

Elect Irene Dahl Editor of First Lutheran Annual

Staff to Be Chosen by Student Body at Next Meeting; Past Record of Leader Shows Good Ability

Irene Dahl, editor of the Mooring last year, was elected editor of the annual at a special faculty meeting held Saturday morning. This is the first annual ever published at Pacific Lutheran College, and it is expected to be a great success under the leadership of Irene.

A committee of five members of the faculty, consisting of Mr. Hauge, chairman; Mr. Hong, Mr. Stuen, Mr. Hellman, and Mrs. Kreidler, was appointed by Dr. Tingelstad to nominate a candidate for this position. The committee chose Irene, and the whole faculty approved the action taken by the committee.

The staff for the annual has not been chosen as yet, but will probably be decided upon at the student body meeting tomorrow. A faculty-student committee, with Irene as chairman, has been appointed to pick a staff. This will be approved or disapproved at the student body meeting.

Irene was chosen for the position of editor on the basis of her past work. This is her sixth and last year at P. L. C. as she is a member of the junior college graduating class, besides having taken her entire high school course here. She is vice president of the student body vice president of the Lutheran Students' League, a member of the choir, and has been a member of the Mooring staff ever since its origin, five years ago.

OFFICIAL YEAR'S DUTIES OF DRAMATIC CLUB BEGIN

The Dramatic Club was organized October 30, with Miss Stistrud as faculty adviser. Ruth Jacobson was elected president and Ruth Brown, secretary-treasurer.

The aim of the club is to put on a program once a month which shall consist chiefly in one-act plays.

A committee, consisting of John Goplerud, Warner Quale, and Irene Dahl, was appointed to work with the executive committee and faculty adviser to select plays. Regular meetings will be held once a month.

HUMOROUS STUNTS IN PARTY PROGRAM MAKE FUN, FROLIC

Witches, goblins, ghosts, spooks of every kind—and descriptions, pirates, sailors, soldiers, and dozens of other kinds and types of beings joined together in an evening of fun and frolic when Pacific Lutheran college held its annual Halloween party in the school gymnasium Thursday evening, October 31.

The program began with a humorous stunt put on by the faculty. There were also stunts by the dormitory boys and girls, and songs by the male quartettes.

After the program all lined up for the grand march, which was led by Mr. and Mrs. Hellman. The march ended when the line filed past the refreshment tables, where sandwiches, doughnuts, and cider were passed out. Ruth Jacobson and Ted Elyeath won prizes for the best costumes at the party.

EVIL SPIRITS' EVE YIELDS WHAT NOT FOR GALA EVENT

Halloween, the time for witches, hobgoblins, spooks, and pumpkin pies—ah! 'Tis gone! With what vain regrets the inhabitants of the metropolis realize this fact! How they miss those picturesque pirates, Spaniards, Mexicans, Dutchmen, Turks, Martha Washingtons and what not. Why, this gala event did certainly bring to light all the would-be-forgotten pranks and jokes originated by our forefathers.

May I just bring forth understand, not fifth or sixth) these few questions: Just why did the mischievousness of everyone, especially that of the small boys, sprout on Halloween, which it most assuredly did, even more than in the school-room?

Why did the small boy run off with the neighbor's gate, if such still exists? Not, I am positive, to give the owner a plausible excuse to get a new one.

Why did he soap the windows? Certainly not to save the busy housewife that pleasurable duty.

Why did he ring doorbells? To give the house-wife exercise, to help her ride?

Why all the noise? Why all the mystery? Why all the costumes? Why—because 'twas Halloween, the night for merrymaking, the night to be somebody else. Why, it would be criminal if he were recognized as himself!

It seems no one remembers that Halloween was originally the vigil of the feast of All Saints, called All Hallows, and was celebrated on November 1.

The night before was a hallowed evening, and now what is it? It could appropriately be called the Eve of Witches, Goblins, or Evil Spooks, in other words—the night when mischief in person is abroad in the land.

PEP CLUB GIRLS MEET

The regular meeting of the Girls' Pep Club was held Wednesday evening, October 30. Because of the various social functions this week, the business session and program were dispensed with. The meeting adjourned after light refreshments had been served.

Accept Entire Plan Of College Campus

Board Votes to Support Annual; Tentative Choir Trip Approved; Many Changes to Come

That the whole plan of development of the Pacific Lutheran College campus, as outlined by the architect, C. Altshuler, be accepted and approved and that the first unit of the new buildings, the President's residence, be started in the near future were the outstanding decisions made by the board of trustees, when it met last Wednesday, October 30.

A telegram from Mr. Altshuler describing the campus and buildings as they will look when the development plan is complete was read at the meeting.

To the north of the present main building there will be an entrance to the central court, which will run east and west. This court will be terminated on its western end by the combined gymnasium and auditorium, which will be monumental in character and so designed as to be a fitting local point for this view. On each side of the gymnasium and flanking the court will be the dormitories with their inner courts and the library, centrally located to the other buildings in between the dormitories.

Near to the dormitories on the south side of the court will be the dining hall. This building will be along the hillside and at a slightly lower level so as to open up the view across the old orchard, the creek, the athletic field, and the golf links beyond.

The buildings on the north side of the court will present an interesting view on that side, while across the street, will probably be the homes of the faculty. Somewhere near the present gymnasium, and along the hillside will be (Continued on Page Four)

Give Clever Comedy For Boys' Benefit

"Adam and Eva" Presented by Parkland Drama Club Last Saturday

"Adam and Eva," a three-act comedy, was presented by the Parkland Drama Club last Saturday evening in the Pacific Lutheran College auditorium. The receipts from this well-attended play will go to Henry Olson, fifteen-year-old son of our school engineer. Henry was hurt in an automobile accident last June and had to have his leg amputated above the knee.

The Pacific Lutheran College orchestra, led by Mr. Edwards, furnished the music for the entertainment, with Wallace Kerr favoring with a violin solo between the first and second scenes of the second act.

The cast is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Ph. E. Hauge, Mrs. Davis, Miss Irene Fadness, Miss Ruth Padness, Mr. A. J. Beck, Mr. J. O. Edwards, Mr. R. W. Sherrill, Mr. A. P. Wisell, and Mr. J. D. Spence.

The play was coached by Mr. and Mrs. Hauge, with Mrs. Hauge, Mr. Spence, and Mrs. Esther Davis taking care of the stage work. Mrs. Ramstad was the business manager.

Wide Experience In Teaching To Credit Of New Instructor

Mr. P. J. Bardon, who teaches history and commercial classes, has had a wide range of experience in teaching, having taught at nine schools since he left the University in 1913.

Mr. Bardon attended high school in Crookston, Minnesota, from which he went to Augsburg Seminary, where he remained for three years. Then he attended Valparaiso University for 22 months, and graduated with a B. S. degree in 1892.

He attended the University of Minnesota for one year, and after that was engaged in business-college work in Minneapolis for six years. He also taught in a business college at Red Wing, Minnesota, for two years.

Mr. Bardon's next position was a principalship of the public school in Millnor, North Dakota, for two years. In 1904 he was called to Everett, where he was president of Bethania college for eight years. In 1911, he received his B. A. degree from the University of Washington.

In 1912 he came to Pacific Lutheran College, where he taught for five years, until the school closed because of the World War.

During the war, Mr. Bardon taught at the Y. M. C. A. in Seattle for one year, and after that engaged in various other occupations.

Since the war he was superintendent of Harmony High School, Whatcom County, and later taught at Joyce, Washington, and in Montana.

He attended summer school at the U. of W. for a few years, and in 1927 received his degree of A. M.

This year Mr. Bardon was called back to P. L. C. after an absence of twelve years.

In speaking of the school, Mr. Bardon said, "I have enjoyed these first few weeks of work at P. L. C. more than at any place I have ever taught."

ANNUAL RALLY DAY AT SEATTLE LAST SUNDAY

The annual P. L. C. rally day for Seattle was held in the First Norwegian Lutheran Church of the Rev. M. L. Neevig's charge, October 27. On this occasion a program was given by several students and teachers of the school. A program in the Norwegian language was given at 5:30 P. M. and one in English at 7:30 P. M. In both programs Mr. Edwards led the singing. At the first program President Tingelstad spoke on Education in the Service of Christianity and at the second on Educational Influences of the Reformation.

College Department Fully Accredited by University Standard

Pacific Lutheran Student Rate Much Higher Than General Average in Washington Registrar Report

With the full accreditation, on October 29, of its junior college division according to the new standards of the University of Washington, Pacific Lutheran College now has all its departments fully accredited. President Tingelstad and other officials of the school have been working hard for several years to bring this about, and they were fairly certain of the success of the undertaking.

Accreditation would undoubtedly have been secured before this time had it not been for the fact that an error was made in the registrar's office at the University of Washington two years ago, the report going out that P. L. C. students rated lowest of any in the state at that institution. The error has been discovered, however, and it was found that P. L. C. students rated considerably higher than the average.

The normal department of the school received its class "A" accreditation last June. Before that time, since 1925, it had held a class "B" accreditation. The high-school department has been fully accredited since 1919. Before that time students were accepted on the recommendation of the principal.

Following is a letter to President Tingelstad from Frederick E. Bolton, chairman of the University of Washington Committee on Accreditation:

Dear Doctor Tingelstad: It gives me very great pleasure in being able to inform you officially that at a meeting of the University Committee on Relations with Secondary Schools and Colleges it was voted that Pacific Lutheran College be given full accreditation as a junior college with the understanding that the institution will be subject to annual inspection and that continued accreditation will be dependent upon meeting of requirements made by the University of accredited and affiliated junior colleges.

Permit me to extend to you, your faculty, and your board of trustees my congratulations upon achieving this (Continued on Page Four)

HOMECOMING DAY POSTPONED UNTIL LATER IN SEASON

Owing to the fact that the return football game with Central Junior College, which had been scheduled for Homecoming Day, has been cancelled, there will be no Homecoming this month as was previously announced. The football game was to be the main feature of the program. However, drawing their conclusions from the first game with Central, the committee in charge of arrangements for the Homecoming decided that this game would be so one-sided that it would provide no entertainment for the visitors but rather cast gloom upon the whole meeting. The postponing of the Alumni event was the direct result of the failure to schedule another football game.

Announcements will be made later as to the date of the Homecoming event, but as yet it is undecided whether it will be a separate affair in the early part of 1930 or will be a part of the Alumni Banquet held later in the spring.

ARE WE GROWING?

There are at present 187 students enrolled at this school. This is especially interesting because of the fact that 187 was the exact number enrolled throughout the entire school year of 1928-29. Registrar's records show that forty were enrolled after November 1 last year. Thus the present year is no exception to the steady increase in enrollment each year, which began in 1922 with a total of 62. Through the past seven years, the increase of the enrollment has had a ratio of 6 to 7.

These statistics are indeed encouraging, and now with the development of the campus, the full accreditation of all divisions of this school, and the addition of new courses, we feel sure that this ratio of increase in enrollment will be much greater in the future than in the past.

POINT SYSTEM

Pacific Lutheran College has adopted the standard grade point system to take effect this year. Grade points will be allowed as follows: for a grade of A, three points per credit hour; B, two points per credit hour; C, one point per credit hour; D, no points; E, minus one point per credit hour. To graduate, a student must have as many grade points as he has credit hours—that is, he must have, besides his sixty-four credit hours, at least sixty-four grade points. In order to graduate with sixty-six credit hours he must also have sixty-six grade points.

The outstanding advantage of the system here described is that it promotes good scholarship and encourages the students to work toward higher goals. While formerly a grade of D has allowed a student to pass, a D in each subject, under the present plan allowed him to pass but keeps him from graduating, because this low grade credits him with no points. Similarly a student who has received no higher grades than C and, besides these, two D's, will not be allowed to graduate.

This week is the week for mid-semester tests, which will inform the students of their relative scholastic rank. It will be well worth while when students receive their report cards to put their grades to the test of this point system.

Chapel Talk

November 1 is All-Saints Day, and on that day we commemorate the lives of those who have gone before and who believed in Jesus Christ. These are known as saints. Those who die in the Lord are not dead but live forever. The unity of all the saints will be realized more and more as we ponder what God has revealed in His word in this regard. The saints are not dead but have just gone before. We are one with them.

Christians have seen the vision from time to time. The Apostle John wrote of it in the Revelations, and several of our hymn writers have written of it for example:

Behold a host arrayed in white,
Like thousand snow-capped mountains
bright,
With palms they stand—
Who are this band?
Before the throne of light?

Lo, these are they, of glorious fame,
Who from the great affliction came,
And in the flood of Jesus' blood died,
Are cleansed from guilt and blame;

Now gathered in the holy place
Their voices they in worship raise,
Their anthems swell where God doth dwell,
Mid angels' songs of praise.

ARISTOTLE'S AIR VENT

My morning mail, yes, I get mail because this is the first of the month, contained some queer ones, and for the enlightenment of those asking I will publish the answers. All letters were postmarked Parland, and with one exception were unsigned. This one asked that I do not disclose her name.

"Dear Aristotle: Should I use my knife or fork at dinner?"

Answer: Your knife might cut your mouth, your fork might stick your tonsils; play safe and use a spoon.

"Dear Aristotle: Can you furnish figures concerning mileage of spaghetti consumed in the United States daily?"

Answer: I have no figures on mileage, but statistics say very little progress is made when one has the hiccoughs.

"Dear Arty: Should I use my right hand or my left hand when I stir my tea?"

Answer: Try using a teaspoon for a change.

"Dear Aristotle: What is hush?"

Answer: Unknown.
Hush is the dining club evil.
Descended from times medieval,
A mixture of meats and of fish
And scrapings from many a dish,
Ground up in a pan
And baked to a tan
Producing an odor most pleasing to man.

But somehow one always will find
A large chunk of old bacon rind.
Or extra large, chunk of gristle
Causing the trachea to whistle.
Like a ratty post.
Or maybe a shout.

That has something lodged in the midst of its throat.
What must one do when served this treat?

Something is found too large to eat.
While chewing it feels like a stone.
The really 'tis only a bone.
Now I'm asking you
Pray what should we do
Unless we should throw it back in the stew?

Lose Pigskin Game To Axemen's Team

Score of 18 to 0 Made by Hard Scrambling; Good Passing Done By Lutheran Boys

Last Friday afternoon, in the Lincoln Bowl, the fighting Gladiators eleven lost an exciting game to the strong Rail-splitter grid machine by an 18 to 0 score. Lincoln made the best of its breaks and scored three touchdowns. Both teams played straight football on even terms, with Lincoln making nine and P. L. C. twelve first downs. The Lutherans were behind the high school gridgers in the passing route, completing 9 out of 24, while Lincoln completed 6 out of 13 attempts.

The first drive was featured by a determined quarter toward scoring territory by the Pacific boys. They took the pigskin from their own 13-yard line to the opposing 10-yard line. Here they were held and lost the ball on downs. The kicking toe of Phil Sorboe came through with a 55-yard boy, which went over Nymans head. Nymans ran back and took the ball, but he fumbled when tackled by Mazza. Vasey recovered for the Rail-splitters on the Lutheran's 30-yard line. The Abes took the ball to the Lutheran 4-yard line, where the College line showed great form to hold four downs. Thostensons' kick from behind his own goal line was partly blocked, and Lincoln took possession of the ball on the Lutheran 24-yard line.

At the beginning of the second quarter, Lincoln took the ball to the P. L. C. 3-yard line by two successful passes, but Rabstoff crashed over for the first touchdown. The try for point failed.

Revealing one of the greatest aerial attacks of the season, the Lutherans took the ball after the kickoff from their own 13-yard line, deep into Lincoln territory, and were headed for an almost certain touchdown, but the gun sounded to end the half.

The Lutherans resolved to start the second half with Nymans returning Sorboe's kick from his own 10-yard line to the 27-yard line. Mazza, Abe end, intercepted a pass on the Lutheran's 38-yard line, and with two completed passes and an end run, Lincoln put the ball over on the second six points. Sorboe's kick for extra point was blocked by a rushing Lutheran lineman.

Again in the final period the Lincoln eleven scored when they took the ball on the Lutheran 37-yard line. A long pass from Sorboe to Mazza took the ball to the Pacific 8-yard line. Here a 15-yard penalty was given the Lutherans for sending in a substitute after play had been started.

From the 3-yard line Sorboe took the ball over on two line plunges to make the score 18 to 0. A pass for extra point was knocked down. The Lutheran's vain effort to score took the ball down deep into Lincoln territory three times, but the aerial attack was successfully repelled by the Abes, and the game ended with the Pacific boys on their fourth trip toward scoring turf. ## Grid Gossip Getting ready for the Puget Sound Reserves is Coach Olson's great worry. Over-coincidence by the Gladiators must be forgotten.

Bill Nymans regrets that there is only one game left this year. He says that he is just getting into the football swing. We pity the C. P. S. Reserves if all the fellows feel that way.

Coming from behind in the last two minutes of play, the Bellarmine eleven showed over a touchdown, to the Stadium 14 to 14 last Saturday.

Every one of the football men, and a number of the students were among the 15,000 person who witnessed the first night football game in the Pacific Northwest, in the Tacoma Stadium last Friday evening.

Joe Giasso, Bill Nymans, and Arnie Thostensons deny the published statement that they like golf better than football. They assert that they didn't know there was a turnout last Tuesday.

Carl Colton, who returned to school last week, feels that the season is a little too old to start turning out for the great college sport.

Coach Olson has a new radio. He would like to have the entire school down to hear it, but due to the limited seating capacity, he has decided he cannot do this favor. He will not let the good radio programs keep him from the gridiron at 3:30 every afternoon, however.

Veterans to Watch Last Season Game

Logger Reserves and P. L. C. to Play Second Tilt: Regular Lineup to Participate

The Pacific Lutheran College eleven will travel to American Lake to play the C. P. S. reserves in their last scheduled game of the 1929 season, Thursday afternoon.

The Lutherans expect to give the veterans, for whose benefit the game is being played, plenty of entertainment during the afternoon. The gridiron at the Veteran's Hospital is of turf, and unless there is too much rain, the Gladiators expect to reveal a brand of football, especially via the aerial route, far superior to that of any other game played so far this year.

All the men, with the possible exception of Ben Palo, are in tip-top condition. Palo received a bruised ankle in the Lincoln game last Friday. Sankey Johnson will be at his usual end position, where he functioned so well last Friday. Al Hauge, who received an injured knee several weeks ago, will be ready to play a large part of the game either at a tackle or guard position.

The lineup that will face the Logger Reserves will be about the same as that which started against Lincoln, with Quale, Johnson or Mitton at end, Al Hauge, Young, Cronquist at tackle, Schiermann, Skov, or Scheel at guard, and either Jacobson or Percival completing the line at center. The backfield will be composed of either Anderson or Lisherness at full, M. Quale or Giasso at right half, Palo or Sanderson at left half, with Bill Nymans starting at quarter.

RESERVES MEET ABE MIDDIES AT LINCOLN

The Pacific Lutheran College Reserves will travel to the Lincoln Bowl to meet the Lincoln Middles this afternoon. The Gladiator Reserves have already dealt the Lincoln Middles a 13 to 0 defeat in the first of the season, but Coach Post's boys are out for revenge and since the game will be played on the home lot, the Abes will be at a slight advantage.

The Reserve lineup will consist of the same men as those who faced Lincoln in the first game. Al Hauge, who is a regular varsity player, will play tomorrow to get warmed up for the game Thursday. Hauge has been out of play for the past four weeks, nursing a wrenched knee.

GIRLS' TURNOUT FOR BASKETBALL STARTS EARLY THIS SEASON

Mindful of the good record of the last year's basketball team, the girls are already beginning their turnouts. The time schedule for signal and floor practice is being worked out by the athletic committee.

A strong team ought to be forthcoming because of the great number trying for each position. Six last year's letter girls, Eleanor Loftus, Dorothy Ebersole, Emma Kaaland, Pauline Larson, Margaret Holmberg, and Eugenia Crosby, are out to keep their old berths.

Miss Sitrud, the coach, will not be able to turn out with the girls because of her recent operation and illness. She hopes, though, to be with the team in time for the games. During her absence the girls will take turns at coaching.

Last year the Pacific Lutheran College team played eleven games, winning eight and losing three. To make up for these defeats they played the same teams again and were victorious. Those that have signed up so far are Evelyn Monson, Pauline Larson, Inga Olson, Margaret Fadness, Palma Foss, Eleanor Cox, Clara Lund, Eleanor Dahlberg, Alice Roe, Eleanor Loftus, Margaret Holmberg, Emma Kaaland, Dorothy Ebersole, Eugenia Crosby, Muriel Soine, Lillian Johnson, Ruth Jacobson, Miriam Heimdahl, Connie Mohn, Viola Taw, Thora Rasmussen, Marie Vandastrug.

FIGHTING GLADIATORS BEATEN BY CENTRALIA

Although they were fighting every minute of the time, Pacific Lutheran College Gladiators went down to a 62 to 0 defeat at the hands of Centralia Junior College, Friday, October 25, at Centralia. The Gladiators were outplayed in every department of the game, and were outweighed about twenty pounds to a man.

TO START RESIDENCE OF COLLEGE HEAD

Assurance of the fact that the President's residence will be started in the near future was made by the board of trustees in their meeting held last Wednesday. This residence, which is to cost around $7,000, will be built north of the present chapel.

A letter was received from Architect Charles Altfillisch a few days ago describing the building and making a few corrections. The plan of the building has also been received. Construction work will probably start some time within the next three weeks.

This will be the first unit of the proposed plan of development and has been looked forward to for quite a long time by students, faculty, and persons interested in Pacific Lutheran College.

SCHOOLS SHINING STARS SIGN FOR SPORT POSITIONS

Miss Stürud will have many extras for a winning basketball team.

In addition to the 25 regulars turning out for the girls' basketball team, a number of others signed up for the popular indoor sport at the last minute and could not be included in the list which appears elsewhere in this edition of the Morning Mast.

Those signing up and giving all indications of being successful candidates are: Ida Smith, Sister J. Fadness, Josephine Glasso, Sister Mesford, Evelyn Jensen, Sister Tallent, Al (Alvera) Hauge, Ingeborg Percival, Sister Johnson (Sanky), Sister Anderson, and Palma Störle.

The above mentioned hope to furnish Miss Stürud with a good supply of reserve material and hope to give some of the regulars, Dorothy Ebersole, Eugenia Crosby, and others, a good run for their positions.

Most of the above mentioned may also be interested to know that the taffy pull, which was originally scheduled for Thursday, at the home of Sister Thompson, has been postponed to 3 p. m. Saturday, by the hostess.

Moral: Boys, be careful where your nose appears on the bulletin board, because the Morning Mast reporters take everything for granite.

TEACH GAMES AND DRILLS IN GIRLS' GYM

Games and drills that can be used in recreation periods are being taught in the gym periods. Each girl has a turn to teach her game. The rest of the class take the places of the primary pupils and follow directions. This is done for the benefit of prospective teachers.

Daily Diary

October 27.—A group of the boys spent the afternoon playing "football-after-a-fashion."

October 28.—The Kicking-Put is getting a great kick out of life, we think. Today we saw the "long and short of it" stroll westward. Know who we mean?

October 29.—All we know about today is that there were classes as usual, and as usual, everybody knew their lessons.

October 30.—The day before the night after: "Oh kid, w'atcha gonna wear?"
October 31.—We learned lots of things at the party: how to conduct, a perfect class; how to behave in class; where matches are made; and what kind of good sports our teachers really are.

November 1.—Fog and mist only added to the interest of the game at Lidsola Bowl, but didn't help yelling voices any.

November 2.—Work on the annual was started today. Start thinking about a name, clever people!

November 3.—Frost and sunshine—a good weather mixture for afternoon walks.

November 4.—Blue Monday!

GOLLY THESE MEN

Men are what women maffy—and they have two hands, two feet and sometimes two wives, but never more than one idea or one collar button at a time.

Making a husband out of a man is the highest plastic art known among women. It requires science, sculpture, common sense, faith, hope and charity, especially charity.

If you flatter a man it frightens him to death and if you don't you bore him to death. If you permit him to make love to you he tires of you in the end. If you don't he tires of you in the beginning.

If you believe him in everything you soon cease to interest him and if you argue with him in everything you cease to charm him.

If you believe everything he thinks you are a fool and if you don't he thinks you are a cynic.

If you wear gay colors, rouge, startling hats, he hesitates to take you out; if you wear a little brown suit he takes you out and stares at a woman in gay colors, rouge and a startling hat.

If you are the clinging vine type, he doubts whether you have a brain in your head, and if you are the modern, advanced, independent woman, he doubts whether you have a heart.

If you are silly he longs for a bright mate, if you are brilliant he longs for a playmate.

If you are popular with other men he is jealous but if you are not he is afraid to marry a wall flower.

"Golly these men!"
—L. E. J. with apologies to the originator.

AND THESE WOMEN

Women are what marry men—and they have an appeal and neck, and sometimes an alimony, but never only one idea at a time.

Making a wife out of a woman is the most joyful task known to man; however, it requires strong will power, an infinite capacity for giving in, wisdom, nonsense and a million dollars, especially a million dollars.

If you flatter a woman she thinks you're lying, and if you don't she knows you are.

If you are jealous you have no confidence, and if you are not you have no interest.

If you believe everything she thinks, you have no mind of your own, and if you don't, you have no mind at all.

If you wear pomade, a brilliant tie, and dirty cords she thinks you are sacrificing good taste to be collegiate, but if you wear a dark suit and take her out, she says the chap over there with pomade, the brilliant tie, and dirty cords is cute—he's so collegiate.

If you're the cavemante she thinks you are brutal, but if you're not she knows you're abject—and she hates an abject man.

If you are frivolous you have no serious purpose in life, and if you are serious you have no sense of humor.

If you go out with other girls you are fickle, but if you don't she doesn't want to marry an experiment.

"These women, these women!"
—W. R. Q. with apologies to the originator.

chapel, which will connect with the smaller and less pretentious music hall by means of a tower. This tower will be on the highest elevation of the campus. It will be the key to both the east and the south, the two principal sides. It will dominate, not alone from the inner courts, but from the outside. There will probably be installed in this tower, the memorial chimes.

The board also decided to support the annual, which is to be published this year. The choir was authorized to make a trip through California about the first of the year if Mr. Elvestrom finds conditions favorable.

Walter Christensen, '28, is a senior this year at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa.

Campus Locals

Miss Clarissa Brager and Mrs. Goldberg, of Silverton, Oregon, visited the college Tuesday afternoon, October 22.

Dorothy Lehmann and Irene Dahl attended the concert of Kathryn Meisle in Tacoma, Tuesday evening, October 29.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. Nordgaard and two children, Mrs. S. W. Wangen and two daughters and Mrs. Thorsen, all of Everett, visited Ruth Nordgaard and Solveig Wangen Sunday, October 27.

The following students spent October 25-29 at Astoria, Oregon: Sankey Johnson, Clifford M. Ford and Stanley Berentson.

Conrad Kirchhof has returned to school after an operation for appendicitis.

The Misses Victoria Rasmussen and Olga Benson, former P. L. C. students, spent the week-end, October 26, 27, at P. L. C.
