

P. L. C. CHORUS AND THESPIANS GIVE PROGRAM

"Peppery Pa" and "Jed Settles Down" Presented by the Two Organizations

An evening's entertainment was given by the P. L. C. chorus and the Thespian Literary-Dramatic Society, in the college gymnasium, Wednesday, December 17. The P. L. C. chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Ph. E. Hauge presented the Operetta "Peppery Pa." The Thespian Society presented a one-act play, "Jed Settles Down."

The cast, for "Peppery Pa" was composed of the following students:

Squire Verdant, Birger Nelson.
Fanny, his daughter, Lillian Lee.
Sol Feggio, in love with Fanny.
Harry Sannerud.

Mike, Lyell Kreidler.
Betsy, Gladys Thomas.
Lias, Betsy's brother, Arnt Oyen.
Mr. Pedagogue, Walter French.
Mr. Swallow-Tail, Peter Sognefest.

The plot centered about the love affair of a young couple and their difficulties in reconciling an unsympathetic father. But love found a way, and in this case pepper played an important place in that way, causing some amusing and some very distressing situations.

Miss Lillian Lee and Mr. Harry Sannerud, the principal characters and soloists are both students of voice at the college and deserve special mention for their fine solo and duet work. Mr. Lyell Kreidler gave a very good characterization of an old Irishman, in dialect, appearance and actions, and his solo was also fine.

The chorus of mixed voices was well trained, their singing was very effective and gave pep to the whole performance.

The cast for "Jed Settles Down" was:

Jed, a lover of folks and children especially, Alvar Beck.

Lissa, the hard working hired girl, Nina Elide.

Mildred, simple and lovin', Martha Hjermstad.

Ralph, average young American, Myron Kreidler.

Gladys, orphan protege, Marie Gardlin.

Burnie Grimes, motherless child, Carl Ellingson.

Veane, Bobby Svare.

May, Elizabeth Stuen.

Frances, Clara Rod.

Jimmie, John Stuen.

Jed, the leading character of the play, received much applause because of his optimistic views and love for children. After many years of shiftless, wandering he decides to marry and settle down, Lissa being the favored one.

Lissa, although a very hard worker who had no time to waste on sentiment, had during the years saved some money. This she generously offers Jed, which enables him to secure a house before they marry. Lissa showed much originality and her acting was well received by the audience.

Ralph, Mildred's lover, rejected by her parents because he had no funds wherewith to marry; suddenly inherits a large sum of money. As money was the only obstacle in the path their joy is now complete.

ICE SKATING AT P. L. C.

The students at P. L. C. enjoyed a few days of ice skating before school closed for the Christmas vacation. This is quite unusual in this part of the country, therefore it was doubly enjoyed. We doubt, however, whether the faculty enjoyed it as much. For some mysterious reason there would be two or three missing from each class. We are not saying for sure but probably if the teachers would have held their classes on the pond in the orchard everyone would have been present. The students at least, are hoping that there will soon be another siege of cold weather so that they may have more ice skating.

FACULTY FETES ST. OLAF CHOIR

P. L. C. Faculty Gives a Reception for the St. Olaf Choir at the College Dec. 31

On the afternoon preceding the concert given by the St. Olaf choir at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Tacoma, the president and faculty of P. L. C. gave a reception and luncheon for Director Christianson and the choir and the entertainment committee, who had taken the members of the choir about the city and brought them out to Parkland. At three o'clock the guests began to arrive. They were shown the building and then broke up into groups gathered around the fireplaces in the reception rooms or chatting merrily in the corridors. At four-thirty the luncheon was served, eleven tables, each seating ten being in use. The dining room had been transformed into a veritable holiday fairland, fir trees and native greens forming a background for the gay decorations. The tables were centered with a huge bowl of Washington's reddest apples, while barked at the ends of the tables were potted poinsettias. Trailing vines of smilax added to the beauty of the scheme. Baked in the windows were pepper plants, their glossy spheres adding a touch of brilliant color. The shaded lights cast a glow over the whole.

The guests, more than a hundred in number, were received by Pres. and Mrs. Ordal, members of the faculty, and their wives. After the lunch, which was served by a group of college girls, Pres. Ordal made a short speech of welcome which was responded to in happy fashion by the choir tour manager, Prof. P. G. Schmidt.

Philippine Independence Discussed in Debate Positions on Interscholastic Team Contested

Resolved "that the Philippines should be granted their immediate independence," was the question for discussion by the P. L. C. Debating Society, on Jan. 9th. The debaters were: Affirmative, Luetta Svith and Arnt Oyen; negative, Martha Hjermstad and Alvar Beck. The negative received the judges' decision by a 2 to 1 vote.

After the regular debate several prepared 3 minute speeches, on the same question, were given by members of the society. The object of having so many participate was to enable the debating coach, Prof. Philip Hauge to select the teams

FORMER STUDENT DIES SUDDENLY

Henry Knutzen of Burlington Drowns. Parents Give School a Memorial of Him

In memory of Henry Knutzen, a former student of P. L. C., Mr. and Mrs. George F. Knutzen of Burlington, Wash., have given one thousand dollars to Pacific Lutheran College, which is to be used as a memorial of him.

On the evening of Dec. 17, Henry Knutzen, while out skating, broke through the ice and drowned. The body was not found till after noon the next day. The funeral was Sunday, Dec. 21. Rev. Ordal attended the services.

Three years ago Henry Knutzen attended school here. He graduated from the commercial department with the class of 1922. Many of the students, now attending P. L. C., were his classmates and friends.

Henry Knutzen was a brother of Arthur Knutzen who has been a student here for two years and will graduate this spring.

RINGSTAD'S RECEIVE A SON AS CHRISTMAS GIFT

Mr. and Mrs. Ringstad are the parents of a ten pound baby boy born on December 26. The name to be given the promising youngster is Myron Henry Jr. From the old age that history repeats itself, we can deduce that Myron Jr. is going to win renown for himself thru his mathematical genius. Before he is two and a half he will have mastered the Bankers Like Co. insurance tables, and by the time he passes sixteen he will be able to recite from memory one hundred of the commonest chemical elements. Some unofficial reports have it that "Ring's" son will be prone to be very busy and will also be somewhat of a "night hawk."

DATE FOR COLLEGE REUNION FEB. 20-22

Many Alumni and Friends of the School Are Expected to Return to P. L. C.

According to the decision of the faculty at its regular business session on Wednesday evening, January 7, a reunion festival is to be celebrated at P. L. C. on February 20, 21 and 22. Definite plans were not adopted, but a committee consisting of Professors Hauge and Xavier and Miss Larsen was instructed to arrange a schedule for the program of events to take place during those dates. Announcement will be made in later issues of the Mooring Mast in regard to the details of the home-coming celebration.

The reunion is an annual affair and affords a splendid opportunity for the friends, former students, and alumni of P. L. C. to return to their school to meet old-time schoolmates, to renew pleasant school-day memories, and to learn by actual contact of the doings and progress of our school. It is generally understood that the former students and the alumni of both Columbia College and Pacific Lutheran Academy are reckoned as belonging to the present Pacific Lutheran College. A large number from these groups are expected to return to Parkland when the Reunion is held.

LINCOLN ESSAY CONTEST

The high-school English classes under Prof. Ph. E. Hauge, and Prof. O. L. Thorson are going to participate in the Lincoln Essay Contest. The purpose of the contest is to arouse interest in the study of Abraham Lincoln.

The Illinois Watch Company is offering a medallion cast in government bronze, to the high school pupil who writes the best essay. On one side of the medal is cast the bust of Abraham Lincoln, the years of his birth and death, and the name "Lincoln." On the other side is a wreath with the legend, "Lincoln Essay Awarded to." The contest is recommended by F. G. Blair, Superintendent of schools in Illinois. The intention is to hold this contest in the near future so that all the essays will be submitted by the time of Lincoln's birthday, February 12.

NEW FICTION BOOKS FOR LIBRARY

During the last month the following ten books were added to the fiction library.

The Coming of Cassidy, Mulford.
King of the Khyber Rifles, Munday.

Whelps of the Wolves, Marsh.
Skyline of Spruce, Marshall.
Lucretia Lombard, Norris.
The Breaking Point, Rinehart.
The Sky Pilot, Connor.
The Night Riders, Cullum.
Hans Brinker, Dodge.
Pride of Palomar, Kyne.

This addition brings the total number of new fiction this year up to fifty-five volumes.

In a fast and close game, Sat., Dec. 10th, at the Kapowsin High gym, the P. L. C. boys' team defeated the High School hoopers by a score of 22 to 17.

The victory came as a surprise, as Sidney Glasco, guard was unable to play on account of ineffectuality, and Ole Serwold, star center, was away from the team visiting his home at Paulsbo. With these men unable to play and then having Burt Kreidler, captain and guard taken out of the game in the second quarter on account of personal fouls, the Lutheran cause looked very dark for awhile. But good teamwork, fine passing and ability to make field baskets put the P. L. C. boys in the lead, which was maintained thruout the whole game.

Joe Glasco, the only man remaining in the play for P. L. C. tall enough to take the tilt at center on the tossup, did this then dropped back and played each time after the throwup a good defensive game as guard, while Carl Coltum immediately shifted up and took over the offensive duties of the center position. Carl Coltum was high point man for the Collegians having 8 points checked up to his credit, while Myron Kriedler and Ruddy Sanderson each have 6. Corfield and Tuttle were high point men for the Kapowsin High and performed nobly for their side.

The P. L. C. squad seemed to work smoother than any time this season and the large turnout of P. L. C. rooters that journeyed to Kapowsin were kept constantly on their feet following the action of the team.

The groups were:

P. L. C.	Kapowsin
M. Kreidler	F. H. Schnell
R. Sanderson	J. Corfield
Joe Glasco	R. Fix
B. Kreidler	P. Madson
C. Coltum	G. H. Tuttle
Subs: P. L. C.: L. Kriedler for B. Kreidler. Kapowsin: Schnell for Madson.

In the game preceding the boys, the P. L. C. co-eds triumphed over the Kapowsin High girls by a score of 22 to 15.

They started with the same pep and action which characterized the Fife game, Dec. 13th. This spirit was carried on thru the whole game and into that of the boys.

The girls worked well together and good teamwork was evident. Individual honor goes to Polly Langlow, whose ability to make baskets for the Lutherans made her the outstanding star of the game. Lucille Youngbluth was the mainstay of the Kapowsin girls.

The girls have copped both games that they have played this season and are getting along in fine shape.

The Lineups:

P. L. C.	Kapowsin
Heimdahl	F. Selle
Langlow	F. Youngbluth
Dahl	JC. Lingley
Padness	SC. Pickle
Elde	G. Christenson
Samuelson	G. Rhors
Subs: P. L. C.: Birkland for Langlow. Kapowsin: Taylor for Lingley.

Teddy Lundeen visited relatives at Eatonville during the holidays.

A COLLEGE SONG FOR P. L. C.

Whenever any need has been especially evident at our school the student body has usually been dependable in doing something to produce what was needed. Right now one of the things Pacific Lutheran College needs most is a college song. In order that this song might be a product of our school spirit, it should come from among the students. The burden of the present announcement need not be at all vague. Some student has to write a suitable song, which implies that each student has to try writing one. As a school of merit and a student body of vigor and vitality, we cannot afford to continue our existence without a college song that adequately expresses our school spirit. Let us determine now to do our utmost to produce the best song possible.

There are principally two requisites that this song must possess. In the first place it must be more than mere rhyme—it must mean something. And if it is to mean anything at all, it must harmonize with the ideals of our school and student body. In the second place it must be singable—it must have a "taking" melody and must be easy enough for all of us to sing.

With these things in mind let us begin to compose at once. By the natural method, the song poem should come first; therefore, let us begin with that. The music will come once we have the suitable words. It would be well that this be done as soon as possible in order that a song may be officially adopted by our school at the Reunion to be held during the latter part of February. If we set this as our goal and strive earnestly to attain it, we will not fail. By the way, some one ought to get busy on a yell also, that we might adopt as our Official.

FOR THE HONOR OF THE SCHOOL

The question has often been raised in regard to participation in athletics, whether the athlete entered the field for his own glory and pleasure or for the honor and glory of his school. This question cannot be solved by the observation of a single game. It takes the grind and jolts of a hard season to solve it, and here's how.

Teamwork cannot be attained in a squad unless they are playing one for all and all for one. The team which goes thru a season of any sport and emerges with nothing but a lot of fancy individual stuff has no school spirit in its lineup. Another important factor toward winning, and one that is instilled only by school spirit, is "the old fight." A team is not playing for the pleasure of it when hopelessly lost and exhausted.

Again, toward the end of a hard season there is a tendency, on the part of the athlete, to go "stale." His sport holds no thrill for him. He has had plenty. Along with this slump in interest comes a longing to break training regulations.

If the player can stick to his team and school thru this then verily there is no doubt as to whom he was playing for.

"BORES"

Who is it that does not know one or more individuals whose first classification is that they are boring? No one, certainly, for there surely are enough of them to know. In fact, they seem to be everywhere about us, and also to be as persistent in their boredom as are mosquitoes in their pestering. To characterize adequately all the uncounted varieties of "bores" is admittedly beyond our present purpose and ability. However, to point out a few of the "kinds" may aid the entire legion to see themselves as others see them, and to give direction to their self-improvement. We do not use the third person in order to avoid disagreeable implications. Where the shoe pinches we also deem to feel it.

One sort of person who causes anguish of spirit in his associates and who infects every school, is the class-room bore. Lo, and verily, he knows more than his instructors, and cautions the latter to "stop and think." It appears to him that all recitations could be given more acceptably by himself than by others. He wishes, furthermore, to advertise this conceit, even while the deficient recitation is being made. In his important contributions he oftentimes depletes his store of information before the time he wishes to utilize is passed, and yet goes on indefinitely, or longer, by simply reiterating in a myriad of ways some pet idea. He can do this successfully too, for "on the other hand" recurs habitually in his wonted verbiage.

A second outstanding person who irritates those about her is the "cute" bore. We usually hear her before she presents herself, for she laughs heartily at her own witticisms and is perpetually trying to be funny. But usually her humor is flat and insipid. To corroborate what Goldsmith has said about her loud laugh, it may be mentioned that her grades are usually in the D and E range.

May we mention one other type of uncomfortable spi-it? It is the talkative person who is overjoyed in his own chatter. After the first day's acquaintance with this clever person you have become familiar with the complete role of his originality and can expect no further surprises except in regard to his blatancy in parading what is now old to you. Naturally, this man's society is scorned and avoided.

A recital of other bores would itself be boring. We refrain therefore, and look to the application of our lament. It must needs be personal, and provoke the question: In what ways do I detract from the spirit of human kindness by imposing my obnoxious peculiarities upon my associates? Let us be frank in accepting the challenge of this query. We cannot all have winning personalities, yet each of us can strive at least to make ourselves just a trifle more acceptable to our world.

CHURCH GOING IS SOCIETY TOPIC

"Church attendance" was the subject considered by the P. L. C. Mission Society at its meeting Wednesday evening, January 7.

An interesting paper on the subject was read by Miss Martha Hjermstad, which discussed various excuses given by church members for not attending services regularly. These excuses, Miss Hjermstad pointed out, are usually poor ones.

"When you think you have a good excuse for staying home from church," she said, "think first how that excuse would sound if you had to tell it to God."

A reading by Constance Parkland and a piano solo by Signe Hjermstad concluded the program.

IN CASE OF FIRE ONLY

The fact that P. L. C. now has four large fire extinguishers is attributed to the wonderful psychology of salesmanship.

The brand installed is the same as was used in the spectacular demonstration of a few weeks past, the difference being that they are larger and of another type. We have not seen the big one work yet but if it is as efficient as its little brother we may expect the insurance company to raise our premium.

Engineer Olson received the large copper tanks with open arms. He says he has been wanting all burning furnaces for a long time and now feels that he has something he can use. He also stated that they would be fine for welding.

Rev. Ordal says he hopes we'll never have to use them. He'll get his wish if the wood pile holds out and Mrs. Dahl can get kerosene from some other source.

Burton Kreidler and Walter French spent four days of their vacation at Paradise Inn.

THE DILIGENT STUDENT

(With apologies to Sir John Suckling.)

Out upon it I have worked
Three whole nights together
And am like to work three more.
If it proves worse weather.

Time shall moult away his wings
Ere he shall discover
In this whole wide world again
Such a perfect worker.

But the spite on't is, no praise
Is due at all to me;
Work with me had made no stays,
Had it any been but he.

Had it any been but he,
And the lessons he assigned
Were there not so much to them
I would not be so far behind.

A FORMULA FOR SUCCESS

By Berton Braley

It's doing your job the best you can
And being just to your fellow man;
It's making money, but holding friends,
And staying true to your aims and ends;
It's figuring how and learning why,
And looking forward and thinking
high,
And dreaming a little and doing much;
It's keeping always in closest touch
With what is finest in word and deed;
It's being thorough, yet making speed
It's daring blithely the field of chance
While making labor a brave romance;
It's going onward despite defeat—
And fighting staunchly, but keeping sweet;
It's being clean and it's playing fair;
It's laughing lightly at Dame Despair;
It's looking up at the class above,
And drinking deeply of life and love;
It's struggling on with the will to
win.
But taking loss with a cheerful grin;
It's sharing sorrow, and work, and mirth,
And making better this good old
earth;
It's serving, striving through afraid
and stress,
It's doing your noblest—that is success.

A Sample of Logic

Given: A sheet of paper.

To prove: That it is a lazy dog.
Proof: A sheet of paper is an inked plane. An inked plane is a slope up. A slow pup is a lazy dog.

Therefore: A sheet of paper is a lazy dog.

A small boy was sitting next to a very haughty woman in a crowded car, and kept sniffling in a most annoying way until the woman could stand it no longer.

"Boy, have you a handkerchief?" she demanded.

"The small boy looked at her for a few seconds and then in a dignified manner, answered:

"Yes, I have; but I don't lend it to strangers."

I woke to look upon a face
Silent, white and cold.
O, Friend, the agony I felt
Can never half be told.

We lived together for one year.
Too soon it seemed to see Those gentle hands outstretched and still.

My waking thoughts had been of one
Who now to sleep had dropped.
'Twas hard to realize O, friend,
My Ingersoll had stopped.

"There's no change in him," said the doctor as he finished operating on the little boy who was supposed to have swallowed a penny.

"I see you have one of those William Tell ties."

"Whadda ya mean?"

"Pull the bow and hit the apple."

"Is that you?"

"No, this is my roommate."

"How do you know it 'sh'?"

"Cash got his clothes on."

Who generally gives a bride away at a wedding?
The newspaper.

Patient: "Your bill reads: fifty visits, $300; medicine $40."
Doctor: "Exactly."

"Well, I'll pay for the medicine and return the visits."

Active: "I'd like to take out some fire insurance."

Learn: "What on, young man?"

"On myself. I just told the boss a piece of my mind."

MORE "IF'S AND 'AND'S"

And Perry had said "We can not
win."

If Lincoln had said "Let the South dissolve."

And Grant had not meant "Unconditional surrender."

If Pershing had said "It cannot be done."

And above all

If the people ceased to vote and support the government.

Then America would not be the America it is today.

If Reporters don't bring in the news,
And the Editors go to sleep while on

If the Business Managers lay down

And the Circulation Manager forgets to send out the papers;

If the Advertisers cease to advertise,

And above all

If the Students cease to support the paper and bring in subscriptions,
Then the Morning Mast will cease to be the paper it is today.

Students, our list is still open to

Alumni Notes

The marriage of Miss Frieda Skarbo, of Cromwell, Wash., to Ernest Luckenotte, of Tacoma, was solemnized with a wedding of attractive appointment, Thursday, January 1, at the Lutheran Church in Cromwell.
Rev. L. J. Floren of McKinley Hill officiated.

The bridegroom and William Pringle, his best man, awaited at the altar
the coming of the bride and her attendants who entered to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, as played by Mrs. L. J. Floren.
Einar Fosness of Cromwell was usher.

Miss Olivia Bloom, the bridesmaid, wore jade green crepe de chine.
Miss Bertha Lero, the maid of honor, wore orchid georgette. They carried pink carnations.

Mr. John Layton, the brides father, gave her in marriage. The bride's frock was white silk satin and georgette, embroidered in crystal.
Falling beyond the sweeping train was the filmy veil caught to her hair by a coronet of orange blossoms. He bouquet was of white chrysanthemums and lilies of the valley.

Before the ceremony Miss Sol-veig Rynning sang, "I love you Truly." Immediately after the ceremony guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Einar Fosness, to speak their congratulations.

Those presiding over the service of the wedding supper were the Misses Ethel Bloomquist, Amanda
Bloom and Solveig Rynning.

After the wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. E. Luckenotte will make their home on McKinley hill.

On December 6, 1924, Miss Anna
Johnson, of 21, of Poulsbo, and Mr.
Olaf Sorenson of Tacoma were united in marriage. Rev. E. C. Blood-

Choir rehearsals every Thursday evening at 7:30. Mrs. Hauge, director.

REV. T. O. SVARE, Pastor.

Rev. and Mrs. Svare were pleasantly surprised by members and friends of the congregation, Dec. 20.

The gathering, which took place in the church parlors, was in the nature of a house warming, the family having moved into the newly finished parsonage.

The evening was enjoyed by all.

On Christmas Day, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Larson and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Buschman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Larson, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Larson, were guests from Seattle at P. T. Larson's.

On the evening of Jan. 1, Mr. H. Q. Lanning was married to Miss Dona Berg at Mr. Lanning's home, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Svare in the presence of many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Lanning will make their home here in Parkland.

The Ladies' Aid and the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of Trinity Lutheran Church held a joint meeting Tuesday, Dec. 30.

Funeral services were held from Parkland Evangelical Lutheran Church Wednesday, Jan. 7, for Mr. A. G. Molden who passed away at his home here Jan. 4.

Mr. Molden was eighty-two years old at the time of his death and had been a resident of Parkland for many years.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Clara Molden and Mrs. Floyd Sather, and two sons, A. A. Molden and G. Molden.

P. L. C. BOYS TOUR TO CANADA IN VACATION

In order to visit his brother who recently came from Norway, Peder Sognefest, together with his roommate, Iver Dahl, motored to Canada during vacation. Dahl and Sognefest are, by the way, joint owners of the Ford coupe that they used.

They used parts of two days on each of the going and return trips of the vacation jaunt. While on the way to Canada they remained over night at Bellingham as the guests of Joseph Sandvik, an ex-student of P. L. C. It was at Matsqui, B. C., that Sognefest visited his brother. At this place the boys also met "Orzy" Ebbeson who attended school here last year.

On their return journey the boys spent some time at Vancouver, B. C., and also made stop-overs at places where they could visit former schoolmates, among them Inga Benson, '23, and Jacob, Stakkestad. Time would not permit visiting as many as was desired.

On the whole, the boys claim to have had a decidedly agreeable vacation. The acquaintances they happened to meet were all very hospitable, and desirous of meeting with these representatives from P. L. C. With renewed "pop" and enthusiasm Dahl and Sognefest returned to school and took up again their studies.

A number of boys made Seattle their headquarters during vacation.

NEW BOOKS FOR EDUCATION AND LANGUAGE DEPTS.

Year's Quota of Educational Reference Works Have Been Received. President Ordal Donates a Number of Volumes

The fiction department of the library has already received its quota for the year, and now the educational books are arriving. These two departments of the library are to receive the most attention this year, according to the plans of the library committee. Some new Norse books have also been received.

These new educational books are for reference use by college and normal classes. They are mainly books on psychological and educational subjects. The complete list so far contains the following titles: Psychology for Teachers, Bolton; Psychological Psychology, Ladd & Wordsworth; Psychology of the Common Branches, Freeman; Educational Administration, Strayer & Thorndike; Studies in Child Development, Hallam; The Learning Process, Calvin; How to Measure in Education, McCall; Public School Administration, Cubberly; What the Schools Teach and Might Teach, Babbitt; Youth, Hall; Being Well-Born, Guyer; Parts I & II of the 17th Yearbook of the National Society for the Study of Education; also the 14th Yearbook.

The Norwegian department has also received several new volumes. These are: Aschehougs Konversations leksikon, consisting of eight volumes; two volumes of Norske Folkeeventyr og Huldreventyr, Asbjørnsen & Moe; Den fjerde Nattevagt, Johan Falkberget; Naar Hekken Blomstrer, Hulda Gorborg.

Pres. O. J. Ordal recently presented the following books to the P. L. C. library: Junior & Senior High School Administration, Johnston, Newell and Pickell; Principles of Secondary Education, Ingels; The Junior High School, Ross; Pedagogy, E. Hewett.

RINGSTAD TRAVELS SOUTH

Prof. M. Ringstad left Saturday, January 9, on the midnight train for a trip through California. He will attend the convention of the Bankers' Life Company insurance agents at San Diego. He will be away about two weeks.

SVARES IN NEW HOME

The Rev. T. O. Svare family are now well established in the new parsonage, which was completed just before Christmas. The house is a 2 room, two-story bungalow, with every modern convenience.

HISTORY CLASS MAKES MINIATURE ATHENS

The College History class is making a miniature model of the city of Athens in plaster paris. Prof. J. U. Xavier was the originator of the idea. He said it would be a good way for this history class to study the plan of Athens. It will also be a means which will aid future classes in studying that city.

BASKET QUINTET WINS AT ORTING

In Practice Tilts With Wheeler-Osgood the First Game Is Lost and the Second Won by Two Point Leads.

By manifesting a marked improvement in team work and passing over that shown in the opening game of the season when they were defeated by Fife H. S., the P. L. C. quintet was able to bring the Orting High team to defeat in the local gymnasium on Friday evening, Dec. 19. The game was characterized by creditable showing of "fight" on the part of both teams. Joe Glasso's guarding and Serwold's consistent "caging" were largely responsible for the victory of the college team. Bradburn distinguished himself as a most valuable member of the defeated squad. The score of the game was 29 to 12.

The P. L. C. squad has also played several practice games during the first week of school since the Christmas holiday. These games were with the Wheeler-Osgood team, a member of the Tacoma Commercial League. In the first of these games the visitors came through with the large end of a 31 to 29 score. In the second game, however, the school aggregation was victorious in a game that ended with a 27 to 25 count.

The lineup for the Orting game was as follows:

M. Kreidler	F	Stone
Rudy Sanderson	F	Graves
Ole Serwold	C	Bradburn
Joe Glasso	G	Scoyoc
Burton Kreidler	G	Brown

P. L. C.: Colttum for M. Kreidler, L. Kreidler for R. Sanderson. Orting: Bowers for Graves. Graves for Scoyoc.

LAUNDRY INSTALLS NEW EQUIPMENT

The laundresses, hard pressed since the increase in enrollment were somewhat relieved by the installation last week of a power extractor or wringer, which dries the clothes for ironing.

Mrs. Hinderlie states that the laundresses have given the new machine a trial, and found it a successful timesaver.

FORMER P. L. C. TEACHER ANNOUNCES BETROTHAL

Miss Alpha Ellison, who was an instructor of English at Pacific Lutheran College several years ago, recently made the announcement of her betrothal to Manford Oliphant of Big Timber, Montana. The wedding is set for June. At the present time Miss Ellison, whose home is in Tacoma, is teaching at Big Timber, Montana.

CHRISTMAS AT P. L. C.

Since Friday the 19th of December was the last day at school before the Christmas vacation all that had their homes within a reasonable distance from the college went home then to spend their vacation together with their parents and friends. We were however a few left at the school who could not enjoy our vacation at home because we had too far to go.

We had then to make the school our home and we certainly enjoyed ourselves the best we could. A large Christmas tree was decorated for the occasion and as we looked at the well illuminated tree we saw many packages. We wondered who should get them. While we were waiting we were entertained by a dialogue by Walter French and Lyel Kreidler. The powerful radio set was "tuned in" on a radio station in California and we were then entertained by a number of Christmas songs.

Then came the moment we were all waiting for. The packages were distributed and opened by the receivers and we had many a hearty laugh caused by the appearance of the contents of these gifts. Nuts, candy and fruit were passed around and when the party broke up we all agreed that we had had a very fine time together.

FACULTY FETES CHOIR

of the P. L. C. faculty, requested that the chorus sing their college song, "High on Manitou Heights." Their voices rising and swelling like a huge pipe organ was most impressive.

At six o'clock both the guests and hosts were hurrying away to be on time for the big evening concert.
