

Senior President Names Committees For Class Affairs

Group Chooses Crimson And Cream for Color; Give $15 For Saga Publication; Play Tickets Are 25c Each

Important issues relative to the spring graduation program were discussed at the meeting of the Graduating Class held last Thursday noon. A final ballot for class colors was taken which revealed crimson and cream the most popular color combination. Class night, one of the gayer festivities for the graduates, will be held June 2 as announced by Kathryn Johnson, president of the group.

A cap and gown committee was appointed by the president, which includes Alice Peterson (chairman), Florence Post, and Wilma O'Brian.

Acting upon the request of the business manager of the Saga staff, the class voted to donate $15 to the annual to help meet publication expenses.

The admission charges for the senior class play "Goblin Gold" were discussed. Upon decision of the group, tickets will sell at 25-cents for adults and 15-cents for children.

Further details relative to the production of the class play will be in charge of the following committees: General arrangements—Stanley Benson (chairman), Dorothy Delamarter, Evelyn Monson, Norman Westling; properties—Leonard Wesson (chairman), Melba Ross, Ruth Van Hovan, Alvene Schliermann, John Stuen, Hazel Monsen and Esther Hvidding; advertising—Clarence Monson; tickets and programs—Oscar Anderson; chair committee—"Bye-bye" Willard (chairman), Bill Rasmussen, Bob Levinson, Norm Jensen, Lloyd Kretsch, Henry Olson, Jessie Plueger, Ronald Martin, Daniel Flotte, Ray Hinderville, George Jansen and Roll Freus.

A candy sale will be held during the evening of the presentation to help raise funds for expenses incurred. The committee in charge will be Jennie Lee (chairman), Mildred Monson, Olive Boe and Hulda Simonson.

Saga Staff Names Printer, Engraver

Group Pictures Will Be Taken Next Week; Art Staff Gets New Member

After numerous conferences with representatives from various printing establishments, the Saga Staff has let the printing and engraving contracts David Allstrom of the Allstrom Printing Company will do the printing of the year book and Leonard Brown's bid from the Tacoma Engraving Company was accepted for the engraving.

In view of the fact that all material must be in the hands of the publishers next Tuesday, May 1, the staff members are exerting all efforts to complete the necessary data and urge the cooperation of all the students.

Margaret Wesson, editor, announces that all club pictures will be taken next week the definite time and date to be posted on the bulletin board. She further announces that a new member has recently been added to the art staff of the Saga, namely Arnold Anderson.

District Leaguers Plan Meet in Everett May 4, 5, 6

Luther Leaguers of the North Pacific District will meet in Central Lutheran Church at Everett May 4, 5 and 6 for the annual Christian Youth Conference.

"Life's Greatest Find" is the theme of the conference, and Rev. A. E. Hanson of Bemidji, Minn., will be the principal speaker.

The worldwide Pocket Testament League movement will be stressed in the various meetings, and especially at the banquet Saturday evening, of which Irene Dahl is in charge. Orben Sims, now representing Pacific Lutheran College on benefit programs, will be heard at the banquet. Berdine Knutson '31 and Mrs. Kenneth Jacobs '28 will sing. Prof. Edwards will direct the large choral union which will appear in concert at the closing session of the conference Sunday afternoon.

Students Improve P.L.C. Yard, Gym, in Annual Campus Day Cleanup

In order to cooperate with the Parkland community club, which had chosen Saturday as its day of cleanup, and in order to give the students the advantage of an extra day of class work, the faculty requested the student body to change Campus Day from Friday, April 20, to Saturday, April 21.

Despite the fact that the change of date inconvenienced many, a large corps of workers turned out Saturday to assist in beautifying the campus. Throughout the grounds, grass was cut, hedges trimmed and flower beds weeded. The tennis courts were marked off and rolled, and the football field and baseball diamond were put in working order.

Contrary to the usual procedure, a crew of students worked on the stage in the gym, cleaning the property rooms, building boxes to protect the new curtains, making drops, and building a new front for the stage.

At noon, dinner was served in the dining hall to the entire student body and in the afternoon coffee and doughnuts. Those in charge of the refreshments were Mary Nash, Alice Peterson, Bill Potter, Ruth Carlson, Eldon Anderson, and Ida Thompson.

As a relief from the hot sun and the hard work, many carloads of students spent a portion of the afternoon swimming at Lake Spanaway. Others remained at school, playing baseball and having a general good time.

Those appointed as group leaders in charge of the various sections of the campus were William Zier, Leonard Wesson, Clifford Masford, Norman Westling, Daniel Flotte and George Jansen.

To burn the trash collected during the day, a bonfire was held in the evening.

Day Girls Have Skating Party; Cake Sale Saturday

A large crowd was on hand at the King Roller Rink last night to attend the skating party sponsored by the Delta Rho Gamma girls of Pacific Lutheran College. Money earned at this party was spent in the redecoration of the day room.

To completely cover these expenses, the day girls will sponsor a cake sale at the Fisher Department Store in Tacoma cert Saturday. Dorothy Ophelm is in charge of this sale.

Announce Candidacy

Mrs. Taylor Seeking County Superintendent's Position

Mrs. Louise S. Taylor, assistant to Registrar P. E. Hauge, has announced her candidacy for the position of county superintendent of schools in the primary election next September. She will run on the Democratic ticket.

With thirteen years of teaching and administrative experience, Mrs. Taylor is well qualified for the position. She began her instructive career by teaching three years in the grade school, and one year in the high school at Sumner. She spent three years in Glenwood as superintendent of schools before coming to Pacific Lutheran College six years ago. Here, she has been instructor and assistant registrar.

Since the county superintendent of school's office has been deprived of a secretary, Mrs. Taylor feels that her secretarial as well as educational experience will enable her to run the office with no lack of efficiency. By employing a deputy with secretarial experience and by doing a great deal of the work herself, Mrs. Taylor hopes to bring efficiency into the work, she states.

George Gronquist '30, now teaching at Gig Harbor, is also a candidate for the position.

Drama Night Set For Friday Evening

With Thelma Daniels, vice president of the club, in charge, the Drama Club will present three one-act plays in the gymnasium Friday at 8 p. m. "These Things Shall Be," "Luncheon for Six," and "My Cousin from Sweden," are the productions to be given.

Virginia Byers is directing "These Things Shall Be," in the cast of which are Jane Williams, Helen Peterson, Milton Nesvig, Stanley Berentson, Roland Swanson, Robert Monson, Ed Smith, Bobby Svare and Bertrum Myhre.

"Luncheon for Six," under the direction of Jennie Lee, will be presented by a cast of Clarence Monson, Alvene Schliermann, John Van Leuven, Virginia Davis, Eleanor Raudebaugh and Bergliot Vogan.

In the cast of "My Cousin from Sweden," being rehearsed by Jean-Marie Fowler's group, are Marie Peterson, Pansy Collier, Rachel Flint, Esther Hvidding, Rhoda Hokenstad, Anna Rones and Yalborg Norby.

Athletic Association Gives Movies Tonight

To help expenses of some of the athletes for the spring, the athletic team of P. L. C. are sponsoring a double featured moving picture show this evening at 8:00 p. m. in the school gym.

The two main features which are to be shown are "Nomadic" and "Sunny Skies," both of which are all talking pictures. These pictures have been well recommended wherever they have been shown. There will also be three selected short subjects shown. The company giving the pictures has a $2,000 equipment with which to show the pictures. There are to be three admission prices—10c for children, 15c for college students, and 20c for adults.

Change Commencement Date to Sunday, June 3

In order that President Tingstad will be able to be present both at the Pacific Lutheran College graduation festivities and at some of the important church and educational conferences in the East, dates for commencement activities have been changed from original announcements made in the college bulletin. According to latest plans, the Class Day program will be presented in the gymnasium at 7:30 p. m. June 2 instead of June 11. Baccalaureate services will be in the gym at 11 a. m. June 3, Sunday; and the commencement exercises will be at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Previous announcements set baccalaureate for June 10, class day June 11, and graduation June 12.

With this change, the graduates will have completed their courses on Friday, June 1. Undergraduates, however, will be required to attend classes until June 8, with the last week being spent primarily in final examinations.

Japanese Student Says Language Imperfections Cause Misunderstandings

Knowledge of foreign people, their culture and economic relations, and mutual personal understanding were the two essentials for world peace that Namiji Itabashi gave in a talk in chapel here last Thursday morning. Mr. Itabashi is traveling in the United States together with three other Japanese students under the auspices of the Japan Student English Association.

His purpose in speaking was to invite interested students to attend the American-Japan Student Conference in Tokyo next summer, July 19 to 26. This conference is meeting to discuss ways and means of international peace.

In his talk Mr. Itabashi pointed out that due to imperfections of languages, we do not easily understand each other, and that the liability of misunderstanding between people of different languages is great. As language is the manifestation of character, we must not use words carelessly. Only by cultivating our minds to international peace can we build up a mutual relationship between nations, he stated.

After the chapel program, Mr. Itabashi spoke in Mr. Beck's history class and Mr. Barton's Sociology class.

Will Entertain A. A. U. W. French Group Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening Mrs. O. A. T. gestad, assisted by Mrs. Bondy, will be hostess at her home to the American Association of University Women's French section meeting. Mrs. Warren Tomlinson, wife of Dr. Tomlinson of the College of Puget Sound, will be the speaker, having as her topic, "Intellectual Relations between France and Germany since 1819." French students from the College of Puget Sound and Pacific Lutheran College will be special guests for the occasion.

Last Friday noon the French Club devoted its meeting to the practicing of French songs which they will sing when they meet at Mrs. Tingstad's home tomorrow.

Kathryn Johnson Is Queen of First May Day Festival

Student Body President Will Crown Queen on School Lawn in Festival Planned by Delta Rho Gammmas

With the choosing of the May Queen and her attendants, final plans for the first May Day festival in the history of Pacific Lutheran College are rapidly being completed.

As a result of the election held last Thursday, Kathryn Johnson, president of the Graduating Class, will reign over the affair as May Queen. Evelyn Monson will be attendant from the Graduating Class, Mary Nash, from the Sophomore Class, Novell Nagel and Thelma Daniels from the Freshman Class, and Virginia Davis from the high school department.

At 3 p. m. May 1, the student body, faculty, and friends of the college will gather on the lawn in front of the main building for the program and crowning of the queen. Clarence Lemming, student body president, will crown the queen. Music will be furnished by the F. L. C. orchestra, under the direction of Lewis G. Hunter.

After this has taken place, the following program will be given: May-pole drill by P. L. C. girls; a dance by Enid Hutson; a drill by Parkland Grade School pupils; vocal numbers by the girls' quartet, consisting of Madge Harmon, Ellen Bergstrom, Ann Engen and Vivian Kampbell, accompanied by Irene Shafland; and numbers by the boys' quartet composed of Clarence Monson, Robert Monson, Ronald Martin, and Arnold Anderson.

As chairman of the May-pole drill, Anna Rones has chosen the following girls for the drill: Mildred Monson, Melba Ross, Virginia Boen, Margaret Wesson, Selma Bafus, Elsie Andrak, Eula-Mae Goff, Joanna Manoussos, Dorothy Delamarter, Winnie Butsch, Eleanor Raudebaugh, and Jane Smith.

Dorothy Delamarter has been named

L. D. R. Meeting Date Changed to May 9

Girls Will Be Hostesses to Faculty Wives in Last Gathering of Year in College Reception Room

This year's last meeting of the Lutheraan Daughters of the Reformation which was originally announced to be May 1, has been postponed until Tuesday, May 9. The change was made necessary by the Delta Rho Gamma May festival which comes also on the first day of May. At this meeting, which will be held in the college reception room, the L. D. R. girls will be the hostesses, with the faculty wives as guests of honor.

The program will open with a welcome by Virginia Mahneck, president of the group. Mrs. O. A. Tingstad will respond in behalf of the faculty wives. Other program numbers will consist of a piano solo by Irene Shafland; a reading by Jean-Marie Fowler and a talk—"What L. D. R. means to a College Girl," by Hazel Monson. After the program there will be a business meeting during which the president for next year will be elected.

Mr. Bardon: Johnnie, for what is Switzerland noted?
 Johnnie: Why, er—Swiss cheese.
 Mr. Bardon: Oh, something grander, more distinctive than that!
 Johnnie: Limburger.

A rousing game of TELLABIGONE held in the Mooring Mast room ended with the score of four to five. Paul Preus won from Bert Myhre when in his opening sentence he declared "It takes intelligence to think of lies. I can do it."

Handsome doctor (teasing): Are you eating an apple a day?
 Martha S.: Yes, doctor—tee hee—a green apple!

The boy who skipped school came back with a fine, but he couldn't make a sucker out of his teacher so he was given the rod.

Mr. Hong: Ruth, I have went—that's wrong isn't it?
 Ruth H.: Yes, sir.
 Mr. Hong: Why is it wrong?
 Ruth H.: Because you haven't went yet.

"Dutch" (in a fighting mood): You say anything to me and I'll make you eat your words.

"Bucky" (in a hungry mood): Chicken dumplings, hot biscuits and ice cream.

Madge H.: Aw, say listen, talk it cheap!

Mona E.: I guess you never tried talking back to a traffic cop.

Bill M.: No, thanks, I don't want any candy, I had my sweet tooth pulled out last week.

Genie: By your dentist?
 Bill: No, by a piece of my girl's homemade taffy!

Do you think that the auto is ruining the younger generation?
 No, I think the younger generation is ruining the auto.

Harvey: I understand Ford isn't going to put any more lights on his car.
 Erling: Why not?
 Harvey: Too many Stars out.

"Swede" (to lady motorist): Didn't you see me wave my hand?
 Lady Motorist: Yes, but I'm not that kind of a girl!

Kampus Komments

Despite the fact that it wasn't held on a school day, Campus Day was great and a great deal was accomplished. Much credit is due to all the committees on arrangements and also the leaders of the various work groups.

 After a week's absence the choir is back in the old P. L. C. family again. Although much was said by those here about the peaceful time that was had during the choir's absence, the fact still remains that the choir was missed. In fact, there would be no school without the choir, according to the members.

K. K.
 Our front yard resembled a farm and many students were reminded of home last Tuesday when the strip between the main and the gym was plowed up. When the F. R. A. boys have fixed it up and put in a lawn, another forward step will have been taken in the beautification of our campus.

K. K.
 Got your dates for the big event, boys? What big event? Why, the Senior Class play, of course! Although it's quite a ways off, this event promises to be a big one and no one can afford to miss it.

 Even if they seemingly didn't have time to clear away the big pile of rubbish on the kicking pool trail, there is one redeeming improvement which the campus day group in that section contributed—they fixed up Major's grave in great style.

 Rumors have it that on the week end of the Delta Rho Gamma house-party, a group of boys plan an overnight hike to Fox Island for some odd reason. Their plans also include meal-time stops at the Y. W. C. A. camp. But what will they do in between times? With a mob of girls over there it's gonna be pretty hard to stay away, but remember, boys, Mrs. Davis wields a mean right.

K. K.
 Efficiency! This word should be taken in and become a part of all student activities at P. L. C. The procrastination which is so evident here could easily be eliminated if the necessary cooperation was given by every student. Let's get behind everything, gang, and let's not wait till the last minute with everything.

 Anybody: "Boy, there's lots of fish in the creek." "Where, who, why, what for," comes the instant, anxious query from our fishing professor, Mr. Hishby. Practically every spare moment the old boy has is spent at the art.

Chapel Gleanings

The love of God was made manifest to us for God sent not His Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world through Him might be saved.

The apostle's opinions of Christ should be highly regarded, since they were with Him in His public ministry. We must admit that the resurrection of Christ is a truth, since it is based on fact and drives home to us that He thereby overcame sin and showed us that He was master of death. In our teachings and preachings we should emphasize Christ's resurrection, and let that carry us through our doubts.

How wonderful it is to rejoice in salvation, to know that it is won, that it is finished, that it is for us. This life is a satisfying life and it gives solace to us when we are in tune with the wishes of God.

Our Blessed State

Missionary Miss Lilly Prange's talk in chapel last Thursday should make us realize that, despite the many imperfections of American society, the conditions under which we live are suggestive of heaven compared with those in many of the lands where Christianity is as yet unknown. Those of us who have not visited any of these lands can neither understand nor imagine the squalidness of conditions there prevailing; if we could, we would no doubt do more for our heathen brethren than we do. Miss Prange's talk cannot but spur us on to greater efforts in our mission work, and will no doubt put new life into our Mission Society, which lately has shown but little action.

A True Artist

Besides its splendid art department under the direction of Mrs. Lora B. Kreidler, Pacific Lutheran College has connected with it an artist of wide renown, Mr. Fred Mason Holmes. For the past three years Mr. Holmes has had his studio in the main building, and many, both of our regular students and others, have studied with him. This is not, however, his first stay at Pacific Lutheran College, for he was here more than a third of a century ago, giving private lessons and occasional class instruction.

Mr. Holmes is a true artist, and as such lives entirely in and for his art. He is constantly searching for beauty, and those who have seen his pictures know he can express it as well in the soft and gentle as in the wild and rugged. Whether it be a smooth lake nestling among the mountains, or the ocean, wild, fierce, and stormy, Mr. Holmes paints it with mastery skill.

Mr. Holmes' paintings are found in many parts of the world. He has pictures in Australia, in Asia, and in Europe, as well as in most sections of the United States. To prove his standing in the world of art, we need only mention that he has two pictures hanging in the Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington, D. C., the finest and most exclusive art gallery in America. Pacific Lutheran College is very fortunate, indeed, in being able to offer instruction by an artist of such outstanding ability.

A School-Improvement

Delta Rho Gamma girls deserve a word of praise for redecorating their day room. This room, which last September presented a none too cheery sight, equals today any girls' club room in any college. By supporting cake sales in down-town stores, and candy sales on drama nights, these clever girls met the expenses of this change, and the work, of course, they did themselves. It is a valuable improvement to our school, and a new example of what the right kind of initiative and cooperation can accomplish.

Money Well Spent

The money that the Federal Government appropriated to enable young men and women who were drifting along in the ranks of the unemployed to continue their education is without question wisely spent. It is not only helping thousands of boys and girls to become more valuable to themselves and society, but is aiding educational institutions to carry out improvements that otherwise in these times would be out of the question. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the government will continue this work throughout the next school year, that it will use some of the two billion dollars which President Roosevelt has asked for further relief to aid our less fortunate youth in becoming happier and more useful citizens.

Personals

Jennie Lee has spent the last two weeks at her home in Everett.

Oene Jack has returned to school after several weeks of illness due to a throat ailment.

Ruth Haugland visited at her home in Anacortes last week.

Harold Trulson was home in Anacortes the evening of the choir concert there and entertained several of the choristers in his home after the concert.

The P. L. C. Boys' quartet, which includes Bob and Clarence Monson, Ronald Martin, and Arnold Anderson, left last Saturday morning on a two-day cruise to Everett and vicinity on the Sea Scout Ship Number 110.

Roland Swanson and Osten Ellason spent last week end at their respective homes in Seattle.

Frank Elliott '34, who visited school Thursday evening, is employed at the Bremerton Navy Yards.

Gienn Gustafson, who is working on the S. S. Alaska, visited school Thursday evening.

Jean-Marie Fowler was a guest of Louise Jackson at her home in Tacoma the week end of April 14.

Pearl Homme was a guest of Hazel Monsen on Saturday night, April 14.

Taking the place of the regular meeting, the German Club had a picnic in the Chapel basement yesterday noon. Gertrude Brunner, Clara Kuhnhausen and Pansy Collier were in charge of arrangements.

Honoring Eldon Anderson with a picnic and party on his nineteenth birthday Sunday, Thelma Daniels entertained Mary Nash, Alice Peterson, Rhoda Hokenstad, Herb Norgaard, Hal Trulson, Milton Nesvig and the honored guest.

Sister Magdaleine Klippen of the Chicago Lutheran Deaconess Home visited at school Saturday.

Alumni

Norman Hokenstad, brother of Rhoda Hokenstad, is going to school at Washington State College in Pullman. He attended P. L. C. in 1932.

Hildur Johanson '32 has signed a contract to teach at Lawrence, Wash. next fall.

Ruth Jacobson and Millard Quale, both '31, visited at school last Saturday.

Stella Borboe '32, who was editor of the Mooring Mast here, has pledged Theta Sigma Phi, a National Women's Journalistic honorary. Miss Borboe is a senior in the department of Mathematics at Washington State College.

Avalon Wojahn '33 has been chosen lower grade teacher at the Riverside School which is located between Tacoma and Puyallup.

Arnold Thustenson '32 is principal of the Hartford School.

C. P. S. Downs Glads In Links Opener

The Pacific Lutheran College golf team lost its first match of the season to the College of Puget Sound by a 10 1/2 to 7 1/2 score at the Parkland golf course Monday afternoon. Rain and wind made the playing erratic and boosted the scores. Bill Sherman of C. P. S. led with a medal score of 72, while Hinderlie and Lehmann were low for the Gladiators with 73's.

Line-ups:

F. L. C. (7 1/2)	C. P. S. (10 1/2)
McCormick 1/4	Birch 2 1/4
Stuen 3	Anderson 3
Lehmann 1/4	Sherman 2 1/4
Preus 1/4	Stafle 3 1/4
Westling 1/4	Fewell 2 1/4
Hinderlie 2 1/4	Johnson 1/4
Totals 7 1/2	10 1/2

Day Boys Lead Intramural Baseball Scores to Date

The intramural baseball league comprised of three teams, the dorm students, the day students, and the shackers, has opened its season with two games in the last week. In the first, the day students defeated the dorm boys 7 to 4, while in the second the dorm gained a decision over the shack by default as the shacksters did not turn out in sufficient numbers to warrant a contest.

The standings to date:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Day students	1	0	1000
Dorm students	1	1	500
Shack	0	1	000

Sport Slants

By Milton Neavig

The 1934 golf season got underway Monday at the local course, but not with a bang, because our boys took one on the chin from the College of Puget Sound outfit. Play, however, was poor on both sides due to the bad weather conditions which slowed up the play considerably and raised the scores. This is the first defeat our boys have suffered at the hands of the Loggers and they will be out to avenge this defeat at their return match in Tacoma, May 11.

The golf squad this year has the biggest schedule since its innovation at this institution, showing that golf is rapidly making progress towards a major spot in the sport life at P. L. C. This year's schedule takes them on three trips and will include eight matches.

Prospects for a strong tennis team look good and Coach Olson has a good schedule doped out for them. Our courts will not be in shape for play, so the matches will be played on courts in town. As in golf, tennis, too, is gaining popularity as an intercollegiate sport and this year's schedule is the most extensive yet.

As the tennis tournament has been progressing, some very fine material has presented itself. Those who look the best and from which the team will probably be chosen are Bert Myhre, Norman Jensen, Gene Burgoyne, Hal Trulson, Hal O'Connor, Lyl Sander-son, Bob Levinson, and Orv Schlanbusch.

Coach Olson announces that if there are enough interested in a horseshoe tournament one will be run off in the near future. Will all those who would like to enter such a tournament please hand in their names to Mr. Olson. O. K. barnyard golfers, here's your chance to show your stuff.

The dorm-day boy rivalry in baseball is going strong, folks, but the day boys are still on top. Last week in a thrilling encounter they managed to eke out a 7-4 victory, but the dorm boys vow to take them in the next game. If anyone wishes to see a real, hotly-contested ball game, watch for the next game between these two teams and come out and see it. It's free, and even if one did have to pay, he'd get his money's worth.

Coach Olson Announces Large Golf Schedule

The complete 1934 schedule for the Pacific Lutheran College golf squad has been announced. The schedule includes College of Puget Sound and Aberdeen Junior College. These schools have been on the schedule formerly. Bellingham Normal and Columbia University of Portland are on the golf schedule for the first time.

- May 2—Bellingham here
- May 4—Aberdeen there
- May 5—Columbia there
- May 11—C. P. S. there
- May 18—Columbia here
- May 25—Bellingham there
- May 28—Bellingham here

Tennis Team To Meet Three Junior Colleges

The tennis team, comprised of those who make the best showing in the spring tournament, will meet all teams from all the schools in the Junior College conference with the exception of Yakima, according to Coach Olson. The schedule is as follows:

- May 4—Aberdeen there
- May 5—Mt. Vernon here
- May 12—Mt. Vernon there
- May 15—Centralia there
- May 22—Centralia here
- May 26—Aberdeen here

Complete First Matches

With nearly all first-round matches having been completed, the spring tennis tournament is well under way. So far, the favorites seem to be Myhre, Trulson, O'Connor and Burgoyne. The results of the first-round matches follow: Schlanbusch won from Preus by default; Larson from Stuen by default; Myhre from E. Anderson 6-1, 6-0; Burgoyne from J. Pfeuger 6-1, 6-0; O'Connor from Jansen by default; Trulson from Hudson 6-0, 6-2; W. Pfeuger from Hudson 7-5, 7-5; Levinson from Jack by default; Sanderson from Rasmussen 8-6, 8-6; and Roti from Bondy.

Missionary Lilly Prange Says Need for Christ Is Common To Hindus and Americans

Miss Lilly Prange, a missionary from India who is home on furlough, inspired the students in chapel last Friday with a talk on her work among the natives there. Miss Prange is in charge of a new hospital in India, built by the American Lutheran Church.

Rev. Toyer of Puyallup introduced the speaker, who began her talk with the Hindu greeting sign which means "Peace be with you." She stated that the Hindu's greatest need was common with ours—the need for Christ. In statistics given, Miss Prange pointed out that although India is but one half the size of the United States, it contains one fifth of the population of the entire world. The average life span there is 22 years, while Americans live to be 37 years old, on the average. Out of one thousand children born, approximately 490 die before they are one year old. Much of this early death rate is caused by the fact that many children marry at the age of six or seven, she explained. Miss Prange told much of the squalid conditions under which the Hindus live, and brought to mind the fact that we would be in the same sad state were it not for those who had come to us with God's Word. The main work at the hospital, she stated, consisted of preaching, teaching and healing, just as Christ's time in this world was spent in preaching of God's graciousness, teaching better ways to live, and healing the sick. Hindus come for miles around carrying rusty tin cans or broken bottles to get medicine to cure their diseases. They believe the devil is present in a person who is not well, and administer terrible infections, which are much harder to cure than the disease itself, she stated.

The difficulties under which the missionaries work were described when Miss Prange told of how the hospital was built. The average man earns but 11 or 12 cents a day, making it difficult for the people to purchase even the common necessities of life. Animals wander at will through the hospitals, and hinder the missionaries in their duties when they have a hard time even to keep the natives in bed. The need for teachings among the Hindus was shown when Miss Prange described a funeral given for a monkey which was found dead. The deceased animal was decked with garlands of flowers and paraded around on a huge decorated float as bands played and 2,000 people turned out for the monkey's funeral.

Wisconsin Dean Says Colleges Aid Play-Boys: Would Omit Grade-points

By Associated Collegiate Press
If Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men at the University of Wisconsin, had his way about it, the modern college and university would do away with grade-points, probations, and executive committee actions, but he would not therefore create a paradise for the student.

"I am not at all sure that we would not be much better off in our colleges if we scrapped a large part of our machinery, raised the pass mark to something approaching a high C and awarded a flat failure to each and every performance below that standard," the dean said in outlining his new formula for the handling of what he calls "play-boys."

"Let the play-boy accumulate a nice collection of failures for two or three semesters, and let the realization percolate through to father and mother that sonny boy had spent a couple of thousand dollars without making any perceptible progress toward a degree, and I don't believe the college would have much to do about it."

"But I suppose it is useless to hope for anything of that sort. We appear inevitably committed to the molly-coddling and spoon-feeding program."

The rigid supervision of students in all phases of their academic life was criticized by the Wisconsin dean, who in his long years of service at Wisconsin has established a reputation for extreme liberal views.

"There is too much advising and counselling, too many intelligence tests, executive committees, scholastic chairmen, junior and senior deans."

"We do too much for our students. I believe they would get a better discipline and attain a better training if we weren't so constantly on the alert to protect them from their own mistakes. "We carry paternalism to too great lengths. And the discouraging factor is that the further we go the more is expected of us and the more we are blamed for what we don't accomplish."

Headline in the North Dakota State College student newspaper: "794 Students Cast in Brevities Roles." Now we'll tell one.

Present Broadcast

The regular Pacific Lutheran College broadcast over Station KVI was presented last Wednesday evening. The program included four songs by the boys' quartet of Bob and Clarence Monson, Arnold Anderson and Ronald Martin. Eugene Burgoyne played a violin solo. Clarence Lemming, who announced the program, also announced the coming Graduating Class production "Goblin Gold."

After collecting statistics on the month of birth and intelligence quotient of 22,227 school children over a long period of years, Prof. Rudolf Pinter, Columbia University psychologist, has discovered that people born during January, February and March are not as intelligent as those born at any other time of the year.

Westminster College's first publication, which appeared in 1855, as the Westminster Herald, was printed for a time on Benjamin Franklin's old press which college authorities had brought from Philadelphia.

Receipts of the National Intercollegiate Swimming meet held recently at the Ohio State University were approximately $1,200.
