New Drama Officers Name Group Leaders For Fall Semester

Thespian Club Schedules Two Plays Each Month Under Direction of President Ione Madsen

Drama Club activities are well under way, with the election of officers and the appointment of group leaders. Friday, October 11, will probably be the first Drama Night to be scheduled, according to Ione Madsen, newly elected president.

At the initial meeting, which was held Monday, the following officers were elected: Helen Lilja, vice-president; Evelyn Eklund, secretary; Alfinn Arne, treasurer; and Louise Hendrickson, librarian. Ray Reid, who served as stage manager last year, was given the same duty for this year. The dramatic coach for the year is to be Mr. Keith Reid, commercial instructor.

Instead of giving three one-act each month, as was done last year, it has been decided to have only two plays at each Drama Night.

There will be four group leaders, two of whom will present plays one month, and two at the next. Group leaders have been appointed as follows: Margaret Craft, Bob Monson, Evelyn Eklund, and Paul Aramstrong. These will be assisted by Ed Svith, Volly Norby, Marie Heggersness, and Eline Benesen, respectively.

Last year the Drama Club gave a Christmas cantata, and in the spring it presented an opera. No definite plans as to the possibility of giving such entertainment have yet been made.

Ken Anson Chosen Frosh Class President

Kenneth Anson, of Burlington, has been named Freshman Class president, as a result of the final elections held Friday.

For the office of vice-president, Eugenia Spencer, who is a graduate of Longview High School, was chosen. Ruth Solle, of Mt. Vernon, is to be the class scribe, while Ida Fox, of Kapowsin, will assume the duties of treasurer. For Sergeant-at-Arms, Warren Hokenstad, of Snohomish, was elected.

As yet no plans have been made for the regular class activities.

First Lutheran Church Will Be Host For Rally

With the theme, "In League With Christ," an all-Tacoma Luther League rally will be held next Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Lutheran Church.

Bertram Myhre, new circuit president, urges all Luther Leaguers to hear the discussion and to enjoy the social hour.

On October 11, 12, and 13, there will be held the annual convention of the South Puget Sound Circuit Luther Leagues at Phinney Ridge Church in Seattle. "Looking at Jesus" is to be the convention theme. Reverend N. M. Ylvisaker from Minneapolis, Minnesota, will be one of the guest speakers. Beginning their fall work with a rally, the Luther League of South Puget Sound Circuit met Sunday afternoon, September 15, at Trinity Lutheran Church, Parkland. Rev. J. P. Pflueger of Parkland; Miss Solveig Sathre of Seattle, and Mr. Theodore Iverson of Puyallup discussed the afternoon topic, "Beacon Lights." Musical numbers included a vocal trio by the Peterson sisters from Seattle, a piano solo by Norma Preus of Parkland, and a vocal solo by Mr. R. S. Hanson of Phinney Ridge.

Mooring Mast and Herald Offer Combined Rates

In an effort to get more subscribers for both the Mooring Mast and the Pacific Lutheran Herald, a combined rate of $1.50 has been approved by Prof. O. J. Stuen, business adviser of the Mooring Mast, and Mr. Edwin Tingelstad, editor and manager of the Herald. Formerly, the subscription rate for these papers has been one dollar each. Readers of either paper are urged to take advantage of this offer which goes into effect immediately.

Mooring Mast Staff Assistants Named

Hagerup To Be Associate Editor; Bergstrom, Gribbom Will Hold Business Positions

Hazel Hagerup, Normal department sophomore, has been appointed associate editor of the Mooring Mast. For the position of assistant business manager, Ellen Bergstrom, third year normal student, has been chosen; while the advertising is to be managed by Harry Gribbom.

Miss Hagerup was associate editor last semester, and while in high school, she worked on the Astor Post, Astoria High School newspaper. Approved by Prof. N. J. Hong, Mooring Mast adviser, Editor Helen Holtcamp appointed Jean Marie Fowler for the position of feature editor, to be assisted by Ione Madsen and Roberta Torsson. Bob Martin will act as sports editor and write a sports column during football season. Kussen Frye and Vern Knutzen will also write sport stories. Straight news reporters include Thelma Daniels, Joanna Manoussos, Iris Evans, Norma Preus, Elva Bergman, Gary Pflueger, and Margaret Larson.

Frithjof Taveit, business manager, chose Margaret Craft for the duties of circulation manager, to be assisted by Lenore Withrow and Kathryn Anderson. The ad soliciting department is comprised of Harry McCormick, Emmett Thompson, Jagna Johnson, Elizabeth Prits, and Edna Kelsey. Prof. O. J. Stuen is the business staff adviser.

Romola Rust Chosen Pep Club President

With a membership of 41 girls, the Pep club held its initial meeting of the year Thursday evening, September 12, to elect officers for the first semester. Romola Rust, sophomore in the Normal department, was chosen president.

Other officers named are as follows: vice-president, Kathryn Anderson; secretary-treasurer, Alda Johnson; and firechief, Beatrice Sidders.

In honor of the birthday of Mrs. Lora B. Kreidler, Dean of Women, a short informal party was held Thursday evening, September 19.

Under the general arrangement of Mabel Heggen, plans are being formulated for a skating party to be held sometime in the near future.

Reverend Carl Rydell Speaks On Church's Outside Activities

"If a church school is to exist it must be a definite center of real Christian culture," Rev. Carl E. Rydell, of San Diego, pointed out on being interviewed after his address in chapel Monday morning, September 16.

Rev. Rydell came north to visit the First Lutheran Church of Tacoma, from which he had received a call. He is keenly interested in Pacific Lutheran College and Dr. O. A. Tingelstad, of whom he had heard much praise. The speaker is a strong supporter of Christian educational institutions, and he definitely asserts that character isn't built by attractive edifices on the

L. D. R. Business Meet Dated For October 17

Mrs. J. U. Xavier and Mrs. Paul A. Duns, at the home of Mrs. Xavier, will be hostesses to the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation, at the next regular meeting to be held Thursday afternoon, October 17. The business of the meeting is to elect officers for the ensuing year.

A program has been planned which will consist of the following numbers: L. D. R. song by a group of members; piano solo, Norma Preus; readings, Wayden Colevan; convention report, Helen Holtcamp; and vocal solo, Evelyn Syverson.

Rydell gave one of the most inspiring and enthusiastic addresses the student body has heard in recent years. He laid emphasis on young people grasping the righteousness of God. Should Rev. Rydell accept his call to First Lutheran Church, he will be with its congregation in January. He was graduated from Gustavus Adolphus College at St. Peter, Minnesota, in 1918. Since then he has attended the Lutheran Bible Institute in St. Paul, and was enrolled at Augustana Seminary at Rock Island, Illinois for three years, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity and was ordained in 1925.

Registration Reveals Enrollment Increased

Total enrollment for the 1935-6 school year is expected to be over three hundred, according to Dean Phillip E. Hauge, registrar.

At present approximately 275 students have completed registration in all departments, which shows about a ten per cent increase over last year.

Delta Rho Gamma Entertains Tonight

Club Initiates. Are Honored Guests at Supper Party

In honor of the initiates, the Delta Rho Gamma, day girls' organization, will give a supper party in the chapel basement tonight, at 6:00 o'clock. Eleanor Raudebaugh, president, who supervised the club initiation which takes place today, will preside this evening.

Joanna Manoussos, chairman, Gertrude Stenberg, and Eula Mae Goff are in charge of the menu. Table decorations have been planned by Eline Benson, Mildred Monson, and Virginia Davis. The other committees are as follows: entertainment, Thelma Daniels, Louise Williams, and Marian Kohler; invitations, Verna Tjeland, Fredricka Schlanbusch, and Marie Johnson; initiation, Evelyn Eklund, Berthol Vogan, and Jean Marie Fowler.

The initiation committee (which officiated today) included Margaret Rorem, chairman, Elizabeth Prits, Norma Preus, Elva Bergman.

New Kicking Post Added to Campus

For many years in the past it has been the custom for P. L. C. students to make a pilgrimage toward the setting sun, or more often, toward the pale moon.

Now the object of the trek into the night is to pay all due respects to our ever traditional "Kicking Post," which was stolen the night of commencement, last June 3. A compelling force draws the young and carefree to that familiar place, the shrine before which expression of lovely sentiment is made and which is the source and termination of romance.

It is said that this relic was taken from us by some person in a thoughtless mood, and that an object was destroyed which is as vital to our life here now, as it has been to those who have been here before us. An institution as great as the "Kicking Post" can not be dispensed with for very long.

With Stanley Ford, appointed by the Board of Control, in charge, a new "Kicking Post" is being located at the old site by the steeple. We, who love P. L. C. and that traditional spot at the end of the path through the statefy firs, entertain a hope that this new "Kicking Post" will remain for generations to come.

Mrs. Edwards Working Toward Master's Degree

Mrs. Joseph O. Edwards is leaving October 1 for the University of Washington in Seattle to continue her study toward securing her Master of Arts degree in the Department of English and Drama.

During the first six weeks of the Summer session held at P. L. C. Mrs. Edwards gave instruction in music and drama. For the last half of the summer quarter she joined her husband, Prof. Joseph O. Edwards at the University.

Mission Society Elects First Semester Leaders

Ralph Bolstad was elected president of the Mission Society at its first meeting of the year, which was held Wednesday evening, September 18, in the recreation room. Margaret Craft is the retiring president.

For the office of vice-president, Kathryn Anderson was chosen. Esther Norgaard and Warren Hokenstad will fill the offices of secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The girls' trio, comprising Mildred Monson, Aida Johnson, and Irene Odell, accompanied by Edna Tobisson, furnished a vocal number.

At the suggestion of Rev. T. O. Swaro, College pastor, a number of Mission Society members have volunteered to go out to the Mount Inview Sanitarium every Monday evening to take part in the program Rev. Swaro has been arranging for the invalids.

What Are We Going To Make This Coming Year?

As this first edition of the Mooring Mast goes to press, the staff is anticipating a most successful year for Pacific Lutheran College. In every department of activity there is a marvelous uprising enthusiasm, which is coupled with that clean, wholesome spirit so common to this institution.

Gradually the desire of Pacific Lutheran College founders, that this school be a strong rallying point for Christian activity in the West, is being realized. Through the efforts of the faculty and College friends, a much wider recognition of this school in the Northwest is evident. The increase of enrollment in the last few years is remarkable, and students come here from Alaska, Eastern states, and California. Working in unison, they are eager to place Pacific Lutheran at the best possible standard.

The outlook is particularly favorable this fall. After having placed every graduate of the Class of 1935, the Normal department begins another year of preparing young men and women for the profession of education. In the realm of extra curricular activities, it is to be noticed the large turnout for Choir membership. The material to choose from is good, and a greater success for the "Choir of the West" is hoped for. Last year the P. L. C. Gladiators made a fine record in football, even putting the Bellingham State Normal Vikings on their list of defeated. With the return of twelve lettermen and some excellent new material, it looks like a big season for our boys.

Thin, P. L. C., let us make this one grand year! We know that every student will grasp our vigor, and enter into school life wholeheartedly. The Mooring Mast hopes to put our school life in a satisfactory verbal form. We want our paper to be one which is free from petty gossip and prejudice. We want it to be the official source of school news for our many readers. We want it to be illustrative of school life at its best. Student body, we feel assured that you are with us!

We Love and Take Pride in Our Chapel

One of the most thrilling and inspiring moments in our school life is the chapel period, which is held for one-half hour every school morning.

Who can help feeling thrilled in a gathering of enthusiastic youth, singing so wholeheartedly the Lord's songs? Who could help but be inspired by the organ prelude played each morning by Prof. J. O. Edwards? Certainly, the large attendance, which is entirely voluntary, is evidence of the wonderful school spirit for which Pacific Lutheran College can feel very proud. Also, the beautiful flowers so kindly and regularly contributed by Prof. J. J. Xavier add to the attractiveness of our chapel.

We invite friends and acquaintances of the school to visit our chapel exercises. Each morning we look forward to our chapel service, and take special pride in maintaining the largest possible attendance.

"If a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand."—Mark 3:25.

Lighter Than Air

BY BOB MONSON

Goodday! There are many nationalities working on the Mooring Mast this year. Besides running a cosmopolitan newspaper, we could start a world war all of our own, and probably will before the term is over. We could enact the battle of Copenhagen very easily. We have the weeds . . . and plenty of Swedes. Anyway, we're going to have a manfully office this season, because it isn't dignified for a lady office to bark her feet on the desk. . . . There are so many new faces at school, that the old students look strange. . . . The beppy girls from last year, who are back to finish Normal, all act as though the Cubs had lost the pennant. . . . We thought it was time enough to change in the spring (just before applying for jobs). . . . There is no reason for a student's not being able to get to class on time after all the schedules that were made out some time ago.

When a man plays on our gravel football field, he soon finds he isn't the only pebble on the beach. . . . It is reported that the coach would give the first arm of any of his substitutes for three hefty linemen. . . . TOUGH LUCK: for Oliver Ludlow. We were in hopes of seeing the Puyallup Plunger pulverize the opposition again this fall. . . . And getting back to singing—all who make the Choir must be able to sing. That's one rule the management has to make. If you can hit high "C" (not with a rock), the director will probably raise placed with you. At least, you will be called by your first name. . . . Singing is a funny business. If you're good, people call it yelling; if you are poor, you are crooning; and if you don't sing, they rave about your possibilities.

Knowing so few of the new students, the column is having a hehiva time thinking up things to say about 'em. . . . We want happenings for news. . . . Try sassing a professor, and then leave your name with it (and the telephone number). . . . or go walking with HAL JOHANSEN. . . . that's news. . . . You might bite somebody, bite anybody, bite BERT MYHRE. . . . he won't mind (if Margaret isn't around). . . . Anything to fill up space—Like notebooks that are filled with lecture notes in the fall and cartoons by the time spring rolls around. . . . FOR ENTERTAINMENT ask Mary Jensen to play "Star-cust" on the piano. . . . and for indignation, have ELSIE BARRET cook dinner for you (not that we know, but we surmise because she's baking).

We have heard some jaw-breaking biological terms, but they'll have to go some to beat Mr. Higby's lulu, to-wit: A typical cell contains chromatin, centrosome enclosed in a centrosphere, linin, mitochondria, nucleus, nucleolus, plastids, and vocuole. . . . WE'VE NOTICED: that HELEN SCOTT has a smile that would make any guy turn cartwheels. . . . TOE-NAIL DESCRIPTION: Ellen Bergstrom, the two-room school marm, with the hickory stick and everything.

It is said that the privilege of being everywhere at ease is the prerogative of gigolos, confident men and professors. . . . so we can see how a teacher can retain his composure with all the vermillion, rouge, and brilliantine staring him in the face every class period. . . . What with fountain pens, lipsticks, cigaret lighters, teeth and stomachs, life for the average Pe-Ell-Ceian is just one refill after another. . . . When Ralph Bolstad speaks of himself he says "We" (meaning he and his mustache). . . . Barney has one, too. Be careful about perspiring, Barney, or you'll find your mustache running down your chin. . . . TOE-NAIL DESCRIPTION: Tone Madsen, the dream girl sixteen-year-old boys imagine in a kitchen with an apron and cook book.

You should hear what the girls in the dorm are saying about Ken Anerson (They regard you, boy? . . . Esmeralda Ovidia Torvend is a tongue-twister (the name, we mean) . . . but Paul Armstrong wrote it on three letters one week. . . . We wonder if Johnny-wanney Stuen is Jo Gjarde's secret dish. . . . you know, the guy on the football squad. . . . You might think Al Jacobs and Otis Grande were landscapes by the way the girls here gaze at them. . . . The co-eds in the dorm played hosts to a number of mice the other evening. . . . they probably studied standing on chairs and slept on the wardrobe top. . . . Bouquet: to Ruth Solle—by popular demand—on general principles. . . . Alvinna Larson visits the Kitchen at all times of the day—to get a drink of water, huh? . . . The Freshmeg Initiation showed up those who laugh under fire, and those who fry. . . . By the way, Solle and Ford didn't turn out for choir this year. . . . Those who are fretting over the prune trees being picked, bite your eye and get them in sauce. REMEMBER: Don't carve up the new chairs, boys and girls. . . . unless you can etch designs.

DRIFTS. . . .

By Brewster

To you fellows who last year took your "dates" into that restaurant on Pacific after the evening's entertainment, stay clear. It's under new management, and the only things nourishing the place are the toothpicks. The waitresses bring their own lunches in order to last out the week. The proprietor, himself, is fat and looks healthy, but I think he gets that way from eating between meals at other restaurants. It's not really that bad, but— . . . Wait 'till you get to the "Bug." There is good eating there. It is not the bug itself, but the food which is inside of it. At least the coffee isn't so weak that it falls down the throat without your need of swallowing.

Talking about food, visitors at P. L. C. who have been to other boarding schools, say that our meals are high class compared to many other tables; and that's no holobolny.

In town, the other day, we saw a man mistake a little girl in white for a drinking fountain. He nearly got his face bashed in by the parent. This is really about as far-fetched as the student mistaking classroom chairs for tree trunks.

In the recent drama club elections, the boys were left out in the cold. One was elected, but he had to be—the other candidates were of the same sex! Two others were put in capacities, but nobody was opposing them. Women's suffrage? Who's suffering!

PREXY'S CORNER

An Apology and a Correction

On May 20, 1935, Sergeant George W. Anderson, at the request of the President of the College, addressed the students and the faculty at the chapel exercises. Sergeant Anderson's address was an earnest and effective plea for a more sympathetic interest in the enlisted man, particularly the new recruit, on the part of our Church. In The Mooring Mast for May 31, 1935, the address is reported in words which the speaker did not use and in a manner which calls for an apology to the speaker, the army, and the army chaplaincy.

The undersigned herby in all sincerity offer this apology. We are constrained to take the responsibility, because guidance lapsed during examination week. In particular do we wish to repudiate the following statements, in which the inexperienced reporter misused, the spirit of Sergeant Anderson's loyal and manly plea for our deeper understanding of the soldier's religious need, and the Chaplain's difficult work:

"The average soldier deserves his bad reputation"; "The type of life is very degenerating to personality"; "The army chaplaincy is not a satisfactory religious office"; and "Not all are doing their duty." The address cast no aspersions: it was an attempt to bring home to the Church its duty toward the army, and the enlisted man's need of Christian contacts. The man in uniform will be more than ever welcome among us as the result of the plea; and we trust that those concerned will accept this apology. O. A. TINGELSTAD, President N. J. HONG, Adviser

Chapel Gleanings

You are living in a wonderful world. You are wrong if you think that former days were better than these. . . . There isn't a thing in the world that you can't misuse—and the thing most misused is the Bible. Prof. J. O. Xavier

Jesus sent out disciples to live men how to live and how to think. A spirit of despair may sow the seeds of autocracy, revolution, and death. . . . The price of liberty is eternal vigilance. With this liberty comes a responsibility to us as Christians that we have often neglected or evaded.

The Christian is obedient and reverent to the powers that be. If he wishes to change the constitution, he does so by constitutional means. Violating the constitution is treason not only against man, but against God. . . . God still sits in the seat of government. . . . God will take care of all injustice—God doesn't forget us. Prof. J. P. Pflueger

It is more blessed to live as individuals in accordance with God's Word. Let us live God's Word. Prof. A. W. Ramstad

If you can see things here in this world in their true perspective, you will walk in humility and glorify your God. Arise and walk with the dignity of a child of God. Dr. O. A. Tingelstad

Lutherans Open Season Saturday With Army Squad

Gladiators to Feature Speedy Backfield With Return of Votaw, O'Conner, Moe

Raising the curtain on their strenuous eight game grid schedule, the potentially strong but untested Gladiator squad will meet their first opposition Saturday, September 28, in the Lincoln Bowl at 2 o'clock, when they engage the bruising Fort Lewis Army team.

In meeting the Army Squadron the Glads will be tackling a team that will be in tip-top shape, as they have been out since August 1, and will have the added advantage of one tough tussle with the C. F. S. Lakers under their belts. However, Coach Olson and the Lutheran supporters believe that if the Norwegians get into the proper physical and mental condition there is no reason why they cannot hurdle the soldier eleven and carry on where they left off after last year's successful season.

A tentative lineup places nine veterans in the first eleven, with many new men threatening to usurp any first string player whose performance is not up to par. In any event, Coach Olson is assured of a hustling outfit with strong reserves, the lack of which has been a serious weakness with P. L. C. teams in the past.

The Glads were dealt a serious blow when Ludlow, chunky fullback, chipped a bone in his elbow and will probably be out of the Army till, running in his place is Fred Henry, newcomer from Lincoln High, who if he fits into Olson's combination will inject a tremendous amount of speed into the backfield. Besides being a track man Henry seems to be big enough to take care of himself in college competition.

At present the Lutheran mentor is drilling his squad to stop the Army passing threat. McDonough, whose passes to Martinez big fast end, have been responsible for the majority of their long gains.

In planning his offensive, the Gladiator boss will build his attack around Hal Votaw and "Bucky" O'Conner, fast stepping ball carriers, featuring a wide open "razzle-Dazzle" type of offense and utilizing the speed which Olson possesses in his backfield in abundance.

The line is not bothering Olson very much as it is experienced although light, and if they can open up the holes in the Army line and shake his small fast backs into the open, the Coach believes that it will be a wide open scoring game.

However, in line with his usual policy, Coach Cliff Olson is not predicting victory for his team but is only concerned with getting his squad to running their offense smoothly and getting into good condition and is leaving it to the men to do the rest in the game.

BETWEEN THE GOAL POSTS

Ten lettermen in his starting lineup! With this heartening nucleus to build from, Coach Olson may be pardoned for sporting a broad smile these days, as he gets down to the annual business of turning out a worthy aggregation to represent Pacific Lutheran College in the football sport.

And what is more the coach is so worried especially about the eleventh spot. Molding down the vacant tackle berth in capable fashion is Kenneth Anenson, former Burlington star, who tips the scales at 191 pounds.

With the return of Hal Votaw, speed merchant and captain of last year's winning outfit, the field will be literally crowded with captains, as there are at present two co-captains in the persons of Russ Frye and "Bucky" O'Conner.

Close observers noticed that "Salute," Feet Nilsson, cloudstrapping end, was considerably handicapped during the first few days of practice. It developed that he was being crippled by trying to wear a pair of number 12 EE shoes. The manager's came to his rescue in the time, however, and fitted him up with a pair large enough.

Another Gladiator hoop star comes along to prove his versatility in athletics in Arnold Tommervik. This flashy guard, who scintillated on the mpleas last year, is turning out for the rougher outdoor sport and is making a determined bid for one of the half-back positions. His elusiveness and clever ball-handling, from toe to make him a valuable asset in Coach Olson's backfield.

Back in the folds again after a two year's absence during which time he picked up both athletic and classroom knowledge at St. Martin's College, is Norm Frye, who is at present showing his wares at one of the wing spots, but who is just as adept in packing the ball. His return should solve some of Coach Olson's problems.

This department suspects after listening to a recent radio interview of Coach Olson that he heartily endorses the attitude of Mike Pecarovitch, Gonzaga's anti-feministic grid mentor in regard to the efforts of girls upon those poor impressionable football players. "Mike" declared that it was high time that something was done when one of his players absent-mindedly called him "honey." Perhaps it might help to close the kicking-post path to football men before each important game. But then again don't forget Coach that some men, women are just those creatures to whom they relinquish seats in a crowded street-car.

Russ Frye, doughty Co-Captain, resents rumors that his being shifting from tackle to center was in any way caused by the arrival of any new man or men. He wishes it strictly understood that he is a center of much experience and is only returning to his first love.

Yell Leader Tryouts

Ten students tried for the positions of yell leaders yesterday at noon. The election was held today, too late for the Morning Mast to get the results printed.

Twelve Gladiators Return For Season

Coach Olson's Cohorts Plunge Into Tough Seven Game Football Schedule

With the return of twelve lettermen and a wealth of new material, P.L.C. looks forward to one of its brightest grid seasons in years. Gladiator-grid stock took a decided jump with the unexpected return of Hal-Votaw, fleet-footed ex-captain, and Ditch-Moe, heady field general.

Co-Captain Bucky O'Conner and "Pug" Ludlow round out the backfield, which remains intact from last year. However, it is doubtful if Ludlow will be in shape for the Fort Lewis game, as he is at present nursing a badly injured arm. Fred Henry, former Abe griddle, has taken over Ludlow's duties, and will undoubtedly start the Army game. There is the possibility that such stellar performers as Solle, Tommervik, Jacobs, and Unger may out; the regulars before game time.

At the wing positions Coach Olson has Nilsen, six feet, four inch star end, and Norm Frye, former P.L.C. and St. Martin's wingman. Francis Archbold and Stan Ford are also out for an end job. The right tackle position is being well taken care of by "Iron man" Svinth, two-year letterman. At left tackle is Kenneth Anenson, an outstanding new line prospect who tips the beams at 191-pounds. For reserve tackles Coach Olson has Otis Grande, Ralph Bolstad, and Mose Lyons. Bob Martin and Lawrence Grerner, a pair of huskies have taken over the guard positions, and bode no good for the opposition. Simon Anderson and Harold Andersen are also promising guards. At center, Coach Olson has situated Russ Frye, Co-Captain and last year's tackle. Daglund, a newcomer, is also making a bid for center.

Coach Olson will no doubt start nine lettermen in the first game, although at the present time it would be impossible to name a starting lineup. The field selections probably will be made after a practice scrimmage with the College of Puget Sound or a local high school.

The schedule is as follows:
Sept. 28: Fort Lewis at Lincoln Bowl
Oct. 5: Monmouth Normal at Lincoln Bowl
Oct. 12: Ellensburg Normal at Ellensburg
Oct. 19: Albany College (Portland branch) at Portland
Oct. 26: Univ. of British Columbia at Vancouver
Nov. 2: Bellingham Normal at Bellingham
Nov. 9: Linfield College at Lincoln Bowl (Homecoming)

Men's Gymnasium Get Large Addition

With the financial cooperation of Uncle Sam, and under the direction of Mr. Jackson, Mr. Lundie and Mr. Olson, and by means of the work of a large group of F. E. R. A. students, the College has provided the men's athletic department with new combined dressing-rooms, equipment room, office, and shower room.

Besides meeting the need for larger athletic dressing quarters it has also made it possible to transfer the athletes and their troubles from the first floor of the main building to the basement of the Gymnasium where they really belong. Basketball players will especially be in a position to appreciate the closer proximity of the showers to the basketball floor.

Started last winter as a Federal Aid project, the job was rushed to completion in time for the fall opening of school and the football season. The project comes under the Federal Regulations which state that financial aid will be given to some project only which would not ordinarily be undertaken by the school at the time.

Mr. Olson, the College engineer, is receiving both bouquets and brickbats for his ingenious feat of carrying the hot water for the showers and the steam for the heating of the gymnasium through the same pipe. The scalions come from the athletes who, in their tired, gloomy mood find it a little annoying to turn on the hot showers, only to receive hot steam.

Some of the stars, therefore difficult to satisfy, have even gone so far to show their ingratitude as, to return to using the old showers in the Main Building. However, lest the feelings of the esteemed engineer be injured, we hasten forward with the mollifying opinion that those few disgruntled persons were probably overcome by nostalgia and retreated to the old crying-rooms. After all, the associations and memories of years cannot be broken and cast aside in one sport year. However, the coach and managers have high hopes of gradually weaning the boys away from the old showers.

Three Instructors Added to College Faculty Membership

Professor Franck of Hungarian Diplomatic Service Accepts Instructing Position

Three new members have been added to the college teaching staff this fall, with the appointment of Dr. Harold J. Lerasas, and Prof. and Mrs. Michel Franck.

Mrs. Ruth Swanson Franck received her Master of Science degree in Journalism from Columbia University, New York, and her M. A. degree from the University of Washington. Previous to this she attended the College of Puget Sound for two years. She taught English for several years in the Tacoma public schools and for six years was an English instructor for the College of the city of New York. For two years Mrs. Franck has been connected with the Teachers' College, Columbia University where she has been a part-time teacher, and has given demonstration courses during the summers.

Prof. Michel Nicholas Franck received his education in Europe and in America. He was born in Constantinople, where his father was in the Hungarian diplomatic service. He studied at the Royal Hungarian State Gymnasium, Budapest, and at the Superior Municipal Academy, from which he was graduated. His studies were continued at the University of Budapest. Mr. Franck later served as a representative of the Hungarian Ministry of Commerce to Brussels, Belgium, and also to the United States, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree from the College of the City of New York, and a Master of Arts degree from the School of Education, New York University. Having a major in French, Mr. Franck is giving instruction in that department at Pacific Lutheran College.

Dr. Lerasas was graduated from Luther College in 1930, and after then he attended Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, for a year, during which time he was an assistant in biology. He studied for the following three years at the University of Michigan from which he received an M. S. degree in 1932, and later, the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy. For the past year he has been assistant Zoologist at the Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. Dr. Lerasas will have charge of Prof. Paul R. Higby's work in the Science department.

Our High School

By Gary Pfeuffer

Hello, and another Hello! Again the High School begins a progressive year of worthy recognition in Pacific Lutheran College activities. Did you notice how many of us turned out for the choir? We have the old school spirit, and we intend to use it.

Virginia Smith halls from the farthest place this year, coming from Cordova, Alaska. Clydie Leske, Howard Hudson, and Dennis Maidane come from Metlakatla Island, also in Alaska. When students come this far to school, we call it evidence that our school is favorably recognized.

Harry McCormick was elected President of the High School Senior Class Friday. For vice-president, Virginia Davis was named, and Betty Svare will officiate as secretary-treasurer. Student body officers will be elected soon.

The inquisitive eye has noticed a certain Professor Yashur Iskatalya coaxing girls to go walking in the rain. If you are wise you will watch further developments of our prep boys out for football—Bob Svare, Or Schlanbusch, George Knudson and Gary Pfeuffer. He also noticed Eric's tie is back again this year. It seems Charlie Leske just can't make up his mind—oh has he?—The 'old' high school grad of '35 that is missing is Elizabeth Dahl. Well off to the tower for a better view.

As manager of the high school basketball team he was a great success. As to his participation in athletics, he was champion golf player of P. L. C. last year and he holds the Club Championship of the Parkland Golf Course. Now we salute him as senior class prey. He has a peculiar way with the girls that every boy in the school would like to learn. Although small of stature his heart is as big as a house. Rammy calls him "Mickey," but the fellows call him "Mick." If you haven't met him do so without delay.

English Tests Show Frosh Above Average

From a total of 150 possible points, Pacific Lutheran College freshmen made an average of 112 1/2 in the Barrett-Ryan English test, which was taken last week. The national median, or average score is 96 1/2 points, which places Prof. N. J. Hong's classes sixteen points above the average. One student reached the high mark of 140 points, while the lowest score was 83. One class averaged a median score of 120 points. This examination is a means by which the individual's sentence structure, grammar, capitalization, and punctuation are measured.

New Chairs Purchased

Sixty new university chairs were purchased last week from the Northwest Chair Company in Tacoma, through H. E. Dahl & Company. The estimated cost is over $200. These chairs, which are of a light maple finish, have been placed in the main lecture room, 201.

Intersynodical Group Meets to Plan Rally

Northwest Educational Accreditation Sought for P. L. C.

Meeting for the first time in two years, the Intersynodical Committee on Cooperation convened Monday in the office of Rev. H. L. Foss, president of the Pacific District of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, to consider plans for a large rally of Pacific Lutheran College supporters to be under the auspices of the American Lutheran Conference.

This conference consists of five Lutheran synods, four of which are represented on this committee as follows: American Lutheran Church represented by Rev. L. Ludwig of Portland, Oregon, who is President of the Northwest District, and by Rev. Amos Mineman of Salem, Oregon; Augustana Synod represented by Dr. C. R. Swanson of Seattle, who is treasurer of the Columbia Conference, and by Rev. Carl A. V. Lund of Mt. Vernon; Lutheran Free Church represented by Rev. John A. Honkom of Seattle; Norwegian Lutheran Church of America represented by Rev. R. Bogstad of Eugene, Oregon, and Rev. A. J. Naess of Santa Barbara, California. All members were present except the California member. Meeting with the committee were Rev. H. L. Foss of Seattle and Rev. Alfred M. Kraabel of Portland, who is president of the College Board of Trustees. President O. A. Tinglestad of Pacific Lutheran College, presided at the committee meeting.

The committee was unanimous in its support of the Lutheran Cooperation program in the maintenance, support control, and development of Pacific Lutheran College.

A rally was suggested for October, but the committee, after discussion, advised Saturday instead. In hope that the rally might be preceded by a Pastor's retreat and culminated by the Alumni Reunion. The final decision probably will be made in two weeks.

Two considerations influenced the decision to postpone the Rally until February. One is the Educational Conference for Lutheran College teachers to take place in St. Olaf, Northfield, Minnesota, November 29, 30. All mid-western college administrators, teachers, and trustees in Lutheran circles are invited to this conference. President O. A. Tinglestad hopes that at least one or two from P. L. C. may attend, and also the President of the Board of Trustees.

The question of accreditation by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools was taken up, and it is hoped that the position for such an accreditation may be properly prepared by next January. The College has been fully accredited for years in our own state, but the financial difficulties of the Depression have postponed the petition for Northwest accreditation.

Not only along the Pacific Coast is the College rallying its supporters, but Mr. Victor A. Elvestrom left yesterday for the Inland Empire and Rocky Mountain Region to develop interest and support.

Gribohm to Supervise German Club Activities

Meeting for the first fall session, the Pacific Lutheran College German Club held an election of officers Tuesday noon, September 17.

As a result of the election, Harry Gribohm was chosen to lead the club this year, with Mildred Larson as vice-president, and Ione Madsen as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Bondy is club adviser, while Mary Machle, former president, will hold a position as assistant adviser.

All those who have studied German or are interested are invited to attend the meetings. The club hopes to have a variety of interesting programs this fall, and to speak as much German as possible in the meetings.

Faculty Holds Annual Reception For Students

As the opening social event of the school year, faculty members of Pacific Lutheran College entertained the student body with a reception held in the College recreation room, Saturday evening, September 14. Mrs. Lora B. Kreidler, Dean of Women, was in charge of general arrangements.

Dean Philip E. Hauge presided as master of ceremonies for the evening. A trio consisting of Mrs. Philip E. Hauge, Mrs. J. O. Edwards, and Rev. T. O. Svare, accompanied by Prof. J. O. Edwards, furnished a vocal selection. President O. A. Tinglestad gave a brief address, using the theme, "Sticks in Memory's Woodbox." Accompanied by Mrs. J. O. Edwards, the faculty wives' quartette sang, and Mr. Keith Reid, commercial instructor, also rendered vocal entertainment.

Mrs. J. O. Edwards gave two readings, and Prof. J. O. Edwards played a piano solo. Mrs. Louise S. Taylor, county superintendent of schools, brought a greeting from the Pierce County office.

After the program light refreshments were served, with Mrs. O. A. Tinglestad and Mrs. J. P. Pfeuffer in charge. The students and faculty enjoyed a social hour of becoming acquainted, and of renewing old friendships.
