China Conference Attracts Speaker

Another Asian scholar has added his name to the list of speakers scheduled to appear at PLU's West Coast China Conference Feb. 23 and 24.

Dr. Kuang-huan Fan, assistant professor of political science at the University of Idaho, announced last week that he would appear at the conference to speak on the recent Chinese Cultural Revolution.

Dr. Fan

A native of Formosa, Dr. Fan has specialized his education in the field of Far Eastern politics and government. As a result of his continuous interest in Communist China's behavior in international affairs, he has written a book on the Cultural Revolution that will be published this Spring.

Fan will join three other top Asian scholars at PLU's two-day conference. Dr. John Stoessinger, executive director of the doctoral program in political science at the City University of New York, and Dr. George Taylor, director of the University of Washington's Far Eastern and Russian Institute, were scheduled earlier, along with Charles Burchill, a faculty member at the Royal Roads Military Academy in Victoria, B. C.

Community Confab Set

The third in a series of four Conferences on Community Planning is being hosted by PLU on its campus Friday. Richard Albracht, chairman of the King County Freeholders, will be the main speaker. Dr. Lowell Culver and Dr. T.H. Langevin of PLU will also speak at sessions in Xavier Hall.

ONE OF THESE, PLEASE--John Arbaugh, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Arbaugh, helps his father select a half-time treat at PLU's last home basketball game.

Cheryl Salzman, daughter of the Mark Salzmans, is coming home Saturday from Concordia College (Minn.) where she is a freshman . . . she is starting her mid-semester break a week early because of an attack of mononucleosis which has hospitalized her .

A gift of $47,000 for the endowment fund was received by the PLU board of regents at its two-day meeting which concluded here Wednesday evening.

Einer Knutzen, regent from Burlington, presented the gift from the estate of his late father, Chris Knutzen.

The regents adopted an operating budget for 1968-69 of $5,411,700, which includes an increase of $169,150 for faculty salaries. No tuition increase is planned.

In submitting the budget, A. Dean Buchanan, vice president for business and finance, stated that two items were well above national averages for educational institutions. The library will receive five and one-half percent of the educational and general budget, and the instructional program 51 percent.

To improve the teaching program and to meet the needs of a growing enrollment, nine new faculty positions were authorized for next year. These will be in the fields of biology, business administration, chemistry, education, Spanish, physical education, mathematics and music (two).

President Robert Mortvedt reported that enrollment for the second semester of this school year is the largest in the school's history for a second term. Unofficial statistics show a full-time registration of 1,980 students and close to 700 part-time students, he said.

Full-time enrollment for the fall semester was 2,074 and over 50 of them were seniors who have completed their college careers. Last year the full-time registrants for the spring term numbered 1,834.

Four faculty members were granted leaves for next year so that they can do graduate and post-doctoral study. Dr. Burton T. Ostenson, biology, was granted a sabbatical leave. Those granted special leaves include Grace E. Blomquist, English; Branton K. Holmberg, psychology; and Dr. Philip A. Nordquist, history.

It was reported that 315 new students have been accepted for the fall semester. J. E. Danielson, director of admissions, stated that this is 104 more acceptances than last year at the same date.

Exterior improvements to the physical education complex on the lower campus were authorized. These include the addition of one athletic field and the upgrading of existing ones, the addition of parking lots, landscaping, lighting and fencing. These improvements are to be made in conjunction with the construction of the Clifford O. Olson Physical Education Auditorium Building which is due to be completed in January, 1969.

DOWN ON WEEDS--Dr. Roy Schwarz headed the panel of anti-smokers Wednesday at PLU.

Butt That Smoke Suggests Panel

The evils of smoking were displayed before the eyes of students and faculty alike Wednesday when a distinguished group of alumni banded together to condemn the popular habit.

The nature of the smoking problem and the effects of tar and nicotine on a person's health were outlined. And if that didn't do the trick, the panel discussed the moral and philosophical aspects.

Two Faculty Members Perform This Friday

Two Pacific Lutheran University music faculty members will be featured this week at Friday Noon Music at 12:30 p.m., in Eastvold Auditorium.

Kathryn Strickland will accompany soprano Charlotte Garretson on five Greek folk songs, and will perform a selection of Brahms' pieces on the piano.

Miss Strickland will sing "Song for the Bride;" "Yonder at the Church," "What Dandy Can Compare With Me?" and "Song of the Girls Gathering Pistachios."

Miss Garretson will play Brahms' intermezzo in both A minor and major, and Ballade in G minor.

Open Physics Talks Slated Next Monday

Two public lectures in physics will be given Monday, Feb. 19, when Kwangjai Park of the department of physics at the University of Oregon is on the PLU campus as a visiting professor.

The Oregon teacher is sponsored by the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics.

His first lecture will be at 4:30 p.m., in room 108 of Ramstad Hall, and the topic is "Two Photon Processes - absorption spectroscopy." It is intended for mature audiences.

At 7:30 p.m., in the same room, Park will speak on "What Is a Laser." This lecture will be of interest to the general public as it doesn't require a broad understanding of physics and chemistry.

Park is a native of Korea, and a graduate of Harvard College. He received his doctorate in physics from the University of California, Berkeley.

Linfield - PLU

Battle Of Giants Looms

The giants of the Northwest Conference meet Friday and Saturday to determine who rightfully belongs at the head of the league.

Linfield is at the top now, and it deserves to be there. Its only league loss came as an upset at Salem. PLU has also lost to Linfield, and it wasn't one of those games that could have gone either way.

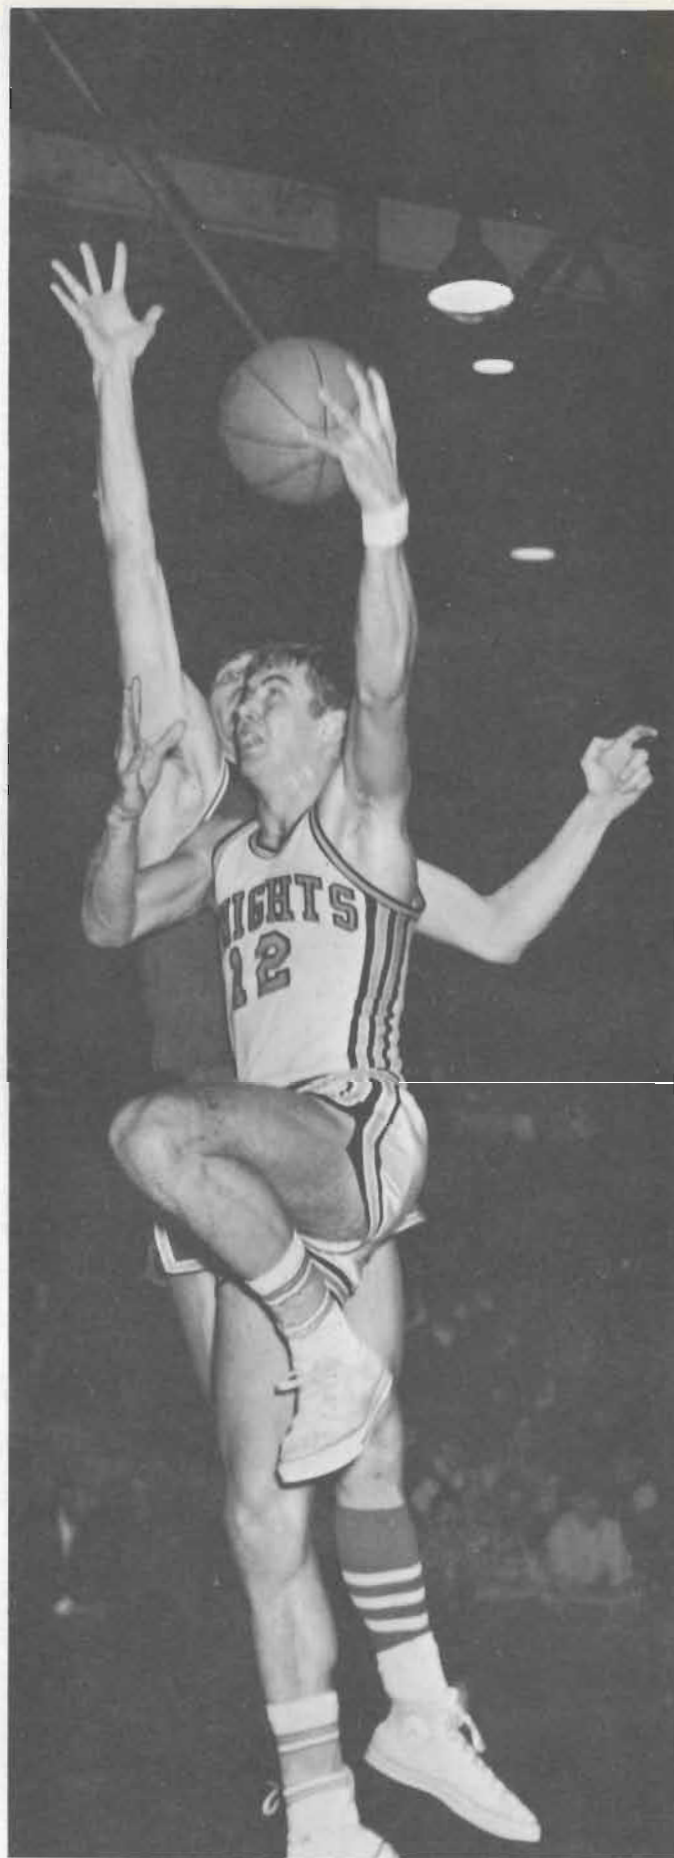

Although it is listed on top of the conference, Linfield is really at the bottom. The winning-losers don't have a chance of claiming the league championship because they are being punished by the conference for breaking rules.

So actually PLU doesn't have to worry about winning the games as long as it stays in second place. There is a risk, however, that by losing two games to Linfield, and possibly one or two games while over at Whitman and College of Idaho; Willamette might sneak into second place.

Thus you might say the Lutes have two reasons for winning this weekend: to repay the Wildcats for a previous loss, and to insure a conference championship.

Senior Dennis Buchholz led the Lutes in their past two games, and he is maintaining his 17 points per game average. Following him is sophomore Lee Sinnes (16.2) and sophomore Al Kollar (16). Sinnes has dumped in the most points, 308, followed by Buchholz with 306, and Kollar with 305. Tom Meeks, junior college transfer, is fourth-high scorer with a total of 144 points.

Kollar continues to be the team's top rebounder, with a 11.5 average. Another center, Gary Peterson, is pacing the squad in free throws with a .916 average.

GO GROTH--Top reserve Ron Groth sinks one.

KNIGHTLETTER - FACULTY SUPPLEMENT

RELEASE FEBRUARY 1968

1968 Summer Seminar in Indian History and Political Institutions

Fifteen Fulbright-Hays awards are offered to American college teachers of history and political science for participation in an intensive seminar on India. The Seminar, to be conducted for six weeks from approximately July 1 through August 15, will involve group travel to several Indian university and cultural centers and will include a series of lectures and interviews interpreting both historical India and the current social, economic and political scene.

The awards will cover tuition and round-trip travel between the United States and India. The grantee will be responsible for his personal expenses en route to and from India and for a Seminar fee of $500 payable to the United States Educational Foundation in India to assist in meeting the costs of the Seminar, including administrative, program and grantee maintenance expenses. Inasmuch as the program is designed to enhance the grantee's teaching qualifications, it is hoped that his home institution will seriously consider providing all or part of the $500 Seminar fee.

Applicants must be United States citizens. Awards are specifically for undergraduate teachers, preferably persons under thirty-five who hold a doctorate, who have not had significant previous experience in Asia, and who are trying to develop or improve course offerings in Indian studies. Applications, including supporting references, should be submitted by March 15, 1968. Additional information and application forms may be obtained from the Committee on International Exchange of Persons, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20418.

E. M. Akre

Mr. Arne Pederson, Director of Teacher Placement, has received from Mr. E. J. Oakland, Director of Personnel of Seattle Community College an indication that when he is on campus for interviews on February 20, 1968, from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. in Room A227 Conference Room, he would be happy to talk to candidates interested in community college teaching in all subject areas involved with the college parallel program. He would also like to talk with candidates who would be interested in counseling and other student personnel services, librarians, adult education programs, and administrative personnel in community colleges. If there are graduate advisers whose students are candidates for the Master's degree and who appear interested in community college teaching, it would be well if you would refer the names of these students to Mr. Pederson. There is a sign up sheet in the School of Education, or if the candidates are interested they should make an appointment with Mr. Pederson.
