Campus Day to Feature CPS-PLC Softball Game

If 'old man weather' cooperates, campus day will be held Tuesday, April 28, with the morning hours being devoted to cleaning the grounds and helping to turn the old chapel basement into a recreation room, and the afternoon hours being given over to a picnic and general recreation time at Breesman's park on Lake Spanaway.

At 4 in the afternoon the Lettermen of CPS and PLC who have not lettered in baseball will take over the baseball field to play a softball game. The winners will need to win only one more game to possess the gold trophy cup which goes to the champions, Chuck Forsland, in charge of the event relates that the instigation of a Lettermen softball game was two years ago. At that time both lettermen clubs went together to purchase a trophy. CPS now has the trophy in their possession. The PLC lettermen have been invited to play the second game with CPS at the latter's campus day, at which time the champions will be decided.

Work on the campus Tuesday morning will be supervised by Alpha Phi Omega. The afternoon of

Blue Key Chooses 16 for Membership

Selecting 16 new members for the coming school year, Blue Key, national junior and senior men's honorary on campus, officially welcomed the newcomers into the organization at an informal meeting held Wednesday evening, April 22.

The new men making up the 20-member organization are: Dale Anderson, Elmore Duncan, Roger Larson, Ed Hakanson, Glen Johnson, Garnet Lund, Phil Myhre, John Osburn, Ernie Peale, John Rydgren, Vern Hanson, Jack Hoover, Peter Luvaas, Gerald S. Himke, Irv Severson, and Phil Wigen. They will help this year at campus day, baccalaureate, and commencement.

Candidates for Blue Key do not apply for membership but are selected on the basis of leadership, scholarship, and around service. They are part of the 20,000 members in 75-80 chapters throughout the United States.

This year's Blue Key has been headed by Al Pink, president, with Jim Kauth and Bill Rieke serving as vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Throughout the school year the organization is active in such things as the freshman orientation program, Christmas campus decoration, and campus day events.

Saga To Be Ready For Students on May 25

Dear Students:

The Saga is finally finished. The last part of the 152-page book was sent to the printers last Monday. Now we can all sit back and wait for it to be distributed on May 25 (according to the present schedule).

This year's Saga has been divided into three main divisions: Administration and Classes; Organizations and Activities. In addition, the activities section has been subdivided according to types of interest, such as Music, Forensics and Drama, etc., with a cartoon beginning each topic. These cartoons were worked out by Bob Rondoy, depicting a typical situation of each department.

But let us go back to the main theme, the Saga is almost on the press!

Grace Foege to be Crowned by Abel In Initial Drama - Music Festival Activity

Karen Kvern and Ernie Pihl Plan May 7 Program

Surrounded by fragrant spring blossoms and pastel decorations, the May Day queen, Grace Foege, will receive her crown on May 7 from Walter Abel, noted actor.

The coronation ceremonies are to be held in the gymnasium on Thursday afternoon as the initial activity of the Drama-Music Festival. Karen Kvern and Ernie Pihl are in charge of arrangements for the event.

Senior attendants to the queen are Nan Aageson, an education major who will be teaching at Shoreline next year, and Marijyn Djarf, Saga editor whose pet peeve is the question: "What are you going to do after graduation?"

Connie Hanson of Parkland, a music major, and Janet Carson, a student teacher from Independence, California, were chosen by the class of '54 to attend the queen.

On the sophomore ballot Kathryn Biery of Kalspell, Montana, and Nancy Shinkoethe of Honolulu, Hawaii, were selected as members of the queen's court.

Freshmen Thelma Nygaard of Stanwood and Janet Miller of Puyallup complete the royalty.

Queen Grace, who will be at the University of Washington medical school next fall, is thrilled at the idea of being crowned by Walter Abel. Grace's mother has entered a contest along with several million Americans to earn a trip to Queen Elizabeth's coronation in June. Mrs. Foege, however, when she learned of Grace's regal office, said she would be satisfied to see one queen being crowned—Grace—and that suddenly the possibility of a trip to London had lost its original import.

28 STUDENT TEACHERS ACQUIRE TRAINING IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

During the present semester, Pacific Lutheran has a total of 28 student teachers doing their cadet teaching in various schools of the Tacoma area.

Cadet teachers conduct classes of their preferred level of teaching in the mornings, and observe classes of the other level in the afternoons.

PLCites teaching elementary grades are: Magdalen Akre, Washington; Esther Brudie, Parkland; Janet Carson, Park Avenue; Barbara Carstensen, Fawcett; Mary Fargher, Mary Lyons; Joan Gardner, Fawcett; Nick Glaser, Jefferson; Marjorie Hill, Horace Mann; Edna McCall, Reed; Jesse Reed, Lister; Naomi Roe, Lakeview; Marijyn Scherwin, Park Avenue; and Jean Tanner, Whitman.

In secondary schools this semester are the following: Luther Asper, Bethel; Jerome Bender, Fife; Ronald Douglass, Fife; Charles Forsland, Fife; Bud Galusha, Washington Junior High, Olympia; Morris Hendrickson, Lincoln; Stan Kvern, Bethel; Ruth Moe, Clover Park; Jack Seltors, Lincoln; Harriet Schull, Stadium; Leslie Speer, Clover Park; Norm Vorvick, Lincoln; Paul Wangsmo, Stewart Junior High; Jim Williamson, Gault Junior High; and Walter Worley, Clover Park.

Paul Wangsmo was reportedly in the act of chasing an escapee down the halls when he ran into the principal of Stewart Junior High. The escapee was someone's pet parakeet.

After a particularly good day Naomi Roe was whistling as she walked down the halls of Lakeview. A tiny first grader came up behind her, tapped her gently and reminded her, "We mustn't whistle in the halls you know."

T. Jenkins to Play In Recital Tuesday

As part of the scheduled program of the Northwestern Regional Convention of the American Guild of Organists, Thomas Jenkins will present a recital of organ music Tuesday, April 28, at 8 p.m. in the Chapel-Music-Speech building.

A nationally known organist, Mr. Jenkins, is at the present organist and choirmaster at Christ Cathedral at Vancouver, B. C.

His program, which will be performed on the Casavant organ, will consist of selections by English and Canadian composers.

Also on the program will be the Pacific Lutheran College Choir of the West, under the direction of Professor Frederick L. Newnham.

The recital is open to the public and no admission will be charged. The Pacific Lutheran College Student Organ Guild will give an informal reception following the recital for registered delegates of the convention of the American Guild of Organists.

Steen, with two musicians from CPS, auditioned for Stokowski's "Collegiate Orchestra."

Stokowski plans to take this aggregation on tour in the summer of 1954. In 1939, Stokowski's "Youth Orchestra" toured Central and South America. He will audition college musicians in all of America's music centers.

Glad About Town

The song recital of Marguerite Thompson last Sunday afternoon in the Student Union auditorium was a notable event, attended by a large number of students, faculty, and guests. The contralto's first group contained two very interesting works: "Invocation of Orpheus," by Jacopo Peri, supposedly the composer of the first opera, and "Arianna's Lament," the only surviving fragment of Monteverdi's lost opera, "Arianna." These were sung effectively though not quite in the classic style of late Renaissance opera.

It was in the songs of Brahms that Miss Thompson shone. Her magnetic stage personality and colorful voice are admirably suited to lieder singing. "Der Schmidt," a delightful burst of song, and "Vergebliches Standchen" were particularly well projected. The singer seemed very comfortable in the German language; perhaps her future programs will include some Schubert and Strauss.

In Greg's "Jeg Elsker Dig," Miss Thompson exhibited the varied timbres and dynamics which she has at her command, and her rendition was free of the schmalz one often hears in this music. The song, however, should probably not have been so abbreviated. Jeanette Foss again displayed her ability as an accomplished accompanist.

Wire Tapper

An unexpected glitter of the PLC diamond squad this season is the hitting of Bob Ross. The big first baseman batter around .240 last season which isn't exactly setting the league afire. Ross is now leading the Lutes with a nifty .30 mark with the season 4 games gone. Six singles, two doubles, and a three bagger, are the hits Bob has rapped out so far. Huffman is hitting about .400 as usual.

Vern Hanson has been an important factor in PLC's campaign. Vern won his first two, including that victory over Seattle U. The versatile sophomore got two hits in Seattle to further contribute to the Lute cause.

Cap... played... expected to break all precedent by being the first of her sex to be eligible for membership in the Lettermen's Club.

Next Monday marks the starting of the Hole-in-one contest which is to be an annual affair. This was one of the most popular activities on the campus last spring and it's next week, with the exception of Campus Day.

Indoor Softball To Be Initiated Soon

Because of the many problems that outdoor softball has to deal with, a change has been made to softball of an indoor nature. If played outside the games would have to be started after the track team had vacated the football field, which would not allow the games to start until about six o'clock or six-thirty because of the cafeteria schedule.

Tacoma Still Leads In Volleyball Race

In the intramural volleyball loop, Tacoma still remains the class of the chase. So far the city boys have lost only one game, that to the smooth Ivy Hall six. With big Glenn Huffman back in the lineup Tacoma has one of the top spikers in the league. Ivy Hall still remains very much in the thick of the fight, however, as well as Central.

PLC Faces CWCE in Track Meet Today

by D. E.

PLC track men who last Saturday won over CPS, 68 to 60, in their first dual track meet of the season, take on the Wildcats of Central in another meet today at Ellensburg. This will be a tough one for the Lutes, as Central has unusual talent this season.

As for the other events, the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash seem to be any man's guess, with Adams (C) and Bricker (PLC) about even and Bricker (PLC) and Fischer (C) the same in the 200. The Lutes' 440 men may take a first and a second with either Madsen or Jacobson coming through with the victories. Our 800 men have a good chance to take the one and two spots, considering the previous records of Dick Brown and Stan Jacobson.

In the low and high hurdles, the Lutes have a weakness to overcome, for in past years no one was running them, but now Allan Twidt, Ivar Ellason and Garnet Lund are taking a crack at the job.

The mile should see Ted Sleik, PLC's distance man, taking a first and Brown, second. Sleik is also an important runner in the two-mile, which is his best event, according to past performance. Our mile relay team looks promising. Madsen, Brown, Jacobson and Renny Miller will run. As of now, the javelin looks like a clean sweep for CWCE.

Lutes and Chiefs Split Double Bill, 7-5, 15-3

Last Saturday afternoon, in a long day of Baseball, the Seattle University Chieftains earned a split in their double-header with the Lutes. The Parklanders, on the pitching of Vern Hansen, and some timely hitting by the middle of the batting order, came from behind with four runs in the sixth inning to ice the first game, 7 to 5. The nightcap (it ended close to six o'clock) was a fiasco for the home forces as they blasted out a 15 to 3 victory over the visitors. Don Chesterfield, who was relieved in the fifth inning, was the losing pitcher. Both games were characterized by some very back-fielding.

In the opener, Hanson limited the Chiefs to seven hits and five runs, no more than two hits coming in a single inning.

Ball Hits in Two Runs

The Lutes pulled within one run of the Chiefs as they scored thrice in the top of the third. Hoover opened the inning with a walk and went to second as Hanson bunted safely. Art Swanson followed with another bunt to fill the bases. Koesler popped to the first baseman but Jim Ball singled sharply to right to score Hoover and Hansen. Huffman followed with another single to right, scoring Swanson with the third run. In an anti-climactic ending of the inning Dick Larson walked to fill the bases again, but Andy Helling grounded to the third baseman to force Huffman at third.

In the sixth, two runs down, the Lutes successfully pulled their "coup" and scored four big runs to win the game. Bob Ross opened with a double to left down the third base line. Larson singled, sending Ross to third. Helling then walked to fill the bases. Hoover sent the next pitch to the second baseman who threw wildly to the shortstop, covering at second base, allowing both Ross and Larson to score and Helling to end up at third. Hansen scoring after the catch, and Hoover going to second on the throw in to the plate. After Swanson flew to center Koesler lauffed a single to center and when the centerfielder bobbled the ball Hoover scored the fourth run to close the game's scoring. As it turned out this was enough.

Ball and Hansen both had two hits while Ross doubled for the Lute's only extra-base hit.

Second Game Close Till Fifth

The second game was comparatively close until the Seattle half of the fifth when they piled in four runs to jump to a 9 to 3 lead. Don Chesterfield started on the mound for the Lutes and was greeted with a single by the very first man to face him. The first run was literally "stolen" as the runner was advanced to second, stole third and then stole home. Seattle scored two in the second inning on a double, single, walk and an error in the outfield by Ball. They added two more in the third with a pair of doubles and singles.

The Parklanders got all of their runs in the fourth inning as Hall led off, grounding to the first baseman, but was safe as the pitcher missed the bag in covering first base. Huffman doubled, sending Ball to third. With these two men in scoring position Bob Ross unloaded a terrifically long triple to right-centerfield that scored both runners. Ross scored as Hoover hit a high bouncer that the pitcher couldn't make a play on.

Spring Romances Bud In Engagement News

During the past two weeks, the dorm has taken on a new sparkle as three more PLC girls have acquired diamond rings.

Sunday evening, Darleen Holl passed the traditional box of chocolates to announce her engagement to Vern Lestrud. No wedding date has been set.

June 13th is the date set for the wedding of Naomi Hochstetter to Jared Starr. Mr. Starr is from Moses Lake, Wash., and is at the present attending Washington State College.

Monday evening, Jean Ronken revealed to friends her engagement to Vern Batton of Seattle. No wedding date has been set.

A coffee hour was held in the day room on Monday, April 20, in honor of Lavonne Dahl's forthcoming marriage to Tommy Davidson. The couple have set the date for April 25. Tommy is currently serving in the armed forces. The Day girls gave Lavonne two place settings of her pattern of pottery.

Norma McGrath passed the traditional box of chocolates and announced her engagement to Mac Martin of Puyallup this week. Norma and Mac have not set a wedding date.

Need For Missions Stressed by Syrdal

In her various meetings with PLC students, Dr. Rolf Syrdal, leader of mission, emphasis activities on the campus during the first four days of this week, presented a challenge to "go and tell."

The theme, "Christ in the Nations," was effectively carried out through displays in the various buildings, Dr. Syrdal's chapel addresses, and movies shown at the evening meetings. The four movies, two of which this missionary filmed himself, gave a clear picture of the work which Lutheran missionaries have done and are doing in parts of Asia and Africa in bringing the Gospel to the people of these countries and helping them to raise their standards of living in general.

Testament Drive Asks Memberships

"When you see the following pledge card being passed to you in chapel next Monday, fill it out," asks Ernie Johnson, PLC secretary of the Pocket Testament League, "and you will be affiliated with the world-wide Pocket Testament League which aims to bind human lives together with God's word."

The Pocket Testament League Membership Pledge

I hereby accept membership in the Pocket Testament League by making it the habit of my life to read a portion of the Bible each day, and to carry a Bible or Testament with me, if possible.

At the Monday chapel service Pastor Olaf Anderson of Seattle's Phinney Ridge Lutheran Church will emphasize the work of the Pocket Testament League. IF YOU CAN WIN

THESE WINGS YOU CAN EARN OVER $5,000 A YEAR AFTER GRADUATION

Important facts about the opportunities for YOU as a Commissioned Officer—Pilot or Aircraft Observer—in the United States Air Force

Must I be a college graduate to take Aviation Cadet Training?

No. But you must have completed a minimum of 60 semester hours or 90 quarter hours toward a degree. In addition, under the new Aviation Cadet training program, you must be between the ages of 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in good physical condition—with high requirements for eyes, ears, heart and teeth.

How long before I get my commission?

60 calendar weeks. You will receive the finest aviation training in the world—training that not only equips you to fly modern military aircraft but prepares you for executive and administrative work as well. At the completion of your training, you will have acquired a commission as a 2nd Lieutenant and the coveted silver wings of the United States Air Force.

Where do I take my training?

Pre-flight training will be at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. Primary, basic and advanced training will be taken at any one of the many Air Force bases located throughout the South and Southwest.

What happens if I flunk the training course?

Every effort is made to help students whose progress is unsatisfactory. You can expect extra instructions and whatever individual attention you may require. However, if you fail to complete the course as an Aviation Cadet, you will be required to serve a two-year enlistment to fulfill the minimum requirement under Selective Service laws. Veterans who have completed a tour of military service will be discharged upon request if they fail to complete the course.

What pay do I get as an Aviation Cadet? And after?

As an Aviation Cadet you draw $109.20 a month pay. In addition, you get summer and winter uniforms, flight clothes, equipment, food, housing, medical and dental care and insurance . . . all free. After you are commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant you will be earning $5,300.00 a year—with unlimited opportunities for advancement.

Are all Aviation Cadets trained to be Pilots?

No. You can choose between becoming a Pilot or an Aircraft Observer. Men who choose the latter will become commissioned officers in Navigation, Bombardment, Radar Operation, or Aircraft Performance Engineering.

Do Aircraft Observers get flying training, too?

Yes. Aircraft Observer Cadets receive approximately 200 hours of "in the air" instructions. The primary phase of Aircraft Observer training is the same for all branches (navigation, bombardment, etc.). The basic and advanced phases of training vary, depending on the specific course you pursue.

What kind of airplanes will I fly?

You will fly jets. The Pilot Cadet takes his first instructions in a light, civilian-type plane of approximately 100 horsepower, then graduates to the 600 horsepower T-6 "Texan" before receiving transition training in jets. You then advance gradually until you are flying such famous first-line aircraft as F-86 Sabre, F-89 Scorpion, B-47 Stratojet, B-50 Superfortress. Observer Cadets take flight instructions in the C-47 Dakota, the T-29 Convair, and the TB-50 Superfortress before advancing to first-line aircraft such as the F-89 Scorpion, B-47 Stratojet.

Will my commission be in the Regular Air Force or Reserve?

Aviation Cadet graduates, both Pilots and Aircraft Observers, get Reserve commissions as 2nd Lieutenants and become eligible to apply for a regular Air Force Commission when they have completed 18 months of active duty.

How long must I remain in Service?

After graduation from the Aviation Cadet Program, you are tendered an indefinite appointment in the United States Air Force Reserve and are called to active duty with the United States Air Force for a period of three years.

What recreation and leisure time will I have as a Cadet?

Discipline will be rigid—especially for the first few weeks. However, it is not all work. You'll find swimming pools, handball courts, movies and other forms of recreation on the post.

Where will I be stationed when I get my commission?

You may be stationed anywhere in the world . . . Hawaii, Far East, Europe, Puerto Rico, elsewhere. During your tour of duty, you will be in close touch with the latest developments in new flying techniques. You will continue to build up your flying experience and later should have no difficulty securing a CAA commercial pilot or navigator rating.

Your future is assured if you can qualify! Here's what to do:

- 1 Take a transcript of your college credits and a copy of your birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station. Fill out the application they give you.
- 2 If application is accepted, the Air Force will arrange for you to take a physical examination at government expense.
- 3 Next, you will be given a written and manual aptitude test.
- 4 If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet training class. The Selective Service Act allows you a four-month deferment while waiting class assignment.
