

Exam Will Precede Entry Of Students to PLC in '59

Beginning in the fall of 1959, a College Entrance Board examination will be required of all incoming freshmen to PLC. This test result will be only one factor considered on admittance, for no admission cut-off line has been established yet.

Scholastic achievement in high school, character ratings, personality, and many other qualifications will still be considered in the school's choice of new students.

In the fall of 1958, Pacific Lutheran College will strongly recommend, but will not require that incoming freshmen take the test. It will not be required until the following year of 1959. All information will be printed in the College catalog when more specific information is obtained.

The College Entrance Board examination is a national scholastic aptitude test and can be taken at various testing centers throughout the year by high school seniors or others wishing to apply to PLC. In 1956-57, tests were offered on December 7, January 11, February 8, March 15, May 17, and August 13, and being a national test, it can be taken in any state or at any center that is closest to the applicant's home. PLC will begin to operate as a center in 1958-59.

Applications to take the College Entrance Board exam can be obtained for schools by the high school principal and must be submitted by the students one month prior to the testing date. There is a fee of $7.00 required to take the test, but test results can be submitted to as many colleges as the student desires.

Thinking of Europe?

Travel Council Offers Students Aid

A trip to Europe for less than $1,000 from New York is a possibility, not a dream, for most American students.

For this figure they may enroll in an organized group program or may travel independently, using student discounts overseas.

College students on low budgets and high hopes for travel this summer may learn about these opportunities by writing for the free booklet, "Going to Europe?" published by the Council on Student Travel, a non-profit educational travel organization with West Coast offices at 240 Stockton Street, San Francisco, Calif.

"Going to Europe?" describes the different types of inexpensive educational travel programs open, and offers assistance in selecting from more than 40 different trips, ranging from sightseeing tours, to bicycle trips, work camps and accredited study tours.

If students wish to travel independently, they are advised to do two things: secure a list of the national student unions abroad which offer assistance to student travelers; and purchase a Student Identity Card (25c) before leaving home in order to take advantage of student rates on housing, restaurants, transportation and cultural events in Europe. This Identity Card may be purchased from the National Student Association, 701 Seventh Avenue, New York 36.

The information services of the Council are available to students without charge in the interests of fostering wider international educational exchange. A number of low-cost booklets (25 cents) are also available from the Council's office to help students use their time and money wisely overseas.

More than 50 educational institutions and religious organizations have joined in creating the Council and in making low-cost educational travel opportunities available—in Asia, Africa and Latin America, as well as Europe.

Established in the late 1940's with the revival of international exchange programs during the postwar years, the Council on Student Travel serves the travel interests of students in many countries.

Convinced that the best way to serve peace is to bring young people from different countries together so that they may learn how each lives and works, the Council and its member organizations offer low-cost and occasionally, subsidized travel to help Americans go overseas and to bring students from abroad here.

Girls to Invite Mothers

Girls of PLC are requested by the AWS officers to begin inviting their mothers to the Pacific Lutheran campus for the weekend of March 14-16 for the annual Mothers' Weekend, sponsored by AWS.

Prof-Staff Pledging Nears Completion

PLC's Development Fund is continuing to grow with the completion of the faculty-staff solicitations. A total of $75,007 in cash and pledges has been received from the faculty and staff. In a breakdown, the faculty has pledged $65,843, while the staff members' total reaches $9,164.

Plans are now being made for alumni solicitations under the chairmanship of Mary Tommervik of Parkland. A directing committee of twenty outstanding alumni has been formed for the purpose of approaching all former students in the Development Fund campaign.

Solicitation of downtown accounts will begin during the middle of March.

PLC Holding Brotherhood Tea Sunday

Foreign students of PLC will serve as hosts for friends and visitors in South Hall between 2:30 and 5:30 p.m. this Sunday as a part of the Tacoma Friendship Association Friendship Teas during Brotherhood Week.

At ten other places in the Tacoma area Friendship Teas will be held at the same time this Sunday.

This is the first year that the Association will have met at PLC or the College of Puget Sound, which is also holding its initial tea. Each year during Brotherhood Week the Association sponsors the teas in the homes and other places where there are those of various religious, cultural, racial and national backgrounds.

PLC students are cordially invited by the TFA to attend any or all the homes that will be holding teas, for the purpose of the event is to promote the spirit of simple friendliness and understanding among citizens in the Tacoma area.

Besides PLC, "open house" will be at the homes of: Dr. and Mrs. Fredis Kaufmanis, 4010 No. 16th; Mr. and Mrs. David Rowland, 807 No. Yakima; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berglund, 707 No. Proctor; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moss, 1270 Huson Drive.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lamken, 2328 No. Shirley; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carlson, 1812 No. Union; Dr. and Mrs. Angelo Giandrone, Dash Point, 921 Madrona Drive (first right turn after bridge); Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haley introducing Andre and Georges Sanford, 3018 No. Puget Sound;

And at the Buddhist Temple, 1717 Fawcett Avenue; and at CPS, Anderson Hall (Foreign students presented by the CPS International Relations Club).

Choir to Present Three Concerts

This afternoon at 3:30 p.m. the Choir of the West leaves for a short weekend tour of three concerts: tonight at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in Aberdeen, Saturday evening at Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Port Angeles, and Sunday evening at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in Bremerton.

The Choir will return Sunday night. Soloists for the tour will be Peg Byington, Mona Carlson, Audrey Hart and Mary Lou Engen. Incidental solos will be sung by Eric Ottum, Dick Giger and Jerry Erickson.

The Choir is under the direction of Mr. G. J. Malmin.

Debaters Compete Here In Two-day Tournament

More than 400 high school debaters are the guests of PLC for the sixth annual Pi Kappa Delta-Washington State High School Debate Coaches Association Tournament being held on campus today and tomorrow, February 21 and 22.

About 40 schools, chosen on a selective basis, are expected for the tournament. This marks the first year that Seattle high schools have been able to participate and also is the first year that an out of state school is expected to participate. Sand Point of Idaho has indicated a desire to come.

Presence of these additions is anticipated by tourney officials to increase the already high degree of competition. Registration blanks had just begun to arrive at press time, but Bettelou Macdonald, tournament director, said, "We expect the best participation ever, qualitatively and quantitatively."

Professor T. O. H. Karl, speech department head, commented that, "this promises to be the best tournament that we have had, not only on the basis of the increased number of contestants, but also the restrictive nature, making it a tournament of championship caliber."

The quality of the tournament is also pointed out strongly by George DeBelle, president of the Washington High School Debate Coaches Association, who says:

"The debate coaches consider this tournament one of the highlights of the year. We appreciate the splendid organization, which is a tribute to Mr. Karl and his assistants. The tournament is outstanding because it draws some of the finer competition throughout the state."

Heading up the various committees are: steering committee, Don Douglas, Jim Traynor, Jan Turman; registration, Louise Kraabel; office personnel, Jeris Randall; equipment, Cal Capener; general arrangements, Tom Reeves; rooms and judges, Herb Dempsey; events, Linda Hurd.

The tournament committee is made up of Art Miller, North Central High School (Spokane); Ann Montgomery, Oakesdale High School; George DeBelle, Bellevue High School; James Carlson, Olympia High School; Vernon Utzinger, Ted Karl and Bettelou Macdonald, PLC.

Reading Class Opens Next Tuesday Evening

Opening for all students interested in increasing their reading efficiency is the Reading Efficiency class which will have its first meeting next Tuesday evening, February 25, at 7:00 p.m. in L-101.

The meeting will last for one hour and is led by Dr. K. Solberg. The class will continue through the spring term.

SMILES OF PLC's speech department will be out for high school debaters from the Northwest as Pacific Lutheran College debaters sponsor the annual high school tournament on campus next Friday and Saturday. Heading up the work are (l. to r.): Don Douglas, Bettelou Macdonald, Jerry Olson and Jim Traynor (not pictured).

Debaters Capture CPS Sweepstakes

Students whose wins resulted in PLC's sweepstakes honors at the CPS Debate Tournament on February 13, 14 and 15 are as follows:

- Senior One-Man (Lincoln-Douglas) Debate: Dick Kraiger, Herb Dempsey, 1st place tie.
- Junior Women's Debate: Louise Kraabel, Judi Johnson, 1st. Jeris Randall, Jackie Slater, tie 2nd.
- Junior Men's Debate: Orin Dahl, Jim Traynor, 1st. Dave Stuart, Cal Capener, tie 3rd.
- Senior Division Interp: Herb Dempsey, 2nd place.
- Junior Women's Interp: Carolyn Bloomfield, 3rd place.
- Junior Men's Interp:

- Cal Capener, 1st place.
- Jim Traynor, 3rd place.
- Senior Division Impromptu: Bettelou Macdonald, 1st place.
- Junior Women's Impromptu: Louise Kraabel, 2nd place.
- Senior Division Extemp: Herb Dempsey, 2nd place. Bettelou Macdonald, 3rd place.
- Junior Women's Extemp: Louise Kraabel, 2nd place. Jackie Slater, Judi Johnson, tie 3rd.
- Junior Men's Extemp: Orin Dahl, 1st place. Jim Traynor, 3rd place.
- Junior Women's Oratory: Delores Nims, 3rd place.
- Junior Men's Oratory: Cal Capener, Orin Dahl, tie 3rd.

"Benny Goodman" Showing Tomorrow

"The Benny Goodman Story," in technicolor, starring Steve Allan and Donna Reed, will be shown tomorrow, February 22, at 7:30 p.m., in CB-200. Prices will be 45 cents for singles and 75 cents for couples.

Spurs are sponsoring this film, a success story of one of America's foremost swing musicians, a clarinet artist and band leader.

The "true-to-lifeness" of the "Benny Goodman Story" was perhaps the reason for the movie's popularity as it swept its way across the country not long ago.

Have a Seat

Should We Contribute?

Every PLC student should be at student body chapel next Tuesday for the business meeting at which those present will decide whether or not any form of giving to the Pacific Lutheran Development Fund will be undertaken by the students themselves.

From the very beginning this idea has been brought about by the students. On its own initiative the Student Council talked over the idea with Mr. Peterson and now is bringing the idea before the students who should make the decision as to taking part in the campaign.

If you have a good reason for believing that you should not participate, fine. However, do not vote "no" because you have a grudge against the administration. This question has nothing to do with the administration, they do not "have their fingers in the pie," and you won't be landing a punch by casting a negative.

There will be no faculty or administration members present at the meeting. It's strictly your decision. If you feel your opinion is worth anything, vote on Tuesday.—Dave Crowner, Editor

Council Coursings . . .

Council Proposes Student Pledges

The Student Council has taken a major step concerning student participation in the PLC Development Fund. Tuesday it approved the idea of an all student solicitation.

This move is only primary, for the final judgment lies in the power of the entire student body. This subject will be the main course of business in the coming student chapel. The student body can either accept or reject this idea and in the event of an acceptance it will be stressed that the solicitation and pledging will be completely on a voluntary basis so no one would be held to abide by majority rule.

The Council was definitely against participation in the form of an assessment placed on each student. This has been done at other colleges, either by the authority of the administration or the students themselves, but the Council's feeling is to place the decision of giving in the hands of each student.

The proposal will be presented to the student body and if accepted it will be suggested that the pledges be made on a three-year plan. Campaign details will then be in the hands of the Student Council.

Heigh ho, everybody. I say, are you there? I jolly well hope you are, for if you aren't how are you going to read the rest of this bloody column? (tee hee).

First off, I'd like to thank the many girls who have approached me wishing to enter my contest and have me pick their ears (ugh). The response has been so terrific that I'm afraid it will take me some time to get around to all of you, but don't give up. I'm sure I'll be able to work you all in somehow, somewhere, sometime, come rain or come shine, you'll always be mine love, Fred.

A guy walks into a psychiatrist's office and sez, "Doc, you got to help me. Every night for the last two months I been dreaming I was going to Portland. It's terrible! Every nite I dream I'm going to Portland!" Doc sez, "Don't worry about it, why last nite I dreamt I was home alone and who should walk in the front door but Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield! And there was I all alone with these two beautiful women!" Guy sez, "Good heavens! Why didn't you call me?" Doc sez, "I did. But somebody said you were going to Portland."

Student Service Is Main Object Of Bookstore

Anything from soup to nuts, or rather, from dictionaries to toothpaste, can be found in PLC's modern and well equipped self-service bookstore. Mr. Carl G. Faulk, manager and purchasing agent for the college departments, describes the bookstore as a "service to students."

Besides ordering any book in print, with from ten days to two weeks for delivery, special services such as duplicating and photo copying are provided. Many necessities and entertaining items are also displayed in the store.

Mr. Faulk is enthusiastic about increase in sales lately for paperback books. These inexpensive books are in demand for class supplements, recreational and classic reprints.

Publisher Sets Price

To the no man, no fun—I just bought my semester's books—type of student Mr. Faulk explains, "Book prices are set by the publishers. They seem high because students and professors insist on the new and latest publications. Textbooks have yet to go up in proportion to some other consumer items. By shopping early students may save on the used books that the bookstore tries to stock. Rush orders, of course, go to publishers rather than to used book dealers."

Profits Go To School

The bookstore makes some profit but as Mr. Faulk stated, "Profits are as much a part of the college income as receipts from games, dormitories, dining club and the coffee shop."

Open Throughout Week

The bookstore, which serves students every weekday from 7:30 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. and on Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, also employs students. Presently employed are Pat Ahrens, Mary Ann Bayne, Roberta Brodhun, John Goettsche, Richard Halvorson, Barbara Jackson, John Nybakke, Joanne Rohrbaugh, Dorothy Snyder and Patricia Stamp. Mrs. Robert Olson is employed full time and Mrs. James Traynor is head of the campus postal service.

Is Spiritual Week Needed On a Christian Campus?

Why is there a "Spiritual Emphasis Week" at PLC? How can something already present be emphasized?

These and similar questions are probably in the minds of a number of people around campus. Dr. Carl W. Segerhammar, President of the California Conference of the Augustana Lutheran Church and guest speaker for PLC's "Spiritual Emphasis Week," explains the purpose of the activities held this week.

"It seems almost paradoxical to have 'Spiritual Emphasis Days' on the campus of a Christian college. Yet, like many paradoxes, there is real truth on both sides. Perhaps we can get at the core of this question by drawing an analogy.

"Very often scientific groups, societies or organizations will have special meetings to which a fellow scientist will be invited to speak. All the members of the group are, presumably, at home in the field of science. But the appearance of this guest may bring a fresh interest or new insight to their thinking.

"In similar manner, spiritual emphasis days on a church-related campus provides opportunity for renewing interest and providing new insights."

Dr. Segerhammar and his wife, Ruth, are parents of four children. He was born in Kansas and is a graduate of Bethany College, Lindsborg, Kansas, and Augustana Seminary, Rock Island, Illinois. The University of Southern California School of Religion was the location of Dr. Segerhammar's graduate work.

Besides his present position he has served congregations in California, Colorado and Iowa. He has done extensive radio work and is also an author. One of his books, "God Lifts My Sights," is a series of sermons he delivered over the National Radio Pulpit. It is in one of these sermons that Dr. Segerhammar states his beliefs concerning Christian education and colleges such as Pacific Lutheran.

"... an education with a plus . . . such as that which is offered at church related colleges . . . can contribute so much. A Christian college is one which is committed to give vital expression to the Christian faith in every facet of college life. It is committed to the faith that the Word of God touches on all human thinking and is related to all human effort.

"It is both a Christian and an academic community where the Christian truth and the way of life is viewed not only as a doctrine but as a destiny.

"We cannot be neutral at this point, for neutralism makes way for secularism, and secularism finally makes democracy, as we know it, extinct.

"If we leave God out of our education, our customs, and our ways of life, we are teaching that, for most people and at most times, He does not count. We are beginning to recognize that neutralism is itself unneutral. He who is not for Christ is against Him. These values are urgently needed by individuals and by society.

"The will to learn which places Christ at the core of life can capture meaningful resources for time and eternity. Evaluation of the needs of life will grow with experience which comes from Christian faith and thought and thus contributes to the growth of individuals with a view of life that has great personal imperatives and high ideals of citizenship.

"Then a Christ-centered motivation will give purpose to truth and a satisfying meaning for life. . . . Walk out to the heights where Christ is and study life through His concepts."

Gladiators Fly East To Meet Montana

Savages Challenge Harshmen; Lutes Wing To Bobcat Series

Coach Marv Harshman will be taking the Lute hoopsters to the air after the Eastern game in Cheney on Saturday, February 22. The Lutemen will fly from Spokane to Bozeman, Montana, where they will tangle with the Montana State Bobcats in a two-game series on the evenings of February 24 and 25.

In the past the Gladiators have always had a rough time on the Eastern Washington court. In the first game this season the Lutes managed an 87-75 win on the local maples over the Eastern Savages.

Coach Red Reese is hoping for an upset over the Lutes as he puts his Savages on the warpath. Reese has a freshman forward, Gary Roberts, who the Glads will have to control. The frosh ace scored 24 points last Saturday against Western in Cheney.

Harshman will settle for an even break in the series with the Montana State Bobcats. The Bobcats overpowered the Eastern Washington Savages 90-61 last Monday night. If comparative scores mean anything the Lutes have a job cut out for them after the flight to Bozeman.

The regular five will start in all these encounters.

Schedule This Weekend
 Friday: Puget Sound at Eastern Washington, Western Washington at Whitworth.

Saturday: Pacific Lutheran at Eastern Washington, Puget Sound at Central Washington.

New Stats Set by Lutes

The Gladiators were on the march to set new records for the Evergreen Conference last Saturday night as they extended their conference win total to 10 against no losses this season.

The 97-75 win over the Whitworth Pirates gave the Lutes 24 straight victories in conference competition over the past three seasons. This mark bettered that of the old record held by Eastern Washington who held the 23 win total during the 1950-51 season.

In the first six minutes of the contest it looked as though the Pirates were out for battle victory over the Gladiators, but then the Lutes started to click and the Whitworth onslaught was over for the evening.

Glad forward Chuck Curtis continued the record making and breaking as he scored 44 points to lead game and Lute scoring. Koetje led the Whitworth five with 23 points. Lute guard Roger Iverson popped in 17 to bolster the PLC win.

Prairie Dogs Earn Game of the Week

The "game of the week" on the intramural maples is attributed to the Prairie Dog-DeJardine encounter in which the underdog Dogs turned back the highly touted DeJardine five, 42 to 38. Paul Carlson led the Prairie Dog and game scoring with 14 points.

"Scorer of the week" was Virg Hundtofte whose 30 points led the 5th Floor Old Main quintet to a 70-37 victory over the Gunners.

Other games through February 17 juggled the league's standings for the second round. The Warriors trounced the Stubs 48-15 as John Nessen hit 12 for the Warriors. Bob Gettel pumped in 20 points as the Ivy "A" five downed the Brewers 80-39. Three Brains stormed the nets with 11 points each as they overpowered Ivy "B" 38-30; Don Slatum, Duane Newton and Darnell Hines bolstered the Brain storm.

The Hesters chalked another win in the "majors" as they beat the Celtics 56-13 with Haaland scoring 17. Clover Creek "A" slaughtered the Western team 58-31 as Ted Berry hit 20 for the CC gang. Their proteges, Clover Creek "B", gunned the Gunners 39-29 with Ron Thompson tossing in 10 counters for the winners.

In another game of due recognition, the lowly rated 5th Floor five came through with a victory over the "B" league leaders, 4th Floor Frosh, winning 36-26. Bob Erickson led 5th Floor with 12 points.

Eight games were played on Monday, February 17. The Frosh bumped the Brains 45-35 as Ron Weaver hit 15 for the five freshmen. The Warriors took over first place as they beat the Faculty 36-25 under the scoring of 16 by Frank Hall.

Ivy "A" walloped Western 59-39 as speedy John Mitchell came through with 23 counters for Ivy. The Prairie Dogs handed the Hesters their first defeat of the season with a 47-38 final margin. Frank Waterworth led the Dogs' win with 16 points.

The Stubs got back in the win column as Art Hedlund led them to a 39-34 victory over Clover Creek "B." Marlin Rosemore hit 20 to lead the Celtics to a 52-37 win over the Brewers. The game that went down to the wire was between Clover Creek "A" and the Road Runners. The CC five edged the Runners 48-47. Ted Berry scored 16 for the winners.

Many pro's and con's have been offered on the possibility of Coach Marv Harshman being named head basketball coach at Washington State College. We approached Harsh on the subject the other day and he offered the same information that has appeared in several other newspapers lately.

This information is that he has not at any time contacted WSC athletic officials, but a representative from Cougarville did contact him about two weeks ago to find out if he would be interested in the head job being vacated by Jack Friel who has been at the helm for 32 years.

Harsh indicated at that time that he would give the matter careful consideration provided the proper terms could be decided upon. He also emphatically stated that he is presently doing his utmost to bring the Lutes through another successful season, and that is foremost in his mind at this time.

We have noticed many people cringe at even the thought of Harsh leaving after gaining such widespread fame that he has brought on himself both as an athlete and coach. Many people feel that he has an obligation to remain at his alma mater where he has been able to work himself up. We believe this is a very selfish attitude. It would be unfair to put pressure on Harsh to hamper his opportunities to advance to a head coaching job of such a large institution as WSC.

During Coach Harshman's thirteen seasons at PLC he has done an outstanding job as both head coach and athletic director, and has rightly earned every bit of respect displayed by sport fans throughout the state and country. Now that the golden opportunity for advancement has arrived it will be up to Harsh to decide whether to take over the reins of WSC basketball or be content with the security of a long term position as mentor of athletics at PLC.

If he should decide to take the WSC position, we have all the confidence in the world that the casaba outlook for the Cougars will take an upswing and fans will again flock to see the Cougars offer top-flight competition. On the other hand, if he remains at PLC he will be endeared to the hearts of all Lute fans—past, present, and future.

We would be the last to encourage Harsh to leave. It would be next to impossible to find another coach who could earn the respect that Harsh has for PLC down through the years. Should Harsh decide to leave his alma mater, we think he should be given a royal send-off excelled by none in the past and wish him the best of luck on his promotion.

Coach Harshman expects to visit the Cougar campus today if time permits. The WSC Board of Regents is scheduled to meet Monday and a screening of all available candidates will be conducted. The notice of the naming of the new coach should be forthcoming in the near future. Whatever the choice may be, we know Harsh will give his answer in a gentlemanly, Christian manner which will be in the best interests of all concerned.

BANQUET PLANS LAID

Plans for the 1958 All-School Athletic Banquet are being formulated presently by co-chairman Jim Haaland and yours truly. The date has been set up to April 10 from an earlier date that was announced because of a conflict in the schedule of the athletic department.

Present plans call for a well-known sports personality as the featured speaker along with guests from the television and radio field who are concerned with athletics at PLC. Anyone planning to attend (other than students) MUST make reservations and obtain tickets in the Public Relations Office not later than April 8. Tickets can be purchased for $1.50.

Black Sox Edge Glad JV's

The preliminary to the Whitworth-PLC game last Saturday was perhaps the thriller of the year in the PLC gym. The JV quintet of the Gladiators was barely edged out of victory when alumnus Bob Ross dumped in the winning bucket in the second and sudden death overtime. Ross' one hand push shot gave the Black Sox the 84-82 decision.

With seconds to go Lute JV Glen Campbell sank the game tier which knotted the score at 78-78. Going into the first overtime the JV's scored the first basket to move ahead 80-78.

Then the Black Socks managed two baskets to take the lead at 82-80. As the clocks showed one second remaining in the first overtime John Jacobson shot a swisher which equalled the mark at 82-82.

In the second overtime the officials declared the sudden death rule in which the first team to score would be the victor. The JV five made desperate efforts which almost paid off twice. Then Ross, who showed his past performances as a Glad were of value on old stomping grounds, putting in the clincher.

Curtis Leads Team Scoring

Chuck Curtis was named "Player of the Week" by the Puget Sound Sports-writers and Casters Association in their Monday meeting. Chuck was chosen ahead of such hoopsters as Seattle University's Elgin Baylor and University of Washington standout basketballer, Doug Smart.

"Charlie" has continuously led the Lute scoring attack this season as the PLC quintet has broken the Evergreen Conference games won record. The 6'5" forward extended his season total to 277 points which is just nine short of the conference record of 286 held by former Whitworth star, Marv Adams, who set the record last season. Curtis has at least five games left to play this year, two of them being league encounters.

The Lute net bomber poured in 44 points in the Whitworth game last Saturday night to come within one point of the personal points per game record which is held by another former Whitworth Pirate, Jim Doherty. This scoring splurge bettered his own record of 41 which he scored against Gonzaga last season.

Curtis, who was selected as a member of the Little All-American second team last season, is likely to be a candidate for a similar position this year. Chuck was also named to the NAIA tournament five last year along with Roger Iverson.

Chuck was ninth among the leading scorers of the nation's small colleges last week with an average of 23.9 points per game.

NAIA Sets PLC Ninth

As the season draws to a close, eyes are turned to the leading colleges across the nation. The most recent standings released by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) last week showed some of the following statistics.

PLC was placed ninth among the colleges of the NAIA. Wheaton College of Illinois which has rolled up an impressive 18-0 record so far this season, was given the first position in the standings.

Some of the other schools and their win-loss records were as follows: Stuebenville of Ohio, 21-1; Rocky Mountain of Montana, 18-1; Tennessee State, 21-2, (defending NAIA champions); Grambling of Louisiana, 20-3; West Virginia Wesleyan, 20-3; West Virginia Tech, 18-3 (currently first in offense with an average of 105.3 points per game); Texas Southern, 16-3.

Playoffs throughout the small college conferences of the nation are due to get underway within the next few weeks.

Clintena Wells and Chuck Curtis announced their engagement after the Whitworth game last Saturday night.

Lute golfers, Bob Sparling and Jim Hill, along with student golf coach, Don Hall, have been out on the campus greens and tees getting ready for the season of competition on the links.

And All-American javelin star, John Fromm, has been out on the track field warming up for another session of spear tossing.

New Women's Ring Survey Underway

Because there is no official PLC women's ring on campus, a survey will be taken to establish the fact of whether or not it is desirable to introduce such an item to the campus.

Questionnaires will be put in the girls' mail boxes, and after filling out the forms the girls will place them with the outgoing mail in each hall.

The survey, which will consist of several questions to be answered by a check, will ask the girl whether or not she would be interested in purchasing a college ring, and if so, during probably what year.

At a later date the ring would be decided upon, but samples of sizes may be seen in the CUB display case, and the ring would be similar to the men's ring. Price would be from twenty to thirty-five dollars.

Spurs March for Dimes; Seniors Honored at Tea

SPURS MARCH

The Spurs' blanket penny-pitch was held during halftime of the CPS basketball game on February 12. The annual event, according to the Spurs, was well received by students and other sports enthusiasts of the area. Proceeds, this year totaling $28.43, go towards the March of Dimes drive.

BOY MEETS GIRL

The sociologists, under the guidance of Dr. Knorr, are preparing a questionnaire on Dating Patterns at PLC. The primary purpose is to learn research methods, and secondly to discover what the students' attitudes are toward dating.

The questionnaire will cover ten areas: personal characteristics of a date, types of dates, time element, dating and maturity, material aspects (car, money, etc.), scholarship, number of dates, emotional involvement, status and suggestions for changes of dating patterns.

AH, FOND MEMORIES!

Miss Freda Rouze, West Hall house-mother, honored senior girls with a tea Sunday afternoon, February 16. The girls were those who had been together as freshmen in Old Main, which was then the girls' dormitory.

West Hall freshman counselors, Anita Gregerson, Sylvia Fylling, Beverly Swanson, Gay Kinard and Heather Stroup, served brownies and cookies. Housemothers Mrs. Agnes Kuethe and Mrs. Helen Nicholson served coffee.

In the daffodil bedecked lounge of West Hall 44 of the original 144 "Old Main" girls were present. Barbara Ristau had a floor plan of Old Main which listed the girls according to rooms.

LSA MEETS WITH LEAGUE

This Sunday's LSA meeting will be held in the Fellowship Hall of Trinity Lutheran Church at 6:00 p.m. The meeting is being held in conjunction with Trinity's Junior Luther League which is planning a full course chili feed with salad, cupcakes, milk and coffee. Price of the dinner will be 50 cents.

The LSA program will consist of a movie, "The March of Faith," awarded the 1956 best religious film award. There will also be a short report on the LSA Regional Workshop by the delegates from PLC that attended last week's Workshop.
