President's Message

On the following pages the annual chronicle of people and funds supporting Pacific Lutheran University during the 1988/89 year is presented. The president's message provides a special opportunity both to express gratitude to the ever growing number of individuals, firms, and organizations that assist the university and to lift up those things which seem most significant as meriting such support during the year past.

How grateful I truly am to the record number of people and groups for the largest ever gifts to Pacific Lutheran University during 1988/89! If one considers only cash actually received (not including gift pledges, annuities, trusts or other deferred gifts), more than $5 million came to the university last year. To be sure, that sum represents contributions from donors of all types and given for every kind of purpose, but it reflects a magnificent milestone in the history of PLU. Most importantly, such gifts come from people who believe that the kind of education offered at PLU is worthy of support.

This is certainly a most compelling reason to be grateful. Because of such strong support the university was able to continue to pursue and strengthen its commitment to quality education. For example, a record number of three (more than any other northwest college or university) Fulbright Scholars were named during the last year. In addition, PLU graduates attained top state or national honors in mathematics, engineering, accounting, journalism, athletics, and other fields. Also record setting was the fact that a PLU alumna (Elizabeth Pulliam, '85) became the first graduate to receive a Pulitzer Prize. To such singular accomplishments must be added the facts that credit hour productivity for the year topped all previous levels, and the number of baccalaureate and masters' degrees awarded came close to one thousand total. Certainly the support of investors produced great gain during 1988/89.

Investors need to know that, while the university became stronger, set new records, and was more productive last year, it also remained entirely faithful to its mission. It is of paramount importance to me that as the university grows and advances, the connection to its heritage and the understanding of its central purpose are retained.

For this reason I am especially gratified to report to those who have invested in PLU the past year that the mission of the university — as judged by those charged with the responsibility of assessing it — is alive and well. Specifically, during 1988/89 the university underwent its decennial evaluation for institution wide re-affirmation of accreditation by the Commission on Colleges of the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges. In addition to resulting in complete re-accreditation, this study provided the following comments by external evaluators on the university's sense of mission:

"Pacific Lutheran University is clear, consistent, and realistic in its statement of mission and objectives. Efforts to make the institutional mission and objectives operative in the day-to-day life of the campus are evident and admirable."

With the mission of PLU recognized and commended in this manner, I am greatly encouraged and emboldened for the future. Clearly the investments made serve a productive and meaningful purpose. Heartiest thanks to our investors for their great assistance and partnership in 1988/89.

William O. Rieke

William O. Rieke, M.D.
President

Pliny the Younger, the Roman writer and statesman who lived from circa 62 to 113 A.D. was the first challenge gift donor on record. At least so the story goes . . . "Discovering that the children in his native town of Como had to go to school in Milan because Como had no teacher for them, Pliny put up a third of the expenses of hiring an instructor, encouraging his fellow townsmen to raise the rest."

This booklet is largely a listing of names. Names of persons, organizations and foundations who, like Pliny, have set the pace by their leadership. Because of these generous people many students were able to attend Pacific Lutheran University through scholarship awards; faculty and staff salaries were enhanced; special programs were made possible and building and grounds were improved.

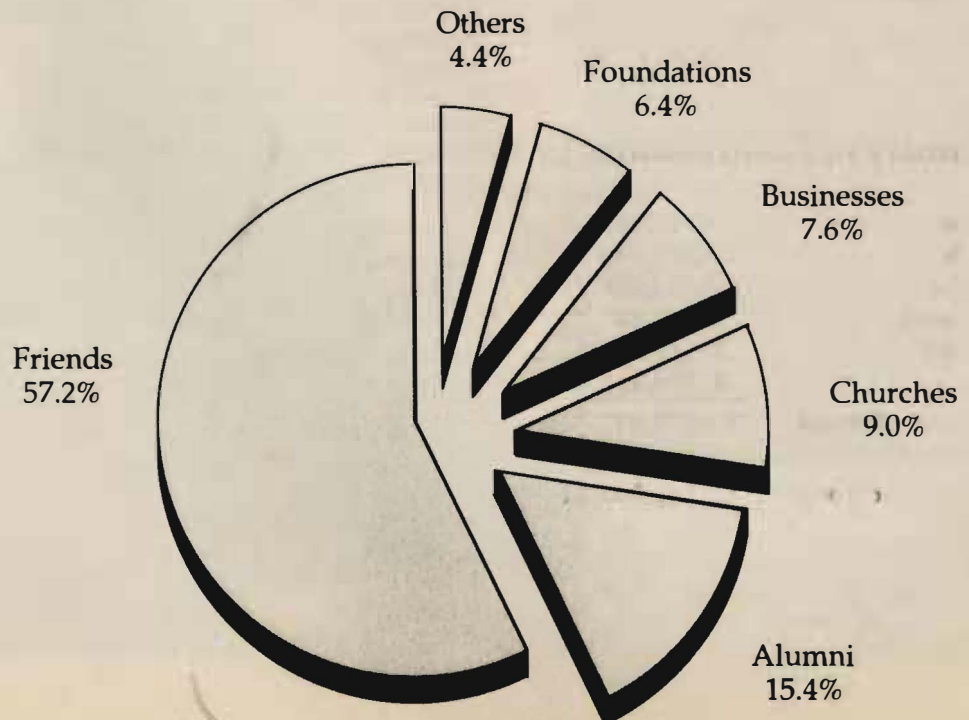

This year, the last in PLU's first century, the University broke the $5 million mark in gifts received. Named in this Report to Investors, are individuals, churches, corporations, and foundations who contributed an all-time record $5,134,891.32 during the 88/89 fiscal year. In addition to this gift figure PLU received grants and contracts totaling $572,595.61.

Because of the leadership and example of many alumni and friends, more donors than ever contributed to the Annual Fund. For example, a year ago there were 2642 alumni donors to the Annual Fund, this year 4197 alumni contributed. The increases have been more than just noteworthy — even something to celebrate. Gifts from all sources this year totaled 18% more than last year and 47% more than two years ago.

And so we celebrate. We celebrate the leadership and example of friends and alumni. We celebrate . . . yesterday with our founders who gave us our roots . . . today with our regents, faculty, students and alumni who infuse us with life and vitality . . . tomorrow with the friends of the University who dare to make our dreams become a reality.

Summary of Contributions by Source

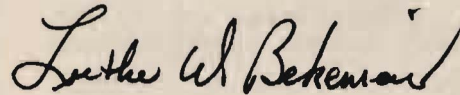

It is those friends and alumni who are shaping tomorrow. Through their leadership and generosity, they have made the Sharing in Strength campaign, the first phase of a decade-long funding effort, a success. They will also now ensure the second phase of the centennial campaign, Shaping Tomorrow.

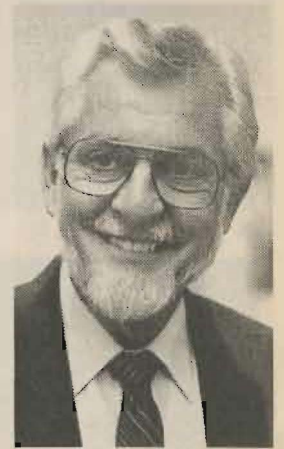

The goal for the first half of the decade was $16,500,000. It was over subscribed with $20,000,000 coming through Sharing in Strength. Those funds built the Rieke Science Center, doubled the endowment, provided scholarships and completed many capital improvements on the campus. In the second half of this decade the Centennial Fund - Shaping Tomorrow, will build the Music/Fine Arts Center, double the endowment again, provide increased help to underwrite tuition and provide funds for other capital improvements. The challenging goal for the current campaign is $30,000,000.

It promises to be a centennial decade of $50,000,000 in gifts for the education of a new generation. A great host of people who believe in the value of Pacific Lutheran University and its mission will help us meet the challenge of this exciting century celebration.

Sincerely,

Luther W. Bekemeier
Vice President for Development

June Three PLU professors received Faculty Growth Awards from the Division for Education, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. They are Stewart Govig, religion; Ed Clausen, history; and Sharon Jansen Jaech, English. Photo A, B, C

■ The PLU Choir of the West returned from a two-week concert tour in England. Concerts were presented in London, Coventry, Oxford and Canterbury. The St. Alban's Church performance in Birmingham was digitally recorded for a cassette, "Passport," which became available in the fall. Photo D

■ A national championship in softball propelled PLU women to their first-ever title in the NAIA All Sports competition. Lute men equalled their best-ever finish with a ninth place ranking. Combined points from both women's and men's divisions ranked the PLU athletic program tops in the NAIA nationally.

July PLU was one of 314 colleges and universities nationwide selected for inclusion in the 1988-89 edition of Peterson's competitive colleges. Listed schools represent approximately 10 percent of all American institutions of higher education. Criteria for inclusion are based on the level of achievement of entering freshman classes.

■ Argentine theologian Jose Miguez-Bonino was a featured speaker at PLU. The world-renowned religious leader discussed the condition of the poor in developing and underdeveloped countries and the unrest that will result if their problems are not more effectively addressed. Photo E

August An archaeological excavation at the original site of Fort Nisqually, south of Tacoma, was conducted by students and volunteers under the supervision of PLU anthropology professor Judith Rasson. The dig, sponsored by PLU, was an endorsed state Centennial project. Photo F

■ Tacoma is a city of the '90s, according to an opinion survey conducted by PLU psychology professor Christine Hansvick, who briefed Tacoma-Pierce County Chamber of Commerce and city officials on the results. Tacoma amenities remain a fairly well-kept secret, but residents who have discovered them give the city high marks.

September PLU welcomed a record 715 freshmen; among them were 13 National Merit Scholars. Tenth day enrollment figures showed 3,099 full-time students and 874 part-time students (total: 3,973). Later fall enrollments pushed the total to 4,054.

■ Three PLU professors were honored for teaching excellence under the Burlington Northern Foundation Faculty Achievement Awards program. Receiving $1,500 stipends were Chris Browning, history; Anne Hirsch, nursing; and Ann Kelleher, political science. The Foundation also announced a second $13,500 grant to fund the program through 1991.

■ Eric Niles of Medical Lake, Wash., was awarded a National Achievement Scholarship to attend PLU. The scholarship, awarded black students, is monitored by the National Merit Scholarship Program; less than one percent of applicants receive it. Photo D

October The international headquarters of the Frank Russell Company in Tacoma celebrated its grand opening with a benefit for PLU. PLU international exchange students hosted the gala affair and PLU music ensembles entertained the crowd. The event netted over $25,000 for the university. Photo E

■ The Ben B. Cheney Foundation of Tacoma presented a $100,000 leadership gift to PLU to help fund the planned PLU music building. It was the third time the foundation had given a major capital gift in recent years; others helped fund the Rieke Science Center and the Carlisle Dietrich Addition to Mortvedt Library.

■ Dr. Grace Holmes of Shawnee Mission, Kansas, a 1953 alumna and professor of preventive medicine and pediatrics at the University of Kansas Medical Center, received the PLU Distinguished Alumnus Award at the annual Homecoming Awards Dinner. Alumnus of the Year was Evelyn Frost '45 of East Lansing, Mich., a national church lay leader and former teacher. Rev. Philip Falk, '50, a Lutheran minister and editor of the Eastern Washington-Idaho Synod insert in The Lutheran magazine, received a Heritage Award. Special awards were given to Beverly McRae '56 of Billings, Mont.; and Hazel Nesvig, Dr. Dale Hirz, Dr. Stanley Mueller, Dr. Wouter Bosch and Dr. Arthur Osolin, all of Tacoma. Photo F

November Dr. J. Robert Wills, 48, dean of the College of Fine Arts at the University of Texas-Austin, was named PLU's new provost, and was slated to assume his new duties July 17, 1989. At Texas, Wills also served as professor of drama and was holder of the Effie Marie Cain Regents Chair in the Fine Arts.

■ Seventeen minority students received scholarship grants from the Rainier Bank Minority Scholarship Fund. The scholarships, ranging from $690 and $2,750, are awarded to students majoring in business administration or economics.

■ Jon Kral, a senior biology-chemistry major from Lacey, Wash., earned both top academic and athletic honors. He was the recipient of the 1988 Allenmore Pre-Medical Scholarship, an annual $5,000 grant from the Allenmore Medical Foundation of Tacoma, and was named the Columbia Football League's Defensive Player of the Year. Photo H

Judith Billings of Puyallup, Wash., a 1961 alumna, was elected Washington State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

December PLU welcomed two Nobel Prize laureates to campus Dec. 3. Chemists Linus Pauling and Sir Derek Barton were on hand for the 1988 Pauling Award Symposium, sponsored by Northwest sections of the American Chemical Society. Photo A

■ PLU Athletic Director Dr. David Olson was inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame. The past president of the NAIA was said to "exemplify the highest ideals of intercollegiate athletics." Photo B

■ Championships won by the women's soccer and cross country teams brought to four the number of NAIA national titles earned by PLU athletic teams during the past 12 months. Earlier titles were won by the 1987 men's football and 1988 women's softball teams.

■ Karen Gilmer of Tacoma was PLU's 1988 Lucia Bride. The daughter of alumni Thomas and Linda Gilmer, received her crown during the annual Sankta Lucia Festival Dec. 3.

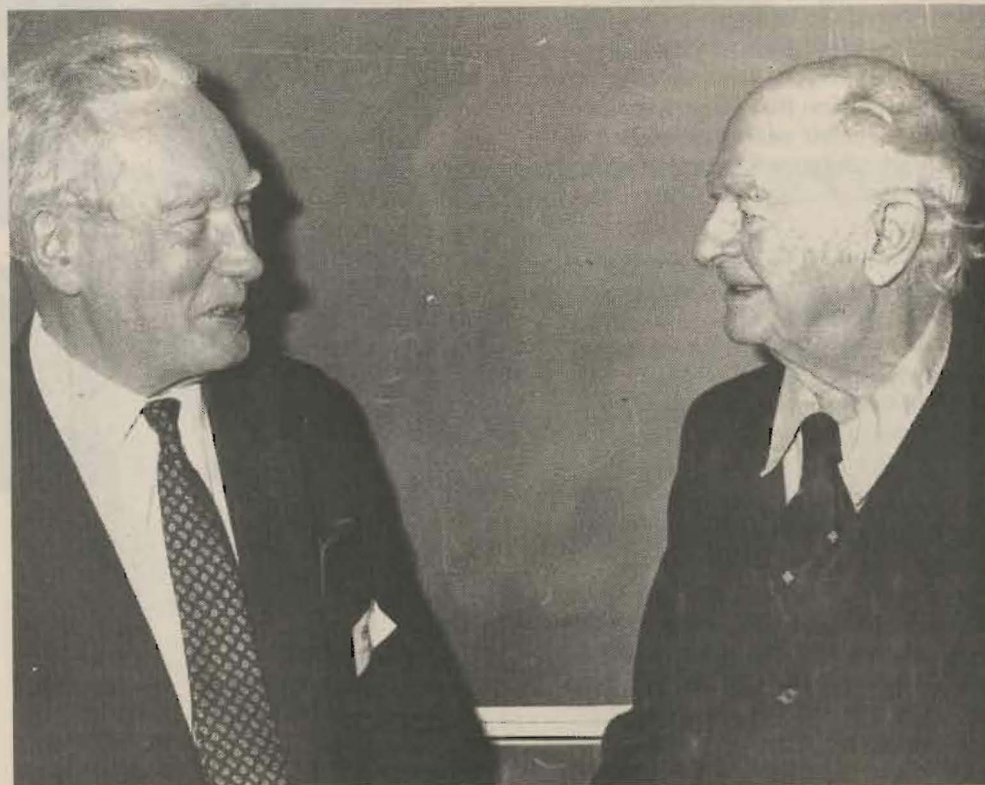

■ The PLU Choir of the West was featured in the CBS Cavalcade of Christmas Music. It was one of eight university choirs nationwide selected to participate in the series that aired for 10 days during the holiday season.

January Paul Stolz, a partner at Ernst & Whinney CPAs in Tacoma, taught a January Interim course entitled "Telecommunications: Operations, Strategic Planning and Regulatory Issues." Stolz was honored as Dwight Judson Zulauf Alumni Chair Professor in the School of Business Administration during the 1988-89 academic year. Photo C

■ Dr. Dorothy Kellmer accepted an appointment as dean of the PLU School of Nursing. A professor at the Intercollegiate Center for Nursing Education in Spokane for 11 years, she assumed her new PLU duties March 1. She succeeded Dr. Moira Mansell, who held the post for six years prior to her retirement. Photo D

■ PLU made an institutional financial aid commitment of $50,000 toward scholarships for minority students. In addition, funds from an endowed (Rainier Bank) scholarship and the BERG scholarship fund are intended to encourage minority students to attend PLU. Federal funds for such scholarships have largely dried up.

■ Warren R. Peterson of Tacoma, a partner in the law firm Gordon, Thomas, Honeywell, Malanca, Peterson and Daheim, received a President's Award medal from PLU. He has served as legal counsel to the university for 19 years and was a member of the Board of Regents from 1971-74. Photo E

■ More than 40 radio stations serving Washington state began airing "Washington: You Are There," a series of 52 two-minute dramatic vignettes that featured a modern reporter sent back in time to cover significant events in the territory that became Washington state. The series was produced by KPLU-FM news reporter Anne Martin and was funded in part by a grant from the Washington State Centennial Commission.

February Gordon and Alice Kayser of Milwaukie, Ore., became the donors of the largest endowment gift in PLU history. Their $400,000-plus gift, added to their other recent endowment gifts, created a scholarship fund in excess of a half million dollars. The scholarships will primarily assist nursing and engineering students, but may be awarded to others as well.

■ Patsy Sims, a freelance author from New Orleans, joined the faculty for the spring semester as 1989 Distinguished Writer-In-Residence. The author of Somebody Say Amen, other books and many articles, taught two courses in the English department: Freelance Writing and Contemporary Literature. Photo A

■ Amy Jo Mattheis of Lodi, Calif., and William "Boe" Woodbury of Spokane were recipients of the 1989 Don Jerke Leadership Award. The award is given annually in memory of the late campus pastor and vice-president for student life. It recognizes students who have made outstanding contributions to the quality of life at PLU. Photo B

■ Yolanda King, daughter of the late civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, lectured at PLU Feb. 15. Admonishing more than 1,000 listeners, she said, "We can't afford to sit back and hope someone will deliver us from evil. We must all roll up our sleeves and become involved (in peace and justice causes) in any way we can." Photo C

March An unusually rich lineup of lectures was available at PLU during the month. They included Jane Roe (Roe v. Wade) attorney Sarah Weddington, farm workers advocate Cesar Chavez and Yale theologian Dr. Jaroslav Pelikan.

■ Elizabeth Pulliam of Anchorage, Alaska, a 1985 alumna, was a Pulitzer Prize winner - the first in the extended PLU family. The Centralia, Wash., native was one of a team of Anchorage Daily News reporters honored for meritorious public service for a series of articles on alcoholism and suicide among Alaska Indians and Eskimos. Photo D

■ Chris Molyneax, a Vancouver, Wash., senior, ranked among the top seven percent of student mathematicians in the country in the Putnam Exams, an annual competition among students from the U.S. and Canada. He was one of only three state students in the top 10 percent.

April Two PLU seniors and a December 1988 alumna were recipients of Fulbright Scholarships. They were Grace Running of Camarillo, Calif.; Christian Lucky of Tacoma; and Janae Boyd of Nampa, Id. Their honors brought to 18 the number of Fulbright Scholarships awarded to students or recent alumni in the past 14 years. Photo A

■ PLU President William Rieke was appointed to the Tacoma-Pierce County American Leadership Forum founding board of directors. Also on the 25-member board are alumni George Davis '41, Jane Shanaman '77 and Daisy Stallworth '76, as well as Regent Jane Russell and former faculty member Erling Mork.

■ Dr. Rieke was also appointed to represent Washington's private colleges on the President's Forum on Teaching as a Profession, a new project funded by the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The Forum will bring together public and private colleges to find ways to attract more students to the teaching profession and to "do a better job" of providing teacher education.

■ At its April meeting, the Board of Regents honored two long-time regents, Paul Høglund (since 1974) and Harry Morgan (since 1980). In other business, the board approved a consolidated budget of $47.7 million for the 1989-90 academic year. Photo B

■ Teaching and student research capabilities will be enhanced in the Chemistry Department by a Fournier Transform Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Spectrometer. The department received a $78,250 grant from the National Science Foundation toward purchase of the equipment.

May More than 1,300 people attended the May 7 dedication of the $550,000 Scandinavian Cultural Center. The Center has been a joint venture of the Scandinavian Cultural Council and the University. It occupies 6,700 square feet of space on the ground level of the University Center. Photo C (page 10), A ■ Former Senator Daniel J. Evans (R-Wash.) and renowned Iowa artist Keith Achepohl were recipients of honorary doctor's degrees during spring commencement exercises. In addition, philosophy professor Curtis Huber was honored for 25 years of service, and education professor Marjorie Mathers was recognized upon her retirement.

■ Jeffrey Soine of Seattle was the valedictorian of his graduating class at Columbia University School of Engineering and Applied Science in New York City, where he completed requirements for 3-2 dual bachelor of science degree from Columbia and PLU. Photo D

■ A seven-unit apartment complex was donated to PLU in exchange for a charitable remainder unitrust by Erwin and Alice Bolduan of Snohomish, Wash. They will receive income from the unitrust during their lifetime, after which proceeds will benefit PLU and their home church.

■ Q Club set giving records for the 18th consecutive year. Totals reached $840,000, a 6.3% increase over 1987-88. The organization added 332 new members, a 12% increase. Total membership topped 1,775 for the first time.

■ For the second consecutive year the Lutes earned the unofficial NAIA national all-sports title. Women's teams placed first for the second consecutive year, men were 14th after a 9th place finish last year.

■ Milton Nesvig, PLU vice-president emeritus, received the Distinguished Alumnus Award from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., May 27. The 1937 St Olaf alumnus who served at PLU for nearly four decades was honored for "significant contributions to higher education, the church and humanity."

The Annual Fund

Gifts to the University's Annual Fund provide vital support to every area of the institution. Scholarships, faculty salaries, library resources, and facilities maintenance represent some of the more significant areas where Annual Fund gifts are put to use.

This support provides the "margin of excellence" that helps set Pacific Lutheran University apart. Taken together with other income sources, Annual Fund gifts subsidize the cost of education by approximately $600 a year for each student who attends the University.

The positive impact of Annual Fund support is felt by students in three key areas:

Scholarships

Gifts to the Annual Fund provide scholarships to help attract and retain top notch students. Seven out of ten PLU students both need and receive financial assistance.

Outstanding Faculty

A strong Annual Fund helps assure that faculty salaries remain competitive. PLU has been fortunate to attract and retain highly qualified faculty who are dedicated to teaching.

Library Resources

Nearly $600,000 was spent last year to keep the Mortvedt Library collection abreast of growing curriculum and research demands. Annual Fund gifts play a key role here as well.

As a consequence of strong Annual Fund support, the University is able to strengthen its academic programs, enhance scholarships and financial aid, and operate with a balanced budget.

While many of the gifts to the Annual Fund are small, as the number of those gifts increases, the participation of many alumni and friends makes a positive impression on other potential supporters of the University.

But small gifts alone cannot do the job. The University has encouraged a tradition of substantial giving through a special donor organization known as the PLU Q Club. Donors qualify for membership when their unrestricted and/or scholarship gifts to the Annual Fund reach $240 or more per year.

The PLU Q Club

The Q Club was started in 1972 to thank friends and alumni of Pacific Lutheran University who gave vitally needed unrestricted gifts to the University's Annual Fund. These gifts help secure PLU's commitment to Quality education. The "Q" stands for quality.

Q Club gifts

- help underwrite the cost of education for each student
- provide scholarships and financial aid to needy students
- allow the University to maintain a balanced budget without sacrificing quality.

To help accomplish these goals, members commit themselves to a specific amount of support each year. There are four primary giving levels:

Member	$240/year	$20/month
Associate Fellow	$480/year	$40/month
Fellow	$1,000/year	$84/month
Senior Fellow	$2,400/year	$200/month

NOTE: Alumni and friends age 26 and under may join the Q Club as Junior Members for $120/year or $10/month.

The Q Club began with 100 members who contributed $51,000 in 1972. Today, there are over 1775 members who gave over $840,000 to the University during the past fiscal year.

The following pages list the names of alumni, friends, businesses, foundations and churches who have supported the Annual Fund at Pacific Lutheran University during the past fiscal year, June 1, 1988 through May 31, 1989

“Academics are much more interesting because of the attention professors are willing to give to students. Teachers have rearranged their time to meet with me during my free time. When a professor is willing to try that hard, I am motivated to try harder.”

"I chose PLU because of my Lutheran background and its location in the Pacific Northwest. It has something for everyone: music, athletics, super professors and personnel. I couldn't have made a better choice. Through my experiences in many different aspects of PLU, I have become a well-rounded person."

"I am struck by the genuine cordiality of all PLU people and of faculty members in particular — coupled with clear evidence of their competence and dedication. Both students and faculty are here by virtue of a curious self-selection process. There is congeniality and collegiality and a feeling of 'fit.'"

"Pacific Lutheran University has affected my life in a very profound way. I had a chance to question the things I was raised to believe, and wound up reaffirming those beliefs from the perspective of a newly found intellectual maturity. At PLU one finds diversity, a caring and warm environment, a revitalized commitment to Christianity, and excellent academic standards."

This past spring 1985 alumna Elizabeth Pulliam won a Pulitzer Prize! Elizabeth, a Centralia, WA, native, was part of a team of reporters at the Anchorage Daily News that won the 1988 award for meritorious public service.

"I've led cheers at Lute basketball games, was elected freshman representative on the alumni relations committee, helped edit the PLU literary publication, was a conversational partner for a Japanese exchange student, and helped put together Thanksgiving baskets for low income families. I'm more involved because there are so many opportunities!"

"The thing I like most about PLU is the potential for spiritual and physical as well as intellectual growth.

Spiritual development is available through social activities like Rejoice, chapel, religion classes, Bible studies and University Congregation."

Tracy Moore, sophomore business major

Churches

As a University of the Church, Pacific Lutheran University is owned by the 630 churches of Region I of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (congregations in Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington). Many of those congregations, out of particular commitment to their mission in higher education, choose to support the University program directly each year.

These gifts come to the University in a variety of ways. Unrestricted gifts and scholarship support for the University's Annual Fund are recognized through congregational membership in the various levels of the PLU Q Club. This money helps undergird the annual mission of the University by subsidizing each student's education and assisting in general operations.

Many congregations elect to give for the benefit of particular students. Gifts to the Pacific Lutheran University Matching Scholarships program (PLUMS) generate matching contributions for young people from contributing congregations. Funds for the support of Lutheran students from the developing African country of Namibia are directed towards the Namibian Student Scholarship Fund.

Through these growing designated and undesignated gifts, congregations play a significant role in annual support of the University and scholarships for individual students.

Namibian Student Scholarships

Thanks to the support of several congregations, conferences and synods, five Namibian students will be enrolled at PLU this fall. Pacific Lutheran University in partnership with these donors is educating Namibian Lutheran young people for service in their developing country.

Businesses and Foundations

Annual support from the business community and from foundations comes to the University in a variety of ways. Unrestricted gifts and scholarship support for the University's Annual Fund are recognized through membership in the various levels of the PLU Q Club. This money undergirds current operations and helps subsidize the cost of education for each student.

Gifts, restricted for specific purposes, are also received from many corporate and foundation sources. These gifts are often targeted to enhance particular areas of the University which are closely related to the priorities of the donor.

Corporate and foundation support plays a vital role in meeting the capital and endowment objectives of the University as well. These gifts help fund capital construction projects, provide for the purchase of significant capital equipment needs, and add to the University's endowment. The construction of a new

Scandinavian Cultural Center on campus was one of the primary capital fund objectives during the past fiscal year.

Two other areas of corporate support include matching gift contributions and gifts received through the Independent Colleges of Washington.

"We can't all talk together at the same time, but we can all sing together. PLU students are not in friction or discord, rather all are playing difference parts -working, loving, sharing and learning together — in harmony. I wish everyone could join our chorus.

Rick Evans '91, West Seattle, WA

“The growing generosity of Pacific Lutheran University alumni represents a tremendous witness to major donors and foundations about the true value of your PLU education.”

This past year I had the opportunity to share my thoughts with you about the kind of impression which schools like PLU make on their alumni. I want to thank you for the overwhelming response that you made to that appeal.

The number of alumni who contributed to the University's Annual Fund increased nearly 59% during this past fiscal year. There were 4,195 Alumni Annual Fund donors in 1988/89 versus 2,642 in 1987/88. As a result of that increase, PLU's percentage of alumni giving rose from 16% to 23% in a single year. That kind of growth is simply unprecedented.

One of the strongest gains came from alumni who made their first gift to the University this year. I want to thank those donors for the vote of confidence that their support signifies and welcome them to the growing ranks of alumni donors listed in this report.

Your generosity allows the University to provide vitally needed scholarship support for students. It also strengthens our ability to attract and retain quality faculty who are at the heart of the educational enterprise. Other gifts provide funds to buy books for the library and other important learning resources.

Taken together, your gifts to the Annual Fund underwrite the educational mission of the University in a tangible way that makes a positive difference in the lives of everyone at the school.

As the University approaches its Centennial in 1990/91, the growing level of alumni support during the past year offers the promise of even greater things to come.

Sincerely,

David C. Wold,
Chairman, PLU Board of Regents

When students talk about Pacific Lutheran University, there are many themes, but three are oft-repeated:

- * Academic quality and creativity, reflected in a wealth of nationally recognized academic honors;
- * An atmosphere of friendliness and genuine personal concern for students; and
- * A commitment to Christian principles.

Alumni Annual Fund

Honor Roll of Donors by Class

Annual Fund gifts from Pacific Lutheran University alumni undergird and enhance the quality of the educational programs which the University offers. These contributions help with everything from scholarships to faculty salaries and library books to athletics.

This past fiscal year produced the largest single year increase in both the number and percentage of alumni giving in the University's history. The number of Alumni Annual Fund Donors grew from 2,642 to 4,195 — an increase of nearly 59%. The percentage of alumni giving also increased from 16.1 to 23.1 - a jump of over 43%. This special Honor Roll of Donors recognizes the many alumni who have made this a record-breaking year for the Alumni Annual Fund.

The number or percentage of alumni who regularly give to the University is important because it is considered by many major donors and foundations as a key "barometer" of support from those who know us best. In this case, the total dollar amount contributed is not as important as the fact that a large number of alumni make some kind of gift each year.

One of the goals of the PLU Alumni Association is to steadily increase the number of alumni who give to the Annual Fund. We would like to reach a participation rate of at least 25% by the University's centennial in 1990/91.

Although the number of alumni contributors is an important factor in influencing others, clearly the dollar total given by alumni is what helps today's students. Over the years, alumni who are able to make contributions at or above the Q Club level of $240 a year have accounted for around 75% of all alumni giving.

The following lists recognize Alumni Annual Fund Donors by class for gifts received between June 1, 1988 and May 31, 1989. Where two alumni are married, the asterick (*) indicates that their gifts have been split between their respective classes. A "Q" in front of a name indicates that the individual is a current member of the PLU Q Club.

"When I first arrived at PLU, I had no idea where my life was going. People here are showing me the open doors and giving me the chance to decide. Now I am on my way."

Why is the percentage of alumni who give each year to the Annual Fund important?

One of the first questions which foundations and major donors ask of us is this:

How many of your alumni regularly support your institution?

Our answer to that question often determines the size of their gift.

The Heritage Society

Members of the Heritage Society are those individuals who have included Pacific Lutheran University in some type of deferred gift, bequest, charitable trust, revocable trust, charitable gift annuity, life insurance, pooled income fund agreement, or a gift of a residence or farm with a retained life estate.

Membership is not based on the amount of the deferred gift. The sole criterion is the remembrance of Pacific Lutheran University in one's estate planning.

The purposes of the Heritage Society are:

- To show gratitude and recognition to those who have expressed concern for PLU by providing for a deferred gift.
- To assist members of the Society in their on-going estate planning.
- To encourage others to become members of the Society.

The following roster lists Heritage Society Members of record as of July 1989.

During the 1988-89 fiscal year the following persons have made irrevocable deferred gifts. The face value of the deferred gifts totals $816,762. These gifts, which include charitable gift annuities and charitable trusts, provide lifetime income for the donors and/or their designated beneficiaries, while at the same time providing an eventual gift to Pacific Lutheran University. In addition, these gifts include life insurance policies which will grant the University a significant future gift, while allowing the donor to fund such a gift at a fraction of the face value.

Deferred Gifts

During the 1988-89 fiscal year the University received bequests or deferred gifts totaling $1,077,716. These gifts will be used for both restricted and unrestricted purposes. The unrestricted bequests and deferred gifts assist the University by allowing PLU to use the money where it is most needed at the present time. The restricted gifts are usually placed into the University's Endowment Fund. Endowed funds are often designated for scholarships to honor or memorialize specific individuals. In addition, endowed funds are used to

Capital and Endowment Gifts

Gifts to Pacific Lutheran University's capital and endowment programs help fund new construction, major campus renovation projects, and provide endowment monies for scholarships and general operations.

All of these areas reflect special needs which require funding above and beyond the dollars available for general operations. This past year the most significant capital construction project was the completion of a new Scandinavian Cultural Center on campus.

A new Music/Fine Arts Building is now in the planning stages and will be funded with gifts and pledges from the current Centennial Fund - Shaping Tomorrow Campaign. The following list represents donors who made contributions for capital and/or endowment purposes during the period between June 1, 1988 and May 31, 1989.

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this list. If an error is found, please notify us so that we may adjust our records.
