PACIFIC LUTHERAN COLLEGE

Registration For Year To Exceed Three-hundred

Normal Department Has 140 Students; Class Room Changes Made

With enrollment numbers continuing to increase, Pacific Lutheran College has begun its forty-third year of continuous operation, and college officials state that approximately 340 will be the year's total attendance. Reports from the registrar's office indicate that up to date there are 304 students enrolled including 46 enrolled for the summer sessions only. There are 140 registered in the Normal department, and in the Liberal Art division the total is 79. There are 39 enrolled in the high school section.

The school year was formally opened Tuesday morning, September 15, in chapel by President Tingelstad who officially welcomed the students and introduced new faculty members and the student body president, Mr. Stanley Ford. Pipe organ numbers were presented by Prof. J. O. Edwards, music director, and Dean Philip E. Hauge addressed the group briefly.

Because of the increased enrollment, numerous changes have been made to accommodate classes. Chapel seating capacity has been enlarged, and class room rearrangements are being made. Among adjustments is the transfer of the girls' day room from the main building to the chapel basement so as to make room for classes in the former day room.

Assistants Chosen By Editor, Adviser

Otness, Friis Hold Business Managerships; Preus Will Be Assistant Editor

Oak Otness, sophomore in the Liberal Arts department, has been selected as business manager of the Mooring Mast. Elizabeth Friis will be his assistant. Norma Preus, third year Normal student, has been appointed associate editor of the paper. Miss Preus was news editor last semester.

Special staff, reporters and feature writers will be selected by Mrs. Frank editorial adviser, and Hazel Hagerup, editor, from the following who have applied for positions: Ida Merz, Virginia Davis, Elizabeth Stuen, Laveau McCall, Llewella Davies, Ida May Hoss, Norman Frye, Russell Frye, Fielet Martin, Jack Odey, and Roland Wuest.

Elizabeth Stuen and Virginia Davis are advertising managers. Ad solicitors are Vernice Scott, Vivian Smith, and Margaret Larsen. Kathryn Anderson has been chosen for the position of circulation manager. Her assistants are Helen Lilja and Thelma Ness. Mabel Heggen will be the exchange editor. Definite selection of the staff will be announced in the next issue.

L. D. R. Meet Tomorrow At Preus Residence

As announced by Norma Preus, president, the first meeting of the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul A. Preus, Thursday at 3:00 o'clock. All girls are cordially invited.

The program will consist of a talk on "The Purpose of the L. D. R." by Margaret Rorem. Alma Stoen will sing a solo, and a violin number will be given by Evelyn Sverson.

The election of the remaining officers, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, will be held at this time.

Wuest and McCormick Become Board Members

Roland Wuest and Harry McCormick were elected yesterday to fill the offices of freshman representative and assistant athletic manager, respectively. The others members of the Associated Student Body Board of Control, elected last May, who will govern the associated students during the coming year, include president, Stanley Ford; vice-president, Margaret Rorem; secretary, Wadene Calvan; treasurer, Lloyd Thompson; advertising manager, Helen Holtcamp; senior class representative, Louise Williams; sophomore class representative, Otis Grande; and commissioner of athletics, Overt Haavik.

President Tingelstad Departs For East

Will Attend Five Meetings As Pacific Lutheran Representative

Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Tingelstad left Parklane on Saturday, September 26 enroute to the East where Dr. Tingelstad, by vote of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, will represent Pacific Lutheran College at several important conferences and meetings.

His first destination will be Omaha, Nebraska, where he is scheduled to attend the Lutheran Social Worker's Conference, Sept. 28-30. He will attend the inauguration of Augustana College and Theological Seminary on Oct. 1, in Rock Island, Illinois, as an official representative of P. L. C.

On Oct. 9 Dr. Tingelstad will be in San Antonio, Texas, where the Biennial Convention of the American Lutheran Church will be held, after which he will return to Decatur, Iowa, to be present at the Diamond Jubilee of Luther College, beginning Oct. 14.

In Minneapolis on Oct. 29, President Tingelstad will attend an organization meeting of the recently created College Conference of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America.

Dr. and Mrs. Tingelstad expect to return in four weeks. This will be Mrs. Tingelstad's first visit to her former home in Decatur, Iowa, since 1931.

Educational Library

An educational library for normal department students is being equipped in room 114, former class room and physics laboratory. The library will be open from 8:10 to 4:20 each school day, and books may be checked out for evening study.

Faculty Members Prove to Be Versatile Group

We should have an authorized course in extensive and intensive agriculture at P. L. C. this year, after the "back to the land" movement of which so many of our faculty members were ardent promoters this summer. Gardening seems to have been the favorite past-time of those who vacationed at home; but our instructors are nothing if not versatile, and traveling, preaching, mending, studying, teaching, carpentry and plain and fancy finishes had honorable mentions on the summer calendar.

Mr. Ramstad disturbed the vacation tranquility by going straight up and raising the roof at his home. Mrs. Ramstad didn't mind, though, for look at all the extra room she got by that added story. We understand "Rammy" has his shingle out now, and is ready to run tough competition to the local contractors. Between hammering, Mr. Ramstad found time to officiate at five Others named to head the class are: vice-president, Judith Benson; secretary, Louise Hendrickson; and treasurer, Oliver Ludlow. Mr. Hauge will be the class adviser.

Mr. Stuen belongs also to the class of garden workers. His yard speaks for itself! In addition he attended the University of Washington, taking Scandinavian Drama and a Librarian's course.

Mr. Ed Tingelstad went east to attend the biennial convention of the N. L. C. A. in Minneapolis. From there he continued to Detroit and visited in Iowa before driving west. He taught during the second summer session at the college. A brief trip to Oregon and Idaho completed his summer travels.

Dr. Tingelstad also attended the N. L. C. A. convention and visited the Gold Run Mine in Idaho. He spent a short vacation in Silverton.

Mr. Xavier taught the first six weeks during the summer he preached seven

New English Instructor

Miss Gladys Gilbertson

Three Additions To P. L. C. Faculty Are Announced

Gilbertson To Teach English And Home Relations; Will Assist Dean of Women

Three new faculty members have been added to the teaching staff of Pacific Lutheran College for the 1936-37 school year with the appointment of Miss Gladys Gilbertson, who will teach English Composition and home relations, and will assist Mrs. Kriedler, a dean of girls. The Reverend Mr. Mikkel Lono and the Reverend Mr. Orville Running, Lutheran pastors of Tacoma, will be part time instructors in the department of religion.

Miss Gilbertson was born at Ottawa, Illinois. She began her high school work at Plesantview Luther College, and completed it at Augustana College, Sioux Falls, North Dakota, from which institution she was also graduated from college. In 1928 she received a fellowship to Washington State College where she later obtained the degree of Master of Arts in English. Miss Gilbertson has also had a summer's graduate course at the University of South Dakota, taking a graduate minor in French. She was enrolled for advance study at Washington State College in 1931.

Besides teaching two years in the high schools of South Dakota, Miss Gilbertson has taught at Washington State College, Wartburg College in Iowa, and The Lewiston State Normal in Idaho.

Mr. Reid attended the University of Southern California. His summer travels took him to Grand Canyon, Bryce, Yellowstone, Boulder, Coeue, Glacier and into Mexico. He'd like to live in Arizona, Nevada or Utah, but can't make up his mind. He ought to be twins—or how about quintuplets? Famous last words: "I spent all my money, but had a good vacation and didn't take my work too seriously."

To Berdine goes a bouquet for originality. She was married and spent her honeymoon in Oregon; according to the faculty pun-makers, she went "Klasy"—Congratulations! The Nelsons motored East, and attended the Augustana Synod meeting in

Annual P. L. C. Homecoming Set For October 10

P. L. C. To Battle Ellensburg Saturday at Lincoln Bowl; Pep Rally Friday Night

With the homecoming date set definitely for the week-end of October 2-11, the associated student body is centering its activities around plans to sponsor a complete program of entertainment for returning alumni and former students. Stanley Ford, student body president, announces that the festivities will begin on Friday evening with a pep rally and parade to be staged under the direction of Helen Holtcamp who will be assisted by the college yell leaders. Cars are scheduled to leave the school at 7:30 and be routed through South Tacoma, the parade finally terminating in a rally at the square in front of the Roxy Theater. School spirit will be expressed in yells and songs, supplemented by the cheerful rhythm of Paul Fosso's pep band.

As a climax of this year's homecoming, P. L. C.'s scrapping Gladiators will battle against the strong Ellensburg team in the Lincoln Bowl Saturday afternoon, at 2:00 o'clock. As Ellensburg was the only team to defeat P. L. C. last year, the Gladiators are determined to take the Wildcats into lamppost before a large number of fans and supporters.

Alumni will be guests of the student body at a mixer planned for Saturday evening in the college gym at eight o'clock. Eider Norgaard will have charge of the entertainment. Her committee, consists of Evelyn Sverson, Walter Schnackenberg, and Bob Svare. Other groups appointed to arrange details for the affair include: refreshments, Judith Benson, June Walter, Ernd Blake, Al Rogan and Jesse Priewe; decorations, Beatrice Siders, Linka De Berry, Gary Pflueger, Roland Wuest, and Paul Passo. Oak Otness will head the clean-up committee. His assistants are Robert Lando, Jack Wall, and Al McKay.

School Orchestra Rehearsals Begin

Prospects for a well-balanced orchestra are good this year, according to Professor J. O. Edwards, director, who conducted the first rehearsal, Thursday, September 24. He expects the organization to include more than fifteen members.

The orchestra will meet for rehearsals at 2:45 every Tuesday and Thursday in the chapel.

Annual Reception For Students Saturday Eve

Saturday evening at eight o'clock faculty members of Pacific Lutheran College will entertain the students with a reception in the Trinity Lutheran church parlors.

Mrs. Kriedler heads the social committee with Miss Johnson, Miss Gilbertson, Mr. Reid, Mr. Leraas and Mr. Nelson assisting. Refreshments are being planned by Miss Gilbertson. Leaves and garden flowers will be used in the decorative scheme.

Mr. Edwards is arranging the program which will include the following numbers: greeting, Mr. Hauge; vocal numbers by the faculty ladies quartet; lano selections by J. O. Edwards; and a vocal solo by Mr. Paul A. Preus.

WELCOME TO OUR SCHOOL!

With P. L. C. off to another grand beginning, the Mooring Mast takes this opportunity to welcome back the old students and to greet with open arms and friendly smiles all others who have decided to make Parkland's college their forthcoming institution of higher learning.

To the newcomers we wish to drop this reminder, P. L. C. is your institution, and it will be what you make it. The possibilities are greater this year than ever before, but nothing worth having is attained without effort. Whether your time here is spent happily or not depends on how you respond to the opportunities offered.

This year registration has increased considerably. With such increase come new and knotty problems for faculty members and advisers. Not the least of these is the factor of discipline. This takes not only time and energy, but an extra-generous supply of tactfulness as well. Managing a group of more than 300 students would be a mis-sized problem at any time. Considering the high standard of moral and intellectual excellence which must be kept up among all members of our institution, one can understand what responsibility confronts our leaders.

Routine matters claim time and attention. Dormitories must be regulated; clubs and other societies must be cooperatively and smoothly organized; Church and Chapel attendance must be urged; in short, Pacific Lutheran College must be directed and organized as a college worthy of the best.

So then, as a greeting to you, we strongly urge intensive cooperation on your part. Show a willingness to "help along" in school affairs, and remember that by giving you receive. Catch steps with your faculty and swing into line for this year's bigger and better P. L. C.

BUDGET YOUR TIME!

Psychologists tell us: "Budget your time." Why?

In the first place, a time budget aids greatly in successfully accomplishing required work, whether manual or mental. A student who budgets his time does not need to waste precious moments in deciding what to do at this or that hour; a manual laborer who budgets his time is almost sure to increase both in personal efficiency and mental solidarity.

Some years ago (in the early 1920's) a psychologist, Frank Gilbreth, noticed that bricklayers used too many movements in laying bricks. He took motion pictures. He studied. He thought. At length he discovered that he could, using only five simple movements, lay one brick. It had taken the bricklayers eighteen movements to do the same. The result of Mr. Gilbreth's studies was a tripling of brick output.

That was purely a case of effective thought. The psychologist used his head. So should students. And a time budget is one of the best helps in the world to increase scholastic output.

by SNACK KENNY SWEDE with a grain of salt and a dash of dust

Gritting—

My, my, such a mess of pipples! Some tall, some short, some fat, etc. . . but they all have one thing in common, all green. We have seen some of our young friends gaping wide and open-mouthed at the massive structures which comprise our main buildings. In the heart of our fair Tacoma you'll get to see streetcars and stuff, an well—but beware lest some unfeeling slickers sell you some elevator tickets for our main building, or passes to the dining club, or permits for chairs. We found one of our friends sitting on a rickety box in his room, we wonder if he's traded off all his property . . . Now we know why Al McKay is so tall—he stayed green so long. You older stogees—if some well-meaning little lass comes up and asks you if the Kicking Post is the school bulletin, or something, just be patient, or else feel the pulse immediately, and get a pill. Notice how stiff we all are at the dining club . . . for manners, courtesy and politeness—fine—we hope it will continue, but for sociability etc, nuts! Don't worry we'll all loosen up in a couple of weeks, in the meantime let yourself go. Relax! The food here is O. K green-though . . . nothing fancy, but it sticks. One thing, tho', we think they should sign up another crew. We are told that they have been okaying with Dean Hauke's pet heifer "Emerald" (somewhat temperamental). Is she contented, chief?

Rambles—

Overheard—Oeo, Kline—Guess I'll have to play all 60 minutes of this game, too—"Say, who is that good-looking blonde down on the steps, I'd like to meet her."—Oliver Ludlow—tsk, tsk. Oliver, and we that you were so bashful. Can you imagine a big strong man like Erling Jurgenson with a nickname "Snookie"? But he loves it. Took! Fiuul says she doesn't know who her gonna Lando in this game of Fries out—Now that Orv Dahl has picked over the new frosh hatch and put his stamp on ten or twelve—we can begin to look around a little. heh-heh-heh—Orv and his chick-cus.—We noticed that one Monday night, Thelma Ness, was out picking Sherry. Where'd you get that search-light Chet?—Bissell must be a lover of Slidder trees. Charlie Leask has his nose to the ground, gals, so look your nicest. For a good fall, ask Gary (the Horn) Fluenger why he didn't sit down so much for a few days. We nominate Cliff Olson for the cheeriest soul on the football field.

Twaddle—

Another great freshman party goes down in history! We can't find words to describe its terrific success. A party like that every week would be welcomed by all the—crash! bong! tinkle, tinkle.—It's O. K. kiddies, we knocked him colder than a pickle after that last crack.) Besides being a musician, Al Jacobs is a mechanic of the first water. Betty Hall's interpretation of "Jelly-bean" is sure gummy. My, what a saawet band you have. Ambrose, Moe's gang hasn't started in earnest yet, freshies, but look out for these Brush Creek men. We understand that brother Hokenstad has been promoted from Lieutenant to Aide de Camp.

Brain Rack—

This year we're going to offer advice to the love-lorn, home-sick lorn, football-weary-lorn, and miscellaneous loners. Home-sickness is really bad stuff, and you don't know you have it 'til it's all over. But, don't get too down-in-the-dumps, remember, there are only 83 days before the Christmas vacation. Send your problems in to the Niles boys, John, Ben, and Pete, with the tops of 973 Grape-Nuts-Flakes boxes and all your questions will be answered in the strictest of confidence, yeah. Already the situations come pouring into our hands. It seems that one full-grown 2 yr. old has the bad habit of pouting herself to tears over the merest of trivialities. We'd suggest that she think it over first instead of last. Pardon us, if we take the liberty to tell you that we think it looks quite foolish.—However, some people will always be like the rivers that flow into the Arctic—frozen at the mouth. We can hardly stand it ourselves, but the latest knock-rap goes to Roland Wuest who came in with—C. P. S.—who? I'm not as C. P. as I was last night.—We promise not to pull any more, tho'. The year's prize boner has already been made by Cliff Bruland—We imagine Miss Gilbertson thinks him too liberal with a certain hospitality, but even on the street-car, he should stick to the student body. Please don't throw your matches around little ones, remember the Iroquois fire. Nunc. exeamus cum celeritatis.

"If we are going to have a good team this year you men must be on your toes and start the minute the ball is snapped . . . Follow through. Tend to your own assignment . . . Remember the game is not over until the whistle blows."

These words coming from the football field give me the message I would like to bring to every student enrolled at P. L. C.

You are college students interested in making this a profitable year. In order to do this you need to recognize the importance of getting off to a good start. You cannot afford to wait until the fourth quarter. You must assume your responsibilities today and carry them through to completion. Remember every day, every play is important and calls for your best. If you do this I am sure your school year will be a happy and profitable one.

Gladiators Take Fort Lewis 19-0 In Opening Game

Finding yardage from running plays a little difficult to gain, the Gladiators took to the air to defeat Fort Lewis 19-0 Friday night, September 18, in Tacoma's opening grid game.

All three scores were the direct results of forward passes. With less than a minute remaining in the first half, Tommervik rifled a long one to Nilsen who made a spectacular catch, being finally downed on the Army 15 yard marker. On the next play Tommervik again passed to Nilsen, who made an easy catch over the goal line. With Chet Solie holding the ball, O'Connor booted the pignin between the uprights to give the Lutherans a 7-0 lead.

No more scoring was done until the end of the fourth quarter when the Glads pushed over two more tallies. The first score came after Tommervik connected with three successive passes to O'Connor, N. Frye, and Nilsen, with Nilsen again galloping a ross the goal stripe. O'Connor's try for point hit the upright and brought away a try.

A few minutes later Nilsen stepped back and tossed a 25 yard pass to Chet Solie. Three plays later Solie went over his own tackle for the final score. O'Connor's try for point was blocked.

The Gladiators looked fairly well in their first game of the season; however, at times their plays were ragged and some of the players failed to get their blocking assignments.

The soldier's big threat, Whitey Grove, failed to click being thrown; for numerous losses when he carried the ball. The army was further hampered by poor kicking and numerous fumbles. Captain Neely and Byssack on the line, and Francis and De Sordi in the backfield were outstanding for the soldiers.

The passing combination, Tommervik to Nilsen, featured the Lutheran offensive. However, the whole Gladiator team displayed a fine brand of ball with no one player being outstanding. The Glads collected 9 first downs against 5 for the Army with P. L. C. collecting 98 yards from scrimmage against 87 for Fort Lewis. Also the Lutherans completed 9 out of 12 passes for 165 yards, while the soldiers completed two out of seven tosses for 27 yards.

MORE FACULTY

St. Peter, Minnesota, to which Mr. Nelson was a delegate. The heat wave obligingly held off till their departure.

After teaching six weeks, Mrs. Krieger took several brief vacations and visited friends. She went to Vancouver, British Columbia by boat to visit friends and attend the Golden Jubilee. In Seattle she visited Miss Stikrud, former P. L. C. teacher. A two weeks' visit with a sister in Tacoma, a week's stay in Olympia with friends, and a drive around the loop to Port Angeles completed her summer vacation.

Mrs. Franck says she pulled the weeds out of the garden that Mr. Franck brags about. Between crops, they camped on Henderson Bay, and went with friends to Victoria, leaving their car with the Stueps. Mrs. Franck conducted the high points of the summer to be the much needed bath the Chev got in the Stuen back yard.

Miss Reneau taught the second term. Her leisure time was spent making jam and jelly and pulling dandelions.

Among those teaching the first session was Prof. Bardon. He attended the University of Washington for six weeks and spent the rest of the time until school started checking up on what the professors at the University had to say.

Mr. Elvestrom worked on the building drive with Mr. Panfokke, and on student drives, placement, and general field work.

Mr. Preus drove his family East to attend his daughter's graduation. He assisted also in the building drive and got himself nominated Congressman for the sixth district on the Republican ticket. (Paging all votes!)

Mrs. Bondy imitated Robinson Crusoe and spent her summer on a lonely island. But the island was in the middle of Spanaway Lake, and she was able to teach here during the summer session. On the side, she added a goodly stock of jam and jelly to the family larder.

The Leraases went to Minnesota and Michigan for a four weeks vacation, following the summer school session. The last ten days in August Mr. Leraas was in McKenna collecting small mammals.

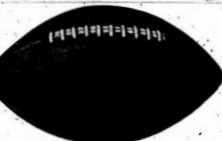

Coach Olson worked on the drive until June 31. He travelled around in student work investigations and found time to begin work on his new home.

During vacation, Mr. Pfueser built a fire place in his yard. He taught school here and attended two Bible Conferences as an instructor. He was initiated into the Phi Delta Kappas.

Mr. Hong occupied himself working for the building drive and spent much of his time gardening.

Mr. Hauge spent the greater part of the summer in Douglas, Alaska, where he has for several years been connected with commercial fishing interests. He reports a pleasant summer, having returned in time to prepare for the opening of the fall semester.

Miss Johnson attended Summer School at the University of Washington. She tried her hand at keeping house, but found that attending school was work enough in itself.

According to reliable sources St. Martin's will have a powerful eleven this fall. The Rangers are coached by Diamond Joe Paglia who was a star at Santa Clara a couple of years ago.

The loyal gladiator fans who journey to the Capital city next Friday night will see a real ball game. To pick the winner would be difficult; however, the Rangers have certain psychological advantages. They'll be decked out in flaming red suits, have a snappy jazz band, and sport a chorus girl shift.

Joe Paglia's boys had best be air minded next Friday night, that's a combination, Tommervik to Nilsen gets results.

Let's show our team that the school is behind them by being present at the game next Friday night at Olympia!

Gladiators Preparing For Lacey Struggle

Fresh from a 19-0 victory over Fort Lewis, the P. L. C. Gladiators again return to the gridiron wars Friday night as they meet the strong St. Martin's College eleven at Olympia.

Joe Paglia, Ranger coach, is expected to field a heavy aggregation, bristling with veterans, who are playing their first year with St. Martin's. With their weight and experience, the Rangers no doubt will bring grief to many a team this year.

Although the Gladiators already have one game under their belt, and St. Martin's has yet to engage in their initial start of the season, Coach Olson, the Lutheran boss, is not taking the game lightly. Several scrimmages have been held with outside teams to whip the squad into first class condition for the game.

Coach Olson's starting lineup will probably be the same as the one which opened against the Soldiers. However, with the large array of reserve material this year, substitutions will be plentiful, according to the P. L. C. mentor.

Few Changes Are Made in Local Team For Coming Game

Plunging with zest into their fourth week of intensive training, Coach Olson's Gladiators of Parkland are rapidly rounding into shape with their eyes focused on the tussle with the St. Martin's Rangers Friday night at the Capital City. The game, to be played under the lights at Steven's Field, is slated for 8:00 o'clock.

Blocking and tackling have been stressed most in practice by Coach Olson since the Fort Lewis fracas, with much time being spent on proper timing of plays. Probably the worst faults uncovered through the tilt with the Soldiers were poor blocking and the failure of the Black and Gold gridders to execute properly their assignments. Emphasis on these fundamentals have been given all-last week.

A few major changes in positions have been made, with Captain Norm Frye being shifted from end to a half-back berth, sending Gene Jack from second string end to first string, replacing Frye, Fullback "Snooky" Jurgesen, 190 pound powerhouse, and Oliver Ludlow have been alternating between first and second strings, the latter nursing a "charleyhorse." With these exceptions the P. L. C. lineup will probably remain intact.

Enthusiasm has greeted the return of Jay Smith, shifty quarterback and Stan Sherry, end, both from Longview High School, after an absence of a week.

Little is known of the strength of the St. Martin's eleven, but reports have drifted into Olson's camp that the lacey bunch will boast a surplus of beef in the center of the line. Former Italian Athletic Club players, and a 245 pound all-city center from Chicago are reputed to be on the team's roster. In any event, a tough game is expected when the two grid machines clash Friday.

Delta Rho Gammmas To Initiate Oct. 8

Wadene Calavan Chosen Leader; Day Room Transferred To Chapel Basement

Delta Rho Gamma initiation day has been set for October 8 and will be climaxed by a pot-luck supper to be given at six-thirty o'clock in the dining halls, according to Judith Benson, general chairman. Committees making arrangements for the affair include: June Walter and Elsie Barrett, decorations; Alice Cook and Ruby Moore, invitations; Norma Preus, program; Margaret Rorem, Goldene Gerritz and Sylvia Miller, initiation; Louise Williams and Helen Scott, menu; Evelyn Sverson and Elva Bergman, clean-up. The cabinet, which was selected last week, consists of president, Wadene Calavan; vice-president, Alice Cook; recording secretary, Enid Blake; corresponding secretary, Virginia Davis; treasurer, Evelyn Sverson; sergeant-at-arms, Margaret Larsen.

The girls' day room, formerly located in the main building, has been transferred to the chapel basement, a portion of which will be remodeled by the girls into Delta Rho Gamma club rooms. Verna Tegland will direct a group of interior decorators consisting of Alice Cook, Ruth Dawson and June Walter.

To Be Scene of Homecoming

Pacific Lutheran College will play host to its annual homecoming on October 9-10-11 when many alumni and former students are expected to return to their Alma Mater to visit former friends and renew acquaintances.

W. A. A. Plans Skating Party for October 24

The initial skating party of the year is being planned by the W. A. A. Council for October 24 at King's Roller Rink in Tacoma. Ticket sales will begin next week.

At a meeting held last Wednesday, W. A. A. members chose Alda Johnson to be their advertising manager and Vivian Smith as sergeant-at-arms. Other officers elected last spring include president Louise Hendrickson; vice-president, Judith Benson; secretary, Alice Cook; and treasurer, Louise Williams. The president has appointed the following as heads of the different sports: captain-ball, Thelma Ness; volleyball, Helen Holcamp; basketball, Wadene Calavan; baseball, Elsie Barrett; tennis, Irene Odell; track, Helen Scott; golf, Beatrice Slidders; and hiking, Esther Norgard and Enid Blake.

With 135 girls turning out for Physical Education this semester, Mrs. Adah Dapper, instructor, anticipates an interesting schedule. The sport program has been rearranged so that volleyball precedes basketball, leaving more time for the sports coming in the spring. Further plans for activity will be made at the first council meeting scheduled for October 2, which will be in the form of a progressive dinner.

Delta Phi Selects Governing Body

Alda Johnson of Seattle has been selected to serve as president of the Delta Phi Kappa girls' dormitory organization. Iris Evans, vice president; Irene Odell, secretary-treasurer; and Thelma Ness and Barbara Kraemer, fire marshals, comprise the executive council.

Committees appointed to arrange for freshman initiation include Connie Clumb, Eugenia Spencer and Helen Lillja initiation and Helen Holcamp, Kathryn Anderson, and Iris Evans, party committee.

All Right, Freshie— Don't Cry; You'll Be A Senior By 'n By!

Mr. Hinderle had better watch out for his job! His rival is none other than a tall, denified stranger, who, covered with denim, perspiration, and a steamer trunk, tumbled up the "million" stairs from the ground floor to the highest abode of the P. L. C. fair sex the day before school opened.

On depositing his burden he was accosted by an innocent freshman who unsuspectingly asked, "Are you the janitor?" "Yes, ma'am, I do janitor work," was his reply. "Will you carry my trunks upstairs?" she inquired.

Imagine her chagrin to discover that her "janitor" was the Reverend Norgard of Everett.

Mission Society

The Mission Society will meet tonight at seven o'clock in the recreation room to elect officers. All students are invited to attend.

Margaret Pearson will speak on "Service in the Christian Church" and Romola Rust will present vocal solos.

Choir Selections

With the Pacific Lutheran College Choir membership limited to forty, the final selection of voices for the 1936 choir is made especially difficult for Prof. J. O. Edwards, director. The large number of turnouts and abundance of good material this year make it probable that a second choir will be organized.

Students To Plan Sunday Suppers

Tentative arrangements are being made for a Sunday Night Supper Club to feature informal discussion of student problems.

The date of meeting will alternate with that of Luther League; the suppers begin at 5:30 o'clock, and close before study hours.

This club replaces the fireside hour of former years, and in addition will allow for a social hour.

Those planning the first supper are Mrs. H. J. Leras, Margaret Pearson, Iva Knutsen, Alma Stole, Stanley Ford, Irene Dahl, Norma Preus and Mildred Larsen.

GERMAN CLUB

Sylvia Miller was elected president of the German Club yesterday noon. Other officers are Edward Mackie, vice-president; Goldene Gerritz, secretary; and Bob Mitchell, treasurer.

Marvin Jensen To Head Men's Dorm

Marvin Jensen was elected to serve as president of the men's dormitory for the coming semester at a meeting held last Wednesday night. Kenneth Anenson will be vice-president and Arnold Tommervik, secretary-treasurer. Erling Jurgensen was named sergeant-at-arms, while the position of fire chief will be held by Harold Holby.

Initiation activities, which were held last Friday in conjunction with those of the Delta Phi Kappa, terminated in a dorm mixer in the gym where an impromptu program was given by the neophytes. Chester Solle, Ken Anenson, and Arne Strand comprised the committee for initiation.
