow directed against the king. Sharon Jansen (English) gathered the stories of these women in her recently published book "Dangerous Talk and Strange Behavior: Women and Popular Resistance to the Reforms of Henry VIII." The book explores the roles women played during a period of religious, institutional and social turmoil, and how, even though they did not take part in armed rebellion, they represented a danger to King Henry's realm.

Duke Paulson '93 is the new director of the Upward Bound program. He replaces Gilbert Perez, who served as director since Sept. 1995. Paulson -- who studied education, biology and psychology at PLU -- has been a teacher for a one-and-a-half years, and also spends time as a soccer coach at Franklin Pierce High School and as part of area leadership in Young Life. Upward Bound serves 60 high-potential high school students from local low income families, nurturing their academic development through high school and into college, with the goal that they become first generation graduates.

Paul Menzel, provost and philosophy professor, spent 10 days in early July at the Rockefeller foundation's Bellagio, Italy, conference center as a member of a six-person international team of economists and ethicists writing a set of moral guidelines for the use of health care economics in allocating health services. Menzel also attended a working conference sponsored by Metropolitan Life Insurance on the implications for health, disability and life insurance of recent advances in individual genetic testing.

Douglas E. Oakman (Religion) wishes to thank the PLU community for the many cards and comforting words received on the occasion of his father's sudden death in May. "You have helped much when there was precious little time for grief. St. Paul, too, nurtures hope, 'For I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.'" (Romans 8:38)

Dawn Powell (Development) leaves her role as senior office assistant on Sept. 1 to pursue new opportunities. She came to PLU in 1996, and has used her organizational skills to substantially advance the major gift development effort of the Make a Lasting Difference campaign's public phase.

Vern Stietel is the 1996-97 sabbatical replacement for Dave Hansen (Biology). Stietel, who taught at St. Olaf last year, enjoys cross-country bicycling and rock climbing.

Ken Christopherson, religion professor emeritus, and his wife Polly, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary from 2 to 5 pm on Aug. 10 in Thompson Hall at Trinity Lutheran Church, across from PLU. All their PLU friends are especially welcome at the open reception!
