

Luther Leagues Hold Convention At Local Church

South Puget Sound Circuit Meets Here; Elect Irene Dahl President; Subscribe to Development Association

With the theme, "The Luther League at Work," delegates for the Young People's Luther League of the South Puget Sound Circuit, which includes 22 congregations from South Bend to Seattle, held their seventh annual convention, September 18-21, in the Trinity Lutheran Church at Parkland. Mr. Edwin Tingelstad, president of the Circuit, presided.

The Rev. F. B. Anderson, Young People's Luther League Field Secretary, Minneapolis, Minn., led discussions on the theme. The Rev. E. M. Hegge of the Central Lutheran Church in Tacoma, Mrs. Ildan G. Emblem, Tacoma parish worker, and Prof. Philip E. Hauge of Pacific Lutheran College, were leaders of the several sessions.

The Sunday morning sermon, which was very inspirational, was delivered by the Rev. F. B. Anderson. The Aberdeen Lutheran Church choir sang, under the direction of Mrs. John Tenwick. Ruth Wersen, 31, is a member of this choir.

At the final session held on Sunday afternoon, a musical program was given by representatives of the choirs of the South Puget Sound Circuit and the Children's Chorus, both under the direction of the Rev. O. L. Haavik.

The following officers were elected for next year: president, Irene Dahl, 30, Parkland; vice president, Byron Riss, Seattle; secretary, Anna Mikkelson, Pacific Lutheran College; treasurer, Alfred Stang, Tacoma; directors, Morris Torvik, Seattle; the Rev. T. O. Svare, Parkland; George Crookquist, 30, Gig Harbor; musical director, Kenneth Lyman, Seattle.

The convention voted to contribute at least ten dollars a year to the Pacific Lutheran College Development Association. It also accepted the invitation extended by the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Seattle to hold the next annual meeting there.

CLUB HOLDS MEETING TO GREET NEW GIRLS

In order to welcome all the new students and to encourage them to become active members of the club, the Delta Rho Gamma held their first meeting Wednesday, September 16. The officers were introduced.

OLD CHAIRS PHILOSOPHIZE AS NEW COMPANIONS JOIN RANKS

Rows of polished, unmarred, new chairs now stand in some of our classrooms. But what do you suppose the old chairs would say if they could talk? Perhaps their story would run something like this:

"You staid there now so proud of your freshly varnished surfaces, so proud of the part you will play in educating college students. But, we, too, were once shining and new and proud. You look contemptuously at our marred surfaces, but soon you will envy us. When you realize the significance of these unsightly marks on our arms you will long for the day when you, too, will show the ravages of time.

For, carved on us are the names of

College Freshman Elect New Officers

Officers for the year were elected at the first meeting of the college freshmen, held Wednesday, September 16. The following are the officers for the present school year: president, Carl Martin; vice-president, Nordis Arneson; secretary, Ellen Soley; treasurer, Holden Hauke; sergeant-at-arms, Clarence Monson; Prof. A. W. Ramstad was chosen as adviser.

Faculty Greet New Students

Tingelstad Gives Welcome Address; Faculty Ladies Quartet, Preus Sing

The faculty of the Pacific Lutheran College held its annual reception for the students in the college recreation room on Saturday night, September 26, 1931. A spirit of general good-fellowship quickly broke down the first barriers of formality, and Prof. J. O. Edwards, who acted as chairman for the evening, announced the program in the same light vein.

Dr. Tingelstad officially welcomed the old and new students to the school for the school year. The faculty ladies' quartet, composed of Mrs. Hauge, Mrs. Olson, Mrs. Ramstad, and Mrs. Xavier, accompanied by Mrs. Edwards, sang two selections, "Deep River," and "Mammy Loves Her Baby."

Mr. Paul Preus, baritone, accompanied by Prof. J. O. Edwards, sang three vocal solos: "Come to the Fair," "Meltsand in the Wood," and "Oh Man River."

Refreshments were served in the college dining hall by members of the faculty. The reception was concluded with a social hour spent by all in singing and getting acquainted with the members of the faculty and student body.

PEP CLUB CHOOSES OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Officers were elected at the second meeting of the PEP club, an organization of all dormitory girls, held on September 22. Nordis Arneson presided at the initial selection, after which the business meeting was held, with the president, Louise Schneider, in charge.

The officers elected are: Nordis Arneson, vice president; Dagny Hjermstad, secretary; Margaret Elliott, treasurer; and Ruth Fochert, roll leader. Hostesses for the meeting were Margaret Elliott, Kathleen Forath, Margaret Forath, and Grace Holte.

men and women who have gone forth and made their mark in the world. Those two names so close together inside that heart—now they have but one name, and perhaps their children now sit in these same patterned chairs.

Those deep grooves the result of mental perturbation, perhaps helped some student solve that difficult question in some exam. Or perhaps they helped some sleepy student keep his eyes resolutely open during a lecture.

Many meanings have these many scars, but to us they bring happy memories. But remember: Names of students all remind you. You can gaze your teachers rave. When you departing, leave behind you. Your names upon us chairs engraved.

"The First Martyr" will be the subject for October 21, with Frederick Mau as the speaker.

Others scheduled to lead the discussions are as follows:

- Nov. 4—Jesse Pfleger
- Nov. 18—Walter Young
- Dec. 2—Dagny Hjermstad
- Dec. 16—Tryve Runsvold
- Jan. 6—Hulda Simonson

Funeral of Former Student Held Here

Margaret Aaberg Dies at the Mountain View Sanatorium on September 21

After an illness of more than a year, Margaret Aaberg died at the Mountain View Sanatorium at 1 A. M. on Monday, September 21. She was courageous and hopeful to the last. She told Anna Mikkelson and Rev. Svare, who visited her three hours before she died, that she was happy to die, for she knew she would go home to Christ who had died for her. Margaret also asked these two to carry her greetings to her friends at Pacific Lutheran College.

Margaret Aaberg was born at Spanaway on August 3, 1910, was baptized in infancy, and was confirmed in Trinity Lutheran Church in 1928. She was an earnest and conscientious student at Pacific Lutheran College the school years of 1925-26 and 1929-30.

The funeral was held from the College Chapel on Thursday, September 24. Rev. T. O. Svare officiated. He based his sermon on Ecclesiastes 12-14: "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth." Concluding with Margaret's dying request, Anna Mikkelson sang, "I Know Of a Sleep In Jesus' Name." The congregation sang "Beautiful Savior." The pall bearers, all members of the confirmation class of '28, were Lyal Sanderson, John Ellingson, Stanley Dahl, Alton Fedness, Walter Olson, and David Anderson.

Margaret's passing is mourned by her parents, a brother, two sisters, and many friends.

DEBATE SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

In order to arouse interest in debating the Debate Club held an organizational meeting at 12:30 on Monday, September 28.

Evelyn Arneson, president of the club, explained the purpose and plans of the society. Election of officers will be held at a later date.

The Morning Mast wishes to offer its sincere sympathy to the bereaved family of Margaret Aaberg.

Ellensburg Game on October Tenth To Be Attraction For Homecoming

BERENTSON ELECTED SOPHOMORE LEADER

The College sophomores elected the officers for the year at their first meeting on Tuesday, September 15. Eric Hauke, last year's president, presided. Results of the election were as follows: president, Harold Berentson; vice-president, Millard Quale; secretary, Dagny Hjermstad; treasurer, Arthur Sivertson; sergeant-at-arms, Harry Southworth; Prof. Ph. E. Hauge was elected as class adviser.

Many Students Attend Session

The opening of the fall session witnessed the largest enrollment of new students in the history of Pacific Lutheran College, with 98 new students, making a total of 221.

Nearly three-fourths of the new students are from the state of Washington. Others have come from Oregon, Idaho, Alaska, and British Columbia.

The greatest percentage of increase was in the Liberal Arts department. The large increase of students may be attributed to the efforts of the Messrs. Foss, Sivertson, Pfleger, Preus, Olson, and Lams, and to the publicity brought through the recent choir trip to the East.

Receive Money For Girls' Dorm

Five thousand dollars toward the new girls' dormitory, which is to be erected in the near future, has been credited in return for insurance policies with the Lutheran Mutual Aid Society, with headquarters at Waverly, Iowa, by Mr. Monson and Mr. Elliot, the local representatives. The society hopes, through the distribution of these policies, to have funds enough to build the dormitory by next fall.

Among those who have taken out life insurance policies are the following: Julius I. Giarum, Rev. J. M. Jensen, Mrs. O. A. Tingelstad, Mrs. A. J. Tove, Mrs. J. V. Xavier, Ethel H. Davis, Berdine Knutsen, Dr. O. A. Tingelstad, C. G. Olson, Louisa S. Taylor, and Mrs. S. Hinderle.

MANY STUDENTS FROM COLLEGE VISIT PUYALLUP FAIR MONDAY

Monday afternoon, September 21, was this year's fair day. In other words, it was the day, or afternoon, to be more correct, when almost everyone attended the fair at Puyallup.

In order to take care of the transportation problem, two buses were hired, and besides these, numerous private autos helped convey the fair seekers to Puyallup. One o'clock was the time set for departure, and for some unknown reason, one o'clock was the time of departure. Everyone arrived there in top-top shape, all eager to see the fair grounds from end to end.

Many fine exhibits were to be seen. One of the first ones was the art exhibit, in which the wares of competitors throughout the state were displayed. One of P. L. C.'s students won a first prize with an oil painting, and, considering the difficult competition,

Faculty Appoints Committee to Co-Operate with Student Body Committee in Making Arrangements

At its regular meeting last night, the faculty decided to make the football game with Ellensburg on October tenth the homecoming game for the alumni. Details of the homecoming will be worked out by a faculty committee on student organizations in conjunction with the student body.

The faculty committee consists of C. O. Olson, Mrs. L. B. Kreidler, P. R. Highby, Miss Sophia Fowler, and A. J. Beck.

Homecoming is an annual event at Pacific Lutheran College, at which alumni come back to renew acquaintances and feel again the spirit of the college from which they were graduated.

Interest is extremely keen in the Ellensburg game, as it is the hope of every Lutheranite that last year's defeat may be avenged.

OPENING PROGRAM HELD ON TUESDAY

Formal opening exercises for the college year were held in the Chapel, Tuesday evening, September 8, at 7:30 o'clock.

The exercises were begun with an organ prelude, played by Prof. J. O. Edwards, which was followed by an invocation and prayer given by the college pastor, Rev. T. O. Svare. The Faculty Ladies' Quartet, composed of Mrs. Hauge, Mrs. Olson, Mrs. Xavier, and Mrs. Ramstad, then sang two numbers, "The Prayer Perfect," and "Enough to Know." The address of the evening was given by Dr. O. A. Tingelstad. In it he briefly outlined the Christian opportunities and responsibilities of the student, especially during these times of depression.

Others on the program were Rev. B. Harstad, founder of this school, who gave a short talk; Miss Anna Mikkelson and Mr. Paul Fross, who sang a duet; Rev. O. L. Haavik, president of the Board of Trustees, ended the program with a brief talk and words of welcome.

this school may be justly proud of this student, Miss Norma Fross.

Among the many other exhibits were the flower show, and fruit and vegetable display, the finest to be found anywhere.

Besides the exhibits, some very good acts were given for the benefit of the grandstand crowd. These included trapeze work, log rolling contests, horse races, motorcycle races, etc.

And of course the many amusements, such as the ferris wheel, hay-ber, whip, etc., provided entertainment for many.

Those who ride in the buses last again at six o'clock. Most of them had been walking around so much that they were tired and were glad to get started for home and for a good square meal. As far as is known, everyone had a splendid time and will carry many pleasant memories of this day, and perhaps a happy anticipation for fair day again next year.

A CONTRAST IN ATTITUDES

Subdued, perhaps, by the awe-inspiring building in which he is studying, and by the studious and earnest example of his fellows about him, as well as the strict rules of order prevailing in a University library, the University student goes about his work in the library with deliberateness and silence. At the University of Washington library, one is struck by the quietness with which the hundreds of students there do their studying. One could hear a whisper from one end of the great room to the other. There is a veritable spirit of study in the air that is conducive to the highest of scholastic endeavor.

On the other hand, one enters most high-school libraries with a sense of dismay. It seems to be a mark of distinction among high-school "students" of this fair land, to show the utmost disrespect and contempt for scholastic and intellectual endeavor. The "inmates" of a high school only too often make their libraries a place for gossip and flirtation, completely disregarding the feelings of those who really desire to study or do research work. In fact, one of the surest ways to acquire the denomination "sissy" is to study occasionally.

It is a great contrast, this, between the high school and the college spirit, as exemplified in library etiquette. It will, perhaps, explain why so many fail to "make the grade" as they enter the University. Which does our library exemplify? Are we a college or just a high school?

BUY SAGAS—GET PICTURES

A comparatively small, yet relatively important deficit in the finances of the 1931 Saga, makes it necessary to dispose of the Sagas still remaining from last spring. In fact, the probability of publishing a Saga this year will hinge in a large measure on the reduction or removal of this deficit.

In order to meet this problem, the staff of the 1931 Saga has agreed to endeavor to sell the remaining books at reduced rates. For outsiders, new students, and old students who have bought Sagas last year, the price will be $1.00. For those old students who did not buy annuals last year, the price will be $2.00, since the student body voted unanimously last year to buy Sagas 100%. Besides this, the staff will dispose of gloss prints of individuals and groups that appeared in last year's annual.

New students will undoubtedly get much more than a dollar's worth in value from the pictures and history contained in the annual. Old students should be able to make good use of the old Sagas as gifts. Those who did not buy their annuals last year should do so now from a sense of duty, if for no other reason.

CONGRATULATIONS

We want to commend Miss Norma Preus for her artistic ability, which she so ably demonstrated by winning a blue ribbon award at the Western Washington Fair for her oil painting. Her achievement reflects favorably upon Pacific Lutheran College, where Norma matriculated this fall.

WORTHWHILE ENDEAVOR

With an excellent theme and a definite program scheduled for the coming year, the Mission Society should prove a great source of inspiration to students this year. Perhaps no other organization at Pacific Lutheran College can be such an influence for good as the Mission Society, if the students become sufficiently interested in the society and its work. The new students should seriously consider taking an active part in the affairs of the society, for they will certainly be greatly benefited by its meetings.

PACIFIC BAND CREATED IN ONE DAY

Rome wasn't built in a day, but the Pacific Lutheran College pep band, under the able leadership of Mr. J. C. Edwards, was.

With the close of the season against the College of Puget Sound scheduled for Saturday evening, the following students answered the call in chapel Friday morning for the organization of a pep band, a necessary item in the equipment for a football game: trumpets, Annette Wearda, John Hopp, and John Hoppe; mellophones, Thomas Eszen, and Walter Uetad; clarinet, Louise Wearda; trombone, Frank Elliott; tuba, Thurston Logan; saxophone, Jack Hysdam; snare drum, Walter Christensen; bass drum and xylophone, Norman Jensen.

An addition of more saxophones will be made later on. Mr. Edwards is expecting more students, particularly those who already have some knowledge of the piano, to secure instruments in which they are interested, take lessons, and join the band without delay.

Wandering about the campus the reporter noticed:

"You will only be hurting yourself, my son, and prolong the agony," said his father. For one more moment he exercised this wonderful self control which was gradually breaking him down. At last he could help himself no longer. His nerves gave way with a snap—he just had to scratch those mosquito bites.

Board Meets to Decide Problems

Hoff and Foss Resign; Larson to Appraise Real Estate Acquired This Summer

Last August 26 the College Board of Trustees held their summer meeting at Parkland. Many points were covered that are of special interest to students and supporters of Pacific Lutheran College.

Dr. Tingstad made a final report of the Chicago tour of the 1930-31 choir, stating that the trip was made without either deficit or profit.

The matter of converting the interest generated by the tour into support of the school was left to the president of the college and the executive committee.

The financial statement for the year ending July 31, 1931, interest was focused on $16,901.53, representing the emergency appropriation from the church which enabled the school to close the year without net loss.

This incident shows definitely that the church officials desire to have Pacific Lutheran College maintained and developed.

The Board approved the retention of the present faculty. However, two changes have been made:

Dr. H. J. Hoff, who has had a two-year leave of absence, has decided to stay at Bethany College. Therefore Mrs. Bondy is now a regular teacher rather than a substitute.

Secondly, with the resignation of C. L. Foss as field agent, effective Nov. 1, Edwin Tingstad is added to the faculty, teaching school administration.

Rev. Foss has accepted the call as pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church at Silverton, Oregon.

Another item of interest authorized by the Board was the selection of Mr. P. T. Larson to appraise the real estate owned by the college, especially those lots transferred to the College this summer by the Lutheran Memorial Fund Committee.

As for the new girls' dormitory, the resolution was made to give the Lutheran Mutual Aid Society, with Mr. Elliot in charge, every opportunity to raise the necessary $40,000.

The budget for the coming year—$52,000 ($3,500 less than last year) was approved.

Shishmaref Mission Thanks L. D. R. Girls

In order to make the new girl students familiar with the organization the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation held their first meeting Tuesday, September 15.

Light refreshments were followed by a short program. Pauline Schirman, president, welcomed all the new girls on behalf of the club. Mrs. A. W. Ramstad, last year's adviser, gave a personal welcome to each new girl. Esther Westby gave a brief outline of the work of organization. A letter of appreciation from the Shishmaref Mission in Alaska for the money that was sent them by the club was read by Helen Thrane. Grace Holte played two piano solos. "In the Garden" was sung by Kathryn Patten, Helen Thrane, and Clara Flornedal. Bernice Schaffer accompanied them.

Election of officers will be held at the next regular meeting. A nominating committee was appointed by the president, and will submit names of the candidates.

Randolph on Tour Speaks in Chapel

During the chapel period on Wednesday, Sept. 16, Rev. H. G. Randolph, of the Lutheran Bible School of Minneapolis, Minnesota, spoke to the faculty and students of Pacific Lutheran College.

In his talk on "Finding and Knowing Christ," he said: "If you have not yet found Christ, do not wait until later—find Him now. In finding education, do not lose Christ. The most important part of your Christian education is to find Christ, for without Him you do not have real life. Finding Christ is a reality, a real experience. Nothing is more real and blessed than to know Jesus as your Savior, to know the forgiveness of sins, and to be at peace with God. Whatever the Lord calls, us for, He gives us power to do."

The Rev. Randolph is on a lecture tour, and is speaking on the book of "Romans."

SUMMER SESSION ENROLLMENT BIG

With the largest summer enrollment in the history of the school, the summer session of P. L. C. opened on June 18. The session consisted of two six-week periods, the latter of which ended on August 28.

The total enrollment for the first session was 66, and for the second, 47, a remarkable increase over previous years. In the training school, conducted by one of the students, 20 children were enrolled, making the total enrollment for both sessions 85.

Among the students attending these sessions were many former graduates of P. L. C., as well as graduates from other colleges, doing post graduate work or work for Life Certificates.

Not all the time was spent in studying, however. During the first session a picnic was given on the campus by the faculty in honor of the students. Later on the faculty was entertained by the students with a picnic at Surprise Lake.

From 9:55 to 10:25 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, chapel was held in the studio, and at the same time on Tuesdays and Thursdays formal recitations were enjoyed.

The faculty for the entire session consisted of the following professors: Philip Hauge, J. U. Xavier, N. J. Hong, O. J. Stuen, E. Tingstad, Lora Kreidler, and Sophia Fowler.

GLADIATORS DEFEAT NAVY IN BRILLIANT GAME; SCORE 20-0

Lutherans Successful in Blocking Punts; Navy Smashes Through But Fails To Gain

By Harry Southworth

In the second event of the football program for the 1931 season, the Golden Gladiators annexed their first victory by 20-0 score marked up against the Battleship, Lexington eleven on the Parkland lot last Saturday.

It seemed that the Lutheran Lads were considerably tried by the defeat dished out to them by the Loggers in the initial contest of the season, and, as a result, entered Saturday's game with the spirit that demands a victory. At any rate, Coach Olson's men clicked to perfection in all departments of the game to completely outplay the Sailors. The Gladiator line turned in a stellar performance, especially in the defensive branch of the game. Outrigger practically the entire contest, every one of the Navy's plays was stopped on or before the line of scrimmage by the Lutheran's forward wall.

The initial quarter was devoid of scoring, and was featured by punting on the part of the Gladiators and attempted punts on the part of the Tara. Four times the Sailors were forced to punt, and each time the Lutherans broke through to block and recovered the punts, each time well within the Lexington's territory. The Lutherans had not yet started their offensive drive, and the opportunities for scoring were lost in the first quarter.

Late in the second quarter the Lutherans touched scoring turf for the first time this year. A forty-yard punt put the Navyman on their own 25-yard stripe. On the next play the Gobs were handed a 15-yard penalty, and the ball rested on the 10-yard line. For the fifth time, a Navy kick was blocked and recovered. The Gladiators gained possession of the ball on the Shipmen's 5-yard line. Gardner plunged the line for part of the distance, and "Red" Carlson trotted around end for the touchdown. The try for point went wide.

A second touchdown was made in quick order by the Gladiators. The Servicemen fumbled on the first play after the kickoff, and the Lutherans recovered on the 27-yard line. "Dutch" Moe pulled an excellent imitation of "Red" around the end for 25 yards. Garder plunged through the line for the touchdown. Leque carried the ball over on the try for point. The half ended with the ball in the possession of the visitors.

The final score of the game came in the third period after the Gobs had been penalized half the distance to the goal for coughing. "Red" went around end on one of his spectacular runs and carried the ball across the goal line some 45 yards away. The kick for point was good. The score stood at 20-0 for the remainder of the contest.

Late in the third period the Navy started a hard drive for scoring territory and were stopped only after they had reached our 10-yard marker. "Hump" Campbell, in the game only for a short time, injected the life into the Gobs and carried the ball through the line for some 30 yards on a series of smashes. "Hump" wore himself out, however, and was forced to leave the game. This ended the Navy's only bid for a score.

In the fourth quarter the Navy turned to the air, but the Lutheran's anti-aircraft guns were too strong, and only one of six tries were successful.

For the Lutherans, the entire squad turned in a good performance, with Bill Shore as the shining example of what the perfect guard should do. "Red" Carlson was his usual self, reeling off some nice gains. At one time

Sport Slants

By Southworth

Here we are back again. For those that have never had the opportunity to read this column, I might mention that it is a feeble effort to comment on the highlights of the College sporting activities. It is also a great space filler, you know.

S. S.

A whole flock of bad breaks visited the Gladiators in the first game of the season. Some of us still are convinced that the Gladiator eleven is on a par with the Logger eleven. Accordingly, we will be watching the C. P. S.-Battleship New York game this Friday. The Lexington team severely trounced the New Yorkers already this season, and we conquered the Lex eleven—a comparison of scores is interesting even if they are of little value.

S. S.

The Mt. Vernon Junior College refuses to play the Gladiators next Saturday as originally scheduled. Lack of material prevented the formation of a team at their school. This cancellation leaves a big hole in the Lutheran's football schedule, and at the present time Coach Olson is on the lookout for some sort of a game to fill the gap.

S. S.

The Glad seconds turned in the first victory of the season, by handing out a 25-0 beating to the Yelm High gridder. Lyl Sanderson and Holden Hauke did the work for the Reserves, each scoring 2 touchdowns. Sanderson did some very nice running around the ends while Hauke did the plowing for the afternoon.

S. S.

Could there be anything more disappointing than to see "Red" get away on one of those beautiful runs, tear down the field and across the goal line, 40, 50, or 60 yards away, only to be called back because some one broke a rule or something? That's the time when a referee ceases to be a friend. And then, what looks better than to see the chunky guard, Bill Shore, come fleet-footing it along in front of "Red" and bowl that last man out of the way? Another pleasing sight is that where an opposing full comes tearing into the line only to stop suddenly—merely because "Stonewall" Lisherness filled the hole. Have you ever noticed how they fold up when Jack decides that they have gone far enough?

S. S.

To those who are interested in golf: Be a little patient, and watch the bulletin board, as some sort of a tournament will soon be arranged. Remember that the Parkland golf club offers a $1.50 student rate for a month. The first of the month is coming, so save up the pennies and buy yourself a membership for a month and see if it isn't a real saving.

S. S.

Will be back again next week—that is if no one in school has a gun. Whatever happens, I hope that Mr. Hong's Newswriting class does not read the sports page.

"Red" twisted and turned down the field for 80 yards before he crossed the line. The referee insisted that someone had broken one of the rules, accordingly the ball was called back to conform with his wishes. Moe turned in good performance, likewise "Red." Lisherness played a brilliant defensive game, and many a Sailor can attribute his bruises to being smacked by Jack.

Campbell, Peters, and Hoburg, were the outstanding gridmen for the Navy.

Lutherans Lose Game to C. P. S.

By Clarence Mason

After giving the College of Puget Sound Gridder, a real argument for sixty minutes of football, Sept. 19, the Pacific Lutheran College eleven came out the short end of the horn, 20-0.

It seemed as if the flood lights were a lux to the Gladiators, as the Loggers took the upper hand in the opening session of the contest, and practically maintained it throughout the entire game. Only in the latter part of the second quarter did the Lutherans threaten the Loggers and this spurt was halted when the gun barked for the half.

Enns and Capt. Pettibone shone for the Loggers, while Red Carlson, Lish-erness and Shore starred for the Lutheran.
