Worth Noting

 [Table of Contents ]

Saying thanks with ice cream and lemonade

To celebrate the close of the academic year and to usher in a (hopefully?!) sunny summer, PLU cordially invites all faculty and staff to enjoy a free old fashioned ice cream social from 3-5 pm on May 22 in Red Square. (In case of rain it will be held in CK.) To all faculty and staff -- Thanks for a wonderful year!

Choral Arts Northwest CD hits classical music charts

Choral Arts Northwest conductor Dick Sparks (Music) is pleased to announce that the group's new CD, "Peter Hallock Cathedral Anthems," is No. 9 on the Silver Platters list of classical music. Several of the songs were recorded in Lagerquist Concert Hall. Hallock is the former music director for St. Mark's Cathedral in Seattle and still composes music for the church. The CD is available at local music stores.

Local retirement estate holds huge yard sale

The Frank Tobbey Jones retirement estate facility, located near Point Defiance Park, is holding a huge yard and bake sale and silent auction to raise money that can be put back into the retirement facility to benefit all the residents. The sale is from 10 am to 4 pm on June 21-22. Donations (except clothing and shoes) are also being accepted until June 14. Call 752-6621 for details and directions.

Grants roundup

The U.S. Department of Education and the International Education Program gave a $79,493 grant to J. Thad Barnowe and Bill Yager (Business) for PLU's China Trade Development and Education program. The money will help fund travel costs for students to study abroad in China. Student scholarships received a $10,000 boost from the Gottfried and Mary Fuchs Foundation.

Thanks for coming

The team in Human Resources says "Thanks!" to the more than 80 faculty and staff who stopped by to visit the Human Resources Open House on May 10. Congrats to Hilloah Creigh (Registrar's Office), who won the grand prize drawing of a $50 extra contribution to her retirement plan.

Faculty & Staff

Patsy Hegstad (Political Science) was named "Volunteer of the Year" for the Nature Center at Snake Lake. The recognition for six years of service to the center was presented by the Board of Park Commissioners and staff of the Metropolitan Park District of Tacoma.

Barrett House Galleries in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. will display "Secrets," a print by Bea Geller (Art) in its national juried printmaking exhibition June 22-July 19. Geller was one of 38 artists chosen from a large pool of applicants.

PLU's academic Freshman Year Program, comprised of writing and critical conversation seminars and a special freshman J-Term course, appointed Susan Brown Carlton (English) the director of the writing program, and Ed Inch (Communication & Theatre) the coordinator of the critical conversation seminars. Charles Bergman (English) is director of the overall program.

Special thanks are in order to those who cooperated so well to lead and teach in the program this year, especially to Greg Nelson (Education), the outgoing critical conversation seminars coordinator.

The local Rotary club (District 5020) honored David Olson (Athletics) on Saturday with the 1996 Vocational Service Award for his work with Rotary Youth Leadership Awards program.

Jill Whitman (Geosciences) gave a talk entitled "An Interdisciplinary Watershed Study Course: Preparing Our Students for the Future" at the April 22-24 meeting of the Cordilleran Section of the Geological Society of America held in Portland.
