Roger Wagner Choral Appears in Concert

The Roger Wagner Chorale, widely recognized as America's finest singing group, will appear in concert in the Chapel-Music-Speech Building Thursday evening, January 18, at 8:00 p.m. The program will be sponsored by Student Artist Series.

Roger Wagner, founder and director of the famous Chorale, was chosen in 1945 as supervisor of youth choruses for the city of Los Angeles Bureau of Music. With a madrigal group of twelve voices as a nucleus, he trained the larger group that became, officially in 1947, the Roger Wagner Chorale.

Within two years the Chorale was nationally famous for its performances on Capitol Records and appearances at the Hollywood Bowl and with the Los Angeles Philharmonic. Since that time, it has traveled extensively in Europe and South America, as well as in the United States with great success. Leopold Stokowski has called the Chorale "second to none in the world," and Eugene Ormandy described it as "the finest chorus I have ever directed."

In addition to his work with the Chorale, Roger Wagner is recognized as a prominent authority on religious music of the Medieval and Renaissance periods, and was awarded a Doctor of Music degree from the University of Montreal. He also has achieved distinction as a lecturer on choral music and has presided over seminars in advanced choral conducting at the University of California at Los Angeles, is director of choral music at the school and head of the choral department at Marymount College in Los Angeles. He is also well known as a composer and arranger.

The program will include a variety of selections ranging from great religious music of the Renaissance period to folk songs, spirituals, and other familiar airs.

Sally Terri, soprano soloist with the Chorale, is an extremely versatile musician; she sings every kind of music except grand opera. Folk songs, however, are closer to her heart, and critics have commented that it is in these centuries-old songs of the people that she finds her true forte.

Other programs in this year's Artist Series will include the Seattle Symphony and a dramatic presentation.

Student Fees Raised

At Tuesday's Student Body Convocation a business meeting of the ASPLU was held. During this meeting it was proposed, voted on, and passed by the students that fees next year should be raised $1.00, and that these funds be used for the operation of the student government.

It was further decided by popular vote that the Mooring Mast be allocated 50c per student per semester. After these resolutions the meeting was opened by President Charles Mays for discussion, and the subject of compulsory class attendance was brought up and discussed. The meeting was adjourned due to lack of time, but it was decided because of student interest in the subject that another session will be called in the future.

'Knight-Kap' Presented by Junior Class

Jerry Sun and his Quintet will be presented by the Junior class on "Knight-Kap," a program similar to the well accepted "Knight-Beat," presented earlier. Curtain time is 7:45, January 12, in Chris Knutzen Fellowship Hall.

Jerry Sun graduated from Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, majoring in music. Hollywood is his home.

He has performed at major colleges in Southern California as well as appearing at the Statler Hotel. He has also made movies with Jerry Lewis, Roberta Linn, and the De Castro Sisters.

His quintet features Perry Allen and has recorded for Hollywood Epic Recording Company the following songs: "Misty," "Flower Drum Song," "Mood for Love," "Take Five," and other progressive jazz numbers.

Jeff Probatfield, Walt Huber, and Bill Peterson are in charge of arrangements, Judy Perry is publicity chairman and Mike McIntyre is the general chairman of the presentation.

Admission is 50c.

Helstrom-Stewart 1st In Treasure State Tourney; Squads Prepare for SPC

Pacific Lutheran University debaters took first place in the Treasure State Tournament held last week-end on the campus of Montana State College in Bozeman.

The senior men's debate team of John Stewart and Richard Helstrom went through the entire tourney undefeated to capture the first place trophy in their division. Helstrom scored again when he went through Lincoln-Douglas (one-man) debate without a single defeat, to capture another first-place award.

In other honors, John Stewart won second place in Senior Men's Oratory, and the Junior Men's team of Gordon Gray and Stan Trom took third place with a record of four wins and two losses. Over fifteen schools participated in the tournament. When results were given, PLU ranked first over Concordia College in Moorhead, Minnesota, our sister school, who placed second.

In other debate and forensic activities, 21 PLU students left this morning for Seattle to participate in the Seattle Pacific College Invitational Tournament. Included in the group were Senior debaters Richard Helstrom, John Stewart, Ron Swift, Merle Overland, Norma Dayhoff, Joan Maier and Jan Dyer. Participants in Junior Division events were Marsha Sheldon, Ruth Pettit, Ruth Ellis, Sandy Ellingson, Dick Finch, Larry Hitterdale, Dave Stein, Keith Swenson, Peggy Ogden, Jim Snyder, Stan Trom, Gordon Gray, Jeanette Baker and Kathy Wynstra.

Debates will revolve around the National Debate Topic for the year which is the subject of anti-trust legislation being applied to labor organizations. The teams of Helstrom and Stewart, Dayhoff and Maier, Swift and Overland, Sheldon and Pettit, Ellis and Ellingson, Finch and Hitterdale, Stein and Swenson, Trom and Gray will compete in this event.

The group will also participate in various speech events which include Oratory, Impromptu Speaking, Extemporaneous Speaking, After Dinner Speaking, Interpretative Reading, Radio Speaking, and Discussion.

Prof. T. O. H. Karl, PLU debate coach; Stanley D. Eberson of the Speech Department faculty, and Mrs. Judi Sannerude accompanied the group. Over 25 schools throughout the northwest were expected for the two-day tournament.

Four PLU Students Injured Returning From Skiing Trip

Saturday afternoon, January 6, four PLU students were returning from a skiing trip at White Pass. One-half mile west of Packwood, the car, driven by Bryan Childs, crashed into an automobile driven by Donald West. West died enroute to the hospital.

The PLU passengers in Childs' car were: Karen Lathus, who received a broken leg and bruises, and Ken Johnson, who sustained cuts, bruises, and possible internal injuries. Bob Julio was released with cuts and bruises, as was Childs.

Council Discusses Raising of Fees

At the ASPLU Student Council's first meeting of the new year the idea of raising student fees was discussed, and then brought before the student body last Tuesday for a vote. They suggested that the fee for student government be raised $1.00 and the Mooring Mast fee be raised 50c per semester. It was felt that this raise would mean a better operating student government and newspaper.

It was decided that a meeting would be held tomorrow evening at 10:50 to work on the rewriting and revision of the ASPLU Constitution.

The idea of a professors exchange with other schools in the Evergreen Conference was discussed and several professors' names were suggested by Council members to be asked to represent PLU in this program.

Four Freshman girls attended the meeting, which is open to everyone, and the rest of the time was taken up in discussion of student conduct on this campus.

Co-Rec will be held as usual in the Gym, 7:30 to 9:30.

Ski Club will be selling Almond Roca in the dorms through Thursday, as well in the CUB during the day.

Spurs will meet at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday in GMS-250.

Curtain Call will have a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Radio Studio.

Treasurers will meet at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in the small dining room.

"Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" will be presented by Campus movies Friday night in "Blushing Color." The famed movie stars Jane Powell and Howard Keel. Saturday night, Tony Curtis as "The Great Impostor" will co-star with Carl Malden (as Father Devlin), Edmond O'Brien and Arthur O'Connell.

Student directories are available now from AMS Council members, or in the bookstore.

Finals will be held from January 29 through February 3. Semester breaks will last until February 7.

February 8 the Michigan State Friars will appear here. They will sing barbershop tunes and traditional college songs.

Governor Albert D. Rosellini will appear in Student Body Convocations January 30.

The John Birch Society, which is meeting in Seattle this weekend, is being picketed by Seattle University students. Robert Welch, retired candy manufacturer, who is head of the society, is in Seattle heading this meeting. The meeting is closed and tickets can be bought only from members of the group.

"Knight-Kap" Brings Jerry Sun to PLU Stage

Disunity and Defeat--Our Destiny?

As we are at the beginning of a new year we look forward and wonder what it will bring; we also take a glance backward and are dismayed to see what a mess the world is in, and we ask "why?"

We try to conveniently forget our tragically inadequate and fumbling handling of the Korean conflict and the Hungarian Revolt. We reason that perhaps our mistakes served a purpose, maybe we learned from them. Yet, immediately we must admit that such is not the case in the face of the Berlin Crisis, the Congo Decolonization Problem, the spread of communism in Asia, our desertion of Laos and our subsequent retreat to Viet Nam. In all of these situations the Western World has been or is failing to operate successfully and effectively, consequently we are losing prestige and the respect of the rest of the world. Again we ask "why?"

Why? Because we are like four men all trying to push a stalled car, but each pushing from a different direction and not together, so they get nowhere. They hadn't worked together to attain their goal and this is exactly the problem of the free world today—it lacks unity. Each nation is more worried about its own well-being and interests than in preserving the freedom of mankind. We aren't big enough to see beyond our own petty interests, but degrade ourselves with bickering, disagreement and suspicion of each other. The leaders of the Western World are not working together in harmony—they are at odds over trivial matters and lose sight of the hope of world peace and freedom.

The outcome! If the nations of the Western World don't stop behaving like spoiled brats and learn to cooperate and work together, then we may have the fate Stalin predicted for us when he said, "The West will collapse from sheer weakness brought on by the errors and contradictions that grow inevitably from its basic disunity."

Winning The Peace Is A Lonely Battle

Although we are now well into the new year of 1962, I should like to wish every student and faculty member a blessed new year. With God's blessing, may it be one in which we strive together for a greater Pacific Lutheran University.

As we stand with the new year before us, we see many challenges and many uncertainties. But if we will grasp an idea for which we can work and then live each day as it comes, we shall be blessed with a most rewarding year. For many of us, this year will bring graduation, and with it all the things for which we have built the last four years. Many who graduate will get only a degree, for that is all they built for; others will be given a richer, richer life because they have sought more than a degree—they have sought to obtain a Christian education so that they might better serve their God and their fellow men. To those who will not graduate this year, you have the opportunity to strive to improve yourselves so that you may achieve the full reward of your education. But let each one of us remember to live this year a day at a time; today is certain, tomorrow is contingent. It is upon the foundation we lay today that we shall build all our tomorrows. It is the vocation of every student to lay well his educational foundation and this requires hard work NOW.

To move on to another subject: Next week, the Roger Wagner Choral will present a concert here on the Artist Series program. We have a crying need to improve our etiquette at such events and I would like here to share a few simple courtesies that we MUST show at any such performance:

First, this is a formal event and we must dress accordingly. Remember, the public judges the school by you; thus, your dress is important. Time of Program: programs always try to begin on time; but because too many of us don't arrive at the CMS until curtain time, there is too much confusion then to allow the performance to begin. This is just a simple courtesy we owe to those who will be giving us their best. No cameras: this means at any event in the CMS. If anyone takes a picture of the Choral, it will leave the stage and that will be the performance. It is again a courtesy we owe all performers. Opening of doors: first, fellows, be courteous to your dates. Being a gentleman never has hurt anyone. Secondly, everyone, don't come in to a performance during the middle of a number. This is very distracting to those on stage. If you haven't planned your timing well enough to get to the Series before curtain time, you should just figure that you'll have to wait until there is a break in the concert.

I don't want to seem like I am setting myself up as an expert in the field of etiquette, but these are simple courtesies which we, as people who are supposed to be mature college students, must show to our guests, whether they be performers or the general public. I believe that by showing a little courtesy, we will all enjoy every performance more.

Charles Mays,
ASPLU President.

Jim Gabrielsen Resigns Coaching Duties at PLU

'Gabe' Ends Four Year Stay; New Home To Be Minnesota

After four years as Pacific Lutheran varsity football and baseball coach, James D. Gabrielsen has submitted his resignation, to be effective at the end of this school year.

The offer was accepted by Dr. S. C. Eastvold, who is in California at the present time, by phone last Saturday. The PLU athletic director said that the school has no one in mind as "Gabe's" successor at the present time, but that the search for a replacement would begin at once.

Couch Gabrielsen is reported to have accepted an offer from a Minnesota industrial firm in the public relations field.

Along with his coaching duties, Gabrielsen is also assistant professor of Physical Education.

During his four years at PLU, Gabrielsen's football teams have managed to win only eight games, but have provided the fans with plenty of exciting football. Among the highlights of his time at PLU was the Lutes' 13-0 win over the University of Puget Sound in 1960. In that same year his baseball team topped the Western Division standings of the Evergreen Conference, but they were beaten in the playoffs by Whitworth. The Pirates went on to win the national championship that year.

"The opportunity to enter the business world opens up a new field in which I have always had an interest. The time to try it seems to be now," Gabrielsen said. "I have appreciated the many kindnesses shown me and my family by the administration."

JIM GABRIELSEN

Charles "Cap" Peterson Is Pro; To Head South for Spring Ball

It may surprise many of those who follow PLU athletics that one of the most promising baseball players ever to attend this university will not be wearing the black and gold when this year's baseball season rolls around. The individual in question is Charles "Cap" Peterson, who is just finishing his second semester at PLU. There is good reason for Cap's non-participation as he will once again be leaving at the end of this semester to attend the San Francisco Giants' professional spring training camp at Casa Grande, Arizona, in hopes of continuing his young future as a professional baseball player.

Cap graduated from Clover Park High School in 1960 after claiming honors not only as an all-star short-stop from Clover Park's championship baseball team, but also a letterman on the basketball courts. This 6'2", 190-pound youngster was immediately signed to a sizeable bonus by the Giants and since embarked on a professional baseball career. Shortly after, he broke in playing with the hometown Tacoma Giants against their parent Giants in an exhibition game and proceeded to lace out two solid hits against major league competition.

To gain experience, he was sent to Fresno of the class C California League where he showed fine promise, fielding flawlessly and hitting a solid .289.

With Christmas vacation over, many of the track men and baseballers have been getting in some early workouts. Ken Miller, Knight first baseman, can be found at the gym every night preparing for the coming season. . . . Probably the biggest recent news event is the resignation of head football coach Jim Gabrielsen. Without doubt the reaction to this announcement is varied, but no matter how people felt about the coaching success of Gabrielsen I think that the majority feel that PLU is losing a fine Christian man. Through his four year stay at Pacific Lutheran, Jim Gabrielsen made many friends and proved to be one of the most popular faculty members. The best of luck to him in his new chosen profession. . . . Starting at the guard spots together is no new experience to Jim Castleberry and Dick Nelson. Both Dick and Jim started for Richland High School in 1959 when Richland won the state tournament. . . . Big Dave Bottemiller, who earned a berth on the all-league football team, will turn his talents to baseball this spring. Dave, who was previously a high hurdler on the track team, will be out for first base on the Knight club. . . . Hans Albertson was ranked eighth in shooting percentage in the recent national basketball statistics for small colleges. . . . Be sure and attend the basketball game tomorrow night in the PLU gym; game time is 8:00 with the preliminary game starting at 6:00.

— The — Intramural Scene

So far my prediction that the Basement Trainers would be the team to beat is holding up. As of Tuesday night the Trainers held a 5-0 record with Evergreen next with a 4-2. One of Evergreen's defeats came at the hands of the Trainers, 42-35. Duane Meske led the scoring and hit 18 points, just short of his 18.5 points per game average, highest in the league to date.

Back in December Eastern was defeated by the Faculty 48-33. Paul Streen with 16 points was high point man for the Faculty while Gary Vestal was high for the game with 18 points. Third place Delta was defeated by Eastern 66-54. Jerry Curtis' high point total of 24 wasn't enough to carry Delta as Phil Pruski made up for all except three of Curtis' points. The Christmas "cheer" gained over the holidays must have given the Tippers of Third Floor just what they needed because on returning they defeated Western 41-37. Gary Sund and Jim Skurdall were high for the Tippers with 10 points each. Larry Flameo led the scoring for the game. Thursday night closed the first round of play.

STANDINGS FOR THE "A" LEAGUE

	Won	Lost
Basement Trainers	5	0
Evergreen	4	2
Delta	3	2
Third Floor Tippers	3	3
Western	2	3
Eastern	2	4
Faculty	1	4

In a hurry to head for home for the holidays, the Bostlyks trampled over the Evergreen Bombers 44-29. Nate Stine added 16 points to the Bostlyk score as he worked on his 17.6 points per game average. Dave Bottemiller led the bomber-out Bombers with 15. The Phantoms were put in the dark as the Rebs went through them by the score of 52-28. Bob Anderson led the Rebs with 21 points. The Bones shook off the Hustlers by the score of 51-43. Bob Moore and Dave Naas teamed up and scored a total of 30 points. Under the influence of the holiday season Gary Nikkari pumped in 17 points and led the Phantoms to a 39-35 victory over the T-Birds.

"B" LEAGUE STANDINGS

The undefeated Radicals showed the Finks why they are so tough. After trailing 22-18 at half time the Radicals outscored the Finks 34-15 in the second half and won with a final score of 52-33. So far this season the Radicals have outscored their opponents by a total of 212 to 168. The "old timers" are holding up quite well as they, the Vets, also are undefeated. 16 was the magic number for Jim Getchman as he led the Vets to a 50-35 victory over the Eastern C's. Jim Southall led the C's scoring with 12. Larry Farar and George Meudeking shared the scoring honors with 11 points each as the Squires nicely chopped down the Evergreen Trees 32-29.

"C" LEAGUE STANDINGS

	Won	Lost
Radicals	4	0
Vets	4	0
Finks	2	2
Trees	1	3
Squires	1	3
Eastern C	0	4

The Blazers really chose an appropriate name as they now lead the league with a 5-1 record. The Flunkies were scorched 55-32. Don Severson is leading the Blazers in scoring with 30 points this season. Don dumped in 18 against the Flunkies. The Delta Dions swished past the Drainers 36-34. At the end of the first half the Drainers were ahead 16-10. During the second half Bruce Bindel found the range and dumped in 16 points, helping his team to surge past the Drainers. The Viking-Squaffer game proved the two teams are as close as their season records, each having four victories and 1 defeat. At the end of the final minute it was the Vikings squeezing by the Squaffers 24-23. Dave Stein led the Viking scoring with an important 10 points. As in the days of long ago the Scribes showed their power as they defeated the Dions 37-24.

Lutes Beat Pirates, Lose to Eastern

Last Saturday night in Cheney the Lute five ran into a stiff zone defense thrown up by Eastern Washington State College and was defeated, 80-69.

The battle was close until the final minutes when the Savages began to go into a full court press.

The Lutes managed to out-rebound Eastern, but couldn't hit the basket when the going got rough.

The following night the Lutes rambled over the Whitworth Pirates, 79-72, in Spokane.

Albertson tied for the game's scoring honors, at 21 points, with Sophomore guard Marv Fredrickson. Fredrickson also had one of his best nights in the rebound department, as he picked off 13 in the first half.

Fredrickson Aids Lutes; Shooting Earns Praise

One of the strongest claimants to the team sharpshooting title in recent years is sophomore guard Marv Fredrickson. "Fred," as he is known to teammates and classmates, has the knack of firing in shots with uncanny accuracy from nearly anywhere on the court.

A graduate of Burlington-Edison High School, Marv is a very excellent all-around athlete, the kind that coaches seek eagerly. He lettered two years in football, 3 in basketball, and 3 years in baseball, simultaneously garnering numerous honors for himself. He was captain of the football team during his senior year, and one of the sparkplugs of his infield in baseball.

But his major claim to fame lies with basketball, and his ability to drop a ball through a hoop time after time. His junior year found him gaining all-conference and all-state honors; his senior year proved a repetition of all-conference and non-tourney all-state honors.

His first year at Pacific Lutheran proved somewhat of a disappointment to both Marv and the Lutes, for after 3 promising games, he was injured in a Puget Sound game and was forced to sit out the remainder of the year. However, by springtime he was fit again, and aided the track team with a fifth place finish in the conference javelin throw. And from the performances he has turned in during the beginning of this season, his basketball prospects look better than ever.

MARV FREDRICKSON

Lutes Meet Vikings In Conference Tilt

With one loss to Eastern Washington and one win over Whitworth, the Pacific Lutheran Knights will be out to improve their league record when it meets the Western Washington Vikings tomorrow evening at 8 in the gym.

So far in league play Western has downed the Eastern Washington five from Cheney and has lost to the Whitworth Pirates of Spokane, an exact reversal of the Knights' record. With this in mind tomorrow's game should prove to be a close battle from start to finish. Coach Lundgaard expects to start Dick Nelson and Jim Castleberry at the guards, Marv Fredrickson and Larry Poulson at forward, and Hans Albertson at the pivot position.

Academic Self-Study Under Way at PLU

The special PLU academic self-study, authorized by the Board of Regents and supervised by the Fund Fulfillment Corporation of Chicago, is now in the intensive research phase of its operation. This "grass roots stage" of PLU's introspection was activated recently when Dr. E. C. Knorr, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and General Chairman of the study, announced the appointment of a Central Steering Committee and the election of eight sub-committees.

Composed entirely of faculty members, this group is now in the midst of a thorough examination of the various phases of the school's academic life. The hope is that this long look at itself will enable the University to develop a stronger academic institution with a sounder relationship to the public it serves.

As Dr. Knorr says: "It is the general purpose of this study to build upon all previous achievements of the University, to clarify the general purposes of the institution, and to activate the educational channels and facilities to bring this about. It will attempt to bring about any suggested modifications intelligently, efficiently and in a planned manner. The committees try to pinpoint the basic problems of the school, list the outstanding strengths and weaknesses, attempt solutions if needed, consult agencies and people who will be able to give assistance, and seek in every way, academically, to be of better and greater service to the institution."

This present operation is actually the third in a sequence of nine aspects of the program. Basically, these lead from the understanding of a need for this study, through institutional problem solving and self-study coordination, to policy making and the creation of a new public image.

The Fund Fulfillment Corporation, under Dr. Williams and the University of Denver College of Arts and Sciences Dean, Dr. Perdue, is also conducting a study of the school that involves the evaluation of that done by the faculty and its own research at the school. Dr. Knorr sums up their duties by saying that it is their job to "guide, direct, and evaluate."

The work of this faculty group, and of the Fund Fulfillment Corporation, will be presented to the Board of Regents for whatever action it feels appropriate. The immediate conclusions will be reached by the end of this school year; further work will continue for five more years.

Dr. Knorr invites PLU faculty and students to help in this self-examination and encourages them to offer any pertinent suggestions or questions. Such matters may be brought to Dr. Knorr, who heads the whole operation; to the various committee meetings, to be held open for just that reason; or to the membership of the sub-committees.

The members of these committees are here listed as a convenience for those interested in dealing with any special aspect of the study.

PROFESSOR D. L. REYNOLDS

'My Work Is My Hobby'

(Editor's Note: The following is a continuation of the series featuring new faculty members at PLU.)

Mr. Reynolds is a new addition to the University and to the Department of English. He is a native of western Washington, having been born in Centralia, on August 29, 1929. Reynolds received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Washington State University in 1951. After serving with the Army, he obtained his Master of Arts degree in literature from the University of Washington. At the present he has completed the course requirements for his doctorate at the same school. His special interest area is the modern British novel.

When asked about interests and hobbies, Mr. Reynolds stated very plainly, "My work is my hobby." This is not to say that he has no outside interests, for he does quite a bit of hiking during the summers (he has been a park ranger at Mt. Rainier for six summers) and has a broad interest in art and music. Literature is a subject that deals with all aspects of human experience; in itself it is probably the most enriching of all courses of study. Mr. Reynolds also spends much of his extra time with his young boy of five.

Mr. Reynolds is very happy here at PLU; he has no reservations about the campus. He especially enjoys the contact with the students and the informal atmosphere. He also feels that Pacific Lutheran has a liberal amount of a quality that is tremendously essential to any educational institution. He states that "the academic freedom here is as great, if not greater, than the state-supported institutions."

We at PLU are very fortunate to have such a dedicated and bright young man as a member of our faculty.—D.L.

Henry Muyskens Joins Faculty

Coming to PLU with an extensive background of teaching in secondary schools and colleges is Henry H. Muyskens, assistant professor of mathematics.

Mr. Muyskens and his wife now live in Port Orchard, and have a son, Henry, and daughter, Ruth.

Born in Orange City, Iowa, he attended high school in Oak Harbor, Washington, then he received his BS at the University of Washington, his MS at the University of Michigan and his ScD at the same institution.

During his college years Mr. Muyskens belonged to such honoraries as Sigma Xi, Pi Mu Epsilon and Phi Delta Kappa.

Before coming to PLU this year, Mr. Muyskens taught at Puyallup and South Kitsap High Schools, being at the latter for some twenty-five years. Although he always taught math he served for eighteen years as

On The Spur

This week students from Seattle University campus picketed the Seattle meeting of the John Birch Society. Robert Welch, retired candy manufacturer who heads the group, will be in town for the event. When I first heard of this meeting I was quite interested and decided to attend if possible, but on further investigation I found I could not do this because it will be a meeting open only to Birch Society members, and those others to whom they deign to sell tickets. It makes one wonder what a group, who is supposedly fighting communism, has to hide that they must meet and have their membership cloaked in secrecy. Even if I won't have the opportunity of seeing the Birchers in action I admire and envy the student body of Seattle University, which has not only the opportunity but the courage of their convictions to let their opinion of this group be public.

In my thinking of the Birch Society and groups of this type my thoughts wandered back to the appearance of Mrs. Virginia Shackelford at a recent study body convocation. Besides dealing a low blow to the prestige of female logic she managed to put on a rather amusing show of half-truths and ridiculous comments.
