

Grads to Present Two One-Act Plays Tomorrow Evening

Edgar Larson to Have Lead in Comedy, "Station YYY" And Gilbert Sydow in Drama, "The Forfeit"

At eight o'clock tomorrow night, the college gymnasium will be the scene of the annual graduation class productions. Beside the two one-act plays to be presented, the college orchestra, under the direction of Lewis G. Hunter, will play several selections. Much work has been done on the plays during the last weeks, according to Mrs. Taylor, director, so that exceptionally good presentations are expected.

The first play to be presented, "The Forfeit," a drama by T. B. Rogers, deals with the problems of a modern office in which a man finds he cannot successfully mix business with pleasure. The second, "Station YYY," is a comedy by Booth Tarkington. This concerns a family who solves its difficulties via radio. Included in the casts of the two productions are:

- "The Forfeit"
- |              |                 |
|--------------|-----------------|
| Mr. Sheldon  | Gilbert Sydow   |
| Miss Hyde    | Ellen Soley     |
| Thurupp      | William Pfeuger |
| Mr. Pembrey  | Clarence Roen   |
| Mrs. Mullina | Dickie Leland   |
- "Station YYY"
- |                   |                  |
|-------------------|------------------|
| Herbert Winstead  | Edgar Larson     |
| Mrs. Winstead     | Alberta Schmitz  |
| Anita Winstead    | Nellie Olson     |
| Caroline Winstead | Kathleen Forath  |
| Mr. Winstead      | Trygve Runsvold  |
| Roger Colby       | Norman Westling  |
| Charles           | Arthur Sivertson |
| Annie             | Dalores Roe      |

Since the previous issue of the Morning Mast, changes have been made in the casts, so that now Clarence Roen will take the part of Mr. Pembrey instead of Walter Young in "The Forfeit." Dalores Roe instead of Helen Collins will be Annie in "Station YYY."

Between the plays, Mr. Hunter will lead the orchestra in the playing of the following selections:

Carnival March from Masquerade
Sulte	Lacome
The Candy Shop	Golden
Yester-Eve Romance	Zamecnick
High Jinks	Friml
Chanson Sans Paroles	Heller
Spanish Dance No. 5	Moszkowski

The committees in charge of the affair as named by Stanley Score, class president, and Mrs. Taylor, coach of the plays, include: Make-up, Mrs. Kreidler; stage and lighting, Ray Leback (chairman), William Pfeuger, and Olga Overlie; properties, Carl Martin; advertising, Clifford Mestorf; programs and ticket sale, John Zackrisson (chairman), William Pfeuger, Shirley Hecht, and Dalores Roe.

Students Marry

Clara Roberts and Bruce Thayer, students at P. L. C., were married at a ceremony held at Vancouver, Washington, the evening of April 30. Rev. T. O. Svare, the college pastor, officiated, and Rev. Alf Kraebel, pastor of Central Lutheran Church, of Portland, Oregon, and Miss Agnes Swenson also of Portland were the witnesses. The wedding came as a surprise to friends of the couple.

L. D. R. Will Entertain

Girls to Honor Faculty Women at Tea May 16

In honor of the women faculty members and wives of the professors, the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation are giving a tea Tuesday, May 16, in the college reception room. Those on the committee in charge of the affair are Nordis Arneson, Helen Collins, Nedra Dubick, and Norma Preus.

The tea in honor of the women who entertained the L. D. R. at their homes and faculty women is an annual event, at which the girls elect the president for the coming year and complete the present year's business. Members of the nominating committee are the following: Florence Post, Alice Roe, and Kathleen Forath.

Clarence Lemming Presides Over Associated Students Next Year

Tingelstad Returns From Conferences

President O. A. Tingelstad returned April 26 from the Middle West where he attended educational conference meetings at Chicago.

Among the problems discussed at the meeting of the Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, were the place of athletics in the life of the college, entrance requirements, financial policies, and the formulation of new standards of accreditation. Revised accreditation standards will be presented to the association next year.

At the second conference, a meeting of the Commission on Higher Education of the American Lutheran Conference, together with the presidents of most of the higher educational institutions of the synods which belong to the Conference, formulation of the objectives for higher Christian education was the main topic for consideration.

Dr. Tingelstad reported that optimism in farming sections, especially, was increasing, and that the people are in sympathy with the new political administration, according to his observations.

While he was in the Midwest, Dr. Tingelstad also met in conference with Paul A. Preus and Victor Elvestrom to discuss their work in enlisting the aid of the Women's Missionary Federation of the Norwegian Lutheran Church, which, he stated, is progressing well.

Work Progressing On School Annual

Having received bids from a number of photographers in Tacoma, the Saga will soon announce who is to take pictures for this year's school history. Clubs, classes, and athletic teams will be snapped in the near future. Work on the editorial staff is also progressing well, and the complete outlined history of this school year will soon lie in the cabinet in the staff's new headquarters in Mr. Hong's office. Mr. Hong was selected by the faculty committee as the general adviser for the staff.

"It is my hope that all P. L. C. students will cooperate to the very highest degree in making our annual a success," stated Margaret Wesson, editor.

"In taking the pictures for this year we hope that those who are concerned in each club, class or team will try to be prompt at the time at which the picture is to be taken. The reason for this is that a discount will be given by the photographer if all pictures are taken in one day."

Ed Tingelstad Talks on China at Mission Society

Edwin Tingelstad spoke to the members of the Mission Society on "Foreign Missions" last Wednesday evening. He gave several concrete examples of the dangers of mission work in China and how the Lord would reign victorious over each danger.

Also, as part of the program, Jessie Marie Fowler gave a reading, and Jesse Pfeuger, president of the club, led in Scripture reading.

Harold Holmberg, Kathryn Johnson, Bev Shuster Get Offices; Installation to Be in Chapel May 25

Clarence Lemming will head the Associated Students of Pacific Lutheran College during the next school year, as the result of elections held this week. Clarence won a close race over Oscar Anderson in a re-election yesterday. Other officers chosen were: Vice president, Harold Holmberg; secretary, Kathryn Johnson; treasurer, Bev Shuster.

Re-election for the office of president was necessary when no candidate received a majority in the first election Thursday. Nominees for this office were Clarence Lemming, Oscar Anderson and Clarence Ophem. In the primary election, the one getting second highest place was over Clarence Ophem only by one vote.

Clifford Mestorf was defeated by Harold Holmberg in the race for the vice president. For the secretary's position, Kathryn Johnson won over Evelyn Monson. Bev Shuster, by a win over Ervin Dammel, will hold the purse strings of the student body.

All other positions on the Board of Control were uncontested except that of Graduating Class representative, in which Jean-Marie Fowler won over Ella Johnson. Completing the membership on the board will be Ray Hinderlie, commissioner of advertising; Paul Preus, commissioner of athletics; Mary Nash, sophomore class representative; John Stuen, High School representative. A representative from the freshman class will be chosen at the opening of school next fall. The new officers will be installed at the regular Student Body meeting in chapel May 25.

Clarence Lemming, the newly-elected president, has been active in student affairs, so is well qualified for the office. He is president of the Freshman Class and Drama Club, and is a member of the debate team, and is active in club work. Kathryn Johnson, the new secretary, is president of the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation and sings in the college choir. Bev Shuster at present represents his class on the Board of Control; and Harold Holmberg played in the tennis tournament.

Columbia Conference Votes P. L. C. Support

At the meeting of the Columbia Conference of the Augustana Synod of the Lutheran Church held in Seattle last week, members voted to support Pacific Lutheran College by pledging $3000 to the support of the institution for 1934, in addition to the $2500 which the college field agents will collect from the congregations in the Columbia Conference for this year's finances. The body also voted to petition their general church organization to appropriate $3500 for the support of the college for 1934, the same amount which they voted for this year and have paid in periodic installments.

The Board of Trustees of the college invited the Conference to increase the number of its representation on the Board. If they desired, but the Conference declared itself satisfied, and re-elected Dr. C. R. Swanson to serve for the coming year.

Welcome, New Leaders

With open arms do you congratulate and welcome our new officers of the Associated Students and members of the Board of Control. The student body at large have made fine choices for next year's leaders, so that a successful season should be enjoyed.

To the newly-elected officers, we wish to say that you have been chosen as the best-fitted of our student body for your new positions. Fill your offices as best you can, while here in school; and always remember while you are not here that you represent the best that Pacific Lutheran College has to offer in the way of students. Our faith has been placed in you, so justify it by doing all you can to cooperate for the best interests of the school.

And to the students—who you have chosen these others to lead you; the success of their terms depends greatly upon you. Do all you can to cooperate with them, to the end that their work might be made easier. Assist when called upon to make our next school year even more successful than the present one.

Now as our school year draws to a close, we heartily congratulate those students who have led us so successfully during the present school year. We have enjoyed working with you and regret meeting the termination of your leadership. May your success in the future equal and surpass your great success as leaders of student activities at Pacific Lutheran College.

Support the Class Play

The success of the annual class play is twofold, artistic and financial. The artistic success depends on the cast, its director, and the staging, but the financial success is dependent upon the students. Each member shoulders some responsibility, more especially the graduates, for it is their swan song, the last activity which they undertake as a unit. In addition to that, it is to provide the fund with which the class will purchase its gift to the school. Therefore, it rests with the students, the graduates in particular, to bring their families and friends to patronize their play, so that it may be a success as it has been in former years.

Think This Over, Folks

With the impending close of the school year comes that dreaded week of examinations. But why must this hardship, for so it seems to all of us, be made much harder by the intermingling of class recitations? Is it absolutely impossible to work out an examination schedule?

Even teachers agree that it is easier to read and grade one two-hour paper than two one-hour papers from each student. But the greatest help of all in the inauguration of a regular examination schedule would be to the students; for they would not have the added burden of preparing class recitations during exam week. All year instructors have preached that two hours must be spent on the preparation of each recitation. With several teachers handing out such assignments and others announcing exams on an especially heavy day, how is the poor student to do justice to the work before him?

Other colleges, larger and smaller than Pacific Lutheran, are able to have a regular schedule of exams for their students. In the past, a regular exam schedule has been maintained here, so why not this year? Is our problem here now so different that the administration can not do this much for its students, even after the detested system used at the close of the fall semester and intended for use again, has proven a miserable failure?

HAVE YOU MET?

An extremely talented young lady who has an abundance of long, blonde, curly hair. She is rather short, and pleasantly plump. This girl has won many honors for Pacific Lutheran College in her own line in which she will probably rise to the heights. She is very peppy at times, and is easily moved.

This mysterious person has a charming personality and is much loved by her fellow students. She attended high school here, and is now grieving over having to leave the institution she has attended for five years. Do you know her?

A young man who's always busy and always smiling. He has dark hair and eyes, and a very tanned face. Although he is not large, he is well built and carries himself like a soldier. He may often be seen on the tennis courts, and he also contended for honors in the recent ping-pong tournament. Three guesses.

"That's a very dangerous thing to do," said the foreman. "You might have had the whole roof down. What you should do is to cut away the floor."
"D'ya think I'm a fool?" retorted Wesson. "It's the pony's head that won't go through."

13 Students Go by Car, Trailer to Olympia to Hear Last Choir Concert

With Olympia as the goal, thirteen students set out in "Clix" coupe last Tuesday evening to hear the choir present its last tour concert. With a trailer filled by seven students hitched on behind, they bumped merrily over the road to Olympia, where they arrived just in time to hear the choir sing the last song. When they saw that mob coming in single file, the choir members thought the whole school had turned out to greet them but were badly disappointed.

Pooling their funds, on the way home all thirteen piled into a barbecue place where they partook of coffee and hamburgers.

On their return to school, everyone sang and had a merry time.

Four rode in the front seat, two in the would-be rumble seat, and seven in a trailer hooked on behind. Those making this venturesome journey were Shirley Hecht, Jean-Marie Fowler, 14th Rudd, Pearl Homme, Georganna McClure, Bev Shuster, Harold Holmberg, Clarence Rohn, Mary Hanson, Oscar Anderson, Ervin Dammel, Ralph Preus, and Willie Pfeuger, to say nothing of the battered car and the overloaded trailer.

Chapel Gleanings

Christ can bless our souls, call us to arise from sin, rescue us from ourselves and the world, and teach us to grow in favor with God and man.—Roe

Man is prone to put everything into categories of good and bad. This practice brings much discouragement and despair, and may bring one to do what he thinks good and not do what he thinks evil, and thus to believe himself to be a good Christian.—Pfeuger

We think of Jesus as the man of meekness and sorrows, but we find that He was capable of strong emotions of anger and indignation likewise.—Xavier

The ideal held up for men to follow is not the godly men in the scriptures, but Christ himself is the example we are to follow.—Ramstad

We know that youth needs a guide. What better guide than Christ, who stands at morning's golden gate stretching out His hand to help them, can be found?—Roe

God created man in His own image. That shows that man was perfect and wise until the fall, that he is three in one, body, soul, and mind, yet one person.—Pfeuger

It is when we reject the message of the Holy Spirit that God cannot forgive, for that shuts Him from our hearts.—Xavier

The testimony which an honest man must make is the same as that of the centurion, "Truly, this is the Son of God."—Ramstad

The bravest are the tenderest. If you want to be a real man, be a Christian, for Christ makes us sound-minded, strong, and tender.—Roe

There are many things which we cannot understand here; but, there, the beauty of love and faith take the place of knowledge.—Pfeuger

What things anger us? Are they the same things that angered Christ, selfishness, hatred, and intolerance, or are they trivialities of the human world?—Xavier

Choir Returns From Concert Tour May 2

After a twelve-day tour through Washington and Oregon, the Pacific Lutheran College "Choir of the West" returned to Parkland on May 2, after singing to approximately 7,000 persons. An extra concert was given on the ferry to Astoria; 450 at several places capacity crowds were in attendance. At Longview and Astoria, many people were disappointed in not finding room in the concert hall, but a repeat program was given, so that all could hear the P. L. C. choristers.

Keeper of the Mast

Well, everybody's happy again—the choir got back, so the school can begin running once more. Sorry we had to make it so dull for you for a while, but it was all in the best interests of the school.

The dust has cleared away, and Ken-ny and Marion are still taking those old jaunts to the kicking post.

Mrs. Krellier has that same old smile—maybe she wasn't glad to get home, after that twelve-day ordeal. It's much easier to say "No" when the children (Mr. Hong objects to "Kids") in the dorm want to go places than it is to keep forty-six on the straight and narrow. Anyway, everyone agrees that the songsters were "good" on the trip.

Everybody's getting cold feet over the out-door swimming party, but aren't we going to have fun! "Don't forget your cups." (famous last words of Foyler).

It looks as if those in school just couldn't wait to see the choir members by the way they turned out—or was it "strung in" to the concert in Olympia. Anyway we were real glad to see you; nothing like having backing.

The Monson mustache masquerade is coming off again in a big way. Not even the pleas of the choir could make him part with this ruffle of feathers.

Lemming is happy at last since Lehman has condescended to buying penny whistles, and now everybody in the shack has to hide his penny banks.

We're all mad that Clarabel and Fred percent in behavior and brains?

Bruce sneaked out on us that way because we all want to be best-men and maid-of-honor sometime; and our newly-weds missed the chance of having twenty-two of each at their wedding. It may have been rather unheard of, but it would have been different to say the least. Anyway we wish them all the happiness in the world.

Even rain doesn't seem to keep those sweet young things from their daily trots to the kicking post. Perseverance wins you know.

Congrats to the newly elected officers! Hope you have a successful year next year; and our wishes are with you whether some of us will be here or not.

Only two more weeks of school, and then our stately sophs will be with us no more. Hurry up if you want to make that hit with the blond or football hero that you've been putting off getting acquainted with until spring.

Violets make a good excuse to go places on these nice (?) spring days. You don't need to think you're fooling us, we know that "in the spring..." Don't mind us; we just work on this paper.

We wish to thank Rev. Ylvisaker for his fine speech in chapel Monday. It meant a lot to us.

Mrs. Krellier was busy on the trip, and what you heard her say most often was "Gilbert, have you studied your part for the play? You'd better quit pulling Evelyn's hair and get to work."

Who said the choir wasn't one hundred percent in behavior and brains?

18 Students Attend German Club Party

To mark the close of the 1933 career, members of the German Club held their final dinner of the school year, Saturday, May 6, in Reverend Sydow's church in Tacoma.

During the evening Kathryn Johnson, president, presented Mrs. Boody with a gift on behalf of the club as a token of appreciation of her services as club adviser.

Reverend and Mrs. Arthur Sydow were guests of honor. Others present were Esther Jahr, Freda Hendrichson, Kathryn Johnson, Margaret Wesson, Kathleen Forath, Anna Mikkelson, Lorraine Thoren, Alberta Schmitt, Kathryn Fatten, Oscar Anderson, Clarence Rohn, Gilbert Sydow, Leonard Wesson, Arnold Grimlund, Jesse Pfeuger, and Mrs. Boody.

We know now that Mr. Olson saw that the bus was crowded, and so he tried to shake some of us. But we all stood the test, and here we are. If you don't get what I'm talking about you might be informed that we went through the pen and passed the insane asylum in Salem on our trip. Bet the rest of you couldn't do that safely.

We're asking the cooperation of all the students in the matter of having "saga" pictures soon to be taken. It may help to know that if we can get them taken in one day the price will be much cheaper. Please try to be present at the appointed time and place when we are taking the group pictures. Thank you.

Drama Club Ends Year With Party

The "Footlight Revelers," winning group of the Dramatic Club contest for this year, were entertained at a party given in the college gymnasium by the "StageSteppers" and the "Drama-Tics," losing group, last Friday evening.

About forty members of the club were present, with Mrs. Kreidler and Mrs. Taylor as honored guests, in appreciation for their interest in and efforts on behalf of the club this past year.

The entertainment, in charge of a committee composed of Clarence Opheim (chairman), Jean-Marie Fowler, and Shirley Hecht, consisted of active games and stunts, one being given by each of the groups. Group number one, the "Footlight Revelers," presented an impromptu musical comedy, while group number two, the "Stage Steppers," gave Rip van Winkle. Group number three, the "Drama-Tics," presented a medicine show.

Light refreshments were served by a committee of Virginia Byers (chairman), Clarence Lemming, Harold Anderson, Albert Schmitz, and Virginia Davis.

The general arrangements were in charge of a committee from the two best groups: Group two, Georgiana McClure (chairman), Clarence Opheim, and Alberta Schmitz; group three: Evelyn Irwin (chairman), Clifford Mesford, and Virginia Davis.

The leaders of the three groups for the second semester were: Group one, Ray Tebbel; group two, Nellie Olson; and group three, Nordis Arneson. In the contest for the year group one placed first, group three, second, and group two, third.

Sport Slants

By C. Mesford

The sports season for this year will soon come to a close and it will not be a dramatic one, either. Only three weeks left and neither our tennis nor golf tournaments have been completed. Of course, this can be blamed to the weather, choir trip, etc., but none of these factors were so important as to stand in the way of completing either one of these tournaments.

If we expect to have any inter-collegiate sports, Coach Olson will have to do the logical thing by picking teams. The courts are again in shape and the links have always been, so it seems that by the end of this week, both of these tournaments could be completed.

Since the school year is drawing to a close, wouldn't it be a good idea to direct attention to next year's football campaign? What the prospects will be, remains to be seen; but since we have taken a step into faster company, the students of our school should encourage logical candidates to try out P. L. C.

"Swede" Willard at the helm composes a nucleus for promising results; but "Swede" is only human and needs ten other men to work with.

Graduation this year will give our aggregation a terrible blow, owing to the fact that we will be losing practically all our line—line that held it own with any club we met this season. Unless Coach Olson and "Swede" can find material around which to build a team, our chance next year will be so bright.

Although we did not turn in as many wins as was expected last season, we assured ourselves of a place on the schedule of many larger schools by our showing. The thing to do now is to maintain this reputation and the only way to do it is to get in some promising material for next year.

Of course, athletics aren't everything; but what school has maintained any distinction by not having them? Although many of us may not be aware of it, this is one of the best mediums of advertisement.

Many prominent Tacoma athletes have expressed desires of attending P. L. C. next season. Let's hope many more will feel this desire so we can give the Loggers a working-over in our initial game next year.
