I extend my thanks to the following people who have made this book possible: Ken Dunmire and Darel Roa for the photography; Adrian Kalil for the lettering on the cover and division pages; Gail Habegger and Milton Nesvig, advisors; Burt Durham, Pischel representative; Carol Brandt, assistant editor. Most of all for their many hours and dedication I thank the staff members: Marcia Bodin, Linda Christian, Denise Guss, Julie Harris, Mark Jewell, Lore Johnson, Sharon Johnson, Beth Lindsroo, Randy Mahoney, Janet Putnam, Linnea Ruberg, Joan Soderstrom, Judy Swetnam, and Lynn Vikesland. Finally I express my gratitude to the many unmentioned who have shared information and ideas, given extra help when needed, and been there with the much needed morale support throughout the year.

EXPERIENCING the highs and the lows

I can't be on the Mountain all the time looking down the high road touching the stars
 bumping into cloud nine at every turn.

Because if high is high forever and life is sunshine & security minute how can I learn to love the mountain and its glorious gift of well deserved R & R or appreciate the crest of the stars unless I have experienced the trough?

Still I can live for the Mountain having once or twice reached its summit and while there tasted sunshine rubbed shoulders with the stars and kissed the soft clouds

finding and following new paths

A day came
For getting ~~completing~~
Before dark
I locked down a path
Beginning in good stones
And taking a lovely
Sun-drenched way
To a bog.

Too bad,

That is ~~studies~~
May not
Choose half a path
Discarding
The destination,
Perhaps
A brief stroll
Until the rocks give?

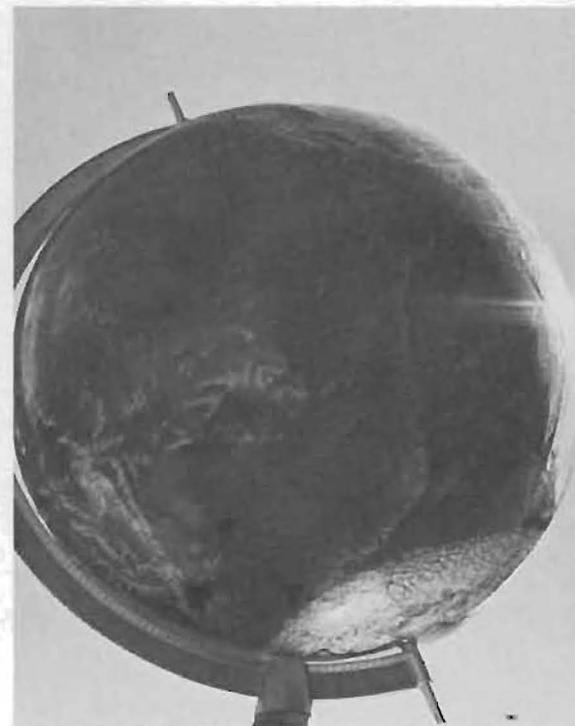

No.
This was a day
For getting
Before dark
And the sun
Does not slow
To let one go
The safe part,
And then
Walk the same stones
Back
And start again.

A Year of Life

fall

MOVING IN: a BEGINNING

How many more years do we have to go through this?

Parents do so much on moving day

Here they come. Some are walking. Some are riding.
 Here they come. And some are flying, some just gliding. Released after years of being kept in hiding. They're climbing up the ladder rung by rung.
 Enter the young. Yeah, they've learned to think.
 Enter the young. More than you think they think. Not only learned to think but to care. Not only learned to think but to dare.
 Enter the young.

—The Associations

Having a big family is one way to make moving all those clothes easier!

ORIENTATION WEEK: SURVIVAL

Parents are given a formal welcome at reception.

The decency of mankind is not decided by material compulsion. When great causes are on the move in the world we learn that we are spirits, not animals, and that something is going on in space and time, and beyond space and time, which, whether we like it or not, is our duty.

—Churchill

Orientation week activities started on Sunday, September 3, with the opening convocation for parents and reception afterward in the University Center. Monday through Wednesday were devoted to small group meetings with assigned R.A.'s and faculty advisors. Each day began with a "survival briefing," each one on a different topic. Three main areas were covered: personal adjustments, academic adjustments, and campus activities. Wednesday closed with a gathering at Spanaway Park and that evening, visits to faculty homes. On the 10th, a reception for new students was held at Govee House.

President and Mrs. Wiggman greet parents at reception.

new students get a head start

Mr. Peterson welcomes a student to Gonyea House.

The common denominator is to be sought both in thought and in practical living in an integrated attitude to life. The person who allows himself to be torn into fragments by events and problems has not passed the test for the present and the future We can never achieve this wholeness on our own. It can only be acquired with the help of others.

—Bonhoeffer

Students get a look at the sport of crew.

Whoever fights monsters should see to it that in the process he does not become a monster. And when you look long into an abyss the abyss also looks into you.

The sage as astronomer—as long as you still experience the stars as something “above you” you lack the eye of knowledge.

—Nietzsche

New students admire the greenery while the “Joyful Noise” gets ready to perform.

Opening Convocation was an impressive occasion, marking the official opening of the 1972-73 academic year. Declared "A Year of Life" by Dr. Wiegman, PLU begins its 82nd year of life or ZOE, the Greek word Christ used to describe life and all that life can mean in its fullness and goodness. Mrs. Marylyn Gore of New York City received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree as a salute to her far-reaching work in undergraduate social work education.

spurs' REGIONAL CONVENTION

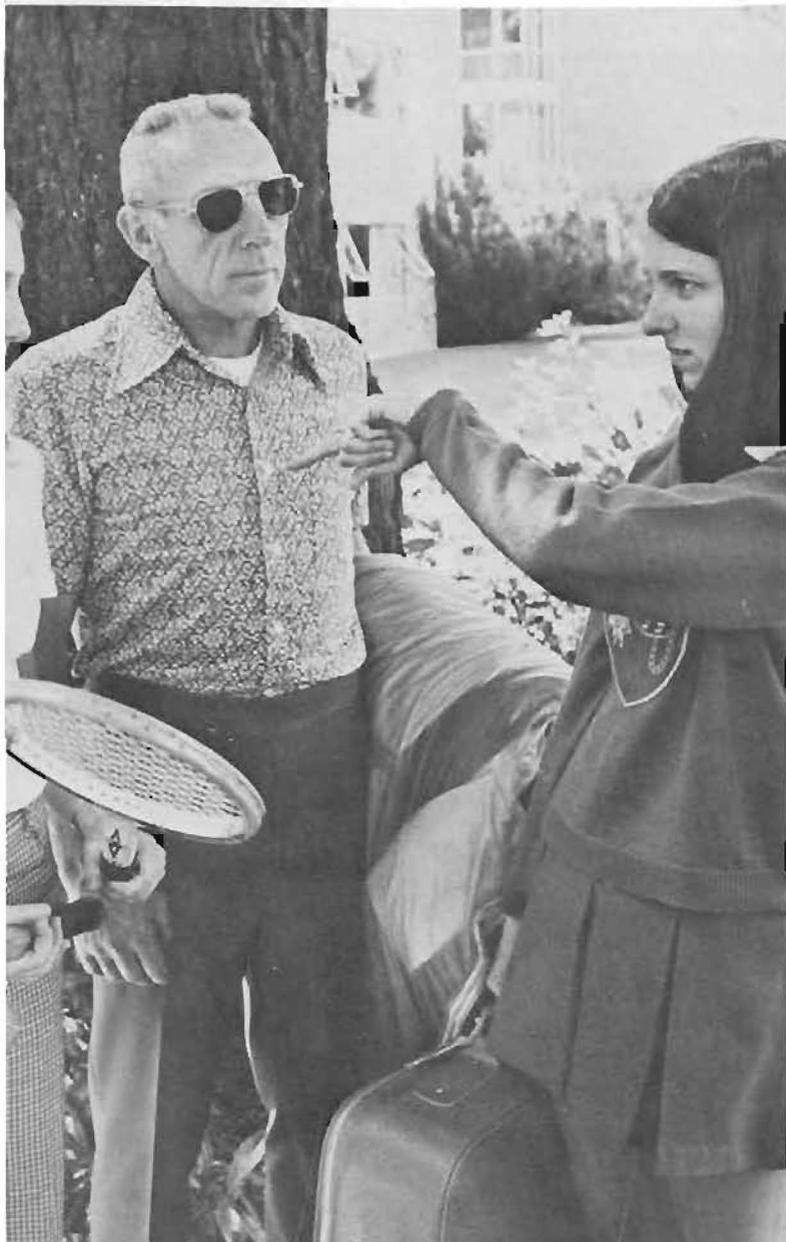

Hosted by PLU Spurs, the entire convention dealt with regional unity. Co-chairwomen were Becca Thompson and Jamie Shaw. Katie Calfee handled devotions. One activity pursued during the weekend was discussion and exercises in communication, led by Dr. Burton Nessel. Judd Doughty spoke at the banquet, delivering a speech entitled "Sunshine on My Shoulders." Regional director Marcia O'Connell of UPS was honored as special guest. The Spurs found the convention itself to be an excellent mode of communication.

the joy of the christian life

The joy of the Christian life can be expressed in a multitude of ways. Chapel attempts to channel this joy into a meaningful worship experience. Drama, dance, music, liturgy, and guest speakers are a few ways in which the presence of the Risen Lord is celebrated in Chapel.

David Dahl provides Chapel with his own kind of music.

"Praise the Lord! Praise God in his sanctuary, praise him in his mighty firmament." Psalm 120:1

However, celebration is by no means limited to Chapel. October 29 the Pierce County Lutheran Ministers Association and PLU sponsored a five-hour "Festival of the Christian Life." Embodying the spirit of the Reformation, the festival included a youth happening, an idea fair and culminated with a service of celebration: Holy Communion.

"Let them praise his name with dancing." Psalm 49:3

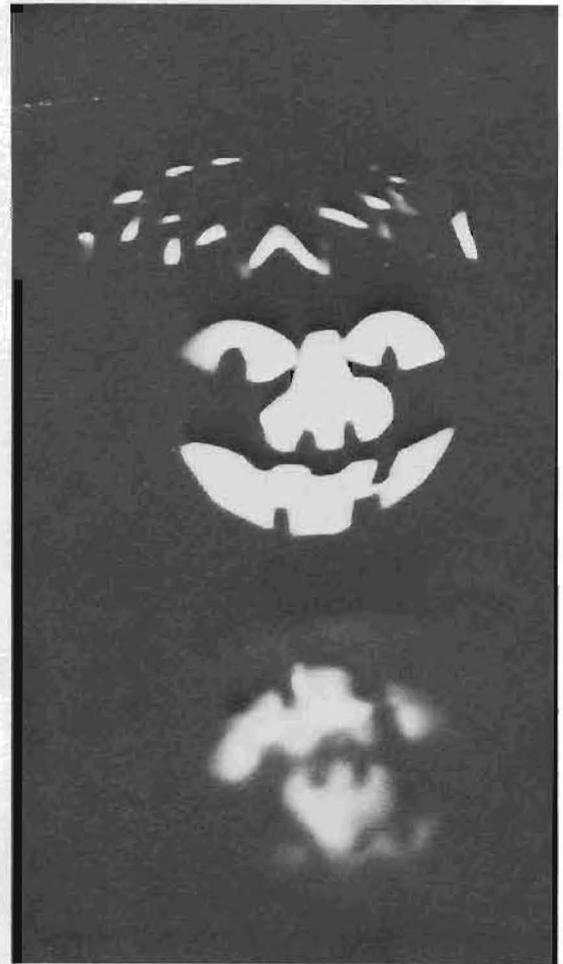

Booths display ideas at the Reformation Day rally.

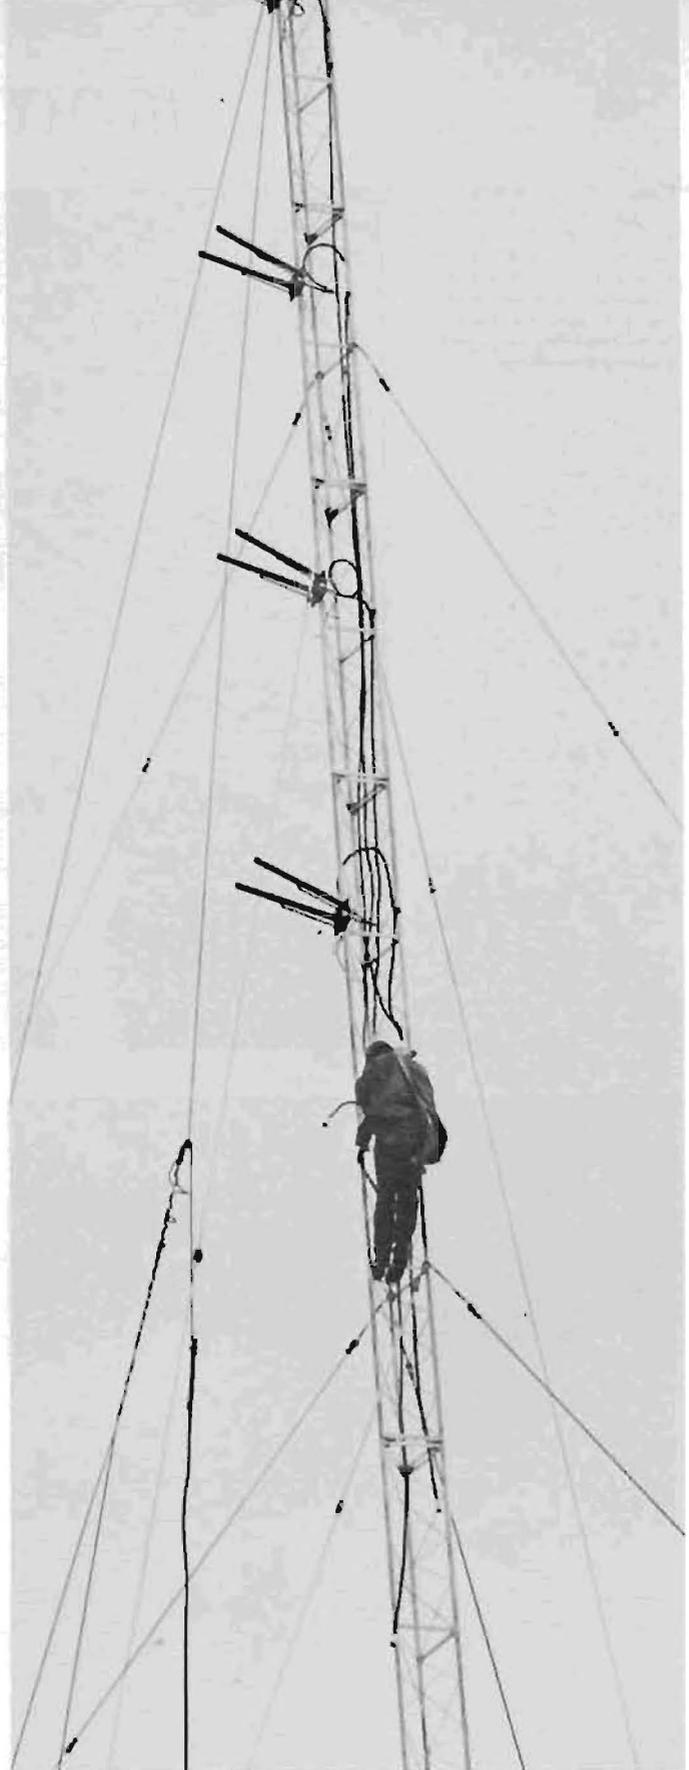

"Serve the Lord with gladness! Come into his presence with singing." Psalm 100:2

the church and social change

On Friday and Saturday, March 2 and 3, 1973, the department of Sociology brought together a group of leaders that sought positive answers and techniques for management of social change. The small groups were central to the program that was kicked off by the key note speaker, Rev. Wesley Fremdorf, Episcopal Bishop of Nevada (top left). Other speakers represented government and the media.

student meetings on campus

The Student Affiliate of the American Chemical Society held a regional meeting on campus, April 28, 1973. Among the many students presenting their research papers were two PLU students, Bob Bridenbaugh, and Dave Chappell (left). Keynote speaker was Mr. Fred Schwartz.

The Student Washington Education Association at PLU held a District III Meeting at Pflueger Lounge on February 24, 1973. Speakers for the meeting were Florence A. Orvik, who spoke on "Professionalism in Education"; and Dave Riddle, who introduced the members to our Mobile Learning Unit, which is equipped for tutorial teaching.

CELEBRATE: FEAST AND FAST

Christian concern was displayed on April 11 as the members of the Christian give up their meals for the day. "For the next 40 days we will be fasting." Passover was to Pass Fast.

Sunday, April 8 about 40 members gathered to celebrate the Passover in the Christian Home. It was a interesting experience that was both meaningful and fun. The foods and history of Passover were explained throughout the meal.

an active year for aws

AWS was active in a variety of events this year, ranging from the traditional to the innovative. Big-little six parties, Christmas caroling, the housekeepers tea, a fashion show, a women's studies program, parent's weekend, foreign exchange students "got together," "Women in Communications," and a career symposium were some of the highlights of the year. It ended with the Awards program, where Karen Randolph was named Woman of the Year.

For breaks coming on the scene of a Liberal Arts Education try the Career Symposium

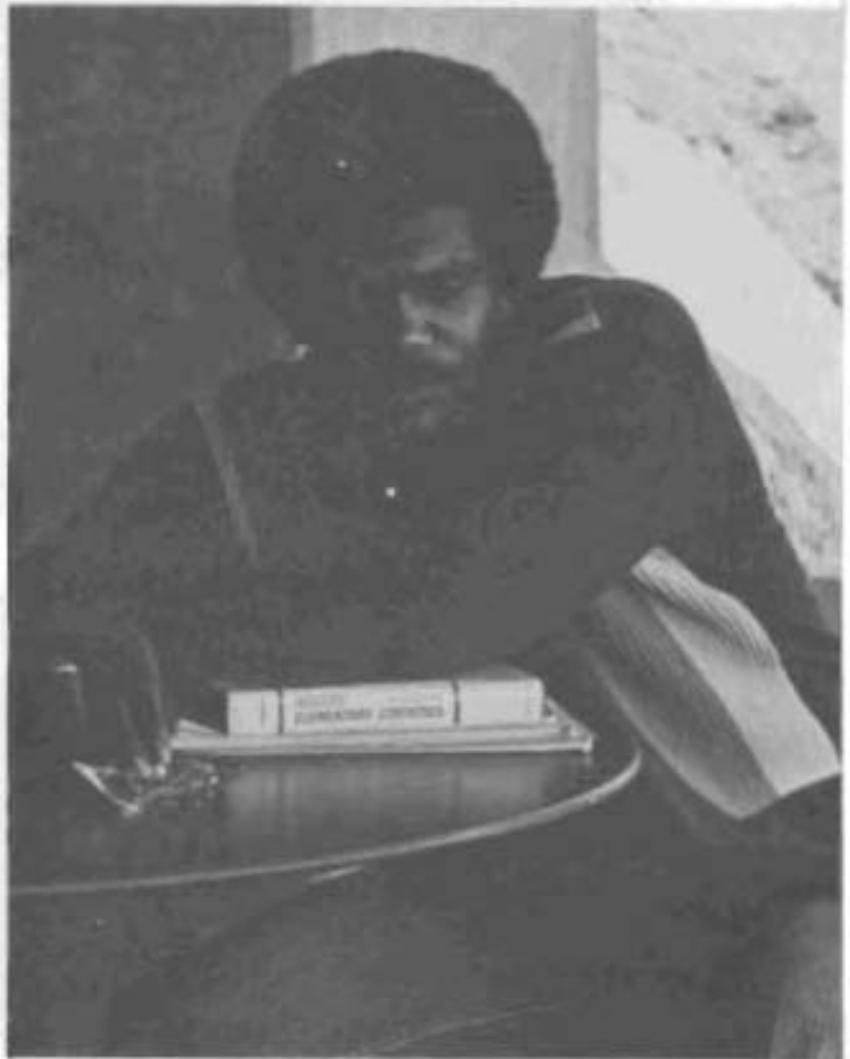

Each of us is a unique individual with dreams, hopes and an acute awareness of reality . . . but the impossibility of total self-sufficiency forces each of us to depend on one another.

Real growth in life comes to us from within, comes to us from our relationships with other people . . . it does not come to us alone. At the same time we must always be reaching . . . without reaching to each other we go nowhere.

It is the genius of children in this matter that they know how to go out to other people, that they know how to reach spontaneously and how to ~~maintain~~ a relationship easily.

Man can only exist where a plurality of individuals share a common life . . . in the last analysis, what are we but the continual affirmation of each other's humanity? And each time that we fail to act with the utmost honesty and compassion toward one another, we diminish in essence.

TRAUMATIC OCCURANCES in athletics

For the first time since its inception, the Northwest Conference All-Sports Trophy rests in the trophy case at FLU. Renamed this year as the John Lewis Trophy, in memory of the long-time Willamette athletic director, the award is emblematic of overall supremacy in the NWC's nine sport program. The lutes edged Linfield 91-87 in the final compilation of team standings. The two schools were tied 65-65 going into tennis and track meets the last week. FLU won championships outright in swimming, tennis and golf, tying for first in basketball. The Lutes were second in track, third in football, fifth in cross country, tied for fifth in wrestling and sixth in baseball.

one last busy weekend

That last weekend is packed full of activities for the graduates and their families. Thursday evening was the lawn supper at the Gonyea House. Saturday there was a reception for the parents at the U.C., and the concert with all musical groups performing one last time. Sunday morning was worship celebrated with communion, and finally in mid-afternoon, commencement exercises; and then it was over.

president eugene w. wiegman

Whether its welcoming students from all over the world at the Gonyea House, supporting the tennis team, appreciating a painting of Harstad, launching the crew boat in Lake Wiegman or discussing issues with assembled administrators-President Wiegman meets the challenges and privileges of his office which involve every facet of the university.

Implementing the ideals of a University is neither an exclusive nor terminal process. Pacific Lutheran University is committed to a philosophy of preservation and extension of knowledge. Administrators share with faculty, students, staff and regents this commitment, and the ongoing responsibility for shaping and preserving the university experience.

school of nursing

Nursing as a profession is concerned with total health needs of the individual and sees man as a physical, emotional, intellectual, social and spiritual being. The School strives to guide its students in developing a sense of responsibility for acquiring the attitudes, knowledge and skills necessary to help meet health needs of the individual and the community.

The School of Nursing supports the philosophy of Pacific Lutheran University and within this Christian frame of reference accepts the challenge of educating for professional nursing, individuals who recognize and participate in the responsibilities and opportunities for service in nursing. The School recognizes that its primary function is teaching, with a concomittant responsibility for service and research.

school of education

A school which contributes to the development of professional teaching personnel, grounded in liberal and scientific learning and dedicated to a person-centered frame of reference. The faculty encourages open attitudes which are flexible and reflect a realistic understanding of the social, technological and psychological aspects of education. Concerned with the preparation of elementary and secondary teachers, counselors and administrators the School of Education enrolls approximately 40% of the PLU student body, turning out at graduation 5 1/2% of the state's new teachers each year. Faculty members spend time not only in the university classroom but also in the public school classroom, teaching and demonstrating techniques. The student teachers are also involved including a number of senior students who are working in internships in the Franklin Pierce District and receive a salary for their work in addition to college credit. PHD Football - Pride, Hustle, and Desire - the new look under Frosty Westering, psychologist, motivator of men, and — oh yes, football coach, was a resounding success both on the scoreboard and on the individual record sheets.

The Lutes battled for the NWC title right up until the last league game, but old nemesis Linfield squelched the bid with a 21-7 win, PLU dropping into third place. Nonetheless, PLU finished with a 6-3 mark, which has been equaled at Luteville only three times in the past 25 years.

Record crowds were attracted to the conference games and there was excitement a plenty. But individual heroics were most prominently on display at two non-counters, the California Lutheran and UPS contests.

California Lutheran was defending NAIA national champion and the Lutes had been upended in three previous meetings with the Kingsmen. Senior end Ira Hammon made his career passing debut early in the game with a 60 yard TD pass to his counterpart, Dave Greenwood, following a dippy-do end-around handoff. The play electrified the crowd and set the tempo for a 31-9 Lute triumph.

Against the Loggers, PLU fell far short on the scoreboard, but the record book fell apart at the seams. PLU scored in its 31st straight game, a school mark, and Rick Finseth, who got the quarterback assignment by default when veteran Tom O'Rourke contracted mononucleosis during pre-season drills, found friendly skies. The sophomore hit on 11 of 20 passing attempts for 283 yards, a new school record. Ira Hammon, who received a ream of post-season accolades, including first team All-Lutheran honors, snared five passes for 191 yards including TD receptions of 56, 74, and 63 yards. The 191 yards was a school record, ditto his nine touchdown catches for the season. Ira's 580 yards in receptions for the year was the most for a Lute in over 20 years.

Dan Pritchard, the 5-11, 220 pound Samoan tank, surpassed the 2,000 yard mark in career rushing, one of fourteen talented seniors who waded helmet for cap and gown.

CROSS COUNTRY

PLU Coach Jon Thieman has a squad that with drive and dedication runs ten to thirteen miles a day twice a day.

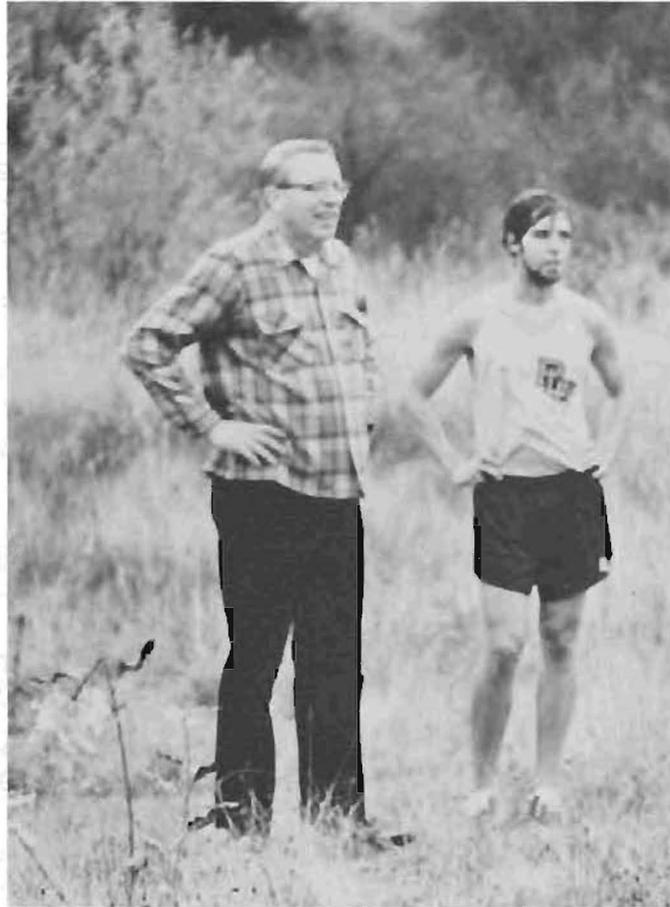

The cross country team opened their season on the Parkland course with a split in double dual competition, topping Pacific 18-37 and falling to Portland U 15-44. PLU's Kevin Knapp finished in first place in the PLU-Pacific scoring race and was sixth overall with a four mile clocking of 21:40. Other Lute finishers in overall rank include Sam Garlock (7th), Paul Ueunten (8th), John Olson (12th), and John Oberg (14th).

In the Northwest Conference Cross Country Championship meet, Knapp bettered his time by 15 seconds but in the frenzied pace of the meet he placed ninth with his 26:56 while PLU finished 5th as a team. Lute Sam Garlock placed 16th, Phil Ueunten (20th), Dave Benson (21st) and John Olson (31st) individually.

Whitworth took team honors with the individual champ clocked at 26:23.1. After the NWC championship, Sophomore Knapp bounced back with a fourth place finish in the NAIA District 1 meet in Walla Walla. Other PLU harriers placing in the meet were: Dave Benson (16), Paul Ueunten (19), Sam Garlock (24), and John Olson (32).

A Pacific Lutheran round-ball review brings back memories of an oft-repeated Biblical story. There was this traveler who got waylaid in rather hostile territory, then came along the Good Samaritan.

The analogy ends just before the Good Samaritan. PLU played thirteen road engagements, survived one, and was left for the vultures in an even dozen.

Even respectable 9-4 home record couldn't offset the 1-12 carnage, and PLU slipped to a 10-16 record, the first year since 1947 that the Lutes lost more games than they won.

But the season was far from a total washout. The Lutes were invincible at home in NWC play and hung on for a 8-6 loop record, earning a three-way tie with Pacific and Linfield for the conference championship. Other highlights included coach Gene Lundgaard recording his 250th career coaching win on the final home game of the season.

Balance was a way of life for the Lutes who, for the first time in many years, were without the services of a prolific scorer. Senior Roger Wiley came closest to filling that role, averaging 13 points per game. Wiley and sophomore Mike Berger exploded for 36 and 38 points respectively against Linfield, the biggest scoring output ever for a Lute duo.

Lyle McIntosh, a three-time team captain, Dennis Phillips, the league's field goal accuracy leader, and Kim Estrada, a steady playmaker, along with Wiley were regulars or at least occasional starters throughout their final campaign.

SUCCESSFUL SWIM STGRY

Lute Mermen shattered 13 school records, had an eight to two win loss record in their dual meets, qualified eleven swimmers for nationals, swept the NWC championship, placed third at the National Meet in Kansas. All-American Honors were conferred on Glen Preston, Scott Wakefield, Gary Hafer, Bob Loverin, and PLU's awarded outstanding swimmer, Terry Ludwig who was NAIA champion in three events. The Lute traveling squad made their way to Kansas, with the bulk of the traveling expenses underwritten by a successful Swim-a-thon. Traveling squad members are Bill Armstrong, Pete Carder, Gary Hafer, Bob Loverin, Terry Ludwig, Mike Osborne, Glenn Preston, Steve Randle, Gary Shellgren, Scott Wakefield, and Ken Wilson. Jim Holland was named inspirational award winner at the swim team banquet. Author of PLU's success story, Coach Gary Chase was honored as NAIA "Coach of the Year." Another Lute swimmer, senior, Rick McFadden received honors for his tank ability. With no use of his legs as the result of Polio, he won two firsts in 75 yard medley, and 50 yard backstroke and also took two seconds and a third in other events at the Handicapped Invitational Swim Meet. Rick went on to win three gold medals and a silver in swimming at the Washington State Wheelchair Games.

WATER POLO

PLU finished in fourth place, of the nine teams in the Northwest Collegiate Water Polo Tourney. Their record was three wins and two losses.

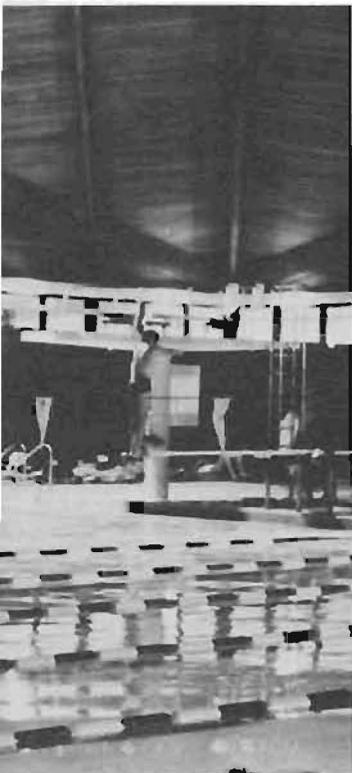

PLU	12	Portland State	7
PLU	12	Puyallup	7
PLU	13	Vancouver	10
PLU	6	Oregon	10
PLU	4	Idaho	8

In the Portland Water Polo Tournament the Lutes were 3 and 3 as PLU split with Washington State 9-4 and 2-3 and also divided a pair with Portland State 9-5 and 5-9. The Lutes edged Lewis and Clark 8-7. One thriller was lost 4-3 to Southern Oregon in the last 10 seconds.

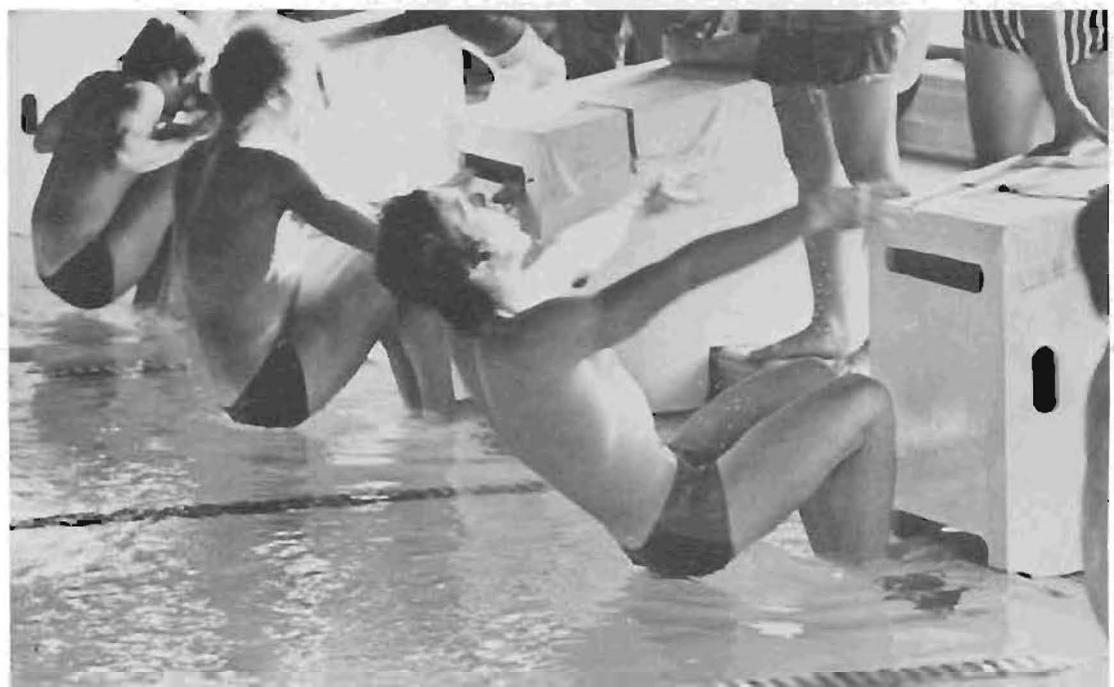

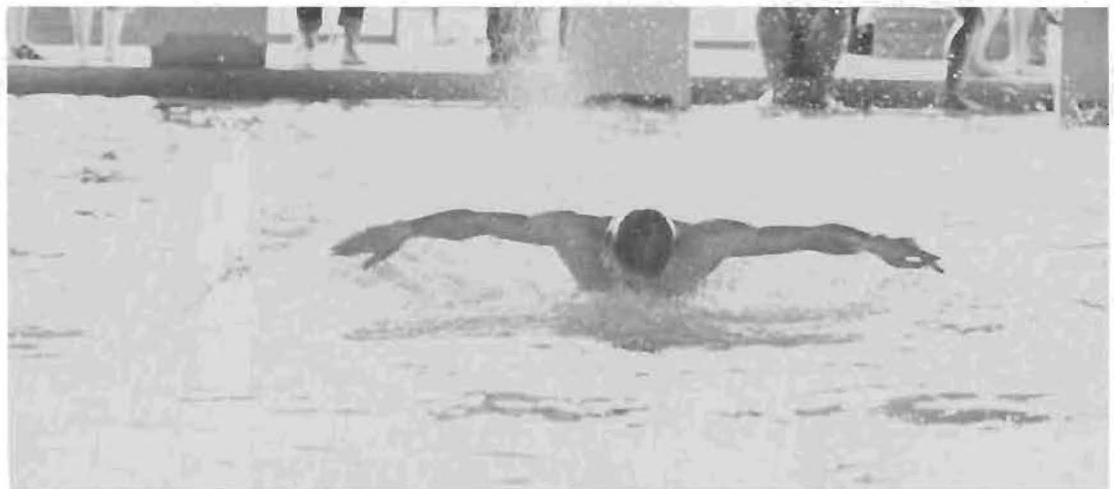

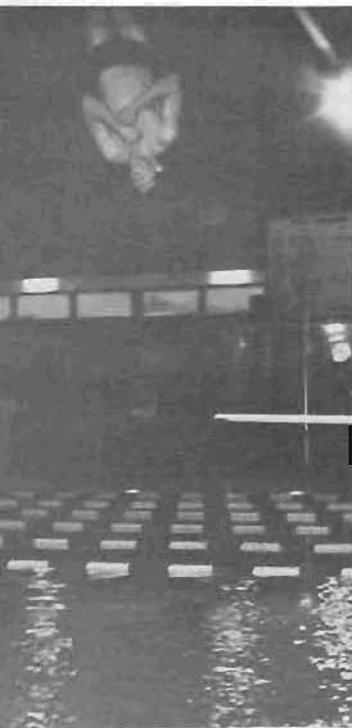

Gary Hafer, Jim Holland, and Terry Ludwig sparked the offense, while Mike Osborne was PLU's defensive stand out. Gary Hafer took Men's Varsity Polo honors for the year.

WRESTLING

Starting the season in December PLU wrestlers placed fifth out of eight teams at the Pacific University Invitational. Jim Boyer finished second while Jon Stedje and Gary Meininger were each fourth.

By February, Pacific University racked up it's fifth straight Northwest Conference championship while PLU matmen, runners up in 1972, slipped into an unexpected and disappointing fifth-place tie with Whitworth.

Team scoring was Pacific 107 1/2; Linfield 41; Willametta 38; College of Idaho 27; PLU 26; Whitworth 26; Lewis & Clark 18; Whitman 15; ending the season for the wrestlers.

SKIING

One of the longest seasons of any interscholastic sport is skiing. Jon Thieman's PLU skiers finished fourth; their best showing ever at the 27th International Collegiate Ski Meet in Banff Canada. In giant slalom Bob Larsen was 8th; Steve Timm 25th; Stan Price 26th; Don Wilson 37th. Timm was the team leader in the slalom placing 11th. PLU's best showing was in jumping with Larsen 5th; Price 13th; Wilson 14th. U of Montana took top honors with 367.2 points followed by U of British Columbia, U of Alberta and PLU, who recorded 282.2 points.

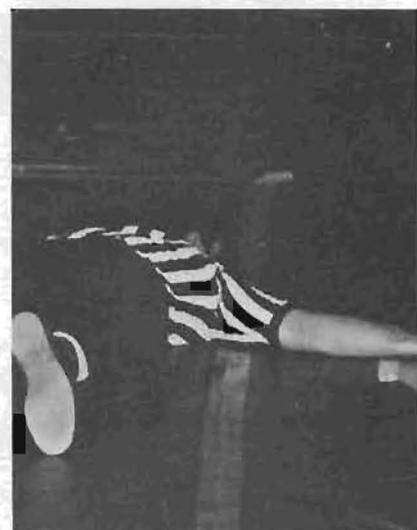

PLU's ski season closed with a small sitzmark as the men's team finished fifth in the Northwest Collegiate Ski Conference Championship Meet at Crystal Mountain. The women's squad wound up under a large moqui as they placed ninth in the nine-school field.

Best performances for the meet included: Men's Cross-country Steve Timm (17th), Pat O'Neil (22nd); Slalom—Timm (15th), Stan Price (24th); Giant Slalom—Carson (3rd), Timm (14th); Women's Cross-country—Becky Keller (6th), Chris McCormack (16th); Slalom—Kim Cortese (21st), Keller (26th); Giant Slalom—Keller (25), Cortese (36th).

Coach Thieman termed the season sporadic, claiming that inconsistency was the Lute's biggest problem. He cited the individual improvements of skiers throughout the season as high points.

The Lutes did have a rather commendable regular season, however, as they finished third in the ten school NCSC Northern Division, composed of teams from Washington, Alaska, and British Columbia.

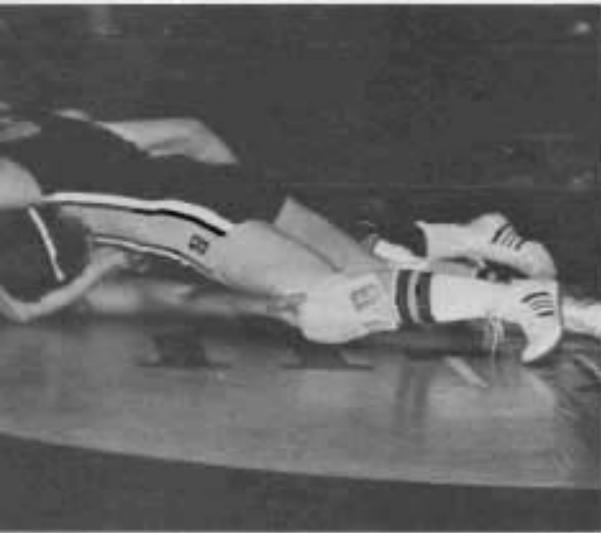

Things look good for next year's shushers as only one person, Stan Price, graduates from the top five of either the men's or women's team.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The PLU women's basketball team started the season on a winning note downing Centralia Community College 44-28. As the season continued, the Lady Lutes averaged 35 points per game, while the opponents came up with only 32 1/2. But the win-loss record was 8 and 8 at the Northwest College Women's Sports Association Tournament.

At the tournament, the women eagles tripped Gonzaga 31-24 but lost to Everett Community College 41-37. A game with UPS ended in a close defeat of 29 to 28. Sue Creaver led in the tourney by scoring 16, 12 and 10 points respectively.

Tommy Skubinna was team captain and leading scorer for the players. Coach Phillips cited Peg Lovekin and Peg Zander for their talent in defense and rebounding.

The women basketball team ended their season at the Daffodil Hoop Tournament with a 9-10 record.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

Linda Knight served 15 points in a row to lead PLU women to a 15-0 verdict for the first of two volleyball games against UPS. They also took the nightcap with 15-13.

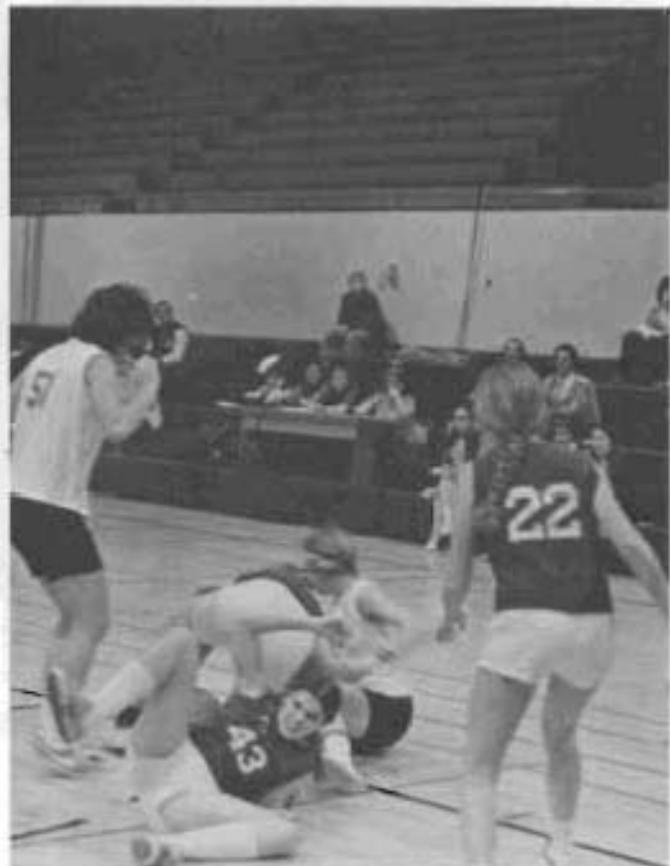

Without the services of four starters, the Lutes dropped two games each to UW, Central and Western but defeated Olympic before going on to Northwest College Women's Sports Association tournament.

Coach Angie Holm's Lady Lutes won five straight matches at the tournament before dropping the championship match to Marylhurst College 2-0.

Enroute to finishing second in division B at the three day meet in Pullman, the Lady Lutes defeated U of Idaho 2-0; Olympic C. C. 2-0; Clark College 2-0; and defending champion, Southern Oregon, 2-0. PLU loses only three players from this year's team including team captain Leslie Adams. The Lutes are planning for the 1974 NCWSA meet as they are hosts.

After doubling their win output in each of the two previous seasons, from two - to four - to eight, the Lutes' bid to notch sixteen triumphs in 1973 was thwarted by seven one-run setbacks. Nonetheless, with ten victories, PLU enjoyed its winningest campaign since 1966.

Hitting and pitching went different routes, the bats carrying the Lutes in early outings, the arms coming alive midway through the season. PLU hitters at one point led the NWC in average, but dipped to .256 after the long haul, second lowest in the league.

Season highlights for the Lutes, 10-20 overall, 7-10 in the NWC, included a three game sweep over College of Idaho and a 4-3 victory over nationally-ranked UPS.

Junior second baseman Rob Grajeda led the hit parade with a .304 mark for the season, while senior catcher Bill Bakamus stroked .347 in NWC action. Both were tabbed as NAIA District 1 honorable mention all-stars. Senior lefthander John Roeber posted a 3-4 record while junior righthander Henry Gutierrez sparkled in relief with a 2-1 mark and 3.27 ERA.

On the field and on the bench, Coach Jim Kittlesby provides the needed guidance to maintain an ever-improving baseball team. Combining personal baseball experience and strong knowledge of sports in general, Kittlesby proves to be a perfect "Pluto" person.

Record-breaking performances by Randy Shipley and Doug Gilson highlighted Pacific Lutheran's second place finish at the Northwest Conference Track and Field Championships. Host Linfield, dominant in the running events, took top honors with 144 team points. PLU's 22 men track and field delegation totaled 112 points with Lewis and Clark 88, Willamette, 71, Whitworth 64, Whitman 36, Pacific 12, and College of Idaho 1.

Shipley flipped the shot 58'11 1/2", bettering the conference record held by teammate Dan Fritchard who placed second. Wilson shattered the WWC standard with a 48'7 1/2" triple jump, only one inch behind the PLU school record. Sophomore Mark Smith hurled the discus 161'4", an event in which the Lutes placed 1-2-3-8. Sophomore Scott Rutledge cleared 6'8" to capture the high jump title while Gregg Abernethy threw the javelin 211'1".

Nail Martin was clocked in at 49.0 in the 440, good for second place. It was Martin's best reading of the year and the best mark recorded for a Lute in the five year reign of Coach Paul Huxeth.

In the NAIA championship in Arkansas, Mark Smith joined All American ranks with a school record throw of 172'9" in the disc to finish third. Randy Shipley hoisted the shot 58'11" to take fifth place. Lute javelin specialist Gregg Abernethy, nursing a sore throwing arm, tossed the spear 200 ft. but did not place.

On the Lute campus, Nail Martin and Randy Shipley were singled out as most inspirational and most valuable team members respectively.

GOLF: (Luteland Linkers)

Led by sophomore Mark Clinton, who shot a one under par 71, Pacific Lutheran opened the golf season with a 20 1/2 to 6 1/2 win over University of Puget Sound on the Lake Spanaway course. Clinton who was All Conference and All District last year was a pleasant surprise to new links coach, Roy Carlson. Clinton had missed several weeks of school in the fall and was thought to be ineligible. Mark Clinton joined forces with junior, Blake Bostrum, conference medalist as a freshman, junior, Eric Feste, and freshman Jim Ball to each pick up three points in match play with freshman Kevin Shaw adding two points.

In a continuing successful year the Lutes won the Northwest Conference golf title in Oregon, by rallying from a 13 stroke deficit after the first round of the 72 hole NWC tourney to outclass runnerup Lewis & Clark by 38 strokes in the three day event. PLU averaged three over par from it's four best cards in the final 36 holes. Clinton took medalist honors with a 75-73-75-47--297, while teammate Blake Bostrum was second with a close 301 total. Eric Feste placed 5th with a 314. Again this year the Lute-linksters won the Northwest Small College Golf Classic.

Women's Track

PLU's distaff track team under coach Angie Holm, placed third in a eight team field at the PLU Invitational Women's Track Meet. SPC accumulated 108 points to receive first place honors. Kim Green set a PLU record of 12:15.0 in the 3000 meters. The quartet of Gayle Watz, Julie Hall, Kay Overly and Carolyn Drayden set a school record mark of 54.5 in the relay.

At the Eastern District Conference Meet in Bellingham the women placed fifth out of a field of eleven. Julie Hall was third in the 220, a season best of 27.8. Julie Davies took second in the 200 meter hurdles, and Kim Green third. Kay Overly recorded a personal best of 12.3 in the 100 yard dash. The 440 relay quartet was fourth and the 880 medley relay foursome fifth.

PLU Varsity tennis team under the guidance of Mike Benson, who was named "NAIA District Coach of the Year" for the second consecutive year had a 10-4 season in dual matches. The netters won their first six matches before falling to the University of Oregon, a Pac-8 member. After four losses the Lute raquetters got it together and defeated their cross-town rival UPS for the second time in the season. The tennisians continued their winning streak until the end of the season, capturing the NWC tennis crown for the second straight year.

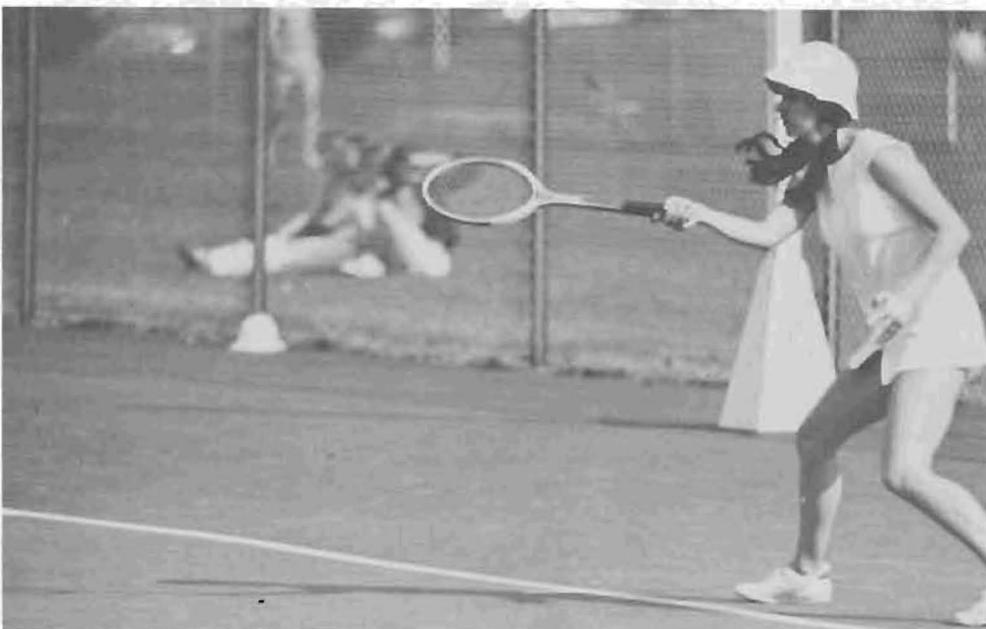

Ted Carlson, junior, claimed the conference's singles title by outpointing teammate Paul Bakken 6-3, 6-4. The Lutes outscored runner-up Lewis and Clark 37-30. College of Idaho followed with 18, Linfield scored 14, Whitman, Whitworth, Pacific, and Willamette closed out the field. The Lute netters hosted the NAIA District Tennis Tourney where they placed second.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TEAM SEASON RECORD

The Women's Tennis Team had a 7-4 win loss record with one tie. The Lady Lutes defeated UPS twice, Centralia twice, Everett Community College once, Seattle University once, and Olympic once. They were defeated by Western Washington State College and Highline Community College on both encounters. Coach Officer's netters tied the University of Washington to end their winning season.

Two races in one week, then three months in dry dock summarizes the men's fall racing program. The Lute crew placed fifth in four-with cox at the 1972 IRA Regatta. In the eight-with cox, the Lutes had leadership from commodore Loren Gramson. PLU men opened their rowing season for the spring by sweeping the lightweight and varsity eight races at the Washington State University Invitational. The Lute Varsity stroked through 2,000 meters of choppy water in a record breaking time of 6:17.1. Seattle University was a half a meter behind on the Snake River course, near Pullman. In the lightweight action PLU won by three lengths, over runner-up WSU.

At University of Oregon, the second spring meet for the men's crew were unable to recover their timing after a jarring blow from the wake of an off course pleasure craft. PLU eight-oared "Piraha," tasted it's first disappointing defeat by being edged by half a length by University of Oregon. PLU's lightweight eight finished six seconds behind Oregon's Frosh.

The Western Washington Invitational meant a third place finish in eights. PLU came in behind U of W and Seattle U.

The Lutes ran into a series of physical problems during their whirlwind tour of California. With three veterans down with the Flu, PLU battled Stanford and 40 m.p.h. crosswinds at Palo Alto to be edged by Stanford by one seat. The following day the short handed Lutes were outdistanced by four lengths by Santa Clara.

After being host for the PLU Invitational, Lute rowers won their tenth straight Meyer Cup as they splashed to a four length win over UPS in the tenth running of the eight-oared Meyer Cup Regatta on American Lake. PLU, undefeated since the inception of the race, was clocked in 7:07.

In the LaFromboise Cup the men's crew came in fourth place, washing out hopes of competing in the post season Western Sprints or IRA. The Lute rowers going for broke in eights, rather than fours where they had in previous years earned national acclaim, finished fourth in a five school field at Seattle.

WOMEN'S CREW

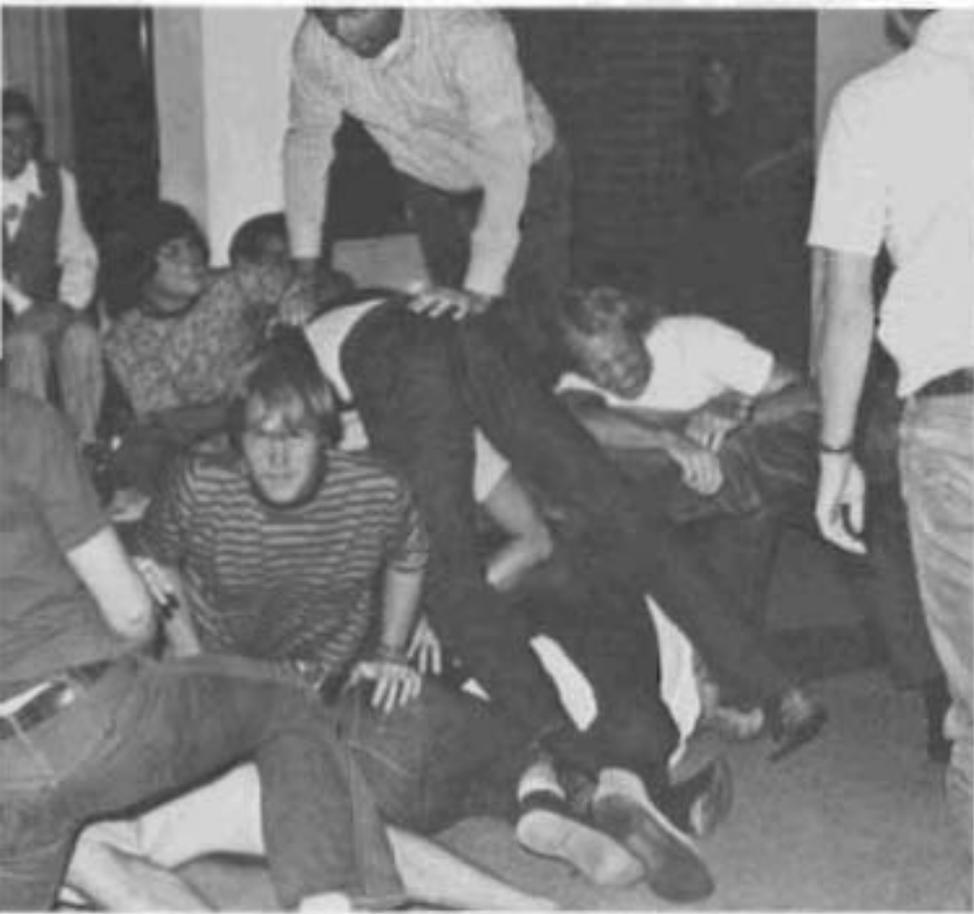

The Lady Lute rowers who were sixth at the national meet last year, split in two races, in their season openers in Victoria. They defeated U of Victoria in Varsity eight, but bowed in the Novice eight. At their second meet the women rowers won their third straight in eight by beating Oregon by two lengths in a 800 meter course. In the JV race PLU tied for second place behind Oregon. The women's crew with Pat Maizahn as leader hosted a PLU Invitational.
