

A THREEFOLD RECIPE FOR THE FUTURE

Our familiar door, which marks the entrance to Old Main, is slowly closing and events of the school year are rapidly coming to a close. The seniors receive their "pigskins" and the three other classes automatically will stride to fill the vacancies. Thus another school year at Pacific Lutheran College came to an end—a year marked with success, with victory, with honor, and broadening of our spiritual and cultural concepts.

As you, the graduating class of 1951, now enter upon this confused old and start to make your bid for a position in that world, our advice to a threefold. Success is something all men strive for, but only few attain; therefore, as you now cross this threshold and gaze upon the vast beyond, remember these three ingredients to success:

First you must be willing to work, not only for self-benefit but also for good of your fellowmen. We all must work our minds and our bodies towards the goal of peace and understanding.

Secondly, we must learn to apply our knowledge to the problems which will face. "Knowledge is Power," but is so only if we understand and realize this knowledge is worthless without the proper application. We may forget the subject matter which we have learned, but we must not forget the application of understanding.

Lastly, but as important as food for growth and as the sun to plants, we look above the smoggy, dark, war-torn world. We must look beyond ourselves and the power we possess, and must raise our eyes towards Heaven and hold our Savior—a Savior who gave his life that we might live—a Savior who is all compassionate, loving, and kind, and in whom there is no failure.

One day in the cold, winter months, in a Northwestern town, a small boy and his father were going to walk to the corner store for a paper. The sidewalk was icy, and as the two left the house, the loving father told his small son that he must take his hand or he would slip and fall. The boy obeyed, but soon let go and down he went on the hard walk.

His father helped the boy up and comforted him and again they started out. Soon the boy became confident and felt-reliant and let go of his father's hand. Down he went for a second time and hit the icy cement much harder.

Picking himself up, the small boy, with tears in his eyes, looked up at his dad, smiled and put his little hand inside his father's. His worry of falling was gone and he was secure from danger.

Our Savior's hand is outstretched and willing to take our soiled, blackened hands, to help us along the icy road of life.

This year of progress at PLC has been marked with success. We pray that God will continue to bless this institution, its president, its faculty and its students.

My humble thanks to the staff of the Mooring Mast, especially to Frances Biery, David Nesvig, Joyce Genz, Judy Bargman, Joanne Schief, Ernest Johnson, Les McKay, Ken Johnson and Bob Meinzke; and we extend heart-felt thanks to our adviser, Mrs. Harriet Hansen, for her untiring efforts.

The future of Pacific Lutheran is in our hands and we must all work together in making "our lighthouse on the Pacific Coast" a beacon which will be a guiding light to all who come within its scope.

Best wishes in the future. When in trouble, why not repeat Psalm 23.—Don Breints

Printers Given Seniors About Caps, Gowns Commencement Should Be Treated As Additional Occasion

Commencement exercises are intended as sincere occasions, because they are ceremonies commemorating a period of scholastic attainment. Caps and hood add much to this fine beautiful ceremony. No flowers or sashes should be worn on the graduation gown.

It has always been a matter of curiosity why the college graduates and college faculty wear the various colored gowns, the cap or mortar board, and the many different colored sashes.

The academic dress was instituted only to cover up the individuality of the wearer.

To let a person identify himself with one of his academic groups, to indicate by turn the specific from which the wearer obtained his degree, be it B.A., M.A., Ph.D., etc.

The following facts which may be of interest: Historically, this honorarium dates back to St. Peter's School of Cambridge University, England circa 1284 A.D. In this school academic clothing was worn and here specifically were given their pristine appearance. The year 1284 and 1892 nineteen colleges were founded at Cambridge University and many variations in the style, and color of the gowns resulted.

A History of Oxford (by Wood) origin of academic dress is stated "The scholars are supposed in dress to have imitated the Benedictine Monks, who were the chief of literature."

Over the past 600 years of its history academic dress has developed varieties in the colleges in England classified under the "English American colleges and universities" simplified the academic dress to adhere to a code known as "inter-collegiate code" (rat. in

Dr. J. C. K. Preus, Rev. Theodore Palmer Will Give Graduation Talks

This week's graduating seniors and their traditional activities are in the limelight at PLC. Wednesday evening they were entertained at the President's formal reception in the Student Union building. Today is Senior day, with special chapel exercises, and class picnic.

Tomorrow (Saturday) evening, students of voice, piano and violin will present what is hoped will turn into an annual event, a Commencement Recital. Karl Weiss, instructor in piano, said that this program, beginning at 8:15 p.m. in the SUB, is especially for parents and other visitors who come to the campus for graduation exercises, so that they have a chance to hear a sample of the kind of music played and sung at PLC.

The program will begin with the playing of "The Cliph of Bvardad," by the college orchestra, under the direction of Harlow Christopherson. Numbers also will be presented by voice students of Gudrun Ness Rønning, Maibel Metz Dill and Frederick Newstrom; by piano students of E. Bvard Frits and Mr. Weiss, and violin students of Mr. Gestardes.

Students who will participate include Eleanor Hansen and Herbert Ness in a vocal duet, and Evangeline Rimbach, Jeannette Foss, Doris Harvey, June Emerson, Louise Stephenson, Kathryn Reule and Eugene Ahrendt.

Baccalaureate services for the class of '51 will be held in the Memorial gymnasium at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Rev. T. E. Palmer of Gethsemane Lutheran church in Seattle will deliver the message.

Following the commencement exercises Sunday afternoon, the PLC band under the direction of Mr. Christopherson, will play for fifteen minutes. Their numbers will be "El Chorro March," by Tarver, "Die Fledermaus Overture," by Strauss, and "The Thunderer," by Sousa.

At 3:30 the band will play the processional, which will be "The Coronation March," by Meyerbeer. Rev. (Continued on Page 3)

Pointers Given On Caps, Gowns
this and other Commencement exercises:
a) The black robes or gowns follow, of course, an old ecclesiastic design. Bachelor gowns are fluted across back and shoulders; sleeves are wide and open. Master gowns differ in the long sleeve with square ends and the arms protrude through a slit. Doctor gowns are often of finer materials and are faced with velvet panels and three bars of velvet on the bell-shaped sleeve.
b) The Hood's had their origin in the Tippet or shoulder covering worn by begging Friars in the Middle Ages. When caps were introduced, the hood became an ornament for shoulders and back; they were colored and lined. The colors in the hood indicate the country or institution from which the wearer holds a degree. The Doctor hood is the longest and is rounded at the base. It is the hood, more than any other article, that gives the hood its real meaning to the academic community.

c) Up to 1769 round caps were worn. In the United States we wear mostly the square "Mortar Board" and tassel.
d) Graduates of many foreign universities, now residing in the United States, may wear approved academic dress of the institution in which they are employed. However, professional degrees from a German university wear hoods lined with the color of the institution of black, white or red (U. S. ruling since 1895).
e) The colors of the velvet lining on the Doctor gowns indicate in which field the degree was earned; these are:
Arts and Letters White
Commerce Blue
Economics Green
Law Purple
Medicine Red
Music Yellow
Pedagogy Light Blue
Philosophy Black or Gold
Science Gold
Theology Green

Seniors to Enjoy Annual Picnic Today

A climax to the year's activities, seniors are enjoying their day today in cap and gown, they attended a special chapel program this morning. Vocal numbers were given by Fredman, Charles MacIntyre, Jim Williams, Doris Harvey and piano numbers; Helen Hedlin on the organ and Loyd Harvey on the organ. Bob Brass, senior class president, gave a short farewell address. The class adviser is Mr. A. W. ...

When this paper comes out the seniors are probably busily engaged in the picnic. The picnic will be held at Lake Tawau. Excellent facilities for swimming, tennis, volleyball and softball are available. The cost for the outing will be 30¢ per person, and food will be provided free for students who usually board the club. Fifty cents is the fee for non-boarding club members.

F. J. Melzer, vice-president of the board of trustees, will give the invocation.

Rev. J. C. K. Pitus, D.D., executive secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the ELC, will be commencement speaker. Following his address, three anthems, "Alleluia, We Sing With Joy," by Handel; "Wee Unto Them," by Thompson, and "Nunc Dimittis," by Lutkin, will be sung by the Choir of the West, under the direction of Gunnar J. Malmin.

Coffee Shop

The Coffee Shop will be open from 7:30 to 3:00, through the summer, under the management of Bob Knutson.

Degrees will be conferred on the candidates by President S. C. Eastvold. Greetings will be extended by several people.

The benediction will be pronounced by Rev. Harold Siqueland of the Seaman's Center in Seattle. The recessional played by the band will be "Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar.

Lutemen Split Bill With Viks

Closing out the 1951 baseball season, the Lutens split a twin bill with the Western Washington Vikings on their home diamond last Tuesday, to give them a season record of ten wins and four defeats.

The Gladiators got only two hits in the initial contest. A single by Bob Ross, which scored Art Swanson and Gerry Hefty, gave the Lutens a 2-1 victory. Frank Karwoski got the other hit.

Gerry Hefty went the full seven innings for PLC and earned his third victory of the year against one setback. Bob Hanson, starter for Western, was the losing pitcher.

The tables were turned on the Lutherans in the final game, when the Bellingham boys capitalized on nine hits and seven runs enfield by the

Hot House Boys Top Intramural League

The Hot House Boys have unofficially been crowned as the champions of the Intramural football league. Only one round of play was completed in the proposed two rounds of league games, because of competition with other activities.

Paced by their ace pitcher, Tom Zurfluh, the champs won four straight games in the first round.

Placing second were the Stallies, who won three and lost one, losing only to the finalists.

The Dappin Dams, Things and Jets tied for third place and the Midgets finished on the bottom of the heap.

Parklanders, to win, 8-2.

The host team's two runs came on a home run by Jack Johnson, the only extra base blow of the day, and a single, again by Bob Ross.

Jim Lund Breaks Evergreen Record

Big Jim Lund, ace Lute distance man, rewrote a page in the Evergreen Conference track record book last Saturday at Cheney, crasing the old two-mile mark to help the Harshmen finally fourth in the eight-team affair.

Lund defeated the former record holder, Bob Piercey of U.B.C., in the new record time of 9:55.1. The old time was 10:24.

Paul Garrison, the greatly improved PLC high jumper, cleared the bar at 6 feet, 1 1/2 inches to earn a three-way tie for first with Dan Inven of CPS and Richardson of Central.

Mahes also won a tie for second place in the broad jump, in which Pete Muir of St. Martin's set a new record of 22 feet, 2 inches.

Ole Magnuson also aided the Gladiator cause with a second in the discus.

Eastern Washington won the title for the fifth consecutive year, nosing out Whitworth, 52 2/3 to 44 4/5, with a last minute victory in the mile relay.

Glad Tidings

By Dave New

JUST REMINISCING

When the Gladiator baseball team walked off the field Tuesday afternoon they sang down the curtain a thrill-packed year of sports at PLC.

As the boys cleaned out their lockers, the football cleats, knee-pads, tennis balls and what have you, through the air made one remember.

After a slow start, the Lute stars came up with a winning conclusion. Although they tide CPS in the last contest of the season, 13-1, finished in third place, one rung above the Loggers.

Mary Harshman had in basketball probably the busiest year, most sports basketball squad PLC fans have seen. CPS fell to the Gladiator five times, the fifth time sending Lutes to Kansas City as the state representative.

Then came spring and the stars were busy in their sports. The track and field team, the basketball team, the tennis enthusiasts fielded a team and played several matches.

This issue ends my stint as a writer, but I assure you all it has been a pleasure, and I make it proud to write about athletic events such as we have had this year. Not only because of their fine performance, but also their team spirit. I would like to thank the track and field players for their cooperation, use and not least of all, the readers of this column (I read it) for their criticisms and compliments. In all I have always attempted to be fair and objective in the Glad Tidings.
