The Faculty Wives Club will have a Rummage Sale Dec. 2-3 in the James Sales Grange Hall. Proceeds from the sale will benefit the Scholarship Fund.

Merchandise needed for this sale is good used men's, women's and children's clothing of all sizes. Miscellaneous items such as bedspreads, draperies, rugs, and other household goods are also welcome. Health regulations require that items be either washed or drycleaned.

Faculty wives are asked to bring the items they wish to donate to their next meeting on Oct. 28 if possible. Boxes will be provided in each dorm to collect student donations. Faculty and staff members can also place items in a collection box located in the Faculty Lounge in Xavier Hall.

For questions regarding the Rummage Sale call Mrs. Frank Haley, LE 1-4486 or Mrs. Donald Pattie, LE 1-1957. Pickup of items can be arranged if necessary.

Organ Transplantation: Blessing or Curse?

Symposium Features PLU Alumni

Pacific Lutheran University alumni distinguished in a variety of professions will discuss "Organ Transplantation, A Blessing or Curse" Friday, Nov. 1, at 3:30 p. m. in Eastvold Chapel during the 1968 Homecoming weekend.

Two featured speakers are Dr. Lloyd M. Nyhus, (B. A. '45) the Warren H. Cole professor of surgery and head of the department of surgery at the University of Illinois; and Dr. William O. Rieke, (B. S. '53) professor and head of the department of anatomy, University of Iowa School of Medicine.

Participating as panelists are Dr. M. Roy Schwarz ('58), assistant dean of the University of Washington School of Medicine who will act as moderator; Dr. Erving Severtson ('55), graduate of the University of Washington Law School and a prominent Seattle attorney. Dr. Alfred Stone, pastor of the United Lutheran Church in Seattle will also participate on the panel.

The speakers and panelists will call upon their respective fields of knowledge to shed light upon the medical, moral, legal and psychological implications of the subject.

"This is a topic of great interest within the general as well as the medical community," Jon Olson, alumni director explained. "The implications adherant within the topic could affect each one of us as techniques become refined and it behooves us to become aware of the implications. The Alumni Association feels that we have people within the association uniquely qualified to discuss the subject."

Roundtable cont.

Dr. Harold Bexton (psych.) attended the Third International Symposium on Feelings and Emotions at Loyola University in Chicago Oct. 11-13. The symposium featured 29 presentations by eminent educators and scientists from eight countries.

Four Freshmen To Appear In Homecoming Concert

The Four Freshmen, popular vocal and instrumental group, will be presented in concert by the Pacific Lutheran University Student Body Thursday evening, Oct. 31, at 8:15 p. m. in Memorial Gymnasium.

The versatile group, which has sold over two million albums and has appeared on every major campus in the nation, will perform as one of the highlights of PLU's 1968 Homecoming, Oct. 31-Nov. 1.

The Frosh began their recording career in 1952 under the guiding hand of Stan Kenton. Bob Flanigan, Bill Comstock, Ross Barbour and Ken Alberts play seven instruments between them and each contributes in his own personal way to the natural kind of humor which has become a Freshman trademark.

Tickets are available at the Bon Marche and the PLU Information Desk. All seats are reserved at $2.50 and $2.00.

'INSPECTOR GENERAL' - Dobchinka (Suzanne Mince), above center, Bobchinka (Patricia Tuggle), and the mayor (Bob Hasselblad), left, are shocked when the psuedo inspector (John Erickson), tells them that they have to come up with money.

'Inspector General' A Delightful Farce

"The Inspector General," written by Nikolai Gogel, is being presented by the Alpha Psi Omega Chapter at Pacific Lutheran University Oct. 24-26.

A satirical farce, "General" portrays the political corruption of a small town in bygone Russia. The mayor, played by Bob Hasselblad, is a corrupt politician, along with School Superintendent Lukitch (Jim Derch), Hospital Commissioner Flipovitch (Lew Rhoe), and the judge, Lypkin Typkin, played by Donn Olson. Between them they have set up a comfortable life that is suddenly interrupted by the appearance of what is supposed to be an Inspector General.

Hlestokov (the H is silent), the pseudo inspector, characterized by John Erickson, takes full advantage of the situation and gives them their money's worth of corruption in return.

Others in the cast make up the local gentry: Tricia Tuggle, Suzanne Mince, Elizabeth Erickson, Rosie Eppley; the town's folk: Fred Rynearson, Barb Kohl, Bob Ayres, Gary Van Hoy, Al Meeds, Denise Moores; and the servitude: Dan Hill, Linda Larson and Al Bexton.

The performances are held in the PLU Classroom Building, room 200, at 8 p.m. Tickets are on sale weekdays from 12-5 p.m. at the Eastvold Auditorium box office, and will also be available at the door prior to the performances, 75 cents for adults; 50 cents for students.

PLU Surprises Linfield; Halstead Stars In 7-7 Tie

"We showed no fear; I think we will give anyone a good game," Coach Roy Carlson remarked after his fired-up Knights held undefeated Linfield to a 7-7 standoff Saturday at Franklin Pierce Stadium.

"The play was just tremendous," he added, praising both offensive and defensive lines. On defense, he had special praise for end Ben Erickson and halfback Jack Irion. Stan Pietras, linebacker, "did a tremendous job for a freshman," according to Carlson.

On offense, conference rushing leader Dave Halstead and freshman quarterback Rod Bolek were among the standouts.

PLU's offensive burst in the first quarter Saturday was probably its best of the season. Taking the ball on their own 33-yard line following the opening kickoff, the Lutes marched to the Linfield 11-yard line before giving up the ball. The drive featured a 41-yard run by Halstead.

Linfield had the ball for three plays before punting to the Lutes who began their only scoring drive on Linfield's 41. The drive featured a 12-yard pass from Bolek to Halstead and another Halstead scamper, this one for 29-yards and the score.

Another first quarter Knight drive ended at the Wildcat 26.

The second and fourth quarters were defensive battles. In the third quarter, Linfield scored on a 12-play, 60-yard drive featuring 21 and 17-yard runs by quarterback Lenn Gann, a 10-yard aerial to Bob Murphy and a 17-yard scoring strick to John Sadowski.

Linfield's star split end, Bob Murphy, came within one pass reception of a conference record against PLU, snatching 11 for 120-yards. The record is 12, held by several players including the Lutes' Vic Eaton.

Dave Halstead

Halstead's first quarter heroics gave him 109-yards rushing in the first half and 139-yards for the entire ball game. He still leads the league with 405-yards in 88 carries through five games.

The Hillsboro, Ore., sophomore enjoyed his second 100-yards plus effort of the season. As a result, he has been named co-captain for the Lutes' Oct. 26 clash with the University of British Columbia in Vancouver.

The tenacious Knight defense held Linfield to minus one yards rushing during the first half Saturday. Leading the charge were ends Ross Boice and Ben Erickson; linebackers Fred Minch and Bill Tye. Gann was throw for three losses totaling 26-yards, and Wildcat reserve quarterback Tony Mauze was hit twice for minus 15-yards.

Defense was a Knight team effort Saturday. 19 players helped out, led by Neil Bryant, Bill Tye and Ben Erickson.

Coach Carlson announced three changes in his starting lineups following the Linfield game. Grant Spencer has replaced Vic Eaton at offensive right end; Ben Erickson has moved ahead of Rick Johnson at defensive end; and Fred Moe will start in place of Skip Miller at Corner linebacker.

Homecoming Has Roaring '20's Theme

Fourteen lovely PLU coeds have been nominated as Homecoming "flapper" "Queen" candidates by campus organizations. The queen, following her coronation Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. in Memorial Gymnasium, will reign over Homecoming activities, scheduled through Sunday, Nov. 3.

This year's theme is Raz-a-ma-taz and all that Jazz, a take-off on the Roaring '20's.

Candidates are Jackie Cavanaugh, Mary Arneson, Linda Lee, Cathie Long, Karen Call, Cathy Severson, Jan Knight, Pili Tanner, Jan Swanson, Diane Skaar, Kathy Tekse, Carol Krekow, Mary Ann Wright and Sue Flitcraft.

Other highlights include a symposium on organ transplantation (p. 3), the Four Freshman concert (p. 3), and the Saturday afternoon (1:30 p. m.) football game pitting PLU against Pacific College.

Other scheduled activities are Friday, Nov. 1: alumni coffee hour, Ordal Lounge, 5-6:30 p. m.; songfest-"Vaudeville", Eastvold Chapel, 7:30 p. m.; bonfire, lower campus, 10 p. m.; and dance, Memorial Gymnasium, 10:30 p.m.

Saturday: women's field hockey, PLU vs. UPS, lower campus, 10 a. m.; intramural football championship, lower campus, 11 a. m.; alumni coffee hour, Evergreen House Lounge (6th floor Tinglestad), 4-6 p. m.; alumni banquet, Columbia Center Dining Hall, 6-8 p. m.; reception honoring Dr. Lloyd Nyhus ('45), Distinguished Alumnus of 1968, Pflueger Lounge, 8-10:30 p. m.; Homecoming dance, "Hernando's Hide-away", College Union Building, 8:30-12 p.m.

Sunday: Worship service, Rev. John Larsgaard ('44), 10:30 a. m.; open house, women's residence halls, 1-3 p. m.; open house, men's residence halls, 3-5 p. m.

Co-chairmen for 1968 Homecoming activities are Neil Bryant and Mary Arneson.
