College Adds Seven New Members to 1950 Staff

Four full time teachers and three staff members have been added by the college board of trustees for the fall semester. Two additions have been made in the department of music. They are Harley Christopherson and Frederick Newnham.

Band Has New Director, Stands, Uniforms, Horns

The PLC band has new steel stands, snare drums, new baritone horns and new uniforms in the school colors. The uniforms have been ordered and will arrive in time for the coming game.

The most important new addition is the new director, Harley Christopherson, former band director at Aberdeen, South Dakota.

Already the band is practicing those old PLC songs, in preparation for the PLC football games, beginning with the game tomorrow night.

Band members are willing to practice hard, but they need additional support from the student body. Christopherson urges every student with instrumental experience to join immediately, so that this year's band might make the best showing.

Tacoma Union Men Take Special Course

Tacoma labor union representatives are attending college this fall. In connection with the Tacoma Central Council, the college is giving a course in recent labor legislation. Dr. Eastvold, Parkland attorney, is teaching the course, which meets on Tuesday evenings at 7 o'clock.

Christopherson comes from Aberdeen, South Dakota, where he was band and orchestra director in the high school. He has taught in public schools in Iowa and S.D. the past ten years. A graduate of Augustana college in Sioux Falls, S.D., he has master's degrees in music from the Universities of Michigan and South Dakota. While studying at Michigan he was assistant director of the concert band, and led the pep band.

Christopherson will direct the college band and orchestra, and will teach courses in public school music.

SANG IN OPERA

Newnham comes from Winnipeg, Manitoba where he has had a voice studio and has been associated with the University of Manitoba. He has taught at Acadia University in Nova Scotia and at Western Ontario University. He has sung over CBC, BBC, NBC; and has appeared on the concert stage in the United States, Canada and Great Britain. He has done a lot of operatic singing, and spent a year singing for an opera company in London.

A graduate of the Royal Academy of Music in London, Newnham is a native of Scotland. His home is in St. Andrews, the birthplace of golf. He will teach voice.

TO TEACH RADIO

In the department of speech, Vernon Utzinger is taking the place of Mrs. Pauline Schaffer. He will teach speech and radio courses, and will assist in the coaching of the forensics squad.

Utzinger is a graduate of North Central college in Illinois, and has his master's degree from Northwestern University. He comes now from the University of Southern California where he has been working on his doctor's degree. He has also been teaching at Whittier college in Los Angeles.

For 12 years, Utzinger was in charge of the speech work at Carroll college in Wisconsin. While there he

57th School Year Opens Sunday With Convocation

Speaking at the opening convocation for the school year last Sunday evening, President S. C. Eastvold told the faculty and students, "You will determine what this college will be in 1950."

"Can We Have a Christian College in 1950?" was the title of his address. "Yes," was his answer, "but we must be constantly at the feet of the greatest teacher of all, Jesus Christ."

Dr. Eastvold told of the hatred and greed and the mistrust which is reflected in them. "What can we have in this world beside sin and death, devastation and ruin?" he asked.

"To have colleges today," he said, "costs millions of dollars in building and equipment. We are spending billions to educate for peace, and billions to promote war."

FACULTY NEEDED

"To have a college such as ours today, we need a faculty. Teachers are easy to get if we want just teachers. Thousands are available who have the intellectual skills and abilities. But real Christian teachers are hard to find."

Dr. Eastvold assured the students and their families that PLC has the teachers necessary to have a Christian college in 1950.

"Can we get a student body which will want a Christian college?" he asked. He told of the great ignorance

A group of untried, untested, but spiritous PLC gridsters will square off against the always dangerous Logger eleven from CPS tomorrow night in the Lincoln Bowl at 8:00 p.m. Strictly a King's X contest, the Lutes will be swinging their axes with full force against those of the Maroon and White in an effort to avenge their two defeats at the hands of the Loggers last season.

Secret Potion To Be Shown At Pep Rally

Despite repeated attempts from the neighboring northend college to foul up the plans of the yell team, in collaboration with Coaches Tommervik and Harshman and Professor A. W. Ramstad, hope to display a secret weapon at tonight's pep rally.

The rally will be held at the SUB at 7:30 p.m. Included in the program will be musical and acting talent by some of the students and an audience participation quiz. New yells will be introduced at a yell session and the assembled students will sing the school's fight song and Alma Mater. Freshmen are requested to wear their beanies.

Students have been witnesses to the attempt of spies from the northend college to obtain the secret weapon which will be displayed tonight. One spy made off with the first weapon, which was constructed from machine parts flown in to the school from San Fernando, California; Longview, Ocean City and Douglas, Washington. However, the weapon is useless without a key ingredient that is inserted at the time of use.

Somewhere the spies got wind that there were important plans evolving the chemical structure of the weapon. Last Tuesday in chapel, a few students were taking a casual stroll across the gym floor in front of the student body with the plans.

Again the spies became aggressive and after a struggle took half of the plans back to the north. Their action against the students dealt a great blow to the designers.

Professor Ramstad has been asked repeatedly for the key to the formula but all he does, because of the recent theft, is mutter something about krypton, a cat from the anatomy lab, and a couple of freshman beanies mixed in well with the solution.

All students are urged to attend the rally tonight and see the secret weapon for themselves.

School Skate Set Tonight

All students are invited to attend the first All-School Skate from 10:30 to 12:30 p.m. tonight at the Olympia Sport Center.

The skate is sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association.

Transportation will be provided from the front of the campus following the pep rally.

The cost is but 50c, with an additional 25c charged for shoe skates.

Playing a big part in Tommervik's plan for the coming season will be an abundance of freshman athletes, including six who played in the recent Tri-City vs. State extravaganza. The backfield and line alike will be freshened by newcomers. Frank Karwowski, Lincoln of Tacoma, small, tricky ball handler; Del Wickline, excellent passer and runner, who prepped at West Seattle High School, and Al Cartwright, diminutive quarterback from Saajiam, are three outstanding freshman candidates for the signal calling job in the Lute backfield. A flood of halfbacks including Tommy Campbell, outstanding back in the Tri-City against State game, Bob Miller and Russ Billings, teammates of Campbell's at Lincoln, defensive specialists, Bob Olson, Kennewick, Ken Wright Zillah, and Jim Stewart, Salem, Oregon, are three other aspirants for a halfback slot. The forward wall was equally blessed with talent. Two of the outstanding guard prospects are Gerry Kimb, Bremerton, and Dick Barclay, Lincoln of Seattle, who played opposite each other in the recent All-Star tilt. Both of them have shown well and seem to have the inside track for the two guard spots. Dick Johnson, Queen Anne, who has had two years of Boys' Club experience, and Phil Lalli, 240 pounder from Fife, are also making the veterans battle. Ron Svardal, Lincoln of Seattle, and Bill Barnhart, Lincoln of Tacoma, who also preformed in the All-Star game along with Bob Anderson, Lincoln of Seattle, are three well experienced boys who will add reserve strength to the tackles. At the pivot post, Jack Williams, Orting, is the only hopeful. Bob McAdams, scrappy end from Bremerton, and Leland Bloomer, Eastonville, will help out in the pass catching department.

Looking over the list of returning numeral winners and watching them perform in scrimmages has been both

PLC Spurs Sport Brand New Uniforms

Spurs, the national sophomore women's honorary, wore their new uniforms for the first time last Tuesday.

After considerable time and effort, the group was finally admitted to the national organization. Only four Washington colleges, PLC, CPS, CWCE and WSC have Spur groups. The purpose of the organization is to promote school spirit and to support all activities in which the student body participates.

This year's Spurs are Charlotte Brandt, president; Beverly Allen, vice-president; Thelma Stawick, secretary; Audrey Engstrom, treasurer, and Harriet Olsen, editor. Other members include Marion Cummings, Grace Foege, Joyce Ferguson, Clarice Gunderson, Marilyn Hanich, Eleanor Hansen, Betty Hanson, Ellen Heasen, Grace Keys, Helena Littau, Naomi Roe, Anne Stray, Dorothy Sweet and Clarice Gunderson.

Know Your Songs

For the benefit of freshmen and new students we are printing the words of our school songs. Take them with you to the pep rally Friday night and the game Saturday night, so that you can join in with the rest.

FIGHT SONG

P.L.C. your students hail thee
 As queen of all the land
 Where students all are carefree
 And for thine honor stand
 May your light be ever glorious
 And always to the end
 Reign o'er all victorious
 Our alma mater friend.

ALMA MATER SONG

'Neath lofty trees and mountain grand
 A blessed place she firmly stands
 Alma mater, P.L.C.
 That she may grow in strength and name
 Live and rule without disdain
 True may our hearts forever be
 To alma mater, P.L.C.

Confirmation Class Starts Tuesday

The College Confirmation Class will be organized next Tuesday evening at 7:45. The class meets at the home of Professor Kelmner N. Rose, 334 120th St.

There will be eleven class sessions on Tuesday evenings from 7:45 to 9:15. The student will bring his Bible and a pencil. The other materials will be given to him during the period of instruction.

This class prepares the student for church membership. The student chooses his church. The student is not obligated, however, to join a church just because he attends this class; and he need not be confirmed December 15th if he decides to the contrary.

During the past four semesters 50 students, 32 men and 18 women, have been confirmed. Others have attended the classes.

BABY BORN

The population of Verville below the hill was increased by one September 12 when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swanson, Jr., became the parents of a girl. Lauren Elaine weighed in at six pounds three ounces at the Tacoma General hospital. Mrs. Swanson is the former Mildred Hoff.

Record Enrollment At Summer Session

A record enrollment of 473 students attended the 1950 Summer session at FLC, according to Dr. Philip E. Hauge, Dean of the College.

Students from many states outside Washington were included in the enrollment. The session began June 12 and ended August 18.

One of the outstanding special events in the summer course was the P.T.A. Workshop.

Visiting teachers on the summer staff included Naomi Deitz, Lincoln High School in Tacoma, who taught a special course in Public School Art; Mrs. Warren C. Tomlinson, instructor of University of Washington extension courses in Tacoma, who directed the History and Appreciation division; and William Jewel, principal of Mary Lyons Grade School in Tacoma, who led a course in Education.

Dr. Melvin Moman was in charge of the Summer session.

Snack Bar Open Day And Night

Operating under new management, the Student Union Snack Bar opened for business Tuesday.

Theo. Karl head of the speech department, is the representative of the college on the staff of new managers. "We plan to be open evenings," Mr. Karl stated, "and with the exception of our supervisor, Julia Widman, all of the workers will be students."

The eat shop will open every morning, Monday through Saturday at 7:30 o'clock, and will close at 10 o'clock in the evening. Last year's Lutheran eleven surprised a lot of local fans by coming up with a freshman as the signal calling quarterback. It's rare enough when a freshman makes the first team at any position, but to make it at a position that one usually connects with experience is almost unheard of.

Those who have been watching the 1950 grid machine during turnouts may have noticed that it looks like PLC may do it again. The only experienced player who has worked at quarterback is Lowell Knutson and it appears as if he will be used mainly at a halfback spot.

The outstanding candidates for the starting berth at quarter are Del Wickline, a frosh from West Seattle, and Frank Karowski, diminutive freshman from Tacoma.

The entire outlook, as far as freshman prospects are concerned, is very promising. Six boys who participated in the recent All-State vs. Tri-City games in Seattle are looking good. These include Frank Karowski, Jimmy Campbell, halfback; Jerry Kluth and Dick Barclay, guards; Ron Svardal and Bill Burnhart, tackle.

These, and many other freshmen, have been making competition rough for the veterans. It is these newcomers who, along with the experienced men, will carry the Black and Gold on to the gridiron this season. There are eight games on the slate in which these men will prove their worth.

College Athletic System Adds New Personnel

A new face has been added to the behind-the-scenes staff of the PLC athletic department. The college has employed M. T. Holmstad, father of Rhoda Young, the assistant professor of physical education, as equipment man. Mr. "H", as he is becoming known around the gym. He is in complete charge of all equipment issued for intercollegiate athletics.

The head football manager is Jim Kerns, senior from Tacoma. Jim is serving his fourth year as football manager. Right behind Jim in seniority is Ernie Templin, junior from Puyallup. Ernie has managed football for two seasons and has also been head track manager for two years.

Nick Glaser, a Tacoma sophomore, is starting his second season as an assistant manager. Mel Smedley, Tacoma senior, is assisting this year. Mel has had no previous managerial experience.

The head trainer this year is Jack Hagen. A former navy man, he is using the experience gained in the service to help keep the Lutes in shape. Aiding Jack with the training is Bob Bruss. Bob, a senior, lettered three years on the football squad but was unable to compete this year. He will also aid Mr. Karl in announcing the home games, as official spotter.

Pictured above is Rick Daniels, Gladiator co-captain, along with John Jurkovich. Rick is playing his fourth season for the PLC gridiron eleven. He is due to start at center tomorrow night in the big fracas with CPS in the Lincoln Bowl at 8:00 p.m.

TICKET REGULATIONS

Every student must have an activity card with him Saturday night to gain admission to the CPS game. "We will have men at the gates this season who are not members of the college staff or student body," Coach Marv Tommervik said today. "This means that you will not get in or your personal recognition. If you do not have an activity card with you, you will have to pay the adult admission price of $1.25."

Coaches Begin Fourth Season For Gladiators

1950 marks the fourth season of coaching at PLC for head football coach, Marv Tommervik, and his chief assistant, Marv Harshman. These men, both of whom were outstanding players for the Lutes in the 1939-41 period, have also played professional ball for the Tacoma Indians, and Tommervik played on service teams during the war.

The assistant coaches for the 1950 team are three PLC graduates of 1950. Roy Hagen and Jack Carbone, four year letter winners at the guard spot, are aiding Harshman with the line while Jack Guyot, who was a standout Lute line-smasher for four years, is working with the backs.

The Lute record over the last three seasons shows that the "Marv-men" have won over fifty percent of their contests. Tommervik's three year coaching record shows 14 wins, 6 losses and 5 ties. Toss in with this the 1947 co-championship of the conference and the Gladiators thrilling 27-21 win in the annual Pear Bowl game during the same season and you have a better than average football record.

enlightening and discouraging. Offensively the Gladiators will bring memories of the famous Lute aerial circus of 1940-41, with no less than five capable passers in the backfield. Bearing the brunt of the aerial attack will be Lowell Knutson, hustling southpaw flicker and runner from Queen Anne, and John Jurkovich, team co-captain and line plunger, native of Anacortes. Harry Malnes, Ballard, standout runner and punter in pre-season scrimmages, Del Wickline and Frank Karowski can also throw that ball. Heading the list of veteran halfbacks are Malnes, Knutson, little Art Swanson, swivel-hipper from Puyallup, and Bill Stringfellow, Clover Park, who has really been rocking 'em in body contact drills. The three aforementioned freshmen will do most of the quarterbacking. At the fullback slot, Jurkovich and Bob Brog, Lincoln of Seattle, who ran from the right half position last fall, and a real driver, complete the Gladiator backfield.

The line play, which gave the Lutes trouble last year, is doubtful again this year. Rick Daniels, co-captain, has been moved to the center spot to strengthen the center portion of the line, while Kluth and Barclay are virtually assured the guard positions. Spelling them off will be address Bob Nielsen, Gene Shaw, John Waldorf, and Dick Olson. The tackles are well fortified with five letter winners on deck. Bob Macgrouly, Oliver Magnusson, Chuck Parkland, Jack Eronal, and Ray Green are about on a par and will see a lot of action. Snagging the aerials for the Lutes will be Bob Dinmore, Hal Schropp, Glen Hoffman and John Schindler. Glenn Werner, George Nowadnich, and Norm Wang, all need no defense, and Walt Oden, line backer supreme, will attempt to stop the CPS onslaught.

A mighty confused and befuddled man is Rod Belcher, former KMC sports master, who is announcing gridiron contests for the San Francisco 49ers this season. His sponsors requested that he change his name to Hughes since Belcher's name and the sponsor's product, beer, didn't seem to fit together.

Does this look like you? If so, something should be done about it.

Student Summer Work Includes Fishing, Farming, Road Building

The summer months found PLC students working on jobs from Alaska to Minnesota. They worked on fishing boats, farms, logging camps and highways.

Dale Keller and Glen Werner worked with a highway crew in Montana. Werner's buddy, Bob Bragg, became a city bred farmer in Lambertton, Minnesota.

A flock of Lutes migrated to nearby Mt. Rainier for summer employment. These include Wesley Benson, Arlene Mikkaiah, Lee Krutson, Robert Johnson, Marlene Schwenke, Yvonne Tisch, Norma Oden, John and Con Bildt and Verne Newhouse.

The fishing banks in Alaska lured Dick Olsen, Walt Oden, Harold Malnes, Gene Lundgaard, Harold Fosso and Claude Hanskor. Karl Bachner did "cat skinning" for a construction crew in the Golden North.

Lorraine and Marian Cummings jerked sodas and pumped gas in their folks' combination general store and gas station in Smelterville, Idaho.

George Bendikas and Olaf Magis stayed on campus and worked in the kitchen. They also attended the summer session. Helena Littau worked in the public relations office and spelled off Dr. Eastvold's secretary when she went on vacation.

Ray Green worked on the new building on campus, and spent his week ends in Kraton.

Arnold Gregerson worked on his Dad's farm in Wheeler, Wisconsin, and gave Milton Nuevig, public relations man, a lesson in sheep shearing when he visited there in June.

Robert Meineke worked for his Dad in their Endicott grain elevator, and spent the rest of the time trying to get Louise Stephenson to return this fall. She did.

Kaland Ytreide worked in a local photo lab, and his partner in Campus Studios, Allan Laurson, drove city buses in Tacoma.

Deane Dahl was a hash slinger in his Dad's beanery on Phinney Ridge in Seattle.

Lou Innerarity wore his Willys coupe out getting votes for the Re-

Harold Lavyas stayed around Parkland most of the time, and sold insurance. Lowell Knutson also got his livelihood from insurance, working in the office of a Seattle firm.

Leland Amundson and Harold Anker pumped gas in local stations. Ditto Sig Skartland. Amundson also worked for a local creamery.

Bill Finkle and Jack Bowron spent the summer convalescing. We're glad to see both of them back on campus.

Phyllis Maltaahn visited relatives in Iowa, and journeyed on east as far as the nation's capitol.

Corky Christensen sold haberdashery in a Seattle department store. He's back for a fifth year.

Phil Thorleifson drove a truck for and was a handy man at Tacoma Y.M.C.A.'s Camp Seymour. Tacoma men got a good view of him (his pedal extremities, that is) in a photo which appeared in the Trib.

JoAnn Nodtvedt peddled "pink pills for pale people" (with apologies to Dr. J. P. Pflueger) at a local apothecary.

Two Chapel Periods Slated for Thursday

Next Thursday morning there will be two chapel sessions, one of which will be in the SUB and the other in the gym.

All students who have come to PLC on a scholarship, pastors' children, faculty and staff members' children, scholarships where two or more members of a family are attending PLC, students who work on the campus for their tuition or part of it, students attending school on sports' scholarships, etc., are expected to be present at the chapel service in the SUB. All other students will go to Chapel as usual in the gym.

He did his undergraduate work at Youngstown college in Ohio; and completed the work for his master's degree in August at the University of Iowa. He served in the Army during the last war.

Staff additions include Mrs. Harriet Hanson who will work in the registrar's office and teach journalism. She will be the editorial advisor for "The Mooring Mast." Mrs. Hanson is a graduate of the school of journalism at the University of Washington.

The new college nurse is Mrs. Margaret Wood. She was graduated from Swedish hospital in Seattle in 1945. Since then she has worked in a doctor's office in the Queen City. She attended PLC in '41-'42, and she is a sister of Lloyd Cleven who was graduated in PLC's class of 1950.

Working as library secretary is Emily Sholseth, who was graduated from the college last June. She was secretary of the student body, a member of the "Choir of the West," and a leader in campus affairs.

PEACE NEEDED

"The image of God is vague," he stated, "but the longing for peace and salvation in the hearts of youth today is great."

Dr. Eastvold pointed to the Bible and his text from Matthew, "What think ye of Christ, whose son is He?"

"It doesn't matter so much what you think of many things in this world," he said. "But what you think of Christ as you begin this school year is the important thing."
