

SIGVALD QUALE CONTEST HELD

Miss Signe Hjermetad Wins 1st Prize of 15 Dollars and Silver Medal

The finals of Sigvald Quale Norse Oratorical Contest were held in Trinity Church on Friday evening, May 7th. This is the fourth of a series of these contests held annually at Pacific Lutheran College in connection with the Norse department.

Those participating in the final contest were: Ruth Bull, Ruth Fadness, Hilman Magett, John Siven, Signe Hjermetad, Nina Okness, Peder Sognefest, Judith Fosgesa, Helen Martinsson and Bert Krangness. All participants evinced a familiarity with the Norse language and their presentation showed that much time and study had been spent thereupon. The judges, Professor N. J. Hong of Lincoln High School, Rev. L. J. Floren of Tacoma, and Rev. T. O. Svare awarded first prize, the Sigvald Quale Memorial Silver Medal to Signe Hjermetad, on her presentation of "Prestens Tale ved Gravsten," by Ibsen. This is long selection calling for much eloquence and dramatic ability. In addition to the Medal, a prize of fifteen dollars was awarded the winner.

Ruth Fadness took second place by giving "Den Vihvereste Salve," by William Krag. This is a humorous selection in dialect. A cash prize of fifteen dollars was awarded as second prize. Third place and a ten dollar award was won by John Stuen for his presentation of "Brodrene" by Jacob Bull. Peder Sognefest placed fourth in line, rendering "Bonden i Romerbad," and winning a five dollar prize.

Nina Okness was given fifth place and a five dollar prize for her interpretation of "Min Bregne," by Caspar. The cash prizes, amounting to fifty dollars were donated by the Sons of Norway, Pacific District, and were presented to the winner by Mr. S. Strom, president of the chapter.

Much credit for the showing made by the participants is due to Professors Holm, Stuen and Ramstad, teachers of Norse, under whose direction the contest took place.

Included in the evening's program were short talks by Pts. Ordal, Prof. Hong, Mr. Strom, Rev. Floren, Rev. Svare and Professor Ramstad, a vocal solo by Agnes Wierson, and a piano duet by Prof. J. O. Edwards and Signe Hjermetad.

Professor Ph. E. Hauge addressed a Forum audience in Tacoma, Monday evening, May 10, on the topic "Psychology of Public Speaking." Lillian Lee appeared on the same program in a number of humorous character sketches.

FOUR ONE-ACT PLAYS GIVEN

Oral Expression Class, Invited Public to Attend Plays Held in Class

The Oral Expression class conducted their class in the gym Monday evening, May 3, at which time they presented four one-act plays, which they have been studying. Mr. Hauge had invited the public to come and see this presentation of the work which marked the culmination of the study.

The first play was entitled "The Record." Arthur Bogen and Christina Knutzen deserve special mention for their splendid interpretation of their roles. Others taking part in the play were Betty Stevenson, Johanna Rasmussen, Nina Okness, Leola Hagen and Anna Thompson.

The second play was entitled, "The Census Taker." In this play Luetta Svith took the part of the Lady of the house. Zeida Gellenback took the part of the census taker, who had a very hard time extracting the number of people in the house.

In the third play, "Wisdom and Wealth," Betsy Jane Porter took the part of a young man who had to get married or lose his inheritance. Muriel Vectors was the young lady he wished to marry.

The evening's entertainment was concluded with the presentation of the "Flower of Yeddo." The scene was laid in Japan at the post Ka-ma's home. He was in love with Sainara, who loved him but demanded a tested love. The plot involves the proving of his affection. Dorothy Fowler and Mary Holmes, the leading characters left a very vivid impression on the audience. They were capably supported by Eda Hauke and Esther Sydow.

Baccalaureate services for the graduates will be held at Trinity Church on Sunday, May 23 at 4:00 P. M. The speaker has not as yet been announced, but the musical program is complete as follows: Vocal Solo, "Hear Ye Not Oh Israel," Mrs. Ph. E. Hauge; Trio, "Hear Our Prayer" by Abbot, Miss Rynning, Mrs. Hauge and Rev. Svare. Anthem, "In Thee Oh Lord" by Kalinikoff, Trinity Choir.

CARLO SPERATI VISITS SCHOOL

Prof. Carlo A. Sperati, now touring the West, was a visitor at P. L. C. May 3rd. Prof. Sperati was a former teacher here and his visit was of special interest to former associates, including President O. J. Ordal.

Faculty and students were favored by an address at Chapel hour. Rev. Ordal introduced the speaker as teacher, and dean of music at Luther College and director of the famous Luther College Band.

In his remarks Prof. Sperati said in part: "It is good to serve the Lord. There is no pleasure like serving God. What is greater than bringing the Bread of Life to hungry souls."

Much stress was put on the thought that each and every one of us have a mission in life, and that one need not be a preacher to fulfill that mission.

Mr. Ramstad speaking of faith in religion class asked: "By the way Margaret, what saved Noah?" Margaret dreamily answered, "The Ark."

PLANS COMPLETE FOR GRADUATION

Commencement, Baccalaureate and Class Day Exercises Planned

CLASS GIFT IS ENTRANCE Archway of White Sandstone to Be Erected

The graduating classes of 1926 have announced their intention of leaving, as a gift to Pacific Lutheran College a stone entrance to the campus ground. The entrance will be of white sandstone, allowing for one large gate and two small ones, flanked by massive pillars, an arch, and electric fixtures. The gift includes an imbed flower plot and suitable shrubbery.

Work in constructing the archway is already under way, so it will be completed by the evening of Class Day, Thursday, May 27, at 7:00 o'clock. When the gift will be formally presented to the College by Ruth Fadness, Pres. O. J. Ordal will accept the gift on behalf of P. L. C. and will perform the dedication ceremonies. The gift will then be unveiled by Mr. H. E. Anderson, member of the Board of Trustees.

Following the outdoor ceremonies will be the regular Class Day exercises in the Gym, beginning at 8:00 o'clock, the program as follows: Orchestra music, Mr. J. O. Edwards, Director. Address of Welcome by Signe Hjermetad. Song, "Long Ago" by Girls Trio, Martha Hjermetad, Nina Elde and Signe Hjermetad. Reading of class will, Alfred Anderson and Anelle Dahl. Cornet solo, Claude Pellet. Song, Gloria quartet, Nina Elde, Martha Hjermetad, Ruth Fadness, Ruth Bull, Class prophesy, presented by Martha Hjermetad and Carl Coltum. Mixed quartet, Myron Kriedler, Nina Elde, Ruth Fadness and Bert Krangness.

Following the program will be the announcement, by President Ordal, of names to be inscribed upon the loving cups for the year 1926.

A piano solo by Signe Hjermetad and singing of the class song will conclude the exercises.

Commencement exercises will conclude the graduating events on Friday evening, May 28. The commencement address will be given by Rev. Martin Norstad of Red Wing, Minnesota. Music has been arranged as follows: Vocal Solo "I do not Ask O Lord" Mrs. Ph. E. Hauge, Anthem "Just As I Am" by mixed quartet, Mrs. Hauge, Mr. Edwards, Mrs. Edwards and Rev. Svare; Piano Solo Mrs. J. O. Edwards, Anthem by Ladies Quartet, Mrs. Xavier, Mrs. Hauge, Mrs. Ramstad and Mrs. Edwards. Presentation of diplomas will conclude the program.

The Link Society of P. L. C. took charge of the evening services at the Manitou Community Church, Sunday evening, April 25. The program was as follows: Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. A. W. Ramstad; An octette composed of Alma Runnig, Agnes Wierson, Anna Thompson, Ruth Bull, Nina Elde, Rev. Ramstad, Bert Krangness and Harry Saneurid, rendered one selection.

Peder Sognefest gave a mission talk after which Leola Hagen played a piano solo. Johanna Rasmussen spoke on, "The Best Way To Use Our Sunday." The octette sang "Holy, Holy, Holy" at which made a few closing remarks.

'CHILD LABOR' AGAIN DEBATED

Friday, April 30, the college debating teams met the Seattle Pacific College in a dual debate. The P. L. C. affirmative team composed of Martha Hjermetad, Mildred Hanson, and Arnt Oyen met the S. P. C. negative team upheld by James Wiles, Margaret Orr, and Paul Wright in the P. L. C. Chapel.

The P. L. C. negative team consisting of Arthur Knutzen, Henry Kiel, and Alice Davis went to Seattle where they clashed with their opponents, Ruth Elkins, Alice Cary, and Wilbur McCormick in the college auditorium.

The question for the debate was: "Resolved, that the proposed twentieth amendment to the constitution of the United States should be ratified." Eight minutes were allowed for the constructive speeches and four minutes for each speaker in the rebuttal.

The debates were marked with interest, persuasive ability, and excellent arguments indicating that an exhaustive study on this popular question had been made by all the participating debaters.

The S. P. C. debaters showed a congenial spirit accompanied with earnestness and sincerity in presenting their arguments. The decision was rendered two to one in each debate in favor of the S. P. C. teams. The judges at Parkland were: Mr. Gerrett Fisher, Mr. M. Mingo, and Mr. E. G. Fowler.

This is the first time in the history of Pacific Lutheran College that they have met Seattle Pacific College on the speaking platform in an intercollegiate debate, and we are looking forward to future fraternal relations with the S. P. C. as we consider this opening encounter the first step toward that future relationship.

In Seattle the negative team and the coach Prof. Ph. E. Hauge, and Mrs. Hauge were pleasantly entertained at Mrs. Tigan's home where they enjoyed a light supper.

The P. L. C. nine descended upon the Eatonville aggregation Wednesday, May 12, and defeated them by 3-8. Art Werson, pinch hitter in the ninth inning brought in the winning run. The game was raged throughout. Coltum pitched a very good game.

CHAPEL TALKS

"We are Gods Salesman" was the keynote of Prof. Xaviers short but inspiring address at Chapel May 14. Luke 2:49 was the scripture read. "We," said Prof. Xavier, "are Gods salesmen, his co-laborers, partners. An earthly salesman is very desirous of securing customers. He has a "line" and spares no effort to praise and sell his wares.

"But we are not earthly. We are not serving a human master, not even a millionaire. We are Gods salesmen, and our "line" is Christ and Him crucified.

"What kind of representation are we making of goods our father has sent into the world to represent. The way we act, the way we talk, decides what our representation is. Are we losing orders, or souls for God by our behavior. This is a good thing to think of. We are always talking and acting our Fathers line of business. We are co-laborers with the eternal Father. Christ has made us partners in his work. Let us get down to business."

Prof. Ramstad chose Hebrew 12 for consideration at Chap 1 April 30. "We may" be said, "like the Christians life to a race. There are a great many witnesses watching the race we are running.

"In order that we may run successfully we should lay aside every sin and run the race, looking to Jesus, the Author and Finisher of our faith. Jesus is ready to help us and if we stumble and bruise ourselves we deserve it.

"Our race is not always pleasant, but through suffering the finest things in our life are brought out. Many of the sweetest, kindest persons are so because of suffering.

"Let us strive to run the race diligently. We want an eternity with the Author and Finisher of our faith. All is worthwhile just for that.

BASEBALL GAME WITH ROY HIGH CLOSE AND FAST

With two outs called on them, two strikes and three balls, in the ninth inning and the score 5 to 5 in favor of the opponents, the Pacific Lutheran College nine wielded their willows in a dramatic ninth inning rally and defeated the Roy High School aggregation by a score of 8 to 6. The game was played at Roy, Saturday, May 8.

The game was an all-right affair, both teams working good. The Lutheran nine showed up about the best this year, with Carl Coltum pitching a good steady game with 13 strikeouts.

The lineup was changed somewhat, two second team men going in and doing very well. The regular string men in those positions are working the harder now for they have rivals in the field.

EXCHANGES

The Daughters of the Reformation of Fergus Falls, Minnesota gave a very interesting program recently. A former teacher, Miss Otelle Hugelst gave an instructive talk on the work of the inner mission and the result of the work in the slums.

Lincoln High school boys can consider themselves fortunate in having an electrical shop where they can learn the electrical trade from the bottom up. Under the supervision of Mr. Mann they are taught to make many things such as electric heaters, toasters, soldering irons, radio sets, motors, etc.

Canton Lutheran Normal will have a five year course hereafter. They will offer a four year academy course, a fifth year course leading to first grade certificates and a commercial course. The entire corps of college instructors has been retained for next year.

The Academy Seniors of Sioux Falls, South Dakota have selected the play, "The Three Graces" to be given soon. The play is a lively and pppy comedy of amusing situations and lively dialogue.

Students of Lincoln High School organized a Student Loan Fund in May, 1924 for the purpose of helping students to finish school by borrowing money from this fund if necessary. There are but few requirements made and the students get ninety days after the last day of the school year in which to pay their loan back. This gives them the whole summer in which to earn the money and proves of great benefit to those who need it.

The St. Olaf Choir recently returned from a very successful trip. They were delightfully entertained and much favorable comment and press notices were given, especially in Chicago where they sang at the Philharmonic Club of the Univ. rality of Chicago.

REV. E. C. BLOOMQUIST SPEAKS

Rev. E. C. Bloomquist of The First Lutheran Church in Tacoma delivered an inspiring address at the joint meeting of the P. L. C. Mission Society and the Parkland Lutheran League, Sunday, May 9.

Rev. Bloomquist, speaking on the topic "Youth is the spring time of our life," said that a ticket is issued to us on baptismal day which bears the inscription, "Not good if detached." If we throw away the grace on us thereby bestowed, purchased by the blood of Christ, then we forfeit the value of the ticket. The ticket also become valueless if we are detached from the church. On confirmation day the ticket was strengthened by being released by the church. Christ has put into the church His means of grace, the sacraments and his holy word.

Other qualifications stamped on the ticket are: (1) Destination, which is the New Jerusalem; (2) Our own signature; that includes all promises made; (3) The road we are going to take; are we going the wide or narrow path?

"There are stop-over places—our occupations—allowed on our ticket," Rev. Bloomquist said, "but we must not stop too long. We are required to go on. However, we should make the most of our stop-overs." In closing Rev. Bloomquist rendered Tennyson's beautiful poem, "Crossing the Bar."

Other numbers on the program were: scripture reading by Anna Thompson, a piano solo by Prof. J. O. Edwards, a vocal solo by Harry Swennerud accompanied by Agnes Wierson, and a reading by Dorothy Fowler.

Hurray! Just one more issue to toll for—only one more column to fill with omniscient wistlets. Then, a lot—a beautiful, languid, leisurely repose from labor. No more writer's cramp—no more exhausted ingenuity—a reprieve from nervous exhaustion. Ah! Nature was indeed kind when she ordained summer.

At last, we have unearther one woman's ideal. We wonder if all our co-ed's agree.

I want a man who is loyal and strong.
But, he must be just a little bit wrong.

I want a man who has much common sense.
But he can't know it all—for that's an offense.

I want a man who will love me for fair.
At times he may be as cross as a bear.

I want a man—not too rough and ready—
Not too spite and span—What I want is an ordinary man.

And this from the speed loving rafter. What's the world coming to?

We are glad to see Art back again. And, so is Olive. Wouldn't it be awful if he had his heart removed instead of his appendix?

At last, the Seniors sneak. The Juniors have been watching them quite closely but—some how or other they are not quite so arduous in their quest of information as they have been—Perhaps Mildred can explain why—or Professor Holm

SENIORS ENJOY ANNUAL SNEAK

Early Tuesday morning, not long after the hour of four some eagle-eyed, watchful underclassman spied the be-duckered figure of a Senior stealing cautiously down the dormitory halls—and the tale was told in a piercing shriek. The Seniors were off on the annual Sneak! Up came the chagrined Frosh, Sophs, and Juniors, who watched from the windows the triumphant, unhindered, departure of the grads, together with their class advisers, Prof. Hauge and Miss Ryder.

The class had chartered the use of a launch "The Chicawa" which took them cruising about upon the waters of Puget Sound. Breakfast was eaten on the deck—coffee, bacon and eggs in proportions suited to appetites aroused by a fresh, whipping sea breeze.

The party landed at Fox Island late in the morning, where some biked, others dug clams and still others enjoyed diving and swimming in the cool waters. Dinner was served here—chicken dinner minds—and then the anchor was pulled up and the party set leisurely sail once more. A photograph and a trailing rowboat added to the enjoyment of the day, as did songs and story-telling.

At evening the party landed again on a small island where a bonfire was built and a supper of the "white-roast, marshmallow-toast" type was enjoyed.

The trip home was made through moonlit waters. The clams, so zealously dug and cleaned by some were fried and their flavor thoroughly enjoyed.

The cruisers were met and welcomed back to P. L. C. with open arms, by the underclassmen at eleven o'clock or thereabout. So ended a perfect day.

Sulking darkness, hissing owls, uncanny noises, bravely the girl continued her walk down the hall but—suddenly! Like a flash some thing descended over her head and tied like a flying slave she was hauled before the tribunal.

"Who foid?" they asked, applying hit plincers to her thumbs. Silence. Omniscient silence. "You'll tell or die," they assured, standing her on her head to make the words spill-out. And yet she remained silent. Mid fainter after five minutes of softly crying, "Mystery! Hold 'em," was toppled off into dreamland.

A few days later the Seniors fled from the scene of their crime.

SO! LAFF! LAFF!

If one is of the "easy-sleeping type" one would hear a quiet-rattling down the hall of the P. L. C. dormitory early Tuesday morning at five o'clock A. M. and if one should take the trouble to wrestle the sleep from one's eyes and "crawl out from the fetters" to see what the busy, whispering, early-birds were doing in the hall at that hour one would be greatly surprised at the behavior of the P. L. C. students. If one should ask them what the idea was, they would hold their index fingers for their mouths indicating that strict silence was desirable, and they would go on with their work stretching ropes across the hall, fastening the ends at the opposite door-knobs so that the occupants of the respective rooms would be unable to get out. When they had finished this task they went down the hall to the stair-case to sit down there to watch and wait to see what would happen. As they sat there with their chuckle inhibited they were thinking of how much fun they would have when the "seniors" should try to get out of their rooms. Very soon it was six o'clock and no sign of the anticipating satisfaction of their well formed plan. Then was heard some more whispering and chuckle. Around seven o'clock they started to look surprisingly at each other with their sleepy eyes as they would accuse one another for fooling them out of the bed—the heaven on earth for the weary head—so early and loose at least two hours of precious sleep.

CIRCUIT CONVENTION HELD

An inspiring, well-attended convention of the Women's Missionary Federation of the South Puget Sound Circuit, was held May 1st in Rev. Stavits Church in Tacoma.

The business meeting was held during the morning at which time reports were given by the presidents, Mrs. H. A. Stub of Seattle, the secretary of the federation, and a delegate from each of the various local organizations. These all showed clearly what real work the women of the church are doing in spreading the Gospel in the Kingdom here on earth. Johanna Rasmussen gave the report from the P. L. C. Daughters of the Reformation. Nina Oksness was the other delegate.

The afternoon program was as follows: Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. Lunde of Poulsbo. Address by Missionary Torvik of Madras. He spoke of the willingness of true disciples to sacrifice even their lives for the Master. Incidents from his missionary work were cited as examples.

Address: "Our Church School and P. L. C." Prof. Ph. E. Hauge. Reports of the various financial secretaries were then given. A vocal solo was given by June Larson. Talk on "Loyalty" by Mrs. A. W. Ramstad of P. L. C. A paper, "Training of Women as Leaders," by Mrs. Carl Coverly of Seattle. This was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Stavig of Tacoma. The last number on the program was a paper by Rev. Lunde of Poulsbo. Address by Missionary Torvik of Madras. He spoke of the willingness of true disciples to sacrifice even their lives for the Master. Incidents from his missionary work were cited as examples.

TENNIS OUTLOOK GOOD

Prospects for a successful tennis season are very good this year with many enthusiasts of both the girls and the boys. The tournaments are almost played off with much good material showing up.

A four man team will meet College of Puget Sound Frosh team Thursday, May 13, on the college courts. The four men picked to play are: singles Myron Kriedler and Sidnev Glasco, and Carl Colm and Wilbur Nyman will play the doubles match. This is the first match of the year and is looked forward to with much interest.

A girl's tennis team will be organized and which will be a very formidable one. Matches for this team are pending now.

GRADUATES ENTERTAINED BY UNDERGRADS, AS PER CUSTOM

The graduating classes of Pacific Lutheran College were entertained by the Freshman College and Junior High School classes on a launch party Thursday, May 6. At 2:50 P. M. the special street car rented to take us to Point Defiance, left Parkland after having been boarded by a motley crowd of college and high school "gents" and "coeds." Did we have fun on the car? We certainly did. And certain individuals discovered that ice can be used for other purposes than freezing ice cream. Ask Mid!

In due time we reached Point Defiance and boarded the launch which took us to Sunrise Beach. The company soon scattered over the smooth sand beach. Those who did not have to perform the laborious work of preparing food enjoyed themselves in various ways. Three industrious individuals started a beach fire, others demonstrated how much similarity there is between men and crabs when they travel on the beach. Still others went roving and the most hardy took a dip in the refreshing water. Oh, no. it was not cold, I should say not!

But all sports were cut short by a call to line up for refreshments. Who wants to eat on a picnic? Well, no one was missing, even the college freshmen came on time.

Almost everyone was willing to quit after the fourth helping of real picnic fare. Peculiar is it not, that there is always room left for ice

MISSION SOCIETY HOLDS LAST MEET

"My soul thirsteth for God" was the topic discussed by Peder Sognefest at Mission Society, Wednesday evening, May 5.

Mr. Sognefest in discussing the topic said that scientists after careful investigation found that "no savage is so low, but that he has an idea of God." Indians that are lost or sailors in a storm are examples of men in danger turning to God, that were brought out in his speech. In closing he stated that men are created in the image of God and that "life is ever changing, but our God alone is never changing."

The scripture lesson was read by Margaret Jacobsen and in closing a vocal duet was rendered by Dorothy Lehmann and Muriel Veters accompanied by Mildred Hanson on the piano and violin obbligato by Christina Knutzen.

Remember the Senior Play, "Daddy Long Legs", to be given in the college gymnasium May 14, at 8:00 P. M.
