Petitions Due For Saga King, Queen

Now is the time to begin the circulation of petitions for Saga King and Queen. For King the candidate must be a senior man, and the Queen must be a freshman girl. To become an eligible candidate a petition having 50 names, plus five dollars, will have to be turned in to either Stan Elberson or Ken Storaasli. The deadline for petitions, which will be accepted all next week, is Feb. 24.

Campaigns begin Monday, Feb. 27, and last through Wed., March 8. In previous years campaigns have been made colorful by the dropping of leaflets from planes and the selling of ribbons, button, etc., with the candidate's name on it. Elaborate posters are also used.

Voting will take place on Wed., March 8, two days before the scheduled coronation of Friday evening, March 10.

All proceeds from the carnival go to the Saga (school yearbook), likewise all expenses incurred by clubs in decorating, etc., are paid by the Saga committee.

Committee chairmen are: Construction, Luther Steen; wiring, Andy Worley; prizes, Denny Kettel; publicity, Larry Hauge; program, Curtain Call Club; coronation program, Tawasi; tickets, Sohos.

Booth plans must be in to Ken Storaasli, Stan Elberson, or the switchboard by this afternoon. It is the responsibility of club presidents and inter club council representatives to get these plans in.

To Skate Tonight At Redondo Arena

Tonight's the night. It's the roller skating party at Redondo, sponsored by the Roller Blades. Skating will be from ten to twelve-thirty.

Carol Sayer, chairman of this event, announced that buses would leave from in front of Old Main at nine-fifteen.

Janice Johnson is in charge of the pre-ticket sale. If you detest standing in line it is advisable to secure your ticket now. They are being sold in the main hall during the lunch period today.

PLC Takes 2nd In TYRO Meet

Competing with twenty colleges, PLC took runner-up honors to Linfield College at the College of Puget Sound TYRO debate tournament February 8, 9 and 10.

Herb Neve won first in oratory, and Mary Larson took first in impromptu in the women's division.

Coach Theodore Karl announced that he was very much pleased with the team and proud of its success. Eighteen finalists, as compared with eleven for the winners from Linfield College, was his way of judging PLC's capability.

Lillian Leikauf captured second in impromptu, and third in both after-dinner speaking and oratory in the women's division. Margaret Kutz took second in ADS and tied for third in one man debate along with Howard Worley. Alan Hatlen placed third in ADS of the men's division and tied with Jon Ericson for third in extemporaneous speaking. Bob Ericson was judged second in the extemporaneous division.

Other finalists were: Bill Rieke in impromptu, Howard Schull in oratory, and Howard Worley in extemporaneous speaking. Marguerite Eastvold and Mary Larson qualified for the Saturday decision round. Jon Ericson and Alan Hatlen entered the debate quarter-finals undefeated in six preliminary rounds, but were eliminated, as were Bill Rieke and Herb Neve, in that round.

Most of PLC's senior speakers were ineligible for events at the tyro tournament in which they had taken the Sweepstakes trophy last year. Oregon State College, which was second last year, placed third in the tournament.

LSA Box Social Sunday In SUB

It's time for one of the biggest social events on the campus of PLC. It's the LSA basket social, Sunday at six-thirty, in the Student Union auditorium.

This is an informal affair, so girls wear your jeans, and boys your cords. The auditorium will be decorated in a country theme.

The girls are to prepare a dinner for two and fix a box or basket in which to carry the food. Then the fella's part—bidding for the baskets. A general hint to all girls, make it beautiful; the more beautiful the basket, the more money from the boys.

Del Zier will handle the auctioning department. Fellas, you know how hard Zier is, so you'd better come prepared, lots of moola, that is.

An evening full of fun has been planned. Betty Hanson and Loren Rude are in charge of the games; Darlene Waldron, music; and Ruth Hansen, decorations.

Everett Larsen and Theo Karl are chaperones for the evening.

Not only is the entire PLC student body invited to the skating party, but also the faculty.

Although there is no special program earlier this evening, it was decided to have the party during the late session at Redondo because there will be fewer outside people attending.

Alpha Sigma Lambda Will Present Variety of New Talent Next Friday

By Eugene Anderson

Next Friday evening in the SUB Alpha Sigma Lambda will present its first major program production to the student body and to the general public.

Headlining the evening of entertainment will be Lee Nordi, famed magician who will be performing for the first time in this area. Sharing star billing will be Joe Galuchi, twelve year old piano genius from Tacoma. Young Gauchii has appeared at many functions in and around Tacoma. His presentations of "Bach-to-Bop" selections have been greatly lauded.

In addition, the program committee, under the chairmanship of Don Anderson, has arranged for an appearance by Pop Korn and his Kentucky Kernels. This band is composed of Lincoln High School students, led by Gary Aleshire. The group will present a repertoire of Dixieland music.

Among other talent included in the program will be PLC's Howard Anderson, guitar playing junior from Tacoma, and Pacific Lutheran College's girls trio, composed of Doris Johnson, Connie Aune, and Louise Stephenson.

Publicity chairman, Tom Robinson, announces that advanced tickets for the affair go on sale Monday noon in the main hall, and may also be purchased from any of the members of Alpha Sigma Lambda. The price is 40c for students and adults; 25c for children under twelve.

Ed Berndt, new president of Alpha Sigma Lambda, states that this initial presentation by the club will begin a new innovation in entertainment for PLC students and citizens of the surrounding community. Ed hopes that everyone will reserve the date, February 24, for the Alpha Sigma Lambda program.

Alumnae Reunion Tomorrow, Sun.

Miss Delores Randolph and Miss Ruth Simonson, both of Tacoma, are co-chairmen for the annual Alumnae Reunion of Pacific Lutheran College, to be held on the campus Saturday and Sunday, the 18th and 19th of February.

This yearly affair features special programs and get-togethers slanted towards the interests of PLC graduates, and movies of the campus Saturday and Sunday.

The following schedule of activities for the two-day reunion:
Saturday, February 18
3:00 p. m.—Men's Sports Meeting, in the Science Hall. "Marv" Harshman will speak, and movies of PLC sports will be shown.

3:00 p. m.—Women's Meeting, Viking Room. Speaker, alum soloist and short meeting.

Open House Throughout The College Also Art Exhibit

5:30 p. m.—Smorgasbord, Student Union Building. President Kylo will head short, interesting program.

8:00 p. m.—Basketball Game (Central vs. PLC), gymnasium. Section is reserved for those at banquet. Special half-time game: Alumnae vs. Faculty.

"Folk-Frollic" Mixer—after game in Student Union Building, Rhoda Young in charge

Sunday, February 19
11:00 a. m.—Church Service, Trinity Lutheran Church. Rev. Luther Livingston, alum speaker; Gig Svare, alum soloist.

3:00 p. m.—Choir Concert and Reunion, Trinity Lutheran Church.

According to the co-directors, "A big turnout at the 1950 Glad reunion is expected."

CLUB TO OBSERVE PAN-AMERICAN DAY

Spanish Club members met for their monthly meeting Thursday evening, in the Old Chapel. Business discussions included plans for the public observance of Pan American Day in April, and for the club picnic to be held later in the spring. Popular and classical music of Mexican composition, a motion picture describing one of the South American countries, and refreshments completed the evening's program.

"Gripe Night" Monday, Get It Off Your Chest

Next Monday is the date for something new in PLC campus life—the "Gripe Night."

Under the sponsorship of the Interclub Council, all students with gripes about any part of PLC campus life will meet at 7 p. m. in the SUB and freely air their views.

Gene Strandness, Inter-club Council president, will be moderator for the affair. He will be assisted by Bob Crumbaugh.

"The purpose of the 'Gripe Night,'" stated Gene, "is to discover student opinion and to find out what students want changed. Logical suggestions will be taken by the ICC to the administration."

Topics that may possibly come under consideration are: Crowding in on the chow line, the new intramural sports program, cheating in the classroom, and parking in the "no parking" zone in front of Old Main. These are just a few suggestions. Each student is urged to bring his own personal gripe to the meeting and to have it heard.

It is hoped that constructive criticism will be discovered which will help make campus life more pleasant, fair, and worthwhile.

The Inter-club Council, consisting of thirty-three representatives from campus organizations, will precede the "Gripe Night" program with a short business meeting.

Art Department Schedules Exhibit

The art department of PLC invites everyone interested to visit the art building anytime Saturday, February 18, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. and Sunday, February 19, between 1 p. m. and 6 p. m. to see a display of the work done by art students during the first semester this year.

URAL N. HOFFMAN, above, well known Tacoma journalist, author, and teacher is the new instructor of journalism at PLC. Hoffman replaces Milton Nesvig who is traveling for the college this spring.

Delta Rho Gama Valentolo Feed In Student Union Is Big Success

By Jo Ann Nodtved
If one took even a quick peek into the upstairs lounge in the SUB last Friday afternoon, he would have seen girls hustling and bustling around decorating for the Valentolo. That's right! The Delta Rho Gama was at it again. This time they were preparing for their annual banquet, which has become a tradition among the day girls.

Twenty-five tables, each decorated with four heart-shaped nut cups, valentine napkins and a red candle in the center were scattered on each side of the aisle which led from the door to the center of the stage. On the stage was displayed a huge red heart, daintily decorated with lace and flowers. At the front of the lounge and to the left was a large "Smorgasbord" table adorned with all kinds of wonderful home-made food.

As each girl and her (lucky) date entered the lounge, she pinned a white boutonniere in his lapel. Al Kluth was entertaining with background music on the organ. The candles were lighted, furnishing all of the light except for a spotlight that was directed on the huge valentine heart on the stage.

Harriet Olson presided as mistress of ceremonies, presenting an excellent program with solos by Annie Isaaksen and Mahlon Read, accompanied by Dee Kylo. A cousin duet—Dorothy Molund and Shirley Sandlin, also sang, accompanied by Al Kluth.

Phil Falk did an excellent job of pouring (from one of our larger coffee pots) while Bob Crumbaugh tailed him closely with the remark "How about some cream, sugar?" Also, haunting the Tolo was Jack Malmin, slyly shooting couples left and right (with the camera, that is). It has been rumored that a certain Mahlon Read was so busy posing for the photographer that he hardly ate a bite all evening.

Seeing that they would get no more to eat, the couples began leaving between eight-thirty and nine o'clock. As they left they were greeted at the door by Ann Demers, DRG president, and Harriet Olson, chairman.

Two people we should not forget to thank are Mr. and Mrs. Olson, Harriet's folks, who are responsible in large part for making the evening enjoyable for all.

Chapel Quotes

By Arthur Arp

"We are living in an age when many voices are calling us... the voice of Jesus has much competition."—Pastor Smith.

"The reading of the Word of God becomes ammunition in our fight against the wiles of the Evil One."—Pastor Johnson.

"My first basis for Divine assurance (of salvation) is God's redemptive work in Jesus Christ: my second that I have taken that which God has offered and made it mine."—Dr. Nodtvedt.

"There is no thrill comparable to that of leading a soul to God."—Pastor Falde.

"If we who know Him want to serve Him, we must live to glorify God."—Miss Arneson.

"Then went in also that other disciple... our involuntary influence counts."—Dr. Eastvold.

"We, as American students, do not usually recognize the importance, internationally, or what we do or fail to do."—Mr. Cole.

Letter to Editor

The following letter was received from Ed. C. Orton, president of the Puyallup Daffodil Festival.

How about it PLC? A certain north end college enters a float in the Daffodil parade every year.—Ed.

Dear Sir:

Plans for the 1950 Daffodil Festival already are under way, and as usual the parade will be one of the outstanding features of the celebration, now set for March 31, April 1 and 2, with the parade on Saturday, April 1.

In order to encourage more entries of a comic nature, the Board has authorized more and larger cash prizes for the best entries in this category in the 1950 parade. First prize will be $50 cash and a cup, and second prize will be $25 cash. Three other prizes of $10 each also will be awarded. Entries will be limited to organized student groups in high schools and colleges.

We are writing at this early date so that you may begin to make your plans to compete in this part of the parade. Your participation not only will contribute to a most worthy community promotion but also may win an award for your group. Entry forms will be mailed later to all interested organizations.

Thanking you for your consideration of this matter, and with best wishes of the season, I remain Sincerely yours, Ed. C. Orton, President.

All those who wish to enter Pi Kappa Delta, forensics honorary, should see Larry Hauge for application blanks and information.

Sport-Rate

By Kerns

This week's SPORT-RATE deals with Frederick "Fritz" Rapp, senior guard on the basketball squad. Fritz is 5 feet, 7 inches in height, weighs 160 pounds and is 26 years of age. This makes him the shortest and the oldest player on the team.

Basketball is not Fritz's main interest, however, as he is happily married and has one daughter. Rapp played his prep ball at Kelso, where he lettered for three years.

Fritz has divided his higher education among three schools: Central, Lower Columbia J. C. and PLC. Rapp also served some time in the navy during the war. This is his second and final year of competition under the Black and Gold.

A good long shot and a hustler, Rapp has always performed well for PLC. Speed, ball handling ability and lots of fight make up for his lack of size on the basketball court.

PLC Boasts Student Profs

There are 98 student teachers from PLC learning their vocation in 25 schools in and around Tacoma this semester. This was the announcement made Wednesday by Miss Neilsen, director of student teaching.

Some are practicing in every grade, from the first through the twelfth.

The youthful instructors are divided into three student teaching sections. Dr. Monson supervises a class of 23 who daily journey to local high schools. Mr. Mykland heads a class of 25 prospective junior high teachers, and the remaining 50, elementary and primary aspirants, are directed by Miss Neilsen. When she recovers from an illness, Miss Michaelson will take over the primary department.

Lincoln high leads the list with 14 Lutes. Among them are Elmer Peterson, Joyce Taylor, and Bob Haglund. Five of the seven Glads visiting Clover Park high are Vern Fink, Paul Reiman, Cliff Allen, Harry Peterson, and Lee Streng.

Evangeline Ordahl, Ted Baird, and Al Kluth are doing their teaching at Fern Hill grade school, Varrel Smith is at Gault, Karl Munson and Bill Guild travel south to Kapowsin, and Ed Hansen is at Central Avenue.

The Tacoma schools and the number of student teachers in each are: Central, 3; Downing, 2; Fern Hill, 3; Franklin, 3; Mary Lyon, 3; Manitou, 2; Horace Mann, 2; McCarver, 1; Roosevelt, 2; Sheridan, 4; Wainwright, 1; Stewart Junior High, 14; Jason Lee Junior High, 8; Gault Junior High, 3; and Lincoln High, 14.

Schools outside of Tacoma that have student teachers are: Parkland, 4; Central Avenue, 5; Collins, 4; Kapowsin, 2; Clover Park High, 7; Lakeview, 3; Fife, 3; Roy High, 1; Olympia, High, 1; and Puyallup, 3.

Choir Invited to Sing With Symphony

Last night Eugene Linden, co-conductor of the Seattle Symphony, called Mr. Malm in and asked the Choir of the West to sing the choral parts of Mozart's "Magic Flute," to be presented by the symphony in Seattle, Tacoma and Olympia concerts. Unfortunately the concerts are scheduled during the three-week period when the choir is touring the Middle West.

DRG PLANS SKI TRIP

Several DRG girls are planning a ski trip to the Milwaukee Ski Bowl this Saturday. Those planning to go, so far, are Shirley Furseth, Jo Friday, Shirley Sandin, JoAnn Grambo, Eunice Eide, and Betty Hall.

Plans were also begun for the Saga booth and the all-school mixer which will be held March 31.

Pocket League Ends Membership Drive

Pocket Testament League's membership drive was concluded Friday evening with the addition of 88 new members, according to Joyce Ruffcorn, PTL secretary. During the week committee members visited all dormitories and apartments besides operating a booth in Old Main during midday and evening hours. The student body's response to the drive was so great that the supply of Pledge Cards had to be supplemented by local churches. PTL president added "We wish to thank all those who cooperated so willingly and made the drive a success. I hope that the new members, and those of former years will observe the spirit of the pledge in consistent, prayerful reading of God's Word." Anyone interested in membership may still obtain a pledge card from the PTL secretary.

JENS KNUTSON SPEAKS AT CAMPUS DEVOTIONS

"Be ye doers of the Word, and not hearers only," was the central thought of a meditation by Jens Knutson at Campus Devotions, Thursday.

Faith must bear fruit in living and witnessing for Christ. If, in our case this has not been true during the year and the semester that has just come to a close, that time is lost forever, but if we have lived and witnessed for Him, the time will live on in the hearts of others.

Concluding, he said that we cannot must look to the future, and be sure that today we are living for Him.

Alumni and Faculty Meet In Basketball Gigantic

The hoop-gigantic of the year will take place during half-time of the PLC-Central game, Saturday night. A group of alumni basketballers will engage the faculty basketballers in what promises to be one of the most entertaining contests ever played on the Parkland maples.

The alumni have not given out the names of their players as yet but they are expected to field a talented outfit. If possible, some of the old time cheer leaders are going to be asked to lead the rooting sections.

Five names appear on the faculty roster at this time. The faculty squad will be led into battle by Dwight Zulauf, former University of Oregon hoopster. Others that will play for the faculty five are: Robert Johnson, industrial arts teacher; Harry Adams, math. instructor; Everett Larson, English instructor; and last, but not least, Mr. Karl.

It is expected that Mr. Karl will take charge of any difficulties that may take place between his team and the officials. Any true basketball fan will make it a point to remain seated for the half-time entertainment. Carol Schuler, PLC freshman, will give an exhibition of baton twirling that will also add to the festivities.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Marv Tommervik, Lute baseball coach, announces that pitchers and catchers will begin turnouts Monday.

THEO KARL and Harry Adams, shown here, are expected to start against the alumni in the faculty-alumni game tomorrow night. Mr. Karl heads the college speech department, while Mr. Adams is an instructor in mathematics.

Naomi Roe's Team Takes W.A.A. Crown

In spite of bad weather, final examinations, poor attendance and general bad luck the W. A. A. managed to complete four basketball turnouts.

The championship was won by the team captained by Naomi Roe. Her team garnered a 10-0 win over a team captained by JoAnn Nodtvedt in the finals. This victory gave Naomi's team a record of 2 wins and 1 defeat.

The officiating for the season was handled by Joyce Ferguson, Phyllis Lorenzen, Gloria Larson and JoAnn Nodtvedt.

Nine girls received W. A. A. credit for basketball. Those receiving credit were: Naomi Roe, Clarice Gunderson, Norma Anderson, Betty Hall, Anne Stray, Phyllis Lorenzen, Reitha King, Joyce Ferguson and Doris Harvey.

Lutes Meet Central Here Tomorrow Nite

By Jim Kerns

Central Washington's Wildcats invade the Memorial gymnasium Saturday, February 18, for their second game with the Lutheran five this season. Leo Nicholson, who is in his twenty-first year of coaching at Ellensburg, is bringing a group of fine ball players to town.

Outstanding for the Central team are Dean Nicholson, Fred Peterson and Chuck Long. These three have sparked the team through most of the current campaign.

Dean Nicholson, the coach's son, has made the all-conference team three times and has been one of the best scorers on the team this season. Dean has won the inspirational award and been elected captain during his past three seasons. Dean is also the student body president.

Fred Peterson, another senior, has been scoring regularly against all opposition. Fred has made all-conference twice; once as a freshman, and last year he made the second team. In 1949 he was given the inspirational award.

Chuck Long is the number one rebound artist on the Wildcat quintet and has held the post ever since his freshman year. In all three years he was selected to the second team, all-conference.

Thursday, February 23, finds the Lutes playing host to the Western Washington College Vikings. The Vikings have spent most of the season in the second division in spite of occasional scoring sprees.

Sport-Lite

By Kerns

It is a good sign in any school's athletic program when freshman athletes come through with varsity 7 performances. It is a sign that the school involved will have increasingly better teams in future years due to the experience being gained by these frosh.

PLC has been well supplied with freshman athletes so far this season. In football there were several freshmen that received letters and there are some now participating in basketball that are playing quite regularly.

Among the frosh lettering in football were Hal Lyckman, ex-Puyallup star, who started most of the games at quarterback and did the majority of the Lute kicking during the 1949 season. Glen Huffman, Oliver Magnuson, Chuck Forsland, Jack Johnson and Harvey Burger lettered at line positions while Art Swanson, another Puyallup boy, lettered at left half.

The above list includes the better known of the freshman football players. Basketball also boasts of a few stellar frosh that have shown a lot of ability. Jack Johnson and Glen Huffman, who lettered also in football, are, perhaps, the most outstanding. At present Glen is playing outstanding ball and has started several games.

"Big Bill" McDonald, Western's mentor, is a former University of Washington hoopster. He played three seasons with the Huskies and was captain in 1940. Standing six feet, five inches tall and weighing in at 230 pounds, Bill is an impressive man to look at.

This is McDonald's fourth year as head coach at Western. He is also Dean of Men at the Viking school, which makes him one of the youngest college executives in the country.

Heading the Viking attack are Dick Ravenhorst, 6 foot, 6 inch pivot man; Jerry Starr, husky 6 foot, 1 inch forward, and Stan Peterson, fast moving and high scoring guard.

Only one regularly scheduled game will be left on the Lute schedule at the conclusion of these contests. These last home games will mark the finale for Harry McLaughlin, Del Schafer and Fritz Rapp.

Lutes Lose Two

The past weekend saw the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators drop two Evergreen conference tilts. The first defeat was a double overtime affair at St. Martin's which the Lutes dropped 63-65. Saturday the much improved Loggers from CPS sent the Lutes down to defeat, 37-42.

Friday night, February 10, X. Nady's St. Martin's Rangers did what they had failed to do in the past four basket seasons. They defeated the Lutes. Nothing happened until toward the end of the game when the roof caved in. The Rangers drew even with the Lutes with a minute and a half to go. PLC tried to work the ball in for a basket, but the Ranger defense held and the regulation time ended with the score tied 45-45. In the first overtime the Lutes came from behind to tie the score at 54-all. Gene Lundgaard sank a spectacular shot from under the basket. St. Martin's went ahead in the second overtime, and the Gladiators were unable to come from behind.

Lundgaard was high for the night with 19 points, followed closely by Harry McLaughlin, who added 17 to his season's total. High for the Rangers were Jerry Kelly and Bob Bartholomew with 10 each.

Saturday big Red Gibbs and company evened the City basketball chase by trimming the Lutes 42-37. The Loggers have improved greatly since they started their schedule this year.

The Loggers jumped to an early lead, but the Lutes came back to hold a 17-16 half-time edge. The College of Puget Sound took the lead shortly after the half, and the Lutes were never able to come closer than four points.

High point man for the night was Rod Gibbs with 19. Although he only tallied 9 points, Harry McLaughlin was attributed by all as playing one of his finest games of the season.

Intramural Ready For 2nd Round

By Bob Belland

The first round of intramural basketball is finished and the original three leagues have been cut to two with four teams in each league. Those still in the running are the first three teams in leagues A and C, and the first two teams in league B. High scorer so far is Lou Gabrielson with 67 points, followed by Paul Reiman with 52 counters. Incidentally, Lou scored the most points in a single game by dropping 26 points through the hoop.

One of the most exciting games of the first round was a tight defensive battle between the Saints No. 1 and 88's No. 1. Tempers flared as the teams raced up and down the floor with the score favoring first one team and then the other. Final score: Saints 26, 88's 25.

Second round play will continue for the next two weeks with the play-offs scheduled for the week following the regular varsity season. Semi-final and final games will be played the full length of the gym. In the past intramural play-offs have created a great deal of excitement on the campus so, if you have any spare time, try to attend a few of the games.

PLC's Enrollment 970 This Spring

Many new and returning students will be seen around the campus this semester. Coming from the far corners of the nation and Europe, 51 new and 51 returning students will boost PLC's spring enrollment to 970. This figure is approximately 88 students more than the spring enrollment of 1949.

The majority of the new and returning students hail from Washington and Oregon. Students who came out west are Douglas Logan from Michigan, Edward Peterson from Minnesota, and Lewis Stearns from Illinois.

New students from out of the country are George Bendikas from Lithuania, Olaf Magis from Estonia and Robins Dzidra who comes from Latvia.

It is estimated that the combined enrollment of the spring and summer sessions will boost the total number of students to well over eleven hundred.

PLC Group to Visit Seattle Bible Institute

At 6:30 a. m. Wednesday, a sleepy but cheerful group of PLC students will board college busses and set out for the Lutheran Bible Institute in Seattle. PLC and LBI students will attend classes together, and the chapel hour program will be conducted by the PLC students. Arrangements have also been made to permit the visitors to eat their noonday meal with the members of the LBI boarding club.

Twenty-six have already indicated that they intended to go. Others who are interested will find further information at the college switchboard.

Alpha Psi Omega Initiates New Members; Pledges Shine Shoes, Sell Apples, Suckers

By Glenna Nelson

All those pledges who survived the strenuous week became official members of Alpha Psi Omega Monday night.

Pledge week was opened Monday evening with a lavish meat loaf dinner in the boarding club at P. L. C. The members and advisers, Mrs. Shaffer, Miss McGregor, and Mrs. Karl, were served capably by the pledges. After dinner the pledges were privileged to drink their coffee from demitasse cups (milk pitchers).

If any one didn't get relish with the dinner, it was not the fault of Jim Williamson—he graciously served all who would accept.

On Tuesday if you saw Ed Dorothy on his knees to Bert Schoessler, he was not being untrue to Edna—just reciting Shakespeare.

The things you saw in the dining hall may have looked like ham between those sandwich boards but actually it was future Alpha Psi members. (Or was it ham?)

Some of the members asked a poor pledge for mood music while they were eating. It was a good thing they didn't specify the mood, as poor Jimmy wasn't prepared.

Wednesday was the hardest day for most of the pledges. Not being able to talk to the opposite sex was really a chore. Gene Ahrendt and Faye Olson went to chapel together to remove all temptation from their silent partners.

Some found talking expensive. Saying goodnight to Edna cost Ed Dorothy 20 demerits. "Mother" Schoessler overheard.

Mr. Karl was a little harder on his subject. Jon Ericson was fined 30 demerits for talking to a girl.

LaWanna Wellsandt said it all went well until she and other pledges went to the concert in the evening. Then her comment was "what they don't know won't hurt them."

Thursday was the day for salesmen. LaWanna and Ed sold apples and suckers at 10c and 2c respectively. Jim sold Valentines for 2c and 3c. John Unis and the Ericson brothers polished shoes in the main hall for 10c a shine. Some of them did so well that they are contemplating quitting school and going into business (especially John Unis).

Friday saw a change from sales people to cleaning. When they were finished, the speech offices and make-up room shone as not even the old members could have done.

After a weekend of liberty, the members used the proceeds of their sales for a party for the members. Ed Dorothy was master of ceremonies and the others performed in other ways. I've heard that John Unis is better at polishing shoes than he is at parlor tricks. Jim Williamson rendered a heart warming ballad and LaWanna Willsandt tap (if you'll pardon the expression) danced. Everyone was entertained by the Ericson brothers who debated on a very timely subject.

When they had finished eating the cake and ice cream, which was purchased with the profits of Thursday's enterprises, the six pledges were welcomed into Alpha Psi Omega.

In Ann Arbor, the Grand Rapids Room on the campus is a favorite student gathering spot. In the Grand Rapids Room—Coca-Cola is the favorite drink. With the college crowd at the University of Michigan, as with every crowd—Coke belongs.
