

Report Student Union Gathering Great Success

Convention Theme Is "Facing the Faith:" Teachers, Pastors Carry Out Topic

The annual convention of the Lutheran Students' Union was held at Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., February 27 to March 1. Mr. Raymond Reinholdt, Lutheran Theological Seminary, president of the Union, presided at all sessions.

Officers elected for next year are: president, Mr. Carl Hanson of Lutheran Theological Seminary; vice president, Miss Solvej Torvik of Concordia College; secretary, Miss Esther Peterson, St. Olaf College; and treasurer, Mr. Reuben Talle, Luther College.

Seven-thirty o'clock Friday evening marked the official opening of the convention. Devotion was conducted by Mr. Casper Newitz, a student of Luther Theological Seminary. Dr. Gullixson, president of the seminary, delivered the welcoming address, to which Raymond Reinholdt, president of the Union, responded, speaking on the Convention theme, which was: "Facing the Faith," based on Jude, earnestly content with the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

The main topic at this session was presented by Professor K. E. Roe of Luther College, and was "Faith in the Bible as the Word of God and the Final Authority of Faith." The speaker showed by figures that the Bible is a popular and a necessary book and that Christianity is the only conquering religion.

At 9:00 a. m. the convention opened with a business session at which it was voted that the Lutheran Students' Union pay half the expenses of the delegate from Pacific Lutheran College. The program opened with devotion, followed by music by the Fiesede Male Quartet of Lutheran Theological Seminary. At 10:00 a. m. Professor Theodor Huggely, St. Olaf, as speaker of this session, presented "Faith in Christ as our only Redeemer." He stated that Faith must be built upon historical foundations, and that

The casts for the various one-act plays were urged to greater effort in order that they might be given sooner.

The program consisted of a vocal solo by Marie Omdal, and a one-act play "On a Park Bench," the cast of which included Ruth Brown, Olaf Hagness, John Johnson Harold Gray and Ingrid Grolid.

The club is planning for now on to give programs at every meeting.

Argument With Oregon Normal Closes Season

Win Two, Lose One in Free Trade Discussions With Bellingham Normal Squads Here

Two debates were held Monday, March 6, here at Pacific Lutheran College against the Bellingham Normal School. The decisions of both were in favor of the home teams. Marie Vandinburg and Ruth Norgard upheld the negative and Olaf Hagness and Morris Ford the affirmative. The question was: Resolved: That the nations should adopt a policy of free trade.

The same day our girls' affirmative team composed of Evelyn Aronson and Dagry Hjermstad traveled to Bellingham where they debated on the same question of Free Trade. The final decision was in favor of the negative.

Friday, March 6, Morris Ford and John Johnson debating the same question here against Centralia Junior College, and Olaf Hagness and Earl Percival debating at Centralia won and lost, respectively. Both decisions were unanimous.

On Thursday, March 5, our first cross-question debate was held. Olaf Hagness and Eric Hauke supported the affirmative of the same Free Trade question against the University of Washington freshman team. On the same day at Kent, Washington, John Johnson and Morris Ford upheld the negative. Though they were non-decision debates, the speakers held the interested attention of both audiences.

The final debate of the season will be held tomorrow evening, Marie Vandinburg and Ruth Norgard upholding the negative against an affirmative team from Oregon State Normal.

Debates with Seattle Pacific College were cancelled because of the school's withdrawal from the conference.

Anyone interested and concerned about American youth is urged to attend and take part in the discussion. The convention theme is "Be Ye Perfect."

The Pacific Lutheran College Choir will sing and there will be special speakers. Round-table discussion, a convention banquet, and a choral Union Concert will be other special features.

Each Lutheran League, Young People's Society and Choir is entitled to three delegates.

DARK BLACK MYSTERY—AH—H—H!

Black heavy rumblings are heard proceeding from a heavily draped room. A shriek rends the dense silence. What is this dark mystery? What is going on? Many are the questions, great's the curiosity, yet none of the initiated will reply none will lighten the darkness. Vainly do pseudo-Sherlock Holmes snoop about, magnifying glass in hand, following the trails of those who know. Interestingly they peer at posters, adorned with skeletons and mysterious wordings that hint at much and tell them nothing.

"Who knows what is to be and why?"

CIVICS, SOCIOLOGY CLASSES ATTEND CAPITOL SESSIONS

A cordial reception was extended the members of Mr. Bardons classes in Civics and Sociology who visited the Capitol on Thursday, February 26. Both Governor Hartley and Secretary of State Hinkle greeted the students. Mr. Hinkle gave a short talk explaining the various parts of the capitol building, and gave the students advice to help them in their duties as citizens.

Governor Hartley explained the working of the governor's office and the duties of the governor. Ruth Brown was elected by the Classes as governor of the state, and for ten minutes directed the destinies of the commonwealth.

The classes attended the sessions of the senate and the House in the afternoon some of the students visited the Hall of Justice and the Treasury Building. At 1:30 the group climbed to the dome of the Capitol, from which they had a good view of the surrounding country.

CONVENTION TOUR AS FIRST TRIP, RUTH OF NATIVE STATE, ENJOYED

By Ruth Jacobson
A few more friendly goodbyes, some more lusty yells and the train pulled out with the gang following on the run shouting encouragement until they were gradually left behind.

At last I was on my way. For a while my thoughts wandered back to school and those whom I had left behind but I soon became interested in the other passengers and what was going on about me. Because of the excitement of being on the train and the newness of everything, I did not retire until nearly midnight.

I found very little sleep that first night, but when I got up the next morning, I found myself in Idaho. This country was something new to me and I found much to interest me in the scenery.

To me the trip was one grand moving picture, for never before had I seen such mountains and plains as I now saw. I did not have a chance to become lonesome because between watching the scenery and conversing with my travelling companion, Dr. Tingstad, who was most considerate of me, I was kept entertained.

On Thursday night, we arrived at (Continued on Page Three) is what and when? At last comes a fateful night, a night when dark unknowns are brought to light and curiosity-stricken minds are set at rest. One and all, skinny and fat, tall and tiny, all come running, trooping, tramping, riding, whooping, shouting to the big carnival to be given by the Saga Staff in the gymnasium on April 10, to gasp and admire, to appreciate and to know, and to have enough fun to last them the rest of the year. And all of them show their school spirit and bring their friends.

PROGRAM WILL AID EDUCATION OF NATIVE LAD

The proceeds from the program given Friday night by the College Mission Society will go to educate a native Madagascar lad in a Christian school.

Carroll Svare with his trombone, Mr. Pellet with his melophone, and Ruth Wersen at the piano, played the opening numbers. A one-act play was presented by Ruth Brown, Olaf Hagness, John Johnson, Ingrid Grolid and Harold Gray.

Several times during the entertainment, the Percival family orchestra provided music. Professor Pflueger told of some things he had experienced on his missionary journeys. Mrs. C. O. Olson, accompanied at the piano by Ruth Wersen, sang two solos. Francis Barr delivered two readings which, according to all indications, filled her listeners with mirth. Professor Edwards played a piano solo as the last number of the program.

The audience was served with refreshments at the close of the program.

Discuss Papers At Conference Held in St. Paul

Critique College Publications: Visit Publishing House; Represented by Jacobson

At the two sessions of the Lutheran Press Conference, held the first day of the Lutheran Students' Union Convention, which met at Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minnesota, February 27 to March 1, Mr. Kermit Overby, editor of the Concordian, Concordia College, Moorhead, Minnesota, presided. Our College was represented by Ruth Jacobson.

The speaker of the morning in the persons of Mr. Randolph E. Haugen, manager of Augsburg Publishing House, used as his topic, "Facing the Faith" in our Editorial Policy from the Viewpoint of an Alumnus." According to Mr. Haugen portions of the papers of our Church schools were: the desirability of having co-operation, need for editorial supervision, and the lack of staff training. His suggestions for solutions of these problems were put in the hands of a committee, consisting of the editors present at the conference, who were to work out a program of improvements.

Delegates were taken to the Augsburg Publishing House before returning for the afternoon session.

In this meeting, Mr. Frisbie Young, Luther Theological Seminary, discussed critically the four senior college papers, and the Moorhead Mast, followed by general discussion led by Mr. O. J. Skarvud of Luther Theological Seminary. After this discussion, the delegation was divided into groups. Mr. Stanley Heggan, editor of The Mantou Messenger, leading in discussion of senior college papers; Mr. Enid Hansig, editor of The Waldorf Lobbyst, Waldorf Junior College, in discussion of junior college papers; and Miss Ruth Jacobson, in the discussion of annuals.

Mr. Raydon Ronsaahgen, editor of the Augustana Mirror, was elected chairman of next year's conference, and Mr. Enid Hansig, editor of the Waldorf Lobbyst, secretary.

Hinderlie, Quale Give Soph Party

On Friday evening, February 27, the College Sophomores enjoyed a pleasant party in the College Recreation Hall. Ida Hinderlie and Millard Quale entertained as host and hostess, assisted by Ruth Norgard and Stella Sorbo.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing Bunco and Rock, Dell-dous refreshments were served.

Annual Alumni Reunion to Be Held Mar. 21, 22

Program to Include Basketball Games, Banquet With Good Speeches, Music

Starting with a basketball game, the annual Alumni Reunion will be held on the campus of Pacific Lutheran College on March 21 and 22. On Saturday afternoon the program starts with a game between the Orlis' basketball team and an alumni girls' team in charge of Ruth Fadness. The boys' team, which this year is tied for the Junior College Championship of Washington, will play a team of alumni boys under Rudy Sanderson.

A futuristic idea will be carried out this year at the alumni dinner, which will be given on Saturday evening. "Color" will be furnished in the form of music by an orchestra, the Ariona, Rev. C. A. Pellett, Elna Trulsson, and a quartette, Walter Christensen, and now teaching at Astoria, will be the leader.

President A. Tingstad will speak on "Angles," and Mr. P. A. Preus, the new endowment field agent, will speak on "Impressions."

At the informal gatherings following the dinner, the graduates of 1931 will be formally received into the Alumni Association.

On Sunday morning a special reunion service will be held at the Trinity Lutheran Church. An alumnus will preach the sermon; the Pacific Lutheran College Choir will sing several numbers.

At the business meeting, five new board members will be elected. The retiring members are: Martha Hjermstad, 2d. president; O. J. Stuen, '07, vice president; Ruth Fadness, '24, corresponding secretary; Ingeborg Bolstad, '29, and Miron Kreider, '28. The board members remaining are: Solvej Rynning, '21, recording secretary; Alfred Anderson, '26, treasurer; Philip E. Hauge, faculty representative; Alvar J. Beck, '27, and Irine Dahl, '27. Five members are elected each year for a term of two years.

The purpose of the Alumni Association is to keep former students in close contact with the school, and to take an active part in the work of carrying out plans for developing the College. The Alumni have done a great deal for the school in the past and plan to continue helping their Alma Mater in every possible way. During the last year a number of alumni chapters have been organized.

Choir to Sing At Convention

Dr. Tingstad sent a telegram last Friday, March 6 saying that he had accepted the invitation for the choir to sing at the Young People's Lutheran League Convention in Chicago.

Support for the coming trip is increasing in Tacoma, where the Greater Tacoma Lutheran Pastor's Conference met last Monday and unanimously passed a resolution approving the trip and pledging moral support and financial aid as far as possible. Proposally the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce had pledged its moral support.

Under the direction of Mr. V. Elvestrom and Mr. Paul Preus, an effort is being made to collect $2500 in the community. To this will be added the $500 from the Luther League Convention. The remainder of the funds needed, about $6000, will come from concerts which are scheduled along the way. About 30 concerts are planned. The proceeds from concerts in the state will also help swell the total.

WELCOME, ALUMNI

Since this issue is primarily intended for the alumni, we wish to take this opportunity to welcome those of you who will meet with us on March 21 and 22. You will, perhaps, find some changes in equipment and faculty. There will be new faces around the school, students who have taken the places that you left and who intend to follow in your footsteps. In spite of the changes, however, you will find the same good Christian spirit that pervaded our school when you were here.

We are still endeavoring to fulfill our unique place as the only Lutheran College in the Pacific Northwest, endeavoring to uphold the torch of Christian education in a state in which seventy percent of the people have no church affiliations whatever. We appreciate your support, alumni, and shall endeavor to uphold your traditions.

SUCCESS

We are greatly pleased to hear that Dr. Tingstad has finally accepted the invitation for the choir to sing at the convention at Chicago. The trip will be interesting and educational for those students who are fortunate enough to be taken along. More than this, the returns to the College in good will and support, will, we hope, richly repay the expenditures in time and money that must be made.

Through our choir and our athletic teams, as well as through our alumni, Pacific Lutheran College is becoming better known throughout the country, even as its reputation in its own community is extremely good. May the trip be attended with success in a high degree.

HOW WE RATE

The last issue of College Clips tells us that we rate fifth among five college papers. Not very consoling, to be sure, yet considering what we were compared with, we have nothing to be ashamed of. We are only a two-year college, with about two hundred and twenty students, and feel proud that we were considered at all in connection with the four big senior colleges of the church. Furthermore, our tenth issue, which the critic used for his rating, is not what we consider our best production.

We give all credit to the Mantion Messenger, which scored first. The Concordia, College Clips, and The Argus and Mirror. We are glad to hear that we rate with them. Someday, perhaps, when we are a senior college with a thousand students, we will give them a run for their money.

GOOD ARGUING, DEBATERS

Not counting the debates with W. S. C., which should not count since Washington State College is a four-year college and has ten times as many students as we have, our debaters have had a quite successful season. Unfair judges have at times rendered surprising verdicts, but the knowledge that they won a moral victory should encourage the debaters. They have done some fine work, both in the regular debates and in cross-examination, no-decision debates. The men and women debaters and Mr. Hauge, the coach, deserve a great deal of credit for their work.

THE ARIONS RETURN

Again the Arions are with us after a tour of Oregon and California. We hope that their tour has been a great success in the way of making friends for the school. As with the Choir, the Arions are a big factor in making the name of this school better known. Many of the students now going to Pacific Lutheran College made their first acquaintance with the school through the agency of these organizations. We are proud of the Arions and hope that they enjoyed their trip.

Dear Ma 'n Pa,
The Freshman party is going to be next Friday night. I'm so excited. Annie is going to let me wear her dress and shoes as I'll be dressed up a little bit. The Sophomores had a party. They didn't ask me, but I'm going to this one so I don't care very much.

I guess quite a few of the boys will get basketball letters. I suppose nobody wrote to them so the coach thought he'd be nice. I'll bet I'll take him a long time to write them.

And, oh, ma, the debates they have here are so funny. Instead of having everybody get up and give a long speech, after the first speaker on each side has finished reading off a lot of white cards, he and some one from the other side have a nice talk together. O, he didn't know very much about the question because he had to ask Olaf a lot of questions. Olaf was real nice about it though, and told the boy how parents adopt a child and everything. I guess debate is broadening, although most of the debaters have lost weight since the season started. There are epidemics of the flu, colds and spring fever around school. Quite a few of the kids have colds, some have the flu, but mostly everybody has the spring fever.

I mustn't forget to tell you that I really do need some more money. I need the money especially for different things. They are mostly practical things so you know I'm not wasting much money.

"Yes, but be careful and if you stop at the island on the way across, don't stay very long."
"All right, I won't."

Park ran down the hill, untied the rowboat and rowed across the river to the Hogans. Securing Peter, she hurried back to the boat and started to row directly to the island. Upon seeing Jack standing on the opposite bank she changed her mind and rowed home.

"For Pete's sake," said Jack. "What have you got Peter for?"

"Oh, I'm going to take care of him while the Hogans are gone."

"That'll sure be some job for you. You'll have to take him to the island for some of those greens that Henry insists upon feeding him. Some particular rabbit, I think. That's what Henry gets for trying to raise better rabbits, and that's what you get for having to take care of him."

"Oh, I won't mind. I like Peter. His ears are so pink and his fur is so soft."

"Oh, ess. Him is the sweetest little darlink!"

"Stilly!"

"Oh, I am?" said Jack as he started after her. Nan hugged the rabbit close and made a run for the house. Jack caught her just as they reached the gate. As they stood there laughing—and trying to get their breath, a man came walking up to them.

"Hello," he said.

"Hello, Blair," said Jack. "Blair I want you to meet Miss Nan Simmons. Nan, this is Bob Blair, the engineer."

"How do you do," said Nan. "I am very pleased to know you. I am sure," said Blair and taking her hand he held it for a moment.

Reverend P. B. Anderson, field secretary of the Young People's Luther League, spoke on "Do Our School Religious Organizations Aid Us in Meeting the Challenge of our Theme?" Mr. Pernie Peterson of Luther Theological Seminary surveyed the situation by data collected from the several Lutheran Schools.

Following these reports general discussion was held at which delegates reported on the work carried out by their various organizations.

In the afternoon, Dr. Gullixson spoke on "Faith in the Forgiveness of Sins and Sonship with God." After this address, Dr. Landahl, a missionary from China, spoke on "Faith in the Fellowship in His Service."

An outing was enjoyed by the delegates at 3:30 that afternoon. At 6:00 p. m. a social hour was held at the seminary, giving all a chance to get acquainted.

At 8:00 o'clock p. m., Reverend N. M. Yvisaker gave a talk on "Faith in the Future of the Lutheran Church." This was followed by student discussion.

On Sunday all services were held at the University Lutheran Church of Hope. Reverend Glenn from Slout Falls, South Dakota, preached the convention service. At 3:00 p. m. a sacred concert was given by the Luther Theological Seminary Glee Club. At 5:30 p. m. the final session was furnished by the Seminary Male Quartet.

The closing address was presented by Dr. Wessing of the Seminary. His topic was "Faith in the Glory of Christian Hope."

Our Changing Taste

It is not difficult to see that contemporary taste in the arts, and particularly in literature, is undergoing a metamorphosis. And it is not as disturbing as a great many ultra-conservatives would have us believe. From all quarters we hear agonized cries and despondent howls bemoaning the decadence into which literary taste has fallen in the past ten years. The chief criticism seems to be against modernism—a form of art of a paradox is permissible; utterly formless.

Modern literature is agonizingly noisy. But so is modern life. And surely literature, if it expresses anything else, must express the tempo of the age in which it thrives.

Extreme pessimism and extreme optimism are both distinctly out of place here. Rather should our attitude be one of liberalism. Regardless of personal preference, let us at least be tolerant and certainly interested. This poor old world is not as bad as some would like to paint it. Although I, for one, can still find something worth preserving in good manners and good taste, and can still see meaning in the world gentleman. I cannot honestly revolt against an attitude which satirizes these things and condemns them as the last quaint survivals of a vanishing Victorianism. And although I can never be bored by Dickens and Thackeray, although I shall always find room on my shelves for old books, quiet books, I can also see that literature must change with the times, that literature must be in some way or other, connected with life.

Those of us who are without radical prejudice in either direction can visualize a new literature, as vivid and as beautiful as the last, and a public taste as critical and demanding.

The only answer I can give is that the third year spent here is for the sole purpose of reviewing the works of the past two years.—Thanks Ben.

It's surely a surprising how fast time flies—I'm always behind on my school work.

READY FOR BED ALL WORK DONE WELL-GOOD NITE

Lights out! That means it is time to go to bed! I've been so tired all evening that I could hardly keep my eyes open, but I had to study. Well, it's 10:15, and I guess I've done enough for today. How good it feels to crawl under the covers. "Good-night, roommate!"

My mind wanders over the happenings of the day. I didn't get that letter I thought would surely come this morning. Nothing exciting happened in any class. I have most of my lessons prepared for tomorrow. I guess I can sleep in peace tonight.

I wish those people who are talking so loudly would be a bit considerate of others; it seems they can't do their gossiping until after the lights are out. After half an hour the building is almost quiet. I am just about asleep when someone knocks on the door. I won't say a word and then nobody will come in and bother me. Oh, goodness! Who is that trying to sing harmony? Why is it that they think they can sing best at about eleven o'clock at night? And that phonograph! The record being played blends so wonderfully with that discordant harmony!

I hear footsteps on the stairs, and a voice says, "Let's have less noise, please. It's getting late; get to bed as soon as you can."

Quietness again prevails through the dormitory, and I can turn over and try to go to sleep.

Phone Girls Get Wrong Numbers

The Lutheran Girl Gagers romped away with another victory when they beat the strong Telephone team from Tacoma by a score of 22 to 14. The visitors were no match for the sharpshooting and the close guarding of the Lutheran squad, so Coach Ramstad gave all of his substitutes a chance to show their ability.

With the first team in the fray most of the first half, the score stood at 16 to 5. Then the reserves were sent in, and although they were able to hold their own, they did not outscore the visitors in the last half.

Outstanding among the college players was Margaret Hilmo, who formerly played a forward position, but was given a try at the guard position where she showed up very well together with Ruth Howard, the two formed strong opposition to the visitors' scoring.

Gladys Blomfield led in the scoring for the Telephone team by marking up 10 counters, while Alice Roe and Pauline Larson scored 12 and 10 points respectively for the Lutheran team.

St. Paul There we met me by Mr. Knutzen, a former P. L. C. student and theological student, who took us in a taxi to the seminary. Since it was now nearly midnight, I was taken to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Brandt, who were to be my host and hostess during the convention. At their home, I was given a warm welcome which made me feel that I had come to friends indeed.

On Friday morning the sessions of the convention started at each of these sessions I felt that I had gained something valuable and hoped that when I returned to my school home, I might be able to pass it on to my fellow students. The student disc sessions were spontaneous and were an inspiration to all the delegates assembled.

During the three days we spent at the seminary, we were royally entertained by the students and made to feel most welcome and at home.

I was especially fortunate in being able to tour "the twin cities" several times. Another rare privilege which I enjoyed was that of seeing the Central Lutheran Church of Minneapolis, which is the largest Lutheran church in the United States. I also saw the large new auditorium at Minneapolis.

In our tour of the cities I went to the campus of the University of Minnesota and Hamline University. This was all very interesting to me and something I shall not forget.

On Sunday night after the convention was over, and after bidding my friends goodbye, I set out for Northfield, Minnesota, along with one of the women delegates from St. Olaf College. I was to stay at this delegate's home overnight.

We reached Northfield and I immediately telephoned our good friends Warner Kule and Stanley Berntsen. I heard a heavy sigh from the other end of the line but nevertheless I recognized the voice of good old Stan. At the end of three seconds I had a "date" to meet Warner and Stanley the next morning at 8:45 a. m.

The next morning bright and early, they came to see me. After about one half hour of talking over the "good old days" of P. L. C., we went off to the cottage, where I had the pleasure of attending chapel exercises in the new gymnasium. I was greeted royally here. In the afternoon I had the opportunity of visiting the campus of Carleton College.

I set out for St. Paul again and was met at the station by Dr. Tingelstad. That evening I boarded the train for the West. However, I stopped off at William, Minnesota, for a day and visited with friends.

The trip west was very beautiful to me as I saw more of the mountains than when I went east.

On Friday morning I arrived in Tacoma and shortly afterward was back at P. L. C.

My trip will always be one of my fondest recollections from my school life and I am sure I will never forget it. I feel that I owe special thanks to Dr. Tingelstad and Dr. and Mrs. Brandt who were so sympathetic and did so much to make my trip pleasant.

PACIFIC LUTHERAN COLLEGE, PARKLAND, WASHINGTON

Gladiators Bow To Harbormen In Final Game

Lutherans Weakened by Loss of Stellar Players; Unable To Keep Pace; Nyman, Palo High Points

In the final game of the season, a determined Gladiator squad was beaten by a more determined group of basketmen from the Grays Harbor Junior College of Aberdeen. By a score of 30-33.

The Lutherans were weakened by the ineffectuality of one of the first string men and by the number of men on the sick list. Palo, stellar guard, and Johnson, star forward, both were called from sick leave to enter the game. During the first half the Lutherans held the Harbormen and outscored them in the offense to end the period with a 16-10 score. In the third period the Gladiators could not keep the pace, and the Aberdeen five held the better part of a 23-21 score at the close of the period. The fourth period was one of action on parts of both teams with first one and then the other holding the lead. The lead fell to Aberdeen in the last minutes of play, and the Lutherans were not able to cut it down before the final whistle.

Nyman and Palo, with 11 and 7 points respectively, led the scoring attack for the Lutherans. Carlson and Johnson, with 7 and 6 pointers apiece, shared honors with the guards. Bonebrake for the Harbormen shared game honors with Nyman by holding 11 tallies.

Here's how they scored, 1st period. Nyman opened fire with a long shot; Deang for the Harbor, and Carlson for the Lutherans, scored free throw; Carlson closed the period with a long one from the floor. Score P. L. C. 5, H. J. C. 4.

Second period. Carlson came in under the basket for the first score of the period; Bonebrake shot from the foul line; Palo made a free throw; Bonebrake scored again for the Harbormen on a jump shot; Nyman sank another of his special jump shots from the foul line; Bonebrake shot from the side to tie the score; Palo picked the ball out of a scramble to score on a jump shot; Nyman dropped another shot through the hoop from past the center of the floor; Johnson broke in to score on a jump shot. Half ended 16-10.

Third quarter. Palo sank another free throw; Berg, Kolts, Grant, scored in rapid succession on long and short shots, and Berg sank a free throw to tie the score. Johnson took one from the backboard to score; Berg broke in to tie the score again; Bonebrake and Hicks sank free throws; Kolts and Bonebrake continue the Harbor scoring; Palo dropped a long one through the hoop to end the quarter. Score 25-21, with the Harbormen holding the lead, part.

Fourth quarter. Berg scored with a free throw; Johnson came under, and Carlson scored twice from the foul line to gain the lead for the Lutherans; Kolts tied the score with free throw; Nyman scored a free throw; Bonebrake on a jump shot scored; Palo evened score with free throw; Hicks came under the basket for the score and Berg added to the lead with another; Nyman sank two long ones in succession to tie the score again. Berg started a final Harbor rally; Nyman scored a free throw and Kolts clinched the game by adding two more free throws to the Aberdeen score. The final whistle sounded before the Gladiators had another chance to score.

Lineup:
P. L. C. F (3) Gotchey
F (3) Hicks
F (3) Carlson (7) C (9) Berg

Sport Slants

By Southworth

In three consecutive meetings the Grays Harbor Junior College at Aberdeen has proved to be an obstacle over which the Gladiators were not able to hurdle. Once in football and twice in basketball the Harbormen have handed defeats to the Lutherans. By virtue of the two defeats over the Gladiator five the Harbormen may claim a tie for the championship of the Junior Colleges of the state. However in percentages P. L. C. has undisputed claims on the championship because of the fact that Aberdeen did not play all the colleges of the conference.

The standings of the colleges interested are as follows:

Colleges	Wins	Losses
P. L. C.	6	2
Aberdeen	5	2
Centralia	3	3
Mt. Vernon	1	5
Yakima	0	1

From these standings it can be seen that, at present, all the colleges do not meet. Undoubtedly steps should be taken to bring these colleges into a conference which would compel meetings with all of the schools of this group. At any rate I believe that P. L. C. has the best claim on the mythical junior college title for this season.

The ineffectuality of one first string player and the sickness of two others hit the forces of the Gladiators quite a blow, and was one of the biggest factors in bringing about the results Saturday night. The sick men were called from the sick list to enter the game, and throughout the first portions of the game fought the Harbormen to a standstill. However in the final minutes of play the weakened Gladiators could not stem the final rally of the Harbormen.

As far as records could be found to show the results of the games of the Reserve hoopers, it seems that they have played a total of 12 games, six of which they won. The seconds finished their season by a fighting win over the Aberdeen seconds. All in all the reservemen completed a fairly successful season.

Coach Olson has definitely decided to plan a program of intermural baseball for the rest of the present school year. Various teams will be picked from among the different sections of the school among which a series of games will be played. Although the college is losing a little in its relations with other schools, the benefit and amusement derived by those interested in the baseball program will more than offset the loss by the school.

In addition some time will be placed on spring football to prepare for the coming hard schedule. Coach Olson will use this time in preparing his new material for the Gladiator eleven of the 1931 season.

Coach Olson will call a meeting of the Lettermen's Club in the near future to work out his plan of intramural sports. The decision of the club as to how to line up the teams will be carried out by the Coach. Spring football plans will also be discussed at this meeting.

Our fair collegian basketeers have gone through a season of games, most of which they won by narrow margins. In nine contests the girl hoopers won seven games. The girls will play one more game this year, one with the alumni.

Congratulations are extended to Clarence Lund, a graduate of the school and a member of many of the teams here in his school days for coaching his boys to a championship in one of the county grade school classes. Furthermore the girls of the same school won the crown in their league.

Reserves Finish Season With Win

Both Squads Work Hard; Try Football at Times; Hudson High Point Man

To close their season the Gladiator Reserves chalked up a win over the Aberdeen seconds in a preliminary encounter Saturday, 28th by a 20-17 score. The two squads went to work in earnest and at various times turned the game into what might be called a football game. The game was slow during the first three periods and especially so in the first canto. The Harbormen had possession of the ball much of the time but were not able to pass the solid defense of the Parkland squad. The third quarter ended with the score standing at 16-14 in favor of the Harbor squad. The Gladiators went to work with victory as their aim and after a free for all scuffle gained it by 3 points. In the last minutes while leading by a single point, Satero, Lutheran guard, took the ball out of the mixup and dribbled the length of the floor to make the Gladiator margin safe.

Hudson held high point honors with 14 pointers. Sydow with 4 markers played a good floor game for the Lutherans as did Satero, guard.

Girls Win From Lutherans; Lose To Athletic Club

Athletic Team Checks Attack of Collegians; P. L. C. Wins From C. P. S. by Sinking Winning Point

Traveling to the Y. W. C. A. gym in Tacoma expecting to meet some team of the C. P. S. the girls' basket team was pitted against the Girls' squad of the Puget Sound Athletic Club. The more experienced players of the Club easily checked the attack of the College team while they ran away with the score. The final score ended 37-14 for the Club. The centers of the Club team continually got the jump and ball and the Parklanders had considerable trouble in trying to solve their smooth passing attack. The tricky work of the forwards under the basket opened the way for scoring throughout the game.

Hubbard for the Club team apparently could not miss the hoop and as a result gained 28 points, while she was in the game. Pauline Larson with 9 pointers held the best for the College team.

At C. P. S. the Girls' basketball team handed the First Lutheran squad a 16-15 defeat. The Collegians ended the game in the same manner as they had in their previous victories, by sinking the winning point in the final second of play. The teams played on practically even terms throughout the contest, and neither side was sure of the game until the final whistle had sounded with the Collegians in the lead.

Aller Roe again held high scoring honors for the game with 12 pointers to her credit. Lund with 7 pointers scored the next highest, and held high position on the church team.

Lineup:
Hilmo (2) F (7) Lund
Eoe (12) F (6) Douglas
Rasmussen C Johnson
Monson SC Nordlund
Solne G Snodgrass
Howard G Elmfr
Subs: P. L. C.—Larson, Grande, First Lutheran—Johnson (2).

Olson Announces Spring Program

In conformance with the wishes of the majority of lettermen interested in a schedule of spring sports Coach Olson has definitely decided on his program for the remainder of the year. A plan of intramural baseball will be worked out and put into action in the near future. The consensus of opinion seemed to be in favor of a program of this type, in which the players would be able to play for the mere love of the sport, without the strain of inter-collegiate competition. As a result no inter-collegiate games will be played in baseball, or during the rest of the present year. There will be a number of nines chosen among which a round-robin tournament will be played.

In addition some time will be given over to spring football, either before or after the baseball program. In view of the extensive football program of next year, it is considered advisable to start preparation of the eleven which is to carry out the work in the coming season.

Lutherans End Brilliant Season With Eight Wins

Summer Two Defeats From Ellensburg; Two From Grays Harbor; Other Games Victories

Another sport lost its grasp on the interests of the school for the present year when the Gladiator hoopers checked in their suits after the game Saturday with Aberdeen. The Lutherans finished a basket season every bit as sensational and successful as the historic football season still so well remembered.

Coach Olson's men swung into action in twelve scheduled games, and met defeat but four times, twice at the hands of the par excellent Ellensburg Normal five, and twice by the Grays Harbor Junior College quintet. The two losses to the Harbor outfit, the only ones suffered in the Junior College conference, threw the Parklanders into a championship tie with that school, as both had met the same number of conference losses.

In addition to the scheduled games the Golden Gladiators played some six practice games, meeting defeat but once, at a time when many of the first string men were absent during vacation.

The first game of the season was with the C. P. S. Reserve five. In this game the Lutherans easily defeated the Loggers by a 19-8 score. In the second meeting with this school later in the season the Parklanders duplicated the victory with a 31-28 score.

Following the season's opening during the Christmas vacation, the Varsity played five practice games to keep in trim for the hard work to come.

Mt. Vernon invaded the Parkland camps to launch the season in earnest. Again the Gladiators easily won, taking the game by a 32-28 score. At Mt. Vernon in a return meeting, P. L. C. again were the victors, by a 32-16 score.

One point was the margin of victory when the Lutherans opposed the Centralia Junior College five on the Centralia floor. A last minute field goal gave the Gladiators the better part of a 20-19 score. On the home floor the Gladiators easily handled their opponents, handing them a 30-15 beating.

A trip east was taken to meet the Yakima Junior College and the Ellensburg Normal five. Against the Junior quintet the Lutherans won a hard fought 37-33 game. The fighting spirit of the Lutherans, who trailed in scoring in this game up to the closing minutes of play, won another group of Yakima admirers, as had the gridiron men in their visit at the valley town.

Against the Ellensburg team the Gladiators met their first defeat. Outclassed but not outfought, the Parklanders dropped the game by a 38-20 score. The Teachers met the P. L. C. five at the C. P. S. gym in the return encounter, here the Lutherans were completely swamped by the brilliant attack of the Normalites to be downed by a 52-19 score.

The Campbell-Holmes team of Aberdeen showed a great deal of fight and injected much rough playing into their meeting with the Gladiators, but were outscored, and sent home on the short end of a 37-24 score.

At Aberdeen a heart breaking game was lost to the Grays Harbor Junior College by a single point. In the last second of play a Harbor forward broke through the defense to give the Aberdeen school the advantage in a 35-34 score. In the return meeting with the same school on the home floor, the Gladiators were again unable to down their opponents, and as a result suffered a 38-33 defeat.

During the entire season the Gladiators ran up a score of 530 points to their opponents 473 points.
