

Rev. Haavik Gives Dedicational Talk At Big Program

Uses as Theme "I Must Abide At Thy House"; President Tingelstad Gives Response

With visitors from all parts of the state and several from the East as participants, the formal dedication of the President's residence was held Sunday, September 28. The dedication program, consisting of speeches and music, occurred in the afternoon. In the evening, a banquet in honor of the workers in the recent Development Association campaign in the Middle West attracted about eighty guests.

The dedication address was delivered by Rev. O. L. Haavik, president of the board of trustees, whose text was "I must abide at thy house," Luke 19-5.

Rev. Haavik spoke of the importance of the home as the basis of civilization, giving examples of homes mentioned in the Bible. He stressed the importance of conducting a home that Christ might dwell therein. The home was God's first church in times when a synagogue was part of the home. The fact was also mentioned that Jesus performed several miracles in homes. He expressed the hope that this home would serve as a model for the many students who will come under its influence.

President O. A. Tingelstad gave the response, thanking those who had been interested in the erection of the building and pointing out the significance of the completion of this, the first step of a great development program. He explained that this building had been built first because it required the smallest outlay and was therefore easiest to start. The Rev. Mr. Bogstad of Eugene, Oregon, gave the invocation. Prayers in the form of letters and telegrams were read by Prof. J. P. Pflueger, who spoke as the representative of the American Lutheran (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

Professor Highby To Teach Science

New Instructor Employed to Help Supervise Building of Biology Laboratory

Professor Paul Richard Highby has been employed by the College, on a two-year contract, to help supervise the construction of the biology laboratory this fall and later to teach biology. Meanwhile he is attending the University of Washington until Christmas.

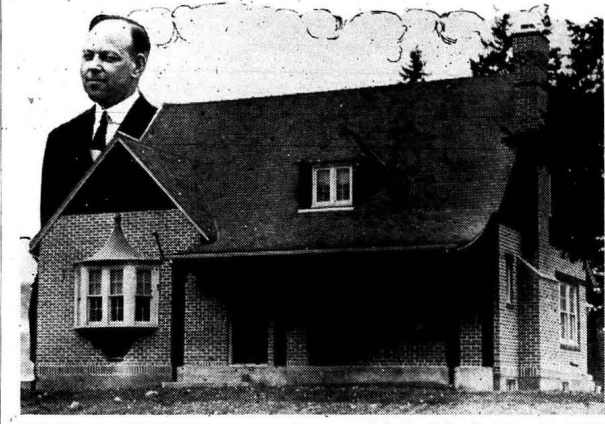

He was graduated with a B. A. degree from Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, with high honors in 1929, coming there from Albert Lea High School, Albert Lea, Minnesota. While at Luther College, he twice led the students in scholarship.

Last year he was assistant instructor in zoology at the University of Minnesota, where he received his master's degree in zoology last summer. He is a member of the United Danish Lutheran Church, and a brother of Professor L. I. Highby, head of the Latin Department at Luther College.

Beginning in February, Mr. Highby will teach both high-school and college biology and related subjects here.

At the University, he is rooming in the College Y. M. C. A. with Myron Kreidler, a graduate of this school, whose mother is Dean of Women here. Mr. Highby's work in connection with the biology laboratory will bring him to Parkland week ends most of the time. The laboratory is being built in consultation with biology men at the University.

New President's Residence

Improvement Is Made In Building

Blackboards and Furnishings Added During Summer Vacation

New blackboards in practically all of the classrooms, new furnishings in the registrar's office, and a very important library readjustment, are a few of the many improvements that have been made in the building since last spring.

The registrar's office has been moved to the old reception room. Mr. Hong is back in his old office which he previously occupied for twenty years.

In the dormitory the floors have been oiled and the walls cleaned and decorated.

The library department has received an appropriation of $1,000 to be applied on books. Special appropriations have been made by the board of trustees for the purchase of some new encyclopedias. Negotiations are also under way to get 2,100 volumes from the library of Spokane College. The library will find it necessary to add many more shelves and no doubt extra room will have to be provided to accommodate the many new books.

American Church Holds Conference

At the Pacific conference of the American Lutheran Church held in the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, September 30 to October 2, preparation was made for immediate action in support of Pacific Lutheran College through the Development Association.

Rev. J. P. Pflueger, professor of Christianity at this College, went to Seattle to preside at the conference. The attendance was exceptionally good, only one pastor being absent. One of the most interesting and important things decided concerns this College. The Development Association will be presented at most of the churches of the synod before Christmas, on the following dates: Port Angeles on October 19; Sedro Woolley on October 26; Peace Lutheran Congregation at Portland on November 2; Bellham, November 9; Castlerock and Winlock, November 16; Oregon City on November 23; Trinity Lutheran Church in Tacoma on December 7; Vancouver, Wash., on December 14.

Book Store Ready To Provide Texts

Despite several delays in the shipment of the books ordered, the book store is now able to supply most of the texts needed and the majority of students have already secured their books, according to L. Larson, business manager. The book store is being operated on a strictly cash basis this year because of the inconvience and expense connected with charge accounts, and the fact that the school must pay cash for the books. Delays were due for the most part to the necessity of sending East for several texts because they were not held in stock in Portland.

The book store is operated solely for the convenience of the students in securing their books and school supplies at the lowest possible price. It is somewhat crowded at present, but as soon as President Tingelstad moves his office to his home, much of the equipment can be stored in the room now occupied by him.

Board Discusses College Problems; Plans, Suggests

Increased Publicity, Support Committees Chosen; New Laboratory to Be Completed

As a result of the meeting of the Board of Trustees held Monday, September 29, further experimental preliminary work for a Greater-Tacoma Community Campaign was authorized. Suggestions for increased publicity and increased support of the school were put in the hands of committees, and the immediate construction of the biology laboratory at a cost of $3,000 was commissioned. At this meeting, the Board heard reports from the building committee, the biology laboratory committee, the endowment investment committee, the executive committee, the registrar, the director of the Mid-West Follow-Up Campaign, the business manager, and the special committee on the Pacific Lutheran Herald.

Reverend P. O. Bruland, Portland, Oregon, declined the position offered him as endowment field man. A committee of six was appointed to try to secure Mr. Paul A. Preus of Cleveland, Ohio, on the best possible terms, for this position.

Meet Lincoln Hi Next Friday Eve

First Night Game to Ever Be Scheduled for Gladiator Football Men

By Harold Gray
Pacific Lutheran gridmen will get their initial chance to show their wares under the arc lights of the Tacoma Stadium on Friday, October 17, when they clash with Lincoln High School at 7:30. This will be the first opportunity for any football team representing Pacific Lutheran College to play after dusk.

This game was originally scheduled for the Lincoln Bowl on the afternoon of the 17th, but it was decided to play at night when Prof. B. O. Beal, head coach and vice-principal at Lincoln High, obtained the use of the Tacoma's mammoth field for that evening.

As this game will be a novelty for the Gladiator team, they probably will have one practice under the arcs to get used to the type of playing. The Rallsplitter team will have experience over their opponents as they are meeting Stadium High this coming Friday in an after-dusk affair.

Lincoln took the game last year by an 18 to 0 score from Coach Olson's cohorts, but they will have a harder battle this year as the Lutheran machine is a 100 per cent improvement over last year's team in that they have ten lettermen and many other experienced men back.

The Lincoln team under the direction of Coach Al Hopkins is not so well fixed for material as he lost twenty-two men through graduation, leaving but two for this year's (Continued on Page 4, Col. 5)

Hold Development Association Supper

Mid-West Follow-Up Campaign solicitors wife honor guests at a Development Association supper held in the college dining hall on Sunday evening, September 28. The dinner was well attended and generated enthusiasm.

Among the honor guests were Reverend A. O. Q. Ammen of Cyrus, Minnesota; Professor Elvestrom, director of the campaign, who returned from the Middle-West Friday, September 28; Reverend Haavik of Seattle, who acted as toastmaster, president of the Board of Trustees. All the solicitors present responded to toasts. Others who spoke were Dr. O. A. Tingelstad, president of the school; Mr. M. H. Porde of Everett, vice-president of the Board.

MEN'S DORMITORY UNION WORKS ON HONOR BASIS

The Men's Dormitory Union, which includes all men rooming in the College building, will have charge of all minor matters of discipline on an honor basis this year, according to plans of C. O. Olson, Dean of Men. At a recent meeting the Dean presented several suggestions for the guidance of the men in matters of conduct. It is hoped that it will not be necessary to make these suggestions into rules. At its monthly meetings the Union will endeavor to enforce these suggestions as much as possible. All matters that it feels are beyond its jurisdiction will be referred to the Dean.

President To Be In Midwest Until November Third

Dr. Tingelstad to Speak at Conferences, Installation and Foundation Day During October

President Tingelstad left Tuesday afternoon, October 2, on the Great Northern for Minneapolis, St. Paul and Albert Lea, Minnesota, and Decorah, Iowa. He expects to return from this extended trip about the third of November.

At Albert Lea, Dr. Tingelstad will attend a conference on Spiritual Life, lasting from October 6 to October 8 inclusive. On October 7, he will address the Conference on "The Nature and Methods of Operation of the Religious Forces of the Day which are of a Distinctly Anti-Christian Character."

In St. Paul, on October 16, he will attend the installation of Dr. T. F. Gultuxson as President of the Lutheran Theological Seminary.

He expects to deliver the Foundation Day address at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, on October 18, and incidentally, to attend the twenty-fifth anniversary of the class of 1905, of which he was a member.

As one of the two delegates from the Pacific District of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, President Tingelstad will attend the organization meeting of the American Lutheran Conference on October 29, 30, 31, at the Central Lutheran Church of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Mr. Knute B. Norwag of Fulderton, California, a California member of the Pacific Lutheran College Board of Trustees, is the other Pacific District Delegate to the Convention.

President Tingelstad also promises to do what he can to encourage prompt fulfillment of the pledges of financial aid for the College secured by Professor Victor Elvestrom, with the help of Conrad Gaard and others during the Mid-West Follow-Up Campaign this year.

CHRISTENSEN GIVES PICTURE TO COLLEGE

A large painting of a lion has been presented to the College by Dr. W. J. Christensen of Seattle, father of Walter Christensen, who is attending school here. At present the picture is hanging in the Development Association Office, which, according to President Tingelstad, may now, more or less, be referred to as a lion's den.

SENIOR PRESIDENT PICKS COMMITTEES

Arnold Thostensen, president of the Senior Class, chose the following committees at a class meeting held Tuesday evening committee: Evans Carlson (chairman), Olga Keil, and Evelyn Olsen; picture committee: Harold Gray (chairman), Mildred Card, and Viola Knudson; "Class Dues" committee: Olaf Hagensen.

Scholastic Press Association Rates First "Saga" High

First P. L. C. Book Receives Honors at National Contest; Awarded 890 Points Out of 1000

"The Saga," the first yearbook ever to be published by the students of Pacific Lutheran College, which appeared during the latter part of May last Spring, has recently received honors in the yearbook contest of the National Scholastic Press Association, of the University of Minnesota.

"The Saga" received 890 points out of a possible 1000 to receive the "First Class Honor Rating," which is classed as "Excellent." This is an exceedingly high rating for the first attempt of a school at publishing an annual. "The Saga" competed only with yearbooks from schools of the same class as the College.

The P. L. C. annual showed exceptionally well in the "Class Section," receiving the entire 45 points out of a possible 45. The financial status of the book also received a perfect score. The mechanical consideration received 255 points out of a possible 285. The book was put together in such a hurry, which will probably account for the loss of the ten points in that division.

There was no section of the book which received a low rating, thus showing that the judges considered "The Saga" an all-around "good yearbook." The "First Class Honor Rating," is the next to the highest which could be possibly gotten. The "All-American Rating" is the highest honor that can be bestowed on any publication.

There always has been keen interest in Journalism at Pacific Lutheran College, but before last year, the students felt that a yearbook would be too great a project to attempt. In 1927, the graduating classes had considered the matter, but after careful investigation had decided to leave it to a future and larger student body.

When the first edition of the "Moving Men" was published, just before a great deal of journalistic talent was brought to the foreground, so the students again had a desire to publish a yearbook. The graduating class and the student body voted to support the annual, so the faculty accordingly elected an editor. Ire Dahl, '30, on account of her great ability in journalistic and student leadership lines and because of her acquaintance with the college was chosen to be the first editor-in-chief.

Within a short time, the entire staff was chosen by a faculty-student committee appointed by President Tingelstad and Warner Q. Ale, who was president of the student body. In order to find a name, the students held a contest. "Saga," submitted by Dagny Hjertstad, was chosen. The word "Saga" is of Norse origin, meaning a narrative of legend or history.

FORMER PRESIDENT SUFFERS INJURIES

The Reverend O. J. Ordal, former president of Pacific Lutheran College, has been suffering from a broken leg which, as the result of a fall he had during the installation of a new organ in his church in South Bellingham. Later, Reverend Ordal, who commenced suffering from internal hemorrhages, was taken to the hospital, where he is now convalescing.

Consider Your Responsibilities

We, in this school, are enjoying the benefit of Christian forthright and benevolence, both on the part of our parents, who in many cases must go without things they could otherwise have in order that we may have the blessings of a Christian education, and also on the part of other earnest Christians who have labored and given on behalf of the College. We should always be mindful of these things, and take the fullest advantage of our opportunities. We should endeavor to live up to the standard of Christ in our relations with our fellow students; to be helpful and upright in all our dealings; to do nothing which would throw ridicule upon this school or cast a blemish upon its name. Ours is the responsibility to uphold the reputation of true Christianity in a world of scoffers and hypocrites. Let us face the issue squarely, and courageously, doing honor to our institution and our faith.

Congratulations 1929-30 "Saga" staff on the rating you have received from the National Scholastic Press Association. Your success should be an inspiration to this year's staff.

Atheism?

It has often been noticed and commented upon that the conduct of Christian people differs greatly from that of adherents to any other religion. Christian love and charity are qualities which are found in no other religions. We need to visit a non-Christian country to see the suffering and joylessness prevalent, the mean position of women, and the disregard for human life, in order to fully appreciate the blessings and opportunities we possess. Unfortunately, true Christianity is becoming a rare thing, and men seem to be drifting away from godliness toward the wickedness of the world. They try to soothe their consciences by inventing plausible theories which leave out an idea of God. They attempt to lead the Christian youth astray, and poison their minds against God with clever hypotheses. The effects of their work can be seen in the growing disregard for law, in the multiplicity of schemes of fraud and deceit. Christian people are beginning to see the growing peril and are preparing to combat it with vigor and skill.

 The Trinity Church last Wednesday, September 24, further preliminary work for a greater-Tacoma Community Campaign was authorized under the direction of the regular field men and the president of the college. With Reverend Svare as leader, forty people among whom were several students from the college, called on about two hundred families to acquaint them with Pacific Lutheran College and solicit their support.

To take care of increased publicity, the Executive committee was authorized at its discretion to extend to active members of the Development Association their choice of one year's subscription to either the Mooring Mast or the Pacific Lutheran Herald. A new editorial committee was appointed for the Pacific Lutheran Herald consisting of Reverend O. A. Heimdahl of Fir, Washington, and Reverend A. H. Thorson of Portland, Oregon. Reverend G. Hendrickson of Seattle, the former member of this committee, resigned, but will continue temporarily as Business Manager.

The increased support for the school has been placed in charge of a committee of five appointed to present this matter to other Lutheran synods with whom the synod to which the school belongs has Altar and Pulpit fellowship. This committee consists of Reverend O. L. Haavik of Seattle, Reverend Bogstad of Eugene, Oregon; President L. Ludwig of the Northwest District of the American Lutheran Church; J. A. E. Næss, president of the Pacific District of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America; and Doctor O. A. Tingelstad, president of the College.

Professor Victor A. Elvestrom, Professor Paul R. Highby, Professor G. W. Xavier, Professor A. W. Ramsdahl, Mr. Ludwig Larson, and President Tingelstad were appointed as a committee to authorize the immediate construction of the biology laboratory at the cost of $10,000. This laboratory should be complete at the end of the first semester.

EXTRA! EXTRA!
 Article 2, Sections 18-19 of the State Constitution.
 No laws shall be enacted except by Bill.
 No Bill shall embrace more than one subject.
 According to this article, P. L. C.

most foolish man is he who persists in being satisfied with this life.

Jesus likens our lives to the building of a house. We are all building houses, although they are of different kinds. Jesus does not measure us by the nature of the house, but by the foundation on which we build. You may say, "Why, who is so foolish as to build on the sand?" At first building on the sand seems the most usual thing to do. To face a waterfront seems so pleasant and delightful. Many men who are wise in the things of this world think they do well to build upon the sand. They don't think the way Jesus does. We seem to take it for granted that it is all right to build our spiritual lives anywhere. But the sky will not always remain blue, and God's floods and rains will descend in order to test our foundations.

Therefore and trust God has given us in Jesus Christ will not pass away in a day, but will last throughout eternity. What a wonderful foundation God laid for our lives in Christ Jesus!
 Christ bore those agonies on Calvary that we might have the foundation. When the test comes, the house falls not, if it is builded on the rock, Christ Jesus.

 Dear Ma 'n Pa
 The peopl here are very nice and kind to me but I'm so homesick. The other day Annie and I were taking a walk around the school when we saw a man leading a beautiful black cow. She reminded me so much of our dear Violet who passed away last summer, that I got so lonesome that I pretty near cried, but I thought that Annie wouldn't understand such things, so I didn't.

L. A.
 They play a game here called football. It looks more like the fights that the Jensen kids and us used to have behind the barn, only there aren't any girls in this and there's a man dressed in white who runs around between them, and they stop when he blows a whistle, and we didn't stop until everybody was cleaned up. They played at a place called American Lake with another school called sippys. I didn't go because I had a big blister on my heel from my new shoes that I got with that two dollars you sent. They are very pretty; they have nice red heels and genuine gold buckles. Annie says she doesn't think they'll be very useful. I guess she means they're too good to wear every day. I'm going to send this letter now because this is all the paper I have. I wish you would send me some more for some paper and for some of that nice peppermint-tooth paste like Annie has.

Famous Pastime Passes Out of Boys' Day Room

The famous pastime of dodging falling plaster is at an end for members of the boys' day room. All who had become proficient in the art were chagrined to find that the remains of the plaster, which has been abated for forty years is now secured to the walls, covered with kalsomine, and stippled.

Because the occupants of the room receive bounty, no boisterous outbreaks have occurred since the repair. In fact, all seem proud of the room and hope to keep it looking as it does now.

The Luther League held a special meeting after services, Sunday, October 5, for the purpose of electing delegates for the convention to be held in Seattle October 11 and 12. The delegates chosen were Irene Dahl, Carroll Svare, Ruth Fadness, John Hopp, and Ida Hinderlie.

The Junior League held its regular meeting Sunday afternoon, October 5, in the Trinity church. The meeting was opened with devotion by Edgar Larson followed by the Topic by Curtis Penney. Betty Svare gave a recitation and John Stuen a reading.

The ceremony closed with the doxology and the benediction.

Eyes Wet, Noses Moist; Cause Not Grief or Sorrow

Many weeping eyes many moist noses, in fact a total of approximately 360 eyes and 180 noses, were found among the students during the past week. Not extreme grief nor even sorrow because studies had to be abandoned, was the cause of this phenomenon. The fact is that almost all the members of the school had become brothers and sisters in that best order of the Code de Mord Club. All the new members were ardent adherents to the Club's bylaws and observed them unceasingly for a period of from three to seven days. Of these laws the most important requires a cough, a blow, and a wipe a minute.

The members have warned the non-members against joining because of the suffering entailed by obeying the rules.

Those who don't have a cold make no effort to get it; those who have it generally take good care of it or give it to another; and those who have got rid of it profess not to regret it; and all say, "Don't join the Code de Ne Dode Club."

Half Billion For Higher Education

During the college year 1927-1928, half a billion dollars flowed into the tills of colleges and universities in the United States, according to the reports of 1,071 institutions reporting to the United States Office of Education.

One fourth of this came from the tuition and fees of undergraduate and graduate students; 23 per cent was appropriated by state and city governments; 13 per cent was given through private benefactions; 12 per cent was income from endowment; 10 per cent was gross income from board and room charges, and 12 per cent was obtained from other sources. Three and four tenths per cent was contributed by the United States government.—Puget Sound Trail.

Hermit Favors College

Ann Arbor, Mich.—A near-hermit, who lived on a tumble-down estate near Rhy, N. Y., was in life and in death one of the greatest benefactors of the University of Michigan ever had, and its most modest.

Although he gave the University between eight and fifteen million dollars during his life-time, and bequeathed the institution about twelve million, William Wilson Cook never visited the place after his graduation in 1882, not even for the dedication of the beautiful Lawyers' Club and the Martha Cook dormitory, both of which were his gifts. The latter named after his mother.

The house in which Cook lived at Rhy has been described by neighbors as not worth more than $500, and containing furniture which was nastily junk. The fortune he left is to be used for the establishment of a legal research building, with research professors and assistants, supported by fellowships, in order to study past legal history, and to publish new treatises on law, and to develop new lines of criminal and civil procedure; to purchase books with a view of making the law library one of the most complete in the country; to pay higher salaries so as to attract to the university the best teachers, and to increase dormitories and classrooms.—University of Michigan.

Religion! Old-Fashioned

Strange electrical appliances have superseded steam: The old-time sailing vessel is an antiquated dream. We have our horseless carriages driven by the rich. Our women wear silk stockings, but never knit a stitch. We have our wireless telegraphy—we sail through air and sea; we play machine pianos and never touch a key. The stomach trouble we used to have is appendicitis now; we are eating creamery butter that has never seen a cow. Progress is our motto—modern things have come to stay. But, thank God, we get RELIGION in the SAME OLD-FASHIONED WAY!—Luther Echo.

Feathery Tribe Eulogizes Over Chum's Remains

The feathered tribe that inhabit the Parkland Golf Course today were holding eulogy over the earthly remains of one of its members, which met its death at the hands of a professor from the College on the hill who was playing a round of golf, as recreation after trying hours of instruction. At the eighth hole this unsuspecting denizen of the earth came between the swaying of the professor's mighty driver and the ninth hole. Al Beck, the perpetrator of this unjustifiable crime, claims his aim was for the green of the ninth hole; but a little bird told the reporter a different tale. However, a dignified college professor's word must be taken before that of a fowl creature, and the committee reports that Al Beck will not be court-martialed. Be that as it may, Professor Beck has the distinction of being the only college professor to make a birdie in one. The bird has place spots for the wear of the unguarded fowl of golf courses. All persons making a birdie in one will hereafter be narrowly scrutinized by man.

Perwinkle Grid Fighters Meet Eppleswash "U"

At ten sixty-two last Friday, the thirty-sixth, the College of Periwinkle had its grid-iron match with the University of Eppleswash. The line-up for the home team was as follows: Center, Toot Philtrine; Nose guard, Whoozis Guy; Mud guard, O-Liar (the preparator); Fish tackle, Erik (the Terrible); Block and Tackle, Left the Lucky; Right End, Phil Nineman, possol, woffenpfeffer for short; Wrong end, South West "Phising Feet"; Haph (fled, Sacumshonska); two bits, Freddie Schntzlewolohener; Swae back, Jack Fishneret; and Full full, Stine Sone.

At ten sixty the bunch playing for the home town came upon the field of honor amid much hooting and stamping of feet. The gorillas who gland around the baby-faced guy who back-fires the ball from their feet were dressed in royal velvet dinner jackets and gold trimmed gander pants. The grapplers who stand behind the gorillas were clothed in soup and fish upon which gray stains from a former ORG were yet visible. A coin was borrowed from the Development Association and tossed up, but was lost amid a stampede of a herd of Scotchmen. The game was postponed until the location of the ten cent piece could be ascertained. The sequel to this episode will be related in the next issue of this chronicle of baseless facts. Nize Beby! ## TINGELSTAD SPEAKS AT MISSION SOCIETY

Some Objectives for Mission Society at P. L. C. was the topic of the address given by Dr. Tingelstad at a meeting of that group, Wednesday evening.

Dr. Tingelstad gave many interesting suggestions for mission work that may be carried out this coming year by the society. He said: "There are the home missions, foreign missions, and all forms of mission endeavor. The various types of Christian endeavor can be studied, and something done to help one institution or another. We should stimulate interest in our heart. This can be done by singing and studying hymns as well as studying work on mission fields." A mission box for Christmas was an interesting suggestion. The speaker pointed out that committees could be appointed to have charge of the work, thus insuring an interesting project. Little gifts, or letters to foreign missions would be of interest. Committees to visit the sick, bringing a small gift from the Mission Society would be appreciated. Another objective suggested is the building up of a mission library in the school's own library.

Gladiators Hold C. P. S. Varsity To Close Count

Coaches Pirwitz and Olson Use Two Full Teams; Tilt Gives Good Line on Aspirants

Gladiator pigskin toters in their first clash of the season made a very impressive showing, when they held Coach Pirwitz's College of Puget Sound varsity eleven to the close count of 7 to 6 on the latter's field on September 26.

The skirmish was as exciting as the score indicates, with neither team having much advantage over the other. The Gladiators were without the services of Sankey Johnson, star end from last year's team, who was confined to the bench due to illness. However Olaf Hagness, new man at the wing position, handled the post like a veteran. The Loggers were also somewhat handicapped without the services of Captain Vic Ranta, who was out because of injuries.

The Parkland team started the game by kicking-off to the Puget Sound team. Newell, who received the ball, was dived on by his own thirty-yard line. As the Loggers could not make any yardage on line plays, they punted to Nyman. The Gladiators immediately tried a combination of passes and line plays and carried the ball to the fifteen-yard line. A pass was then thrown to Thostenson, which resulted in the gladiator touchdown. Leque, on the try-for-point, kicked the dirt when he attempted a place-kick.

The fireworks again started in the first part of the second quarter when C. P. S. recovered a Parkland fumble. The Loggers took the pigskin to the three-yard line, where they had a first-down. For two plays the Lutheran line held, but on the third, Johnson, logger half, carried the ball over for a touchdown. Baker made the extra point when he put a place-kick through the goal-posts.

This ended the scoring, although the Parkland team came close to the Logger goal several times in the last half, but on each occasion they lost the ball by fumbles, or on downs. The most outstanding play of the game was in the fourth quarter, when "Red" Carlson leaped into the hands of Nyman. This would undoubtedly have been a touchdown had he been in the open instead of right next to the sidelines.

The game, which was but a practice tilt, was valuable to Coach Olson, so he could get a line on his men. Throughout the encounter, twenty-two men had a chance to show their wares. Coach Pirwitz of the Loggers also used two full teams. This is the first meeting of the varsity football teams of these two schools, but regular games will no doubt be scheduled during the coming years. Ever since the beginning of football in this school in 1926 the varsity team of this school has annually played the C. P. S. Reserves.

Sport Slants

By Harold Gray

With the first two games of the season down as history, Coach Olson by this time has been able to obtain a pretty good line on his men. The first game of the season was but a practice tilt and was played September 26 at the College of Puget Sound with the Logger varsity. The other was played last Saturday on the American Lake field against the Puget Sound Reserves.

The result of the first game is what we are mostly interested in, as that brought to light in the minds of the officials at other colleges the standard that our present varsity has attained. The Loggers won that game by one lone point—the final count being 7 to 6.

The defeat was not hard for our team to take, because we had "nothing to lose and everything to gain." Up to that time we were thought to be but a team of minor importance in the high-school class. It would have been no disgrace for our eleven to have come home on the short end of a 10 to 0 score.

Before two minutes of that game had been played it could be plainly seen that the C. P. S. squad would have one hard battle on its hands if it was to be ahead when the last whistle had been blown. C. P. S. did not seem to be getting any too much enjoyment out of the situation for a time, after we scored our first touchdown in the first quarter.

Matters were somewhat reversed in the second quarter when the Loggers also shared in the scoring honors, putting over a touchdown and making the try-for-point, thereby gaining a one-point advantage. They did not have any picnic getting that touchdown, and it looked for a while as if our line would hold.

As I stated before, the result of that C. P. S. game has made the officials in the colleges all over Washington, sit up and take notice. As a direct result of that tilt we were offered a game with the Ellensburg State Normal School. Needless to say, we accepted that game. It will be played in the first part of November at Ellensburg.

The athletic status of this school with regard to small four-year colleges and state normal schools will no doubt depend upon this game. If we make a successful showing, it should not be hard next year to schedule enough games with that kind of opposition.

Football relationship between Aberdeen Junior College and P. L. C. will be inaugurated this year when our team journey's to the Grays Harbor institution to play a night game. This will be a novelty for our men, as it will be their second opportunity to perform under the arc lights. Not much is known of the strength of the Aberdeen team, but you can mark it down in your memory book that any team representing a Grays Harbor city will be able to put up a whole lot of fight.

In order to give the team some support, why couldn't a bus be rented so that a section of routers could down to that Aberdeen game? It would be the easiest way for the team to travel and it would also give some of the students a chance to see the team perform under the lights. A large bus could be rented, the athletic fund footing the expense of the team and the students who go, paying the rest. This game will not be played until November 7, so the students will be given plenty of time to think over the matter. By that time there will doubtless be a sufficient number who desire to go.

What's wrong with clearing the rocks off the football field before the game Saturday? Last year the students got together and took the largest part of the rocks off the field. As the soil about the College is very rocky, more of the stones have worked to the surface and are just as numerous as ever. Saturday's game will be the first home game of the season, and I am sure the football team would appreciate not to be obliged to fall on a pile of rocks at the termination of every play.

At the Stewart Intermediate School in Tacoma, students who are able to be at school, up and around, and yet too sick to take gymnasium are promptly given a bucket and instructed to luke rocks off the athletic field—not a very strenuous form of exercise. Perhaps that would work at P. L. C., too.

Not much is known of the strength of the Navy team which will play the Gladiators on Saturday, but if it is up to par with other Navy squads, the home team will have plenty of opposition.

The first game in Tacoma this year will be played with Lincoln on October 17, in the Stadium saucer, and with Stadium on November 14. At the present time, two of the Lincoln men are out because of injuries, but they should be able to play by that time. Lincoln and Stadium always have first-class teams, so the result of this game will be interesting. Lincoln won the annual game last year, 18 to 0. The Lincoln game will be played at night under the powerful arc lights.

This coming Friday, October 10, in the Tacoma Stadium, two old rivals will meet for the first of a two-game series to decide the prep championship of Tacoma. These two teams are none other than Lincoln and Stadium. The game will be played at night and will give the football team and others a chance to see the type of opposition we will have to face when we play these teams. Both have about an equal chance to win.

Gladiators Win Initial Contest

C. P. S. Reserves Lose First Game by 39 to 0 Score; Carlson Stars

Gladiator pigskin toters won their first regular game of the season on Saturday, October 4, when they defeated the College of Puget Sound Reserves by a 39 to 0 score at American Lake.

The game was hard-fought throughout but C. P. S. was never in scoring distance. "Red" Carlson, by virtue of his clever running, was the outstanding star of the game.

The Loggers opened the game by kicking off to P. L. C. Thosten received the ball and returned it to his own 45-yard line. Trick plays and good interference running enabled the Gladiators to advance the ball to the C. P. S. 15-yard line. Carlson took the ball over the goal line for the first score of the game. He failed to convert for the extra point.

It took five minutes to put the ball across the line for the second touchdown. Leque, Lutheran half, received the ball and was dived on by his own 45-yard line. Here the front line showed its ability to test holes in the opposition, and Lisherness, plunged his way through for yardage. On the 20-yard line Carlson took the ball on an end run to score the second touchdown. Leque failed to add the extra point. The score at the end of the first quarter was 12 to 0.

The second quarter found the Gladiators still having things very much their own way. By a series of end runs and line plunges the ball was again over the goal line, and the try for point was successful. At this time Coach Olson began substituting the second team. Ware, substitute full back, pushed the ball over for the fourth touchdown of the game. Johnson, first string end, converted the place kick. The second string front line was working so smoothly that Ware was again enabled to smash off tackle for another touchdown just before the half ended. The try for point was successful. The score at the end of the half was 32 to 0.

As Coach Olson was satisfied with the showing of the second team, he allowed them to begin the second half. The Logger defense tightened, and the second string was unable to score in this period. After the final period had begun, Coach Olson again sent in his first string. Although Gunette and McCow, Logger backfield men, ran around end for long gains, the Gladiators were never in danger of being scored upon.

The last touchdown of the game came when Leque, P. L. C. half-back, carried the ball across the line after a series of passes from Nyman to Johnson and Thostenson.

Mentor Olson used twenty-two men during the fracas. Dammel showed up well as guard on the second string.

Bill Nyman, cool-headed quarterback, and "Red" Carlson, half, were the outstanding players in the P. L. C. line-up. Carlson's clever runs were a feature of the game.

First Home Game Of Season To Be Played Saturday

The Gladiators' first home game of the current season will be played this coming Saturday afternoon when they meet a Navy team from Bremerton on the Parkland field. For this game is in first-class condition (for the team and should give Uncle Sam's men a good fight.

Not much is known about the strength of the Bremerton squad, although reports have come that they are expecting to put over a win. Coach Olson's men are in first-class shape for the encounter. The team received a good deal of experience in the two C. P. S. clashes and with the practices this week, they should be able to give the Navy team plenty of fight.

In the last game, Mentor Olson had a chance to detect some of the weaknesses in the team's offense. Interference running is being stressed a great deal and much time is being spent on the forward pass. The team showed its ability on the defensive as the Loggers failed to complete any passes out of fifteen attempts.

The starting lineup will be: Johnson and Thostenson, ends; Percival and Young, tackles; Schierman and Leque, guards; Fadness, center; Nyman, quarterback; Leque and Carlson, halfbacks; Lisherness, full-back. The second team will probably get a chance to play if the Gladiators have a large lead.

Meet Lincoln Hi Next Friday Eve

The Gladiator team as yet is free from injuries although some of the men received some pretty hard knocks in the two C. P. S. games. The starting lineup will probably be the same as it was in the game against C. P. S. Reserves with Johnson and Thostenson, ends; Percival and Young, tackles; Schiermann and Scheel, guards; Fadness, center; Nyman, quarterback; Carlson and Leque, halfbacks; Lisherness, fullback.

Nine of these are lettermen, but all of them are being given a hard run for their positions by some of the second team men. The others who will no doubt see action are: Hagness, end; Campbell and Dammel, guards; Scott, center; Ware, fullback; and Hauke and Sanderson, halfbacks.
