

13 Teachers Added To PLC Faculty

Dr. S. C. Eastvold states that the college was most fortunate in being able to add to its teaching and administrative staff these excellent educators who assumed their positions at the opening of school last Monday.

Schofar, Musician

Dr. Robert M. Larson, who earned the degrees of B. Mus. and B. A. at St. Olaf College and M. Mus. and Ph. D. at Northwestern U., was a member of the famed St. Olaf Choir and of the Great Lakes Navy Band, director and arranger for the Blue Jacket Choir, and chairman of the music department of Kendall College, Evanston.

Dr. Larson took over direction of the college band. His wife is trained as a librarian and will serve as head cataloger in the Pierce County Library in Tacoma.

Expert on Economics

Dr. Anthony Stampolis of Boston became professor of economics and business administration. He received his B. A. from the U. of Michigan and his Ph. D. degree from Harvard U.

He has been a member of the New England War Labor Board, has taught at Suffolk U., U. of Redlands, U. of Detroit, and, during his past two years at Boston U. has directed economic research problems in the area of industrial communications. He is the author of numerous publications. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa at U. of Michigan.

Director of Nursing

Eline Kraabel, R.N., who assumed the position of director of nursing education, came from Emanuel Hospital, Portland. There she has held the position of director of nursing and has had an active part in the development of the nursing program at PLC which is conducted jointly by the college and the Portland hospital. Miss Kraabel received her B. A. from St. Olaf College and her nurses training at Emanuel Hospital.

She has done graduate work at the U. of Chicago and the U. of Washington and has had a great deal of experience as an administrator in the field of nursing in Washington, Oregon, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Teaches Biology

Lucille Anne Schmiieder of Parkersburg, W. Va., joined the faculty as instructor in the department of biology, teaching courses in botany, anatomy and physiology. She received her B. A. and M. S. degrees from West Virginia U.

English Instructor

Mrs. Lucille Johnson, new instructor in the English department, earned her B. A. at Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., and M. A. degree from Washington State College. She had done graduate work at the U. of Colorado, U. of Oslo and the U. of Washington. She is a candidate for the Ph. D. degree at the latter institution.

She has had 12 years of teaching experience on the college level, including two years as instructor in English at the U. of Washington.

Student of Psychology

Dr. Kristen B. Solberg, who will take over in the department of psychology, completed his undergraduate work at Augustana College, Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

He received his M. E. degree from

LSA Mixer Slated Sunday

PLCites are digging for their most flashy socks today in preparation for the LSA-sponsored "The Sockeroo" mixer to be held in Memorial gymnasium Sunday night at 7 p.m.

Vice-president Jack Hoover announces that the evening's agenda will include games, refreshments, a singspiration, and special singing by Arnie Kjesbu, with his renditions of Western ballads. "All students attending the 'Sockeroo' should wear their loudest socks and be prepared for an evening of lively entertainment," Jack added.

This mixer is an all-school affair and is not limited to LSA members only.

Homecoming Set For Oct. 9-11; Queen Voting is Tuesday

With the deadline for Homecoming Queen petitions just two days away, PLCites are assured of having at least nine beauties to choose from. Janet Carson, Connie Hanson, Kathy Hinrichs, Avis Jensen, Gloria Kvinge, Alta Prestbye, Nancy Shinkoethe, Luella Vig, and Jan Whitmore have all been nominated for the election to be held next Tuesday. Deadline for petitions is next Monday at 4 p.m.

Gov. Langlie to Crown Queen

The candidates will be presented in chapel on Student Body day and balloting will commence immediately afterwards. Run-offs will be held on Wednesday. Washington State Governor Arthur B. Langlie will crown the Queen at the Coronation program Co-chairmen Joyce Genz and Jerry Sheffels announced yesterday. More details about the Coronation Night, which is October 9, will be printed in the next edition of the Mooring Mast.

Enter Floats Now

Clubs planning to enter a float in the Homecoming parade should contact either Mina Raaen or Jack Hoover immediately. Three five-dollar prizes will be awarded this year, one for the most clever float, one for the most beautiful and one for the most humorous.

Dr. Eastvold Says, 'Here To Do Good'

Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of the college, addressed the student body at the chapel convocation opening the school year Monday, September 21, using a verse from the book of Numbers around which to build his message: "Come with us and we will do thee good."

"We are here to do good," he said. "The college would not have been here since 1894 if such were not the case."

"Education is an adventure of the mind," the speaker continued. "We are here to make better minds. The world will be better as we have better souls controlling the minds of men."

Latest figures from the office of Dean Phillip E. Hauge, registrar of the college, show the enrollment for the fall semester to be over 800. More details will follow in the next edition of the "Mast."

Dr. Eastvold challenged the students to get the most out of their education so they could be of better service to God and men. "Your adventure here is a crusade," he said. He also gave a list of suggestions on how to get the most out of college.

President Greets New Students

May I greet this fine new body of students in the words of ancient Cornelius, "And thou hast done well that thou are come."—(Acts 10:33).

We have on many occasions, in public and in private, extended the glad hand of welcome to all new students as well as to new faculty people, and at the same time we have had exchange of greetings with many who have been here before.

We are looking forward to this year with sincere belief that it will be the finest year we have ever had. We have a great college with faculty, students, and equipment, plus thousands of supporting friends, all of which add up to put us among the finest colleges in America.

May I say again, "Thou hast done well that thou are come."

A.S.B. Prexy Welcomes New Lutes

For all of us, whether we be a Senior struggling to satisfy requirements and upper division credits, or whether we be the newly orientated Frosh, the old PLC campus offers a sincere welcome, a welcome the members of your A.S.B. council want to accentuate.

We have no doubt that this is going to be one of the most outstanding years we have ever had. And why not? We have all the ingredients of success. Our number is large, the hopes and plans for the year's programs are by no means small, and the enthusiasm being generated about the campus is the leaven we need to carry us through.

Yes, we want to welcome you back to school, studies, and friendships and the opportunity to help make our student body one of spirit and accomplishment.

Self-Service Introduced At SUB Coffee Shop

Under new management, the college coffee shop opened this week to serve the students of PLC. Taking over the duties of manager are Mrs. Helen Nickelson and Mrs. Nettie Sylling, both of Big Timber, Montana. Mrs. Nickelson has been at the college four years, in which time she served as assistant house mother. This is Mrs. Sylling's first year at the college.

Reorganization of the shop will not be complete until the first of October, until which time the choice of foods and services will be somewhat limited, the new managers stated.

This year a new self-service system will be put into effect. With this system, the student is largely responsible for turning in his order and picking it up when it is ready.

The coffee shop will be open on week days from 7:30 a.m. until chapel and after chapel until 10 p.m. On Friday and Saturday nights the shop will be open until 11. Sunday hours will be from 5 to 10 p.m.

 way, where he served as an exchange teacher for a year. He taught choir at the "Gymnasium," equivalent to senior high and junior college in this country. While in Oslo, he organized and directed an all-city orchestra.

One of the highlights of Mr. Malm's year, he reported, was a ten-day conference entitled "Place of Music and Training of Youth and Adults," which was conducted partially in English and French. Forty-eight countries were represented and there were many demonstrations of musical groups.

"It's good to be back," he concluded, "but I disliked leaving Norway."

This and That

Be sure to attend the A.W.S. football fete this Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the upper SUB. The price is 25 cents for a pair of feet with jeans, peddle pushers, and shoes being suitable dress.

Tryouts for the two girl yell leader positions and for song leaders will be held this Tuesday, September 29, in Chapel. All those wishing to try out please give your name to Stewart Morten, Spencer Aust, or any student council member.

Contracts for the construction of the first of two new dormitories on campus will be let tomorrow, September 26, with actual work expected to begin within ten days. Dormitory number two will be started later in the fall.

Don't miss the technicolor motion picture, "On Moonlight Bay," being shown this evening at 7:30 in the upper SUB. Sponsored by Blue Key, national men's honorary on campus, the picture stars Doris Day and Gordon MacRae in the leading roles. A cartoon is included in the admission price of 25 cents.

Just Looking and Thinking

Dr. Eastvold introduced himself in Chapel on Monday in his eloquent, sincere, and Christocentric manner. With a President like him, all of us must agree that we are truly a different type of college.

Say, wasn't that some unusual advice we received concerning marriage. Remember this, Freshmen, especially you young girls who will soon be approached by some bleary-eyed Senior...

If on Friday you see a large number of the clergy around, don't worry. Your pastors are not here to check on you at this early state, our campus is host to a one-day seminar of Lutheran Ministers.

As an upperclassman, I have to make the humiliating observation that if it wasn't for a large group of Freshmen we probably wouldn't have a Mooring Mast. Upper classmen, take a bow, as you enjoy the efforts of a very willing group of newcomers.

I have often heard the emotional aspect of Christianity criticized very severely. I have heard students say that they would have nothing to do with this or that religious program because there is an appeal made to the emotions. In a discussion of this area my roommate set forth a notable observation. He said that God, in creating man, must have acted on an emotion, because it wouldn't have been an act of the intellect to create a being which He knew would not conform to His will. If we thus came into existence through an emotional act of God, isn't it very possible that emotions play a part in bringing us to him?

Meet Your New ASB Officers

John Rydgren, President

By way of introducing the Associated Student Body officers for the year 1953-54, we find John Rydgren wielding the gavel.

A senior from Seattle, Washington, John is a speech major and plans to attend Seminary at Capital University in Columbus, Ohio, after graduation.

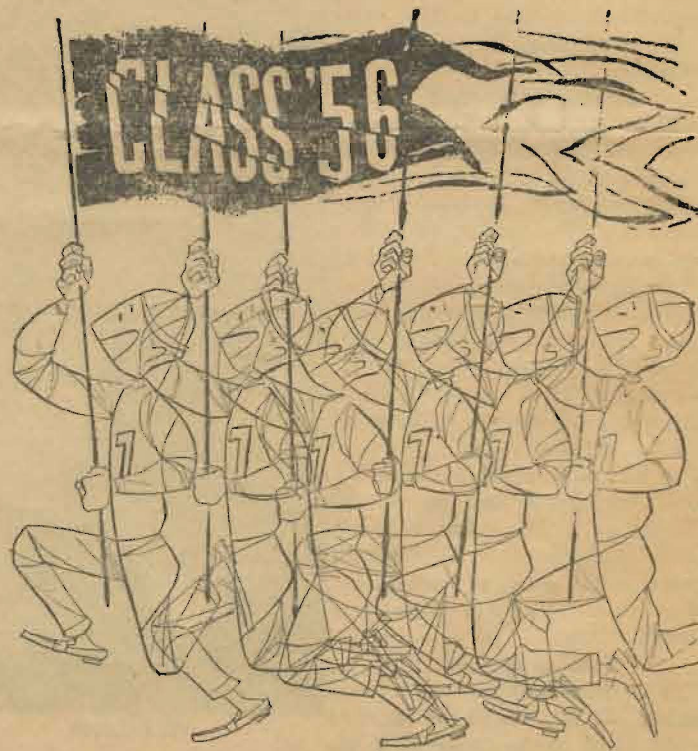

PLC's top debator, John devotes most of his time to speech activities and to Nancy Turman. He also likes to draw and eat, especially steaks.

John has been very busy with extra-curricular activities during his three years at PLC, especially oratory and dramatics. He has been Curtain Call prexy, belongs to Pi Kappa Delta, Alpha Psi Omega, and Blue Key.

As Associated Student Body President, John hopes to maintain co-

Staters Win, 7 to 0; Lute Defense Shines

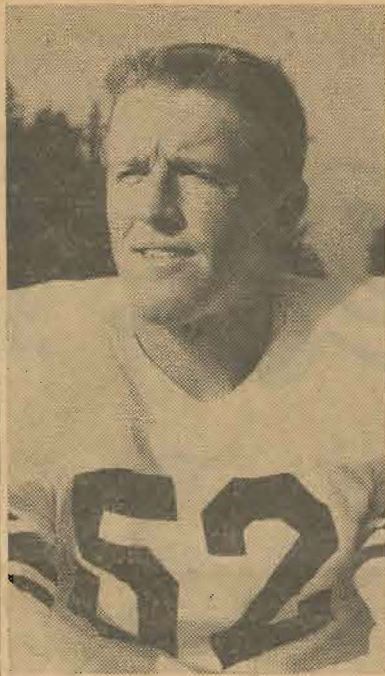

Playing their first game of the '53 season, Mary Harshman's Gladiators fell to Humboldt State, 7-0. Both teams displayed good defensive ball and the half-time gun found them playing to a scoreless tie.

The only threat of the half came on a sixty-yard march by the Lutes to the 13-yard line. The big gainer in the drive was a 25-yard pass from Karwoski to End Ron Billings. Two transfers to PLC, Frank Lancaster and Brian Price, also showed well in the drive with their hard-running.

In the third period, however, the Arcata eleven received the break both teams had been awaiting. A pass attempt by the Gladiators was intercepted and carried to the Lute 9-yard line. Three plays later State's quarterback, Keith Mechaix, passed to Happy Hoft in the end zone for the game's solo score. Hoft's conversion was good. That was the extent of the scoring.

Ron Billings played an outstanding defensive game for the Lutes and was constantly in the State receiver's hair.

PLC resumes action again Saturday as they meet their cross-town rivals, the College of Puget Sound.

Starting out where he left off last year, Ron Billings played like the Little All-American he is, against Humboldt State last Friday night. Used primarily as a defensive half-back last year, Ron demonstrated his ability as a sixty minute man this year.

He stands only 5'10" and he really has to pound the scales to hit 165 pounds, but he is outstanding both as a defensive back and a hard-blocking, pass-snagging end.

Ron was in on a good many tackles, knocked down passes, and was a hindrance to the opposition through the entire game. He also took on the punting chores for the first time in his career. After the first one went only three yards, he got off two beauties to bring up his

Price and Bob McAdams, assistants. "Sure they're going to win," stated the head coach, "it's only a question of by how much. We've got good talent, good prospective quarterbacks, and some really razzle-dazzle plays."

News from the Bench

By Ron Johnson

Another college year is under way, and right along with it is the resuming of inter-collegiate competition. Football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis and golf will be working their way into the headlines of papers across the country; and this paper will be no exception.

The sports staff of this paper will do their utmost to present to you a complete coverage of Washington state collegiate competition.

PLC opened against Humboldt State last Friday night, and was defeated, 7-0. Showing flashes of gridiron brilliance, the Lutes should be a team to reckon with in the Evergreen Conference this year. Coach Harshman is depending on his first string line for the brunt of the opposition's attack. Although weak in reserve strength, the Lutheran front line looked good against Humboldt and may come around to be the best of defensive lines.

CPS and Whitworth are exceptionally strong this year, and should be battling it out for first place. Eastern surprised Idaho State last Friday, after the Staters had won 10 straight last season. Central has a young, hustling ball team and should be a strong threat this year. PLC will have a battle on its hands to defend the championship they won last year.

Looking around the "big leagues," I see the U. of W. didn't have it Saturday last, and were dumped 21-20 by Colorado. The Huskies travel to Ann Arbor to take on the University of Michigan this weekend. With Monroe and Albrecht out, the Huskies are losers by two TD's. W.S.C. had it rougher yet when U.S.C. invaded the Palouse country. Too much manpower gave the Trojans a 29-13 win. The Cougars from W.S.C. go to Stockton, Calif., to take on C.O.P., surprise victor over Stanford last weekend. Can C.O.P. upset two conference teams in a row?

Western and Pacific U. played a 12-12 tie in their opener. Both teams are strong this year. Whitworth showed its power, shoving aside Linfield, 20-0. Olympic J.C. took a trouncing from Oregon Tech, 46-21.

Really ought to be a "smoker" on compus this year. We've an end that ought to be a pretty good boxer.

The Frosh looked pretty flashy with their beanies on; all in all, a colorful event!

WATCH HOBART TOMORROW; THEY SHOULD WIN!

Intramural Football Race To Start Soon

Giving the kick-off to the year's intramural sports activities, touch football competition will soon begin, Mark Salzman, boys' physical education instructor, announces.

The games will be held twice weekly on two fields of the baseball diamond. Plans are being laid for a double round-robin tournament.

All boys, except varsity players in the particular sport, are eligible for the intramural program, which will include football, basketball, softball, volleyball, badminton, tennis, horseshoes, golf and track.

average to 35 yards per try.

Head Coach Mary Harshman doesn't waste time in saying that Ron is really an outstanding player and will give our cross-town rivals, CPS, a bad time tomorrow afternoon.

Ron has a lot of confidence in this year's team, and feels that with a little more seasoning, they'll be one of the teams to watch in the Evergreen Conference.

ASB Officers

operation between faculty and students and make Student Body Day programs even better than they have been before.

Glenn Johnson

Glenn Johnson, of Oakland, Calif., is filling the role of Student Body Vice-President. He is a senior majoring in education.

Extra-curricular activities in the field of drama keep him busy. Blue Key, Toastmasters, Alpha Psi Omega, and Curtain Call claim his membership. He has starred in many dramatic productions.

Glenn is also assuming the duties of housefather at the Clover Creek Annexes this year.

Mary Ensberg, Secretary

The office of Associated Student Body Secretary is this year being competently filled by Mary Ensberg.

Well-known on campus, Mary has pretty brown eyes and naturally curly brown hair. She is of Norwegian descent and claims Spokane, Wash., as her home-town.

As a very talented music major, Mary has sung in the Choir of the West and many trios and choruses during her two years at PLC. She is also an accomplished pianist and organist and a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, National Music sorority.

She still finds time for many other activities, too. During her freshman year, she served as secretary-treasurer of Organ Guild, secretary-treasurer of Campus Devotions and

Gridders Take On Loggers Saturday

College of Puget Sound; football; tomorrow afternoon. These three things add up to an athletic rivalry excelled only by the U.W. and W.S.C.

Both squads have been priming all week for this game. Coach Harshman has his boys in top condition, and they are anxious to win their first game of the season.

CPS downed the Lutes in the opener last season on a pass by Art "The Arm" Viofore, but "The Arm" is gone this year. The Gladiators defeated the Loggers 7-0 in their conference tilt last year, and you can be sure that the Loggers are out for revenge.

CPS Coach John Heinrich has a fast, aggressive eleven this year, and his team is considered the team to beat in the Evergreen Conference. Downing the strong Willamette team last week 14-0, they displayed a strong offense and a good defensive line.

Neither team has a serious injury, and both squads will be at full strength for the King's X affair.

Can You Play An Instrument?

Do you play a violin, viola, cello, double bass or any other string instrument? If you do, Mr. Newnham, director of the orchestra, is looking for you. Of course, any other musical instrument suitable for orchestration is welcome to practices on Monday night at 7:00 in the Music-Chapel-Speech building.

An attempt is being made this year to form a community-college chamber orchestra, consisting of twenty to twenty-five members, or more, if possible. This group would play the music of Bach, Handel, Hadyn and other classical masters who wrote for the chamber orchestra especially. But the modern composers will also be played, the first practice Monday night featuring "Henry VII Dances," by the modern English composer, German.

Mr. Newnham, who has done extensive work with chamber groups in Canada, feels that, "The trend has been toward bigger and larger orchestras. When you hear a smaller orchestra, you get the music in its purest form." He especially wants to get several small groups started to play for broadcasting a member of Viking Club. As a sophomore, Mary was Organ Guild president and president of Spurs, besides being LSA committee head.

J. P. Carlstrom, Treasurer

J. P. Carlstrom, a senior from Antioch, Calif., is A.S.B. Treasurer.

One of the foremost art students on the campus, J. P. plans to teach art in high school after his time in the service. He devotes much of his spare time to art work, especially posters and drawings for the campus organizations.

During college he has served as vice-president of the freshman class, I.C.C. representative for Ski Club, vice-president of chorus, and vice-president of the junior class.

Back from Norway

Professor Gunnar J. Malmin and his family, who have been in Norway where Mr. Malmin has been teaching and studying on a Fulbright Scholarship during the past year, have returned to Parkland. Both Mr. and Mrs. Malmin are well known in musical circles after 13 years of service at the college.

Mr. Malmin's leadership of the Choir of the West has carried the name and fame of this organization throughout the western half of the nation.

Business Administration

Homer L. Lawless, former head of the business administration department at Defiance College in Ohio, is teaching classes in accounting, marketing and corporation finance. He received his B. S. from Missouri State Teachers College and his M. A. from the U. of Iowa. He is working towards his Ph. D. degree.

Manages Bookstore

For the first time in many years, we add one of our own graduates to the staff. He is Gerald Hedlund, who has taken up his duties as director and manager of the college bookstore.

From Missouri Synod

Raymond A. Klopsch of Chicago, member of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod, has the rank of instructor in English. He received his B. D. from the latter institution at the end of the 1954 summer session.

Rejoins Staff

Chaplain Milton L. Nesvig rejoined the faculty as publicity director and teacher of journalism following two years of service as chaplain in the U. S. Navy. Mr. Nesvig is a graduate of PLC and of Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn.

Drama Expert

Mr. Stanley Elbersson is an efficient additor to our drama and speech department. He received his B. A. and B. of Education at PLC and has done graduate work in drama at Stanford U.

Commercial Department

Mr. Robert Thompson received his Bachelor and Master degrees at the U. of Washington. He will teach typewriting and shorthand. He has previously taught at Western Michigan State Teacher's College in Kalamazoo, Mich., and at Clark Junior College, Vancouver.

Three Senior Noses To Gain Spotlight

Senior noses are in for some close scrutiny for the next two weeks as students attempt to discover the owners of three noses whose pictures will be posted today on the main bulletin board and the lunch-line bulletin board in Old Main.

Winners of the contest will receive a $5 gift certificate to be used for a portrait at McKewen's studio, along with two free tickets to the Parkland theater.

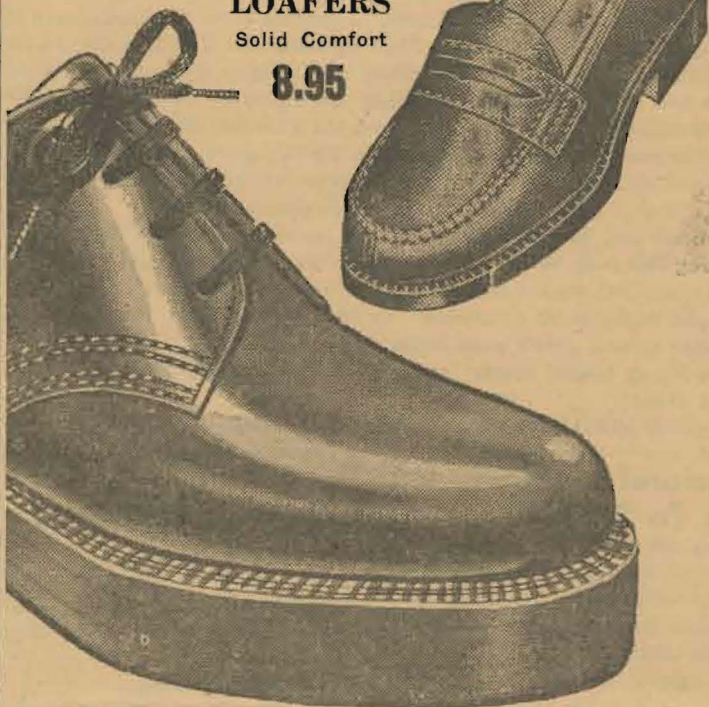

Ballots will be distributed starting today for the contest, which was originated by John Rydgren, Student Body president.
