

VOL. 9 NO. 20 Pacific Lutheran University, March 5, 1971

PLU Receives $250,000 Endowment Gift

See page 3. . .

Children's Theatre performances of "Emperor's New Clothes" will begin March 4th.

See page 2. . .

ROUNDTABLE

A. Dean Buchanan (v.p. bus. & finance) is in Los Angeles on University business. . .he is attending also a planning-budgeting workshop seminar sponsored by the National Association of College and University Business Officers. . . Buchanan is a member of the national small colleges committee which is responsible for a series of regional seminars being held this school year. . .Since the passing of Dr. Magnus Nodtvedt (prof. emeritus) in Oslo, Norway last November some rumors have gone around that he died from an accident. . .such was not the case. . .he died as the result of a heart attack which he suffered just after purchasing a morning newspaper at an outdoor newstand near his hotel. . . Congratulations to Dan (eng.) and Rhoda Van Tassel, who became the proud parents of a baby girl Feb. 26. . .the baby's name is Abigail. . .On Thursday Frank Haley (lib.), at the request of their dean, is meeting with librarians at Willamette University to assist his alma mater in getting its library building project underway. . .He then goes to Pacific University to discuss method and content of library instruction of new students with NAPCU librarians. . .Gundar King (bus.) is in Washington, D.C. attending a conference and meetings of the Commission on Government Procurement. . . he is one of the advisors to the Commission, representing the National Association of Purchasing Management. . .PLU had another visitor from Kenya this week, Akin Tola, who spoke to Grace Blomquist's (eng.) children's literature class of folk literature. . .Charles Peterson (bus.) has been elected president of the Lutheran Welfare Society in Pierce County. . .Dean Richard Moe is in Newport Beach, Calif., for a Western Association of Graduate Schools conference. . .The data processing recently gave Judy Richardson a shower . .she is expecting a baby April 12 and will now be working part time. . .President Wiegman will speak at the Women's University Club in Seattle on the evening of March 5. . .

* * * * *

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

I don't care what they call me as long as they mention my name. --George M. Cohan

* * * * *

BIRTHDAYS

Charles Anderson	March 8
Sara Officer and Ada Roman	9
Alice Aberle	11
Norman Nesting	13

* * * * *

"EMPEROR'S NEW CLOTHES" HIGHLIGHTS 15TH SEASON OF PLU CHILDREN'S THEATRE

"The Emperor's New Clothes", a light children's comedy based on a Hans Christian Andersen tale by the same name, will be presented by the PLU Children's Theatre in six performances beginning Mar. 4, in Eastvold Auditorium.

Afternoon performances open to the general public are slated for Saturdays, March 6 and 13 at 2:30 p.m. and one evening performance Mar. 13 at 7:30 p.m. There will also be closed performances for participating schools on March 4, 5, and 12.

Eric Nordholm, of the PLU communication arts faculty, is directing this production in the PLU Children's Theatre's 15th season.

The Hans Christian Andersen story is about an emperor who was so fond of fine clothes that he thought of nothing else. He failed to notice that the Minister of Royal Robes was cheating the royal weavers and keeping gold and jewels for himself.

Two adventurers convince the emperor that they can weave a material that cannot be seen by anyone who is unfit for the position he holds. The plot results in the salvation of the weavers and the banishment of the wicked Minister of Royal Robes.

Chris Boerger, a PLU senior communication arts major, plays the role of the vain Emperor while Paul Landsverk, a junior, is cast as the Minister of Robes.

Other members of the cast include Sheri Stein, the Empress; Otto Peterson, General of the Army; Peggy Treften, a child; Becky Shear, and old woman; Glenn Anderson, gong bearer; Chuck Hewitson and Greg Thompson as two adventurers; and Susie Sheridan, Carol Malvin, Dave Carlson and Doug Parker as the weavers.

Information about the 90-minute production can be obtained by calling the University Center Information desk at LE 1-6900, Ext. 403. Tickets are available one hour before performances at the Eastvold Auditorium box office.

* * * * *

PLU RECEIVES $250,000
ENDOWMENT GIFT

A bequest which will exceed $250,000 has been received by PLU from the estate of the late Carl Dalk of Seattle.

Announcement of the gift, the largest ever received by PLU from a single individual, was made Monday by President Eugene Wiegman.

The funds will be included in the permanent university endowment fund, according to Wiegman. Income from the fund will be used for Dalk Scholarships.

Ronald Coltom, PLU financial aids officer, stated that Dalk Scholarship recipients will be selected from as broad a cross-section of the student body as possible among students planning service-oriented careers such as teaching, nursing, social work and the like. Amounts of each scholarship will be determined by established university procedures on the basis of the financial need of the student.

Recipients for the 1971-72 school year will be announced later this spring, according to Coltom.

PLU was the chief beneficiary of the estate, according to attorneys for the estate.

Dalk, who died in 1970 of a heart condition at age 73, was a real estate investor in Seattle for many years. A bachelor, he operated a sash and door company, Dalk Millwork, with his brother, J. Elmer Dalk, for a number of years before turning to the real estate business.

He was a graduate of the old Broadway High School and attended Seattle business schools.

Friends believe that Dalk's decision to leave a gift to the university was the result of his grandparents' close association with the school.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Lunke, Dalk's maternal grandparents, settled in Parkland in 1893, shortly after PLU was founded, on a site which is now the College Union Building, soon to become the School of Nursing-Department of Art complex.

Mrs. Lunke was especially active in school affairs during the administration of President Nils J. Hong at the turn of the century. She supplied the school dining hall with eggs, butter and milk and took part in church affairs.

In 1914 the Lunkes moved to Seattle to live with the Dalk family.

* * * * *

Clyde Holloway, assistant professor of music at Indiana University in Bloomington, will present an organ recital next Sunday afternoon, March 7, at 4 p.m. in Trinity Lutheran Church, Parkland.

This is the second recital of the 1970-71 series, co-sponsored by the PLU Department of Music and Trinity Lutheran Church.

The program next Sunday features, among other compositions, "Prelude and Fugue in A Major" and "Pastoral in F Major" of J.S. Bach, "Chorale in b minor" by Cesar Franck, and the "Communion from the Pentecostal Mass" by the famous contemporary French composer Olivier Messiaen.

Holloway earned his bachelor and master of music degrees at the University of Oklahoma. Upon completion of his studies there he received the American Guild of Musical Artists' Award for outstanding performance and was granted a Fulbright Scholarship to attend the Amsterdam Conservatory in the Netherlands. He studied organ, harpsichord and chamber music there with Gustav Leonhardt.

ORGAN RECITAL
FEATURES CLYDE
HOLLOWAY

While in Europe he gave both organ and harpsichord recitals which were sponsored by the U.S. Information Service. At the American Guild of Organists National Convention in Philadelphia, June 1964, Holloway won the National Playing Competition.

Tickets for the concert will be available at the door.

* * * * *

PROPELLER CLUB
FOUNDATION DONATES
INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS
COLLECTION TO PLU

Herb Duren and Ted Kennard, Propeller Club, present business volumes to William Hutcheon and Gundar King, right.

A collection of 70 volumes on international business and economics has been presented to the Mortvedt Library by the Propeller Club North Pacific Coast Region Foundation Inc.

The presentation was made this week by Ted Kennard, secretary-treasurer of the foundation, and Herb Duren, president of the Port of Tacoma chapter of the Propeller Club of the United States.

The collection includes volumes on international business, tariffs, banking and economics. The new materials give PLU an international business library second only to the University of Washington in the Puget Sound area, according to Dr. Gundar King, dean of the PLU School of Business.

The Propeller Club of the United States promotes interest in maritime affairs with chapters in cities throughout the country, primarily port cities. Many local chapters sponsor university chapters, one of which is the 12-year-old Port of Pacific Lutheran University.

William Hutcheon, assistant professor of business administration, is the university port advisor.

* * * * *

PLU STUDENTS SELECT NEW LEADERS

Craig Huisenga, a sophomore majoring in religion, is the new president of the Associated Students of Pacific Lutheran University.

The new student body president, a native of Billings, Mont., said he ran for the office to stimulate thinking and raise issues. He plans to outline an extensive legislative program later in the year.

"I think the president should be the chief legislator," he said.

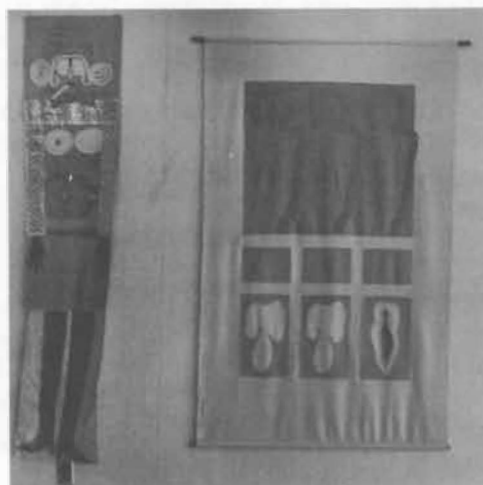

Huisenga, who also sings with the PLU Choir of the West and the Ambassador Quartet, was selected by his fellow students by a margin of 469 to 319.

Gayle Severson, an elementary education major from Portland, Ore., was chosen activities vice president by a margin of 517 to 237. Miss Severson said she plans to extend and expand student activities in the newly completed University Center.

Jeff Spere, a business major from Aberdeen, Wash., was selected business vice president by 501 to 252. Jody Schwich, a junior biology major from Pensacola, Fla., was selected executive vice president by 499 to 269. Miss Schwich will preside over the Student Senate.

* * * * *

"BANNERS" EXHIBIT
BEGINS THIS WEEK

"Banners"
Exhibition

"Banners," an exhibition organized and circulated by the Western Association of Art Museums, will be shown March 7-28 at the University Gallery, Mortvedt Library.

The exhibition of more than 50 banners shows the tremendous diversity of materials used today to create art in this revived form.

Exhibits are all sizes, all materials--tapestry, paint on canvas, stitchery, applique, felt, needlework, tie dye, leather and plastics.

The banner is a form more and more artists are using to declare their ideas.

One of the banners is by Anita Kent, formerly Sister Anita, whose graphics have become famous.

* * * * *

Ron Heyer (biol.) has been elected as a Fellow of the Herpetologists' League. Herpetology is the study of amphibians and reptiles.

The award letter from Dr. Hobart F. Landreth, secretary-treasurer of the league, stated in part, ". . .your election was made on the basis of your continuing contributions to herpetology, and upon your recognized stature in the scientific discipline."

Heyer joined the PLU staff last fall after undergraduate work at PLU, graduate studies including a PhD at University of Southern California, and two years as a research associate at the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago.

* * * * *

RON HEYER
HONORED

ARTIST SERIES TO PRESENT RENOWNED CANADIAN MIME

Claude St-Denis is Canada's leading mime, a great creator and performer in the ancient art of pantomime.

St. Denis will perform his unique program at PLU on March 9, at 8:15 p.m. in Olson Auditorium.

Born in Montreal, he speaks the universal language of the silent gesture, the speechless expression; brilliantly funny, wistful, deeply moving.

In 1956, when only 21, St-Denis won first prize in the inter-provincial competition "The Golden Crown" which was broadcast over the French network of Radio Canada. He presented five of his pantomimes and triumphed over 600 competitors.

During the next 10 years he traveled extensively in Canada and Europe, widely acclaimed by audiences and critics wherever he appeared, either in solo performances of contributing to larger shows. In 1965 he created a film which won honorabel mention in the Montreal International Festival. A year later he appeared in featured mime and comedy roles in the first color film distributed over the television networks of Canada, France, Switzerland and Belgium.

Tickets are available at the University Center information desk.

* * * * *

UNIVERSITY THEATRE
DATES CHANGED

The University Theatre production of "Bus Stop," listed on many university calenders for March 11-13, has been rescheduled a week later, the weekend of March 18-20, Eastvold Auditorium, 8:15 p.m.

Please make the notation on your calendars.

* * * * *

LUTE CAGERS SEEK
KANSAS CITY TRIP

As Knightletter went to press, PLU's up and down Lutes has rebounded from losses to St. Martins, 93-91, and UPS, 96-78, to take the first game of the NAIA District I playoffs from Central Washington, 70-61.

Led by big Ake Palm, who scored 27 points, and Tom Patnode, who bucketed 17, the Lutes pulled away from a 31-31 halftime deadlock to record their first win over the Wildcats in eight starts over the past three years.

A win in Ellensburg would mean a trip to the NAIA nationals in Kansas City.

* * * * *

FACULTY WIVES MEET
MARCH 8TH

PLU Faculty Wives Club will visit with UPS Faculty Womens Club on Monday, March 8. A drama Summertree will be will be presented by Elona and Paul Herlinger in the lower level reception room of Killworth Chapel beginning at 8 p.m.

WHO'S WHO ON CAMPUS
(Security)

Chief Rick Shaver

Bruce Parkin

John Brown

Elijah Tinsley

Leroy Davis

* * * * *

Roger Iverson, Lute cage star from 1955-59, was honored during half-time of the UPS-PLU game Saturday. Last week he was named to the all-time all-NAIA tournament team. Friends quickly raised funds to send him back to Kansas City next week for special ceremonies.

* * * * *

BIG SPLASH IN PLU
POOL THURSDAY AS LUTES
HOST NWC CHAMPIONSHIPS

PLU Swimming Coach Gary Chase, on the basis of performances observed in the Lutes dual meets this season, looks for several records to be in jeopardy as the Northwest Conference Swimming Championships get underway at the PLU Pool March 4-6.

The three day meet opens at 10 a.m. on Thursday with 1:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. sessions to follow. Friday agenda calls for competition at 12:00 and 8:00 p.m. followed by 1:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. events on Saturday.

Competitors from six of the Northwest Conference's seven member schools will be on hand. College of Idaho does not have swimming facilities.

PLU will be among the favorites by virtue of their clean sweep over NWC schools in dual meets this year. "I believe in pointing a team for the big one and PLU has worked too hard to give anything up in the championship," Chase said.

* * * * *

LUTE SKIERS TAKE TOP HONORS AT WESTERN WASHINGTON INVITATIONAL

PLU's mens ski team, with outstanding individual performances by Bob Larson and Bill Zander, captured first place honors at the five team Western Washington Invitational Meet Sunday at Mt. Baker.

Western finished second followed in order by UPS, British Columbia, and Olympic.

Bob Larson won the slalom event while Bill Zander finished third in giant slalom, fourth in cross country, and fifth in slalom, losing the Skimeister award by only a half point.

* * * * *

LADY LUTES WIN THREE; UP RECORD TO 10 - 3

Carolyn Phillips' cagers scored a record 60 points against Seattle Pacific Friday to highlight a clean sweep of three games and upping the Lute record to 10 - 3.

The 60-20 rout of Seattle Pacific followed a 38-33 victory over Olympia and a 36-27 decision against Skagit.