Yearbook Staff Meets Approval Of Student Body

Faculty-Student Committee Suggestions Accepted Today in Special Meeting

Today at a special meeting of the Student Body the remainder of the Saga staffs as suggested by the Faculty-Student committee were submitted by Olaf Hagenes, president of the Student Body and editor of the yearbook, for unanimous approval.

The complete annual staff is: Editorial: Editor, Olaf Hagenes; Associate editor, Esther Westby; Class editors, Marie Vandinburg and Arnold Thostenson; Religion, Margaret Porath; Art, Dagny Hjermstad and Helen Thrane; Music, Thora Rasmussen; Photography, Eric Hauke; Athletics, Harry Southworth; Organizations, Stella Sorboe; Features, Ruth Jacobson; Forensics, Frederick Mau; Cartoonist, Clarence Monson.

Business: Business Manager, Harold Gray; Circulation Manager, Ida Hinderlie; Assistant Circulation Manager, Mildred Card; Advertising Manager, Earl Percival; Advertising solicitors, Ruth Brown and Myron Lohr; Typist, Grace Holte.

Olaf Hagenes, appointed editor by the faculty committee about two weeks ago, has had journalistic experience, having been associate editor of the Mooring Mast last fall, editor last spring and part of this fall, and the P. L. C. correspondent to the Tacoma Ledger. He also attended the annual Press Conference held at the University of Washington in Seattle and was a delegate to the Press sessions of the National Lutheran Students' Union Convention held here last year.

Besides his newspaper activities, Mr. Hagenes has proved himself a capable student leader. He was president of the freshman class last year and is this year president of the Student Body. Debate and athletics have also claimed part of his time.

Harold Gray, elected by the students to work as business manager, has also had wide experience in journalistic work. Before attending Pacific Lutheran College, he was associate editor of the Lincoln News, weekly publication of Lincoln High School, Tacoma. The previous year, as a freshman here, Mr. Gray served as make-up editor of the first semester and as sports editor of the second semester on the Mooring Mast. This year, up to and including this issue, he has continued as editor of the sports department. With his election to the Saga staff he will, however, turn over this position to Harry Southworth, who, with Eric Hauke, has been assistant this fall.

The first Saga, published last year with Irene Dahl as editor, saw Mr. Gray filling the position of associate editor. Two weeks ago he represented the Saga at the annual Press Conference, held at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Delegates Attend Conference at U.

Advisers and Students Give Lectures; Banquet, Show, Game Add to Fun

Many new ideas were brought back for their respective organizations by the six P. L. C. delegates who attended the Editor's and High School Leader's conference at the University of Washington November 20, 21 and 22. Edgar Larson and Evelyn Monson represented the high school, Harold Gray and Dagny Hjermstad represented the Saga, while Stella Sorboe and Fred Mau represented the Mooring Mast.

The Editor's conference consisted of lectures by faculty advisers of high school publications, students prominent in Journalism at the University, and professors of Journalism at the University. Various problems pertaining to high-school publications were discussed by the lecturers and the delegates. The high-school leaders discussed questions of self-government in high schools, and various delegates spoke on different phases of the problem.

DELTA RHOS ENJOY THANKSGIVING PARTY

On Wednesday noon November 26, the Delta Rho Gamma enjoyed a very lovely Thanksgiving luncheon in the chapel parlors.

The program consisted of readings by Francis Barr, piano selections by Ethel Sönnette, readings by Evelyn Aronson, and a short, impromptu talk by Mrs. Kreidler.

The Mooring Mast wishes to offer its most sincere sympathy to Mrs. Jennie Grande and family on the death of their beloved daughter and sister, Miss Olga Grande.

Tingelstad Brings New Impressions From Convention

Attends Anniversaries; Meets Former President; Brings Students Greetings From Families

That the junior college movement will not eliminate the four year liberal arts college in our generation; that the emphasis in junior college education is laid on vocational courses, but that students nevertheless want to be prepared to go on to a degree; and that the attempt to disregard the present distinction between high school and college is definitely only in the experimental stage are the three definite impressions President Tingelstad derived from the convention of the American Junior College Association in Berkeley, November 18 and 19.

According to President Tingelstad many interesting problems were discussed at these meetings, the results of which only strengthened his belief that Pacific Lutheran College must seriously consider expansion beyond its present two-year college course.

On Saturday evening, November 22, President Tingelstad attended the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Rev. O. Groensberg as a minister in the Lutheran Church. Rev. Groensberg was the second president of Pacific Lutheran College, then known as Pacific Lutheran University, holding that position from 1895 to 1897. The remaining forty-eight years Rev. Groensberg has spent in Oakland and San Francisco, the greater part of the time as pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran Church in San Francisco. For several years he has been in charge of the Scandinavian Seaman's Mission of San Francisco.

Second Meeting of Alumni Group Held

Program Includes Group of Piano Numbers, Pep Songs, Reading

The second meeting of the newly organized Alumni Association was held Friday evening, November 2, at 8:00 o'clock. There were about thirty-five members and guests present.

A short program included a group of piano solos by Mrs. Tingelstad, singing of pep songs by the club, and reading of two letters, one from Hanna Anderson, '29, president of the Edison Alumni Association, and one from Art Oylen, '27, president of the Paulsbo Alumni Association.

A constitution was adopted during the short business session, and it was decided that the meetings should be held the second Friday of every month. The next meeting will be on December 12.

Refreshments were served by the executive committee.

Final Dramatic Turndowns Held

Final Dramatic Club turndowns were held at 12:30 Monday. Those admitted were Harold Gray, Eric Hauke, Banky Johnson, Ruth Norgaard, Millard Quake, Jesse Flugees, Alberta Schmitz, and John Vernon. The club membership now numbers 28.

Three Represent Pacific at W. S. C.

Delegates Enjoy Conference Of Lutheran Student Association

With fifty-two delegates in attendance, the third annual Pacific Regional Conference of the Lutheran Student Association of America met at the State College of Washington, November 28 to 30. Ida Hinderlie, Ruth Brown, and Walter Young represented Pacific Lutheran College at the convention.

Inspirational lectures and papers by pastors and students made up the program for the first two days, with tours and banquets furnishing recreation for the delegates. On Sunday there were Bible classes and devotional services.

The party from P. L. C. was taken to Kent on Thursday afternoon by Dr. Tingelstad. At Kent they met Rev. Foss, who drove them the rest of the way. The first night was spent at Ellensburg, the second at Spokane, and Saturday morning saw the party at Pullman, just in time to attend the first meeting. On the way back after the convention, the P. L. C. delegates had the pleasure of getting a flat tire, losing their way and running over half the jack-rabbits in that country.

New officers elected at the business session were: President, Verna Jensen of the University of Washington; Vice president, Arthur Jerstad of Washington State College; recording secretary, Edith Ackerman; corresponding secretary, Georgia Johnson of the College of Puget Sound; adviser, Reverend Svenson of the First Lutheran Church of Tacoma.

Organize Hi School Literary Society

A meeting was held Tuesday, November 25, for the purpose of organizing a high-school literary society. Temporary officers elected for this club are: Walter Young, chairman, and Miriam Larson, secretary. A committee is being drawn up a constitution was also selected.

According to Mr. Hong, adviser, the purpose of this club is to promote interest in literary and dramatic work and Parliamentary law. Fifteen students turned out for the first meeting, and several more are expected to join. Membership in the Dramatic Club will not hinder one's joining this society.

FRANCES JANE LAVIN, WALTER YOUNG ARE MAIN CHARACTERS

Marie Vandinburg, John Vernon Also Lead; Hauge, Taylor, Kreidler Judge Tryouts; Date of Presentation Not Decided

Tentative characters for the all-college play, "Broken Dishes," have been chosen. Juvenile leads will be filled by Frances Jane Lavin and John Vernon; character leads, by Marie Vandinburg and Walter Young.

The complete cast includes: Jonny, wife of Cyrus and mother of three girls, Marie Vandinburg; Myra, first daughter and about thirty years old, Edith Larson; Mable, twenty-six, placid and dull, Marie Orndal; Elaine, about twenty, Frances Jane Lavin; Cyrus, the father, Walter Young; Bill Clark, John Vernon; Sam Green, a neighbor, Eric Hauke; Reverend Stump, Clarence Monson; Chester Armstrong, Sankey Johnson; Quinn, an officer, Alvene Schiermann.

Judges for the tryouts which were held at six-thirty Tuesday evening, were Mrs. Taylor, dramatic club adviser, Mrs. Kreidler, and Mr. Hauge.

The date of presentation has not yet been definitely decided, but will undoubtedly be either the latter part of January or the first part of February.

In brief, the play tells the story of the Bumpstead family. For thirty years Mrs. Bumpstead has nagged her husband. In and out of season she barks at him, her disappointment that she married a weakling and a failure instead of the grand young man Chester whom she had loved, but who went away to the big city and became rich.

Cyrus decides to help his younger daughter Elaine, to get married to a grocer's boy that she may escape the weight of our sniffs that Mrs. Bumpstead steadily lays down. He cheerfully undertakes to wash the supper dishes when Mrs. Bumpstead and the two elder daughters depart for an evening at the movies. First he goes to a lodge meeting, however, and comes home beaming with the spirit of the occasion. He keeps silent when a sheff comes hunting for Chester, the girl who has happened along and is in hiding. Chester turns out to be a crooked promoter, a gold-brick purveyor, and an all-round rascal, who has spent much of his life in jail. He would break Jenny's heart to find that out. Cyrus says in explaining why he made no effort to get the ten thousand dollars reward that had been offered by the police on Chester, Elaine carries the grocery boy, and the play ends with an indication of future peace for Cyrus.

Nine Students to Debate This Year

Prospects for Successful Season Bright, Four Lettermen Out

As a result of debate tryouts held Wednesday night, the varsity debate squad was announced by Mr. Hauge, debate coach. The five women and four men who comprise this year's squad are: Ruth Norgaard, Ruth Jacobson, Marie Vandinburg, Evelyn Arneson, Dagny Hjermstad, Olaf Hagenes, Morris Ford, John Johnson and Earl Percival.

Mr. Hauge is very enthusiastic about the prospects for debate this year. Work will begin immediately on the inter-collegiate question of debate this year. Resolved: that the nations should adopt a policy of free trade.

Marie Vandinburg, Ruth Norgaard, Ruth Jacobson and Olaf Hagenes are lettermen from last year's Varsity squad.

Audience Spellbound By Talented Speaker

Early in November, 1930, a small, gray-haired man spoke before an assembly of college students. His topic was the Passion Play. The speaker was soon forgotten. The audience sat spellbound. In imagination we went to the quaint little town of Oberammergau. One by one the players filed past. Jesus, Judas, Iscariot, Mary, Martha, and the others.

A few more words from the speaker and we saw the play in progress. People from all parts of the world were there, fitting in strangely with the majestic, mountainous background. The nations of the world were humbly watching the reproduction of the life of the One that they all worshiped. The speaker went on, and we saw the people walking slowly home. A silent crowd they were, each too busy with his own thoughts to speak aloud. When the speaker finished his talk, we, too, were silent. With the magic word, "Oberammergau," on our lips, we left the building.

Thanksgiving Boxes Distributed to Poor

Three poor families of Parkland had a much happier Thanksgiving than they had anticipated. Wednesday evening a large box of groceries was taken to each house, and the people were told that it was from the Pacific Lutheran College.

Tears came to the eyes of an elderly lady as a box was set on the table in front of her; a jump was in her throat as she said, "We wouldn't have had a Thanksgiving dinner. We've been eating just apples and potatoes for the last two months."

The other people were in practically the same circumstances. Each family was very grateful for the things given to it.

The Mission Society, the organization which planned and distributed the gifts, thanks all those who contributed to their fund.

The committee in charge was Walter Young, president of the Mission Society, Pauline Schlerman, Ervin Damhold, Carl Staats, and Margaret Parsh.

Rev. Groenesterg has tendered his resignation, effective January 1, 1931, because of declining health. He will be succeeded by Rev. A. H. Thorsen of Portland, Oregon.

Rev. Groenesterg sent greetings to his friends in Parkland and P. L. C. On Sunday evening, November 23, Doctor Tingelstad brought greetings to the San Francisco congregation served by the Reverend B. H. J. Habel, which was celebrating its sixtieth anniversary, November 16-23.

In the interest of a trip to California by one of our music organizations, Doctor Tingelstad appeared before the Northern Pastoral Conference in San Francisco. Most of the advice was to the effect that an organization smaller than the choir be sent to California this year, but that the choir should concentrate on a trip to Chicago to the Young People's Luther League, if any long trip is possible in this year of financial depression. Some of the pastors, however, definitely advised the choir to come to California.

Dr. Tingelstad returned from his ten-day trip Wednesday, November 25. While in California he visited the homes of several former and present students and brings greetings from them to the students here.

PROF. SPEAKS AT MISSION MEETING

Professor A. W. Ramstad was the speaker at the Mission Society meeting held November 25, 1930. He spoke about "Qualifications Essential in a Missionary." If an individual does not have the qualifications he will not have the success with the work that he ought to have. It is very difficult for people going out as missionaries to a foreign land to become acquainted with an entirely different country and people.

The other number on the program was a vocal solo by Anna Mikkelson accompanied at the piano by Marie Omdal.

The Mission Society has decided to support a student in Madagascar. It also had charge of giving a Thanksgiving basket to a poor family in Parkland.

MR. SANTA CLAUS COMES HERE EARLY

Tuesday the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation held its December meeting in the form of a Christmas party at the home of Professor and Mrs. Edwards. Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Haug entertained.

The program consisted of readings by Frances Barr and the singing of Christmas carols by the girls. The rest of the afternoon was spent in exchanging gifts and playing games. One of the important and interesting events was the distributing of year books which contain the programs for the remainder of this year.

Chapel Talk

"And as Jesus passed by He saw a man which was blind from his birth."

And His disciples asked Him saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that was born blind?

Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh when no man can work.

As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

When he had thus spoken, He spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and He anointed the eyes of the blind man with clay.

And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

Jesus is passing by now as we are entering into this new year of grace. Jesus' no doubt sees many who are spiritually blind.

There are certain questions that we should ask ourselves that are suggested by this event in the life of Jesus. God has some purpose to accomplish in the life of each of us. Jesus knew why He was in the world. He said, "I must work the works of Him that sent me." There was no question in His mind as to the reason He was in the world.

Each of us should find out if we are doing God's will in all our undertakings. When we have found God's purpose for us, we should pray Him for strength to do our work. When Jesus told the blind man to wash the clay from his eyes, the man obeyed.

The result was a great blessing to him, but the man also had to suffer persecution after his healing.

If we obey Jesus, we get blessed, but we may also be misunderstood. Jesus ask Him, "Am I doing thy will, oh, Lord?" and find the answer in his Word.

Parkland News

The enthusiasm shown by members of the Parkland Parent-Teacher Association in their child welfare work insures another year of promise.

Several objects are now well under way. A P. T. A. bookshelf for parents and teachers is being erected, many new books have been purchased for the school library. A new photograph and music memory concert records make it possible for the school children to take part in the county music memory contest.

Hot lunches are again being served by the association this year. Mrs. L. M. McClanahan, head of cafeteria, serves substantial foods properly prepared. Since the use of P. T. A. funds make it possible to serve the very best foods at 3 cents a dish, it is available to all the boys and girls at school.

Mrs. E. A. Norton, president, is assisted by the following officers and department heads: Vice-president, Mrs. Ralph Sherrill; Secretary, Mrs. J. Meyer; Treasurer, Mrs. H. J. Cox; program chairman, Mrs. Carl Ostlund; hospital, Mrs. Leonard Brotton; health, Mrs. W. L. Gray; P. T. A. scrap book, Miss Ruth Swanson; recreation, Mrs. O. J. Stuen; hospitality, Mrs. Paul Proman; and publicity, Miss Alice Greibrok.

After each association meeting a large framed picture is given to the grade that is best represented by parents.

Seven Lettermen To Form Nucleus Of Hoop Quintet

Squad Cut to Seventeen After Two Nights of Practice; Many Games Booked With College Teams

With a schedule which promises to be one of the best in the history of the College being arranged, basketball activities opened Monday afternoon with the first turnout. Plans are being made for games with the following schools: 2 games each with C. P. S. reserves, Mount Vernon, Yakima, Aberdeen, Centralia Junior College, Ellensburg and Cheney Normal, and Spokane University. In an extensive trip eight out team will see action against Ellensburg, Yakima, Cheney, and Spokane and will meet these teams a second time on our home floor. In addition to these games there will be several practice games held with the industrial teams of Tacoma. This year all high-school games have been dropped from the schedule, and nothing but colleges will be played.

The turnout of some 35 men which swung into action Monday was cut to a squad of 17, Tuesday, in order that more intensive training may be put in for the coming season. The remaining group will make up the second squad and will also have regular practice periods.

Those who make up the first string are: S. Johnson, Leque, Palo, Scott, C. Monson, Finesse, Dahl, Sherman, Carlson, Hauke, Sanderson, Schierman, Oray, Sydow, F. Terry, Thostenson, and Trulson.

Ramstad to Coach Girls' Basketball

Six Letter-Winners Turning Out This Year; Prospects Are Encouraging

Excitement reigned in the gymnasium on the afternoon of Monday, November 24, when it was announced that Mr. A. W. Ramstad would coach girls' basketball this year, and that practice would commence at once. Mr. Ramstad has had a great deal of experience as a coach. He coached the boys' teams for several years and three years ago also coached girls' basketball.

There will be keen competition for the various positions on the first team, as many are turning out. Six lettermen have returned, forming a nucleus for this year's squad, and there are many others who have made good showings. The six lettermen who have returned are: Pauline Larson, Evelyn Monson, Alice Roe, Eleanor Dahlberg, Eleanor Lothius and Thora Rasmussen.

Stuen-Palo Will Play For Honors

Prof. Edwards Takes First Flight Championship; Schiermann Defeated

Because of vacations, inclement weather, and other activities, play has been slow in the golf tournament, but has finally reached the championship match which will be between B. Palo and O. J. Stuen. B. Palo has a lead of 3 up on Stuen at the end of the first nine holes of the 36 hole match. It is expected that play will be completed in this division by Saturday at the latest.

Professor Stuen won the right to play in the finals by virtue of his 3-2 defeat of S. Johnson. First flight honors went to J. O. Edwards when he defeated Schiermann 6-4 in the wind-up play of that section.

Unusual Entertainment Promised Sophomores

Although details of the plans for the sophomore party, which is to be held on the evening of December 12, are not to be known, the plans themselves are progressing rapidly under the direction of the host and hostess, Olaf Hagness and Marie Vandenberg. The affair promises to be unusual, and college sophomores may well look forward to it with anticipation.

Sport Slants

By Harold Gray

Basketball Once again we hear the thud of the basketball as it bounces from the backboard. With the memories of the grid sport still lingering but faintly in the minds of the Gladiator athletes, intensive practice in the hoop sport has been in for the 1930-31 season. Coach Olson's second year at the College has proved more than successful so far, athletically speaking, and to all indications the records in basketball this year will be no less successful.

Experienced material will not be lacking as seven lettermen will be back to form the nucleus of the squad. An eighth man is back but will not be able to turn out because of doctor's orders. Besides these, several reserve men will be back, and several new prospects who have seen experience in the high schools they came from.

Sankey Johnson, forward, "Red" Carlson, center, Ben Palo, Bill Nyman, Arnie Thostenson, Clarence Monson and Alvenc Schiermann, guards are the experienced men who are turning out regularly. About thirty men donned their uniforms for Coach Olson's first call on Monday night. By the end of the week they will be divided so that more time can be devoted by Mr. Olson to the first team.

To date many games have been scheduled this year which will no doubt keep the Gladiators busy throughout the whole season. If many more tilts are booked it looks like the men will be kept busy until late in the summer. Games will be played with Centralia Junior College, Grays Harbor Junior College, Mt. Vernon Junior College, Ellensburg Normal, C. P. S. Reserves, Cheney Normal, Spokane University, Whitworth College, Yakima Junior College and possibly Bellingham Normal. Two games will be played with most of these teams.

If you will notice the schedule, you will see that no games will be played with high school teams. This will undoubtedly raise the prestige of the school so that from now on, all of our games will be scheduled with teams of college class.

A friend of mine remarked to me the other day that he did not think that Washington State College is a fair representative of the West to play Alabama at the Rose Bowl Festival at Pasadena on New Year's Day. He based his claims on the fact that Washington State beat Washington 3 to 0, and Southern California defeated the Huskies 26 to 0. There is quite a difference in those scores, I will have to admit, but the more I have looked at scores, I have come to the conclusion that they don't mean anything. I think the Cougars will make just as strong a showing against Alabama as any other Western team would. It will undoubtedly be a defensive game and the total score should be below twenty.

It has occurred more than once that a certain team will defeat another team by six or seven touchdowns, and the defeated team will beat another team by a large score, and that defeated team will turn around and wallop the first team.

It is unfortunate that we could not play C. P. S. varsity this year in a regular game as I think we could hold them to a close score. We beat Centralia Junior College and Centralia Normal, Columbia University, Ellensburg Normal beat us 26 to 13 and Bellingham Normal considered themselves fortunate to get beat by Ellensburg by only 26 to 0. But then we can't base anything definite on scores. I hope that Gladiator teams will play the Loggers in all the major sports next year. We have played them in baseball for the past several years and have furnished them real opposition, defeating them several times.

There has been some talk among the athletes on the subject of track. Track has never held a major place in the athletic activities of this school, but I think it should be included in the sport curriculum as soon as possible. If track is adopted, baseball will probably have to be dropped as there are not enough men in the school to have both going on the same time. And another thing, the coaching would be a problem.

It is the general opinion that this step should be taken this year, and if the authorities in charge think it feasible, I think the school will benefit by it. We have several men in the school who have real ability along this line and I think we could make an excellent showing for the first year. As a rule among the colleges, and even high schools, in this part of the country, baseball is being given less and less attention all the time, and even in some places it is being dropped entirely. Even here, less interest has been shown every year for the past few years.

This Friday night in the Tacoma Hotel a banquet is being given for the football squad, and lettermen in other sports, by Coach Olson. I think this is very considerate of Mr. Olson, as he has spent a good deal of time and has given his best to make the grid team the wonderful machine that it was. An honorary captain for the entire year will be elected.

Twenty-two men will get letters in football this year. Eight of these are backfield men and the remaining fourteen played line positions. Those who made a name for the Gladiator football team this year and will receive emblems are as follows: Sankey Johnson, Arnold Thostenson, Olaf Hagness and Harry Southworth, ends; Walter Young, Earl F. Terry, Delmar Mortenson and Caslein Knaplund, tackles; Alvenc Schiermann, Fred Scheel, Smith Campbell and Erwin Damm, guards; John Fadness and Cecil Scott, centers; Bill Nyman and Eric Hauke, quarterbacks; Evans Carlson, Myron Leque, Bernard Palo and Lyl Sanderson, halfbacks; Jack Lisherness and Marvin Ware, fullbacks.

It has been the custom of the College for the past few years to have an inter-class basketball tournament before the varsity begin playing its scheduled games. These should be run off within the next week as the team will start playing before the Christmas Holidays. There is a sufficient number turning out this year to give each class a good team. It will probably be divided into three groups again: high school, college freshmen and college sophomores.

After this issue of the Mooring Mast, another person will take charge of the sports of this paper and write this column, namely, Harry Southworth. Harry has had experience in writing sports this year and has written many of the stories that have appeared on this page and will give you the same information that I have tried to give. I have tried to do my best to make this sport page peppy and interesting, and I hope that I have been, in a measure, successful.
