

All-College Play Is Cast; Tryouts End

After three days of reading scripts in the radio studio, nineteen people were chosen by Mr. Stanley Elberson and Miss Jean McGregor to take part in the all-college play, "Gown of Glory."

The play will run for three or four days in November. It revolves around a small town minister, David Lyall, his family, and his trials and tribulations, as he tries to break away from the small town to a larger city.

The lead role, Reverend David Lyall, had not been cast by Wednesday night. It is expected that the part will be chosen by this evening.

Those taking part in the play are as follows: Jean Christensen, Mary Lyall; Carol Falk, Lucy; Diane Bassett, Faith; Stewart Morton, Jeremy; Ted Carlstrom, Ninion; Walter Nealon, Mr. Dilling; Gerald Farmer, John Harvey; Judy Bureker, Peggy; Joan Werle, Minnie; Mark Freed, Josiah; Melvin Frantsen, Colonel Harrison; Marien Christensen, Mrs. Farraday; Sylvia Kiri-kebo, Mrs. Crombie; Mary Lou Biery, Mrs. Bellamy; Alden McKechney, Mr. Coates; Paul Jordan, John Jenkins; Marilyn Olsen, Mrs. Jenkins; Darlene Haugen, Mrs. Ross; and Jim Lokken, Mr. Ross.

The students named will take part in the play, but the parts they are cast in are subject to change.

The first rehearsal took place Thursday evening at seven o'clock.

Deans Break Dorm Ground

Beneath towering fir trees and misty skies Wednesday morning, the faculty and students witnessed the beginning of the realization of a dream which was begun many years ago.

The construction of the two new dormitories was formally begun as Miss Margaret Wickstrom, dean of women, and L. O. Eklund, dean of men, officially broke the ground for the buildings shortly after the regular morning chapel service.

The two shovels used for the ceremony will be inscribed with the names of the Deans, the date, and the occasion and will be placed in trophy cases in the new dormitories.

The students were given pamphlets describing the buildings and explaining the financing of the project.

Five hundred dollars is needed to furnish each room and it is hoped that a great deal of this expense can be met through pledges.

Scheduled to be completed and ready for the students by the beginning of the 1954 fall term, the dormitories will be fireproof, steel structures, matching the other campus buildings in color.

Many improvements will be installed in the new dormitory rooms. Campus boarders will enjoy built-in desks and bookshelves, sofa-beds, private wardrobes and dressers, lounge chairs, mirrors, tackboards, and scientific desk and bed lighting.

Located west of the Chapel-Music-Speech building, the dormitories will contain lounges, reception rooms, sun decks, laundry and ironing rooms, patios, and other features.

ENGLISH TEAM—Stopping at Pacific Lutheran College next week are Patrick Mayhew and John Peters from Oxford, England. They will debate with John Osburn and John Rydgren, PLC senior debaters, on the question, "Resolved: That Approval Should Be Given to the Far Eastern Policy of the Present Administration."

Osburn, Rydgren Will Debate Oxford Men

By John Shannon

Arriving at Pacific Lutheran College Sunday noon will be the internationally famous debaters from Oxford University in England. They will take part in the International Debate, which will be held in the Chapel-Music-Speech building, Monday evening, at 8:30 o'clock. This will be the third debate of its kind to be held on the Lute campus in recent years.

Taking the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That Approval Should Be Given to the Far Eastern Policy of the Present American Administration," will be the English debaters, Patrick Mayhew and John Peters. John Rydgren and John Osburn, senior debaters composing the PLC team, will play host to Mayhew and Peters, who will be guests at the home of Dr. Erich Knorr until they leave on Tuesday.

Most of the student body will get their first view of the Oxford pair Monday morning, when they will attend Chapel services.

Preceding the debate, there will be a formal banquet, at Viafore's in Tacoma, in honor of the foreign debaters. Joan Werle and Ruth Heino are making arrangements for this banquet, to which members and honorary members of Phi Kappa Delta, and their guests are invited. Arrangements are also being made for a reception in honor of both teams, immediately following the debate.

Posters have been passed out throughout the Tacoma and surrounding area, announcing the debate, by Joanne Schief, publicity chairman. Joanne has also made arrangements with Tacoma radio stations, KMO, KTNT and KTAC, to publicize the event.

"Burt McMurtrie will say a few words about the debate over one of his radio programs," Joanne announced.

LSA Sponsors School Skating Party

Tickets are still available for the all-school skating party tonight at the Rollerdrome. Sponsored by L.S.A., it will begin at 9:30 and end at 12 p.m.

Admission is 50 cents with an additional 25-cent fee being charged for skate rentals.

Campfire Sunday Night

Sunday night after a business meeting to discuss plans for the coming LSA regional retreat, a campfire will be held on the lower campus. The meeting will start at 7 p.m. in the SUB.

Campfire and hymn singing will make up the firelight program.

Jack Hoover Is First To Sign for Boys' Hall

Shortly after the Groundbreaking ceremony Wednesday morning, one lone boy rushed to the office of the Dean of Men. What was his purpose? Why, to sign for a room, of course!

It was announced by the Dean of Men that Jack Hoover, junior, made the first reservation for a room in the new men's dormitory.

Eastvold Goes Swimming Pool or Lounge; Student Body Undecided

President S. C. Eastvold will leave the campus Saturday on a two week trip which will take him as far east as Chicago.

Saturday, Dr. and Mrs. Eastvold will be the house guests of Dr. Raymond M. Mosher, president of Eastern Washington College, and his wife. The two couples will attend the PLC-Eastern football game that evening in Cheney.

From Cheney, Dr. Eastvold expects to entrain for Minneapolis where he will attend a meeting of the Board of Education of the Evangelical Lutheran Church on Tuesday, Oct. 20. He will also attend a meeting of ELC college presidents while in the Mill City.

On Sunday, Oct. 22, the PLC president will speak in Faribault (Minn.) Lutheran Church in connection with the dedication of the congregation's new Sunday School building. The Rev. A. L. Rustad, formerly of Central Lutheran in Tacoma, is the pastor.

From there the busy president will go to Morris, Illinois, where on October 25 he will address a Reformation rally, to be sponsored by the Illinois Circuit of the E.L.C. Returning to Minneapolis October 27, he will attend a two-day committee meeting in the interest of an educational-business conference.

Going south on October 29, Dr. Eastvold will address an E.L.C. circuit rally in Sioux City, Iowa. The next two days he will speak in Omaha, Nebraska, and Soldier, Iowa. On November 2 he will address two reformation rallies, in the afternoon in Soldier, and in the evening in Sioux City.

The president expects to be back on the campus November 2.

Jerry Is 'Mr. Bagdad'; Apology from Staff

Jerry Kayian, student from Iraq, does not hold the title of "Mr. Iraq," as was reported in last week's issue of The Mooring Mast. Jerry, however, was awarded the honor of "Mr. Bagdad," which is the capital city of Iraq.

The staff wishes to apologize for its error.

"Education consists of two great things—self-realization and social service."—Dr. Francis Powers.

Everything from a swimming pool to new ping pong tables was suggested as a student-financed project during last Tuesday's student body meeting.

The discussion, resulting from the proposed pledges of three dollars per person to refurbish the upstairs lounge of the Student Union building, drew divided opinions from the student body.

"We're going to have two lounges in the new dormitories," Philip Wigen, junior, said, "so I think the money we collect for this project should be used for something different, like an outdoor patio and fireplace."

It was pointed out that one grad-

Band Chooses Major, Majorettes

"The band has accomplished much in a very short time and we look forward to a very interesting and busy year. I am very pleased with the fine progress that has already been made." Mr. Robert Larson, PLC band director, expressed his opinion on the work the band has been doing.

Judy Bureker and Jane Wolk were selected as majorettes and Gerald Rasmussen was chosen as drum major. All three students were selected by the band on Oct. 2, a week before Homecoming festivities. The band decided that two twirlers would be sufficient for PLC's particular type of instrumental group.

The duty of the drum major is to lead the band and make whistle and baton signals. Both majorettes march ahead of the band on the football field and in parades. Their specific job is to add color and dignity to the whole organization.

Majorettes Judy and Jane have costumes of white wool linen with gold braid trimmings topped off with a high hat with a yellow plume. White leather boots complete the outfit. The only distinction between the uniform of the drum major is that he wears a black hat with gold braid trimming. The rest of his outfit matches that of the band members.

uating class had left $375 for the patio project, the entire price of which would approach $2,000.

Some of the students were in favor of building a swimming pool in the gym.

"The gym is all prepared for the installation of a pool," one boy commented. "This would save us money."

John Rydgren, student body president, remarked that $40,000 would be the minimum price of such a pool, with the total cost possibly soaring to $100,000.

"Remember," he emphasized, "any money we plan to raise will have to be raised from within the student body. Dr. Eastvold will be gathering donations from outside for the new dormitories."

Another student opined that it would take from 15 to 20 years to raise enough money to build a pool of this type.

John revealed that Dr. S. C. Eastvold, college president, suggested that the students undertake some project such as the furnishing of four or five rooms in the new dormitories.

"I think we should have something outstanding," was one student's opinion, "something more than just a nameplate on a door."

In answer to various questions from the floor, John explained that the proposed plan for improving the upper Student Union building lounge would include adding new furniture and bamboo screens, and that it could be scheduled for meetings on a restricted basis.

The group voted to give the student body president authority to appoint a committee to look into the matter.

Students Should Support Debators

Monday night two of our senior debators will compete with an international team from Oxford, England. Obviously, the victory in this battle would be a great honor for the campus.

However, we cannot leave everything up to John Rydgren and John Osborne, who are representing us. It takes more than a glib speech and a smooth rebuttal to win an important debate. It takes self-confidence and self-assurance, such as the debators can obtain from the knowledge that their student body is behind them.

So let's all get out and offer our encouragement this following Monday evening to help the PLC speech department add another honor to its long list of previous glories.

Homecoming Was Success

Last week's Homecoming festivities were some of the finest this campus has ever seen. Much credit should be given the students, through whose cooperation and good will this was made possible, as well as the chairmen and their committees.

If the present trend of Pacific Lutheran College, which seems to be to become bigger and better each year, continues to increase, next year's Homecoming celebration will have to go a long way to surpass the event of last weekend.

A vote of thanks is presented here for the hard-working students, the lovely queen and her court, the victorious football team, and all who worked so hard to create this success.

Music Library Is Open to Students

Now students can drop into the Erickson Music Library in the C-M-S any afternoon from 2 to 5 to listen to records, to read, study, or just relax. The single exception is Friday, when the room closes at 4 o'clock.

The Grand Opening for the current year was Wednesday, when the Music Library entered the service of the students officially for the first time since last spring, when it was open for only a couple of weeks at the end of the year.

Several new books and new albums have been added to the collections in the library during the past week. Among the books accessioned are hymnals donated by several Tacoma churches, Lutheran and otherwise.

New phonograph albums in the library this week include a Dellus Society Album which contains his Piano Concerto in c Minor, Marche Caprice, and A Song of the High Hills; an album of Darius Milhaud's Protee: Symphonic Suite No. 2; and an album of Jewish liturgical music.

Of special interest to many students will be the proposed plan whereby the music library will maintain a collection of music for vocal and instrumental groups of small and medium size, from which selections can be checked out on a three-week unlimited renewal basis.

Student Organ Guild To Hear New Organ

Tuesday evening of this coming week the members of the organ guild will be given the opportunity to become thoroughly acquainted with the brand new 37-rank Aeolian-Skinner pipe organ at First Methodist Church. The group will be accompanied by Mr. R. Byard Fritts, their adviser, who is organist at the church.

Many students heard the instrument a couple of weeks ago when Mr. Fritts played the first presentation concert on it. Now the students themselves will have the opportunity to play it.

The meeting at the church will be preceded by a business meeting at which officers for the coming year will be elected. Students interested in joining the organization can meet the group at 7:30 Tuesday evening in front of Old Main, whence the membership will leave for Tacoma.

'Clyde' Sets Up Home In Newspaper Office

A dirt box, a milk saucer that started out in life as an ash tray, and a kitten with a crooked tail have moved into the Mooring Mast office in the lower SUB and it looks like they're here to stay a while.

"Clyde," the kitten in question, wandered in three days ago and liked it so well he hasn't wandered out yet. The dirt box and saucer were supplied by John Shannon, Mast copy editor.

Who's Who . . . Or Who Is?

By Barbara Leaf

"Who's who? . . . Are you Peggy or Patty?"

These are famous words to two personalities on the campus. They are Ritzville, Washington's, Patty and Peggy Arit, freshmen economics and business majors.

These two blondes are twins in every sense of the word but one, and that is that Patty wears glasses and Peggy does not.

Both girls enjoy swimming and tennis. They played in their high school band for four years, were cheer leaders for one year, and were active in the school tennis team. They were also participants in the Future Homemakers of America.

Here at Pacific Lutheran College they are active in the Lutheran Student Association, Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation, and play saxophones in the band.

They are newsworthy not only for the fact that they are twins, but because they are one of four family groups in this year's band. Dr. Robert Larson, band director, says he has never come across more than two groups in any band, so these gals are really making history.

Business courses rate tops with these girls, although they say, "We love it on that farm just six miles out of Ritzville and wouldn't give it up for anything."

When asked what they think of Pacific Lutheran College, Patty replied, "The friendliness and feeling of one big happy family is simply wonderful," and Peggy said, "I just love it because of the Christian attitudes and it's such a good environment."

As their pet peeve, the twins give "Being asked why we're not dressed alike when we're not."

Patty always answers with "I didn't get my clothes finished."

When asked their most memorable occasion in connection with being twins, Peggy replied, "The time Patty had a formal date and I answered the door in my jeans."

Schedule Announced At ICC Meeting

At a meeting of the I.C.C., held this week, the schedule for the Tuesday Chapel programs was announced as follows: Oct. 20, Kappa Rho Kappa; Oct. 27, Blue Dorm-Clover Creek Hall; Nov. 3, Blue Key; Nov. 10, Lettermen; Nov. 17, Lutheran Student Association; and Nov. 24, Viking Club.

A legal committee has been appointed from the I.C.C. members that will check up on all school organizations to make sure they are working according to constitutional rules.

It was announced that there is quite a bit of free activity time for school functions, between Thanksgiving and Christmas, and it is recommended that all clubs schedule their Christmas parties on their usual meeting night. It was mentioned also, that no all-school activities have been scheduled for Oct. 24 or Oct. 30.

Alaskans Enter Lutheran Campus

Alaska has sent many of her students to Pacific Lutheran this year.

Petite Ruth Duval comes from Petersburg high school, Alaska. The valedictorian of her class, Ruthie is interested in the field of elementary education. "PLC is the friendliest place I've been to," exclaimed Ruth.

A freshman who hails from Ketchikan, Alaska, Delphine Danielson's interests lie in the field of music. She likes to sing, play the piano, and she is a member of the school band. Delphine likes PLC and Parkland and she hopes to become a secretary.

Another graduate from Ketchikan high school, Alaska, Gerda Nergard is planning to be another Florence Nightingale. She thinks PLC is "pretty good" and the weather here is like Alaskan summers. Gerda has been to Norway and has spent a few months in Seattle.

With a keen interest in the outdoors, Sven Winther is a hunting and fishing enthusiast. Sven, who is a freshman at PLC, is from Petersburg, Alaska. He thinks it's a great place and the students are "right there." The only deterrent, Sven says, "I can't go fishing and hunting like I used to."

From Juneau, Alaska, comes Bill Orme, freshman in liberal arts. His interests lie in the music field and is a member of the school chorus. Bill is undecided on a major, but thinks he'll go into history.

'Puff' Game Champ Is All-American Gal

"The greatest little All-American ever to play on the frosh team!"

That's the opinion of the teammates of Monique Wettens, star left halfback of the "Powder Puff" champions and better known as "Monie."

The petite five-foot-three freshman was carried off the field on their shoulders after scoring 14 points and passing to right halfback Judy Bureker for the third touchdown.

Monie came to PLC by a roundabout manner, being born in Aruba, Dutch West Indies, where her father worked for Standard Oil Co. After visits to Europe, the Wettens chose Oregon as their home.

Roy Olson, public relations director for the college, interested Monie in PLC while on one of his many speaking tours.

She wasn't disappointed, either. "Everything here is extra-special," she smiled.

She doesn't only play football, she's also a softball player. In fact, she beat most of us here when the Lake Oswego Mermaids, Oregon State women's champs, played us in the regional tournament at Tacoma on August 9. Monie could have been found in the line-up as shortstop.

"I just played a little bit of football in grade school," (she denied rumors that she plays for the Seattle Ramblers on weekends), "but the game was really fun. I'll be playing next year if I'm here."

Liberal arts is her field this year, but Monie thinks she'll major in Physical Education.

Art Swanson, coach, lavish with praise for the whole team, summed up his opinion and many of the other males on campus with these words, "Can she cook?"

Gladiators Victorious In Homecoming Game

Playing in the annual Homecoming classic, the PLC Gladiators downed the Central Washington Wildcats, 7 to 6. As the score indicates, the game was a thriller and only the last minute of play decided the final outcome.

Central received the opening kickoff on their own 15, and ran it up to their 27 yard line before being stopped. Unable to gain sufficient yardage, the Cats were forced to punt, when a roughing the kicker penalty gave them the needed first and ten. Two plays later a pass interception by Gale put the ball in the hands of the Lutes on Central's 40 yard line. A pass from Lancaster to Billings, good for 15 yards, started the Lute drive which ended when Karwoski went into the end zone on a quarterback sneak. The kick by Billings was good and PLC led by 7-0. Central controlled the ball much of the remaining first quarter, and although they got within the PLC 20 yard line, they lacked the final drive.

The second quarter showed Central in possession of the ball much of the time, with the Lutes never getting the ball out of their own territory. The Gladiators showed their defensive strength on two occasions when they stopped a Central drive once on the 4, and again on the 9 yard line, as the gun sounded ending the half.

The kick-off starting the second half was taken by the Lutes and the ball came to rest on the 15 yard line. Unable to gain a first and ten, PLC was forced to kick, when a fumble by Central put the ball back in their hands on their own 36. A pass from Larson to Ball good for 19 yards again started the Lutes rolling, but they lost the ball on downs on Central's 12 yard line. The Gladiators kept the ball deep in Central territory for the remainder of the third period with Nordquist throwing them for a loss on more than one occasion.

The beginning of the final period showed both teams evenly matched. Neither team was able to gain a first and ten until a Central pass put the ball on the PLC 24. Another pass put the ball on the PLC 7 yard stripe with first and goal to go. With only a minute of play left in the game, Don Rundle went into the end zone for the Central score. The try for point was blocked as Big Bill Borden tore through the Wildcat line like an express train. The Lutes controlled the ball as the final gun sounded with PLC holding the edge, 7 to 6.

Tacoma Teams Win In Intramural Games

On Wednesday, Oct. 7, Eastern Parkland came out on top of South Barracks, 12-6, due to Iver Eliason's scoring one touchdown on a pass from Bob Ross; pitching another to Pete Luvaas. Dick Kent did the scoring for the losers.

Tacoma won by the same score the next day. Donn Koessler's sharp passing to Erik Redal, Len Nelson beat Eastern's lone score on an aerial from Eliason to Tink.

Clover Creek kept their record unblemished with a 36-12 victory over N. W. Barracks. In a fine running attack, Jack Hoover scored four touchdowns while Sick's Jacobson each added one to defeat the out-manned N. W.'s who managed to score two touchdowns, one by Bob Holmgren, the other by Dave Johnson.

Because of Bud Lester's unerring eye, Western Parkland romped over South Barracks 24-6. Lester spread it around with a scoring pitch to brother Bob, Harry Eggan, Al Twidt, Dick Krusore and Joe Trabucco threw a long one to Bob Olson for the losers' T.D.

In the week's big battle, Tacoma sneaked by Western Parkland, 12 to 6. Tacoma scored two fat ones on passes by Donn Koessler to Len Nelson. The Westerners fought back to score one touchdown on Bud Lester's long, long pass to Dwaine Brandt in the end zone, but failed to capitalize on a couple of breaks and that was the way the score stood at the last whistle.

The faculty's "razzle-dazzle" outfit sort of went "fizzle-fizzle" as they forfeited their games for lack of support.

Lettermen Raise Dues, Plan Initiation Rites

With the motion to charge 50 cents a semester dues and with plans being made as to the coming initiation of the football players, the second meeting of the Lettermen got under way.

Richard Brown, Lawrence Eggan and Jack Hoover were appointed to work as a committee on the initiation to be held at the end of the current sports season.

News from the Bench

By Ron Johnson

Do you realize how fortunate we here at PLC are to have such an outstanding coaching staff?

Marv Harshman, Mark Salzman, Ole Magnuson, Art Swanson, and Ray Barnes—tops in the league.

Let's cover the assistant coaches first. Magnuson, Swanson, and Barnes completed their college football careers last year, playing on the conference championship team.

Art Swanson, a hard-driving halfback on the team last year, is a good example for you freshmen to follow. Always out to win, "Swanny" has energy to burn. Always hustling, Art was very sincere in telling me that to be on the coaching staff here was a great thrill for him.

Ray Barnes, a mainstay at guard for "Harsh" in former years, was an All-Conference and All-Coast selection last year. Ray knows a great deal about playing the line, and is always giving advice when needed. He's a valuable man to have on the staff. Always hustling for the Lutes, Ray is grateful for the opportunity given him, and enjoys the coaching job immensely.

Mark Salzman, "Harsh's" assistant coach, is also basketball assistant coach, and head track coach. "Salz" combines a great knowledge of sports and friendliness in both coaching and teaching. Well liked by the football players, he handles the "meat" squad, which has one game scheduled this year with Grays Harbor J. C. The JV's will have a battle down there, but you can be sure that Salzman's men will be out to win.

And there is "Harsh!" What can be said about a coach who has the prestige and following that Harshman has? It's impossible to laud Harshman enough. As everyone knows, he was one of the athletic greats in 1939-40, and has been coaching at PLC since 1946. He's always kidding with the fellows and everyone likes and admires him. Our thanks and appreciation, Harsh, for everything you've done for this school. One think I'd like to know, though; how many times have you said, "Oh, for crying out loud!" Coach?

Now to look at the predictions: UW 13, USC 13; my prediction: USC over the Huskies, 42-13. It was half right, anyhow. WSC 7, Oregon 0; mine: Oregon 19 and WSC 13. Those Cougars are confusing me, winning and losing and winning again. Whitworth 28, CPS 7; mine: Whitworth 27, CPS 13. The Loggers didn't have it, and the Pirates really look strong. As of now, they're the team to win this year. PLC 7, CWCE 6; my guess: PLC 20, CWCE 13. The outcome was closer than I thought, although the Lutes had a rolling offense for the first time this year. Borden's block of that place-kick helped immensely.

Next week the UW takes on Oregon, WSC takes on UCLA, PLC travels to Eastern, and CPS tangles with UBC. Predictions coming up: UW 32, Oregon 13; UCLA 27, WSC 13; CPS 27, UBC 7; EWCE 19, PLC 7.

Hobart did it again, dumping Alleghany 19-12 last Saturday. The Statesmen take on Kenyon at home tomorrow. This is Hobart's Homecoming game, and they'll follow the example set by the Lutes. THEY WILL BE VICTORIOUS!

Freshmen Win 'Powder' Tussle

"Wow! she should be on the varsity team."

This remark was heard last Saturday when Monique Wetton, freshman, sparked her team to victory in the annual Powder Puff game. Monique, with two touchdowns, was high point woman. The other touchdown was scored by Judy Bureker.

Bob McAdams, freshman coach, nearly broke his crutches in the excitement of one of his team's touchdowns.

There were no serious injuries as a result of the tussle between the "Galloping Girdles" and the "Bustling Bustles," although many girls were very stiff the next day. Bruises and nose bleeds were also in evidence.

Jo Schwartzwalter, captain of the upperclassmen, made the touchdown for her team and also received the award for being the most inspiring player.

The captains of the victorious freshmen were June Sather and Nathalie Ho and their coaches were Brian Price, Bob McAdams and Art Swanson.

Council Appoints Luvas

Peter Luvas was appointed game chairman for the upper Student Union building lounge during student council meeting last Tuesday evening.

He will be in charge of ping pong, shuffleboard and other game equipment.

Girl Gridders Return To Feminine Life

Bruised shoulders are regaining their natural color and rubbing liniment bottles are gradually disappearing from the dormitories as the girls put away their football helmets and return once more to the womanly sports of knitting and gossiping.

Having broken the training schedule they followed while preparing for the annual "Powder Puff Bowl" game last week end, the feminine grid stars are once again tasting the delights of unrestricted life. Fattening foods, exercise-free days, and the late evening hour of 10:00 are being enjoyed in vast quantities.

"My," one lass reflected, "it sure is nice to act like a girl again."

Lutheran Team To Travel For Eastern Game

Fresh from a 7-6 Homecoming victory over Central Washington, a high-spirited PLC football team travels to Eastern Washington this week end, gunning for their second conference win.

The Savages from far away Cheney were the victims of PLC's homecoming in 1952 by a single point, 20-19.

Eastern has a new grid mentor this year in the person of Ed Chisus and you can be sure that he and his charges will be out to put the stopper on the defending titleholders. The Savages ran over Western Washington, 35-19, in their league contest last Saturday. The Eastern club will have its hands full handling the Lutes' combined "T" and single wing back.

Saturday marked the first time since Marv Harshman took over the coaching reins at PLC that a Lute team has displayed a single-wing formation. It proved effective in the Central game and Gladiator fans are hoping that it will have the same effect on Eastern Washington.

Help keep your team on the winning path by attending as many games as possible; they deserve your support.

Player of the Week

Hailing from Tacoma, this week's Player of the Week is one of the Lutes' work horses, a lineman. Playing at the guard position for nearly sixty minutes is our choice, Roger Larsen.

Roger has played a lot of ball for the Black and Gold and will be relied upon much more throughout the season. He stands 5 feet, 9 inches and weighs a bruising 195. In the game against Central last Saturday Roger did a tremendous job of keeping the center of the Central line jammed, which made it tough sailing for the Wildcat backs. On offense he did a good job of opening holes so his teammates could move the ball for some yardage.

Roger, being a lineman, does a lot of hard work which is very seldom seen by the spectator. At the next game keep an eye on him, watch how he keeps getting into the backfield, how he will plug a hole and stop the ball-carrier, and watch him keep hitting the man in front of him, driving him back ten yards.

McGregor Will Repeat Vows

A romance has been blooming on campus for almost two years, but only a few faculty members and students have been aware of it.

So there was reason for the surprise of faculty members when President S. C. Eastvold, in a meeting Tuesday morning, announced that Jean McGregor, assistant professor in speech, had become engaged.

Dr. Eastvold went on to state that the marriage would take place on December 29 in Saskatoon, Sask., Canada, and that he would perform the ceremony. He further stated that Miss McGregor would be leaving the college after the first semester and that the administration was looking for a replacement.

He then went on to tell that the swain is Dr. Orville Dahl of Minneapolis, Executive Director of the Division of Higher Education of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. Dr. Dahl gave the commencement address here last spring, and was one of the speakers at the faculty retreat in September.

German Club Elects

At a meeting of the German club held this week, officers were elected for the present semester. Those elected were president, O. B. Jjeldstad; secretary-treasurer, Janet Klippen; social chairman, Marlene Stuhlmiller, and Inter Club Council representative, Bill Knorr.

They have not made any plans as yet but they will be meeting to organize further in the near future.

Homecoming Celebration 'One of Finest Ever Held'

In the words of President S. C. Eastvold, "This was one of the finest homecoming celebrations we have ever had on our campus."

Co-chairmen Joyce Genz and Jerald Sheffels and their committees turned out a three-day celebration which made homecoming the gala event which it was.

A near capacity house of 1,000 persons attended the coronation rites Friday evening when Gov. Arthur B. Langlie crowned Luella Vig queen.

Saturday morning the freshmen girls routed the upper class girls on the gridiron behind the flashy play of Monique Wetten.

During the halftime intermission of the "Powder Puff" tilt, Queen Luella I crowned David Wold, a Seattle sophomore, "Handsome Harry," to reign over the game. Wold was sponsored by Kappa Rho Kappa. Runners up were Donald Morris, Delta Rho Gamma entry; and Kenneth Robinson, Clover Creek choice. They were crowned princes by the queen.

Many observers said that the 20 floats in the parade represented about the finest ever assembled for homecoming. A trio of alumni judges awarded the Clover Creek Hall float first in the humorous division, the Associated Women Students float first in the beautiful division, and the Alpha Phi Omega float first in the clever division.

Halftime ceremonies at the PLC-Central game in Lincoln Bowl Saturday afternoon were most impressive. The "Choir of the West," Chorus and band combined to present stirring anthems to the assembly.

An estimated 400 alumni attended a pot-luck dinner in the Student Union Saturday evening. Dr. Eastvold gave the main address.

The auditorium of the chapel-Music-Speech building was filled to capacity Sunday morning when the student body, alumni and Trinity Lutheran Church worshipped together.

Student Employment Rate Is Growing

Along with everything else on the campus, the yearly student employment rate is growing by leaps and bounds.

"At the time," Miss Wickstrom reports, "there are 97 girls working an average of six hours a week on our campus."

The jobs these girls fill are many and varied. Work included in this program is the Bookstore, library, dining hall and steam table, switch board, health center, cleaning, offices, councillors, and miscellaneous.

"Besides these, we are often contacted about people wanting girls for baby-sitting, cleaning, office, and clerking jobs," said the Dean of Women. "Any girl desiring on or off campus work should check with us before she looks any further."

Business Club Formed

Alpha Sigma Lambda, college club for economics and business administration majors, was organized last week.

An election of officers was held and the following people were elected: president, Don Hefty; vice-president, Garnett Lund; secretary, Marlene Chesley; treasurer, Al Gruber; inter-club council representative Mr. Stampolis is adviser.

The club hopes to sponsor various speakers throughout the year. They will also be busy planning a Christmas banquet and thinking about a chapel program.

They will be meeting on alternate Wednesday nights. All business and economics majors are invited by the group to join.

Mr. Newnham Sings Lead in "Elijah"

Felix Mendelssohn's "Elijah" will be presented at First Methodist Church, Sunday evening at 8. The church is located at 5th and K streets. Pacific Lutheran's Frederick L. Newnham will sing the title role. Jeanette Foss, prominent PLC music student, will be at the piano, and Prof. R. Byard Fritts will be at the console of the gigantic new Aeolian-Skinner pipe organ. The entire group, which is basically the church's own choir supplemented by other singers from all over the city — including the Choir of the West — will be conducted by Mr. Fritz Berntsen, who has been conducting similar groups in the Tacoma area for 25 years.

Music Library Open During Afternoons

A program of music listening for students and faculty members will be inaugurated Monday afternoon in the music library, it was announced Thursday by Prof. Karl E. Weiss, chairman of the music department. Recordings of tone poems will be featured the first week. Program notes will be furnished to assist listeners in their study and appreciation of the recorded works.

Monday through Thursday recordings will be played from 2 to 5 o'clock. On Fridays the hours are from 2 to 4 o'clock.

There are six listening posts in the library, which will pick up the music as it is played from a record player. "If there is sufficient interest in this program, we will install more headphones," Prof. Weiss declared.

Students who will be in charge of this program, working under Prof. Weiss, include: Jeanne Frieske, Jeanette Foss, Onella Lee, Mary Ensberg, Alan Freed, Reid French, Janet Whitmore, Constance Hanson, Beverly Tranum and Priscilla Asper.

Kappa Rho Kappa Assembly Soon

PLC's own quick-change artist will be presented on Student Body day, October 20, at 9:45 a.m. in the auditorium of the Chapel-Music-Speech building.

Sponsored by Kappa Rho Kappa, Frank Stank will present the new play, "The Manning of McGoo." Stank will portray all of the characters himself. He boasts that no costume-change will take him more than five seconds.

The costumes and scenery were designed by Mr. Stank.

K.R.K. CANDIDATE WINS

For the second successive year, PLC's Handsome Harry was sponsored by Kappa Rho Kappa. Ernest Pihl was the 1952 Handsome Harry and this year David Wold won the title.

Wold's campaign managers were Otto Tollefson and Dave Nesvig.

Ernest Johnson Going To Africa

Ernest Johnson, '53, was commissioned as a missionary to Africa in ceremonies conducted Sunday evening by President S. C. Eastvold in Ballard First Lutheran Church, Seattle. Commissioned with him was his bride of three weeks, the former Helen Johanson, a nursing graduate from Emanuel Hospital in Portland.

The Johnsons will sail from New York on November 27 for Paris where they will study languages for one year. Then they will proceed to the Sudan mission field of the Evangelical Lutheran Church which is located in French West Africa.

Johnson, an industrial arts and education major, will teach in a school which is to be established on the mission field.

For the past two summers Johnson has been a member of the college quartet which has toured in Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California.

Connotation vs. Pupils

"It's not what you're saying that offends me. It's your connotation." So speak the scholars of Freshman Composition as they experiment with the difference between the denotation of a word (what it actually means) and the connotation (what it implies).

"It's getting so that people can't even talk any more," one frosh muttered as he plowed through his thesaurus, "without being misinterpreted."

SWIM PARTY SATURDAY

Splash! A swimming party, sponsored by the sophomore class, will be held this Saturday evening, at the Tacoma Y.W.C.A., from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased for 50 cents in the lower hall of Old Main.

College Seal Is Designed

Designed by art professor George Roskos, a new official college seal has been adopted. Pictured above, the theme of the seal is "building," in keeping with the college motto, "Build for Character."

Both spiritual and material building are depicted in the seal which shows the old chapel, the new chapel-music-speech building, the library and scaffolding representing the future. In the right background is Mt. Rainier showing God's creative handiwork. The entire scene is tied in to and overshadowed by the cross, showing the centrality of Christ in the program of the college.

Mammal, Bird Men Will Meet Here

The Pacific Northwest Bird and Mammal Society meets Saturday, Oct. 17, at 8 p.m. in Room 108, Science building.

Mr. Bender, assistant naturalist at Mt. Rainier National Park, will speak on "Natural History of Hawaii National Park." Everyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

The Society's purpose is to encourage the study of birds and mammals of our region. Visitors are expected from Oregon and British Columbia as well as the Puget Sound region.

A dinner meeting of the executive board of the Society in the college dining hall will precede the program.

Dr. B. T. Ostenson of the Science faculty is in charge of local arrangements and serves as secretary of the organization.

"Paul said 'If any man—should he be an angel from Heaven—preach another gospel unto you, Let him be damned!'"
