

RESULTS OF CLASS ELECTION ARE IN

Round Up The Wildcats Is Homecoming Theme

"Round Up the Wildcats" will be depicted in a series of card stunts to be presented by 1,000 PLC students and alumni in a special section at Lincoln Bowl next Saturday. The stunts will highlight the entertainment between halves of the Wildcat-Lute fracas. One of the stunts will salute the Round-up queen.

Elections for queen took place yesterday, but results of the voting will remain a closely-guarded secret until Tuesday morning, when the queen and her two attendants will be introduced in chapel.

From a field of eight candidates, the Lute electorate selected Marion Cummings, Margaret Lucas and Naomi Roe to constitute the royal court. One of them will be queen.

The coronation will be a feature of the Theatre Night program being presented by Curtain Call Club, which will include three-act plays. The first, "Alma Mater," will get underway at 7:30. Also to be presented on the Student Union stage will be "The Valiant."

Stan Boreson, genial Scandinavian-dialect musician from KING-TV, will be introduced by Art Broback, ASB prexy. Greetings will be brought by Bill Ramstad, alumni chief. Prizes will be awarded for the best beards.

Pyrotechnic Display

An assortment of skyrockets and aerial bombs has been ordered from Zebra Fireworks to lend color and noise to the fast-moving pep rally-bonfire behind the gym immediately after the plays. Coach Marv Harshman is rehearsing a volley of two-bit words to fire at the crowd.

The alumni will return to the Student Union for an informal coffee hour after the rally.

Main piece de resistance on the Saturday morning schedule is the third annual "Powderpuff Bowl" clash between the DRG Galloping Girdles and the DFK Bruising Bustles for the 1951 feminine grid championship. A gridiron will be marked off on the greensward between the library and the science hall.

According to Phil Thorliefson, the round-up parade will leave the campus at 12:30 p.m., moving downtown via Pacific Ave. A special feature of this year's procession will be a contingent of horses from the Parkland Riding club, which will join the parade at the Union Depot. The queen and her princesses will ride in a gaily-decorated carriage. Besides the more than two dozen floats entered by the various clubs and classes, there will be a number of comic entries. Leading the whole line will be the band.

Judging the parade will be five prominent PLC grads stationed on a downtown corner. Parking space for the floats will be reserved south of the field and the winners will promenade around the track immediately before the Central Washington-PLC battle at 2 o'clock. Plans for intermission stunts have not yet been disclosed.

Barbecue Supper

Hazel Johnson and her committee are busy planning a bar-be-cue ham supper for the grads in the Student Union, with serving between 6 and 7:30. Tentative price is $1.25.

Everybody is invited to the round-up "ramble" at 8 p.m. in the gym, which will get underway with a talent jamboree featuring a skit re-enacting some of the more humorous aspects of the college's history. Harry Lang, teacher at Clover Park, is corraling alumni to take part.

The celebration will end on a spiritual note Sunday morning at 11 when Dr. J. P. Pfueger delivers the sermon at Trinity Lutheran. At this service, the Choir of the West will make its first appearance of the season.

Under the direction of John Rydgren, the whole campus will take on the appearance of a dude ranch, complete with rustic woodensigns, a wildcat corral and hitching posts.

Between events, there will be open house. Members of Blue Key (formerly Tawasi) will conduct tours through the new chapel-music-speech building at 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday and after church on Sunday. The sophomore women's honorary, Spurs, is taking orders for mum corsages.

Invitations were sent earlier this week to 1,200 grads whose addresses are in the files. The 250 black and fluorescent orange bumper strips have been distributed, and posters have been printed for the sides of all Tacoma buses. The Tacoma News Tribune will run a two-page spread on the Homecoming, probably next Thursday or Friday.

In keeping with the western theme, everybody is urged to dress informally, particularly on Saturday, when cowboy gear will be especially appropriate.

Newnham Plans Appearances

Several concert appearances are being planned by Mr. Frederick Newnham, full-time voice and organ instructor, for the near future. Mr. Byard Fritts, piano instructor, will accompany Mr. Newnham in his public performances.

The October concert for the Arts Association at the Y.W.C.A., which will be open to the public, has been cancelled until January, according to Mr. Newnham. Complete information regarding the public performance will be given at a later date.

An evening program for the Sigma Alpha Iota group is also on the schedule for November 28. The complete program will be announced later.

So far student concerts and recitals have not been planned, but Mr. Newnham, as well as the other full and part-time music instructors, hope to move into the new sound-proof studios and practice rooms this coming week.

Triple-Threat Program

The Lutheran Students Association will sponsor a Bible study, followed by a dinner and mixer this Sunday at 5 p.m.

Members are already looking forward to the regional retreat Oct. 19, 20 and 21 at Camp Wyeth, Ore.

Stuhmiller, Fjelstad, Gibson and Keller Win

Jim "Hoot" Gibson, Dale Keller, Richard Stuhmiller and O. B. Fjelstad, were chosen to lead their respective classes throughout the coming year. They were named presidents of the senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes, respectively.

Approximately 80 percent of the student body went to the polls to cast their ballots to determine the student government of PLC for 1951-52. All of the races were extremely close, with revotes being called for in each class, as no one won majorities in the primary elections.

In the sophomore class race, a third vote was needed to determine the winning candidates for two of the positions.

Of the 24 officers who will rule over the four classes, 15 of them are boys and 9 girls. Each class voted a boy as prexy and likewise a girl for secretary.

Helping senior class prexy, Jim Gibson, run the affairs pertinent to the fourth-year students are two boys and two girls. Vice-president is Ernie Templin; writing the minutes will be Secretary Hazel Johnson; Treasurer John Leming will handle the purse strings, and Mildred Foege will represent the class in Inter Club Council.

The senior officers hail from Denver, Colo.; Puyallup, Wash.; Anacortes, Wash.; Vancouver, Wash.; and Chewelah, Wash., listed in the same order as above.

Dale "Spider" Keller, an alum of Queen Anne high school in Seattle, will guide the junior activities. Assisting him are Vice-president Everett Savage, Marysville, Wash.; Beverly Allen, Renton, Wash., secretary; Dave Kent, treasurer, from Port Angeles; Inter Club Council representative, Ron Reule, Hillsboro, Ore.; Lloyd Eastman, Bremerton, Student Council representative.

The sophomore class, originators of the freshman court, probably waged the closest race for officers. The "inquisitioners" revoted for every office once and to determine the winners of secretary and I.G.C. representative, a

Spurs Sponsor Talent Show Tonight, 7:30

"Tip Top Talent" is the theme of the initial talent-fest of the year, tonight at 7:30 in the Student Union, sponsored by Spurs. Admission of 35 cents will be charged.

Reggy Holbrook, program chairman, guarantees the evening will live up to the theme.

Master of ceremonies will be Bill Rieke. Some of the novelty performers on the show are Bob Brog and Glen Werner, doing a pantomime and Betty Hall playing a musical saw. Another different number will be hog-calling done by Louise Kleinert.

Two new groups on the campus are the girls Swing Trio, composed of Anne Knorr, Joanne Huchtoen and Anita Hellbaum, and a male vocal group accompanied by J. P. Carlstrom on his auto-harp.

Instrumental and vocal solos will be presented by Jack Enochs, Carol Brace, Jeanne Frieske, Paul Steen, Priscilla Asper, Dorothy Broomfield, Jeanette Foss and Vern Lestrud.

ICC Requests Social Calendars From Clubs Now

All clubs must turn in immediately their preferences for regular meeting dates and places to either Duane Ulleland, Inter Club Council president, or Ken Johnson, vice-president.

Monday, October 8, forms will be passed out to all clubs, listing future social events scheduled to date. They are asked then to list proposed social events for this semester and preferably for the spring semester. Also, it is necessary that the Inter Club Council be notified of the names of chaperones two weeks before the scheduled event.

Inter Club Council officers, elected last Monday, are: recording secretary, Ilene Drivstuen; corresponding secretary, Rosella Albrecht; parliamentarian, Bob Nielson, and Ulleland and Johnson.

Chairmen for One-act Plays Announced

Committee chairmen for the three Homecoming plays to be presented next Friday evening were announced this week.

They include Edna McCall, costumes; Ann Knorr, make-up; Walt Ball, set; John Unis, lighting; Marilyn Schwerin and Marian Christianson, properties; Judd Doughy, stage; Joanne Schief, house, and Marilyn Wallace, programs.

To Old Grads and New

True may our hearts forever be
 To Alma Mater P.L.C.

As the last notes of the fight song float across the gridiron next Saturday, you, the alumni of P.L.C., will think nostalgically of Gladiator games witnessed during your days at Pacific Lutheran. This trend of thought will expand, and faces and events of other days will come to mind. For a time, long forgotten events will be as "only yesterday." Once again you will be one of the gang roaring your approbation of the team.

If we, the present students of Luteville, are capable of instilling this feeling, we shall deem the 1951 Round-up Homecoming a success. It is your homecoming. The Round-up Days committee, students and faculty, have worked untiringly to make this the finest celebration ever.

A full program has been planned, with a maximum of entertainment for everyone. Such events as the football game and the half-time card stunts, the coronation, the Sunday worship service, the "Powderpuff Bowl," the barbecue, the parade and the "ramble," cannot afford to be missed. We hope you'll have such a good time you'll want to come back again.

Choir of the West Begins 25th Year Of Choral Singing

The Choir of the West will begin its Silver anniversary season with David Knutson as president; Arnold Gregerson, vice-president; and Marilyn Schweirin, secretary-treasurer. They were elected last week to lead the group.

The 60 singers hail from eight different states and the territory of Hawaii. According to Director Gunner J. Mahnin, they have been assigned to the following sections:

First Tenor: Ernest Johnson, Fort Shaw, Mont.; Vern Brownson, Del Paso Heights, Calif.; Bill Brickner, Auburn, Va.; Elmer Knutson, Everett; Mina Raean, Plentwood, Mont.; Anita Hellbaum, Parkland; Jean Tanner, Oconomowalk, Wis.

Second Tenor: Vernon Lestrud, Bellingham; Terry Sversten, Kellogg, Idaho; Glenn Hull, McKenna, Wn.; Bob Johnson, Oakland, Calif.; Jerry Sheffels, Wilbur, Wn.

First Bass: Otto Reitz, American Falls, Idaho; John Rose, Boise, Idaho; Elmore Duncan, Mossy Rock, Wn.; David Knutson, Gruner, Texas; Don Urlie, Calif.; Paul Braafladt, Sacramento, Calif.; Bill Vaswig, Grand Forks, N. D.; Bob Veller, Fairfield, Wn.

Names, Places Are Puzzling

Since PLC will be playing host next weekend to several hundred of its former students, it is interesting to note where they will be coming from.

Coming the farthest distance will be the party from Goodness, Me. Other delegations are anticipated from Oola, La.; Shapeless, Mass.; Income, Texas; Coca-Cola, Colo., and Praise, Ala.

Also Tin; Kans.; Uranium; Ore.; Ga, Ga.; One Million, B. C.; Deathly, Ill.; Proan, Conn.; and, of course, White, Wash.

Don't try to look up these intriguing communities in an atlas; Rand McNally hasn't heard of them, either!

Mr. Hoffman To Teach Journalism Students

Another new member was added to the Pacific Lutheran faculty last week in the person of Mr. Ural Hoffman, who will teach journalism.

Mr. Hoffman is well qualified to instruct students in journalism. He formerly headed the journalism department of Stadium high school. He has worked on the staffs of various newspapers and is now editor of the Retired Teachers' Journal.

Several textbooks claim the authorship of Mr. Hoffman. Two of them may be found in the Mooring Mast office, "Hoffman's Hearline Verbs" and "Student Newspaper Management."

He will also be adviser for the Mooring Mast staff.

QUESTION of the WEEK

What would you think of girl song-leaders at the PLC football and basketball games?

Songleading is a routine worked out for the pep and fight songs and usually done by a group of girls. It is done at many colleges and universities throughout the country.

Charlotte La Qua: Good grief, I'm for it. Just so they can sing.

John Rydgreit: I'm certain that such a group would be highly inspirational.

Joan Gardner: We have fine yell leaders, but songleaders will give that added spirit at the games. It's really a good idea.

Don Ellertson: It should add spirit to our games and likewise a little color.

Bev Allen: The more pep leaders a school has, the more enthusiasm a team and the students will show.

Murray Martin: It's a fine idea. I think it would help PLC's "pep" considerably.

Howard Worley: A great idea. It'll save the army from coming out and giving the cheering section some pep.

Bob Marvonek: I'm all for it, especially if they wear short skirts.

Inga Astrup: It's a wonderful idea. Why not for Homecoming? It adds a lot!

Bob Sorenson: A great inspiration to everyone and it will certainly arouse more enthusiasm.

Ken Johnson: It sounds like a good plan. It has helped to build up enthusiasm at a lot of other colleges, why shouldn't it work here?

Bill Waddell: It sounds good, and deserves a try.

Dave Roe: Such a group would add tremendously to the band's members, especially at the games.

Bev Seipp: I think girl songleaders are a very good idea. They would certainly add a lot of pep, especially at Homecoming.

Lutherans To Battle Western At Bellingham

Pacific Lutheran's Gladiators have been working hard this past week in preparation for the trip to Bellingham tomorrow night, where they will meet the tremendously strong Western Washington Vikings.

Coach Marv Harshman has been drilling the Lutes hard on both offensive and defensive play in the hope that his boys will again come out on top in a tough ball game.

The Vikings' big advantage lies in their number of returning lettermen and the size of their forward wall.

According to information received, Western used 55 players in their last game with Eastern which they won quite handily, 59 to 0.

According to league rules a coach can suit up only 25 players for each game. This means that the 25 starters will probably be last year's team supplemented by two new players from the University of Washington, whose names are not obtainable at present.

The Vikings' forward wall provides a very stalwart defense.

Their center weighs in around the 250 mark; guards, 230; and the ends average a mere 190 pounds.

Luteville stalwarts such as Al Fink, fullback; Bill Stringfellow, halfback; Glen Huffman, end; Art Swanson, halfback; Doug McGrath, guard; and Jim Ball, end, can look forward to playing a full 60 minutes tomorrow night unless Harshman can come up with some good replacements.

As this issue went to press the Lutes were at full strength again with no

Lincoln High Sends Nine First Stringers; Puyallup Vikings Responsible for Five

Local boys seem to dominate this year's football lineup, with nine from Lincoln of Tacoma and five from Puyallup.

Glen Huffman, who had his training at Lincoln, is now going into his third year under the yellow and black. Last year the big fellow won all-conference honors at end. With more performances like the one he turned in against Whitworth, he should receive the honors again this year.

Another Lincolnite who is expected to bolster the line is Chuck Gowdy. Four years ago, he won an all-city position for Lincoln.

PLC has received from Puyallup, via one year at WSC, Jim Ball, who has been highly regarded by his previous coaches as a good pass grabbing end.

Oliver Magnuson, a tackle from Lincoln, was a pillar of strength in last year's line and will surprise many if he doesn't come out of the heap with all-conference honors.

Chuck Forsland, tackle from LHS, was converted from guard as a sophomore last year and is scheduled to see quite a bit of action before he graduates.

Lincoln wasn't satisfied with producing just two tackles for us, so, last year they sent out another, Bill Waddell. Waddell showed a lot of fight in his frosh year and will probably see a lot of action before this season is over.

Just as Lincoln seems to major in molding tackles, Puyallup does so in guards. Doug McGrath and Ray one on the injured list.

Quarterback Frank Karwoski's shoulder is reportedly in good shape and Glen Huffman proved in last Saturday's game that his leg is in top condition once more.

"The Vikings have a tough team," admits Coach Harshman, "but maybe it's about time they had an upset!"

Barnes will be relied upon to take much of the load at that position.

Lincoln also furnished us completely with quarterbacks as Frank Karwoski and Ron Billings are both from the Tacoma school.

Karwoski waited for nothing and jumped right into starting position as a frosh. With a year's experience behind him he should be a top signal caller.

Billings, who was the team's best pass defense man last year, was moved from halfback to quarter because of lack of depth at this position.

Art Swanson, Puyallup, at 150 pounds, is one of the smallest boys on the squad, yet with his drive and fight he is in there sharing the battles with the rest of the halfbacks.

Dick Larson, who won the Richard Graf trophy for the outstanding senior football player, is from the Tacoma school and as a sophomore should give the Glads some needed depth.

Glads Swamp Whitworth In Muddy Battle

"Up a creek without a paddle" could well have been the theme of the Whitworth Pirates when the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators "scuttled the ship" 13-6 last Saturday night in the Lincoln Bowl.

Tacoma's liquid sunshine seemed to dampen the "spark plugs" of the Whitworth machine, but gave life to the Lute eleven.

Only eight minutes of the first quarter had elapsed when Fullback Al Fink cannon-balled his way right through the center of the Pirates' 'gun wall' for the first touchdown. Fink's conversion kick was blocked and the score stood 6-0, PLC out in front, for the rest of the half.

In the second half, Ed Kretz, quarterback, and Sam Adams, end, combined their passing and running experience to bring down 6 points for the Pirates. Kretz tried to pass the extra point, but missed his receiver.

Then the see-saw battle started, and with only 4:15 remaining in the game, speedy Fink trotted across for the final TD. Mr. Fink then proceeded to successfully run the extra point over.

The Lutes outplayed the Pirates all the way, picking up a total of 18 first downs and 300 yards in rushing, while Whitworth could make only 9 first downs and 74 yards rushing.

Art Swanson, Puyallup's '47-'49 fullback, sparked the team all the way with his powerful drives.

Halfback Bill Stringfellow looked excellent on all his runs, helping the Lutes move that pigskin ever closer to the goal line.

The combined "brains" of Frank Karwoski and Ron Billings, plus the great defensive game of End Jim Ball, proved too much for the Pirates' offensive machine as they were forced to "go down with their ship" to a tune of 13-6.

LUTE LOCKER DUST

By Jerry Martin

Congratulations, team, on a tough job well done!

"Mudders," the sports writers call them. Well may be, but more spunk, drive and sheer power were displayed by our boys last Saturday than at any previous time this year.

Roses should be sent to every one of the 200 spectators who attended the rain-drenched game. Whitworth rooters showed up 47 strong. Here's hoping PLC has a better showing than this tomorrow night when the Lutes travel to Bellingham where they will tackle the Western Washington Vikings.

Not too much info has been learned concerning the Vikings, but this much is certain. Any team that can bowl Eastern over 59-0 must have plenty on the ball.

Most prognosticators will favor Western two to one, but your sports editor will stick to "Harshman's boys."

I'll even venture a prediction of the score: 13-12 in favor of Pacific Lutheran College.

Chips

Have you noticed an unusual number of freshman and sophomore boys walking with a limp or complaining of sore muscles lately? We have, and as a result started making an investigation as to the cause of the situation. By process of elimination it was finally decided that the limps and sore muscles were caused by over-enthusiastic participation in Mark Salzman's gym class.

Splinters

It's rumored that the Gladiators are taking up a collection to buy Art Swanson a better tube of "plate cement" so he won't have to worry about losing his choppers again. Remember Homecoming!!

Dorm and Day Girls Train Here For Homecoming Bowl Contest

By Joanne Poencet

Two football squads of unknown ability will be viewed by thousands of anxious and curious spectators a week from tomorrow, Homecoming, when the Galloping Girdles and the Bustling Bustles round off in the Powder Puff Bowl at 10 a.m.

The fans will be anxious to see the Dorm girls and the Day girls renew their annual athletic rivalry. They will be anxious to see whether Bob Nielsen's eleven Dorm girls can cause the Bustles of Roger Larson to go down to their third straight defeat.

The day girls still have the 13-6 bow, suffered at the hands of the Girdles last year, fresh in their minds and will settle for nothing less than a reverse decision. Of course, the dorm girls are determined to set a three-year record and they are expected to win by a 30-point margin.

The attack of the Girdles will be played off a T-formation and built around tentative backs: Norma Borgford, Joanne Swartzwalter, Herman Myer, Katherine Biery, Marcell Fink and Joanne Freeman.

The DRG girls have elected Mary Olson and Helen Simonson as co-captains and are planning a surprise offense. Their forward wall should prove to be a formidable one, especially to the spectators.

The Galloping Girdles will miss the fine offensive running of Fullback Marcell Fink, who sustained knee injuries during scrimmage, but with their 213 pound line, they expect favorable results.

Assistants coaching the Dorm girls are Hal Schrupp, who is teaching them how to make plays, Milt Hefty who is watching the line, and Al Fink who notices the backs.

Roger Larson is assistant coach for the Day girls.

PACIFIC PARADE

By Dave Nesvig

One of the reasons for the Gladiators' triumph over Whitworth last week might have been the hair-raising ride the Spokane boys experienced in the chartered PLC limousine, which transported them from the Seattle-Tacoma airport to Lincoln Bowl.

Hal Ruddick, driver of the PLC bus, had them all muttering before the 21-mile trip, which he negotiated in 25 minutes, was terminated at the gridiron. Commenting on the jaunt, Hal said proudly, "Whitworth should have won. They had 21 miles of roadwork before the game."

Busy Place

Sales in the College Coffee Shop soared during the heated three-game series between the Giants (Editor's note: The Giants won the National league pennant) and the Dodgers (I think that's the name of the other team). Then Wednesday afternoon, when Manager Bob Knutson was gloating over the upsurge in business saw visions of his profits disappearing into the afternoon mist, as every booth rocked, cups and dishes rattled, and books banged on the floor. What happened? It was only the New York fans celebrating the Giants' dramatic entrance into the World Series. Despite the three hectic days, Bob says the Coffee Shop will still be open after all school social events and every evening until 10 p.m.

Offices Get Faces Lifted

In addition to the newly painted Saga office, two more offices in the Student Union building will soon have bright, shiny faces, more conducive to work. Soon following suit will be the Mooring Mast and student body hangouts.

Cadet Teachers In Workshop

A workshop meeting was conducted by the staff of the PLC Education Department last Thursday in the SUB to acquaint PLC cadet teachers with their supervisors and teachers.

Dr. Eastvold welcomed all the visitors to the campus and Miss Anna Marn Nielsen, Director of Teacher Training, explained the new teacher training system as it is being carried out here. She pointed out that student teachers must teach on their preferred level as well as a lesser preferred level. This is so that they will be able to fulfill the requirements of the "Provisional General Certificate" now being issued by the state of Washington, which qualifies a teacher to teach any grade from 1 through 12.

Thirty-five student teachers, 23 whose preferred level is junior or senior high school and 12 in the elementary level, are now assigned in the Tacoma, Clover Park, Fife, Bethel and Franklin Pierce districts.

Tickets Available For Concert Series

A limited number of tickets to Tacoma's Community Concert series is still available to PLC students. The duets, at a special price of $3.85 for four concerts, may be obtained from Gudrun Ness Ronning.

The series will open Oct. 31, when the famed Robert Shaw chorale, 32 men and women singers accompanied by a 20-piece orchestra, will be presented at the Temple theatre.

Following concerts will be given by Mona Paulce, mezzo-soprano; Jorge Bolet, Cuban pianist, and Marina Svetlov, ballerina.

CPS Lends Cards To PLC for Stunts

Probably the most ambitious project ever undertaken in any PLC Homecoming will be the card stunts which will be presented by exactly 1,000 people during halftime Oct. 13.

A special section will be marked off on the west (Lincoln Park) side of Lincoln Bowl. This will be the PLC rooting section for the game.

The gigantic pictures will blossom forth in five colors—black, yellow, red, white and blue. The 5,000 cards are being borrowed from CPS for the occasion.

Blue Key and Alpha Phi Omega will usher the students and alumni to fill up the sections and pass out the cards just before the intermission klaxon. The stunts will be demonstrated on a small scale at chapel Tuesday morning.

Margaret Lucas To Wield Dorm Gavel

New officers of DPK were elected Sunday, Sept. 23. They are Marilyn Lunde, vice-president; Nan Aagesor, secretary; Judy Bargman, treasurer; and Wally Spitznagel, ICC representative.

The meeting was called by President Margaret Lucas, who was elected last spring.

Also elected were Helen Huswick, social chairman; Norma Barghard, fire chief, and Hermina Myer, assistant fire chief.

Donald Eastvold Heads Brotherhood

Announcement has been made that Donald Eastvold, prominent local attorney, has been elected president of the Lutheran Brotherhood of the South Puget Sound circuit of the Evangelical Lutheran church, an organization including all Brotherhood groups between Seattle and Vancouver, Wash., and west of the Cascades. Eastvold has served as president of the Brotherhood of Trinity Lutheran church at Parkland.

Son of Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of PLC, and Mrs. Eastvold, the young man is a graduate of St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., and received his Bachelor of Law degree from the University of Washington. Upon being admitted to the bar, he served for a time as assistant prosecutor of Pierce county, then resigned to open his own law firm, now Goodwin, Eastvold and Hicks, with offices in Tacoma and Parkland. He was chosen as "man of

Total PLC Enrollment For Fall Semester Is 802

Enrollment statistics for the new year have been compiled by the registrar and dean's office and reveal that the general enrollment is approximately the same as last year.

The total registration figure, including all special students, is listed at 802. This number includes 13 graduate men students on the campus.

As usual, the freshman class holds the registration with 218 students. This includes 104 women and 114 men. Close behind is the sophomore class with 163, including 67 women and 94 men. Next in the enrollment race is the junior class with 144, including 52 women and 92 men. Coming in last is the graduating senior class with 140, including 36 women and 104 men.

By looking at these statistics it is evident that the men still outnumber the women students at PLC in spite of the popular rumour of that strict draft regulations have upset the ratio. However, with a few exceptions, conditions seem to have remained about the same.

At the present time there are 124 extension and special students attending classes. Ninety-three of these are women and 31 are men.

This year the college has six young nurses training under the new nursing extension program at Emmanuël Hospital in Portland, Oregon. Several of these girls will return to the campus for graduation when their training is completed at the hospital. Most of them were sophomores last year. These girls include Luella Lyg, Mona Sundvik, Ruth Hansen, Charlotte Brandt, Rosaline Rice and Gloria Evanson.

third ballot was necessary.

Final count of the ballots showed Rich Stuhmiller, Reardon, Wash., wielding the gavel; John Osburn, Everett, is vice-president; recording the minutes will be Judy Bargman, a grad of West Seattle high school in Seattle, and keeping track of the class finances will be Janet Carson, Los Angeles, Calif. Joyce Genz, Portland, and Marvin Fink, Odessa, will represent the soph in I.C.C. and Student Council, respectively.

Embarking on their first year at PLC, the freshman class will carry out their activities under the leadership of O. B. Fjelstad. In the event of his absence, Carol Brace, vice-president, will take over. Secretary Marciel Fink will do the recording work. Larry Anderson, treasurer; Karol Kvern, I.C.C. representative; Peter Luvaas, Student Council representative; complete the list of first year executives.

SPEAKING at the Homecoming worship services will be Dr. J. P. Pflueger, professor of religion at PLC for two decades. The service, Sunday, Oct. 14, at Trinity Lutheran, coincides with PLC's 57th anniversary.
