

Elliot Metcalf To Speak at Football Banquet Tonight

Affair Scheduled for Six o'Clock With Dean Hauge as Toastmaster; Fifteen Athletes to Receive Awards

Mr. Elliot Metcalf, sports editor of the Tacoma Times, will be the guest speaker at the annual Football Banquet to be given in the College dining hall tonight at six o'clock.

Presiding as toastmaster will be Dean Phillip E. Hauge. The school orchestra, directed by Prof. Joe O. Edwards, will present several selections; Eugene Burgoyne will play a violin solo, and the men's quartet, consisting of Arnold Anderson, Emmet Thompson, Robert Morrison, and Osten Ellasen, will sing.

Coch C. O. Olson, Prof. J. P. Pfeuffer, team physician, Harold Votaw, captain of the 1934 football team, and John Van Leuven, student body president, will give short talks. Football awards will be made by Dr. O. A. Tingelstad to the following men: Sheldon Moe, John Padness, Harold Votaw, Harold O'Conner, Russell Frye, Loyal Sanderson, Marvin Hansen, Gene Jack, Edward Svith, who will receive sweaters for two or more years of play; Oliver Ludlow, Harold Nilsen, Francis Archibold, Paul Hvidding, Lawrence Grenier, Chester Solle, who will receive letters for one year of play, and Eldon Anderson and Herbert Norgaard, who will receive sweaters for their work as managers.

Skating Party Hands Out That Old 'Tired Feeling'

Tis the morning after the skating party, and all through the dorm the "old faithfuls" send out their chimes at 7:00 sharp. Not a person stirs save those outstretching to answer the bident call of their '98 centers. A mere turn of the head and a blink of the eye and off again to slumber land—again disturbed by the sound of a shrill cry piercing the hall—and another turn. It is none other than the warning bell. A warning that another minute spent in bed will cause the loss of at least 385 calories, (well, that's all the girls eat for breakfast). Sounds of groans and pains are heard as the anatomy is being removed from under the blankets. Some roll back to their usual positions again only to sleep through the second and third periods.

Still the same cheery "good mornings" are heard and still the same bright shiny faces are seen, but little is realized all the agony that all are undergoing who attended the "fete." Congrats go out to the first timers who "can take it" like they do. Little do we care for few bruises or marks but instead hear the questions "When is the next one?" or "Why don't we have these parties more often." Good sports I call it.

German Club Planning Luncheon For Tuesday

A special meeting of the German Club was held yesterday to practice German songs and discuss plans for a luncheon to be held next Tuesday when the club hopes to have Dr. Warren Tomlinson head of the German department of the College of Puget Sound as guest speaker. His topic will be the "Saur Bastin."

L. D. R. To Have Yule Party Tuesday, Dec. 18

Many Christmas parties are being planned. Not to be outdone the L. D. R. is making a Christmas party the feature of their next meeting, which will be on Tuesday afternoon, December 18. Mrs. Hauge and Mrs. Ramstad are hostesses.

Professor Pfeuffer will be the speaker at this meeting. Other numbers on the program are: Vocal solo, Evelyn Sverson; piano solo, Dorothy Anderson; vocal duet, Irene Odell and Aida Johnson.

Gifts of toys will be brought which are to be given to the Children's Home in Everett. The remainder of the afternoon will be spent in singing Christmas carols.

A Christmas greeting, in the form of a big box of Holly, was sent to the Lutheran Deaconess Hospital in Chicago.

Dog More Consistent Than Man Is Claim

By James Gillilan
For consistent inconsistency, I firmly maintain that we humans take the proverbial cake. We, as a race, claim to be the absolute monarch of our kind, and of all other creatures. We are the superintendent and executive council of this machine. We are endowed with a soul and a conscience which, we claim, distinguishes us from other beasts. We can think, talk, read and write, and yet, if consistency is an attribute, we can certainly lay no righteous claim to it. A dog lives his life dumbly. His mute existence is day-to-day and hand-to-mouth, yet he is consistent. He eats when and where he can. His enemies are cats, and small boys who throw stones. From his natal day until he whinnily gives his ghost to eternal caninity, these enemies are his by right of inheritance and birth. The moratorium, or peace pacts, or treaties, or arms limitations, conferences alter not the case that a cat is a cat.

On the other hand, the human who feeds him, keeps him, and cares for him is his Master to whom he shows a devotion and unflinching faithfulness from birth to death. He is consistent. He is as consistent in his emotions and habits as was his gaunt gray wild predecessor who roamed the hills in bands, thousands of years before.

A cat is said to be more fickle, but I believe that that is an individual trait, and cannot be plastered as a habit against the entire feline kingdom.

Looking at these lower case animals, carnivorous and vegetarian, we can readily see that their very consistency saves them much trouble. Of course, we understand that they have not the problems of massed humanity, uni-government, and corporations. But, hypothetically, of course, what would be some of our social scheme were we to live at large as do the dogs and cats? Sometimes it is not difficult to conceive of a far happier world were we humans endowed with such intelligence and ingenious propensities, out of which have grown all our troubles.

Would not we be able to live with approximately the same standards as those which we are striving so hard to uphold now?

I firmly believe that a bad dog is a social pariah, and is shunned by the society of good dogs. I believe that there exists an intelligent discrimination in the canine world. Of course, I am un-

Christmas Concert To Be Presented by Choir Sunday Night

Annual Affair Slated for 7:30 in College Gymnasium; 9 Chorus Numbers on Program

The annual Christmas concert will be presented by the College acappella choir at 7:30 Sunday evening in the College gymnasium.

This has always been one of the outstanding performances of the year, and much enthusiasm has always marked each presentation. This year, Professor J. O. Edwards assures us, will be no exception.

The following selections will be given on this, the third public appearance of the choir this year:

- "The Spirit Also Helpeth Us" Johann Bach
- "Glorification" F. Melius Christianson
- "Christmas Cradle Song" George Schumann
- Evelyn Sverson, soloist
- "Lost in the Night" F. Melius Christianson
- Pauline Watts, soloist
- "Taenk Nord Engvang" Norwegian Folk Song
- Ronald Martin, soloist
- "Chittum Come on Home" Eivind Olen
- Arnold Anderson, soloist
- "Three Kings" Ramola Rust, soloist
- "Beautiful Savior" F. Melius Christianson
- Mildred Monson, soloist

Roland Swanson Elected Treasurer of L. S. A. A.

Roland Swanson was elected treasurer of the Pacific Northwest Region of the Lutheran Students' Association of America at its annual convention in Seattle Nov. 30 to Dec. 2. The convocation was held in the University Lutheran Church, Rev. O. A. Bremer's charge, with the Inkwell Club of the University of Washington as host.

Roland and Milton Nesvig represented P. L. C. as delegates to the convention. Delegates from O. S. C., W. S. C., Oregon U., C. P. S., U. W., and Bellingham Normal were in attendance.

The topic discussed was "The Need of the World," with confidence, stability, and leadership as sub-topics. Rev. Fritz, Rev. Schoeler, and Rev. Lundblad, student pastors, presented these topics. Dr. Mary Markley of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of Education in the United Lutheran Church attended, speaking twice and acting as adviser.

Students Write Letters To Dear Old Santa Claus

Dear Santa Claus, Please bring me one pair of fleecelined slippers to keep my toes warm. My old ones are worn out from running back and forth to the shower room. Please bring Joe Mitchell a pair too, because we are roommates and he'll be wearing mine 'cus he hasn't any.
Your little friend,
Stanley Ford

P. S. Please bring Inky a new saucer. Chester dropped a hair brush on the old one.

All-School Christmas Party To Be Held In Gym Friday Evening At 8

Sophomore Class To Give Chapel Program Tomorrow

Tomorrow, under the general arrangement of Eline Benson, the Sophomore class will present a program at the chapel exercise.

Ione Madson and Eline Benson will play "Dream of Love" in a piano duet; Margaret Craft will give a reading entitled "The Ride of Jennie McNeal"; Valborg Norby and Ellen Bergstrom are to furnish a vocal duet, "The Shepherd of Love"; and Harold O'Conner will play two trumpet solos, "Roses of Picardy," and "Calm is the Night."

First Joint Affair of Pop Club and Delta Rho Gammas Under New Plan

Coming as one of the outstanding social events of the Christmas season is the all-college Christmas party which will be held in the gymnasium, Friday evening, December 14, at 8 o'clock. Sponsored by girls of the Pop Club and Delta Rho Gamma, this function is the first of the projects to be undertaken jointly by the two groups.

Coming in the nature of a surprise the program will include outside as well as school talent.

Hostesses for the affair are Gertrude Stenberg and Margaret Craft, presidents of the two clubs, who have appointed the following committees: entertainment and program, Ellen Bergstrom, chairman, Irene Odell, Mary Nash, Louise Hendrickson, Lila Rudd; refreshments, Helen Lilja, chairman, Aida Johnson, Judy Benson, Thelma Ness; favors, Joanna Manousses, chairman, Mildred Monson, Novell Nagel; invitations, Volly Norby; decoration, Gertrude Stenberg, chairman, Eivind Olen, Mabel Heggen, Dorothy Anderson, Elizabeth Dahl, Norma Preus, Edna Kelsey.

Admission to the party will be a toy, which will be turned over for use in spreading Christmas cheer among the needy. Those in charge extend a hearty welcome to all students and faculty members, and hope to establish a precedent for future years.

Drama Club to Give Cantata and Play

Annual Christmas Program Planned for Thursday, Dec. 20, in College Gym at Eight O'clock

For its annual Christmas entertainment the Drama Club will present the cantata, "Good Will to Men," and a one-act play, "A Greene Christmas," Thursday evening, December 20, at eight o'clock in the gym. As an added feature the school orchestra, under the direction of Lewis G. Hunter will play several appropriate selections.

The cantata is under the direction of Eleanor Raudebaugh and Arnold Anderson, with Mr. Reid assisting in the chorus work; and the play is being supervised by Lila Rudd.

The cast of "Good Will to Men" is as follows: sopranos, Ellen Bergstrom, Mildred Monson, Pauline Watts, Rhoda Hokenstad, Evelyn Sverson, Ione Madson, Jane Williams, Ramola Rust, Helma Daniele; altos, Helen Lilja, Helen Holtcamp, Valborg Norby, Margaret Rorem, Aida Johnson, Irene Odell; tenors, Vern Knutzen, Joe Mitchell, Roland Swanson, Bob Svare, Emmet Thympe; basses, James Gillilan, Clyde Grimstvedt, Eldon Anderson, Osten Ellasen, Frank Hayward, Harold O'Conner, Paul Preus.

Those who will appear in "A Greene Christmas" are: Ellen Bergstrom, Alvin Arne, Francis Archibold, John Van Leuven, Ed Svith, Louise Williams, Hedvig Dahle, Clifford Haugen, Marie Johnson, Laura Hauge, Eline Benson, Joe Mitchell, Erling Larsen, Arthur Haavik, Rachel Flint, Alice Nolan.

The cast of "Good Will to Men," including those with solos, those with speaking parts, and those singing in the chorus, is as follows: Pauline Watts, Rhoda Hokenstad, Evelyn Sverson, Ione Madson, Jane Williams, Ramola Rust, Thelma Daniele, Helen Lilja, Helen Holtcamp, Valborg Norby, Margaret Rorem, Aida Johnson, Irene Odell, Bergliot Vogan, Vern Knutzen, Robert Monson, Roland Swanson, Robert Svare, Emmet Thompson, James Gillilan, Clyde Grimstvedt, Osten Ellasen, Frank Hayward, Harold O'Conner, Paul Preus, William Pfeuffer, Ralph Bolstad, and Jasper Johnson.

Those who will appear in "A Greene Christmas" are: Ellen Bergstrom, Alvin Arne, Francis Archibold, Robert Martin, Edward Svith, Louise Williams, Hedvig Dahle, Clifford Haugen, Marie Johnson, Laura Hauge, Eline Benson, Joe Mitchell, Erling Larsen, Arthur Haavik, Rachel Flint, and Mildred Monson.

Dodder Tells Folks Of 'Everything And Nothing'

Dear Ma and Pa:

I been pudding off this letter for about four weeks becuz I have been so busy. You see, I been knittin that purple necktie what I am making for Unkul George for Christmas an I had to rip it four times. I spilled ink on it too, but I guess he can wear that side next to his shirt. I wou da wrote last week on y I was to buy ciding them nuts an stuff you sent. I didn't have no nut cracker so I had to use my head; to think of a way to crack the nuts I mean.

The peopul hear are very nice and good to me. I had a date the other nite. One of the girls got a big box of them from home. They were stuffed too.

It shure gets foggy hear. The other morning Roony an me overslept. We told the girls that the fog had come in so thick thru the window that the alarm wouldn't penetrate (scuse spelling) but then we lafsted and lafsted us we knew we had forgot to wind the clock.

I shure an anxious to come home for Christmas. I invited that girl to come down to the farm like you said I could. I told her that I had wrote to tell you to get the horses ready an she said "oh we always have goose an our house."

I have been trying to think of what I would like Santa to bring me for Christmas. I haven't wrote to him yet, but I guess there will be lots of time. I think I better hang out my class on this line becuz it is the last one.
Your very affechnate dodder,
Annabelle.

A New Challenge

It sounded good to the ears of us students who heard the chapel talk by Mr. W. F. Martin of the Washington State Education Department, to hear the confidence expressed in the future. Accustomed to and almost calloused by the gloom of these depression years, we have all but lost a motive for work and study. This talk was a new challenge. It reminded us that we are living in a country rich in natural resources, and that right now the Federal government is building two great projects, the Coulee and the Bonneville dams which will harness the power of the Columbia river and make of our Northwest a manufacturing center.

We have resources, increasing knowledge in engineering, manufacturing, commercial chemistry. On our mountain slopes still stand billions of feet of virgin timber; our soil is fertile, and friendly winds from the warm Pacific prolong the growing season; splendid harbors are here ready to send and receive ships carrying the world's commerce, while super-highways speed transportation between our cities. It would be an odd outcome if in spite of all these the future should perish from want. Finally, there is still a God who looks after the affairs of men, who sees to it that not even a sparrow falls without his permission.

Advent Season

Now is the advent season in our church year, a reminder to us that someday we must take leave of this life. We are young; there are many things we plan to do before this takes place; therefore it seems a long way off and we seldom give thought to it, yet it is a fact. If we were simply the creature of chance this could afford us little worry and it were well that we shunned the thought of it; but if it is true that our life has little value, "whence this pleasing thought, this yearning for immortality?" It is well for us to give thought to this question.

A Year Since Miss Fowler's Passing

It is a year ago this month since the passing of Miss Sophia Rae Fowler from the ranks of the Pacific Lutheran College faculty, called to her heavenly home. To those of us who knew her this anniversary of her passing is a remembrance of a character that was beautiful, that was truly Christian, that worked hard to fulfill her tasks here at Pacific Lutheran College. The following is the student body tribute to Miss Fowler printed in last year's Mooring Mast whose number corresponds with this issue:

"In the sacred memory of Miss Sophia Rae Fowler, who was called from our midst to her heavenly home, we, the members of the Associated Student Body of Pacific Lutheran College, do express our deep sorrow in her passing from us, and our great joy in knowing she is not really lost to us, but has only gone before, and is awaiting our arrival in the homeland of the redeemed.

"Her scholarship, her understanding love, and her high devotion will be missed keenly by the student body.

"Beautiful in life, in death an inspiration, she was loved by all in life; and her memory will ever be recalled by those of us who knew her so well."

LIGHTER THAN AIR

By Bob Monson

Goodby! A professor says that our real rivals are insects. But it's hard to make the girl of our dreams realize it, eh, you and you and you?

While it may be true that pills never made muscles, still we remember some fairly heavy exercise derived from shoving them around at basketball games last year.

The average dorm guy should be able to play basketball. He dribbles his foot.

The dorm guy may find the safety pin okay as a substitute for a button, but it is not so good for closing the hole in the toe of a sock.

HAVE YOU MET?

The "Blonde Venus" of the graduating class. That smile is forever remembered by all and has the power to refresh the sorrowing and fretful.

She's a prominent member of the Board of Control and acts as vice president of the Associated Student Body.

Her moments are given to the orchestra and choir as she has been a member of both for two years.

This charming miss was one of the princesses at the May Day fete held on the campus last year.

The Drama club has held her membership for two years and we find her outstanding in dramatic work. And can she translate those French stories! At least the French club enjoys them. She is a member of the I. U. She rides back and forth from Brookdale every day, and doesn't find the journey a bit tiresome, so she says. To know her is to like her. So meet her.

Popularity himself? This ambitious, well-liked individual is surely it. You can see him any time during "grub time" in the kitchen dressed in a white apron and pushing the cart around. You guessed, he's one of the waiters.

He has had his "quarters" in the dorm for two years and this year was made "big chief" of the dorm union.

As Commissioner of Athletics he is a member of the Board of Control and also Assistant Manager to the athletic teams.

A great deal of his time is given to his "friend trombone" and also the choir. He has been a member of the choir and orchestra for two years. This year being elected as president of the choir.

He also holds the important office in the Mission Society as president and fulfills his duty well.

He's got the school spirit. Let's get associated!

PREXY'S CORNER

"Send ten cents and get big mail!" read the tempting advertisements of boyhood. Years later, every day's mail is a big mail, the problem is how to dispose of it.

We may see the hunger for "big mail" or even a single letter at every morning's mail hour at our postoffice. The month of December is a good time to ponder the reasons why.

Having analyzed the reasons, each in his or her own case, let us do our bit to satisfy this longing in others. Today, with Christmas cheer beginning to unfold us again, what kind of messages are we sending, and to whom, and why?

O. A. TINGELSTAD

Chapel Gleanings

"Fear not for ye are of more value than many sparrows."

Through His God tells us not to fear.

We should confess the Lord because of the value he places upon us.

Confess the triune God before men, in order that His will may be done.

Tingelstad

When we begin to count the blessings of God, we become overwhelmed with their number.

Christian People are the only people in the world who can properly give thanks to God.

A Christian gives thanks to God always.

Let our lives be one continual thanksgiving for the blessings of God.

Sometime-someday we must all stand in the presence of a righteous God.

Where man could not find a way God himself has built a way. His Son, Jesus Christ is that way, a living way—the bridge to God.

He is our God and High Priest along that living way which leads Home.

In this church year, let us follow the living way.

Hoopsters to Open Season With Harbor Team Here Saturday

Last Season's Champs Meet Strong Aberdeen J. C. Outfit In First Conference Tilt

Plunging into one of the heaviest schedules in the history of P. L. C. with only two weeks of practice the Gladiators will meet the strong Aberdeen Junior College squad Saturday night at 7:30 on the local maples.

Coach Cliff Olson is taking a squad into this game which he says has more all around strength and greater possibilities than even last year's State Championship Team. Whether, out of this squad he can weld together a five man combination which will click together as a unit is another thing.

Remembering the close, hard fought game last year against this same club in the season opener in which the Lutherans were extended to two overtime periods before eking out a 31-28 victory, Coach Olson is pessimistic regarding his team's chances for victory. Another cause for Olson's gloom is the fact that the Aberdeen aggregation has been practicing for the past several weeks and will undoubtedly present a much smoother working outfit than the Glads, who have not yet polished off their rough spots.

With only three men sure of starting Saturday night, the Lutheran mentor declared that he will not name his final starting lineup until the game time. "Dutch" Moe, forward, Harold Nilson, center, and John Fadness, guard, seem to have clinched their respective positions, with Gene Jack, two way letterman, a likely starter at either forward or guard. The other position will be hotly contested for by "Chet" Solle, transfer from Mount Vernon Junior College, Loyal Sanderson, veteran forward, and Arnold Tommerik, promising newcomer from Lakewood.

Others who will undoubtedly see action in the game are Carl Coltum, letterman of a couple of years back, Hal Votaw, another letterman, Stan Ford and Russ Frye, guards.

Hoop Season Here Again

1934-5 Schedule

Saturday, December 15	Aberdeen Junior College	Here
Monday, December 17	Oregon Institute of Technology	Here
Tuesday, December 18	Oregon Institute of Technology	Here
Friday, December 21	Centralia Junior College	There
Saturday, January 12	Centralia Junior College	Here
Wednesday, January 16	Yakima Junior College	There
Saturday, January 26	Mount Vernon Junior College	Here
Thursday, January 31	Yakima Junior College	Here
Thursday, February 7	Mount Vernon Junior College	There
Thursday, February 14	Spokane University	Here
Wednesday, February 20	Aberdeen Junior College	There

There will also be games with the following, but no definite dates have been set as yet: Seattle Pacific College, Whitworth College, Coeur d'Alene College, St. Martin's, University of British Columbia, and return games with Spokane University and Bellingham Normal.

Dr. Tingelstad Speaker At Mission Society Meet

Dr. O. A. Tingelstad spoke at the meeting of the Mission Society in the recreation room last night.

Other numbers on the program included: scripture reading and prayer by Ruth Froyen, a vocal duet by Clyde Grimsveld and James Gillilan, a piano solo by Thelma Daniels, and a trumpet solo by Harold O'Conner.

Squad of 28 Turns Out for Basketball

Fine Material, Including Five Lettermen Make Outlook for Season Bright

Determined to retain possession of the trophy which they won last year, 28 prospective hoopsters answered the call for the first scrimmage Monday, Dec. 3.

"Dutch" Moe, high scorer on last year's team, Loyal Sanderson and Hal Votaw, forwards, Gene Jack, center, and John Fadness, guard, are the returning lettermen around whom Coach Olson will build his squad. Nilson, towering center from Everett High, will undoubtedly find a spot on the first string. Solle, Mt. Vernon J. C. flash, and Tommerik, a Lakewood boy, will be furnishing plenty of competition for starting positions. Ford and O'Conner will also be fighting for positions. Coach Olson expressed himself as well pleased with his material and held hopes for another highly successful season.

Those issued equipment for the first practice were: Moe, Jack, Fadness, Votaw, Sanderson, Solle, Ford, Mitchell, Pflueger, Nilson, Frye, Anderson, Tommerik, Knutzen, Haavik, O'Conner, Archbold, Meaford, Johnson, Hughes, Martin, Dreibeis, Preus, Olsson, Coltum, Lipps, Hanbury, and Hanson.

Glads Take Ballard 46-17 In First Game

Squad Shows All-Around Strength; Reserves Take Ballard Seconds, 24-22

Paced by Moe, stellar forward, the P. L. C. hoopmen won their first tilt of the season by a lopsided score of 46-17 from Ballard Lutheran Monday evening.

The score indicates the strength of this year's squad because the Ballard quintet is considered one of the strongest teams in the City Church League of Seattle.

Moe was high scorer with 12 tallies. Fadness, veteran guard, with ten. The visitor's high point man was Olson with 6.

The P. L. C. Reserves opened their season with a win over the Ballard First Lutheran Seconds. The game was close all the way through. P. L. C. having the slight edge. The score at the half stood 13-10 in favor of P. L. C. The second half was nip and tuck all the way, the Ballard boys picking up momentum. However, the game ended their threat. Final score, P. L. C. 24, Ballard 22.

Wagner, Sigurdson and O. Fiarlie were tied for high point honors with 5 counters each. O'Conner was high for the Lutherans with 4.

P. L. C. (46)	(17) Ballard Lutheran
Moe (12)	F. (3) B. Sigurdson
Solle (4)	F. (1) J. Sigurdson
Nilson (6)	C. (1) J. Fiarlie
Jack (2)	G. (1) E. Johnson
Fadness (10)	G. (6) J. Olson

Subs: P. L. C.—Coltum, Votaw (2), Sanderson (3), Preus, Ford (1); Ballard Lutheran—Stokee (5).
Starting lineup:

P. L. C. (24)	(22) Ballard Lutheran
Anderson (2)	F. (5) T. Wagner
Knutzen (2)	F. (5) S. Sigurdson

Theater Party Held By Grad Class Friday Eve

With Thelma Daniels as hostess and Bertrum Myhre as host, the Senior class held a party at the Roxy Theater, Friday evening.

After the show, the class went to the Coffee Tavern of the Winthrop Hotel for refreshments and a short program.

Arnold Anderson, accompanied by Irene Odell, sang "Stars Fell on Alabama" and "Moonlight Madonna." Other numbers were: a violin solo by Eugene Burgoyne and a piano solo by Rhoda Hokenstad. Miss Vivian Johnson, Normal Department Supervisor, Mrs. Lora B. Kreidler, Dean of Women, and several class members gave impromptu talks.

Mary Nash, chairman, William Pflueger, and Dille Quale comprised the committee who arranged the program.

Our attention is focused on the gym these days. Coach Olson is drilling four hoop squads, trying to pick a team capable of defending the trophy cup won last year. The men who have made the most impressions are Moe, Sanderson, Solle, forwards; Nilson, center; Jack, Fadness and Tommerik, guards. These seem to work most effectively together and were the starters against Ballard Lutheran Monday evening.

S. S.

Believe it or not, mates, I mean folks, we have a High School basketball squad that is a basketball squad. Do you know what those youngsters did the other night in scrimmage with the College squad? Well, ask the College boys; they will tell you. I think they are very much ashamed at the showing they made against the boys of the academy. The scrimmage was, however, a practice one for both sides.

S. S.

Our first conference basketball game will be next Saturday here, with the Aberdeen Junior College five. The Aberdeen boys have been practicing all fall and should be plenty strong. Our boys, however, handicapped by lack of practice, will be out there defending the coveted trophy won by P. L. C. last year.

S. S.

Wednesday evening is the annual football banquet. Letters and sweaters will be awarded to football men and managers. Let's all turn out for this big event and pay final tribute to the fellows who played so valiantly making it possible to have the most successful season ever had at P. L. C.

S. S.

Our first real basketball game occurs Saturday evening. Let's show the spirit at basketball games that we showed at the football games. They need your support now as well as in the past.

S. S.

Nilson seems to have pushed Jack, last year's center, into guard position.

S. S.

"Much Do!" I mean "Dutch" Moe has his old forward position back again. Remember "Dutch" was the best forward in the conference last year. Watch his snook this year.

S. S.

Remember folks, first conference game next Saturday. Let's pack the old gym and show our team that we are behind them.

High School Notes

By Harry Ortbobm

The Home Relations Class sent a plant to Mrs. Taylor, who was confined to her home with a severe cold last week.

The Girl's Sewing Club met at the home of Alice Box, Thursday, December 6. Refreshments were served by the hostess. These girls work on a variety of things, among others, crocheting and making pillow-cases. No one can deny that this club turns out very creditable pieces of needle-work.

Due to lack of time, the Graduating Class decided, last Friday, to postpone their dinner party until after Christmas vacation. The class sweaters were again discussed and the colors will be decided upon next meeting.

Do you know?

With his father as business manager of the College, he has inherited a very good knowledge of financial matters. An excellent student, his name always appears on the Honor Roll. Even athletics can present no barrier to him, as he is the crack shot of the high school basketball team. Through his teachers call him Paul, we all know him by his nickname "Peanuts." Yet his size does not prevent him from being one of the most active members of the Senior Class. "Peanuts" does not say much, but you may be sure his words are worth listening to. Perhaps small in stature, still his heart is as big as a house.

Paul Larson was described in Do you know?

The High School Home Relations class gave a luncheon for their mothers, and the faculty wives, Wed. Nov. 28. Held at the home of Virginia Lou Harris, with the entire group acting as hostesses, its main purpose was to demonstrate the knowledge gained in that class.

Somebody told so that:

"Jackie" is a favorite word with Peggy Ramstad.

Bob Krull is a confirmed woman-hater. Except on week-ends.

Paul Preus and Elizabeth Dahl are the long and short of it.

Gary Pfueger has begun to write poetry about the girls in the Dorm.

Dog Is Consistent

able to prove that definitely. But dogs have often proved that they possess a far greater intelligence than that for which we are inclined to credit them. If a dog can be made to understand human words, such as the guarding of a band of sheep which at one time, many years ago, must have been that dog's ancestor's natural prey, then is it far-fetched to believe that a dog can differentiate between right and wrong in his own world?

We as humans, can boast of an intelligence which has landed us into the gates of the greatest world-wide depression yet known to history. We are starving in a land of plenty simply because of a deflated and useless monetary system.

Do you suppose that a herd of short-haired dogs would starve to death in a meat-house, simply because they didn't have long hair as the canine owners of the house had? Can you think that the long hairs would suffer the short hairs to starve? Of course not! They are far to un-intelligent for that! Yet we humans are doing that very thing. We can't co-operate, never have, and probably never will so long as our slowly decaying financial, governmental, and social schemes persist in using their super-intelligence. What in should do is to use 98% horse, or dog sense and 2% ingenuity. If a better system cannot evolve from the fertile depths of our brain, then far better for us to sleep in the kennel and bequeath our own living quarters to KING Canine.

'P. K.' Uses Scripture To Solve Difficult Problem

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Golden. Colo.—John Marlin, a freshman at the Colorado School of Mines, when confronted with a tricky problem in mathematics recently, sought help from the Bible—and found there the logical solution.

The problem is this: Divide an estate of $100,000 into four parts, each of the four heirs to receive amounts in proportion of 1, 2, 4, and 8.

John's solution read: $6,666.66 to the first, $13,333.33 to the second, $26,666.66 to the third, and $53,333.35 to the fourth. His footnote read: "I gave the extra two cents to the last because to him who hath, it shall be given."

The professor marked John's paper perfect. John is the son of a Methodist minister.

Greetings, folks! We're in the same predicament as a person who, after being called upon to speak at a banquet can't think of a joke to start with and finds out that he's the joke. Bert Myhre got his hooks on our joke book and spilled 'em all at the Senior party.

K. K.

Speaking of the Senior Party—hats off to these in charge. As the old saying goes it was "effectively planned and produced." However, (there was one surprising feature—the brevity of the ladies' talks. That's always the way, but when one doesn't care to hear them—

K. K.

Monday morning, ice on the pond! Looks like we'll go ice skating in a few days." Tuesday morning, Juice Plusius opens up! "Nice weather for ducks."

K. K.

Before our stomachs has barely had time to resume its normal shape after being stretched fifty different ways over Thanksgiving, along comes Christmas bringing more grief to our poor bodies. What'll I give her (or him)? Where'll I get the money? I wonder if he's gonna give me something, or should I just send him a card? And so on and so forth.

K. K.

Here it is December, football season is over, basketball is beginning, and we haven't organized a Sage staff, an editor hasn't been chosen. Such negligence! If we are to have an annual this year, it's about time to get going. Do we want to go two years agin without a publication? No. Of what good is an annual if it isn't an annual. Let's have some action!

K. K.

It's been tried and is used at several institutions and now is being considered here. What is it? Open house in the dormitories. A very good idea. Such a plan would encourage the students, especially the boys, to keep their rooms in order and would foster the family spirit already so prevalent here.

K. K.

St. Olaf College has a good plan in conjunction with their 'Open House.' A contest is held in which those whose room is kept up the best receive a prize. We think this isn't a bad idea and would like to see some favorable action taken on it as soon as possible.

K. K.

Well, so long, patient readers, guess we've said enough; maybe too much. See you next week when we hope to have lots of good jokes and lots of Christmas cheer to spread.

When we are worshipping God and praising Him, we are glorifying Him. We can glorify God by our lives and our work.

There is nothing as beautiful as the human body. We should endeavor to preserve our bodies.

Glorify God with your body as well as your mind, for both are God's. Xavier.

Santa Claus Letters

boy happy this year? You could if you brought him a pretty pair of black and white checked pajamas. If you have no black and white checked ones, it would be all right to bring black and white polka dots or stripes, just so they are black and white. They don't need to be washed so much.

Patiently yours, Paul Higby

Dear Santa Claus,

Merry Christmas to you and Mrs. Santa too. I never did thank you for all the lovely things you brought me last year, but they are worn now. I only want one thing this year, but I want that bad, and nothing would make me more happy; so please, please Santa, make me happy. I do so want a letter from my Swede, and I don't care whether it is in English or Swedish, just so it is a letter.

Anxious, Hazel Hagerup

Dear Santa Claus,

I have been an awful good girl this year, and I hope you'll not forget me at Christmas. There is only one thing that I want real bad this Christmas, and that is a joke book, just full of good jokes. I want them to tell at the dinner table with my class mates. My friends are tiring of my old ones. Please see that some "Aubrey stories" are mixed among them.

Always waiting, I am your truly, Thelma Ness

Dear Santa Claus,

I have always thought about writing to you a lot, but it seems as if I am awful busy right around Christmas as I always help my mama with the chores. I would kinda like a car for Christmas. Not a toy one but a real honest to goodness one, that burns real gas. I am becoming very bored riding to town on the street car all the time. If you have an extra one please leave it at our house too, cuz we need two of them.

Thanking you in advance, Your friend, Marvin Hansen

Dear Santa Claus,

Would it be troubling you to much if I were to ask you for a new dictionary. I have learned my old one by heart and find that I have nothing to do in my spare moments.

Sincerely, Jim Reems

gave "Inky" a bath to get recognition in the Mooring Mast. Burgoyne took Odell to the Senior party and Bucky was seen with Syverson at the Music Box the same evening. Yve Knutzen spends some of his evenings at the Davis mansion. Norgaard is the self appointed president of the local "Bachelors Club." Ray Reid's got a girl, but little Dorn doesn't even know it. Bert Myhre spent Thanksgiving vacation in McCleary. Mary Naah and Louise Jackson were on time for two meals last week. Walt Young looks to that sweet thing "after every meal"—good old Rose. Dempster can never be found in the building in the evenings. Haavik started the rumpus in the Dorn Saturday night. Archie sits in the Benson parlor every evening—that's what Judy told us. Alvin Arne is a new addition to the Bachelors Club. Everett Lipps is beautiful. Frye and Dale write notes in Econ class. Orv Schlanbusch is an Englishman when he uses the telephone.
