

Choristers Make Trip in Northern Cities of State

To Present Concerts in Six Different Localities; Are Expecting Tour to Be Big Success

Pacific Lutheran College Choir members, accompanied by their leader, Professor Edwards, left Tuesday, noon, for a concert tour north. The entire choir was enthusiastic and eager to represent the school to the best of its ability.

This tour has been anticipated for a long time by the choristers, and hopes are running high for a successful trip.

Earlier in the season unforeseen obstacles prevented the members which made the promised trip to California impossible. This caused much disappointment among all concerned, but better fortune is hoped for next year. However, this disappointment did not break down the morale. Instead, work was immediately increased in order that the local trips would be a success.

The present trip north will include concerts in Pausbo, Bellingham, Stanwood, Fir, Lakewood, and Everett. In Everett the choir will remain all day, singing at the Sunday morning services and presenting their formal concert in the evening.

Mrs. Christensen Speaks at D. O. R.

Mrs. M. A. Christensen, president of the Pacific Coast district of the Women's Missionary Federation, addressed the Daughters of the Reformation at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Xavier, Wednesday, April 3.

In the summary of the same year he became affiliated with Spokane College, where he served as vice president. When this school was closed in 1929, he came to Pacific Lutheran College, where he is now serving as dean of men. He has charge of the college English and Christianity here.

The girls gave Mrs. Christensen instructions to bring greetings from them as the only D. O. R. organization in the Pacific District.

The remainder of the program consisted of a piano solo by Anna Amosoff, a reading by Viola Taw, and a vocal solo by Anna Mikkelsen.

The faculty ladies, Mrs. Xavier, Mrs. Hauge, Mrs. Stuen, Mrs. Rasmussen, Mrs. Hellman, Mrs. Hong, and Mrs. Olsen, acted as hostesses and served the girls a tasty lunch.

GIVE INVITATION TO ATTEND W. E. A. MEET

The Tacoma Unit of the Pierce County division of the Washington Educational Association will meet in the Parkland Public School Saturday morning, at ten o'clock, April 12. Dean Lemon of C. F. S. will be the speaker. There also will be a musical program and exhibits made by the eighth grade.

Mr. Norton, principal of the Parkland school, is president of the Unit and Mr. Channing is secretary and treasurer.

Normal school students are invited to attend the meeting.

Hellman Called To Hebron Presidency

Dean of Men to Leave for Position in East After Year at P. L. C.

Because of his past record as an educational leader, Professor W. H. Hellman, present dean of men here, has been called by the directors as president of Hebron College, of Hebron, Nebraska, which school is also of Lutheran denomination.

Although Professor Hellman regrets leaving Pacific Lutheran College, he has accepted the position. To the reporter he said, "It is not easy to sever connections here, no; it is easy to leave the West where I have spent the past nine years in church and educational work."

According to Professor Hellman Hebron College is a junior college and has, as has Pacific Lutheran College, a normal and a high-school division as well as a very strong music department. It is about the same size as Pacific Lutheran college, although it has a few more buildings.

Hebron College was founded in the year 1911 as a high school. Professor Hellman had the distinction of being a member of the first graduating class from this school in the year 1915. Recently, that is about five or six years ago, the normal and junior college divisions were added.

After graduating from Hebron High School Professor Hellman entered Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, from which he was graduated in the year 1918. The next three years he spent in the theological seminary, at Cleveland, Ohio, graduating in 1921.

Shortly after this he took charge of a mission congregation at Port Angeles, Washington, where he remained about four and one half years.

Pullman next claimed him as the first Lutheran student pastor at Washington State College.

During the years 1926 and 1927 he was on the faculty staff of the English department at Washington State College. He received his Master's degree there in the spring of '27.

In the summer of the same year he became affiliated with Spokane College, where he served as vice president. When this school was closed in 1929, he came to Pacific Lutheran College, where he is now serving as dean of men. He has charge of the college English and Christianity here.

Thespians Appear In School Carnival

P. L. C. actors and actresses again showed their dramatic ability, Thursday, March 14, when they presented "Furry Miles an Hour" at the Sheridan school in Tacoma. The occasion was a school carnival consisting of numerous booths and side-shows. The P. L. C. play was a feature on the program and called forth much favorable comment from the audience. The boys' quartet, was also an attraction during the evening's entertainment.

Clean Campus

Week-Olds Take Active Part in P. L. C. Affairs

Parkland is growing. There's no doubt about it. No sooner had it been announced that Rev. and Mrs. T. O. Svarø were the proud parents of a son, Richard John Svarø, born March 28, than came another announcement that Prof. and Mrs. J. O. Edwards were also celebrating the arrival of a son, David Joseph Edwards, on March 29.

Although the boys are both less than a week old, they are already taking an active part in business affairs. That they will be real Pacific Lutheran College boosters is already evident, as each one has subscribed a dollar to the Development Association.

To make up for these expenditures each one has started a bank account. It seems that President Tingelstad has presented each young man with a nice, round silver dollar, and that the young men, instead of spending their money for candy and good times, as many of the young people do these days, are living on a milk diet and saving the money.

As to what profession the boys will follow, no one knows, for they have been very reticent about their plans for the future. However, Mr. Edwards says that the first thing his big son did, after seeing the light of day, was to wiggle his fingers as if he wanted to play a piano. The new arrival to the Svarø family has not yet decided whether or not he wishes to follow in his father's footsteps. It is reported.

"THE PATSY" CAST OUT FOR BEST YET

With the average of one practice a day, work on the all school play, "The Patsy," is developing satisfactorily. Each member of the cast is working diligently on his lines, and learning rapidly. Miss Sturud is not meeting with the cast until the lines are well under way. She, as well as the others connected with the play, are enthusiastic over the success of the presentation, as each person in the cast is ideally suited to his part and intensely interested in making this the best all-school play given at Pacific Lutheran College. Because all but two cast members are going on the choir trip, Miss Sturud has asked that the parts be taken along and studied regularly.

34 On Quarter's Honor Roll List

Edgar Larson Gets Straight "A" Card; Seven Make "B" Average

Thirty-four P. L. C. students have shown their worth by making a "B" average for the last nine weeks' work. Twelve of these are high-school, twelve normal, and ten liberal arts students.

Of these thirty-four, Edgar Larson, high-school student, deserves special recognition for his remarkable straight "A" card. Dorothy Bodley, also of the high-school department; Ruth Brown, Christine Johnson, and Sena Johnson, of the normal department; and Harold Myhre and Arthur Olsen, of the liberal arts department, also merit distinction. They had no grade below "B." The remaining 27 honor students had a "B" average.

The entire honor roll is: Liberal Arts: Herman Anderson, Irene Dahl, Inga Goplerud, John Goplerud, Elvera Hokenstad, Harold Myhre, Arthur Olsen, Margaret Forath, Stella Sorboe, and Evelyn Solum.

Normal: Mildred Berve, Ruth Brown, Ida Hinderlie, Margaret Holmberg, Ruth Jacobson, Christine Johnson, Sena Johnson, Gladys Jorgensen, Gerhard Molden, Thora Rasmussen, Viola Taw, and Ella Williams.

FACULTY, STUDES FINALLY APPROVE STANDARD DESIGN

After much bickering and controversy, the associated students chose the class ring of 1930 as the standard school ring, and thus Pacific Lutheran College now has an emblem approved both by the faculty and students.

Previous attempts at establishing a standard have resulted in disagreements. Last year the faculty approved the design, but the student body objected to it. Many times classes have tried to institute their ring as the standard, but until now none met the approval of all.

The design of the ring is a copy of the coat-of-arms chosen by Martin Luther as his personal crest. The coat-of-arms has on it a cross within a heart which is embedded in a rose. The cross signifies Christianity, or Christ. The heart and the rose stand for love.

No other school has used this coat-of-arms as a school emblem. In keeping with the spirit and traditions of Pacific Lutheran College this design will be an appropriate one.

Start Campaign for Plan of Association

Pres. Tingelstad Leaves for Work in East; Extensive Drive Ready for Spring And Summer

Taking the first step in the Great Development Association subscription drive planned for this spring and summer, President Tingelstad left Sunday night, for Minneapolis, Minn., where the board of education of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America will be in session Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week. There he is to confer with Rev. N. M. Stavig on the Mid-West follow-up campaign and will also speak before the board.

President Tingelstad, accompanied by Mr. Elvestrom, went to Bellingham Saturday night and spoke on the Development Association in Rev. J. P. Norby's church Sunday morning. After the service the two assisted J. O. Gulbrandsen, a member of the board, in canvassing that congregation for subscriptions.

The purpose of the present effort in the Middle-West is to complete the work which was so well begun last summer. The central committee in charge of the campaign last July consisted of Reverend Stavig and Professors Hauge and Elvestrom. When the work was completed other men from the West they raised approximately $15,000. Though this large sum was raised, the time was too short to cover the territory that opened, and an effort will be made this summer to raise at least $15,000 more.

Prof. Ramstad will be relieved of his classes on the return of the choir from its trip and will go East to secure subscriptions. It is hoped that Rev. B. Bogstad, of Eugene, Oregon, and Rev. C. Foss can join him there immediately after Easter. These men will work till the time of the biennial church convention, May 21-28. After the convention other workers will probably take their places till the end of the fiscal year, July 31. Most of the work will be done in Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota.

Meanwhile arrangements will be made if possible to complete this year's canvass of the Pacific district. Many congregations in Oregon, Washington, and California have expressed willingness to receive a representative of the Development Association. (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

Date Saga's Girl On One Big Night

Well, everybody. I'm back again. Both sorry and glad to be here. Glad to see you. Did you guess who Saga's girl is? Sorry 'cause—well—Saga's so jealous she won't even let me, a star reporter, tell you more about her. Oh, she's keen though. Not even Saga herself knows when she's coming. However, he does know what she's going to do when she gets here, and he let me in on the secret. I want to let you in on it, too, but, here's watchin' everything I write. I'll describe her though.

"She's big, awful big, big enough to occupy a whole room big as the 67th. She's colorful—more than the co-eds here—I mean she dresses in such color combinations as bright reds, yellows, blues, greens, purples, oranges, and everything, all mixed up."

"And, can she take care of boys? I'll say no! Every boy in this school can date her up for the same night and she'll take care of them all at the same time, with all the girls thrown in extra."

"So, don't forget. She'll be around sometime after Easter, and she'll stay only one night—So, save the date—By and Buy, Buy, buy."

Have Convention Of Young People

Everett Has Young People's Luther League of Puget Sound April 25-27

Of great interest to Lutherans, especially, is the twelfth annual convention of the Young People's Luther League of the North Puget Sound Circuit, to be held in the Central Lutheran Church in Everett on April 25-27.

The convention opens Friday evening, April 25, with the registration of delegates and visitors from 1 to 8 o'clock. The opening session is of special interest because at this time a beautiful pageant, "The Victorious Church," is to be presented. Following the program on Friday evening, a reception is to be given by the entertaining league.

On Saturday, April 27, there will be a series of inspiring and interesting sessions throughout the day, including musical numbers. In these programs many leagues will be represented.

Following the Saturday afternoon session, the delegates and visitors will enjoy an outing given by the local league. Especially interesting to the students, faculty, and friends of Pacific Lutheran College will be the Pacific Lutheran College program on Saturday evening.

Dr. O. A. Tingelstad, President of Pacific Lutheran College, will be the speaker of the evening. Following this session the choral union will rehearse.

Sunday morning a model Sunday School will be in session, followed by divine services, with Rev. Hellman, of P. L. C., in the pulpit. Perhaps one of the most interesting features of the convention will be the concert Sunday afternoon, rendered by a choral union of 200 voices, representing as many congregations as possible. The choral cup will be awarded to the group having the largest representation credit, determined by multiplying the number of voices by the number of miles traveled. The cup becomes the permanent possession of the group that has won it three consecutive times.

A request has been made by the president of the North Puget Sound Circuit of the Y. P. L. L., Miss Margaret Wall, that a collection of Luther League hymns for conventions be made. The officers of the individual leagues have been requested to conduct friendly contests in their groups in order to get some original hymns. It has been suggested that the convention theme be used as a basis for the hymns. The best hymns will be used at this convention.

Chapel Cleanings

SPRING VACATION COMES APRIL 16

Worried and toll-worn students and faculty members will receive a brief respite from their work when school closes for the spring vacation. Wednesday afternoon, April 16, the vacation will end at 8:15 Monday morning, April 22.

This is the first vacation that the College will have enjoyed since the Christmas holidays, and is therefore welcomed by every student. It will give the students, especially those who went on the choir trip, a chance to make up the studies in which they fell behind during the tour. It will also give the instructors time to work out more questions to spring on poor and unsuspecting students at the end of the term. At any rate, there will undoubtedly be plenty to do for everyone.

(Continued from Page One) Association some time, before the close of the fiscal year. During the winter Rev. C. Fosk has done most of the work. He has worked in Seattle, Silvana, Lakewood, Anacortes, Fir, Aberdeen, South Tacoma, Kelso, Chinook, Washington, Astoria, Westport, Canby, and Silverton, Oregon. Last Sunday he preached in Rev. J. M. Jensen's church in Silverton. He will continue this work till Easter and then, unless plans change, will join Mr. Ramstad in the East. As a result of the efforts put forth, membership in the association now totals 4,158.

Though the campus development has not begun as yet, efforts will be made to begin work in the President's residence before the departure of B. L. Kirkebo, member of the construction committee, for Norway in May. The other members on the committee are H. E. Anderson and President Tingelstad. As soon as the Midwest campaign gets under way, the biology laboratory project will be launched. It is expected that the board will appoint a professor of biology at its next meeting, to be held at Seattle, either April 28 or May 5.

The plans for the first unit of the dormitory for girls will be submitted to the board for approval at the same meeting.

Although it is not an easy task to secure subscriptions, the development work has a human interest side that makes it enjoyable. Last week the oldest member of the Association, Rev. A. Mikkelsen, of Ellensburg, Washington, 95 years old, wrote a very fine and encouraging letter, enclosing a generous contribution and also the enrollment card for his daughter.

At about the same time Prof. J. O. Edwards enrolled the youngest member of the association, David Edwards, born March 29, 1930. Not to be outdone, Rev. T. O. Svare served notice of a similar enrollment of a son, Richard John Svare, born March 28. Among other fine letters received was one from Mrs. C. K. Preus, widow of the former president of Luther College. Mrs. E. J. Sandvåg of Paulsbo is also supporting the association, as she has just sent in her fifth contribution.

In speaking of the campus development plans, President Tingelstad said, "The success of all these efforts depends upon God, upon the loyal support of the membership of the development association and of the contributions to the endowment fund."

75 Books Added During March to Library Shelves

The month of March saw an addition of approximately 75 books to the library. Librarians Xavier and Stevens, with the aid of several assistants, have been busy checking and cataloging the new books as well as cataloging many of the books which were already in the library.

Included in the biographies in the library at present are: "Memoirs of a Revolutionist," by P. Kropotkin; "The Corstean," a diary of Napoleon's life in his own words, compiled by R. M. Johnston; "Lee, the American," by Gamaliel Bradford; "My Garden of Memory," by Kate Douglas Wiggin; "My Early Life," by William II, Ex-Emporer of Germany; and "My Life as An Explorer," by Sven Hedin.

About thirty dollars' worth of "War-books" was purchased from J. J. Handsaker. Among this group are: "Between War and Peace," by Florence Boeckel; "Law of War," by Lucia Ames Mead; "War as an Instrument of National Policy," by James T. Shotwell; "Disarmament," by Salvador de Madariaga; "It's a Great War," by Mary Lee; and "All Quiet on the Western Front," by E. M. Remarque.

Three volumes dealing with literature that are especially interesting are: "The Renaissance of Irish Poetry," by David Morton; "Plays of the Irish Renaissance," by Curtis Canfield; and "Myths and Their Meaning," by Max J. Herzberg.

A group of books dealing with the social sciences includes "Principles of Sociology," by Frederick A. Bushee and "Volume I of the Encyclopedia of Social Sciences." A new chemical dictionary has been purchased also. Another important addition to the library is a revised edition of "Modern and Contemporary European History," by J. Salwin Shapiro.

Laddies Entertain Dorm Lassies at Big Overall Party

Members of the Boys' Dormitory Union entertained the Pep Club at a "hardtimes" party Tuesday evening. Girls attired in overalls and boys dressed in costumes of "some what unusual appearance assembled in the gym at 7:30. A varied program was presented, with Ted Evjenth acting as toastmaster. The boys' quartet opened the evening's entertainment with several selections. They were followed by "Speedy" Siegel and "Benny" Kirchoff, who entertained with a short program of acrobatic stunts. "Mike" Jacobsen and Jack Lihersness gave a rather complicated and what may perhaps be termed, graceful dance. Al Hauge, the "Bellingham Slasher," and Gordon Atchley fought an exciting match, which resulted in at least one black eye. "Buster" Roe and Dorothy Ebersole showed the boys how to box in a strenuous three-round bout. Warner Quale and Berger Jacobsen played several duets, and a talented boys orchestra made its first appearance. The interesting program closed with a pantomime, "The Shooting of Daniel Grewley?" After a group of games had been played, the grand march formed. Delicious refreshments were served, during which several boys sang, accompanied by the orchestra. The consensus of opinion in the girls' dormitory, after the party, was that the boys could not be equaled as entertainers.

Pastimers Start Baseball Season With Logger Men

Baseball-Emblem Winners of Last Year Form Nucleus of Team; Initial Game Soon

Pacific Lutheran college baseball pastimers will get their first chance of the season to perform when they meet the strong College of Puget Sound varsity a week from today. Baseball practices have been going off in fine style so far this season, with several lettermen back to form the nucleus of this year's team.

Besides the emblem winners from last season, many new men who have had experience in other schools are turning out and are bolstering the squad considerably. To get the team in shape, a practice game was held on campus day between the varsity and the faculty. The faculty had a slight edge on their opponents, as Johnson, stanchester this year, was a member of their nine and the varsity players could not fathom his sharp-breaking curves.

Another practice game was played last Saturday with the Parkland Men's club nine. The Gladiator varsity had an easy time with the Parkland team, defeating them by a 3 to 1 score. Stanley Johnson and Ben Palo did the delirious for the college team, with Clarence Monson and Arnie Thostenson taking care of the receiving end. The lettermen from last year are as follows: Nyman, Colton, Palo, Thostenson, and B. Jacobson. The new men who will undoubtedly see action in the initial encounter are as follows: Fadness, Stiesel, Sankey Johnson, and Clarence Monson.

Parkland News

A well known resident of parkland, Mr. M. Arntson is in the Tacoma General Hospital, convalescing from a serious paralytic stroke. Mrs. O. Lund and her son, Clarence, went to California to visit Mrs. Lund's daughter, Lenore, who has been ill for several months. Last week Mrs. J. Salater left for Alaska, where he will take up his regular work for the summer. His wife leaves next week for an extended pleasure trip to Norway, where she will visit her relatives, especially her sister, who has been ill for some time.

Wednesday, April 2. Mrs. J. L. Rennie entertained the Trinity Church Ladies' Guild at her home in Fern Hill.

Mrs. A. R. Lehmann entertained at luncheon at her home, Friday, March 4. Those present were: Mrs. J. U. Xavier, Mrs. W. T. Storaal, Mrs. U. Lewis Peterson, Mrs. T. G. Sinclair, Mrs. B. A. Swanson, Mrs. L. J. Bestrom, Mrs. I. J. Salater, Mrs. W. F. Pepper, Mrs. F. L. Dahl, Mrs. A. Hurt, Mrs. M. Sande, Mrs. F. L. Crews, and Mrs. V. Cluff.

A popular young Parkland girl, Dagmar Nordlund, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Hudloff, who was formerly a teacher at Lincoln High School, and is now the principal of the Clover Park Intermediate School. The wedding was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nordlund. The bride was dressed in a dainty cream colored satin gown. A pearl band held her trailing veil in place. She carried a beautiful bouquet of pink and white rose buds. The bride's attendants were Mabel Nordlund, her sister, and Violet Larson, her cousin bride maid; Mrs. Cooper, matron of honor; and Myrtle Jensen, maid of honor. Reverend A. Hudloff, the groom's father, from Butte, Montana, performed the ceremony.

There were over one hundred guests present at the wedding. Many beautiful gifts were presented to the happy couple.

Dorothy Fowler and her sister, Mrs. Steve Pease (Mrs. Fowler) visited school Friday, March 29. Bert Kroegus completed his work at C. P. S. at mid-year and will receive his degree in June. He plans to teach next fall.

William Fowler, who attended P. L. C. in '21 and '23, will complete the three-year normal course at Cheney in August.

The Bend (Grove) Bulletin reports a pretty shower and dinner given Miss Luu Goplerud, '24, who is to be married, in June, to Harry Sannerud, '24.

Sport Slants By Cronquist

Back after a two weeks' leave of absence. However, these two weeks have been very quiet in the realm of sports. Baseball is just getting under way, while weather has been unfavorable for tennis and golf.

Baseball practice has been going off, so far, very favorably. Some green, but fair, material has been shown upon the diamond. If the several lettermen back show up as well as expected, Pacific Lutheran College ought to have a good nine.

The season is based on the brilliant mound performances turned in by Sankey Johnson this far. Johnson is the best pastimer that has represented the college for many years.

Johnson has what they call "stuff" on the old apple. By "stuff" we usually mean that the pitcher has full control, coupled with speed and curves. Much is expected from this boy, and if he takes his baseball seriously, don't be surprised to see him up among the nation's big leaguers. Three Tacoma boys, who are in the big league now, started in this same way. Never get short on your friends.

The first real game of the season will be played a week from today, when our Gladiator boys meet the strong College of Puget Sound varsity on our own field. It wouldn't be a bit out of place to have the entire student body out there to cheer for our team. Our team will be at somewhat a handicap, as they will be playing a school with an enrollment nearly three times as large as ours, but our team should and will come out of the ninth inning with a victory marked down on the score books.

Everything is in readiness for the tennis tournament. Some interesting matches are in store for tennis fans. Nyman, Anderson, Molden and Evjenh are favorite for the boys' championship, while there are several of the girls that know how to handle the racket.

With material like the above named, it seems that Coach Stuen could arrange several matches with surrounding colleges and high schools. These players should represent P. L. C. in a most creditable manner.

Golf will soon be in full swing. So far there is no team organized to represent P. L. C. With the number of golf enthusiasts we have in school and the nearness of the Parkland golf course, there should be a great deal of golf-playing done in the next few weeks.

Until two weeks, good luck.

Tennis Meet Now In Full Progress

Five departments in tournament; Participants Play in preliminary matches

The annual tennis elimination tournament at the College is now in progress. After a chance had been given for any that wanted to sign up for the tournament, the committee in charge arranged the matches. A great deal of interest has been taken in tennis so far this year, and the tournament should be a great success.

As the tennis court was repaired on campus day, the participants in the tournament will have good courts to play on.

So far there has been much competition, even in the preliminary matches, as many good players are in school this year. The departments in the tournament this year are as follows: Men's singles, women's singles, men's doubles, women's doubles, and mixed doubles.

The players who have been showing up well so far this season and should give much competition are: "Bud" Anderson, Bill Nyman, John Fadness, Herb Tietjen, Ted Evjenh, Arnie Thostenson, and Gerhard Molden. Among the girls, auline Larson, Ruth Brown, Delores and Alice Roe have been displaying much ability.

GIRLS' PEP CLUB

The Girls' Pep Club had its regular celebration Wednesday evening, March 25. Nedra Dugh and Dolores Roe entertained the girls with a novelty dog dance. A most delicious lunch was then served by the hostesses, the Misses Dolores and Alice Roe.

March 31 Whoopie Day! When was Pacific Lutheran College turned into a beach?—How about it Moonie, Nordyse and Eleanor? Bet Mike and Stan were sure glad it was Whoopie day; 'cause then they could take their annual bath. At the five o'clock tea was given at four o'clock, doughnuts and coffee were served. Everyone sure had a hey! hey! time.

April 1 Fred Scheel makes a clever announcement about the party Friday night—all right, Freddy! Old Saint Pool himself played a trick on Ted—or was it a door knob? Anyway, I'm sure you've all seen his black eye and broken tooth.

April 2 Let's hope Mr. Beck was sufficiently inspired in order to gain that school-day picture he so desired. Or, don't you use palmolive. Mr. Beck?

April 3 Boy! Did you see Johnny's new bulldog jumper? The body color matches his hair, the fender color matches his eyes, and the wheels—oh, Johnny! are you a frosh?

April 4 Mr. Haug sprang his annual question, "Which comes first, the chicken or the egg?"

April 7 "Jake" reports that the "Spanaway special" is again working on all four barrels.

April 8 Isn't it a dreary life since the song birds have flown? Anyway, we wish them all a very good time and lots of success!

EXCHANGES

Mrs. Laura Ahl, wife of Professor William Ahl, of St. Paul Lutheran theological department, has received an invitation from the United States government to visit the grave of her son sometime during this summer. Mrs. Ahl is one of the nearly seven thousand mothers and widows of the war who have accepted the government's invitation. The United States officers will act as guides in taking the women to the various scenes of the war and to the eight European cemeteries in which American soldiers are buried.—The Luther Echo.

Rev. M. E. Waldeland has presented the Luther College library a book written by Hans Nilssen Haug. This is an unusually rare and valuable book because there are only five copies of it in existence. There are two copies in America, one at St. Olaf college and the other at Luther Theological Seminary. Two copies are in Norway—The Clarion.

ACCOMPLISH SOMETHING

Campus Day and cooperation—both terms are familiar. All of us, no doubt, grasp the full significance of the first term, and we have had the goal of cooperation held before our eyes for many years—always striving to attain teamwork in everything we have attempted. Campus Day offered the best possible opportunity for developing this spirit of cooperation. Little would have been accomplished had not the students worked together so well. Good hard work can accomplish wonders.

In his essay on "Dispatch" Francis Bacon tells us that successful results may be obtained in three ways—by listening carefully to all information on the subject, repeating the task until the final goal is reached, and going about a thing systematically. These three methods were all employed by the campus improvers, no matter what the task—pulling Scotch herring, repairing tennis courts, hauling rocks, or raking lawns.

Being busy does not always mean real work. The object of all is production or accomplishment; and to either of these ends there must be forethought, system, planning, intelligence, honest purpose, and cooperation as well as perspiration. Seeming to do is not doing. All attempts are practically fruitless without that one big factor—cooperation. One glance at the campus shows that our fellow-students know how to work efficiently.

"The failure of cooperation," says Elizabeth Towne, "lies not in cooperation itself, it lies in the individual. The gist of cooperation is this: To have a common cause, and then to work the other fellows way if he won't work yours. The best cooperater is the man who can get the most pleasure out of doing things in the other fellow's day." Let this spirit prevail in everything we do.

Katherine Gould.

It won't be long now. Spring vacation is just around the corner. That means a good chance for us to make up the sleep we lost during Christmas vacation.

DO YOU KNOW?

Do you, as a Pacific Lutheran College student, and a reader of the Mooring Mast, know who makes this paper possible. If so, well and good; if not, here is a good chance to learn. It is the man that advertises in our paper who does more than anyone else to make the publication a success. This brings to mind the well-worn phrase, "Patronize your advertisers."

If it were not for the money received through the advertisements in the paper, this issue would never have been printed. Aside from subscription money, of which there is not a large amount, the paper must support itself by the funds secured through its advertisements. Therefore, if an outsider is willing to support our paper by advertising in it, wouldn't it, perhaps, be a good idea if we showed our appreciation by doing business with him rather than with anyone else. Surely, the advertiser has a right to expect something in return for his money.

It is fully as easy to trade with an advertiser as with a non-advertiser. His goods are of just as high quality as are those of another. It is just as easy to find him as the non-advertiser. And, above all, he has an interest in your school and in your paper, which surely entitles him to consideration and appreciation.

Further, patronizing Mooring Mast advertisers makes it a much lighter and enjoyable task to publish the paper.

Downtown business men are more than willing to advertise if they know that we, the students of this college, are taking an interest in what they offer. Therefore, next time you wish to buy a new coat, a pair of shoes, or a bouquet of flowers, first look through the Mooring Mast to find out who the advertisers are. Then, when you buy that commodity, just drop a little hint, "I saw your ad in the Mooring Mast, and everybody will be happy."

We all miss the choir now that they are gone. Do your best gang. We're all behind you.

Hours folks! Everything is all right now. The Editor just learned us his capital E. A. — L. A.

Here lie the shattered remains Of John Henry MacNeck; He chirped just once too often, "Check and Double-check."

Dear Ma and Pa, I'm so busy I can't hardly find any time to write. I'll tell you about last Monday—it was Campus Day. They gave us a holiday and to show our appreciation all of us kids cleaned up the campus. The kids who didn't work hard were supposed to get dumped in the creek. Well the boys dumped Stanley and Mike in, but they didn't push their heads under cause you can still see a high water mark around their ears. I felt awfully sorry for those poor boys being dumped in the creek for being too tired to work. My conscience bothered me so I felt like going down and walking in the creek cause I didn't work so much as some did.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards got a bran new baby and Mr. Edwards says little David's ears are cute too. Mr. Edwards is going to build a house and they are already digging a big hole to plant it in. The choir is going on a trip up to Bellingham and I might need some money to buy sweaters with. Dammel has a black eye. I don't know whether he got it looking thru a key hole or fighting. I gotta close as I ain't got no more ink.

Love,

CHEROBA SECUNDA

P. S. (please see) Cheroba claims she didn't have any ink so she couldn't write any more, but the fact of the matter is that she was so overcome by the grades she received on her last report card that she couldn't even think of any more dumb sayings. As we are all forced to admit, this is very unusual. By the way we forgot to mention what sort of grades they were which overcame her. But who cares about that anyway?

— L. A. —

Have you campus day: If any of you boys want (A's) on your report cards when they come out next Friday, come over in my garden and work when you get through here. Mr. Xavier: "And when you get done at Mr. Hauge's you can pay me a visit, too."

"For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

—John 3: 16—
The thief cometh not but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." —John 10:10.

Christ—what a man and what a claim! If a mere man, what madness! But Christ was no madman, His life was a perfect harmony. He lived under no illusions, but calmly faced His fate.

He was a man that never apologized, yet never was he accused of being impolite. He never took back a word that He had said; never asked for a minute to think a thing over before giving an answer; never was he cornered in a debate; never had he to be corrected. Those who think Christ was only a man have much to explain.

Try to imagin' a man who thinks
