ALOHA! PRESIDENT AND MRS. MORTVEDT LEAVE FOR HAWAII THIS SATURDAY

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mortvedt will board a Pan American World Airways jet at Sea-Tac Airport Saturday morning at 8 and at 1:30 p.m. will deplane in Honolulu.

A busy schedule of speaking engagements and appointments awaits them. Sunday morning he will preach twice at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Waikiki. Pastor there is the Rev. Norman Hammer, who was spiritual emphasis week speaker here a few years back. Rev. Hammer will be the Mortvedt's host and has arranged the schedule out there.

Monday Dr. Mortvedt will address the Lutheran pastors of the area, and in the afternoon will be at Roosevelt High School. Tuesday morning he will speak twice at Kamehameha Schools and in the afternoon will be at McKinley High School. He will speak twice Wednesday morning at chapel Punahou School and be at Iolaei High School in the afternoon. Thursday he will be at Kaimuki School and on Friday at schools on the island of Hawaii.

Sunday morning, February 2, he will preach at ~~the church~~ and in the evening will address a rally of Lutheran youth.

While in Hawaii the Mortvedts will be meeting with alumni and with parents of PLU students. They will return the morning of Tuesday, February 4.

UNIVERSITY IN PROFILE

This week's University in Profile program will feature Calvin Knapp of the PLU music department. Knapp, who has gained quite a distinction as a concert pianist, will present a program of his favorite numbers during the half hour presentation.

The weekly show, is seen each Saturday at 3 p.m. on Channel 11, KTNT-TV.

CHOIR OF THE WEST LEAVES TODAY ON 10-DAY ANN AL CONCERT TOUR

Professor Gunnar J. Malmin will bundle his 57 Choir of the West members aboard two Greyhound buses this Friday afternoon and head east of the Cascades for a series of 14 appearances. Concerts are slated in Eastern Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Utah cities.

Tonight the choir will be in Ellensburg. Saturday afternoon they will give a concert at the State Penitentiary in Walla Walla and appear in Pendleton in the evening. LaGrande and Baker, Oregon will be the Sunday stops.

The balance of the tour itinerary follows: Mon., Jan. 27, American Falls, Idaho; Tues., Jan. 28, Idaho Falls; Wed., Jan. 29, Ogden, Utah; Thurs., Jan. 30, Twin Falls, Idaho; Fri., Jan. 31, Boise; Sat., Feb. 1, Lewiston; Sun., Feb. 2, Coeur d'Alene and Pullman. The group will return home Feb. 3.

Traveling with the singers will be Mrs. E. C. Knorr, choir mother; and Milton Nesvig (public relations), manager.

MODERN JAZZ QUARTET SLATED TO APPEAR HERE JANUARY 30

The Modern Jazz Quartet--one of the country's leading contemporary jazz groups--will appear in concert Thursday, January 30 in the Eastvold Chapel auditorium. The 8 p.m. performance is part of the PLU Associated Students lecture and entertainment series.

The MJQ has established a unique critical standard for the concert hall through its reintroduction of the improvised performance and its welding of virtuoso solists into an extraordinary unified ensemble.

Tickets, priced at $2.00 can be purchased at the information desk in the PLU Administration Building.

THE ROUNDTABLE

DR. and MRS. PETER RISTUBEN (history) are the proud parents of a son, Erik Paul born Tuesday morning, January 21, in Puyallup's Good Samaritan Hospital. Mother and son are doing well. Congratulations!

DELORES DOVENO (secretary) underwent surgery on her spine last Friday in St. Joseph's Hospital. According to reports, she came through the operation real well. Our prayers are with her that she might have a speedy recovery.

A. DEAN BUCHANAN (business manager) represented the University at a meeting held last weekend in San Francisco for west coast schools. Sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education, the conference explained recent legislative acts dealing with aid to education. Dr. Francis Koppel, Education commissioner, was the main speaker.

The loyal Texan was attempting to impress the visiting Bostonian on the worth of the Alamo heroes. "I'll bet you never had anybody as brave around Boston," said the Texan.

"My good man," replied the Bostonian, "did you ever hear of Paul Revere?"

"Paul Revere?" said the Texan, "Isn't he the guy who ran for help?"

DR. LOUIS CHRISTENSEN, chairman of the music department, puts a lot of miles on his buggy weekly. He commutes daily from his home on Mercer Island, near Seattle. These musicians must like to travel. Calvin Knapp is also a commuter. He lives at Purdy, north of Gig Harbor.

ALIEN R. LOVEJOY, assistant business manager, and family have moved into a new home which they purchased recently in Southgate. The address is: 10222 Montrose S.W., and the telephone number is JUNiper 8-2950.

DR. JOHN KUETHE will speak at the Oregon State University Lutheran Student Retreat this weekend at Silver Falls State Park in Oregon. His subject will be the "Empirical Approach to Creeds."

Admission counselor SID SHELVER has been visiting high schools in Oregon this week while JIM VANBEEK has been on a recruiting jaunt to Canada. ROY OLSON, director of church relations, accompanied VanBeek on the latter trip.

THE COPY HOOK

Thirty-one seniors will receive their degrees at mid-year.

Apparently we have two MRS. NORMA LARSON's working for PLU. It seems that one of them mistakenly picked up the nameplate of the other Mrs. Larson who works in the Registrar's office. It would be appreciated if said nameplate would be returned. Information also will be furnished as to where that Mrs. Larson can order one of her own.

A raft of lovely ladies showed up on campus Tuesday and Wednesday. They looked familiar and then it dawned on us. They were the School of Nursing faculty. These girls, who work so hard in hospitals in the area with our students, were on campus for a two-day session with Dr. Mary Harms of San Francisco. Dr. Harms, who is assistant dean of the U. of California's School of Nursing at S.F., was here as a professional consultant with our School of Nursing faculty. Purpose of the meeting was to look at the curriculum with the overall objective of strengthening the program.

Final examinations end today and the students will return to classes for the second semester next Thursday. Registration will be held Monday through Wednesday. Teachers will be busy correcting exams and getting in grades.

J. E. Danielson, director of admissions, reports that 51 freshmen and transfer students will enroll for the new semester. Several others have applications in process.

Student conferences and alumni meetings held last week were highly successful. Over 300 prospective students and parents turned out at the Olympic Hotel in Seattle for a session with faculty and admissions personnel. At the Davenport Hotel in Spokane some 80 persons were on hand.

Dr. Mortvedt addressed a group of some 75 alumni who turned out for the Inland Empire Chapter banquet in Spokane, and another 50 who were present for the Tri-City Chapter dinner in Pasco.

LUTHER LEAGUERS TO VISIT CAMPUS,

ATTEND KNIGHT BASKETBALL GAMES

Approximately 500 Luther Leaguers from 24 churches in Washington and Oregon will attend the third of four Luther League Basketball Nights Saturday when the Knight hoopers entertain Central Washington in an important Evergreen Conference game.

Earlier in the day several of these groups will tour the campus.

Next Saturday some 200 Luther Leaguers from eight churches will attend the final Luther League outing when PLU faces Whitworth.

KNIGHT BASKETBALLERS FACE IMPORTANT

EVERGREEN CONFERENCE ENCOUNTERS

Coach Gene Lundgaard's basketballers face two very important Evergreen Conference outings this weekend, traveling across town Friday night to meet rival University of Puget Sound and then returning home Saturday evening to go against Central Washington.

In two meetings PLU and UPS have split, the Knights taking the latter engagement. PLU topped Central in the two teams lone meeting.

A sweep of the two games would put the Knights in the drivers seat in the Evergreen Conference race. It would also assure them of their 17th straight winning season as well as their 16th straight year without a losing mark in conference play.

Back the Knights. Turn out to boost them to their third straight Evergreen Conference crown and ninth in the last ten years.

CAMPBELL'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

IS GIVING THINGS AWAY

Plant Manager Bill Campbell was so pleased with the results of his sale of bunk beds (he's already peddled 40 sets) that he's going all out, and has things to GIVE AWAY. Campbell's Bargain Basement has a supply of cedar seedlings which are fully rooted and in containers. Stop by the establishment (maintenance shops on lower campus) and pick some up for your year.
