VOL. I NO. 30 SCHOOL OF NURSING RECEIVES MENTAL HEALTH T AINING GRANT

The School of Nursing at PLU has received a grant of $100,000 for mental health training from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, it was announced today by Dr. Robert Mortvedt, PLU president.

The grant, which was made through the Public Health Service's National Institutes of Health at Bethseda, Maryland, is for a five-year program for the integration of mental health concepts in the PLU nursing curriculum.

Under the terms of the grant, the University will add another faculty member in the School of Nursing and will obtain consultants in mental health, psychiatry and psychology.

The program will be under the direction of R. Eline Morken, director of the PLU School of Nursing.

Commenting on the grant, Dr. Mortvedt said, of their academic education. "This magnificent grant will make it possible to develop more depth in our nursing curriculum by giving an emphasis to mental health problems and psychiatric care. This will strengthen our program both on campus in the classroom and in our cli ical program in local hospitals and agencies."

Currently there are 124 students in the School of Nursing and a full-time faculty of eight. Affiliations for training in the clinical area include: Mountain View Hospital, Madigan General Hospital, Veterans Administration Hospital at American Lake, Tacoma-Pierce County Health Department, and Good Samaritan Hospital in Puyallup.
