Engagement Is Told

The engagement of Anne Demer to Donald Bray was announced Tuesday by Margie Anderson at a Delta Rho Gamma meeting. Anne is a jun ior at PLC, and president of DRG.

Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of Pacific Lutheran College, is listed in Who's Who in Washington Sttae. This volume may be found in the college library.
the curtain goes up on the 20th An niversary Saga Carnival stage show tonight in the SUB. Two performances will be given, at 7:30 and 9:30, and a single performance will be given tomorrow night at 8:30.
The identity of Saga King and Quecn, chosen in Wednesday's election, will not be disclosed until the royal two ascend their respective thrones between performances of the stage show tonight.
Helen Jensen, director of the show, has announced that there will be eleven acts. Included will be Jim Nylander as traditional clown; Al Kluth at the organ; Roberta Schoessler and Margaret Kutz presenting a skit; Jon Ericson with a reading; Bill Saas vocal solo; Morry Hendrickson and Howard Shull in a song and dance routine; a boys' quartet consisting of Jim Williamson, Dick Svare, Jason Boe and Hal Jensen; Mahlon Read singing "Once in Love with Amy"; Lillian Leikauf and Corky Christenson in a duet, singing "Dearie"; Jess Thompson with his big voice and guitar; and the skit, "If Men Dressed As Women Do," with Jim Thompson, Vern Fink, Sig Skartland and Del Zier.
Everyone is urged to attend at least one performance.

Cast Rehearses

Coward Comedy
Daily rehearsals are being held in he SUB by the cast of Noel Coward's three-act comedy, Hay Fever. The play, which is to be given by Alpha Psi Omega, PLC's dramatic honorary, will be presented in the SUB on the evenings of March 24 and 25.
Howard Shull, assistant student director of the production, announces that the cast, directors, and stage and house managers are working hard in an effort to give the best dramatic performance of the year.
Central staging will be the unique feature of the play. For the first time on the PLC campus, the audience will entirely surround the stage and the actors. House Manager Walt Worley will be in charge of the construction of elevated seats for the audience. The stage will be at floor level in the middle of the SUB auditorium.
The cast, under the student direction of Stan Elberson, consists of Helen Jensen as Judith Bliss; Morry Hendrickson as her husband, David; Karl Bachner, as Simon, a son; Natalie Lund as Sorel, a daughter; LaVelle Tipton as Jackie Coryton; Elaine Simons as Myra Arundel; Hank Ha- advise

Friday, March 17, at 1 p.rn., the hoir starts for Seattle in the school's air conditioned "grey cat" buses. In Seattle they board the Empire Buildel which will take them to Minneapois. The first of the five stops between here and Minneapolis will be in Wil liston, N. D., on Saturday. From Minneapolis the choir travels in two chartered buses. They will make stops at colleges in Minneapolis and Northfield, Minnesota. Decorah and Wav erly, Iowa; and Rock Island, Illinois. Malmin is hoping the choir will make him proud when they stop in his home town of Thompson, Iowa, Dr. Eastvold's old stomping grounds, Eau Claire, Wisconsin, will also be one of the stopping places. The entire choir is looking forward to a day in Chicago on April Fool's day.
After singing in Pigeon Falls, Wisonsin, the buses will take the choir back to Minneapolis where they will board the Hiawatha. It will bring them into Seattle, Saturday, April 8, ust in time for Easter.
In addition to the 59 choir members and Director Malmin, four others are going. Mrs. Ramstad will accornpany the choir again this year as chaperone for the girls. Iris Knutson will stand by as the "lady in white" with the pills and cough drops. There will also be a seat for Gene Ahrendt and his violin. Milton Nesvig, manager of the choir, is the fourth person going along.
The choir has worked hard and pent many hours practicing for this tour, but the best preparation has been the concerts they have given in and around Tacoma.

Your Saga Is Valuable

Sadly enough for those of us who love PLC, college days are short and fleeting. Wasn't it just yesterday that we seniors enrolled as freshmen? Yes, college days will soon be gone for all of us, whether we be wondering frosh or sagacious fifth year students. Nothing will remain but memories.

Your school annual helps you preserve your memories of college life. Tonight and tomorrow evening PLC will present its annual Saga Carnival. The success of the school yearbook, the Saga, depends heavily upon the profits made each year at the Saga Carnival. All proceeds of this event go toward publishing this invaluable record of college days. Many students, such as Saga co-chairmen Ken Storaasli and Stan Elberson, Luther Steen, Larry Hauge, Denny Ketelle, Andrew Worley, and Helen Jensen, have been working industriously to make this year's Carnival a success.

Every PLC student can support the Saga by attending the Saga Carnival.

Letter io Editar Dear Sir:

I know, you know, all members of the Boarding Club know, who you "chow" line crashers are. The Interclub council last week made an effort to curb this situation for the benefit of all boarding club students. Thus far the plan has been very successful except in a few cases. I wonder if those students who still crash the chow line realize to what extent they are cheating themselves and their fellow students. Is their time more valuable than that of the students who must take their place at the end of the dinner line each day? What kind of a mess do you think we would have in the dining hall if everybody took their place at the head of the dinner line? I an making an appeal to those students who are still crashing the chow line to use a little better judgment in the future. We are going to keep after this problem until we have it solved to our own satisfaction. If these few people continue to abuse the rights of the other students, we are going to have a chow line crasher's list in the Mooring Mast each week, That sounds quite stiff, doesn't it? It is, but until someone comes to me with a more useful suggestion, that's what is going to happen. If those stuBe a Success . . .

PLC Group Hears Traveler from Asia

Paul Lindell, general director of the World Mission Prayer League, spoke at a special meeting of the Mission Society Monday evening. Mr. Lindell returned recently from Asia, where he spent a year visiting the established WMPL mission fields, and hopes to open new ones. He returned to the United States, convinced, he said, that there are unusual opportunities for mission work in Asia, to day.
"The ancient religions of the Asiatics are being violently shaken to pieces, because they cannot stand up under critical examination. In contrast, Biblical truths that have been attacked for the past four centuries, still remain unshaken. Collapse of the religions is leaving a vacuum that must be filled. Great numbers of people are eager to hear the gospel message because it offers them new hope. Communism is rapidly gaining a strong hold among many of them, however, and lands that have fallen to the Communists are pratically closed to the gospel.
"In our day we have come into a time of unusual harvest," Mr. Lindell concluded, "however, we must remember that a harvest does not last for ever. The season is usually brief."
The WMPL is an intersynodical Lutheran mission group that is seeking to reach those portions of the world that have never been touched by the gospel message.

PLC Choir to Give Home Concert Mar. 12

Pacific Lutheran College "Choir of the West" will give its annual Tacoma concert Surday evening, March 12, at 8 p.m. in the First Lutheran church at Sixth and I, and in Seattle on Sunday afternoon at Ballard First Lutheran.
This concert will be the first complete one that the choir has given in the Tacoma area this season. The program for Sunday will be the same as that which the choir will sing on its spring tour.
According to Gunnar J. Malmin, director of the choir, the group is leaving on its mid-century tour of the Midwest the following Friday, March 17. This trip will be quite an extensive one and is scheduled to include concerts in 21 cities in five Mid-western states. Sunday's concert is a "send-

Gene Lundgaard is the 1949-50 Inspirational award winner and Harry McLaughlin is the honorary captain. These two men were chosen by their team mates at an election held at the conclusion of the current hoop campaign.

For Gene it is a well-deserved honor. His consistant scoring, steady floor play and rebounding were truly inspirational throughout most of the season. A junior, Gene will return next year for his fourth season as a Lute regular.
For Harry the captaincy is nothing new. As a freshman he was awarded the inspirational award and the past three years he has been elected honorary captain.
Every season many mythical allstar teams are selected by the so-called experts but the fact still remains that no one can know a player's true ability as well as his team mates.
The selection of Gene and Harry for this year's awards is a fine tribute to two great ball players.

12 Hoopmen Given Letters

Head Basketball Coach Mar Harshman announced that 12 members of the varsity squad would receive etter awards this year. With the completion of this year's schedule of 27 games, our team has won 19 and lost 8 for a percentage of 703 .

Last week the team voted Gene Lundgaard, 6 -foot, 3 -inch forward from Anacortes, as this year's Inspirational award winner. Gene played good defensive ball all year and has been one of the big guns on offense as shown by his record of 309 points to place just under Harry McLaughlin for scoring honors. The team also voted McLaughlin as honorary captain for the third straight year. Harry now holds the Evergreen Conference record for most points scored in one game, 34 , and most field goals in one game, 13.

Coach Harshman will lose three lettermen from the squad by graduation, McLaughlin, Schafer, and Rapp. This will leave nine lettermen to return next year.

Following is a run-down of those who won letters and their cumulative

Cental Wins

 TournamentCentral Washington Wildcats pulle one of the major upsets of the curren hoop season by winning the N.A.I.B tournament last Monday and Tues day. Eastern and Gonzaga were botl hampered by illness on the squad.
The first night was one of upset as Central trounced the Gonzaga Bull dogs 44-30 and the College of Puge Sound edged Eastern 56-53.
Central put forth a strong defens that held Gonzaga to one field goa in the first half. This defense and th rebounding of Chuck Long were bi factors in Central's winning. Fres Peterson and Dean Nicholson led thi Wildcat scoring.
With Gene Burke in the hospita and Dick Eicher and Luft just recov ering from ankle injurics, the Savage from Eastern Washington couldn' quite come through. Rod Gibbs con tributed 16 points as the Loggers tool the game by three points.
Gonzaga returned to life the sec ond night and defeated the Savage 56-49. Rich Evans showed why he har earned the title of "Mr. Points" b; garnering 16 points. Walters, the Gon zaga center, hit 18 points and Curra 11. Dick Eicher led Eastern with 13

Central hit $38 \%$ of her shots in th final game to outscore the Logger 63-50. Rod Gibbs was high for th Loggers with 9 points. Three men or the Central squad topped this, how ever. Dean Nicholson had 18, Hallet and Long 16 each. Hersey, of the Loggers, hit a 55 -foot field goal a the first half ended and played a fin game in the last half.
The Loggers were out-shot and out jumped throughout most of the game Chuck Long controlled both boards During the final minutes of the con test the Wildcats played a brillian stalling game.

Bach Concert Sunday Inspires Music Fans

Last Sunday, music lovers at PLC enjoyed, in the SUB, an inspiring music festival commemorating the 200th anniversary of the death of Johann Sebastian Bach. Soloists were Al Kluth, playing "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" on the organ; Pearl Jacobson, playing "Allemande from A Minor French Suite" on the piano Dick Svare, singing "Du Bist Bei Mir"; Duane Fods, playing "Prelude and Fugue in G Major" on the piano Eugene Ahrendt, playing "Chaconne" on the organ; and Marilyn Hanich, playing "Prelude, Second English Suite" on the piano.

The Choir of the West sang four favorite classics: "Blessing, Glory, Wisdom and Thanks," "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light," "The Righteous," and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." These selections, and those of the soloists were all from the pen of Johann Bach. The entire program was well received by the large audience.

Terry McLean, local amateur boxer and wrestler, has returned to school.

Proper Dining Room

 Decorum Given Frosh
By Hal Grandon

"And," said the Old Timer to the New Frosh, "as long as I'm giving you the lowdown I might as well tell you about the dining room. There are certain niceties of conduct that are expected of you there, simple rules hal lowed by years of tradition."
"Yes," said the New Frosh eagerly, "please tell me!"
"You certainly don't think I would just casually give away secrets of such importance, do you? How am I to know that you are the right sort of chap? Ah! A quarter will do for now, you can give me the rest later. Down to business then.
"In the meal line a certain amount of jostling, toe-stomping, and shoving is not only desirable but downright necessary. It tones the muscles and keeps a chap on the alert. And, of course, when you see the menu board you absolutely must say, 'Not that again! We had that only last week! When they serve you the food, never take the plate the first time they give it to you. Have them change it about at least once, preferably twice.
"In the dining hall snatch the bread first thing. Then you won't have to take the last piece, and someone else will have to get the plate refilled. If the dessert is particularly desirable, tilt the vacant chairs and tell everyone that those seats are saved. When no one is looking it is quite simple to filch the other portions.
"The rules of the game are rather intricate, but I am sure with perseverance you will learn them. With some people it comes quite naturally."

Coed Writes To Friend Of Delta Phi Kappa Tolo Dat

ause they moved away. Althoul

I must tell you of the wonderful week-end I have recently experienced. Our Delta Phi Kappa tolo dinner was Saturday evening, and, Barb, I had such a heavenly time.
You remember my teiling you of Earl, don't you? He's that boy with whom I've been just dying to have a date. Well, I figured here's my great opportunity. So, I decided to ask Earl to the tolo.
Then came my great task. I'd had to ask hin, but what would I say to him. He's usually standing around with a bunch of the boys and I just simply couldn't ask him in front of them. I saw him every day, but the same predicament prevailed.

Has He Been Asked?
Finally, Wednesday came and I knew that it was the day. A horrid thought came over me-what if he's already been asked. Well, there was one way to find out and I decided it was then. After I had eaten lunch, May, Olive and I were walking down the hall when I saw Earl. He was talking to two boys, but my courage was high. I walked over to him and said, "Hi, Earl." I guess the other boys knew what was coming next, be

Port Townsend and

tral District B play-off at the Pacific Lutheran College gym last Saturday night by defeating Sequim 44-29. Both teams were assured places in the State B tournament when they advanced to the finals. Port Townsend won from Yelm, number one entry from the Pierce County circuit, and Foster, number three entry from the Lakeside loop; while Sequim was downing Forks High of the Olympic Peninsula League and Eatonville, number two eam from the Pierce County circuit. The Lakeside Lions continued to hold the jinx on the Eatonville Cruiscrs. For the second year in a row the Lions were able to edge the Cruisers in the battle for the third entry in the State meet. Last year the Lions defeated the Cruisers 43-40. This year, after losing their first game to Eatonville 39-31, the Lakeside club won two straight games, eliminating Forks and Yelm. Then in the play-off game for the third spot in the State meet entry the Lions came from behind and dropped the Gruisers 39-35.
Trophies were awarded the first three teams, and Eatonville was given the tournament basketball.

nees were swaying, my invitat him came spurting out. He shocked expression on his far thought, Oh no, Earl, you can no; I'd rather die a martyr's But golly, he said, "Why yes, Jes I'd love to go.'
Then came Saturday, the nid the tolo. I was chewing my nal day, excited I guess. I was worn out by the time evening from worrying what to say to h our date. Finaliy it was five and Earl called right on the nose got into the Winthrop Hotel by Everyone looked so nice! Even boys.

Couples Arrive

I noticed various couples make entrance: Jeannette Larson and Lucas, Marilyn Wallace and Eckle, Charlotte Mykland and Cleven, Joanne Soper and J Faaren, and Shirley Rovang and Fuhr.

We had a chicken dinner. everyone hesitated in eating. Tb question was, "Shall I pick it use my knife?" The former wa most common. I heard a very sound. Turning around, I saw Strandness licking his fingers chicken was quite greasy!
Guess who came forty minutes None other than Helen Hur Jerry Roth, Margaret Kutz and Antonson.
Evelyn Peterson and Rolf I looked as though they were enjr themselves, and Florence Bra ter and John McBride were bu over with laughter all evening. A fine program was presente sure everyone was pleased wit dinner.

Some Attend Theaters After the dinner carne various tertainment. Thelma Jorgenson Bob Crumbaugh, Harriet Stre and Duane Tollefson, Marilyn I and Merlin Zier, and Thelnas wick and Ralph Hatlen were the many couple who attended theaters. We went, too. We super show!
Maria Ogren and Roy Larsen, lene Waldron and Dick Svarc, Knutsen and Phil Falk, and Jacobson and Stan Elberson atte the "Little Theater."

Quite a few kids drove to S Remember Doris Johnson? Well. and her date, Gene Anderson, here. With them were Connie LeRoy Spitzer, Jo Meyer, and Reitz.

On the way home after the we stopped at 'Park 'N Shop.' was such a crowd that we decic get an ice cream cone and go Guess what? The boys paid for t cream. If I'd have known that would, I'd have ordered a large We pulled up in front of Old about ten-to-one. I had a super ning and, Barb, Earl is so wonde He said that we'd have to do again some time. (I hope he mean TOLO).
