

Stars Signed For First Music-Drama Festival, May 1-3 in New Building

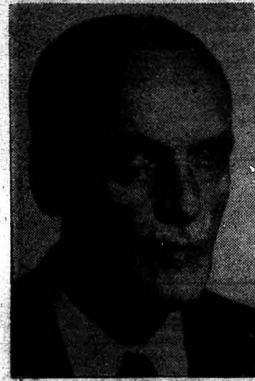

The first Music-Drama Festival to be held on the PLC campus will be May 1, 2, and 3, under the direction of Professors Karl Weiss and Theodore O. H. Karl of the music and speech departments.

Already signed for the opening concert, Thursday evening, is Irra Petina, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Miss Petina has appeared in such light operas as the Song of Norway, Magdalena, and Der Fladermaus, by Johann Strauss. She will also appear on the Standard Oil Company's first telecast. The program is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m.

An afternoon of interpretive reading is planned for Friday, which has been turned over to the speech department. That evening the Northwest Premier performance of "A Sleep of Prisoners," by Christopher Fry, will be staged. This play has been given in churches all over the east. Clarence

Kundzins Writes For Encyclopedia

Dr. Karlis Kundzins, known to PLC students as a lecturer in German and Latin, has added to his list of accomplishments that of writing for an encyclopedia.

Considered an authority on Christianity in Latvia, Dr. Kundzins contributed a 500-word article on that subject for publication in the forthcoming edition of the Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge. He was asked to write the article by Dr. H. K. Tappert of Philadelphia, editor of the church history department of the thirteen volume encyclopedia. It is published by the Funk-Wagnalls Co., and has an editorial staff of 600 scholars and specialists.

St. Mary's To Debate Here on Wed.

PLC will be host to six-man debate squad from St. Mary's College next Wednesday at 4 p.m.

On a week-long tour of ten colleges and universities two members of the team will debate against Alan Hatlen and Jon Ericson. The debate will be held in the speech classroom in the C-M-S building, but will be moved to the SUB if the turnout necessitates it.

Topic for the discussion will be, "Resolved, that the Federal Government should establish a permanent system of wage and price controls." PLC will take the negative and St. Mary's the affirmative side.

"This is an excellent opportunity for those students who haven't heard a debate before to attend," Vernon Utzinger, coach, stated.

VOTE TODAY

Final elections for Saga Queen and King will be held today, with the polls opening at 10:20 a.m. and closing at 4 p.m. The finalists, Bonita Mulholland and Marciel Fink for Queen, and John Lining and Hoot Gibson for King, were selected in preliminary balloting yesterday. The winners will be crowned tonight at 7 p.m., as the highlight of the opening Carnival program.

Theater Nite Slated For Next Weekend

Next weekend, March 21 and 22, Alpha Psi Omega, PLC drama fraternity, brings to the C-M-S stage, "Barretts of Wimpole Street," and "Her Fatal Beauty."

The first Theatre Night production, "The Barretts," has been adapted as a formalized reading in three acts, and "Her Fatal Beauty" is a one-act melodrama.

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" tells the dramatic love story of the poets Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett, and the efforts of Edward Barrett, Elizabeth's father, to keep Elizabeth an invalid so that he will not lose his daughter to Browning. Barbara Hedlund and Glenn Johnson star as Robert and Elizabeth, with John Waldorf portraying Edward Barrett. James Traynor is featured as the conscientious Dr. Chambers; Anne Knorr and Elaine Molter interpret the lines of Arabel and Henrietta, Elizabeth's sisters; Richard Johnson appears as Captain Cook, Henrietta's lover; Robert Beatty is cast in the role of Octavius Barrett, Elizabeth's brother; and Wilson the maid is played

Longview to See Whitman Pageant

On March 20, the Marcus Whitman Pageant, sponsored and produced by the PLC Drama Department, will "take to the road."

The Pageant is to be staged in the Municipal Auditorium at Longview, Wash., for the convenience of people in that locality. The favorable criticism received by this production caused one of the Civic Women's clubs of Longview to engage the PLC group for local presentation of the historical life story of Marcus Whitman and the first settlements in the Northwest by white people.

Annual Alumni Reunion To Be Here Next Weekend

PLC alumni will invade the campus next weekend for their annual Reunion, March 21, 22 and 23.

Chairman of the 1952 get-together is Joanna Tsapralis. Together with the Alumni Association Board, she has planned an eventful weekend for the returnees.

First on the slate of activities for the alumni is the Alpha Psi Theater Night at 8 p.m. in the new Chapel-Music-Speech auditorium. The dramatic group will present a one-act melodrama, "Her Fatal Beauty," and the famed play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." The latter will be in the form of a formalized reading, without the use of stage sets, props or costumes, a new innovation at PLC. Following the production, a coffee hour will be held in the Student Union building, sponsored by Women's Alumni Association.

Saga Carnival Royalty To Be Crowned Tonight

The 1952 Saga Carnival will be under way tonight at 7:30 when a multitude of talent gathers to honor this year's Saga Royalty. Bill Rieke, acting as master of ceremonies, will introduce the events of the evening.

Presented in the C-M-S, the program this evening will be featuring the coronation of the Saga queen and king, by Stan Boreson, popular Scandinavian comedian. The college Workshop Band, Bob Fleming and his magic act, and Roger Madsen, trampolaine artist, will perform.

A fifteen pound ham, a table lamp and an electric toaster will be given as door prizes tonight. Saturday evening's door prizes include a double waffle iron, a radio, an electric iron, and fender skirts, painted and completely installed on the car of the lucky winner.

The Lettermen's minstrel show and the Puget Soundairs, a prize-winning barber shop quartet from Auburn, Washington, will be featured Saturday evening at 7:30 in the C-M-S.

This year the faculty will present a booth at the Carnival. The Linne Society will be presenting their animal show in G-1, a room directly across from the main gym floor. Alpha Sigma Lambda will make use of the east shower room for their Fun House. The American Chemical Society is having a peg toss, with a periodic chart in the background. The seniors will be using "2" muscular men on the splash. Many dart games and other activities of skill will be offered. To tempt the throngs of people, Saga solicitors have accumulated hundreds of prizes, including clothing, cooking utensils, candy.

Ericson and Rieke Chosen for National Debate Tourney

Seeking to defend their 1951 championship, the debate squad, with Mr. Theodore Karl and Vernon Utzinger, traveled to Linfield last week. After the three-day tournament the group returned to the campus with the senior sweepstakes trophy and 11 additional individual trophies.

Receiving one of the most important Northwest honors of the year were Jon Ericson and Bill Rieke, who were selected to represent the Pacific coast states at the West Point Debate Tournament in New York in April. Two other large university teams will also attend from the coast states. The teams are selected because of past records and special speaking talents and must be voted upon by the forensics board. The formal announcement is made at the Linfield banquet.

Those competing at the tournament were Bill Rieke, who won two first place trophies, one in the extemp speaking division and the other in impromptu; Jon Ericson, who received trophies for both Congress and Inter-

Is Your Policy Bi-Partisan?

The weakness in the administration's appeal and the reason it does not carry conviction . . . is that foreign policy is not a bi-partisan affair in the United States any more . . .
 —David Laurence, Tacoma News Tribune
 March 10, 1952.

Perhaps not.
 Perhaps the weakness in our appeal and the reason we do not carry conviction is that our policy is bi-partisan.
 Perhaps in our lives we are trying to compromise too much between two separate parties—parties that work at cross purposes.
 When we try to do what an influential person advises us, we often compromise on what we know to be right; we try to compromise what we learn in the Bible with what we learn in other books. Socrates, Stewart Chase, Darwin, and Christ are combined to form a bi-partisan policy to order our lives. And the result is not order.

The only way to have strength in our appeal, the only way to carry conviction in what we do, is to decide on one party.
 If in compromising Christ to meet the demands of the world, we find our lives in disorder, weak and without conviction, then what we must do is to decide on one party.
 The party with the platform which meets all today's needs is the party of Christ. If you aren't familiar with the planks of this platform, they are given again and again in a party pamphlet called the Bible.

QUESTION of the WEEK

What do you think of the new juke box in the SUB?
 Donna Flynn: I didn't even know there was one.
 Don Krejci: I like it—I like it.
 Elaine Sethre: You better not put me in—I haven't heard it or seen it.
 Mary Estergreen: I've never tried it out.
 Dick Larson: Very good . . . wish somebody would bring some nickles.
 Janie Norem: Good idea, but they need some new records.
 Iris Willingham: It's a real fine idea and makes the food taste even better.
 Bob Wheatley: Nice that the kids can play the popular songs they like.
 Frank Karwacki: It's an improvement anyway—adds life to the place.
 Annie Romtved: We really needed it so more kids would congregate there.
 Peggy Logan: Too bad we can't use it like other people do.
 Hal Ruddick: Nice to have music in the coffee shop—aids digestion.

DPK Tolo Set For March 29th

March 29 is the date set for the annual Delta Phi Kappa Tolo dinner, it was revealed at a DPK meeting held early last week.

Choir Returned From Annual Tour Tired But Happy

It was a tired, but happy Choir of the West that returned to the PLC campus last Monday afternoon from its Silver Anniversary concert tour to the Inland Empire for eleven days.
 During the trip, the Choir members had their share of laughs and took enough pictures to fill albums. However, the choir was allotted more than its share of colds, the flu and miscellaneous ailments. In fact, they were forced to leave Elmore Duncan in a hospital in Spokane with the flu. Bob Sorenson was left in Genesee, Idaho, for the same reason and so was Mae-lani Cazimero. But the most unique place to be left behind was the old folks' home where Faith Buelmann spent the day.
 Although all of the 59 voices were never singing at one concert, reports have come in that each concert was very well done. Many previous members of the choir were met and they joined with the present choir in singing "Beautiful Savior." The proceeds from these concerts went toward the bus fund.
 All along the trip, good weather was reported, and even better, the choir said that they ate like kings. They were treated royally at all of the churches, and sang to capacity audiences each time.
 The choir members all agreed that the tour was wonderful, but it is even more wonderful to get back to PLC and start hitting the books again.

Prexy Says . . .

It looks like there will be good times in Luteville this week-end. Things are really shaping up for the carnival. Saws, boards, hammers, words, and nails are flying all over the place.
 I would really like to compliment you on all your vim-and vigor in this escapade. It is really great. All you have to do now is go to the carnival and spend all your money. That doesn't sound like a very economical proposition, but think of what you get in return. You will not only have the best time of your life, but will also be able to win all sorts of fabulous prizes—everything from bubble gum to radios and waffle irons.
 This article sounds like a paid advertisement. It really isn't. I'm only writing it because Paul Wangmo and Al Fink have my arm twisted half way around my neck.

Sports Once Over

TRACK OUTLOOK

Turnouts for this year's track squad have not shifted into high gear as yet because of un-cooperative weather, but the outlook isn't too good. Mark Salzman will have to mold the '52 Lute track edition mainly from inexperienced material with a few holdovers from last spring. Jim Lund, distance star last year, is now in the service; Duane Ulleland, another experienced distance man, is passing up the spring sport because of a heart murmur; and Jim Iddings, former state high school hurdle champ, has dropped out of school. Lettermen Harry Malnes and Lief Knutson have graduated. We would say Mark Salzman has a job ahead of him.

BASEBALL

Coach Marv Harshman has issued a call for baseball turnouts next week and the group which greets him should be very much on the promising side. We will give you a complete once-over of the baseball picture next week.

SPORTS SHORTS

Gerry Hefty won the distinction of being this year's Lute Bad Boy with 97 personal fouls for the season. Whitworth is doing a good job of upholding Evergreen Conference prestige at the NAIB in Kansas City. Big Ralph Polson has scored 59 points in their first two games. Ed Brown nosed out Jack Johnson by 261 points to 258 to top the Lute basketballers in total scoring. Anyone interested in golfing should drop in and have a look at our fine clubhouse on lower campus. The Stan Boreson show will be terrific tonight, but it definitely will not overshadow the Lettermen's Minstrel Show scheduled for tomorrow evening. See you there.

Brown Edges Johnson For Season Scoring Honors

Following is the final scoring statistics for the 1951-52 hoop season. Ed Brown, speedy Lute guard, edged Jack Johnson for top honors by only three counters and in average points per game, by one-tenth of a point.

Track Outlook Discouraging

Track took over the Lute sports calendar this week. However, with a definite lack of cooperation by the weatherman, not too much information is available on Coach Salzman's squad as yet.

Lettermen for this sport who will probably form the nucleus of the 1952 track team, include Dick Griswold in the javelin event, Roger Madsen, 880; Marty Hellberg, pole vault; Bert Wells, high jump; Dale Keller, pole vault, and Ole Magnuson, shotput.

Other men who gained some experience last year and may see action this spring are Lloyd Eastman, Bill Hash and Al Fink in the 880 and 440, Bob Johnson in the dashes, and Garnet Lund in the high jump. A schedule of meets are in process of being formulated and will be printed at a later date.

College Golf Course Offers Recreation

With spring approaching and the fair weather sports moving into focus of the sports world, PLC students once more have an opportunity to take advantage of one of the outstanding assets of our campus. We are one of the few colleges with a regulation golf course on campus. The college course is a 9 hole, 3027 yard setup. The Alpha Pi Omega has just completed a new set of markers for the course and the fairways will be rolled in the future.

PLC students have free use of the course during the school year and can rent a set of clubs for 40¢ per day, if they don't have their own, with caddy carts available at 25¢ per day. New or used golf balls can be purchased and a putting green is also available free of charge.

The Clubhouse, located just east of Ivy Hall, operated by Gerald and Helen Monson, is stocked with soft drinks, candy, cookies, etc. Tennis rackets may also be rented here for use on the courts across the street. Mr. Monson advises that any type of sports wear or equipment can be ordered from the large companies through the local club at a special student price. Some samples are available for inspection at the clubhouse.

The local club is a member of the Tacoma Golf Association. Any male student, for a $1 fee, can join this GENE LUNDGAARD didn't finish his basketball career when he graduated from PLC last June. On the contrary, he is now captain of the Memphis Air Base team, for which he played 46 games during the recently completed season, winning 35 of them, and going to the semi-finals of the world-wide Air Force tournament. He is shown with one of the two "out-standing player" trophies he was awarded during the season.

M. Hefty and Koessler Lead Scorers; Ivy Hall Wins Free-Throw Contest

Donn Koessler, with 108 points, won individual scoring honors in the University league while Milt Hefty's 154 points made him top scorer in the College league.

In the free throwing contest, Ivy Hall took first place, with a total of 348, but were followed closely by Central Parkland with 346. Each individual was scored on the number of shots made out of 100 consecutive free throws.

Stars Signed For First Festival

Derwent, Broadway actor will have the guest lead and he will be supported by the PLC drama department.

At 9 a.m. Saturday morning, the Seattle Symphony is scheduled to arrive on campus. During the morning they will rehearse, with the soloists and the choral forces, the performances to be given that day. Professor Byard Fritts, piano and music instructor, is to be the afternoon soloist with the orchestra, playing Cesar Frank's Variations. The combined voices of the PLC Choir, Chorus, Lettermen's Glee Club, Madrigal Singers and others will join with the orchestra that evening in presenting Brahms' Song of Destiny and the Bach cantata, Wachet auf. The choir will be under direction of Professor Gunnar J. Malmin. Also on the same program, Professor Frederick Newnam, voice instructor, will sing with orchestra accompaniment.

Many other activities have been arranged for the time between concerts. The PLC band, under the direction of Professor Harley Christopherson, will give two outdoor concerts from the balcony of the Chapel-Music-Speech building. There will be an exhibit of Northwest artists under the direction of Professor George Roskos, art instructor. On Friday, between the afternoon and evening performances, the PLC May Queen will be crowned.

Sunday will mark a long-awaited day in the history of PLC, when the C-M-S building will be officially dedicated. In the morning, a full service is planned.

Toastmasters Club Organized At PLC

Organized without fanfare, PLC's newest club, Toastmasters, is already contemplating affiliation with the international organization.

The topic of affiliation will come up at the next meeting, Monday, March 24, in the Art building.

The PLC club, which has been meeting bi-weekly since December, heard about Toastmasters International from Russell Schmidt of Tacoma, area governor.

Although the exact status of the club hasn't been decided, officers have been elected and the format of the meetings has been established, featuring after-dinner speeches.

Joe Cromarty is president, Phil Thorliefson, vice-president; John Waldorf, secretary; Paul Arlton, treasurer, and Glen Werner, sergeant-at-arms.

Rehearsals Begin For Mass Choir

Students interested in singing in the choral group that will accompany the Seattle Symphony Orchestra in the Music-Drama Festival, should see Professor Gunnar Malmin immediately. Rehearsals began last week.

The mass choir of some 125 voices will be made up of the Choir of the West, Chorus, Madrigal group and any other students interested. Numbers by Brahms and Bach will be included in the repertoire.

PLC Plans To Enter Float In Coming Daffodil Parade; Gladiator Is Theme

Representing PLC for the first time in the history of the Daffodil parade, climax of the annual Daffodil Festival, April 5, sponsored by Tacoma, Puyallup, Sumner and Orting, will be a colorful, student-constructed float.

The thirty-foot-long float will take the form of a Gladiator, to be carried out in black and gold daffodils. On student body day, March 11, it was decided to allocate $30 of student body funds to help defray expenses. The remainder of the cost of construction has been donated by Parkland merchants.

Committee members for the project are: Gay Ness, general chairman; Verne Newhouse, art; Bob Johnson and Everett Bakke, promotion; Al Fink, treasurer, and Lloyd Eastman, student body representative. Construction of the float will begin March 28.

Theatre Night

The melodrama, "Her Fatal Beauty," under the direction of Howard Worley and Rosella Albrecht, is a one-act comedy involving the escapades of Redfern (Richard Johnson) and Kenliworth (Robert Johnson). Kenliworth, the villain, leads Redfern to embezzlement, and Mr. Redfern's office staff joins into the story to form a complicated but pleasurable comedy. An office romance involves Noble Humdinger (John Holum), the hero, and the heroine, Millie Blossom (Goleen Uhre). LaWanna Huber brings to life the character of Terry, Mr. Redfern's not-too-bright secretary, and Mrs. Humdinger, Noble's mother, is played by Marian Christensen. Edna McCall portrays Victoria Manville, and Carol Brace appears as Tuey.

Students interested in working on the float are asked to contact one of the committee members.

The parade begins at 17th and Broadway, Tacoma, and goes through Puyallup, Sumner and Orting, located in the heart of the daffodil country. Reigning over the Festival is a queen and her attendants, chosen from high schools in the district.

Alumni Reunion

Concluding the three-day reunion will be a concert by the PLC music department at 3 p.m. in the C-M-S auditorium.

Present board members of the Alumni Association are: President, Bill Ramstad; vice-president, Harry Lang; corresponding secretary, Victoria Rasmussen Sannerud; recording secretary and treasurer, Helen Church Snyder. Nina Anderson Larson, Alice Pflaum Wright, Joanna Manouses Tsapralis, Neil Hoff, Earl Platt, Rev. Robert Lutnes.
